Of the Golden number.

The Golden number is so called, because it was written in the Calender with letters of golde, right at the day when the Moone changed: and it is the space of 19 yeeres, in the which the Moone returneth to the selfe same day of the yeere of the Sunne: and therefore it is also called the Cycle of the Moone, in the which the Solstices and Equinoctials do returne to all one point in the Zodiaque.

To finde it euery yeere, you must adde one yeere to the yeere of Christ (for Christ was bozne one yeere of the 19 already past) then diuide the whole by 19, and that which relecth, is the Golden number for that yeere: if there be no surpluse, it is then 19.

The Epact.

Epactz hemez in Grecke, both signifie in English, dayes set betwene, and therefore the 11 dayes and 3 houres that are added to the yeere of the Moone, are called Epactz, and are added to make the yeere of the Moone, which is but 354 dayes, full with the yeere of the Sunne, which hath 365 dayes and a quarter.

To finde out the Epact of each yeere, do thus: To the Epact of the yeere that last went before that yeere for which you would finde the Epact, adde 11, and the summe of these two make the Epact. If it surmount 30, then take 30 out, and that which relecth above 30, is the Epact you desire.

The vse of the Epact.

To know how olde the Moone is at any time for euery by the Epact, do thus: Adde vnto the dayes of your moneth wherein you would know this, the Epact, and as many dayes moe as are moneths from March to that moneth, including both moneths, out of the which subtract 30 as often as you may, the age remaineth: if nothing remaine, the Moone changeth that day.

For the moze ease of the Reader, we haue placed here ouer an Almanacke, inclusiuely comprehending, not onely how to finde the Epact for the space of 30 yeeres to come, but also the Golden number afoze specified, together with the Dominicall letters, Leape yeere, and Tuen other moueable feasts, of dayes in the yeere, during the same time, as may appeare.

Note that the Golden number and Dominicall letter doeth change euery yeere the first day of Ianuarie, and the Epact the first day of March the next. Note also, that the yeere of our Lord beganeth the xxv. day of March, the same day supposed to be the first day vpon which the world was created; and the day when Christ was conceived in the wombe of the virgin Mary.

A Prologue or Preface made by Thomas Cranmer, sometime Archbishop of Canterburie.

Concerning two sundrie sortes of people, it seemeth much necessarie that some thing be said in the entrie of this booke by the way of a Preface or Prologue, whereby hereafter it may be both the better accepted of them which hitherto could not well beare it, and also better vled of them which heretofore haue misused it. For truely some there are that be too slowe, and neede the spurre: some other seeme too quicke, and neede moze of the bridle: some loose their game by short shooting, some by ouer shooting: some walke too much on the left hand, some too much on the right. In the former sort be all they that refuse to read, or to heare read the Scripture in the vulgar tongue, much worse they that let also or discourage the other from the reading or hearing thereof. In the latter sort be they which by their inordinate reading, vndiscrete speaking, contentious disputing, or otherwise by their licentious liuing, slander and hinder the word of God most of all other, wherof they would seeme to be greatest furtherers. These two sorts, albeit they be most farre vnlike the one to the other, yet they both deserue in effect like reproch: neither can I well tell whether of them I may iudge the moze offender, him that doth obstinately refuse so godly and goodly knowledge: or him that so vngodly and so vngoodly doth abuse the same. And as touching the former, I would maruell much that any man should be so mad, as to refuse in darkenesse, light: in hunger, food: in colde, fire: for the worde of God is light: Lucerna pedibus meis verbum tuum. Thy word is a lanterne vnto my feete. It is food: Non in solo pane viuunt homo, sed in omni verbo Dei. Man shall not liue by bread onely, but by euerie word of God. It is fire: Ignem veni mittere in terram, & quid volo, nisi vt ardeat? I am come to send fire on the earth, and what is my desire, but that it be kindled: I would maruelle (I say at this) saue that I consider how much custome and vsage may doe. So that if there were a people as some write, de Cymerijs, which neuer saw the sunne, by reason that they be situated farre toward the North pole, and be inclosed and overshadowed with high mountaines: it is credible and like ynough, that if by the power and Will of God, the mountaines should sinke downe, and giue place, that the light of the sunne might haue entrance to them, at the first some of them would be offended therewith. And the old prouerbe affirmeth, that after tillage of corne was first found, many delighted moze to feede of mast and acornes, wherewith they had bene accustomed, then to eate bread made of good corne. Such is the nature of custome, that it causeth vs to beare all things well and easily wherewith we haue bene accustomed, and to be offended with all things thereunto contrarie. And therefore I can well thinke them worthy pardon, which at the comming abroad of Scripture, doubted and drew backe. But such as wil persist still in their wilfulnesse, I must needs iudge noe only foolish, forward, and obstinate: but also peeuish, peruerse, and indurate. And yet, if the matter should be tryed by custome, wee might also alledge custome for the reading of the Scripture in the vulgar tongue, and prescribe the moze ancient custome. For it is not much aboute one hundredth yeres agoe, since scripture hath not bene accustomed to be read in the vulgar tongue within this Realme, and many hundredth yeres before that, it was translated and read in the Saxons tongue, which at that time was our mother tongue, wherof there remaine yet diuers copies found lately in old Abbeyes, of such antique maner of writing and speaking, that fewe men now be able to reade and vnderstand them. And when this language waxed old and out of communion vsage, because folke should not lacke the fruit of reading, it was againe translated into the newer language, wherof yet many copies remaine, and be daily found.

But now to let passe custome, and to weigh, as wise men euer should, the thing in his owne nature: let vs here discusse what it auaileth Scripture to be had and read of the lay and vulgar people. And to this question I intend here to say nothing, but that was spoken and written by the noble doctour and most mozall diuine, S. Iohn Chrylostome, in

Luke 12.

The Prologue.

his third sermon de Lazaro, albeit I will be something shorter, and gather the matter into fewer words and lesse roome then he doeth there, because I would not be tedious. He exhorteth there his audience, that every man should reade by himselfe at home in the meane dayes and time, betweene sermon and sermon, to the intent they might both more profoundly fixe in their mindes and memoizes that hee had said before vpon such textes, whereupon hee had already preached: and also that they might haue their mindes the more readie and better prepared to receive and perceiue that which hee should say from thenceforth in his Sermons, vpon such textes as hee had not yet declared and preached vpon: therefore sayth hee there, My common vsage is to giue you warning before, what matter I intend after to intreat vpon, that you your selues in the meane dayes, may take the booke in hand, read, weigh, and perceiue the summe and effect of the matter, & marke what hath bene declared, and what remaineth yet to be declared, so that thereby your mind may be the more furnished to heare the rest that shalbe said. And that I exhort you (sayth he) and euer haue and will exhort you, that you (not onely here in the Church) giue care to that that is sayd by the Preacher: but that also when you be at home in your houses, ye apply your selues from time to time to the reading of holy Scriptures: which thing also I neuer lin to beat into the eares of them that be my familiars, & with whome I haue priuat acquaintance and conuersation. Let no man make excuse and say, (sayth he) I am busied about matters of the commonwealth, I beare this office, or that, I am a craftesman, I must apply mine occupation, I haue a wife, my childzen must be fed, my household must I prouide for, briefly I am a man of the world, it is not for me to read the Scriptures, that belongeth to them that haue bidden the world farewell, which liue in solitarinesse, and contemplation, and haue bene brought by and continually nursed in learning and religion. To this answering, what sayest thou man (sayth he:) Is it not for thee to studie and to read the Scripture, because thou art encumbred and distract with cares and businesse: So much the more it is behoouefull for thee to haue defence of scriptures, how much thou art the more distressed in worldly dangers. They that be free and farre from trouble and intermedling of worldly things, liue in safegard and tranquillitie, and in the calme, or within a sure haven. Thou art in the middelt of the sea of worldly wickednesse, and therefore thou needest the more of ghostly succour and comfort. They sit farre from the strokes of battell, and farre out of gun shot, and therefore they be but seldom wounded. Thou that standest in the forefront of the hoste, and nighest to thine enemies, must needs take now and then many strokes, and be grieuouly wounded, and therefore thou hast most neede to haue thy remedies and medicines at hand. Thy wife prouoketh thee to anger, thy childe giueth thee occasion to take sorow and pensiuenesse, thine enemies lye in wait for thee, thy friend (as thou takest him) sometime enuieth thee, thy neighbour misreporteth thee, or picketh quarels against thee, thy mate or partner vndermineth thee, thy lord, iudge, or iustice threatneth thee, pouertie is painefull vnto thee, the losse of thy deare and welbeloued caueth thee to mourne, prosperitie exalteth thee, aduersitie bringeth thee low: briefly, so diuers and so manifold occasions of cares, tribulations, and temptations beset thee, and besiege thee round about. Where canst thou haue armour or fortresse against thine assaults: Where canst thou haue salues for thy sores, but of holy Scripture: Thy flesh must needs be prone and subiect to fleshly lustes, which daily walkest and art conuersant among women, seekest their beautie set forth to the eye, hearest their nice and wanton words, smelllest their balme, ciuet, and muske, with many other like prouocations and stirrings: except thou hast in a readinesse wherewith to suppress and auoid them, which cannot elswhere be had, but onely out of the holy Scriptures. Let vs reade and seeke all remedies that we can, & all shall be little ynough. How shall we then doe, if we suffer and take daily wounds, and when wee haue done, will sit still, and search for no medecines: Doest thou not marke and consider how the smith, mason, or carpenter, or any other handicraftes man, what need soeuer he be in, what other thift soeuer hee make, hee will not sell nor lay to pledge thr tooles of his occupation: for then how should he worke his feat, or get his liuing thereby: Of like mind and affection ought we be to wards holy Scripture. For as mallets, hammers, sawes, chisels, axes, and hatchets be the tooles of their occupation: so be the bookes of the Prophets and Apostles, and all holy writers inspired by the holy Ghost, the instruments of our saluation. Wherefore let vs not sicke to buy and prouide vs the Bible, that is to say, the bookes of holy Scripture, and let vs thinke that to be a better iewel in our house, then either golde or silver. mour and artillerie : so wheresoeuer these holy and ghostly bookes be occupied, there neither the deuill nor none of his angels dare come neere. And they that occupie them be in much safegard, and haue a great consolation, and be the reayder vnto all goodnesse, the flower vnto all euill: and if they haue done any thing amisse, anon euen by the sight of the books their consciences be admonished, and they waxe sozie and ashamed of the fact. Peradventure they wil say vnto me, how and if we vnderstand not that we read, that is contained in the bookes: What then? Suppose thou vnderstand not the deepe and profound mysteries of Scriptures, yet can it not be but that much fruit & holinesse must come and growe vnto thee by the reading: for it cannot be that thou shouldest be ignorant in all things alike. For the holy Ghost hath so ordered and attempered the Scriptures, that in them allwell publicanes, fishers, and shepheards may find their edification, as great doctozs their erudition. For those bookes were not made to vaine glozie, like as were the writings of the gentile Philosophers and Rhetoricians, to the intent the makers should be had in admiration for their high stiles and obscure maner and writing, whereof nothing can be vnderstanded without a master or an exposito: But the Apostles and Prophets wrote their bookes so, that their speciall intent and purpose might be vnderstanded and perceiued of enery reader, which was nothing but the edification of amendment of the life of them that reade or heare it. Who is it that reade or hearing read in the Gospel, Blessed are they that be meeke, Blessed are they that be mercifull, Blessed are they that be of cleane heart, & such other like places, can perceiue nothing except he haue a master to teach him what it meaneth: Likewise the signs and miracles, with all other histories of the doings of Christ or his Apostles, who is there of so simple wit and capacitie, but he may be able to perceiue and vnderstand them: These be but excuses and clokes for the raine, & coverings of their owne slothfulnesse. But still ye will say, I cannot vnderstand it. What maruile? How shouldest thou vnderstand, if thou wilt not read nor looke vpon it: Take the books into thine hands, reade the whole storie, and that thou vnderstandest keepe it well in memorie: that thou vnderstandest not read it againe, and againe: if thou can neither so come by it, counsell with some other that is better learned. Goe to thy Curate and Preacher, shew thy selfe to be desirous to know and learne: and I doubt not but God seeing thy diligence and readinesse (if no man else teach thee) wil himselfe vouchsafe with his holy spirit to illuminate thee, and to open vnto thee that which was locked from thee. Remember the Eunuch of Candace Queene of Ethiopia, which albeit he was a man of a wild and barbarous countrey, and one occupied with worldly cares and businesse, yet riding in his charet, he was reading the Scripture. Now consider, if this man passing in his iourney was so diligent as to read the Scripture: What thinkest thou of like was he wont to doe sitting at home? Againe, he that letted not to read, albeit he did not vnderstand: What did he then trovest thou after that, when he had learned and gotten vnderstanding? For that thou mayest well know that he vnderstood not what hee read, hearken what Philip sayth there vnto him, Vnderstandest thou what thou readeest? And hee nothing ashamed to confesse his ignorance, answered, How should I vnderstand, hauing no body to shew me the way? Lo when he lacked one to shew him the way, & to expound to him the Scriptures, yet did he reade: and therefore God the rather prouided for him a guide of the way, that taught him to vnderstand it. God perceiued his willing and toward mind, and therefore he sent him a teacher by and by. Therefore let no man be negligent about his owne health and saluation. Though thou haue not Philip alwaies when thou wouldest, the holy ghost which then moued and stirred by Philip, will be readie and not faile thee, if thou doe thy diligence accordingly. All these things be written vnto vs for our edification and amendment, which be borne toward the latter end of the world. The reading of the Scriptures is a great and strong bulwarke or fortresse against tyme: the ignorance of the same is a greater ruine and destruction of them that will not know it. That is the thing that bringeth in heresie, that is it that cauleth all corrupt and peruerse liuing, that is it that bringeth all things out of good order.

Hitherto all that I haue sayd, I haue taken and gathered out of the foresaid Sermon of this holy doctoꝝ S. Iohn Chrysostome. Now if I should in like maner bring forth what the selfesame doctoꝝ speaketh in other places, and what other doctoꝝ & Writers say concerning the same purpose, I might seeme to you to write another Bible, rather then to make a Preface to the Bible. Wherefore in few words to comprehend the largenesse and vtilitie of the Scriptures, how it containeth fruitfull instruction and erudition for euery man, if any thing be necessary to be learned, of the holy Scripture wee may learne it. If fallshood shalbe repproued, thereof we may gather wherewithall. If any thing be to be corrected and amended, if there need any exhortation or consolation, of the Scripture we may well learne. In the scriptures be the fat pastures of the soule, therein is no venomous meat, no vnwholesome thing, they be the very daintie and pure feeding. He that is ignozant shall finde there what he should learne: he that is a peruerse sinner, shall there finde his damnation, to make him to tremble for feare. He that labourerth to serue God, shall finde there his glory, & the promissions of eternall life, exhorting him more diligently to labour. Herein may princes learne how to gouerne their subiects: subiects obedience, loue, & dread to their princes: husbands how they should behaue them vnto their wiues, how to educate their children and seruants: and contrary, the wiues, children, & seruants, may know their duttie to their husbands, parents, and masters. Here all maner of persons, men, women, young, olde, learned, vnlearned, rich, poore, priests, lay men, lords, ladies, officers, tenants, & meane men, virgins, wiues, widowes, lawyers, merchants, artificers, husbandmen, and all maner of persons, of what estate or condition soeuer they be, may in this booke learne all things what they ought to beleue, what they ought to doe, and what they should not doe, aswell concerning Almighty God, as also concerning themselves and all other. Briefly, to the reading of the Scripture none can be enemy, but that either be so sick that they loue not to heare of any medicine, or else that be so ignozant that they know not Scripture to bee the most healthfull medicine. Therefore as touching this former part, I will here conclude, & take it for a conclusion, sufficiently determined and appointed, That it is conuenient & good, the Scriptures to be read of all sorts and kinds of people, and in the vulgar tongue, without further allegations or probations for the same, which shall not need, since that this one place of S. Iohn Chrysostome is ynough, and sufficient to perswade all them that be not forwardly and peruersly set in their owne wilfull opinion, specially now that the Kings highnesse being supreme head next vnder Christ of this Church of England, hath approued with his royall assent the setting forth hereof, which onely to all true and obedient subiects ought to be a sufficient reason for the allowance of the same, without further delay, reclamation, or resistance, although there were no presence, or other reason herein expressed.

Therefore now to come to the second or latter part of my purpose: Here is nothing so good in this world, but it may be abused, and turned from vnhurtfull and wholesome, to hurtfull and noysome. What is there about better then the Sunne, the Moone, and the starres: Yet was there that tooke occasion by the great beautie and vertue of them, to dishonour God, and to defile themselves with idolatrie, giuing the honour of the liuing God and creator of all things, to such things as he had created. What is there here beneath better then fire, water, meates, drinckes, mettals of golde, siluer, yron, and Steele: Yet we see daily great harme and much mischief done by euery one of these, aswell for lacke of wisdom and prouidence of them that suffer euill, as by the malice of them that worke the euill. Thus to them that be euill of themselves, euery thing setteth forward and increaseth their euill, be it of his owne nature a thing neuer so good: like as contrarily, to them that studie and inuouour themselves to goodnesse, euery thing preuaileth them, and profiteth vnto good, be it of his owne nature a thing neuer so bad, as S. Paul sayth, His qui diligunt Deum, omnia cooperantur in bonum. All things doe bring good successe to such as doe lone God, euen as out of most venomous Wormis is made triacle, the most soueraigne medicine for the preservation of mans health in the time of danger. wherefore I would aduise you all that come to the reading or hearing of this booke, which is the word of God, the most precious iewel and most holy relique that remaineth vpon earth, that yee bring with you the feare of God, and that yee doe it with all due reuerence, and vse your knowledge thereof, not to vaine glorie of friuolous disputation: but to the honour of God, encrease of vertue, and edification both of your selues and others. And to the intent that my words may be the more regarded, I will vse in this part the authoritie of S. Gregorie Nazianzene, like as in the other I did of S. Iohn Chrysostome. It appeareth that in his time there were some (as I feare me there be also now at these dayes a great number) which were idle brawlers, and talkers of the Scripture out of season & all good order, and without any increase of vertue, or example of good liuing: to them he writeth all his first booke de Theologia. wherefore I shall briefly gather the whole effect, & recite it here vnto you. There be some (saith he) whose not onely eares and tongues, but also their fists be directed and ready bent all to contention and vnprofitable disputation, whome I would wish and practise to doe good deeds. But forasmuch as they subverting the order of all godliness, haue respect only to this thing, how they may binde and loose subtile questions, so that now euery market place, euery alehouse and tauerne, euery feasthouse, briefly euery company of men, euery assembly of women, is filled with such talke: Since the matter is so (sayth he) and that our faith and holy religion of Christ beginneth to waxe nothing else but as it were a sophistrie or a talking craft, I can no lesse do but say something thereunto. It is not fit (sayth hee) for euery man to dispute the high questions of diuinitie, neither is it to be done at all times, neither in euery audience must we discuss every doubt: but we must know when, to whom, and how farre we ought to enter into such matters. First, it is not for euery man, but it is for such as be of exact, and exquisite iudgements, and such as haue spent their time befoze in studie and contemplation, and such as befoze haue cleened themselves aswell in soule as body, or at least endeouored themselves to be made cleane. For it is dangerous (sayth hee) for the vncleane to touch that thing which is most cleane, like as the soze eye taketh harme by looking vpon the Sunne. Secondly, not at all times, but when we be reposed, and at rest from all outward dregs and trouble, and when that our heads be not encumbred with other worldly and wandring imaginations: as if a man should mingle balme and dirt together. For he that shall iudge and determine such matters and doubts of Scriptures, must take his time when he may apply his wits thereunto, that he may thereby the better see & discern what is trueth. Thirdly, where, and in what audience. There and among those that haue bene studious to learne: and not among such as haue pleasure to trifle with such matters, as with other things of pastime, which repute for their chiefe delicates, the disputation of high questions, to the we their wits, learning, and eloquence in reasoning of high matters. Fourthly, it is to be considered how farre to wade in such matters of difficultie. No further (saith he) but as euery mans owne capacitie will serue him, and againe no further then the weakenesse or intelligence of the other audience may beare. For like as too great noyse hurteth the eare, too much meate hurteth the mans body, heauie burdens hurt the bearers of them, too much raine doeth hurt then good to the ground: briefly in all things too much is noyous: euen so weake wits, and weake consciences, may soone be oppressed with ouer hard questions. I say not this to dissuade men from the knowledge of God, and reading or studying of the Scripture: For I say that it is as necessarie for the life of mans soule, as for the body to breathe. And if it were possible so to liue, I would thinke it good for a man to spend all his life in that, and doe none other thing. I commend the Lawe which biddeth to meditate and study the Scriptures alwaies both night and day, and sermons and preachings to be made both morning, noone, and euentide, and God to be lauded and blessed in all times, to bedward, from bed, in our iournies, and in all other workes. I forbid not to read, but I forbid to reason: neither forbid I to reason so farre as is good and godly: but I allow not that is done out of season, and out of measure and good order. A man may eat too much of honye be it neuer so sweet, and there is time for euery thing, and that thing that is good is not good if it be vngodly done. Euen as a floure in winter is out of season, and as a womans apparell becommeth not a man, neither contrarily the mans the woman, neither is weeping conuenient at a brideale, neither laughing at a buriall. Now if we can obserue and keepe that is comely and timely in all other things: shal not we then the rather doe the same in holy Scriptures: Let vs not runne forth as it were wild hoxses, that can suffer neither bridle in their mouthes, nor sitter on their backs. Let vs keepe vs in our bounds, and neither let vs goe too far on the one side, least we returne into Egypt, neither too far ouer the other, least we be caried away to Babylon. Let vs not sing the song of our Lord in a strange land, that is to say, let vs not dispute the word of God at all adventures, as well where it is not to be reasoned as where it is, and as well in the eares of them that be not fit therefore, as of them that be. If we can in no wise forbear, but that we must needs dispute, let vs forbear thus much at the least, to doe it out of time and place conuenient: and let vs entreat of those things that be holy, holily: and vpon those things that be mysticall, mystically: and not to bitter the diuine mysteries in the eares vnworthe to heare them, but let vs know what is comely, as well in our silence and talking, as in our garments wearing, in our feeding, in our gesture, in our goings, in all our other behauing. This contention and debates about Scriptures & doubts thereof (specially when such as doe pretend to be the fauourers and students thereof, cannot agree within themselves) doth most hurt to our selues, and to the farthering of the cause and quarrels that we should haue furthered aboue all other things. And we in this sayth he, be not vnlike to them that being mad, set their owne houses on fire, and that slay their owne children, or beat their owne parents. I marueile much (sayth he) to recount whereof cometh all this desire of vaine glorie, whereof cometh all this tongue itch, that we haue so much delight to talke and clatter: And wherein is our communication: Not in the commendation of vertuous and good deedes, of hospitalitie, of loue betweene Christian brother and brother, of loue betweene man and wife, of birginitie and chastitie, and of almes toward the poore: not in Psalmes and godly songs, not in lamenting for our sinnes, not in repressing the affections of the body, not in prayers to God. Wee talke of Scripture, but in the meane time we subdue not our flesh by fasting, watching, and weeping, we make not this life a meditation of death, we doe not strue to be lords ouer our appetites and affections, we goe not about to pull downe our proud and high mindes, to abate our furrish and rancorous stomacks, to restraine our lust and bodily delectations, our vndiscrete sorrowes, our lasciuious mirth, our inordinate looking, our insatiable hearing of vanities, our speaking without measure, our inconuenient thoughts, and briefly, to reforme our life and maners: but all our holinesse consisteth in talking. And wee pardon each other from all good liuing, so that wee may sticke fast together in argumentation, as though there were no moe wayes to heauen but this alone, the way of speculation and knowledge (as they take it) but in very deed it is rather the way of superfluous contention and sophistification.

Hitherto haue I recited the mind of Gregorie Nazianzene in that booke which I spake of before. The same authoꝝ sayth also in another place, That the learning of a Christian man ought to begin of the feare of God, to end in matters of high speculation: and not contrarily to begin with speculation, and to end in feare. For speculation (sayth he) either high cunning or knowledge, if it be not stayed with the bridle of feare to offend God, is dangerous, and ynough to tumble a man headlong downe the hill. Therefore, sayth he, the feare of God must be the first beginning, and as it were an A. B. C. or an introduction to all them that shall enter into the very true and most fruitful knowledge of holy Scriptures. Where as is the holy feare of God, there is (sayth he) the keeping of the commandements: and where as is the keeping of the commandements, there is the cleansing of the flesh: which flesh is a cloud before the soules eye, and suffereth it not purely to see the beaue of the heavenly light. Where as is the cleansing of the flesh, there is the illumination of the holy Ghost, the end of all our desires, and the very light whereby the veritie of Scriptures is scene and perceined. This is the mind, and almost the words of Gregory Nazianzene, doctor of the Greeke Church, of whom S. Ierome sayth, That vnto this time the Latine Church had no wyter able to be compared, and to make an euen match with him. Therefore to conclude this latter part, Every man that cometh to the reading of this holy booke, ought to bring with him first and foremost this feare of Almighty God, and then next, a firme and stable purpose to reforme his owne selfe according thereunto, and so to continue, proceed, and prosper from time to time, shewing himselfe to be a sober and fruitfull hearer and learner: which if he doe, hee shall prooue at length well able to teach, though not with his mouth, yet with his liuing and good example, which is sure the most liuely and effectuous forme and maner of teaching. Hee that otherwise intermedleth with this booke, let him be assured that ouce he shall make account therefore, when he shall haue said to him as it is written in the Prophet Dauid, Peccatori dicit Deus, &c. Unto the vngodly sayde God, why doest thou preach my lawes, and takest my testament in thy mouth: whereas thou hatest to be reformed, and hast bene partaker with adulterers. Thou hast let thy mouth speake wickednesse, and with thy tongue thou hast set forth deceit. Thou satest and spakest against thy brother, and hast slandered thine owne mothers sonne. These things hast thou done, and I helde my tongue, and thou thoughtest wickedly, that I am euen such a one as thy selfe: but I will reprove thee, and set before thee the things that thou hast done. Consider this, yee that forget God, least I plucke you away, and there be none to deliuer you. who so offereth me thanks and praise, he honoureth me: and to him that ordereth his conuersation right, wil I shew the saluation of God.

Praise beto God.

4 And God sawe the light that it was good: and God diuided the light from the darkenes.

5 And God called the light, Day, and the darkenesse, Night: and the evening and the morning were the first day.

6 * And God said, Let there be a <sup>a</sup> firmament betweene the waters and waters.

7 And God made the firmament, and set a diuision betweene the waters which were vnder the firmament, and the waters that were aboue the firmament: and it was so.

8 And God called the firmament, Heauen: and the evening and the morning were the second day.

9 And God said, * Let the waters vnder the heauen be gathered together into one place, and let the dry land appeare: and it was so.

10 And God called the dry land the earth, and the gathering together of waters called hee the Seas: and God saw that it was good.

11 And God saide, Let the earth bring forth hvd and greene herbe apt to seede, and fruitfull trees, yelding fruit after his kinde, which hath seed in it selfe vpon the earth: and it was so.

12 And the earth brought forth greene herbe apt to feed after his kind, and tree yelding fruit, which had seed in it selfe after his kinde.

17 And God set them in the firmament of the heauen, to shine vpon the earth,

The ij Chapter.

3 The hallowing of the Sabbath day. 17 The tree of knowledge is forbidden. 19 Adam nameth all creatures. 22 Heva is created, 23 And marriage is ordained.

Thus the heaucens and the earth were finished, and all the host of them.

2 And in the seventh day, God ended the worke which hee had made. And the seventh day hee rested from all his worke which he had made.

3 And God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it: because that in it he had rested from all his worke, which God ordeined to make.

4 These are the generations of the heaucens, and of the earth, when they were created in the day when the Lord God made the earth and the heaucens,

5 And every plant of the field, before it was in the earth, and every herbe of the field before it grew: for the Lord God had not yet caused it to raine upon the earth, neither was there a man to till the ground.

6 But there went by a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground.

7 The Lord God also did shapen man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life, and man was a living soule.

8 And the Lord God planted a garden Eastward in Eden, and there he put the man whom he had shapen.

9 Whereout of the ground made the Lord God to grow every tree that was faire to sight, and pleasant to eat: The tree of life in the midst of the garden, and the tree of knowledge of good and euil.

10 And out of Eden there went forth a flood to water the garden, and from thence it was divided, and became into foure heads.

11 The name of the first is Pison, the same is it that compasseth the whole lande of Havilah, where there is gold:

12 And the golde of the lande is very good. There is also Bellinum, and the Onix stone.

13 The name of the second riuier is Euphron: the same is it that compasseth the whole land of Ethiopia.

14 The name of the thirde riuier is Hidkel, and it goeth toward the East side of Assyria: and the fourth riuier is Euphrates.

15 And the Lord God took the man, and put him into the garden of Eden, that hee might worke it, and keepe it.

16 And the Lord God commanded the man, saying, Eating, thou shalt eate of every tree of the garden:

17 But as touching the tree of the knowledge of good and euill, thou shalt not eate of it: for in what day soeuer thou eatest thereof, thou shalt die the death.

18 And the Lord God said, It is not good that the man should bee alone, I will make him an helpe like vnto him.

19 And so out of the ground the Lord God had shapen every beast of the fiede, and every foule of the aire, and brought them vnto man, that hee might see how he would call them: for like wise as man named every living thing, so was the name thereof.

20 And the man gaue names to all cattell, and foule of the aire, and to every beast of the fiede: but for man found he not an helpe like vnto him.

21 The Lord God caused a deepe sleepe to fall upon Adam, and he slept, and he tooke one of his ribbes, and closed vp the place with flesh in stead thereof.

22 And the rib which the Lord God had taken from man, made hee a woman, and brought her vnto the man.

23 And man saide, * This is now bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh, thee shalt be called woman, because she was taken out of man.

24 * For this cause shall man leaue his father and mother, and shall be ioyned with his wife: and they shall become one flesh.

25 And they were both naked, the man and his wife, and were not ashamed.

The iij Chapter.

1 The Serpent deceiueh the woman. 4 The Serpent, woman, and man are cursed and driuen out of Paradise. 15 Christ the blessed seed of the woman is promised.

And the Serpent was subtiler then every beast of the fiede which the Lord God had made, and hee saide vnto the woman, Yea, hath God said, Yee shall not eate of every tree of the garden?

2 And the woman saide vnto the Serpent, We eate of the fruit of the trees of the garden:

3 But as for the fruit of the tree, which is in the midst of the garden, God hath saide, Yee shall not eate of it, neither shall yee touch it, least peradventure yee die.

4 And the Serpent saide vnto the woman, * Yee shall not die the death.

5 For God doeth knowe, that the same day that yee eat thereof, your eyes shall be opened, and ye shall be as Gods knowing good and euill.

6 And the woman, seeing that the same tree was good to eat of, and pleasant to the eyes, and a tree to be desired to make one wise, tooke of the fruit thereof, and did eat, and gaue also vnto her husband, being with her, and he did eat.

7 When the eyes of them both were opened, and they knew that they were naked, and they sowed figge leaues together, and made themselves aprons.

8 And they heard the voice of the Lord God, walking in the garden in the coole of the day: and Adam and his wife hid themselves from the presence of the Lord God, amongst the trees of the garden.

9 And the Lord God called Adam, and sayd vnto him, where art thou?

10 Which sayd, I heard thy voice in the garden, and was afrayd because I was naked, and hid my selfe.

11 And he sayd, who told thee, that thou wast naked? Hast thou not eaten of the same tree, con-

The iiii. Chapter.

8 Cain killeth his righteous brother Habel. 11 Cain is cursed, and despaireth. 17 The generation of Enoch, Methusael, Tubal, Lamech, Seth and Enos.

AD Adam knewe Heua his wife, who conceiuing, bare Cain, saying, I haue gotten a man of the Lord.

2 And hee proceeding, brought forth his brother Habel, and Habel was a keeper of sheepe, but Cain was a tiller of the ground.

3 And in proccesse of dayes it came to passe, that Cain brought of the fruit of the ground, an oblation vnto the Lord.

4 Habel also brought of the bestlings of his sheepe, and of the fat thereof: and the Lord had respect vnto Habel, and to his oblation.

5 But vnto Cain and to his offering he had no respect: for the which cause Cain was exceedingly wroth, and his countenance abated.

6 And the Lord sayd vnto Cain, why art thou wroth? And why is thy countenance abated?

7 If thou doe well, shalt thou not receiue? and if thou doest not well, lieth not thy sinne at the doores? Vnto thee also perteineth the iusts thereof, and thou shalt haue dominion ouer it.

8 And Cain talked with Habel his brother: and it came to passe when they were in the field, Cain rose vp against Habel his brother, and slew him.

9 And the Lord sayd vnto Cain, where is Habel thy brother? which saide, I wote not, Am I my brothers keeper?

10 And hee sayd, what hast thou done? the voyce of thy brothers blood crieth vnto me out of the ground.

11 And now art thou cursed from the earth which hath opened her mouth to receiue thy brothers blood from thy hand.

12 If thou till the ground, it shall not yeeld vnto thee her strength. A fugitiue and vagabond shalt thou be in the earth.

13 And Cain sayd vnto the Lord, My finiquitie is moze then that it may be forgiven.

14 Beholde, thou hast cast mee out this day from the hyper face of the earth, & from thy face shall I be hid, fugitiue also and a vagabond shall I be in the earth: and it shall come to passe, that euery one that findeth mee, shall slay me.

15 And the Lord said vnto him, Verily who soeuer slaieth Cain, he shall be punished seven fold. And the Lord set a marke vpon Cain, leaue any man finding him, should kill him.

16 And Cain went from the presence of the Lord, and dwelt in the land of Nod, Eastward from Eden.

17 Cain also knew his wife, which conceiued and bare Henoch, and building a citie, hee called the name of the same citie, after the name of his sonne, Henoch.

18 Vnto the same Henoch was borne Irad: Irad begat Methusael, Methusael begate Methusael, Methusael begate Lamech.

19 And Lamech tooke vnto him two wites, the name of the one was Ada, and the name of the other was Zella.

20 And Ada bare Iabel, which was the father of such as dwell in the tents, and of such as haue cattell.

21 His brothers name was Jubal, which was the father of such as handle harpe & organ.

22 And Zella also bare Chubalcain, which wrought cunningly euery craft of brasse and of yron: the sister of Chubalcain was Noema.

23 And Lamech saide vnto his wifes, Ada and Zella, heare my voice, ye wifes of Lamech, hearken vnto my spech: for I haue slaine a man to the wounding of my selfe, and a yong man to mine owne punishment.

24 If Cain shall be auenged seven folde, truly Lamech seventy times and seven times.

25 Adam knew his wife againe, and she bare a sonne, and called his name Seth: for God said he hath appointed me another seed, in stead of Habel whom Cain slew.

26 And vnto the same Seth also there was borne a sonne, and hee called his name Enos:

It is a mark of an illing her sin. The creature is by receiving the spirit.

The continual light becometh Satan and the rebellion of God, Christ. Satan shall alwayes be sting of the world in his members, but not overcome them. God doeth therefore punish the woman in her sin, that her sin might be laued by faith to right conscience.

By the rebellion God punisheth Adam of the will where he was fallen by ambition.

By the favor of God, is the part which had sent her a man, a Lord, and the sense that should be the freemen, according to the promise of God to the daughter. Thevj. Chapter.

5 The cause of the flood is the sinne of man. 18 Noah the iust is preserued in the Arke, with all kinds of beafts.

And it came to passe, that when men began to be multiplied in the vpper face of the earth, there were daughters borne vnto them:

2 And the sonnes of God also saw the daughters of men that they were faire, and they tooke them wiues, such as they liked, from among them all.

3 And the Lord sayd, My spirit shall not alwayes strue with man, because he is flesh: yet his dayes shall be an hundred and twenty yeeres.

4 But there were giants in those dayes in the earth: yea, and after that the sonnes of God came vnto the daughters of men, and had begotten children of them, the same became mightie men of the world, and men of renowne.

5 But God saw that the malice of man was great in the earth, and all the imagination of the thoughts of his heart was onely euill euery day.

6 And it repented the Lord that he had made man vpon the earth, and he was touched with sorrow in his heart.

7 And the Lord sayd, I will from the vpper face of the earth destroy man whom I haue created: from man vnto cattell, vnto worme, and vnto foules of the aire: for it repenteth me that I haue made them.

8 But Noah found grace in the eyes of the Lord.

9 These are the generations of Noah. Noah was a iust man, and perfect in his generations, and walked with God.

10 Noah begate three sonnes, Sem, Ham, and Japheth.

11 The earth also was corrupt before God, and the same earth was filled with crueltie.

12 And God looked vpon the earth, and beheld, it was corrupt: for all flesh had corrupt his way vpon earth.

13 And God sayd vnto Noah, The end of all flesh is come before mee, for the earth is filled with crueltie through them: and behold, I will destroy them with the earth.

14 Make thee an Arke of fine trees: habitations shalt thou make in the Arke, and shalt pitch it within and without with pitch.

15 And of the fashion shalt thou make it: the length of the Arke shall be three hundred cubits, the breadth of it fiftie cubits, and the height of it threety cubits.

16 A window shalt thou make in the Arke, and in a cubit shalt thou finish it above: but the 18 With thee also will I make my covenant: and thou shalt come into the Arke, thou and thy sonnes, thy wife & thy sonnes wiues with thee.

19 And of euery liuing thing of all flesh, a paire of euery one shalt thou bring into the arke, to keepe them aliuie with thee, they shall be male and female.

20 Of feathered fowles also after their kind, and of all cattel after their kind: of euery worme of the earth after his kinde, two of euery loft shall come vnto thee, to keepe them aliuie.

21 And take thou with thee of all meat that is eaten, and thou shalt lay it by with thee, that it may be meat for thee and them.

22 Noah therefore did according vnto all that God commanded him, euen so did he.

The vij. Chapter.

1 Noah with them that were with him, entred into the Arke. 20 The flood destroyeth all the rest vpon the earth.

AND the Lord sayd vnto Noah, Come thou and all thy houte into the Arke: for thee haue I seene righteous before me in this generation.

2 Of euery cleane beast thou shalt take with thee seuen and seuen, the male and his female: but of uncleane cattell, two, the male and his female.

3 Of fowles also of the aire seuen and seuen, the male and the female, to keepe seed aliuie vpon the face of all the whole earth.

4 For after seuen dayes, I will raine vpon the earth forty dayes and forty nights: and all substance that I haue made, will I destroy from the vpper face of the earth.

5 Noah therefore did according vnto all that God commanded him.

6 And Noah was six hundred yeeres olde when the floods of water came vpon the earth.

7 And Noah came, and his sonnes, and his wife, and his sonnes wiues with him, to the Arke, because of the waters of the flood.

8 Of cleane beasts, and uncleane beasts, and of fowles, and of euery such as creepeth vpon the earth.

9 There came two and two vnto Noah into the Arke, the male and the female, as God had commanded Noah.

10 And so it came to passe after seuen dayes, that the waters of the flood were vpon the earth.

11 In the six hundred yeere of Noahs life, in the second moneth, the seventeenth day of the moneth, in the same day were all the fountaines of the great deepe broken by, and the windowes of heauen were opened.

12 And the raine was vpon the earth forty dayes and forty nights.

13 In the selfe same day entred Noah, and Sem, and Ham, and Japheth, the sonnes of Noah, and Noahs wife, and the three wiues of his sonnes with them, into the Arke, 14 They, and euery beast after his kind, and all the cattell after their kind: yea, and euery worme that creepeth vpon the ground after his kind, and euery bird after his kind, and euery flying and feathered fowle.

15 And they came vnto Noah into the Arke, two and two of all flesh wherein is the breath of life.

16 And they entring in, came male and female of all flesh, as God had commanded him: and God shut him in round about.

17 And the flood came forty dayes vpon the earth, and the waters were increased, and bare by the Arke, which was lift by about the earth.

18 The waters also warded strong, and were increased exceedingly vpon the earth: and so the Arke went vpon the vpper face of the waters.

19 And the waters preuailed exceedingly vpon the earth, and all the high hilles that are vnder the whole heauen, were couered.

20 Fifteene cubits byward did the waters preuaile, so that the mountaines were couered.

21 And all flesh perished, that moued vpon the earth, in fowle, in cattel, in beast, and in euery worme that creepeth vpon the earth, yea, and euery man also.

22 So that all that had the breath of life in his nostrils, thoro'out all that was in the dry land, died.

23 And euery substance was destroyed that remained, and that was in the vpper part of the ground, both man and cattell, and worme, and the fowle of the heauen, they were destroyed from off the earth, and Noah onely remained aliuie, and they that were with him in the Arke.

24 But the water preuailed vpon the earth, an hundred and fifty dayes.

The viij. Chapter.

3 The waters of the flood being diminished, Noah sendeth forth the Raven & the Dove. 16 Noah goeth out of the Arke, and offereth sacrifice vnto God.

AND God remembered Noah and euery beast, and all the cattell that was with him in the Arke: and God made a winde to passe vpon the earth, and the waters ceased.

2 The fountaines also of the deepe, and the windowes of heauen were stopped, and the raine from heauen was restrained.

3 And the waters from the earth returned, going and coming againe: and after the end of the hundred and fiftie dayes, the waters were abated.

4 And in the seventh moneth, in the seventeenth day of the moneth, the Arke rested vpon the mountaines of Armenia.

5 And the waters were going and decreasing untill the tenth moneth: in the tenth moneth, and in the first day of the same moneth, were the tops of the mountaines seene.

6 And after the end of forty dayes, it came to passe that Noah opened the window of the Arke which he had made.

7 And he sent forth a Raven, which went out, going soorth, and returning, untill the waters were dried by vpon the earth.

8 And againe hee sent forth a Dove from him, that he might see if the waters were abated from the vpper face of the ground.

Noah goeth out of the Arke. Genesis. Couenant and Rainbow.

9 And the Dove found no rest for the sole of her foot, and shee returned vnto him into the Arke: for the waters were in the vpper face of the whole earth. Then he put forth his hand, and tooke her, and pulled her to him into the Arke.

10 And hee abode yet other seuen dayes, and againe he sent forth the Dove out of the Arke:

11 And the Dove came to him in the euen-tide, and loe, in her mouth was an Oliue leaf that shee had pluckt, whereby Noah did know that the waters were abated vpon the earth.

12 And he abode yet other seuen dayes, and sent forth the Dove, which returned not vnto him any moze.

13 And it came to passe in the five hundred and one yeere, in the first moneth, the first day of the moneth, the waters were dried vp from the earth, and Noah remooued the couering of the Arke, and looked, and beholde, the vpper face of the ground was dried vp.

14 And in the second moneth, in the seuen and twentieth day of the moneth, was the earth dried.

15 And God spake vnto Noah, saying, 16 Go forth of the Arke, thou, and thy wife, thy sonnes, and thy sonnes wiues with thee:

17 And bring forth with thee every beast that is with thee, of all flesh, both fowle and cattell, and euery worme that creepeth vpon the earth, that they may breed in the earth and bring forth fruit, and multiplie vpon earth.

18 And so Noah came forth, and his sonnes, his wife and his sonnes wiues with him:

19 Every beast also, and every worme, euery fowle, and whatsoeuer creepeth vpon the earth, after their kindes, went out of the Arke.

20 And Noah builded an altar vnto the Lord, and tooke of euery cleane beast, and of euery cleane fowle, and offered a whole burnt offering on the altar.

21 And the Lord smelled a sweet or quiet sauour, and the Lord sayd in his heart, I will not henceforth curse the ground any moze for mans sake, for the imagination of mans heart is euill from his youth: neither will I smite any moze euery thing liuing, as I haue done.

22 Yet therefore shall not sowing time and haruest, cold and heat, summer and winter, day and night, cease all the dayes of the earth.

The ix. Chapter.

1 God blesseth Noah and his sonnes. 3 God giueth libertie of meats, & forbiddeth the eating of blood. 9 He promisseth no more to destroy the world with water, 13 and giueth the Raine-bow for a token thereof.

And God blessed Noah, and his sonnes, and sayd vnto them, Be fruitfull, and multiplie, and replenish the earth,

2 The feare of you, and the dread of you shall be vpon euery beast of the earth, and vpon euery fowle of the aire, vpon all that mooueth vpon the earth, and vpon all the fishes of the sea: into your hand are they deliuered.

3 Euery thing that mooueth it selfe, and that liueth, shall be meat for you, euens as the greene herbe haue I giuen you all things.

4 But flesh in the life thereof, which is the blood thereof, shall ye not eat.

5 And surely your blood of your liues will

I require: at the hand of euery beast will I require it, and at the hand of man, at the hand of mans brother will I require the life of man.

6 Whoso sheddeth mans blood, by man shall his blood be shed, for in the image of God made he man.

7 But be fruitfull, and multiplie you, breed in the earth, and increase therein.

8 God spake vnto Noah, and to his sonnes with him, saying,

9 Beholde, I euen I stablish my couenant with you, and with your seed after you:

10 And with euery liuing creature that is with you, in fowle, in cattell, in euery beast of the earth, which is with you, of all that goe out of the Arke, whatsoeuer liuing thing of the earth it be.

11 And my couenant I make with you, that from henceforth all flesh be not rooted out with the waters of a flood, neither shall there be a flood to destroy the earth any moze.

12 And God sayd, This is the token of the couenant which I make betweene mee and you, and euery liuing creature that is with you for euer.

13 I doe set my bow in the cloud, and it shall be for a token betweene me and the earth.

14 And it shall come to passe, that when I bring a cloud vpon the earth, the bow also shall be seene in the same cloud, 15 And I will thinke vpon my couenant which is betweene mee and you, and euery liuing creature in all flesh: and it shall no moze come to passe, that waters make a flood to destroy all flesh.

16 And the bow shall be in the cloud, and I will looke vpon it, that I may thinke vpon the euerlasting couenant betweene God and euery liuing creature, in all flesh that is vpon the earth.

17 And God sayd vnto Noah, This is the token of the couenant which I haue made betweene me and all flesh that is vpon earth.

18 The sonnes of Noah going forth of the Arke, were Sem, Ham, and Japheth, and Ham is the father of Chanaan.

19 These are the three sonnes of Noah, and of them was the whole earth ouerspread.

20 Noah also began to be an husbandman, and planted a vineyard.

21 And hee, drincking of the wine, was drunken, and s bncouered within his tent.

22 And Ham, the father of Chanaan, seeing the nakednesse of his father, tolde his two brethren without.

23 And Sem & Japheth taking a garment, layd it vpon their shoulders, and comming backward, covered the nakednesse of their father, namely their faces being turned away, lest they should see their fathers nakednesse.

24 And Noah awoke from his wine, and knew what his poonger sonne had done vnto him.

25 And he sayd, Cursed be Chanaan, a seruant of seruants shall he be vnto his brethren.

26 He sayd mozeouer, Blessed be the Lord God of Sem, and Chanaan shall be his seruant.

27 God shall enlarge Japheth, and he shall dwell in the tents of Sem, and Chanaan shall be his seruant.

28 Noah liued after the flood, three hundred and fifty yeeres.

To termeth at the house the whole world, as hee saith in the 22. chapter of the same booke, for the waters were in the vpper face of the whole earth.

Noah was the Arke in peace and in dayes.

This is called whole burnt offering, because the whole was offered with fire, by the priest, as in the 1. chapter of the same booke, and the offering which is offered to offer the same, should be burnt with fire, as in the 1. chapter of the same booke, and the offering which is offered to offer the same, should be burnt with fire, as in the 1. chapter of the same booke.

As to the verbe of this commandment, beastes rage not so much as man, as other beastes they would, but are appointed to serue to his use, as in the 1. chapter of the same booke, man may be a good conseruator, as in the 1. chapter of the same booke, man may be a good conseruator, as in the 1. chapter of the same booke.

The x. Chapter.

1 The increase of mankinde by Noah and his sonnes. 10 The beginning of Cities, Countreys, and Nations, after the Flood.

These are the generations of the sonnes of Noah, Sem, Ham, and Japheth: and vnto them were children borne after the flood.

The children of Japheth: 1 Comer, and Magog, and Madai, and Iauan, and Chubal, Melech, and Thiras.

3 The children of Comer: Akenas, and R-path, and Chogarma.

4 The children of Iauan: Elisa, and Char-lis, Bitthim, and Dodanin.

5 Of these were the bles of the Gentiles di-uided in their lands, euery one after his tongue, and after his kindred, in their nations.

6 The children of Ham: Chus, and Myr-aim, and Phut, and Chanaan.

7 And the children of Chus: Seba, and Ha-uilah, and Sabthah, and Kaamah, and Sab-theca.

8 The children of Kaamah: Seba, and De-dan: Chus also begat Nimrod.

9 The same began to be mighty in the earth, for hee was a mightie hunter before the Lord: wherefore it is saide, Cuen as Nimrod the mightie hunter before the Lord.

10 The beginning of his kingdome was Ba-bel, and Erech, and Acad, and Calneh, in the land of Sinar.

11 Out of that land came Assur, and builded Nineue, and the cite Rehoboth, and Calah, 12 Resen also betweene Nineue and Calah, and it is a great cite.

13 Myr-aim begate Ludim, and Ananim, and Lehabim, and Nephthim.

14 Pathrusim also, and Callathim ( out of whom came Philistim ) and Capthorim.

15 Chanaan begate Sidon his first borne sonne, and Beth,

16 And Jebusi, and Gmozi, and Girgasi,

17 And Hui also, and Arki, and Sini,

18 And Aruadi, and Semari, and Hamathi: and afterward were the kindreds of the Chanaan-ites spycad abroad.

19 The border of the Chanaanites, was from Sidon, as thou commest to Gerar, vnto Azah, and as thou goest vnto Sodoma and Gomorra, and Adama, and Seboim, euen vnto Lefa.

20 These are the children of Ham in their kin-reds, in their tongues, countreys, and in their nations.

21 Vnto Sem also the father of all the chil-dren of Heber, and elder brother of Japheth, there were children borne.

22 The children of Sem: Elam, and Assur, Arpharad, and Lud, and Aram.

24 Arpharad begate Selah, and Selah be-gate Heber.

25 Vnto Heber also were borne two sonnes: the name of one was Peleg, for in his daies was the earth diuided, and his brothers name was Jactan.

26 Jactan begate Almodad, and Saleph,

Hazarmaueh, and Terah,

27 And Hadozam, and Usal, and Dicla,

28 Dhal also, and Abimael, and Seba,

29 And Ophir, and Hauilah, and Jobab: all these were the children of Jactan.

30 And their dwelling was from Mesa, as thou goest vnto Sephar, a mount of the East.

31 These are the children of Sem, after their kindreds and tongues, in their lands & nations.

32 And so these are the kindreds of the children of Noah after their generations, in their peo-ples: and of these were the nations diuided in the earth after the flood.

The xj. Chapter.

3 The building of the Tower of Babel. 7 The con-fusion of tongues. 10 The generation of Sem the sonne of Noah vnto Abram, which goeth with Lor to Haran.

And all the whole earth was of one language, and like speach. 2 And when they went forth from the East, they found a plaine in the lande of Sinar, and there they abode.

3 And one saide to another, Come, let vs prepare bricke, and burne them in the fire. And they had bricke for stones, and lime had they in stead of moztel.

4 And they said, Go to, let vs build vs a citie and a tower, whose top may reach vnto heauen, and let vs make vs a name, lest peraduenture we be scattered abroad vpon the whole earth.

5 But the Lord came downe to see the city and to tower, which the children of men builded.

6 And the Lord saide, Beholde, the people is one, and they haue all one language: and this they begin to do, neither is there any let to them from all those things which they haue imagined to doe.

7 Come on, let vs go downe, and there con-found their language, that euery one perceiue not his neighbours speach.

8 And so the Lord scattered them from that place vpon all the earth: and they left off to build that citie.

9 And therefore is the name of it called Ba-bel, because the Lord did there confound the lan-guage of all the earth: and from thence did the Lord scatter them abroad vpon the face of all the earth.

10 These are the generations of Sem. Sem was an hundred yeeres olde, and begat Arphar-ad two yeeres after the flood.

The xij. Chapter.

1 Abram is blessed of God, and goeth with Lot to the land of Chanaan, which God promised to giue to him and to his feede. 10 Abram goeth into Egypt. 13 His wife calleth her selfe his sister, for whom Pharaos is plagued.

AD the * Lord saide vnto Abram, Get thee out of thy countrey, and out of thy nation, and from thy fathers house, vnto a land that I will shew thee.

2 And I will make of thee a great people, and will blesse thee, and make thy name great, that thou shalt be a blessing.

3 I will also blesse them that blesse thee, and curse them that curse thee: and in thee shall all kindreds of the earth be blessed.

4 And when Abram departed, as the Lord had spoken vnto him, and Lot went with him: And Abram was seuentie and five yeeres olde when he departed out of Haran.

5 And Abram tooke Sarai his wife, and Lot his brothers sonne, and all their substance that they had in possession, and the soules that they had begotten in Haran, and they departed, that they might come into the land of Chanaan:

and into the land of Chanaan they came.

6 Abram passed through the land, vnto the place of Sichem, vnto the plaine of Moreh. And the Chanaanite was then in the land.

7 And the Lord appearing vnto Abram, said, vnto thy feede will I giue this land: and there builded hee an altar vnto the Lord which appeared vnto him.

8 And removing thence vnto a mountaine that was Eastward from Bethel, he pitched his tent, hauing Bethel on the west side, and Hai on the East: and there he building an altar vnto the Lord, did call vpon the Name of the Lord.

9 And Abram tooke his iourney, going and iourneying toward the South.

10 And then there was a famine in that land, and therefore went Abram downe into Egypt, that hee might sojourne there: for there was a grieuous famine in the land.

11 And when he was come neere to enter into Egypt, he said vnto Sarai his wife, Behold, I knowe that thou art a faire woman to looke vpon:

12 Therefore shall it come to passe, that when the Egyptians see thee, they shall say, She is his wife, and they will kill mee, but they will saue thee aliuie:

13 Say, I pray thee, that thou art my sister: that I may fare well for thy sake, and that my soule may liue through thy occasion.

14 And so when Abram was come into Egypt, the Egyptians behelde the woman, for she was very faire.

15 The princes also of Pharaos sawe her, and commended her before Pharaos: and the woman was taken into Pharaos house.

16 And he entreated Abram wel for her sake: and he had sleepe, and oxen, and hee asses, men seruants, and mayde seruants, shee asses, and camels.

17 But the Lord plagued Pharaos and his house with great plagues, because of Sarai Abrahams wife.

18 And Pharaos calling Abram, saide, why hast thou done this vnto me?

19 Why diddest thou not tell me that she was thy wife? why saydest thou, Shee is my sister, and so I might haue taken her to be my wife? Nowe therefore beholde, there is thy wife, take her, and goe thy way.

20 And Pharaos gaue his men commandement concerning him: and they coueyed him forth, and his wife, and all that he had.

4 Hee was brought to and fro in the land, before he could finde a resting place. Thus God reuerently the faith of his children.
 5 It was not enough for Abram to worship God in his heart, but it was necessary to declare by outward deeds his faith before men.

6 The weakness of Abrahams faith appeared in this, that he was not able to stand by his own life.

7 Though Pharaos were innocent touching Abram, yet this face of Pharaos declared that his court was full of corruption.

12 Abram dwelled in the lande of Chanaan, and Lot abode in the cities of the plaine, and pitched his tent toward Sodome.

13 But the men of Sodome were wicked, and exceeding sinners against the Lord.

14 And the Lord sayde vnto Abram, after that Lot was departed from him, Lift up thine eyes now, and looke from the place where thou art, Northward, Southward, Eastward, and Westward.

The xiiij. Chapter.

11 Lot after the spoile of Sodome is taken prisoner. 16 Abram deliuereth him. 18 Melchisedec offereth gifts to Abram.

And it came to passe in the dayes of Amraphel king of Sinar, Arioch king of Elasar, Chodorlaomer king of Elam, and Chidal king of the nations.

2 These made warre with Bera king of Sodome, and with Birsa king of Gomorthe, and with Sinab king of Adma, and with Semebter king of Seboim, and with the king of Bela, the same is Soar.

3 All these were ioyned together in the bale of Siddim, where now the salt Sea is.

4 For twelue yeeres were they subject to king Chodorlaomer, and in the thirteenth yeere rebelled.

5 And in the fourteenth yeere came Chodorlaomer, and the kings that were with him, and smote the Giants in Assaroch Carnaim, and the Sulims in Ham, and the Emims in the plaine of Cartathaim.

6 And the Horites in their mount Seir, vnto the plaine of Paran, which bordereth vpon the wilderness.

7 And they returning, came to Enimbat, which is Cades, and smote all the countrey of the Amalehites, & also the Amorites that dwelt in Hazzon thamar.

8 And there went out the king of Sodome, and the king of Gomorthe, and the king of Adma, and the king of Seboim, and the king of Bela, which is Soar.

9 And they ioyned battell with them in the bale of Siddim, that is to say, with Chodorlaomer the king of Elam, and with Chidal king of Nations, and with Amraphel king of Sinar, and with Arioch king of Elasar, foure kings against five.

10 And the bale of Siddim was full of slime pittes: and the Kings of Sodome and Gomorthe fled, and fell there: and they that remained, fled to the mountaine.

11 And they, taking all the goods of Sodome and Gomorthe, and all their victuals, went their way.

12 And they caried away Lot also, Abrams brothers sonne, & his goods (for hee dwelled in Sodome) and departed.

13 And there came one that had escaped, and tolde Abram the Hebrue, which dwelled in the plaine of Hamre the Amorite, brother of Etschol, and brother of Aner, which were confederate with Abram.

14 When Abram heard that his brother was taken, hee armed his exercised seruants which were borne in his owne house, three hundred and eightene, and followed on them vnto Dan.

15 And hee and his seruants were parted in companies against them by night, and smote them, and pursued them vnto Hoba, which lieth on the left hand of Damascus:

16 And recovered all the goods, & also brought againe his brother Lot, and his goods, the women also, and the people.

17 After that hee returned againe from the slaughter of Chodorlaomer, and of the Kings that were with him, came the King of Sodome fourth to meeete him in the halley of Saueh, which is the Kings dale.

18 And Melchisedec king of Salem brought fourth bread and wine: and he was the priest of the most highest God.

19 And blessed him, saying, Blessed bee Abram vnto the high God, possessor of heauen and earth, 20 And blessed be the high God, which hath deliuered thine enemies vnto thy hande: and Abram gaue him riches of all.

21 And the king of Sodome sayd vnto Abram, Giue mee the soules, and take the goods to thy selfe.

22 And Abram answered the king of Sodome, I haue lift by my hand vnto the Lord the high God, the possessor of heauen and earth.

The xv. Chapter.

1 The Lord is Abrams defence and reward. 4 God promifeth seed to Abram, 6 and he belecueth, and was iustified. 7 The land of Chanaan is yet againe promised to Abram.

After these things, the word of the Lord came vnto Abram in a vision, saying, feare not Abram, I am thy shield, and thy exceeding great reward.

2 And Abram sayd, Lord, what wilt thou giue me when I go childlesse? the childe of the stewardship of my house is this Eleazar of Damasco.

3 And Abram sayd, See, to me thou hast giuen no seed: loe, one borne in my house is mine heire.

4 And beholde, the word of the Lord came vnto him, saying, He shall not be thine heire: but one that shall come out of thine owne bowels shall be thine heire.

5 And he brought him out, and sayd, Looke vp to heauen, and tell the starres, if thou be able to number them. And he sayd vnto him, Euen so shall thy seed be.

6 And Abram beleued the Lord, and that counted he to him for righteousnesse.

7 And againe hee sayd vnto him, I am the Lord that brought thee out of Eyr of the Chaldees, to giue thee this land, and that thou mightest inherit it.

8 And he sayd, Lord God, whereby shall I know that I shall inherit it?

9 He answered vnto him, Take an Heifer of thre yeres olde, and a hee Goat of thre yeres olde, and a thre yeres olde Ramme, a turtle Dove also, and a yong Pigeon.

10 He took therefore all these vnto him, and diuided them in the mids, and layd every peece one ouer against another: but the birds diuided he not.

11 And when the fowles fell on the carcases, Abram droue them away.

12 And when the Sunne was downe, there fell a deepe sleepe vpon Abram: and loe an horror of great darkeesse fell vpon him.

13 And he sayd vnto Abram, Know this of a suretie, that thy seed shall be a stranger in a land that is not theirs, and shall serue them, and they shall intreat them euill: foure hundred yeres.

14 But the Nation whom they shall serue, will I iudge: and after ward shall they come out with great substance.

15 And thou shalt go to thy fathers in peace, and shalt be buried in a good olde age.

16 But in the fourth generation they shall come hither againe: for the wickednesse of the Amorites is not yet full.

17 And so it was, that when the Sun went downe, and it was twilight, beholde, a smoking furnace and a firebrand going betwene the sayd peece.

2 Sarai giueth Abram leaue to take Hagar her maide to wife. 4 Hagar despiseth her mistresse, 6 & being euill intreated, runneth away from Sarai. 7 An angel comforteth her, 9 willing her to turn againe, and nameth her first childe Ismael.

Sarai Abrams wife bare him no children: but shee had an handmaide, an Egyptian, Hagar by name.

2 And Sarai said vnto Abram, Behold, now the Lord hath restrained me, that I cannot beare: I pray thee goe in to my maide, it may be that I may be builded by her: and Abram obeyed the voice of Sarai.

3 And Sarai Abrams wife, tooke Hagar her maide, the Egyptian, after Abram had dwelled ten yeres in the land of Chanaan, and gaue her to her husband Abram, to be his wife.

4 And he went in vnto Hagar, and shee conceived. And when she saw that shee had conceived, her mistresse was despised in her eyes.

5 And Sarai sayd vnto Abram, There is wrong done vnto me by thee: I haue giuen my maide into thy bosome, which seeing that shee hath conceived, I am despised in her eyes: the Lord be iudge betwene thee and me.

6 But Abram sayd vnto Sarai, Beholde, thy maide is in thy hand, do with her as it pleaseth thee. And when Sarai dealt hardly with her, she fled from the face of her.

7 And the Angel of the Lord found her beside a fountaine in the wilderness, by the well that is in the way to Sur:

8 And he said, Hagar Sarais maide, whence comest thou? and whither wilt thou goe? She sayd, I flee from the face of my mistresse Sarai.

9 And the Angel of the Lord sayd vnto her, Returne to thy mistresse againe, and submit thy selfe vnder her hands.

10 And againe, the Angel of the Lord sayd vnto her, In multiplying, I will multiply thy seed, in such sort, that it shall not be numbred for multitude.

11 And the Lords Angel sayd vnto her, See, thou art with child, and shalt beare a sonne, and shalt call his name Ismael, because the Lord hath heard thy tribulation.

12 He also wil be a wilde man, and his hand will be against every man, & every mans hand against him: and hee shall dwell in the presence of all his brethren.

13 And he called the name of the Lord that spake vnto her, Thou God looked on me: for she sayd, Haue I not also here looked after him that seeth me?

14 Wherefore the well was called, The well of him that liueth and seeth mee: and it is betwene Cades and Bared.

The xvij. Chapter.

5 Abram is called Abraham. 8 The land of Chanaan is promised vnto Abraham the fift time. 12 Circumcison is ordeined. 15 Sarai is named Sara. 16 Iahac is promised againe vnto Abraham. 23 Abraham circumciseth himselfe, Iſmael, and his household ſeruants.

A Ven Abram was ninetie yeeres old and nine, the Lord appeared to him, and ſaide vnto him, I am the Almighty God, walke before mee, and be thou perfect.

2 And I wil make my Couenant betweene me and thee, and wil multiply thee exceedingly.

3 Abram fell on his face, and God talked with him, ſaying,

4 It is I, behold, my Couenant is with thee, and thou shalt be a father of many nations.

5 Neither shalt thy name any more be called Abram, but thy name ſhalbe called Abraham: for a father of many nations haue I made thee.

6 I will make thee exceeding fruitful, and will make nations of thee, yea and Kings shall ſpring out of thee.

7 Moreover, I will make my Couenant betweene mee and thee, and thy ſeede after thee, in their generations, by an euerlaſting Couenant, that I may bee God vnto thee, and to thy ſeed after thee.

8 And I wil giue vnto thee, and to thy ſeede after thee, the land wherein thou art a ſtranger, euen all the land of Chanaan, for an euerlaſting poſſeſſion, and will be their God.

9 And God ſaid againe vnto Abraham, Thou shalt keepe my Couenant therefore, both thou, and thy ſeed after thee, in their generations.

10 This is my Couenant, which ye ſhal keepe betweene me & you, and thy ſeed after thee: euer<sup>e</sup>ry man child among you ſhalbe circumciſed.

11 Ye ſhall circumciſe the fleſh of your foreskinne, and it ſhall be a token of the Couenant betwixt me and you.

12 And euery manchild of eight dayes olde, ſhalbe circumciſed among you in your generations: both hee that is borne in thy houſe, as hee that is bought with money of any ſtranger, which is not of thy ſeed.

13 He that is borne in thine houſe, and he alſo that is bought with money, muſt needes bee circumciſed: and my Couenant ſhall be in your fleſh for an euerlaſting Couenant.

14 And the vncircumciſed man-child, in whoſe fleſh the foreskinne is not circumciſed, ſhat ſoule ſhall bee cut off from his people, becauſe he hath broken my Couenant.

15 And God ſaide vnto Abraham, Sarai thy wife ſhalt thou not call Sarai, but Sara ſhall her name be.

16 And I wil bleſſe her, and giue thee a ſonne of her: yea, I wil bleſſe her, and ſhe ſhalbe a mother of nations, yea and Kings of people ſhall ſpring of her.

17 But Abraham fell vpon his face, and laughed, and ſaid in his heart, Shall a child be borne vnto him that is an hundred yeeres olde? and ſhall Sara that is ninetie yeeres olde bear?

18 And Abraham ſaide vnto God, What ſhall I ſay? I knowe that thou ſaidſt, I ſhall haue a ſonne.

19 Vnto whom God ſaid, Sara thy wife ſhall beare thee a ſonne in deed, and thou ſhalt call his name Iſaac: and I wil eſta bliſh my Couenant with him for an euerlaſting Couenant, and with his ſeed after him.

20 And as concerning Iſmael alſo I haue heard thee: for I haue bleſſed him, and wil make him fruitful, and wil multiply him exceedingly: Twelve Princes ſhall hee beget, and I will make a great nation of him.

21 But my Couenant will I make with Iſaac, which Sara ſhall beare vnto thee, euen this time twelve moneth.

22 And he left off talking with him, and God departed by from Abraham.

23 Abraham tooke Iſmael his ſonne, and ſuch as were borne in his houſe, and all that was bought with money, as many as were men children, which were among the men of Abrahams houſe, and circumciſed the fleſh of their foreskinne in the ſelfe ſame day, as God had ſaid vnto him.

24 Abraham alſo himſelfe was ninetie yeeres olde and nine, when the fleſh of his foreskinne was circumciſed.

25 Iſmael his ſonne was thirteene yeeres olde, when he was circumciſed in the fleſh of his foreskinne.

6 And Abraham went ſpace into the tent, vnto Sara, and ſaide, Make ready at once three meaſures of fine meale, knead it, and make cakes vpon the hearth.

7 And Abraham running vnto his beaſts, ſet a calfe, tender and good, and gaue it vnto a yong man: and he haſted to make it ready at once.

8 And hee tooke butter, and milke, and the calfe which hee had prepared, and ſet it before them, and ſtood himſelfe by them vnder the tree: and they did eat.

9 And they ſaide vnto him, where is Sara thy wife? He answered, Behold, in thy tent.

10 And he ſaid, I will certainly returne vnto thee: if I liue: and loe, Sara thy wife ſhall haue a ſonne. That heard Sara in the tent doore.

11 Abraham and Sara were both olde, and well stricken in age: and it ceased to be with Sara, after the maner as it is with women.

12 Therefore Sara laughed within her selfe, saying, Howe I am ward olde, shall I giue my selfe to lust, and my lord olde also?

13 And God saide vnto Abraham, wherefore did Sara laugh, saying, Shall I of a suretie beare a childe, which am olde?

14 Is any thing impossible to God? According to the time appointed will I returne vnto thee, if I liue: and Sara shall haue a sonne.

15 Then Sara denied it, saying, I laughed not: for she was afraid. And he said, It is not so, but thou diddest laugh.

16 And the men, rising vp from thence, looked toward Sodome: and Abraham went with them to bring them on the way.

17 And the Lord saide, Shall I hide from Abraham that thing which I do, 18 Seeing that Abraham shall surely bee a great and a mightie nation, and all the nations of the earth shall be blessed in him?

19 I know this also, that hee will command his children and his householde after him, that they keepe the way of the Lord, and to do iustice and iudgement, that the Lord may bring vpon Abraham that he hath spoken vnto him.

20 And the Lord saide, Because the cry of Sodome and Gomorthe is great, and because their sinne is exceeding grieuous:

21 I will goe downe now, and see whether they haue done altogether according to that cry which is come vnto me: and if not, I will know.

22 And the men departed thence, and went to Sodome ward: but Abraham stood yet before the Lord.

23 And Abraham dyed neere, and saide, wilt thou also destroy the righteous with the wicked?

24 If there bee fiftie righteous within the cite, wilt thou destroy, and not spare the place for the fiftie righteous that are therein?

25 That be far from thee, that thou shouldest do after this maner, and slay the righteous with the wicked, and that the righteous should bee as the wicked, that bee farre from thee: Shall not the Judge of all the world doe according to right?

26 And the Lord saide, If I finde in Sodome fiftie righteous within the cite, I will spare all the place for their sakes.

27 And Abraham answered, saide, Beholde, I haue taken vpon me to speake vnto the Lord, which am but dust and ashes:

28 If there shall lacke fife of fiftie righteous, wilt thou destroy all the cite for lacke of fife? And he said, If I finde there fourtie and fife, I will not destroy them.

29 And hee proceeded to speake vnto him againe, and saide, what if there shall bee thirtie found there? He answered, I will not doe it for thirties sake.

30 Hee saide vnto him againe, O let not my Lord be angry that I speake: what if there shall be thirtie found there? And he said, I will do nothing if I finde thirtie there.

31 He said againe, O see, I haue taken vpon mee to speake now also vnto my Lord: what if there shall be twentieth found there? Hee answered, I will not destroy them for twentieths sake.

32 And hee said, O let not my Lord be angry, and I will speake yet but this once: what if ten shall be found there? He answered, I will not destroy them for tennes sake.

33 And the Lord went his way alsoone as he had left conuincing with Abraham: and Abraham also returned vnto his place.

The six. Chapter.

3 Lot receiueh two Angels into his house. 4 The filthy lusts of the Sodomites. 24 Sodome is destroyed

And there came two Angels to Sodome at euen, and Lot sat at the gate of Sodome: and Lot seeing them, rose vp to meete them, and he bowed him selfe with his face toward the ground.

2 And hee saide, Oh my Lords, turne in, I pray you, into your seruants house, and tary all night, and wash your feete, and yee shall rise vp early to go in your wayes. Which said, Nay: but we will bide in the streete all night.

3 And hee pressed vpon them exceedingly: and they returning in vnto him, entered into his house: and hee made them a feast, and did bake vneleavened bread, and they did eate.

4 And before they went to rest, the men of the cite, euen the men of Sodome compassed the house rounde about, both olde and yong, all people from all quarters.

5 And they calling vnto Lot, said vnto him, where are the men which came in to thee this night: bring them out vnto vs, that wee may know them.

6 And Lot went out at the dooze vnto them, and shut the dooze after him.

7 And said, Nay, I pray you brethren, do not so wickedly.

8 Beholde, I haue two daughters, which haue knowen no man, them will I bring out now vnto you, and doe with them as it seemeth good in your eyes: onely vnto these men doe nothing: for therefore came they vnder the shadoe of my rooffe.

9 And they saide, Stand backe: And they said againe, Hee came in as one to sojourne, and will bee be now a Judge: wee will surely deale worse with thee then with them. And they pressed sore vpon the man, euen Lot, and came to breake vp the dooze.

10 But the men put forth their hande, and pulled Lot into the house to them, and shut to the dooze.

11 And the men that were at the dooze of the house, they smote with blindnesse both small and great: so that they were wearied in seeing the dooze.

12 And the men said vnto Lot, Hast thou here any besides? some in law, and thy sonnes, and thy daughters, and whatsoeuer thou had in the cite, bring them out of this place:

13 for we will destroy this place, because the crye of them is great before the face of God: for the Lord hath sent vs to destroy it.

14 And Lot went out, and spake vnto his sonnes in law, which married his daughters, saying, Stand vp, get ye out of this place, for the Lord will ouerthrow this cite. But hee seemed as though he had mocked vnto his sonnes in law.

17 And when they had brought them out, the Angel<sup>h</sup> sayd, ¶ Saue thy selfe, and looke not behinde thee, neither tarry thou in all this plaine country: ¶ Saue thy selfe in the mountaine, lest thou perish.

The xx. Chapter.

1 Abraham dwelleth as a stranger in the land of Gerar.

¶ Ad Abraham<sup>2</sup> departed thence toward the South countrey, & dwelled betwene Cadex and Sur, and sojourned in Gerar.

2 And Abraham sayd of Sara his wife, ¶ She is my sister: And Abimelech king of Gerar sent, and fet Sara a way.

3 But God came to Abimelech by night in a dreame, and sayd to him, See, thou art but a dead man for the womans sake which thou hast taken a way: for she is a mans wife.

4 But Abimelech had not yet touched her: and hee sayd, Lord, wilt thou slay righteous people?

5 Sayd not he vnto me, ¶ She is my sister? yea, and she herselfe said, He is my brother: with a<sup>d</sup> single heart, and innocent hands haue I done this.

6 And God sayd vnto him in a dreame, I wote well that thou didst it in the singlenesse of thy heart: I kept thee also that thou shouldest not sinne against me, and therefore suffered I not thee to touch her.

7 Now therefore, deliuer the man his wife againe: for he is a Prophet, and he shall pray for thee that thou mayest liue: But and if thou deliuer her not againe, bee sure that thou shalt die the death, both thou and all that thou hast.

8 Therefore Abimelech rising by betimes in the morning, called all his seruants, and told all these sayings in their eares: and the men were soze afraid.

9 Then Abimelech called Abraham, and sayd vnto him, What hast thou done vnto vs? and what haue I offended thee, that thou hast brought on me and on my<sup>d</sup> kingdome so great a sinne? thou hast done deeds vnto me that ought not to be done.

10 And Abimelech said vnto Abraham, what sawest thou, that thou hast done this thing?

11 Abraham answered, For I|| thought thus, Surely, the feare of God is not in this place: and they shall slay me for my wifes sake.

12 Yet in very deed she is my sister: for shee is the daughter of my father, though she be not the daughter of my mother, & she became my wife.

13 And after God caused me to wander out of my fathers house, I sayd vnto her, ¶ This hinderesse shall thou shew vnto me in all places where we come, that thou say of me, He is my brother.

14 Then tooke Abimelech sheepe and oren, men seruants, and women seruants, and gaue them vnto Abraham, and deliuered him Sara his wife againe.

n Thus God perceiued him to fall most hardely in these solitarye mountaine, whome the wickednes of Sodom couer not ouercome.

a God did not teach him, that he was but a stranger here.

b Abraham once againe giueth more to his olde brother: hence to the prouidence of God. c After maye haue more greatlye a doubt, that hee had not toucht her.

16 But vnto Sara he sayd, See, I haue giuen thy brother a thousand pieces of siluer: be- holde, it is a couering of thine eyes vnto all that are with thee, and to all other: and thus she was reprooued.

17 And so Abraham prayed vnto God: and God healed Abimelech, and his wife, and his maidens, and they bare children.

18 For the Lord had closed vp all the wombs of the house of Abimelech, because of Abrahams wife.

The xxj. Chapter.

3 Ifahac is borne. 14 Hagar is cast out, with her young sonne Ismael. 17 The Angel comforteth her.

The Lord visited Sara, as hee had promised, and did vnto her according as he had spoken.

2 For Sara conceived, and bare Abraham a sonne in his olde age, the same season which the Lord had appointed.

3 And Abraham called his sonnes name that was borne vnto him, which Sara bare him, Ifahac.

4 And Abraham circumcised his sonne Ifahac, when he was eight dayes old, as God commanded him.

5 And Abraham was an hundred yeres old, when his sonne Ifahac was borne vnto him.

6 But Sara said, God hath made me to reioyce, so that all that heare, will ioy with me.

7 She sayd also, who would haue sayd vnto Abraham, that Sara should haue giuen children sucke? for I haue borne him a sonne in his olde age.

8 The childe grew, and was weaned: and Abraham made a great feast the same day that Ifahac was weaned.

9 Sara saw also the sonne of Hagar the Egyptian, which she had borne vnto Abraham, to be a mocker.

10 Wherefore shee sayd vnto Abraham, Cast out this bond woman, and her sonne: for the sonne of this bond woman shall not bee heire with my sonne Ifahac.

11 And this saying was very grievous in Abrahams sight, because of his sonne.

12 And God sayd vnto Abraham, Let it not be grievous in thy sight, because of the lad, and of the bond woman: In all that Sara hath said vnto thee, heare her voice: for in Ifahac shall thy seed be called.

13 Moreover, of the sonne of the bond woman will I make a nation: because hee is thy seed.

14 And so Abraham rose by early in the morning, and tooke bread, and a bottle of water, and gave it vnto Hagar, putting it on her shoulder, and the lad also, and sent her away: who departing, wandered by and downe in the wilderness of Beer-seba.

15 And the water was spent in the bottle, and shee cast the lad vnder some one of the trees:

16 And went and sate on the other side a great way, as it were a bowe shoot off: for she sayd, I will not see the death of the childe. And shee sitting downe on the other side, lift by her voice, and wept.

17 And God heard the voice of the lad, and the Angel of God called to Hagar out of heauen, and sayd vnto her, what aileth thee, Hagar? feare not: for God hath heard the voice of the lad where he lieth.

18 Arise, and lift by the lad, and take him in thine hand: for I will make of him a great people.

19 And God opened her eyes, and shee saw a well of water, and she went and filled the bottle with water, and gaue the lad drinke.

20 And God was with the lad, and he grew and dwelt in the wilderness, and became a principall archer.

21 And he dwelt in the wilderness of Paran: and his mother got him a wife out of the land of Egypt.

22 And at the same season, Abimelech a Philicol his chiefe captaine spake vnto Abraham, saying, God is with thee in all that thou doest:

23 And now therefore, I sweare vnto me here by God, that thou wilt not hurt mee, nor my children, nor my childrens children: but that thou shalt deale with me, as the countrey where thou hast bene a stranger, according vnto the kindnesse that I haue shewed thee.

24 And Abraham sayd, I will sweare.

25 And Abraham rebuked Abimelech for a well of water, which Abimelechs seruants had violently taken away.

26 And Abimelech said, I wote not who hath done this thing: also thou toldest mee not, neither heard I of it, but this day.

27 And Abraham tooke sheepe and oxen, and gaue them vnto Abimelech: and they made both of them a league together.

28 And Abraham set seuen ewe lambes by themselves.

29 And Abimelech said vnto Abraham, what meane these seuen ewe lambes, which thou hast set by themselves?

30 He answered, for these seuen ewe lambes shalt thou take of my hand, that they may bee a witness vnto me, that I haue digged this well.

31 Wherefore the place is called Beer-seba: because that there they sweare both of them.

32 Thus made they a league together at Beer-seba: and Abimelech and Philicol his chiefe captaine rose by, & turned againe into the land of the Philistines.

33 And Abraham planted a wood in Beer-seba, and called there on the name of the Lord the euerlasting God.

34 And Abraham sojourned in the Philistines land a long season.

The xxij. Chapter.

1. 2 The faith of Abraham is tried in offering his sonne Ifahac. 3 Ifahac is a figure of Christ.

After these sayings, God did tempt Abraham, and sayd vnto him, Abraham, which answered, Here I am.

2 And hee sayd, Take thy sonne, thine onely sonne Ifahac whom thou lovest, and get thee vnto the land of Moriah: and offer him there for a whole burnt offering, vpon one of the mountaines which I will shew thee.

When God, wher Malomet after builded the Temple, therein standeth the chiefe point of the temple, being her base commanded to offer by him, in whom God had promised to justify all the nations of the world.

Because of his promise hee sayd it appereth not that Ifahac pleased to God or repented him.

When God withdrew his helpe, we see not the means which he had at hand. In worldly affairs God caused Ifahac to prosper.

3 Then Abraham rose vp early in the morning, and sadled his asse, and tooke two of his yong men with him, and Isahac his sonne, and cloude wood for the whole burnt offering, and role vp, and got him to the place which God had appointed him.

4 The third day Abraham list by his eyes, and saw the place asarre off:

5 And sayd vnto his yong men, Vide heere with the asse, and I and the lad will goe yonder and worshop, and come againe to you.

6 And Abraham tooke the wood of the whole burnt offering, & layd it vpon Isahac his sonne: but hee himselfe tooke fire in his hand, & a knife: and they went both of them together.

7 Then spake Isahac vnto Abraham his father, & sayd, My father. And he answered, Here am I my sonne. He sayd, See, here is fire and wood: but where is the beast for a whole burnt sacrifice?

8 Abraham answered, My sonne, God will prouide a beast for a whole burnt sacrifice: and so they went both together.

9 And when they came to the place which God had shewed him, Abraham built an altar there, and dressed the wood, and bound Isahac his sonne, and layd him on the altar aboue vpon the wood.

10 And Abraham stretching forth his hand, tooke the knife to haue killed his sonne.

11 And the Angel of the Lord called vnto him from heauen, saying, Abraham, Abraham. And he sayd, Here am I.

12 And he sayd, Lay not thine hand vpon the childe, neither doe any thing vnto him: for now I know that thou fearest God, and hast for my sake not spared thine onely sonne.

13 And Abraham lifting vp his eyes, looked, and beholde, behinde him there was a Ramme caught by the hornes in a thicket: And Abraham went, and tooke the Ram, and offered him vp for a whole burnt offering in the stead of his sonne.

14 And Abraham called the name of the place, The Lord will see. And it is sayd this day, In the mount will the Lord be seene.

15 And the angel of the Lord cried vnto Abraham from heauen, the second time,
16 And sayd, By my selfe haue I swoyne, sayeth the Lord, & because thou hast done this thing, and hast not spared thine onely sonne, 17 That in blessing, I will blesse thee, and in multiplying, I will multiply thy seed as the starrs of heauen, and as the land which is vpon the sea side, and thy seed shall possesse the gates of his enemies.

18 And in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth bee blessed, because thou hast heard my voice.

19 So turned Abraham againe vnto his yong men: and they role vp, and went together to Beer-seba, and Abraham dwelt at Beer-seba.

20 And after these things, one told Abraham, saying, Behold Milcha, she hath also borne children vnto thy brother Nachoz.

21 Hus his eldest sonne, and Buz his brother, and Camuel the father of the Syrians, 22 And Cheded, and Hazo, and Pildash, and Jedaph, and Bethuel.

23 And Bethuel begat Rebecca. These eight did Milcha beare to Nachoz, Abrahams brother.

24 And his concubine called Heturah, shee bare also Gebah, and Gaham, Chahas, and Maacha.

SARA was an hundred & seven and twenty yere old (so long liued she.) And Sara died in Biriath-arba, the same is Hebron in the land of Chanaan: and Abraham came to mourne for Sara, and to weepe for her.

4 I am a stranger and a sojourner amongst you: giue mee a possession to bury in with you, that I may bury my coaste out of my sight.

5 And the children of Heth answered Abraham, saying vnto him,

6 Heare vs my Lord, Thou art a Prince of God amongst vs, in the chiefest of our sepulchres bury thy dead: none of vs shall forbid thee his sepulchre, but thou mayest bury thy dead therein.

7 Abraham stoode vp, and bowed himselfe before the people of the land, that is, the children of Heth.

8 And he communed with them, saying, If it be your mind that I should bury my dead out of my sight, heare mee, and speake for iuce to Ephron the sonne of Soar, 9 That he may giue me the caue of Machpelah, which hee hath in the end of his field: but for as much money as it is worth, shall he giue it me for a possession to bury in amongst you.

10 (For Ephron dwelled amongst the children of Heth.) And Ephron the Hethite answered Abraham in the audience of the children of Heth, and of all that went in at the gates of his citie, saying, 11 Not to my Lord, heare me: The field giue I thee, and the caue that therein is, giue I thee also, in the presence of the sommes of my people giue I it thee: bury thy dead.

12 And Abraham bowed himselfe before the people of the land,

13 And spake vnto Ephron in the audience of the people of the countrey, saying, If thou wilt giue it, then I pray thee heare mee, I will giue siluer for the field, take it of me, and I will bury my dead therein.

14 Ephron answered Abraham, saying vnto him,

15 My Lord, hearken vnto me: The land is worth foure hundred sicles of siluer, what is that betwixt thee and mee? burie therefore thy dead.

16 And Abraham hearkened vnto Ephron, and weighed him the siluer which he had sayd in the audience of the sommes of Heth, euen foure hundred siluer sicles of currant money among the merchants.

The xxiiiij. Chapter.

2 Abraham causeth his seruant to sweare to take a wife for Isahac of his owne kinred.

Abraham was old and stricken in dayes: and the Lord had blessed Abraham in all things.

2 And Abraham sayd vnto his eldest seruant of his house, which had the rule ouer all that he had, Put thy hand vnder my thigh:

3 And I will make thee sweare by the Lord God of heauen, & the God of the earth, that thou shalt not take a wife vnto my sonne of the daughters of the Chananites, amongst which I dwell:

4 But thou shalt goe vnto my countrey, and to my kinred, and take a wife vnto my sonne Isahac.

5 But the seruant said vnto him, Peraduenture the woman will not agree to come with me vnto this land, shall I bring thy sonne againe vnto the land which thou camest out of?

6 To whom Abraham answered, Beware that thou bring not my sonne thither againe.

7 The Lord God of heauen, which tooke me from my fathers house, and from the land of my kinred, and which spake vnto me, & that I sweare vnto me, saying, Vnto thy seed will I giue this land, he shall send his Angel before thee, and thou shalt take a wife vnto my sonne from thence.

8 Neuertheless, if the woman will not follow thee, then shalt thou be cleere from this my oth: onely bring not my sonne thither againe.

9 And the seruant put his hand vnder the thigh of Abraham his master, and sweare to him as concerning that matter.

10 And the seruant tooke ten Camels, of the Camels of his master, and departed, (and had of all manner of goods of his master with him) and so hee arose, and went to Mesopotamia, vnto the city of Hachoz.

11 And made his Camels to lie downe without the city, by a wells side of water, at Euen, about the time that women come to draw water.

12 And hee sayd, Lord God of my master Abraham, I pray thee send mee good speed this day, and shew mercy vnto my master Abraham.

13 Lo, I stand here by the well of water, and the daughters of the men of this city come out to draw water:

14 Nowe let the damsell to whom I say, Bow downe thy pitcher, I pray thee, that I may drinke: If she say also, Drinke, and I will giue thy Camels drinke also: let the same be shee that thou hast ordeined for thy seruant Isahac, and thereby shall I knowe that thou hast shewed mercy on my master.

15 And it came to passe, yer hee had left speaking, behold, Rebecca came out, the daughter of Bethuel sonne of Milcha, the wife of Hachoz Abrahams brother, and her pitcher vpon her shoulder.

16 The damsell was very faire to looke vpon, and yet a maid, and unknowne of man: and she went downe to the well, and filled her pitcher, and came vp.

17 And the seruant running to meete her, sayd, Let me, I pray thee, drinke a litle water of thy pitcher.

18 And shee sayd, Drinke my Lord. And shee hastned, and let downe her pitcher vpon her arme, and gaue him drinke.

19 And when shee had giuen him drinke, shee sayd, I will draw water for thy Camels also, until they haue drunke enough.

20 And shee powred out her pitcher into the trough hastily, and ran againe vnto the well to draw water, and drew for all his Camels.

21 And the man wondred at her, but held his peace: to wit whether the Lord had made his iourney prosperous, or not.

22 And as the Camels had left drinking, the man tooke a golden earring of halfe a sicke weight, and two bracelets for her hands, of ten sicles weight of golde.

23 And sayd, Whose daughter art thou? tell me, I pray thee: is there roume in thy fathers house for vs to lodge in?

24 She answered him, I am the daughter of Bethuel the sonne of Milcha, which shee bare vnto Hachoz:

25 And sayd moreouer vnto him, Wee haue litter and prouender enough, and also roume to lodge in.

26 And the man bowed himselfe, and worshipped the Lord.

27 And sayd, Blessed be the Lord God of my master Abraham, which hath not left destitute my master of his mercy and truth: for when I was on my iourney, the Lord brought mee to my masters brothers house.

28 And the damsell ran and tolde them of her mothers house these things.

29 And Rebecca had a brother called Laban: and he ran out vnto the man to the well.

30 For as soone as he had seene the earrings, and the bracelets in his sisters hand, and heard the words of Rebecca his sister, saying, Thus sayd the man vnto mee: hee went out vnto the man, and loe, he stood with the Camels by the wells side:

31 And he sayd, Come in, thou blessed of the Lord, wherefore standest thou without? I haue dressed the house, and roome for thy Camels.

32 And then the man came into the house: and he unharnessed the Camels, and brought litter and prouender for the Camels, and water to wash his feet, and the mens feet that were with him.

33 And there was set meat before him to eat: but he sayd, I will not eat, until I haue sayd mine errand. And he sayd, Say on.

34 And he sayd, I am Abrahams seruant.

35 And God hath blessed my master marvelously, that he is become great: and hath giuen him sheepe and oren, silver and golde, men seruants, and maid seruants, camels and asses.

36 And Sara my masters wife bare a sonne to my master when she was olde: and vnto him hath he giuen all that he hath.

37 And my master made me sweare, saying, Thou shalt not take a wife to my sonne amongst the daughters of the Chananites, in whose land I dwell:

 39 And I sayd vnto my master, Peraduenture the woman will not follo me.
 40 And he answered me, The Lord, before who I walke, will send his angel with thee, and prosper thy iourney: & thou shalt take a wife for my sonne of my kindred, and of my fathers house.
 41 Then shalt thou be free from this oath made to me, when thou comest to my kindred: and if they giue not thee one, thou shalt bee free from this oath made to me.
 42 And so I came this day vnto the well, and sayd, O Lord, the God of my master Abraham, if it bee so now that thou makest my iourney which I go prosperous, 43 Behold, I stand by the well of water: and when a birgin cometh foorth to draw water, and I say to her, Giue me, I pray thee, a little water of thy pitcher to drinke:
 44 And she say to me, Drinke thou, and I will also draw for thy Camels: let the same be the woman whom the Lord hath prepared for my masters sonne.
 45 And before I had made an end of speaking in mine heart, behold, Rebecca came forth, & her pitcher on her shoulder: and she went downe vnto the well, and drew water: and I sayd vnto her, Giue me drinke, I pray thee.
 46 And she made haste, and tooke downe her pitcher from her shoulder, and sayd, Drinke, and I wil giue thy camels drinke also. So I dranke, and she gaue the Camels drinke also.
 47 And I asked her, saying, whose daughter art thou? She answered, The daughter of Bethuel, Nachors sonne, whom Milcha bare vnto him: and I put the eare ring upon her face, and the bracelets vpon her hands.
 48 And I bowed my selfe, & worshipped the Lord, and blessed the Lord God of my master Abraham, which had brought me the right way, to take my masters brothers daughter vnto his sonne.
 49 Now also if you will consent to deale mercifully and truly with my master, tell me: and if not, tell me also, that I may turne me to the right hand, or to the left.
 50 Then answered Laban and Bethuel, saying, This saying proceedeth of the Lord: we can not say vnto thee either good or bad.
 51 Beholde, Rebecca is before thee, take her and go, that she may be thy masters sonnes wife, euen as God hath sayd.
 52 And when Abrahams seruant heard their words, he worshipped the Lord, bowing himselfe toward the earth.
 53 And the seruant tooke forth ietwels of silver, and ietwels of golde, and raiment, and gaue them to Rebecca, and to her brother, and to her mother he gaue costly gifts.
 54 And they did eat and drinke, both hee and the men that were with him, & taried all night: and when they rose vp in the morning, he sayd, Let me depart vnto my master.
 55 Her brother and her mother answered, Let the damsell abide with vs, and it be but ten dayes, and then shall she go.
 56 He said vnto them, hinder me not: behold, the Lord hath prospered my iourney: send me a way therefore, that I may go to my master.
 57 And they sayd, we will call the damsell, and enquire at her mouth, 58 And they called foorth Rebecca, and sayd vnto her, wilt thou go with this man? And she answered, I will go.

 59 So they let Rebecca their sister go, and her nurse, and Abrahams seruant, and his men.
 60 And they blessed Rebecca, & sayd vnto her, Thou art our sister, grow into thousand thousands: & thy seed possess the gate of his enemies.
 61 And Rebecca arose, and her damselfs, & gat them vp vpon the camels, and folowed the man: and the seruant tooke Rebecca, & went his way.
 62 And Ifahac was comming from the way of the well of the liuing and seeing me: for hee dwelt in the South country.
 63 And Ifahac was gone out to pray in the field at the euentide: and he lift vp his eyes, and saw the camels comming.
 64 And Rebecca lift vp her eyes, and when she saw Ifahac, she lighted off the camel.
 65 (For he sayd vnto the seruant, what man is this that cometh walking against vs in the field? And the seruant sayd, It is my master:) therefore she tooke her baile, and covered her.
 66 And the seruant tolde Ifahac all things that he had done.
 67 And Ifahac brought her into his mother Saras tent, and tooke Rebecca, and she became his wife, and he loued her: and so Ifahac receiued comfort after his mother.

 9 And his sonnes Ifahac and Jismael, buried him in the double caue in the field of Ephron the sonne of Zoar the Hethite, before Mamre, which field Abraham bought of the sonnes of Heth: there was Abraham buried, and Sara his wife.

The xxvj. Chapter.

Abimelech rebuketh Isahac for calling his wife his sister. The atonement betwene Abimelech and Isahac.

And there fell a famine in the land, besides the first that was in the dayes of Abraham: and Isahac went vnto Abimelech king of the Philistines, vnto Gerar.

2 And the Lord appeared vnto him, and said, Go not downe into Egypt, but abide in the land which I shall shew vnto thee.

3 Sojourne in this land, and I will be with thee, and will blesse thee: for vnto thee, and vnto thy seede, I will giue all these countreys, and I will performe the othe which I sware vnto Abrahams thy father:

4 And wil make thy seede to multiply as the starres of heauen, and will giue vnto thy seede all these countreys: and in thy seede shall all the nations of the earth be blessed:

5 Because that Abrahams hearkened vnto my voyce, and kept my ordinance, my Commandements, my statutes, and my lawes.

6 And Isahac dwelled in Gerar.

7 And the men of the place asked him of his wife. And he said, She is my sister: for he feared to say, She is my wife: lest the men of the place should haue killed him because of Rebecca, which was beautifull to the eye.

8 And after hee had bene there a long time, Abimelech king of the Philistines looked out at a window, and saw Isahac sporting with Rebecca his wife.

9 And Abimelech called Isahac, and saide, Beholde, shee is of a suretie thy wife: and why saidst thou, She is my sister? To whom Isahac answered, Because I thought that I might peraduenture haue died for her sake.

10 Abimelech said, Why hast thou done thus vnto vs? one of the people might lightly haue lien by thy wife, and so shouldst thou haue brought sinne vpon vs.

11 And so Abimelech charged all his people, saying, He that toucheth this man or his wife, shall die the death.

12 Then Isahac sowed in that land, and reaped in the same yeere an hundred folde: and the Lord blessed him.

13 And the man waxed mightie, and went forth, and grew, till he was exceeding great.

14 For he had possession of sheepe, of oxen, and a mightie household: and therefore the Philistines had enmie at him.

15 For the Philistines stopped and filled by with earth all the wells which his seruants had digged in his fathers Abrahams time.

17 Therefore Isahac departed thence, and abode in the halley of Gerar, and dwelt there.

32 When his father Iſaac ſaide vnto him, who art thou? Hee answered, I am thy ſonne, thy firſt borne Eſau.

33 And Iſaac was greatly aſtonied out of meaſure, and ſaid, which is he, and where is hee then, that hath hunted veniſon and brought it mee, and I haue eaten of all befoze thou cameſt? and haue bleſſed him, yea, and he ſhalbe bleſſed.

34 When Eſau heard the words of his father, he cried aloude and bitterly aboute meaſure, and ſaide vnto his father, Bleſſe mee, I alſo am thy ſonne, O my father.

35 Who answered, Thy brother came with ſubtiltie, and hath taken away thy bleſſing.

36 And he ſaid again, Is not he rightly named Iacob? for hee hath vndermined me now two times: Firſt he tooke away my birthright, & ſee, now hath hee taken away my bleſſing alſo. And hee ſaid, Haſt thou kept neuer a bleſſing for me?

37 Iſaac answered, and ſaid vnto Eſau, Beholde, I haue made him thy lord, and all his brethren haue I made his ſeruants: Moreover, with cozne and wime haue I ſtabliſhed him: what ſhall I do vnto thee now, my ſonne?

38 And Eſau ſaid vnto his father, Haſt thou but that one bleſſing, my father? Bleſſe mee, I am alſo thy ſonne, O my father. So liſted vp Eſau his voyce, and wept.

39 When Iſaac his father answered, and ſaid vnto him, Behold, thy dwelling place ſhalbe the fatneſſe of the earth, and of the dewe of heauen from aboue.

40 And through thy ſworde ſhalt thou liue, and ſhalt bee thy brothers ſeruant: and it ſhall come to paſſe, that thou ſhalt get the maſterie, and thou ſhalt looſe his yoke from off thy necke.

41 And Eſau hated Iacob, becauſe of the bleſſing that his father bleſſed him withall: And Eſau ſaid in his heart, The dayes of ſorrowing for my father are at hand, then will I ſlay my brother Iacob.

42 And theſe wordes of Eſau her elder ſonne were tolde to Rebecca: And hee ſent, and called Iacob her yonger ſonne, and ſaid vnto him, Beholde, thy brother Eſau, as touching thee, doeth comfort himſelfe, full purpoſing to kill thee.

43 Now therefore my ſonne, heare my voyce: make thee ready, and flee to Laban my brother at Haran:

44 And tary with him a while, vntill thy brothers fierceneſſe be ſwaged, 45 And vntill thy brothers wrath turne away from thee, and hee forget the things which thou haſt done to him: then will I ſende thee away from thence: why ſhould I be deſolate of you both in one day?

46 And Rebecca ſaid to Iſaac, I am weary of my life for the daughters of Beth: If Iacob take a wife of the daughters of Beth, ſuch as theſe which are of the daughters of this lande, what good ſhall my life doe me?

The xxviiij. Chapter.

1 Iſaac forbiddeh Iacob to take a wife of the Chanaanites. 18 Iacob ſetteth vp a pillar, and maketh a vowe.

And ſo Iſaac called Iacob, & bleſſed him, and charged him, and ſaid vnto him, See thou take not a wife of the daughters of Chanaan:

2 Ariſe, and get thee to the hoſte of Bethuel thy mothers father, and there take a wife of the daughters of Laban thy mothers brother.

3 And God Almighty bleſſe thee, and make thee to increaſe, and multiply thee, that thou mayeſt be a number of people:

4 And giue the bleſſing of Abraham vnto thee, and to thy ſeed with thee, that thou mayeſt receiue to inherite the lande wherein thou art a ſtranger, which God gaue vnto Abraham.

5 Thus Iſaac ſent forth Iacob, and hee went toward Meſopotamia, vnto Laban, ſonne of Bethuel the Syrian, and brother to Rebecca, Iacob and Eſaus mother.

6 When Eſau ſawe that Iſaac had bleſſed Iacob, and ſent him to Meſopotamia to ſetch him a wife from thence, and that as hee bleſſed him, hee gaue him a charge, ſaying, Thou ſhalt not take a wife of the daughters of Chanaan.

7 And that Iacob had obeyed his father and mother, and was gone to Meſopotamia:

8 And Eſau ſeing alſo that the daughters of Chanaan pleaſed not Iſaac his father:

9 Then went Eſau vnto Iſmael, and tooke vnto the wiues which he had, Maſah the daughter of Iſmael Abrahams ſonne, the ſiſter of Rebaioth, to be his wife.

10 Iacob departed from Beerſeba, and went toward Haran.

11 And he came vnto a certaine place, and taried there all night, becauſe the Sunne was downe: and tooke of the ſtones of the place, and put vnder his head, and layd him downe in the ſame place to ſleepe.

12 And he dreamed, and beheld, there ſtood a ladder vpon the earth, and the top of it reached vnto heauen: and ſee, the Angels of God went vp and downe vpon it:

13 Yea, and God from aboue leant vpon it, and ſaid, I am the Lord God of Abraham thy father, and the God of Iſaac, the lande which thou ſleepeſt vpon, will I giue thee and thy ſeed.

14 And thy ſeed ſhalbe as the duſt of the earth, & thou ſhalt ſpied abroad to the weſt, to the Eaſt, to the North, & to the South: and in thee, and in thy ſeed, ſhal all the kindreds of the earth be bleſſed.

15 And ſee, I am with thee, and will bee thy keeper, and in all places whither thou goeſt, and will bring thee againe into this land: for I will not leaue thee, vntill I haue made good that which I haue promiſed thee.

16 When Iacob was awaked out of his ſleep, he ſaid, Surely, the Lord is in this place, and I knew it not.

17 And hee was afraid, and ſaid, How dreadfull is this place? It is none other, but the houſe of God, and it is the gate of heauen.

18 And Iacob roſe vp early in the morning, and tooke the ſtone that hee had layd vnder his head, and pitched it vp on an ende, and powzed oyle in the top of it.

This ſecond bleſſing was to confirme Iacob's ſayd, ſhould be thought that his father had bleſſed him before, withoute God's motion. † Padan Aram.

22 And this stone which I haue set vpon an end, shall be Gods house: and of al that thou shalt giue me, I wil surely giue the tenth vnto thee.

The xxix. Chapter.

13 Jacob commeth to his vnclē Laban, and serueth him seuen yeeres for his daughter Rachel. 23 Lea was brought to his bed in stead of Rachel.

When Jacob went on his iourney, and came into the land of the people of the East.

2 And as hee looked about, beholde, there was a well in the field, and loe, thre flockes of sheepe lay thereby: for at that well were the flockes watered: and there was a great stone vpon the wels mouth.

3 And thither were all the flockes brought, and they rolled the stone from the wels mouth, and watered the sheepe, and put the stone againe vpon the wels mouth vnto his place.

4 And Jacob saide vnto them, My brethren, whence be ye? And they said, Of Haran are we.

5 And hee saide vnto them, Know ye Laban the sonne of Nachoz? They said, we know him.

6 And hee saide vnto them, Is hee in good health? And they said, He is in good health: and behold, his daughter Rachel commeth with the sheepe.

7 And he said, Loe, it is yet a great while to night, neither is it time that the cattel should be gathered together: water ye the sheepe, and goe and feed them.

8 And they said, wec may not, vntill all the flockes be brought together, and till they roll the stone from the wels mouth, and so wec water our sheepe.

9 While hee yet talked with them, Rachel came with her fathers sheepe: for she kept them.

10 Almoone as Jacob saw Rachel the daughter of Laban his mothers brother, and the sheep of Laban his mothers brother, Jacob went, and rolled the stone from the wels mouth, and watered the flocke of Laban his mothers brother.

11 And Jacob kissed Rachel, and lift vp his voyce and wept.

12 And Jacob tolde Rachel that hee was her fathers brother, and that hee was Rebeccas sonne: therefore ranne she, and tolde her father.

13 And when Laban heard certainly tell of Jacob his sisters sonne, he ran to meet him, and embraced him, and kissed him, and brought him to his house: And he told Laban all these things.

14 To whom Laban said, Well, thou art my bone and my flesh. And hee abode with him the space of a moneth.

15 And Laban said vnto Jacob, Though thou be my brother, shouldest thou therefore serue me for nought? Tel me, what shall thy wages be?

16 Laban had two daughters: the elder called Lea, and the yonger, Rachel.

17 Lea was tender eyed: but Rachel was beautifull and well fauoured.

18 And Jacob loued Rachel, and said, I will serue thee seuen yeeres for Rachel thy yonger daughter.

19 Laban answered, It is better that I giue her vnto thee, then that I should giue her vnto another man: abide with me.

20 And Jacob serued seuen yeeres for Rachel: and they seemed vnto him but a fewe dayes, for the loue hee had to her.

21 And Jacob said vnto Laban, Giue me my wife, that I may lie with her: for my dayes are fulfilled.

22 Then Laban gathered together all the men of that place, and made a feast.

23 And when euen was come, hee tooke Lea his daughter, and hee brought her to him, and he went in to her.

24 And Laban gaue vnto his daughter Lea, Zilpha his mayd to be her seruant.

25 And when the morning was come, beholde, it was Lea. Then said he to Laban, wherfore hast thou played thus with mee? did not I serue thee for Rachel? wherfore then hast thou beguiled me?

26 Laban answered, It is not the maner of this place to marry the yonger before the first borne.

27 Passe out this weeke, and then wec will giue thee this also, for the seruice which thou hast serue me yet seuen yeeres moze.

28 And Jacob did euen so: and passed out the weeke: and then he gaue him Rachel his daughter to wife also.

29 And Laban gaue to Rachel his daughter, Bilha his handmayd, to be her seruant.

30 So lay hee by Rachel also, and loued Rachel more then Lea: and serued him yet seuen yeeres moze.

31 When the Lord saw that Lea was despised, hee made her fruitfull: and Rachel remained barren.

32 And Lea conceived and bare a sonne, and she called his name Ruben: for shee saide, The Lord hath looked vpon my tribulation: now therefore my husband will loue me.

33 And she conceived againe, and bare a sonne, and said, The Lord hath heard that I am despised, and hath therefore giuen me this sonne also. And she called his name Simeon.

34 And shee conceived yet, and bare a sonne, and said, Now this once will my husband keepe my company, because I haue borne him thre sonnes. And therefore was his name called Leui.

35 And shee conceived yet againe, and bare him a sonne, saying, Nowe will I praise the Lord. Therefore shee called his name Iuda: and left bearing.

14 And Ruben went out in the dayes of the fielde, and brought them vnto his mother Lea.

 Then said Rachel to Lea, Giue me, I pray thee, of thy sonnes Mandragoras.

15 To whom Lea answered, Is it not enough that thou hast taken away my husbnde: but wouldst thou take away my sonnes Mandragoras also? Then saide Rachel, well, let him sleepe with thee this night for thy sonnes Mandragoras.

16 And Jacob came from the fielde at euen, and Lea went out to meete him, and said, Thou shalt come in to mee: for I haue bought thee in drede with my sonnes Mandragoras. And hee slept with her that same night.

17 And God heard Lea, that shee conceived, and bare Jacob the fifth sonne.

18 Then said Lea, God hath giuen me a reward, because I gaue my mayden to my husbnd. And she called him Issachar.

19 And Lea conceived yet againe, and bare Jacob the sixth sonne.

20 And Lea said, God hath endued mee with a good dowrie, now will my husband dwell with mee, because I haue borne him sixe sonnes: and called his name Zebulon.

21 After that shee bare a daughter, and called her name Dinah.

22 And God remembered Rachel, and God heard her, and made her fruitfull.

23 So that shee conceived and bare a sonne:
 and said, God hath taken away my rebuke,

24 And shee called his name Joseph, saying,
 The Lord giue me yet another sonne.

25 As soone as Rachel had borne Joseph, Jacob saide vnto Laban, Sende mee away, that I may goe vnto mine owne place, and to my countrey.

26 Giue mee my wives and my children, for whom I haue serued thee, and let mee goe: for thou knowest what seruice I haue done thee.

27 To whom Laban answered, I pray thee, if I haue found fauour in thy sight, tary: for I haue prouoed that the Lord blessed mee for thy sake)

28 Also hee saide, Appoint what thy reward shall be, and I will giue it thee.

29 But hee saide vnto him, Thou knowest what seruice I haue done thee, and in what taking thy cattel haue bene vnder me:

30 For that little which thou hadst before I came, is now increased vnto a multitude, and the Lord hath blessed thee through my trauaile:
 but now when shall I make prouision for mine owne house also?

31 And he said, What shall I then giue thee?
 And Jacob answered, Thou shalt giue mee nothing at all: if thou wilt doe this thing for mee, then will I turne againe, feede thy sheepe, and keepe them.

32 I will goe about all thy flocks this day, and separat from them all the cattell that are spotted, and of diuers colours: and all the blacke among the sheepe, and the partie and spotted among the kiddes, the same shall be my reward.

33 So shall my righteouinesse answere for me in time to come: for it shall come for my reward before thy face. And euery one that is not specked & partie amongst the goates, and blacke amongst the sheepe, let it be counted theft in me.

34 And Laban saide, Goe to, would God it might be according to thy saying.

35 Therefore he tooke out the same day the hee goates that were ringstraked, and of diuers colours, and al the shee goates that were spotted and coloured, and all that had white in them, and all the blacke amongst the sheepe, and put them in the keeping of his sonnes,

36 And set three dayes iourney betwixt himselfe and Jacob: and so Jacob kept the rest of La-bans sheepe.

37 Jacob tooke rods of greene populer, hasel, and chellenut trees, and piled white strakes in them, & made the white appeare in the rods,

38 And put the rods which hee had piled, before the sheepe, in the gutters and watering troughes when the sheepe came to drinke, that they should conceive when they came to drinke.

39 And the sheepe conceived before the rods, and brought forth lambs ringstraked, spotted,
 and partie.

40 And Jacob did separate these lambes, and turned the faces of the sheepe, which were in the focke of Laban, toward these ringstraked, and all manner of blacke: and so put his owne flocks by themselves, and put them not with Labans cattell.

41 And in euery conceiuing time of the stronger cattel, Jacob layd the rods before the eyes of the cattel in the gutters, namely that they might conceiue before the rods.

42 But when the cattell were feeble, hee put them not in: and so the feebler were Labans, and the stronger Jacobs.

43 And the man increased exceedingly, and had much cattell, and mayde seruants, and ser-uants, and camels, and asses.

And he heard the words of Labans sonnes, saying, Jacob hath taken away all that was our fathers, and of our fathers goods hath he gotten all his glory.

2 And Jacob beheld the countenance of Laban, and beholde, it was not toward him: as it was wont to be.

3 And the Lord said vnto Jacob, Turne againe into the land of thy fathers, and to thy kindred, and I will be with thee.

4 Therefore Jacob sent, and called Rachel and Lea to the field, vnto his flocke:

5 And saide vnto them, I see your fathers countenance, that it is not toward me as it was wont to be: but the God of my father hath bene with me.

6 And ye know how I haue serued your father to the best of my power.

7 But your father hath deceiued mee, and changed my wages ten times: but God suffred him not to hurt me.

8 And when he saide, The spotted shall bee thy wages: then all the sheepe bare spotted. And when hee saide, The ringstraked shall be thy reward: then bare all the sheepe ringstraked.

9 Thus hath God taken away the increase of your fathers flocke, and giuen it to me.

10 But in ramming time I lifted by mine eyes, and sawe in a dreame, and beholde, the rammes leaped vpon the sheepe that were ringstraked, spotted, and partie.

11 And the Angel of God spake vnto me, in a dreame, saying, Jacob? And I answered, Here am I.

12 And he saide, Lift by now thine eyes, and see all the rammes leaping vpon the sheepe that are ringstraked, spotted, and partie: for I haue scene all that Laban doeth vnto thee.

13 I am the God of Bethel, where thou anoyntedst the stone set vp on an ende, and where thou vowedst a bowe vnto mee: now therefore arise, and get thee out of this countrey, and returne vnto the land where thou wast borne.

14 Then answered Rachel, and Lea, and said vnto him, Haue we had as yet any portion or inheritance in our fathers house?

15 Doeth not he count vs euen as strangers? for he hath sold vs, and hath quite deuoured also our money.

16 Therefore all the riches which God hath taken from our father, that is ours and our childrens: now then whatsoeuer God hath said vnto thee, that doe.

17 Then Jacob rose vp, and set his sonnes and wiues by vpon camels:

18 And caried away all his flockes, and all his substance which he had procured, the increase of his cattell which hee had gotten in Mesopotamia, for to go to Isahac his father, vnto the land of Chanaan.

19 But Laban was gone to heare his sheepe: and Rachel had stolen her fathers images.

20 And Jacob stole away the heart of Laban the Syrian, in that hee tolde him not that hee fled.

21 So fled hee, and all that he had, and made himselfe ready, and passed ouer the riuier, and set his face straight toward the mount Seiead.

22 Vpon the thirde day after, was it tolde Laban that Jacob fled.

23 Then hee tooke his brethren with him, and followed after him seuen dayes iourney, and overtooke him at the mount Seiead.

24 And God came to Laban the Syrian in a dreame by night, and said vnto him, Take heed that thou speake not to Jacob ought: saue good.

25 And Laban overtooke Jacob: and Jacob had pitched his tent in the mount, and Laban with his brethren pitched also in the mount of Seiead.

26 And Laban said to Jacob, What hast thou done? for thou hast stolen away my heart, and caried away my daughters, as though they had bene taken captiue with the sword.

27 Wherefoze wentest thou away secretly? unknowne to me, and didst not tell me, that I might haue let thee go thy way with mirth and songs, with timbrell and harpe,

28 And hast not suffred me to kisse my sonnes and my daughters? Thou wast a foole nowe in so doing.

29 For it is in my hand through God to doe you hurt: but the God of your father spake vnto me yesternight, saying, Take heed that thou speake not to Jacob ought: saue good.

30 And now though thou wouldest needs be gone away, because thou toze longest after thy fathers house, yet wherefoze hast thou stolen my gods?

31 Jacob answered and sayde to Laban, Because I was afraid, and thought that peraduenture thou wouldest take away thy daughters from me.

32 But with whomsoeuer thou findest thy gods, let him die. Here before our brethren, seck that thine is by me, and take it to thee: But Jacob wilt not that Rachel had stolen them.

33 Then went Laban into Jacobs tent, and into Leas tent, and into the two maid seruants tents: but found them not. Then went hee out of Leas tent, and entred into Rachels tent.

34 And Rachel had taken the images, and put them in the Camels strawe, and sate downe vpon them, and Laban tolled vp all the tent, but found them not.

35 Then sayde shee to her father, My lord, be not angrie that I cannot rise by before thee: for the custome of women is come vpon me. So searched he, but found not those images.

36 And Jacob was wroth, and chode with Laban: Jacob also answered, and sayde to him, What haue I trespassed? or what haue I offended thee, that thou dost soze pursue after mee?

37 Thou hast tolled by all my stuffe, & what hast thou found of all thy household stuffe? put it here before thy brethren, and my brethren, that they may iudge betwixt vs both.

38 Behold, this twentieth yeres haue I bene with thee, thy sheepe and thy goates haue not bene barren, and the rains of thy flocke haue I not eaten.

39 Whatsoeuer was to me of beasts, I brought it not vnto thee, but made it good my selfe: of my hand diddest thou require it that was stolen by day or night.

40 I was in such case, that by day the heate consumed me, & the frost by night, and my sleepe departed from mine eyes.

42 And except the God of my father, the God of Abraham, and the feare of Isaac had bene with me, surely thou hadst sent mee away now all empty: but God beheld my tribulation, and the labour of my hands, and rebuked thee pester-night.

43 And Laban answered, and sayd vnto Jacob, These daughters are my daughters, and these childzen are my childzen, and these sheepe are my sheepe, and al that thou seest is mine: and what can I doe this day vnto these my daughters, or vnto their childzen which they haue borne?

44 Now therefore come on, and let vs make a league, I and thou, which may be a witness betwene me and thee.

45 Then tooke Jacob a stone, and set it by on cride.

46 And Jacob said vnto his brethren, Gather stones. And they tooke stones, and made an heape, and they did eate there vpon the heape.

47 And Laban called it Jegar Sahadutha: but Jacob called it Galeed.

48 Then said Laban, This heape is witness betwene thee and me this day. Therefore it is called Galeed.

51 And Laban saide mozeouer to Jacob, Beholde this heape, and this stone set by on ende, which I haue layde betwixt me and thee.

52 This heape be witness, and also this stone set by on ende, that I will not come ouer this heape to thee, and thou shalt not come ouer this heape, and this stone set by on ende, vnto mee, to doe any harme.

54 Then Jacob did sacrifice vpon the mount, and called his brethren to eate bread, and they did eate bread, and taried all night in the hill.

55 And early in the morning Laban rose by, and killed his somes and his daughters, and blessed them: and Laban departing, went into his place againe.

The xxxij. Chapter.

1 God comforteth Iacob by a vision of Angels. 24 Iacob wrestleth with the Angel, who named him Israel.

And Jacob went forth on his iourney, and the Angels of God came and met him.

2 And when Jacob saw them, he said, This is Gods host, and called the name of the same place Mahanaim.

3 And Jacob sent messengers before him to Esau his brother, vnto the lande of Seir the fieldes of Edom:

4 And hee commanded them, saying, Thus shal ye speake to my lord Esau. Thy seruant Iacob saith thus, I haue bene a stranger with Laban, and haue stayed there vnto this time,

5 And haue oxen, asses, and sheepe, men seruants, and women seruants: and haue sent to the we ic my lord, that I may finde grace in thy sight.

6 And the messengers came againe to Jacob, saying, Wee came to thy brother Esau, and hee commeth to meeete thee, and hath foure hundred men with him.

7 But Jacob was greatly afraide, and wist not which way to turne himselfe, and diuided the people that was with him, and the sheepe, and oxen, and camels, into two companies:

8 And saide, If Esau come to the one part, and smite it, the other shall saue it selfe.

9 And Jacob saide againe, O God of my father Abraham, and God of my father Isaac, Lord which saidst vnto mee, Returne vnto thy countrey, and to thy kindred, and I will doe well with thee:

10 I am not worthy of the least of all the mercies and truth which thou hast shewed vnto thy seruant: for with my staffe came I ouer this Iordane, and now haue I gotten two companies.

11 Deliuere mee from the hand of my brother Esau: for I feare him, lest he wil come and smite me, yea the mother with the childzen.

12 Thou saidst, I will surely doe thee good, and make thy seede as the sand of the sea, which cannot be numbred for multitude.

13 And hee taried there that same night, and tooke of that which came to hande, a present for Esau his brother,

14 Two hundred seee goates, and twentie hee goates, two hundred sheepe, and twentie rammes,

15 Thirtie milch camels with their colts, fouerty hie, and ten buls, twentie shee asses, and ten foales:

16 And deliuered them into the hands of his seruants, euery droue by themselves, and saide vnto his seruants, Go forth before me, and put a space betwixt droue and droue.

17 And hee commanded the foremost, saying, If Esau my brother meeete thee, and al he thee, saying, whole art thou? and whither goest thou? and whole are these that goe before thee?

18 Thou shalt say, They bee thy seruant Jacobs, and behold, hee himselfe cometh after vs.

19 And so commanded hee the second, and the thirde, and all that followed the droues, saying, On this maner see that you speake vnto Esau when ye meete him.

20 And say mozeouer, Beholde, thy seruant Jacob also cometh after vs: for he said, I will appeare to his wrath with the present that goeth before mee, and afterwarde I will see him my selfe, peradventure hee will receiue mee to grace.

21 So went the present before him: and hee taried all that night in the company.

22 And hee rose by the same night, and tooke his wiues, and his two maide seruants, and his eleuen somes, and went ouer the foord Iacob.

23 And hee tooke them, and set them ouer the riuert, and sent ouer that hee had.

24 And Jacob was left himselfe alone, and there wrestled a man with him, vnto the breaking of the day.

with him. <sup>19</sup> Jacob byeth a possession, and build-

Jacob lifting vp his eyes, looked, and vnto Rachel, and vnto the two

Rachel and <sup>3</sup> Joseph hindermost.

and fell on his necke, and kissed him, and they wept.

<sup>5</sup> And he lift vp his eyes, & saw the women

And he answered, They are the children which God hath giuen thy seruant.

goe, and I will goe before thee.

<sup>13</sup> Jacob answered him, My lord, thou knowest that the children are tender, & the small which if men should ouerdrine but euen one day, all the flocke will die.

I will drine saire and softly, according as the cat-

Seir.

The xxxv. Chapter.

1 Iacob at Gods commandement goeth to Bethel, and burieth his images vnder an oke. 16 Rachel dieth in trauaile of Benjamin.

And God said vnto Iacob, Arise, and get thee by to Bethel, and dwell there: and make there an altar vnto God, that appeared vnto thee when thou fleddest from the face of Esau thy brother.

2 Then said Iacob vnto his household, and to all that were with him, Put away the strange gods that are among you, and be cleane, and change your garments.

3 For we will arise and go by to Bethel, and I will make an altar there vnto God, which heard mee in the day of my affliction, and was with me in the way which I went.

4 And they gaue vnto Iacob all the strange gods which they had in their hand, and all their earrings which were in their eares, and Iacob hid them vnder an oke which was by Schem.

5 And when they departed, the feare of God fell vpon the cities that were round about them, and they did not pursue the sonnes of Iacob.

6 So came Iacob to Luz, which is in the land of Chanaan (the same is Bethel) he and all the people that was with him.

7 And he builded there an altar, and called the place, The God of Bethel: because that God appeared vnto him there when he fled from the face of his brother.

8 But Deboza Rebeccas nurse died, and was buried beneath Bethel vnder an oke: and the name of it was called, The oke of lamentation.

9 And God appeared vnto Iacob againe, after he came out of Mesopotamia, and blessed him.

10 And God said vnto him, Thy name is Iacob: notwithstanding thou shalt be no more called Iacob, but Israel shall be thy name. And he called his name Israel.

11 And God saide vnto him, I am God almighty, be fruitful, and multiply: a nation, and a multitude of nations shall spring of thee, yea, and kings shall come out of thy loines.

12 And the land which I gaue Abraham and Isaac, I will giue vnto thee, and vnto thy seed after thee will I giue that land also.

13 And so God departed from him, in the place where he talked with him.

14 And Iacob set by on end in the place where he talked with him, euen a stone set he by on end, and powred drinke offering thereon, and powred also oile thereon.

15 And Iacob called the name of the place where God spake with him, Bethel.

16 And they departed from Bethel: and when he was but a fiedle breadth from Ephrath, Rachel began to trauell, and in trauailing she was in perill:

17 And as shee was in paines of her labour, the midwife said vnto her, Feare not: for this sonne is thine also.

18 Then as her soule was a departing (for she died) shee called his name Ben-oni, but his father called him Benjamin.

19 And thus died Rachel, and was buried in the way to Ephrath, which is Bethlehem.

God will certainly procure the health of his Church, as by this Iacob in this notable case.

He exhorted his household to experience and outward professing of the same.

Thus one womans folly had polluted almost all the Church.

After he had purged the Church of the abuses, he further by the true worship appointed by Gods word.

The multitude of his posterity made him to be Israel.

God would have all men vnderstand, how much he loveth all vncleane.

To sinke. They foolishly defend such barbarous cruelty, none without authority vpon so many, vnder govt's presence to the embarrasing of govt.

12 And he freely of me both do worie and gifts, and I will giue according as ye say vnto mee, so that ye giue me the damsell to wife.

13 But the sonnes of Iacob answered to Schem and Demoz his father, talking amongst themselues deceitfully: because hee had defiled Dina their sister.

14 And they said vnto them, Wee cannot doe this thing, that wee should giue our sister to one that is vncircumcised: for that were an abomination vnto vs.

15 But in this will wee consent vnto you: if ye will be as we be, and all the males amongst you be circumcised:

16 Then will wee giue our daughters vnto you, and take your daughters to vs, and will dwell with you, and be one people.

17 But and if ye will not hearken vnto vs to be circumcised, then will we take our daughter, and goe our wayes.

18 Their words pleased Demoz, and Schem his sonne.

19 And the yong man deferred not for to doe the thing, because he had a lust to Iacobs daughter: he was also moued by of all that was in his fathers house.

20 Then Demoz & Schem his sonne, went vnto the gate of their city and communed with the men of their citie, saying, 21 These men liue peaceably amongst vs, and dwell in the land, and doe their occupation therein: behold, the land is large enough for them, we will take their daughters to wiues, and giue them our daughters.

22 Onely herein will they consent vnto vs, for to dwell with vs, and to be one people. If all the males that are among vs be circumcised, as they are circumcised.

23 Shal not their goods and their substance, and all their cattell be ours? let vs onely consent vnto them, and they will dwell with vs.

24 And vnto Demoz and Schem his sonne, hearkened all that went out at the gate of the citie: and all the males were circumcised, whatsoeuer went out at the gate of the citie.

25 And the third day whiles they were soze, two of the sonnes of Iacob, Simeon and Levi, Dinass brethren, tooke either of them his sword, and went into the citie boldly, and slew all the males.

26 And slewe also Demoz and Schem his sonne with the edge of the sword, and tooke Dina out of Schems house, and went their way.

27 And the sonnes of Iacob coming vpon the dead, spoiled the citie, because they had defiled their sister.

28 And tooke their sheepe, oxen, and their asses, and whatsoeuer was in the citie, and also in the fields.

29 And all their goods, and all their children, and their wiues, tooke they captiue, and made hauoche of all that was in the house.

30 But Iacob said to Simeon and Levi, Ye haue troubled me, and made mee to bee abhorred of the inhabitants of the land of the Chanaanite & the Pherezite: and I being few in number, they shall gather themselues together against mee, and slay mee, and so shall I and my house be destroyed.

31 And they answered, Should wee deale with our sister as with an harlot?

20 And Iacob <sup>h</sup> set by a stone on end upon her grave: which is called Rachels grauestone vnto this day.

21 And Israel went thence, and pitched his tent beyond the tower of Eder.

22 And as Israel dwelt in the land, Ruben went and laye with Bilha his fathers concubine: and it came to Israels eare. The sonnes of Iacob were twelue in number.

23 The sonnes of Lea: Ruben Iacobs first bozne sonne, and Simeon, and Leui, and Iuda, and Isachar, and Zabulon.

24 The sonnes of Rachel: Joseph and Benjamin.

25 And the sonnes of Bilha Rachels handmaid: Dan and Nephthali.

26 And the sonnes of Zippa Leas handmaid: Gad and Aser. These are the sonnes of Iacob, which were bozne him in Helopotantia.

27 And so Iacob came <sup>h</sup> vnto Isahac his father to Hamre, vnto Kiriath-arba, <sup>l</sup> which is Hebron, where Abzaham and Isahac dwelt.

28 And the dayes of Isahac were an hundred and fourescore yeeres.

29 And Isahac decayed away, and died, and was layd vnto his people, being old and full of dayes: and his sonnes Esau and <sup>m</sup> Iacob buried him.

The xxxvi. Chapter.

2 The wiues of Esau. 7 Iacob and Esau are enriched. 8 Esau departeth from Iacob, and dwelleth in mount Seir. 9 The petigree of Esau.

E these are the generations of Esau, the same is Edom.

2 Esau tooke his wiues of the daughters of Chanaan: <sup>a</sup> Ada the daughter of Elon an Hethite, and Aholibama the daughter of Ana the daughter of Sibeon an Heuite:

3 And Basemah Iismaels daughter, and sister of Nebaioth.

4 And <sup>a</sup> Ada bare vnto Esau, Eliphaz: and Basemah bare Rehuel.

5 And Aholibama bare Iehus, and Ialam, and Cozah. These are the sonnes of Esau which were bozne him in the land of Chanaan.

6 And Esau tooke his wiues, and his sonnes and daughters, and all the soules of his house, his goods and all his cattell, & all his substance which he had got in the lande of Chanaan: and went into a countrey away from the face of his brother Iacob.

7 For their riches was much, and they could not dwell together: and the lande wherem they were strangers could not receiue them, because of their possessions.

8 Thus dwelt Esau <sup>b</sup> in mount Seir, the same Esau is Edom.

9 These are the generations of Esau, father of the Edomites in mount Seir.

10 And these are the names of Esaus sonnes: Eliphaz the sonne of Ada the wife of Esau, and Rehuel the sonne of Basemah the wife of Esau.

11 And the sonnes of Eliphaz, were Theman, Omar, Sepho, and Gatham, and Cenzaz.

12 And Chimna was concubine to Eliphaz Esaus sonne, and bare vnto Eliphaz Amalec: and these be the sonnes of Ada Esaus wife.

13 And these are the sonnes of Rehuel: Mahath, and Serah, Samna, and Hizza: these were the sonnes of Basemah Esaus wife.

14 And these were the sonnes of Aholibama the daughter of Ana, daughter of Sebeon Esaus wife: and she bare vnto Esau, Iehus, and Ialam, and Cozah.

15 These were the dukes of the sonnes of Esau.

16 <sup>c</sup> Duke Theman, duke Omar, duke Sepho, duke Cenzaz, & duke Cozah, duke Gatham, and duke Amalec: these are the dukes that came of Eliphaz in the land of Edom, and these were the sonnes of Ada.

The xxxvij. Chapter.

5 Ioseph telleth his dreames, and is hated of his brethren. 34 Jacob being perswaded that his sonne Ioseph was dead, bewaileth him.

Jacob dwelt in the land wherin his father was a stranger, in the lande of Chanaan.

2 These are the generations of Jacob: when Ioseph was seuenteeene yeeres old, he kept sheep with his brethren, and the lad was with the sonnes of Bilha, and with the sonnes of Zilpha, his fathers wiues: and Ioseph brought vnto his father their euill report.

3 But Israel loued Ioseph more then all his children, because hee begate him in his olde age: and he made him a coat of many colours.

4 And when his brethren saw that their father loued him more then all his brethren, they hated him, and could not speake peaceably vnto him.

5 Moreover, when Ioseph had dreamed a dreame, he told it his brethren, which hated him yet the more.

6 And he said vnto them, Heare I pray you this dreame which I haue dreamed.

7 Behold, wee were binding sheaues in the field, and loe, my sheafe arose and stood by right, and behold, your sheaues stood round about, and made obeisance to my sheafe.

8 To whome his brethren said, Shalt thou bee a king in deede on vs? or shalt thou in deede haue dominion ouer vs? And they hated him yet the more, because of his dreames, and of his words.

9 And he dreamed yet another dreame, and told it his brethren, saying, Behold, I haue had one dreame more, and behold, the Sunne, and the Moone, and eleuen Starres made obedience to me.

10 And when he had told it to his father and his brethren, his father rebuked him, and sayde vnto him, what is this dreame that thou hast dreamed? Shall I and thy mother and thy brethren in deede come to bowe to thee?

11 And his brethren enuied him: but his father noted the saying.

12 His brethren also went to keepe his fathers cattell in Sichem.

13 And Israel said vnto Ioseph, Doe not thy brethren keepe in Sichem? come, and I will send thee to them.

14 He answered, Here I am. And he said vnto him, Goe, I pray thee, see whether it be well with thy brethren and the cattell, and bring mee word againe. And so he sent him out of the bale of Hebron, and he came to Sichem.

15 And a certaine man founde him, and beholde, hee was wandring out of his way in the field, and the man asked him, what seekest thou?

16 Hee answered, I seeke my brethren: tell me, I pray thee, where they keepe cattell.

17 And the man sayde, They are departed hence: for I haue heard them say, Let vs go vnto Dothan. Thus went Ioseph after his brethren, and found them in Dothan.

18 And when they saue him afarre off, before he came at them, they took counsell against him, for to slay him:

19 For one sayd to another, Behold, this notable dreame cometh.

20 Come nowe therefore and let vs slay him, and cast him into some pit, & we will say, Some naughtie beast hath deuoured him: and we shall see what will come of his dreames.

21 When Ruben heard that, hee rid him out of their hands, and said, Let vs not kill him.

22 And Ruben sayde moreover vnto them, Shed no blood, but cast him into this pit that is in the wilderness, and laye no hand vpon him: this he said that hee might ridde him out of their hands, and deliuer him to his father againe.

23 And when Ioseph was come vnto his brethren, they stript him out of his coate, his partie coloured coat, that was vpon him.

24 And they tooke him, and cast him into an emptie pit, wherein was no water.

25 And they late them downe to eate bread: and as they lift by their eyes and looked about, beholde, there came a companie of Ismaelites from Gilead: and their camels laden with spicerie, baulme, and myrrhe, and were going downe to carry it to Egypt.

26 And Iuda sayd vnto his brethren, what auaileth it if we slay our brother, and keepe his blood secret?

27 Come on, and let vs sell him to the Ismaelites, and let not our hands bee vpon him: for hee is our brother, and our flesh. And his brethren were content.

28 Then as the Madianites merchant men passed by, they drewe and lift Ioseph out of the pit, and sold him vnto the Ismaelites for twentie pieces of siluer: And they brought Ioseph into Egypt.

29 Then Ruben came againe vnto the pit, and beholde, Ioseph was not in the pit: then hee rent his clothes.

30 And went againe vnto his brethren, saying, The lad is not yonder, woe is me, whither shall I goe?

31 And they tooke Iosephs coat, and killed a kid, and dipped the coat in the blood.

32 And they sent that partie coloured coate, and caused it to bee brought vnto their father, and said, This haue we found, see whether it be thy sonnes coat, or no.

33 And hee knewe it, saying, It is my sonnes coate, a naughtie beast hath deuoured him, Ioseph is without doubt rent in pieces.

34 And Jacob rent his clothes, and put sackcloth about his loynes, and mourned for his sonne a long season.

35 But all his sonnes and all his daughters rose vp to comfort him: neuerthelesse hee would not bee comforted, but sayde, I will goe

The xxxviij. Chapter.

1 The marriage of Iuda. 7 The trespass of Er and Onan, and the vengeance of God that came therefore.

ABout that time Iuda went from his brethren, and gat him to a man called Hirah of Odollam,

2 And there he saw the daughter of a man called Sua, a Chanaanite: and hee tooke her, and went in to her.

3 And hee conceived and bare a sonne, and called his name Er.

4 And hee conceived againe, & bare a sonne, and called him Onan.

5 And shee conceived againe, and bare yet a sonne, whome shee called Selah: and he was at Chezib when she bare him.

6 And Iuda gaue Er his first borne sonne a wife, whose name was Thamar.

7 And Er Judaes first borne sonne was wicked in the sight of the Lorde, and the Lorde slewe him.

8 And Iuda saide vnto Onan, Goe in to thy brothers wife, and marrie her, that thou mayst stirre by seed vnto thy brother.

9 And when Onan perceiued that the seede should not be his, therefore when hee went in to his brothers wife, hee spilled it on the ground, and gaue not seed vnto his brother.

10 And the thing which hee did, displeaseth the Lorde: wherefore he slewe him also.

11 Then said Iuda to Thamar his daughter in law, Remaine a widow at thy fathers house, till Selah my sonne be grown. (For hee saide, Least peradventure hee die also as his brethren did.) And Thamar went and dwelt in her fathers house.

12 And in processe of time, the daughter of Sua Judaes wife died: Then Iuda, when hee had left mourning, went vnto his sheep shearers to Chimnath, hee and his friend Hirah of Odollam.

13 And one tolde Thamar, saying, Beholde, thy father in law goeth by to Chimnath to sheere sheepe.

14 And hee put her widowes garments off from her, and covered her with a baile, and disguised her selfe, and sat her downe in an open place, which is by the way side to Chimnath: for because that shee saw Selah was grown, and he was not giuen vnto him to wife.

15 When Iuda sawe her, hee thought it had bene an harlot, because she had covered her face.

16 And hee turned to her vnto the way, and said, Come, I pray thee, let mee lye with thee: (For hee knewe not that it was his daughter in lawe.) And shee answered, what wilt thou giue me for to lye with me?

17 Then said he, I will send thee a hidde from the flocke. Shee said, When giue me a pledge, till thou send it.

18 Hee saide, what pledge shall I giue thee? Shee said, Thy signet, thy bracelet, and thy staffe that is in thine hand. And he gaue it her, and lay by her, and she was with child by him.

19 And she gat her by, and went, and put her baile from her, and put on her widowes raiment.

20 And Iuda sent the hidde by his friend Odollam, for to receiue his pledge againe from the womans hand: but he found her not.

21 Then asked he the men of the same place, saying, where is the harlot that sat openly by the way side? They answered, There is no harlot here.

22 Hee came therefore to Iuda againe, and saide vnto him, I cannot finde her: and also the men of the place sayde, that there was no harlot there.

23 And Iuda said, Let her take it to her, lest wee be shamed: behold, I sent the hid, and thou hast not found her.

24 And it came to passe, after three moneths, one told Iuda, saying, Thamar thy daughter in lawe hath played the harlot, & with playing the harlot is become great with child. And Iuda said, Bring her forth, that she may be burnt.

25 And when they brought her forth, she sent to her father in lawe, saying, By the man vnto whome these things pertaine am I with child: and sayde also, Looke I pray thee, whose are these, this scale, this bracelet, and this staffe.

26 And Iuda acknowledged them, and sayd, Shee hath bene more righteous then I: because I gaue her not Selah my sonne. And hee laye with her no more.

27 But when the time was come that shee should bee deliuered, beholde, there was two twinnes in her wombe.

28 And when shee trausled, the one put out his hand, and the midwife took and bound a red threed about it, saying, This is come out first.

29 And hee plucked his hand back againe, and behold, his brother came out. And she said, wherefore had thou rent a rent vpon thee? and called his name Phares.

30 Afterward came out his brother that had the redde threed about his hand: and his name was called Zarah.

The xxxix. Chapter.

1 Ioseph is sold to Putiphar. 2 God prospereth Ioseph, 5 and bleaseth Putiphar for Iosephs sake. 7 Ioseph doeth withstand the temptation of his mistress. 13 He is falsly accused and cast into prison, 21 where God sheweth him fauour.

Ioseph was brought vnto Egypt: and Putiphar, a lord of Pharaos, and his chiefe steward, an Egyptian, bought him of the Ismaelites which had brought him thither.

2 And God was with Ioseph, and he became a litchie man, continuing in the house of his master the Egyptian.

3 And his master saw that God was with him, and that God made all that hee did to prosper in his hand.

4 And Ioseph founde grace in his masters sight, and serued him: and hee made him ouerseer of his house, and put all that he had in his hand.

5 And it came to passe, from the time that he had made him ouerseer of his house, and ouer all that hee had, the Lorde blessed the Egyptians house for Iosephs sake: and the blessing of the Lorde was vpon all that hee had in the house, and in the field.

6 And therefore he left all that he had in Josephs hand: and he knewe nothing with him, save onely the bread which he did eate. And Joseph was a goodly person, and a well favoured.

7 And after this, his masters wife cast her eyes upon Joseph, and said, Come lie with me.

8 But he refused, and said vnto his masters wife, Beholde, my master woteth not what he hath in the house with me, and hath committed all that he hath to my hand.

9 There is no man greater in the house then I, neither hath he kept any thing from me, but onely thee, because thou art his wife: how then can I doe this great wickednesse, and sinne against God?

10 And after this matter spake she to Joseph day by day: but he hearkened not vnto her, to sleepe in her, or to be in her company.

11 And on a certaine day, Joseph entered into the house to do his businesse, and there was none of the household by, in the house.

12 Then she caught him by the garment, saying, Lie with me. And hee left his garment in her hand, and fled, and got him out.

13 And when she saw that he had left his garment in her hand, and was fled out,

14 Shee called vnto the men of her house, and told them, saying, See, he hath brought in an Hebrewe vnto vs, to doe vs shame: for he came in to me to haue sven with mee, and I began to crie with a loud voice:

15 And when he heard that I lift vp my voice, and cryed, he left his garment with me, and fled away, and got him out.

16 And she layed by his garment by her, until her lord came home.

17 And she told him with these words, saying, This Hebrewe servant which thou hast brought vnto vs, came vnto me to doe me shame.

18 But as soone as I lift vp my voice, a cried, he left his garment with me, and fled out.

19 When his master heard the wordes of his wife, which shee told him, saying, After this manner did thy seruant to me, he wared wroth.

20 And Josephs master tooke him, and put him in prison, in the place where the kings prisoners lay bound: and there continued hee in prison.

21 But the Lord was with Joseph, and he wred him mercie, and got him fauour in the sight of the lord of the prison.

22 And the keeper of the prison committed to Josephs hand all the prisoners that were in the prison house, and whatsoeuer was done there, that did he.

23 And the keeper of the prison looked vnto nothing that was vnder his hande, seeing that the Lord was with him: for whatsoeuer he did, the Lord made it to prosper.

The xl. Chapter.

12 Joseph expoundeth the dreames of the two prisoners. 20 The truth whereof appeared at the birth day of Pharaos.

1 And it came to passe after these things, that the butler of the king of Egypt, and his baker, had offended their lord the king of Egypt.

2 And Pharaos was angry against his two officers, against the chiefe Butler, and the chiefe Baker,

3 And put them in ward in his chiefe stewards house, in the prison and place where Joseph was bound.

4 And the chiefe steward gaue Joseph a charge with them, and he serued them, and they continued a season in ward.

5 And they dreamed either of them in one night, both the Butler & the Baker of the king of Egypt, which were bound in the prison house, either of them his dreame, and ech mans dreame of a sundry interpretation.

6 When Joseph came in vnto them in the morning, and looked vpon them, beholde, they were sad.

7 And he asked Pharaos chiefe officers that were with him in his masters ward, saying, Wherefore looke ye so sadly to day?

8 They answered him, We haue dreamed a dreame, and haue no man to declare it. And Joseph said vnto them, Doe not interpretations belong to God? tell me, I pray you.

9 And the chiefe Butler tolde his dreame to Joseph, and said vnto him, In my dreame, mee thought there stood a vine before me,

10 And in the vine were three branches, and it was as though it budded, and her blossomes shot forth: and the clusters thereof brought forth ripe grapes.

11 And I had Pharaos cup in my hand, and took of the grapes, and pressed them in Pharaos cup, and deliuered Pharaos cup into his hand.

12 And Joseph said vnto him, This is the interpretation of it. The three branches, are three dayes, 13 For within three dayes shall Pharaos lift vp his head, and restore thee into thine office againe, and thou shalt deliuer Pharaos cup into his hand, after the olde maner when thou wast his Butler.

14 But thinke on me when thou art in good case, and shew mercie I pray thee vnto me, and make mention of me to Pharaos, and bring mee out of this house.

15 For I was pryncely by stealth taken away out of the land of the Hebrewes: and here also haue I done nothing at all wherfore they should haue put me into this dungeon.

16 When the chiefe Baker saw that the interpretation was good, hee saide vnto Joseph, We thought also in my dreame, that I had three white wicker baskets on my head.

17 And in the uppermost basket there was of all maner bake meates for Pharaos, and the birds did eate them out of the basket, that was vpon my head.

18 And Joseph answered, and saide, This is the interpretation thereof. The three baskets, are three dayes: for within three dayes shall Pharaos take thy head from thee, and shall hang thee on a tree, and the birdes shall eate thy flesh, from off thee.

19 And it came to passe the third day, which was Pharaos birth day, that hee made a feast vnto all his seruants: and hee lifted by the head of the chiefe Butler, and of the chiefe Baker among his seruants,

20 And restored the chiefe Butler vnto his Butlership againe, which also reached the cup vnto Pharaos hand:

21 But hee hangd the chiefe Baker, as Joseph had interpreted vnto him.

1 Josephs master deliue after better assignment, was reconciled to him.

2 That is, hee will, such manner speeches are often in the next chap. and other where. Or, number. That is, take thee out of prison.

3 The refused not to make mercie for hee had liuence, although hee refused not but should moue deliuer him.

4 Or, full of holes.

5 Or, reckoned.

6 That Joseph was pryncely a free prisoner of God, as it is here.

22 Neither did the chiefe Butler remember Ioseph, but forgate him.

The xli. Chapter.

2 Ioseph expoundeth Pharaos dreames of kine and eares. 41 He is made ruler ouer al Egypt. 54 The dearth beginneth in all lands.

And after two yeeres Pharaos dreamed, and behold, he thought that hee stood by a riuer.

2 And there came out of the riuer seven goodly kine, and fatte fleshed, and fed in a medowe.

3 And seven other kine came by after them out of the riuer, euill fauoured, and leane fleshed, and stood by the other kine vpon the brinke of the riuer.

4 And the ill fauoured and leane fleshed kine did eate by the seven well fauoured and fat kine: and Pharaos awoke.

5 And he slept againe, and dreamed the second time: and behold, seven eares of corne grew vpon one stalk, ranke, and goodly:

6 And againe, seven thinne eares blasted with the East wind, sprang vp after them.

7 And the seven thinne eares deuoured the seven ranke and full eares. And Pharaos awoke, and see, it was a dreame:

8 And when the morning came, his spirit was troubled, and hee sent and called for all the soothsayers of Egypt, and al the wise men thereof: and Pharaos told them his dreame, but there was none of them that could interpret it vnto Pharaos.

9 Then spake the chiefe Butler vnto Pharaos, saying, I do remember my faults this day:

10 Pharaos being angry with his seruants, put in ward, in the chiefe stewards house, both me, and the chiefe Baker.

11 And wee dreamed both of vs in one night, each mans dreame of a sundry interpretation.

12 And there was with vs a yong man, an Hebrew boyne, seruant vnto the chiefe steward: to whom when we told them, hee declared our dreames to vs, according to either of our dreames.

13 And as hee declared them to vs, so it came to passe: for he restored me to mine office againe, and hanged him.

14 Pharaos sent therefore and called Ioseph, and they brought him hastily out of the dungeon: And he shaued himselfe, and changed his raiment, and came vnto Pharaos.

15 And Pharaos said vnto Ioseph, I haue dreamed a dreame, and no man can interpret it: and I haue heard say of thee, that as soone as thou hearest a dreame, thou canst interpret it.

16 Ioseph answered Pharaos, saying, I do not know, but God shall giue Pharaos an answer of peace.

17 And Pharaos saide vnto Ioseph, In my dreame me thought I stood by a riuers side,

18 And there came out of the riuer seven fat fleshed and well fauoured kine, and fed in a medowe,

19 And then seven other kine came out after them, poore, and very ill fauoured, and leane fleshed, such as I neuer sawe in all the land of Egypt, they were I to ill fauoured.

20 And the seven leane and ill fauoured kine, did eate by the first seven fat kine.

21 And when they had eaten them by, a man could not perceiue that they had eaten them, but they were still ill fauoured, as they were at the beginning: and I awoke.

22 And I saw againe in my dreame, and behold, seven eares sprang out of one stalk, full and faire.

23 And behold, seven eares againe I withered, thin, and blasted with the East wind, sprang vp after them.

24 And the thinne eares deuoured the seven good eares: and I haue told the soothsayers, but there was no man that could tell what it meaneeth.

25 And Ioseph answered Pharaos, Both Pharaos dreames are one, God hath shewed Pharaos what he is about to doe.

26 The seven good kine, are seven yeeres: and the seven good eares, are seven yeeres also: and it is but one dreame.

27 Like wise the seven thin and ill fauoured kine that came by after them, are seven yeeres: and the seven empty and blasted eares with the East wind, shall be seven yeeres of famine.

28 This word which I haue said vnto Pharaos, is it that God is about to doe, and he weth it vnto Pharaos.

29 Behold, there come seven yeeres of great plenty thoro'out all the land of Egypt.

30 And againe, there shall arise after them seven yeeres of famine, and all the plenty shall be forgotten in the land of Egypt: and the famine shall consume the land.

31 Neither shall the plenty be knowne in the land, by reason of that famine that shall come after, for it shall be exceeding great.

32 And as concerning that the dreame was doubled vnto Pharaos the second time: behold, the thing is certainly prepared of God, and God wil shortly bring it to passe.

33 Now therefore, let Pharaos prouide for a man of vnderstanding and wisdom, and set him ouer the land of Egypt.

34 And let Pharaos doe this also, that he make officers ouer the land, and take by the sixth part in the land of Egypt in seven plenteous yeeres:

35 And let them gather all the foode of those good yeeres that come, and lay by corne vnder the hand of Pharaos, and let them keepe foode in the cities.

36 And so shall that foode bee for store in the land, against the seven yeeres of famine, which shall come in the land of Egypt, that the land perish not throught famine.

37 And the saying seemed good in the eyes of Pharaos, and in the eyes of all his seruants.

38 Then sayde Pharaos vnto his seruants, May there bee found a man such as this is, in whom the spirit of God is?

39 And Pharaos said vnto Ioseph, forasmuch as God hath shewed thee al this, there is no man of vnderstanding or of wisdom like vnto thee.

40 Thou therefore shalt be ouer my house, and according vnto thy word shall all my people bee ruled: only in kings feat wil I be about thee.

41 And Pharaos said againe vnto Ioseph, Behold, I haue set thee ouer all the land of Egypt.

42 And Pharaos tooke off his ring from his hand, and put it vpon Iosephs hand, and arrayed him in cloth of lilke, and put a golden chaine about his necke,

43 And set him vpon the best charet hee had saue one: and they cried before him, Tonder

44 And moreover Pharao said vnto Joseph, I am Pharao, and without thee shall no man lift vp his hand or foot in all the land of Egypt.

45 And Pharao called Josephs name Zaphnath Paneach, and he gaue him to wife Asnath the daughter of Potipherah priest of On. Then went Joseph ouer the land of Egypt.

46 And he was thirty yeeres olde when hee stood before Pharao king of Egypt: And Joseph departing from the presence of Pharao, went thoroout all the land of Egypt.

47 And in the seuen plenteous yeres, the earth brought forth great store for to lay vp.

48 And he gathered vp al the food of the seuen plenteous yeres which were in the land of Egypt, and layd vp the food in the Cities: the food of the fields that grew round about euery Citie, laid he vp in the same.

49 And Joseph laid vp corne in store like vnto the sand of the sea, in multitude out of measure, vntill hee left numbring: for it was without number.

50 And vnto Joseph were borne two sonnes before the yeres of famine came: which Asnath the daughter of Potipherah priest of On bare vnto him.

51 And Joseph called the name of the first sonne Manasses: for God said he hath made me forget al my labour, and al my fathers household.

52 The name of the second called he Ephraim: for God said he hath caused me to be fruitfull in the land of my trouble.

53 And when the seuen yeres of plenteousnesse that was in the land of Egypt, were ended, 54 Then came the seuen yeres of dearth, according as Joseph had said, and the dearth was in all landes: but in all the land of Egypt was there foode.

55 And when the land of Egypt also began to hunger, people cried to Pharao for bread. And Pharao said vnto all the Egyptians, Goe vnto Joseph: and what he saith to you, that doe.

56 And the dearth was thoroout all the land: and Joseph opened all the barnes wherein was corne, and sold vnto the Egyptians: for the famine wared sore in the land of Egypt.

57 And all countries came into Egypt to Joseph for to buy corne, because that the famine was so sore in all lands.

The xliij. Chapter.

1 Jacob sendeth Josephs brethren into Egypt to buy corne. 7 Joseph knoweth them, and trieth them.

24 Simeon remaineth in prison. 29 The other returne to their father to fetch Benjamin. 39 Jacob is loth to let Benjamin goe, but at last he is content.

AND Jacob seeing that there was come in Egypt, sayd vnto his sonnes, why gaue ye one vpon another?

2 And he said, Behold, I haue heard that there is corne in Egypt: get you down thither, and buy vs corne from thence, that wee may liue, and not die.

3 So went Josephs ten brethren downe to buy corne in Egypt.

4 But Benjamin Josephs brother would not Jacob send vnto his other brethren: for he said, Left peradventure destruction come vpon him.

5 And the sonnes of Israel came to buy corne among other that came: for there was dearth in the land of Chanaan.

6 And Joseph was gouernour in the land, and solde to all the people of the land. And Josephs brethren came & bowed themselves with their faces downe to the ground before him.

7 When Joseph saw his brethren, hee knew them, and made himselfe strange vnto them, and spake roughly vnto them, saying, Whence come ye? They answered, Out of the land of Chanaan, to buy victuall.

8 And Joseph knew his brethren, but they knew not him.

9 And Joseph remembered his dreams which he dreamed of them, and said vnto them, Ye are spies: and to see where the lande is & weake is your coming.

10 And they said vnto him, Nay my lord, but to buy victuall are thy seruants come.

11 We are all one mans sonnes, and we meane truly, and thy seruants are no spies.

12 And he said vnto them again, Nay: but to see where the land is weake, is your coming.

13 And they said, We thy seruants are twelue brethren, the sonnes of one man in the land of Chanaan: & behold, the yongest is this day with our father, and one, no man woteth where he is.

14 And Joseph said vnto the, What is it that I spake vnto you, when I said, Ye are spies.

15 Hereby ye shall be proued: by the life of Pharao, ye shall not goe hence, except your yongest brother come hither.

16 Send out one of you, which may set your brother, and ye shall be kept in prison, that your words may be proued whether there bee any truth in you: or els, by the life of Pharao, ye are but spies.

17 And he put them al together in ward three dayes.

18 And Joseph sayd vnto them the third day, This doe, and liue: for I feare God.

19 If ye be true men, let one of your brethren be bound in the house of your prison: and go ye, carie corne to put away the famine from your household.

20 But bring your yongest brother vnto me, and so shall your words be tried true, and ye shall not die. And they did so.

21 And one said to another, Wee haue verely sinned against our brother, in that wee saw the anguish of his soule, when he besought vs, and we would not heare him: and therefore is this trouble come vpon vs.

22 And Reuben answered them, saying, Should I not vnto you, that you should not sinne against the lad, and ye would not heare? and see now, his blood is required.

23 They were not aware that Joseph vnderstood them: for he spake vnto them by an interpreter.

24 And hee turned from them and wept: and turned to them againe, and communed with them, tooke out Simeon from amongst them, and bound him before their eyes.

25 And Joseph commanded to fill their sacks with corne, and put euery mans money in his sacke, and to giue them victuall to spend by the way: and thus did he vnto them.

26 And they laden their asses with the corne, and departed thence.

AS the dearth was great in the land,
2 And it came to passe when they had eaten by the corne which they had brought out of the land of Egypt, their father said vnto them, Goe againe and buy vs a litle food.

4 If thou wilt send our brother with vs, we wil goe downe and buy thee food.

5 But if thou wilt not send him, we wil not goe downe: for the man said vnto vs, Ye shal not see my face, except your brother be with you.

6 And Israel said, wherefoze delt ye so cruelly with me, as to tell the man that ye had yet a brother?

9 I will be surety for him, of my hand shalt thou require him: if I bring him not vnto thee againe, and set him before thine eyes, then let me beare the blame for euer.

10 Truely, except we had made this tarying, by this we had returned the second time.

11 And their father Israel said vnto them, If it must needes be so, now then doe thus: Take of the best fruits of the land in your vessels, and bring the man a present, a curtle of balme, and a curtle of hony, spices, and myrrhe, nuts and almonds.

12 And take double money in your hand, and the money that was brought againe in your saches, take it againe with you, peradventure it was some ouersight.

13 Take also your brother with you, and arise, and goe againe vnto the man.

14 And God almighty giue you mercy in the sight of the man, that he may deliuer you your other brother, and thus Benjamin: and thus I am as one that is quite robbed of his children.

15 Thus tooke they the present, and twice so much more money in their hand, with Benjamin, and rose vp, and went downe to Egypt, and stood before Ioseph.

16 When Ioseph sawe Benjamin with them, he said to the ruler of his house, Bring these men home, and slay, and make ready: for these men shall done with me at noone.

17 And the man did as Ioseph bade, and brought them into Iosephs house.

18 When the men were brought into Iosephs house, they were afraid, & said, Because of the money that came in our saches mouthes at the first time are we brought in, that he may scelic occasion against vs, and violently lay hands vpon vs, to bring vs in bondage, and our alls also.

19 Wherefoze came they to the man that was the ruler ouer Iosephs house, and communed with him at the doore of the house,

20 And said, Oh sir, we came downe hither at the first time to buy foode, 21 And as wee came to an Inne, wee opened our saches, and behold, euery mans money was in the mouth of his sache, euen our money in full waight: and wee haue brought it againe in our hand.

23 And he said, Peace be vnto you, feare not: your God, and the God of your father, hath giuen you that treasure in your sachs: I had your money. And he brought Simcon out to them.

24 And the man led them into Iosephs house, and gaue them water to wash their feete, & gaue their alls prouender.

27 And he asked them of their welfare, and said, Is your father, that olde man which ye told me of, in good health? and is he yet aliue?

28 They answered, Thy seruant our father is in good health, & is yet aliue. And they bowing themselves, made their obeisance.

29 And he lifting by his eyes, beheld his brother Benjamin his mothers sonne, and said, Is this your younger brother of whom yee spake vnto mee? And he said, God be mercifull vnto thee, my sonne.

30 And Joseph made haste (for his heart did melt vpon his brother) & sought where to weepe, and entred into his chamber, and wept there.

31 And he washed his face and came out, and refrained himselfe, and said, Set on bread.

32 And they prepared for him by himself, and for them by themselves, and for the Egyptians which did eate with him, by themselves: because the Egyptians may not eate bread with the Hebrewes, for that is an abomination vnto the Egyptians.

33 And they sate before him, the first borne, according to his age, and the pongest, according to his youth: and the men marvelled among themselves.

34 And he sent rewarde vnto them from before himselfe: but Beniamins part was five times so much as any of theirs: and they drunke, and were made merry with him.

The xliiij. Chapter.

2 Joseph commandeth his cup to be put in the sacke of Benjamin. 5 The cup is found in the sacke of Benjamin. 12 Joseph accuseth his brethren of theft. 33 Iuda offereth himselfe to be bound for his brother Benjamin.

And he commanded the ruler of his house, saying, fill the mens sakes with food, as much as they can carrie, and put every mans money in his sakes mouth.

2 And put my cup, my siluer cup, in the sakes mouth of the pongest, and his corne money also. And he did according to the worde that Joseph had said.

3 And in the morning as soone as it was light, the men were let goe, they, and their asses.

4 And when they were out of the cite, and not yet farre away, Joseph said vnto the ruler of his house, say, and follow after the men: a when thou doest ouertake them, thou shalt say vnto them, wherefoze haue yee rewarded euill for good?

5 Is not that the cup in the which my lord drinkech? and in the which he prophesieth? Ye haue euill done that ye haue done.

6 And when he ouertooke them, he said the same words vnto them.

7 And they answered him, wherefoze saith my lord such wordes? God forbid that thy seruants should doe so.

8 Behold, the money which we found in our sakes mouthes, we brought againe vnto thee out of the land of Chanaan: how then should we steale out of thy lords house either siluer or gold?

9 With whomsoever of thy seruants it bee found, let him die, and we also will be my lords bondmen.

10 And he said, Doe we also let it be according vnto your wordes: hee with whom it is found, shall be my seruant: and ye shall be blamelesse.

11 And at once euery man tooke downe his sacke to the ground: and euery man opened his sacke.

12 And he searched, and beganne at the eldest, and left at the pongest: and the cup was found in Beniamins sacke.

13 Then they rent their clothes, and laded euery man his Ass, and went againe vnto the cite.

14 And Iuda and his brethren came to Josephs house (for he was yet there) and they fell before him on the ground.

15 And Joseph said vnto them, what deed is this that ye haue done? wote ye not that such a man as I can certainly prophesie?

16 Then saide Iuda, what shall we say vnto my lord: what shall we speake? or how shall we cleare our selues? God hath found out the wickednesse of thy seruants: behold, we are my lords seruants, both we, yea and he also with whom the cup is found.

17 And hee answered, God forbid that I should doe so: but the man with whom the cup is found, he shall be my seruant, & get you hence by in peace vnto your father.

18 Then Iuda went vnto him, and said, Oh my lord, let thy seruant, I pray thee, speake a word in my lords eares, & be not inflamed with wrath against thy seruant: for thou art euen as Pharao.

19 Why lord asked his seruants, saying, haue ye a father, or a brother?

20 And we answered my lord, wee haue a father that is old, and a pong lad, which he begate in his age: and the brother of the said lad is dead, and he is al that is left of his mother, and his father loueth him.

21 And thou saidst vnto thy seruants, bring him vnto mee, that I may set mine eyes vpon him.

22 And wee answered my lord, that the lad could not goe from his father: for if hee should leaue his father, he were but dead.

23 Then saidst thou vnto thy seruants, Except your pongest brother come with you, looke that ye see my face no more.

24 And when we came vnto thy seruant our father, we shewed him the wordes of my lord.

25 And our father said vnto vs, Doe againe, and buy vs a litle food.

26 And we answered, we cannot goe downe: neuerthelesse, if our pongest brother be with vs, then will we goe downe: for we may not see the mans face, except our pongest brother be with vs.

27 And thy seruant our father saide vnto vs, Doe know that my wife bare me two sonnes, 28 And the one went out from me, and I said, Of a suretie he is come in pieces: and I sawe him not since.

29 And if yee take this also away from mee, and destruction come vnto him, ye shal bring my gray head with sorrow vnto the graue.

30 Doe therefore, when I come to thy seruant my father, and the lad be not with vs (seeing that his life hangeth by the lads life.)

31 Then shall it come to passe, that as soone as he seeth that the lad is not come, he will die, so shall we thy seruants bring the gray head of thy seruant our father with sorrow vnto the graue.

The xlv. Chapter.

1 Joseph maketh himselfe knowne to his brethren. 5 He comforteth them, and sheweth that he was sent thither by Gods providence.

Joseph could no longer retrainie before all them that stood by him: wherefore he cryed, Cause euery man to auoid. And there remained no man with him, while Joseph battered himselfe vnto his brethren.

2 And he wept aloud: and the Egyptians, and the house of Pharao heard.

3 And Joseph said vnto his brethren, I am Joseph, doeth my father yet liue? And his brethren could not answer him, they were so abashed at his presence.

4 And Joseph said vnto his brethren, Come neere to me, I pray you. And they came neere. And he said, I am Joseph your brother, whom ye sold into Egypt.

5 Now therefore, be not grieued here with, neither let it seeme a cruell thing in your eyes that ye sold me hither: for God did send me before you to preferue life.

6 For this is the second yeere of dearth in the land: and fure moze are behinde, in the which there shall neither be earing, nor harvest.

7 Wherefore, God sent me before you, to preferue you, and posteritie in the earth, and to saue your liues by a great deliuerance.

8 So now, it was not yet that sent mee hither, but God, which hath made me a father to Pharao, and lord of all his house, and ruler throughout all the land of Egypt.

9 Hasten you, and goe by to my father, and tel him, Thus saith thy sonne Joseph. God hath made me lord of all Egypt, come downe therefore vnto me, tary not.

10 And thou shalt dwell in the land of Gosen, and be a neighbour vnto me, thou, and thy children, and thy childrens children, thy sheepe, and thy beasts, and all that thou hast.

11 And there will I provide thee sustentance (for there remaine yet fure yeeres of dearth) least thou, and thy household, and all that thou hast, come to pouertie.

12 And behold, your eyes doe see, and the eyes also of my brother Benjamin, that mine owne mouth speaketh vnto you.

13 Therefore tell my father of all my glory in Egypt, and of all that you haue seene, and make haste, and bring my father hither.

14 And he fel on his brother Beniamins necke, and wept: and Benjamin wept on his necke.

15 Moreover, he kissed all his brethren, and wept vpon them: and after that, his brethren talked with him.

16 And the same thereof was heard in Pharaos house, so that they said, Josephs brethren are come. And it pleased Pharao well, and all his seruants.

17 And Pharao spake vnto Joseph, Say vnto thy brethren, This doe ye, lade your beastes, and goe and returne vnto the land of Chanaan:

18 Take your father, and your householdes, and come vnto me: and I wil giue you the good of the land of Egypt, and ye shall eate the fat of the land.

19 And thou also shalt command them. This doe ye, take charets with you out of the land of Egypt, for your children, and for your wiues, and bring your father, and come.

20 Also regard not your stuffe: for the good of all the land of Egypt is yours.

21 And the children of Israel did euen so: and Joseph gaue them charets, according to the commaundement of Pharao, and gaue them victuall also to spend by the way.

22 And he gaue vnto eche of them change of raiment: but vnto Benjamin he gaue thre hundred pieces of siluer, and fure change of raiment.

23 And vnto his father he sent, after the same maner, ten asses laden with good out of Egypt, and ten she asses laden with corne, and bread and meate for his father, by the way.

24 So sent he his brethren away, and they departed: and he said vnto them, See that ye fall to no strife on the way.

25 They departed therefore from Egypt, and came into the lande of Chanaan, vnto Jacob their father.

26 And tolde him, saying, Joseph is yet aliue, and is gouernour ouer all the lande of Egypt. And Jacobs heart wauered: for hee beleueed them not.

27 And they tolde him all the wordes of Joseph, which he had said vnto them: And when he saw the charets which Joseph had sent to carrie him, the spirit of Jacob their father reuiued.

28 And Israel said, I haue ynough, that Joseph my sonne is yet aliue: I wil go and see him, yer that I die.

The xlvij. Chapter.

1 Jacob commeth before Pharao, 11 to whom Pharao giueth the land of Gosen.

Joseph came therefore, & told Pharao, and said, My father and my brethren, their sheep, and their cattel, and all that they have, are come out of the land of Chanaan: and behold, they are in the land of Gosen.

2 And Ioseph tooke † of the meanest of his brethren, euen siue men, and presented them unto Pharao.

4 They saide moreover unto Pharao, For to sojourne in the land are we come: for thy seruants have no pasture for their cattel, so soze is the famine in the land of Chanaan: Now therefore let thy seruants dwell in the land of Gosen.

4 And Pharao said unto Ioseph, Thy father and thy brethren are come unto thee.

6 The lande of Egypt is before thee: in the best place of the land make both thy father and thy brethren dwell, euen in the lande of Gosen let them dwell. Moreover, if thou knowest any man of actiuitie amongst them, make them rulers ouer my cattel.

7 And Ioseph brought in Jacob his father, and set him before Pharao: And Jacob blessed Pharao.

8 And Pharao said unto Jacob, How † olde art thou?

9 Jacob saide unto Pharao, The dayes of my pilgrimage are an hundred and thirty yeres: seue and euill haue the dayes of my life bene, and † haue not attained unto the yeres of the life of my fathers, in the dayes of their pilgrimage.

10 And Jacob blessed Pharao, and went out of his presence.

11 And Ioseph prepared dwellings for his father, and his brethren, and gaue them possessions in the land of Egypt, in the best of the land, euen in the land of † Ramesses, as Pharao had commaunded.

12 And Ioseph made prouision for his father and his brethren, and all his fathers household, with bread, † euen to the mouthes of the young children.

13 There was no bread in all the land: for the dearth was exceeding soze, so that the lande of Egypt, and all the land of Chanaan were famished by reason of the dearth.

14 And Ioseph brought together all the money that was founde in the land of Egypt, and of Chanaan, for the corne which they bought: and he laid by the money in Pharaos house.

21 And he caused the people to remooue from citie to citie, fro one side of Egypt into the other.

22 Surely the land of the priests bought hee not: for the Priests had a portion assigned them of Pharao, and did eate their portion which Pharao gaue them: wherfore they sold not their lands.

26 And Joseph made it a lawe ouer the land of Egypt vnto this day, that Pharao should haue the fifth part, except the land of the Priests only, which was not Pharaos.

27 And Israel dwelt in Egypt, in the country of Gosen, and they had their possessions therein, and grew, and multiplied exceedingly.

28 Moreover, Jacob liued in the land of Egypt seuentene yeeres, so that the whole age of Jacob was an hundred and fourtie and seuen yeeres.

29 When the time drew nigh that Israel must die, he sent for his sonne Joseph, and saide vnto him, If I haue found grace in thy sight, oh put thy hand vnder my thigh, and deale mercifully and truly with me, that thou burie me not in Egypt.

30 But I shall sleepe with my fathers, and thou shalt carie me out of Egypt, and burie mee in their buriall. And he answered, I will doe as thou hast said.

31 And he saide, Swear vnto me. And he swore vnto him. And Israel worshipped toward the beds head.

12 But the more they bred them, the more they multiplied and grew: so that they abhorred at the sight of the children of Israel.

13 And the Egyptians held the children of Israel in bondage without mercie, 14 And they made their liues bitter vnto them in that cruell bondage, in clay, and bricke, and all manner of worke in the felde: for all their bondage wherein they serued them, was full of tyrannie.

15 And the king of Egypt spake vnto the Midwives of the Hebrewes women: (of which the one was named Siphrah, and the other Puah) and said, 16 When ye doe the office of a Midwife to the women of the Hebrewes, and see in the birth time that it is a boy, ye shall kill it: but if it be a daughter, it shall liue.

17 Notwithstanding, the Midwives feared God, and did not as the king of Egypt commanded them, but saued the men children aliuie.

18 And the king of Egypt called for the Midwives, and said vnto them, why haue yee dealt on this manner, and haue saued the men children aliuie?

19 And the Midwives answered Pharaos, that the Hebrewes women are not as the women of Egypt: for they are more liuely women, and are deliuered yer the Midwives come at them.

20 And God dealt well therfoze with the Midwives: and the people multiplied, and waxed very mightie.

21 And it came to passe, that because the Midwives feared God, he made them houses.

22 And Pharaos charged al his people, saying, All the men children that are bozne, call into the riuer, and saue the maide children aliuie.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Moses is borne, and cast into the flagges. 6 Hee is taken vp of Pharaos daughter, and deliuered to his owne mother to be nursed.

2 And there went a man out of the house of Leui, and tooke to wife a daughter of Leui.

3 And the wife conceived, & bare a sonne: and when she saw that it was a proper child, she hid him three moneths.

4 And when she could no longer hide him, she tooke a basket made of bull rushes, and daubed it with slime and pitch, and laid the childe therein, and put it in the flagges by the riuers brink.

5 And his sister stood a farre off, to wit what would come of it.

6 And the daughter of Pharaos came downe to wash her selfe in the riuer, and her maidens walked along by the riuer side: and when she saw the basket among the flagges, she sent her maide to fetch it.

7 And when she had opened it, she saw it was a childe: and behold, the babe wept. And she had compassion on it, and said, It is one of the Hebrewes children.

8 Then said his sister to Pharaos daughter, Shall I goe and call to thee a nurse of the Hebrewes women, to nurse thee the childe?

9 Pharaos daughter answered her, Goe.

And the maide ran and called the childe's mother.

10 To whom Pharaos daughter sayd, Take this childe away, and nurse it for me, and I will reward thee. And the woman tooke the childe, and nursed it byr.

11 The childe grew, and she brought it vnto Pharaos daughter, and it was made her sonne. And she called the name of it Moses: because she said (for she) tooke him out of the water.

12 And in those dayes, when Moses was waxed great, hee went out vnto his brethren, and looked on their burdens, and spied an Egyptian smiting an Hebrew which was one of his brethren:

13 And he looked round about, and when he saw no man by, he slew the Egyptian, and hid him in the sand.

14 And when hee was gone out another day, beholde, two men of the Hebrewes stroue together: And hee said vnto him that did the wrong, wherfoze smitest thou thy fellow?

15 Hee answered, why made thee a man of authoritie and a iudge ouer vs? intendest thou to kill mee, as thou killedst the Egyptian? And Moses feared, and sayd, Of a suretie this thing is knowen.

16 And Pharaos heard of it, and went about to slay Moses. And Moses fleeing from the face of Pharaos, dwelt in the land of Madian: and he sat downe by the wellles side.

17 The priest of Madian had seuen daughters, the which came and drew water, and filled the troughes for to water their fathers sheepe.

18 And the shepherds came and drew them away: but Moses stood by and helped them, and watered their sheepe.

19 And when they came to Raguel their father, hee saide, Ho to came it to passe that yee are come so soone to day?

20 And they answered, A man of Egypt deliuered vs from the hands of the shepherds, and so drew vs water, and watered the sheepe.

21 He sayde vnto his daughters, And where is hee? why haue yee so left the man? Call him, that he may eat bread.

22 And Moses was content to dwell with the man: & he gaue Moses Sephora his daughter, 23 which bare him a sonne, and he called his name Gershom: for hee sayde, I haue bene a stranger in a strange land.

24 And in procelle of time, the king of Egypt dyed, and the children of Israel sighed by the reason of bondage, and cryed.

25 And their complaint came by vnto God for the bondage: and God heard their mone, and God remembered his covenant with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, 26 And God looked vpon the children of Israel, and God had respect vnto them.

The iij. Chapter.

1 Moses keepeth the sheepe of Iethro his father in law. 2 God appeareth to him in a bush, 10 and sendeth him to deliuer the children of Israel.

Moses kept the sheepe of Iethro his father in law, priest of Madian: and hee drew the flocke to the backe side of the desert, and came to the mountaine of God: + Horeb.

2 And the Angel of the Lord appeared vnto him in a flame of fire out of the middes of a bush:

¶ Leui.

14 And the Lord was angry with Moses, and said, Doe not I know Aaron thy brother & the Leuite, that he can speake? for loe, he cometh forth to incete thee: and when he seeth thee, he will be glad in his heart.

¶ Thou shalt trust him as to law.

15 Therefore thou shalt speake vnto him, and put these words in his mouth, and I will bee with thy mouth, and with his mouth, and will teach you what ye ought to doe.

¶ Dr, he shall the interpreter, and ou shalt his guide

16 And he shall be thy spokesman vnto the people, and he shall be, euen he shall be to thee in stead of a mouth, and thou shalt be to him in a head of God.

¶ What is, in that be him a wife infeller, and of Gods rite.

17 And thou shalt take this rod in thy hand, where with thou shalt doe miracles.

18 Therefore Moses went and returned to Jetho his father in law againe, and saide vnto him, Let me goe I pray thee now, and turne againe vnto my brethren which are in Egypt, and see whether they be yet aliue. And Jetho said to Moses, Goe in peace.

¶ Seeke thy uic.

19 And the Lord said vnto Moses in Madian, Goe and returne againe into Egypt, for all the men are dead which went about to kill thee.

20 And Moses tooke his wife, and his sonnes, and put them on an Ass, and went againe to Egypt: And Moses tooke the rod of God in his hand.

¶ God is said harden in his heart, when he shall will putt his out-let, and let it himself, by rejecting to speake and race.

21 And the Lord saide vnto Moses, when thou art entred and come into Egypt againe, see that thou doe all the worders before Pharao, which I haue put in thy hand: but I will harden his heart, and hee shall not let the people goe.

22 And thou shalt say vnto Pharao, Thus saith the Lord, Israel is my sonne, euen my first borne.

¶ Speaking, not deare into thee.

23 And I saide vnto thee, that thou let my sonne goe, that he may serue me: and if thou refuse to let him goe, behold, I doe flay thy sonne, euen thy first borne.

¶ Because he had not circumcised his child as God had appointed.

24 And it came to passe by the way, in the Iune, that the Lord met him, and would haue killed him.

25 And Sephora tooke a stone, and cut away the foreskin of her sonne, and cast it at his feete, and said, A bloodie husband art thou vnto me.

¶ What is, the Lord that would haue killed him.

26 When he let him goe, and she said, A bloodie husband: because of the circumcision.

27 Then saide the Lord vnto Aaron, Goe meete Moses in the wilderness. And he went and met him in the mount of God, and kissed him.

28 And Moses tolde Aaron all the wordes of the Lord which had sent him, and all the signes which he charged him withall.

29 So went Moses and Aaron, and gathered all the eiders of the children of Israel.

¶ So that Moses had no experience of Gods promise that he should haue good success in deliuering the people of Israel.

30 And Aaron tolde all the wordes which the Lord had spoken vnto Moses, and did the miracles in the sight of the people.

31 And the people beleued: And when they heard that the Lord had visited the children of Israel, and had looked vpon their tribulation, they bowed themselves, and worshipped.

The v. Chapter.

1 Moses and Aaron doe their message to Pharao, who will not suffer the people of Israel to depart: but oppresseth them more and more.

Moses & Aaron went in after ward and tolde Pharao, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Let my people goe, that they may hold a feast vnto me in the wilderness.

¶ Worship God solemnly.

2 And Pharao said, who is the Lord that I should heare his voice, & let Israel goe? I know not the Lord, neither will I let Israel goe.

¶ Heb. is called ouer vs.

3 And they saide, The God of the Hebrewes hath called vs: let vs goe, we pray thee, three dayes iourney into the desert, and doe sacrifice vnto the Lord our God, least hee smite vs with pestilence, or with the sword.

4 Then saide the king of Egypt vnto them, wherefore do ye Moses and Aaron let the people from their workes: get you vnto your burdens.

5 And Pharao said furthermoze, Beholde, there is much people now in the land, and you make them leaue their burdens.

¶ The noble ought not to be offended if afflictions increase when Gods beginneth to deliuer them.

6 And Pharao commaunded the same day the taskemasters which were amongst the people, and the officers, saying,

7 Ye shall giue the people no more straw to make brycke withall, as yee did in time past: let them goe and gather them straw themselves.

8 And the number of brycke which they were wont to make in time past, lay vnto their charges also, and minish nothing thereof, for they be idle, and therefore cry, saying, we wil goe and do sacrifice vnto our God.

9 They must haue more worke laide vpon them, that they may labour therein, and not regard vaine wordes.

¶ Throughe cruelly that speaks rage, the more is Gods helpe.

10 Then went the taskemasters of the people, and the officers out, and tolde the people, saying, Thus saith Pharao, I will giue you no more strawe.

11 Goe your selues and gather you strawe where ye can find it: yet shall none of your labour be minished.

12 And so were the people scattered abroad throughout all the land of Egypt, for to gather stubble in stead of straw.

¶ The incredible labour was layd on people, that they might bryck among Moses and Aaron.

13 And the taskemasters halld them sozward, saying, fulfill your worke, your dayly taskes in their due time, as if you had straw.

14 And the officers of the children of Israel, which Pharaos taskemasters had set ouer them, were beaten. And they saide vnto them, wherefore haue yee not fulfilled your taske in making of brycke, both yesterday, and to day, as wel as in time past?

15 The officers also of the children of Israel came & complained vnto Pharao, saying, wherefore dealest thou thus with thy seruants?

¶ Or, they deale euill with thy people.

16 There is no strawe giuen vnto thy seruants, and they say vnto vs, Make brycke: and thy seruants are beaten, and the fault is in thine owne people.

17 He said, Ye are idle, idle are ye: and therefore ye say, we will goe and doe sacrifice vnto the Lord.

18 Goe therefore no we and worke, and there shall no straw be giuen you, and yet shall ye deliuer the whole tale of brycke.

19 And the officers of the children of Israel did see that they were in worke case after it was said, Ye shall minish nothing of your brycke, of your dayly taske in due time.

20 And they met Moses & Aaron, which stood in their way as they came out from Pharao.

4 They mis- judging Gods grace by the present abhor- rible become unthankfull to men, and inu- sioners to God. To sinke a Spoke imbe- cility apper- reth in that hee is without his own will, a complaint of Gods holie- nesse in bewir- ring his prop- ity.

21 And said vnto them, The Lord looke by: on you, and iudge you, which haue made the fa- uour of vs to bee abhorred in the eyes of Pharao, and in the eyes of his seruants, and haue put a word in their hand to slay vs.

22 Moses returned vnto the Lord, and said, Lord, wherfoze hast thou so euill entreated this people? And wherfoze hast thou sent me?

23 For since I came to Pharao to speake in thy name, hee hath sared soule with this folke: and yet thou hast not deliuered thy people at all.

The vij. Chapter.

3 God reneweth his promise concerning the deliue- rance of the Israelites.

When the Lorde sayde vnto Moses, Now shalt thou see what I will doe vnto Pharao: for in a mightie hand shall hee let them goe, and in a mightie hand shall hee driue them out of this land.

2 And God spake vnto Moses, and sayd vnto him, I am the Lord.

3 I appeared vnto Abraham, Isahac, and Iacob, as an almightie God: but in my name Iehouah was I: not known vnto them.

4 Moreover, I made a covenant with them, to giue them the lande of Chanaan, the lande of their pilgrimage, wherein they were strangers.

5 And therfoze I haue also heard the gro- ming of the children of Israel, whome the Egyp- tians heepe in bondage: and haue remembered my covenant.

6 wherfoze I say vnto the children of Israel, I am the Lorde, I will bring you out from the burdens of the Egyptians, and will rid you out of their bondage, and will deliuer you in a stretch- ed out arme, and in great iudgements.

7 And I will take you for my people, and will be to you a God: and yee shall know that I am the Lord your God, which bringeth you out from the burdens of the Egyptians.

8 And I will bring you into the lande con- cerning the which I did lift by my hand to giue it vnto Abraham, Isahac and Iacob, and will giue it vnto you for a possession: for I am the Lord.

9 And Moses tolde the children of Israel euen so: but they hearkened not vnto Moses for anguish of spirite, and for cruell bondage.

10 And the Lorde spake vnto Moses, saying,

11 Goe in, and speake vnto Pharao king of Egypt, that he let the children of Israel goe out of his land.

12 And Moses spake before the Lord, saying, Behold, the children of Israel hearken not vnto me: How then shall Pharao heare mee, which am of vncircumcised lips?

13 And the Lord spake vnto Moses and vnto Aaron, and gaue them a charge concerning the children of Israel, and concerning Pharao king of Egypt, that they should bring the chil- dren of Israel out of the land of Egypt.

14 These be the heads of their fathers houses. The children of Ruben the first borne sonne of Israel, are these: Hanoch, and Phallu, Petron, and Charni: these be the children of Ruben.

15 The children of Simeon: Jenuel, and Janin, Ohad, and Jachin, Sohar, and Saul the sonne of the Chanaanitish woman: these are the hundreds of Simeon.

16 These also are the names of the children of Leui in their generations: Gerson, and Ce- hath, and Merari: Leui liued an hundred, thir- tie, and seuen yeeres.

17 The sonnes of Gerson: Libni, and Si- mi, by their hundreds.

18 The children of Cehath: Amram, & Jhar, and Hebzon, and Usiel. And Cehath liued an hundred, thirtie, and three yeeres.

19 The children of Merari: Mahli, & Musi: these are the hundreds of Leui by their genera- tions.

20 Amram tooke Jochebed his fathers sister to wife, and she bare him Aaron and Moses: and Amram liued an hundred, and thirtie, and se- uen yeeres.

21 And the children of Jhar: Cozah, Repeg, and Sichzi.

22 The children of Usiel: Misael, Elzaphan, and Zichzi.

23 And Aaron tooke Eliseba, daughter of Aminadab and sister of Naason to wife, which bare him Nadab, and Abihu, Eleazar, and J- thamar.

24 The children of Cozah: Assir, and Eleana, and Abiasaph: these are the hundreds of the Co- rahites.

25 Eleazar Aarons sonne tooke him one of the daughters of Putiel to wife, which bare him Phinees: a these are the principall fathers of the Leuites, throughout their hundrs.

26 This is that Aaron and Moses to whome the Lorde sayde, Leade the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt, according to their ar- mies.

27 These are that Moses and Aaron, which spake to Pharao king of Egypt, that they might bring the children of Israel out of E- gypt.

28 And in the day when the Lord spake vnto Moses in the land of Egypt, 29 He spake vnto him saying, I am the Lord: speake thou vnto Pharao the king of Egypt all that I say vnto thee.

30 And Moses said before the Lord, Behold, I am of vncircumcised lips, and how shall Pharao giue me audience?

The vij. Chapter.

1 Moses and Aaron spake to Pharao. 10 They turne the rodde into a serpent, and the water into blood, and Pharaos forcerers doe the like, 13 And Pharaos heart is hardened the more.

And the Lord sayd vnto Moses, Behold, I haue made thee Pharaos God: And Aaron thy brother shall be thy Prophet.

2 Thou shalt speake all that I commaund thee, and Aaron thy brother shall speake vnto Pharao, that he send the children of Israel out of his land.

3 And I will harden Pharaos heart, and multiply my miracles, and my wonders in the land of Egypt.

4 But Pharao shall not hearken vnto you, that I may let my hand vpon Egypt, and bring out mine armies, and my people the child- ren of Israel out of the land of Egypt in great iudge- ments.

5 And the Egyptians shall know that I am the Lord, when I stretch forth mine hand vpon

6 Moses and Aaron did as the Lord commanded them, even so did they.

7 Moses was fourscore yeres olde, and Aaron fourscore and thre, when they spake unto Pharao.

8 And the Lord spake vnto Moses and Aaron, saying,

9 If Pharao speake vnto you, saying, Shewe a miracle for you: thou shalt say vnto Aaron, Take thy rod, and call it befoze Pharao, that it may be a serpent.

10 Then went Moses and Aaron in vnto Pharao, and did as the Lord had commanded: and Aaron cast forth his rod befoze Pharao, and befoze his seruants, and it turned to a serpent.

11 Then Pharao called for the wise men, and enchanters: and those sozcerers of Egypt did in like manner with their sozcerie.

12 For they cast downe every man his rodde, and they turned to serpents: but Aarons rod did eat by their rods.

13 And he hardened Pharaos heart, that hee hearkened not vnto them, as the Lord had said.

14 The Lord also sayde vnto Moses, Pharaos heart is hardened, hee refuseth to let the people goe.

15 Get thee vnto Pharao in the morning, loe, hee will come vnto the water, & thou shalt stand vpon the riuers brinke against he come: and the rodde which was turned to a serpent, shalt thou take in thine hand:

16 And thou shalt say vnto him, The Lord God of the Hebrewes hath sent me vnto thee, saying, Let my people goe, that they may serue me in the wilderness: and behold, hitherto thou wouldest not heare.

17 Thus saith the Lord, In this thou shalt know that I am the Lord: behold, I will smite with the rodde that is in my hand the waters which are in the riuers, and they shall be turned to blood.

18 And the fish that is in the riuer shall dye: and the riuer shall corrupt, and it shall grieue the Egyptians to drinke of the water of the riuer.

19 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, Say vnto Aaron, Take thy rodde, and stretch out thine hande ouer the waters of Egypt, ouer their streames, ouer their riuers and ponds, and all pooles of water which they haue, that they may be blood, and that there may be blood throughout all the land of Egypt, both in vessels of wood, and also of stone.

20 And Moses and Aaron did as the Lord commanded: and he lift by the rod, and smote the waters that were in the riuer, in the sight of Pharao, and in the sight of his seruants: and all the water that was in the riuer turned into blood.

21 And the fish that was in the riuer, died: and the riuer corrupted, and the Egyptians coulde not drinke of the water of the riuer, and there was blood throughout all the land of Egypt.

22 And the enchanters of Egypt did likewise with their sozceries: and he hardened Pharaos heart, neither did he hearken vnto them, as the Lord had said.

23 And Pharao turned himselfe, and went againe into his house, and set not his heart thereunto.

24 And the Egyptians digged round about the riuer for water to drinke: for they could not drinke of the water of the riuer.

25 And it continued seven dayes, after that the Lord had smitten the riuer.

hand with his rodde, and smote the dust of the earth, and there were lice in man and beast: so that all the dust of the land was lice, throughout all the land of Egypt.

18 And the enchanters † assayed likewise with their enchantments, to bring forth lice, ‡ but they could not: and the lice were both upon men and beasts.

19 Then sayde the enchaunters to Pharaos, This is the finger of God. And Pharaos heart remained obstinate, and hee hearkened not vnto them, as the Lord had said.

20 And the Lord sayde vnto Moses, Rise vp early in the morning, and stand before Pharaos, loe, he will come forth vnto the water, and thou shalt say vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Let my people goe, that they may serue me.

21 Els, if thou wilt not let my people goe, behold, I will send † all manner of flies, both upon thee and thy seruants, and thy people, and into thy houses: and the houses of the Egyptians shall be full of flies, and the ground whereon they are.

22 And the lande of Gosen where my people are, will I † cause to be wonderfull in that day, so that there shall no flies bee there: whereby thou shalt know that I am the Lord in the midst of the earth.

23 And I will put a † diuision betwene my people and thine: and to † morowe shall this miracle be done.

24 And the Lord did so, and there came an intolerable swarme of flies into the house of Pharaos, and into his seruants houses, and into all the land of Egypt: and the land was corrupt with these flies.

25 And Pharaos called for Moses and Aaron, and said, Goe and doe sacrifice vnto your God in this land.

26 And Moses answered, It is not meet that we so doe: for we must offer vnto the Lord our God, that which is an abomination vnto the Egyptians. See, if wee sacrifice that which is an abomination vnto the Egyptians before their eyes, will they not stone vs?

27 Wee will goe thre dayes iourney into the desert, and sacrifice vnto the Lord our God, as he hath commaunded vs.

28 And Pharaos said, I will let you goe, that yee may sacrifice vnto the Lord your God in the wilderness, but go not † farre a way: pray for me.

29 And Moses sayde, Behold, I will goe out from thee, and pray vnto the Lord, that the flies may depart from Pharaos, and from his seruants, and from his people to morow: but let Pharaos from henceforth deale deceitfully no more, that he will not let the people goe to sacrifice vnto the Lord.

30 And Moses went out from Pharaos, and prayed vnto the Lord:

31 And the Lord did according to the saying of Moses, and the flies departed from Pharaos, and from his seruants, and from his people, and there remained not one.

32 And Pharaos hardened his heart once more at this time, and did not let the people goe.

The ix. Chapter.

1 The murraine of beasts. 10 The plagues of botches and sores. 23 The horrible haile, thunder, and lightnings.

The Lord said vnto Moses, Goe in vnto Pharaos, and thou shalt tell him, Thus saith the Lord God of the Hebrewes, Let my people goe, that they may serue me.

2 If thou refuse to let them goe, and wilt hold them still,

3 Beholde, the hand of the Lord is vpon thy flocke which is in the field: for vpon horses, vpon asses, vpon camels, vpon oxen, and vpon sheepe, there shall be a mightie great murraine.

4 And the Lord shall doe wonderfully betwene the beasts of Israel, and the beasts of Egypt, so that there shall nothing dye of all that pertaineth to the children of Israel.

5 And the Lord appointed a time, saying, To morow the Lord shall finish this word in the land.

6 And the Lord did that thing on the morow, and all the cattell of Egypt dyed: but of the cattell of the children of Israel dyed not one.

7 And Pharaos sent, and beholde, there was not one of the cattell of the Israelites dead: And the heart of Pharaos was hardened, and hee did not let the people goe.

8 And the Lord said vnto Moses and Aaron, Take your hands full of ashes out of the furnace, and Moses shall sprinkle it by into the ayre in the sight of Pharaos:

9 And it shal be dust in all the land of Egypt, and shall be swelling sores with blaines both on man and beast throughout all the lande of Egypt.

10 And they tooke ashes out of the furnace, and stood before Pharaos, and Moses sprinkled it by into the ayre: and there were swelling sores with blaines, both in men and in beasts:

11 And the † sozerers could not stand before Moses because of the blains, for there were botches vpon the enchanters, and vpon all the Egyptians.

12 And the Lord hardened the heart of Pharaos, & he hearkened not vnto them, as the Lord had sayd vnto Moses.

13 And the Lord sayde vnto Moses, Rise vp early in the morning, and stand before Pharaos, and thou shalt tell him, Thus saith the Lord God of the Hebrewes, Let my people go that they may serue me;

14 Or else I will at this time sende all my plagues vpon thine heart, & vpon thy seruants, and on thy people: that thou mayest knowe that there is none like me in all the earth.

15 For now I will stretch out my hand, that I may smite thee and thy people with pestilence, and thou shalt perish from the earth.

16 And in very deede † for this cause haue I kept thee, for to shewe thee my power, and that my name may bee declared throughout all the world.

17 Perceasted thou thy selfe against my people, that thou wilt not let them goe?

18 Beholde, to morow this time I will send downe a mightie great haile, such a one as was not in Egypt since the foundation thereof was laid, vnto this time.

19 Send therefore now, and gather thy beasts, and all that thou hast in the field: for vpon all the men and the beasts which are found in the field, and not brought home, shall the haile fall, and they shall die.

21 But he that regarded not the word of the Lord, left his seruants & his beastes in the field.

22 And the Lorde said vnto Moses, Stretch forth thy hand vnto heauen, that there may be haile in all the land of Egypt, vpon man, and vpon beastes, and vpon all the hearbes of the fields, throughout the land of Egypt.

23 And Moses stretched forth his rodde vnto heauen, and the Lord thundred and hayled, and the fire ranne along vpon the ground, and the Lord hayled in the land of Egypt.

24 So there was haile, and fire mingled with the haile, so greiuous, and such as there was none throughout all the lande of Egypt, since people inhabited it.

25 And the hayle smote throughout all the land of Egypt, all that was in the fiede, both man and beast: and the hayle smote all the hearbes of the fiede, and broke all the trees of the field.

26 Onely in the lande of Gosen, where the children of Israel were, was there no hayle.

27 And Pharao sent, and called for Moses and Aaron, and said vnto them, I haue now sinned: the Lord is righteous, and I and my people are vngodly.

28 Pray ye vnto the Lord, that these thunders of God and haile may be sufficient: and I will let you goe, and ye shall tary no longer.

29 Moses sayde vnto him, As soone as I am out of the cite, I will spread abroad my handes vnto the Lorde, and the thunder shall cease, neither shall there be any moze hayle: that thou mayest know how that the earth is the Lords.

30 But I knowe that thou and thy seruants yet feare not the face of the Lord God.

31 And so the flare and the barley were smitten, for the barley was shot by, and the flar was bolled:

32 But the wheat and the rye were not smitten, for they were late sowed.

33 And Moses went out of the cite from Pharao, and spread abroad his handes vnto the Lord: and the thunder and haile ceased, neither rained it vpon the earth.

34 And when Pharao saw that the raine, and the haile, and thunder were ceased, he sinned yet moze, and hardened his heart, hee and his seruants:

35 And the heart of Pharao was hardened, neither would he let the children of Israel goe, as the Lord had said by the hand of Moses.

The x. Chapter.

13 The plague of Grasshoppers. 16 Pharao confesseth his sinne. 28 Pharao forbiddeth Moses to come any more in his presence.

And the Lord sayde vnto Moses, Goe in to Pharao: for I haue hardened his heart, and the heart of his seruants, that I might shewe these my signes before him.

2 And that thou tell in the audience of thy sonne, and of thy sonnes sonne, what things I haue done in Egypt, and the miracles which I haue done amongst them, that yee may knowe how that I am the Lord.

3 And so Moses and Aaron came in to Pharao, and said vnto him, Thus saith the Lorde God of the Hebrewes, How long wilt thou refuse to submit thy selfe vnto me? Let my people goe, that they may serue me.

4 Or else if thou refuse to let my people goe, behold, to morow wil I bring Grasshoppers into thy coastes:

5 And they shall cover the face of the earth, that it cannot be seene: and they shall eate the residue which remaineth vnto you, and is escaped from the haile: and they shall eate euery Greene tree that beareth you fruit in the field.

6 And they shall fill thy houses, and all thy seruants houses, and the houses of all the Egyptians, after such a manner, as neither thy fathers, nor thy fathers fathers haue seene, since the time they were vpon the earth, vnto this day. And he turned himselfe about, and went out from Pharao.

7 And Pharaos seruants saide vnto him, How long shall he be hurfull vnto vs? Let the men go, that they may serue the Lord their God: knowest thou not yet that Egypt is destroyed?

8 And Moses and Aaron were brought againe vnto Pharao, and he said vnto them, Goe and serue the Lord your God: but who are they that shall goe?

9 And Moses answered, We will goe with our pong, and with our old, and with our sons, and with our daughters, and with our sheepe, and with our oxen we must go: for we must hold a feast vnto the Lord.

10 And he saide vnto them, Let the Lord be so with you as I will let you goe, and your children: take heede, for ye haue some mischief in hand.

11 Nay, not so, but goe ye men, and serue the Lord: for that was your desire. And they were thrust out of Pharaos presence.

12 And the Lord said vnto Moses, Stretch out thine hand ouer the land of Egypt for grasshoppers, that they may come vpon the lande of Egypt, and eate all the hearbes of the land, and all that the haile left behind.

13 And Moses stretched forth his rodde ouer the land of Egypt, & the Lord brought an East winde vpon the lande all that day, and all that night: & in the morning the East winde brought the Grasshoppers.

14 And the Grasshoppers went by ouer al the lande of Egypt, and remained in all quarters of Egypt very grieuouly: before them were there no such Grasshoppers, neither after them shall be.

15 For they covered all the face of the earth, so that the land was darke, and they did eate all the hearbes of the land, and all the fruites of the trees whatsoeuer the haile had left: there was no Greene thing left in the trees and herbes of the field, through all the land of Egypt.

16 Therefore Pharao called for Moses and Aaron in haste, and said, I haue sinned against the Lord your God, and against you.

17 And now forgive me my sinne onely this once, and pray vnto the Lord your God that hee may take away from me this death onely.

18 And Moses went out from Pharao, and prayed vnto the Lord.

19 And the Lorde turned a mightie strong west wind, and it tooke away the Grasshoppers, bread, so that the first day ye put a way leuen out of your houses: for whosoever eateth leavened bread, from the first day vntill the seventh day, that soule shall be rooted out of Israel.

16 The first day shall be an holy conuocation vnto you, and the seventh day shall be an holy conuocation vnto you: there shall be no manner of worke done in them, saue about that onely which every man must eat, that only may ye do.

17 And ye shall obserue the feast of vbleauened bread: for this same day haue I brought your armies out of the land of Egypt, therefore ye shall obserue this day, and all your children after you, by an everlasting decree.

18 The first moneth, and the fourteenth day of the moneth: at euen ye shall eat vbleauened bread, vnto the one and twentieth day of the same moneth at euen againe.

19 Seven dayes shall there bee no leavened bread found in your houses: and whosoever eateth leavened bread, that soule shall be rooted out from the congregation of Israel, whether he be stranger, or borne in the land.

20 Ye shall eate no leauened bread: but in all your habitations shall ye eate vbleauened bread.

21 Then Moses called for all the Elders of Israel, and sayde vnto them, Choose out, & take you to euery household of you a Lambe, and kill the Passeouer.

22 And take a bunch of hyssope, and dippe it in the blood that is in the bason, and strike the vpper poste of the doore, and the two side postes, with the blood that is in the bason: and none of you goe out at the doore of his house vntill the morning.

23 For the Lord will passe ouer to smite the Egyptians: and when hee seeth the blood vpon the vpper doore post, and the two side postes, hee wil passe ouer the doore, & wil not suffer the destroyer to come into your houses to plague you.

24 Therefore shall ye obserue this thing for an ordinance to thee and to thy sonnes for euer.

25 And when ye be come to the land which the Lord wil giue you, according as he hath promised, ye shall keepe this seruice.

26 And when your children aske you, what manner of seruice is this that ye doe?

27 Ye shall say, It is the sacrifice of the Lords passeouer, which passed ouer the houses of the children of Israel in Egypt, and he smote the Egyptians, and saued our houses. And the people bowed themselves, and worshipped.

28 And the children of Israel went and did as the Lord had commanded Moses and Aaron, so did they.

29 And at midnight the Lord smote the first borne in the lande of Egypt, from the first borne of Pharao that sate on his seate, vntill the first borne of the captiue that was in prison, and all the first borne of cattell.

30 And Pharao rose in the night, he and his seruants, and all the Egyptians, and there was a great cry in Egypt: for there was not a house where there was not one dead.

31 And hee called vnto Moses and Aaron by night, saying, Rise vp, and get you out from amongst my people, both you, and also the children of Israel: and goe, and serue the Lord, as ye haue sayd.

32 And take your sheepe and your droues with you as ye haue sayde: and depart, and blesse me.

33 And the Egyptians forced the people, that they might send them out of the lande in haste: for they said, We be all but dead men.

34 And the people tooke their dough before it was sowred, which they had in store, being bound in clothes, vpon their shoulders.

35 And the children of Israel did according to the saying of Moses: and they bowed of the Egyptians iewels of siluer, and iewels of gold, and raiment.

36 And the Lord gaue the people fauour in the sight of the Egyptians, so that they graunted such things as they required: And they robbed the Egyptians.

37 And the children of Israel tooke their iourney from Ramellis to Succoth, fixe hundred thousand men of foote, beside children.

38 And a great multitude of sundry other nations went also with them, and sheep, and oxen, and exceeding much cattell.

39 And they baked vbleauened cakes of the dough which they brought out of Egypt, for it was not sowred: for they were thrust out of Egypt, and could not tary, neither had they prepared for themselves any provision of meat.

40 The dwelling of the children of Israel which they dwelled in Egypt, was foure hundred and thirtie yeeres.

41 And when the foure hundred and thirtie yeeres were expired, euen the selfe same day departed all the hostes of the Lord out of the lande of Egypt.

42 It is a night to be obserued vnto the Lord, in the which he brought them out of the land of Egypt: This is that night of the Lord, which all the children of Israel must keepe throughout their generations.

43 And the Lord said vnto Moses and Aaron, This is the lawe of Passeouer: there shall no stranger eate thereof.

44 But euery seruant that is bought for money, after that thou hast circumcised him, shall eate thereof.

45 A stranger and an hired seruant shall not eate thereof.

46 In one house shall it be eaten, thou shalt carie none of the flesh out of the house, neither shall ye breake a bone thereof.

47 All the Congregation of Israel shall obserue it.

48 If a stranger also dwell among you, and will holde Passeouer vnto the Lord, let him circumcise all that be males, and then let him come and obserue it, & he shall be as one that is borne in the land: for no vncircumcised person shall eat thereof.

49 One maner of law shall be vnto him that is borne in the land, and vnto the stranger that dwelleth among you.

50 And all the children of Israel did as the Lord commanded Moses & Aaron, so did they.

51 And the selfe same day did the Lord bring the children of Israel out of the lande of Egypt, with their armies.

14 And when thy sonne asketh thee in time to come, saying, What is this? Thou shalt say unto him, With a mighty hande the Lord brought us out of Egypt out of the house of bondage.

4 Pharaos heart is hardened, 8 and hee pursueth the Israelites.

And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

2 Speake to the children of Israel, that they turne and pitch their tents before Pi-hahiroth, between Migdol and the sea, over against Baal-sephon: and before that shall they pitch by the sea.

3 For Pharao will say of the children of Israel, They are tangled in the lande, the wilderness hath shut them in.

4 And I will harden Pharaos heart, that hee shall follow after you, and I will get mee honour upon Pharao and upon all his hoste: The Egyptians also shall know that I am the Lord. And they did so.

5 And it was tolde the King of Egypt that the people fled: And the heart of Pharao and of his servants turned against the people, and they said, Why haue we done this, that wee haue let Israel goe out of our service?

6 And hee made ready his charet, and tooke his people with him,

7 And tooke six hundred chosen charets, and all the charets of Egypt, and captaines upon every one of them.

8 And the Lord hardened the heart of Pharao king of Egypt, and hee followed after the children of Israel: but the children of Israel went out with an high hand:

9 And the Egyptians followed after them, and all the horses and charets of Pharao, and his hostemen, and his holle overtooke them pitching of their tent by the sea, beside Pi-hahiroth before Baal-sephon.

10 And when Pharao drewe nigh, the children of Israel lift up their eyes, and beholde, the Egyptians followed after them, and they were sore afraid: and the children of Israel cried out unto the Lord.

Lord which hee wil shew to you this day: for yee that haue seene the Egyptians this day, shal see them no more for euer.

15 And the Lord sayd vnto Moses, wherefore criest thou vnto me? Speake vnto the children of Israel that they go for ward:

16 But lift thou by thy rodde, and stretch out thy hande ouer the Sea, and diuide it asunder, and let the children of Israel goe on dry ground through the middes of the Sea.

17 And behold, I, euen I wil harden the heart of the Egyptians, & they shal folow after them: and I wil get me honour vpon Pharao, and vpon all his hoste, and vpon his charets, and vpon his horsemen.

18 And the Egyptians shal know that I am the Lord, when I haue gotten me honour vpon Pharao, vpon his charets, and vpon his horsemen.

19 And the Angel of God which went before the hoste of Israel, remooued, and went behinde them, and the pillar of the cloude went from before their face, and stood behinde them, 20 And came betweene the tentes of the Egyptians, and the tentes of Israel, and it was a cloude and darknesse, and gaue light by night: and all the night long the one came not at the other.

21 And Moses stretched out his hande ouer the Sea, and the Lord caused the Sea to goe backe by a very strong East winde at that night, and made the Sea dry land, and the waters were diuided.

22 And the children of Israel went into the midz of the Sea vpon the dry ground, and the waters were a wall vnto them on their right hand, and on their left hand.

23 And the Egyptians folowed, and went in after them into the middes of the Sea, euen all Pharaos horses, his charets, and his horsemen.

24 And in the morning watch, the Lord looked vnto the helle of the Egyptians out of the pillar of the fire and of the cloude, & troubled the hoste of the Egyptians, 25 And tooke off his charet wheelcs, and carried them away violently: So that the Egyptians sayde, Let vs flee from the face of Israel: for the Lord fighteth for them against the Egyptians.

26 And the Lord sayde vnto Moses, stretch out thy hand ouer the Sea, that the waters may come againe vpon the Egyptians, vpon their charets, and vpon their horsemen.

27 And Moses stretched forth his hand ouer the sea, and it came againe to his course eary in the morning, and the Egyptians fled againe it: and the Lord ouerthrewe the Egyptians in the middes of the sea.

28 And the water returned, and covered the charets, and the horsemen, and all the hoste of Pharao that came into the sea after them, so that there remained not one of them.

29 But the children of Israel walked vpon dry land through the mids of the sea, and the waters were a wall vnto them on the right hand of them, and on the left.

30 Thus the Lord deliuered Israel the selfe same day out of the hand of the Egyptians: and Israel saw the Egyptians dead vpon the sea side.

31 And Israel sawe that mighty power which the Lord shewed vpon the Egyptians: and the people feared the Lord, and beleeued the Lord, and his seruant Moses.

And they tooke their iourney from Elim, and all the congregation of the children of Israel came to the wilderness of Sin, which is betwene Elim and Sinai, the fifteenth day of the second moneth after their departing out of the land of Egypt.

2 And the whole Congregation of the children of Israel murmured against Moses and Aaron in the wilderness.

3 And the children of Israel said vnto them, would to God wee had died by the hande of the Lord in the land of Egypt, when we sate by the flesh pots, & when wee did eat bread our bellies full: for ye haue brought vs out into this wilderness to fill this whole multitude with hunger.

4 Then said the Lord vnto Moses, Behold, I will raine bread from heauen to you: and the people shal goe out, and gather a certaine rate every day, that I may proue them, whether they will walke in my Law or no.

5 The sixth day they shal prepare for themselves that which they will bring in, and let it be twice as much as they gather in dayly.

13 And at euen the Quailes came by, and covered the tents: and in the morning the dew lay round about the hose.

15 And when the children of Israel sawe it, they said euery one to his neighbor, It is Manna: for they wist not what it was. And Moses saide vnto them, This is the bread which the Lord hath giuen you to eate.

16 This is the word which the Lord had commanded: gather of it euery man for himselfe to eate, a Gomer full for euery man, according to the number of your soules, and take euery man for them which are in his tents.

17 And the children of Israel did so, and gathered some more, some lesse.

18 And when they did mete it with a Gomer, vnto him that gathered much, remained nothing ouer, and vnto him that had gathered little was there no lacke: euery man gathered sufficient for his eating.

19 And Moses said vnto them, See that no man let ought remaine to the morning.

20 Notwithstanding, they hearkened not vnto Moses: but some of them left of it untill the morning, and it waied full of wormes, and corrupted: and Moses was angry with them.

21 And they gathered al mornings euery man as much as sufficed for his eating: and as soone as the heate of the Sunne came, it mould.

22 And the sixth day they gathered twice as much bread, two Gomers for one man: and all the rulers of the Congregation came and tolde Moses.

2 And the people did chide with Moses, and saide, Wile vs water to drinke, Moses said vnto them, why chide you with me: wherefore do ye tempt the Lord?

3 Where the people thirsted for water, and the people murmured against Moses, and saide, wherefore hast thou thus brought vs out of Egypt, to kill vs, and our children, and our cattell with thirst?

4 And Moses cried vnto the Lord, saying, what shall I do vnto this people, they be almost ready to stone me.

5 And the Lord said vnto Moses, See before the people, and take with thee of the Elders of Israel: and thy rod where with thou smotest the riuer, take it in thine hand, and goe.

6 Behold, I will stand before thee vpon the rocke that is in Horeb, and thou shalt smite the rocke, and there shall come water out thereof, that the people may drinke. And Moses did so before the eyes of the Elders of Israel.

7 And he called the name of the place Massah, and Meribah, because of the chiding of the children of Israel, and because they tempted the Lord, saying, Is the Lord amongst vs, or not?

8 Then came Amalec, and fought with Israel in Raphidim.

9 And Moses said vnto Joshua, Choose vs out men, and goe fight with Amalec: and to morrow I will stand on the top of the hill, and the rod of God shall be in my hand.

10 Joshua did as Moses bade him, & fought with Amalec: and Moses and Aaron, and Hur went vp to the top of the hill.

11 And it came to passe, that when Moses helde vp his hand, Israel had the better: and when hee let his hande downe, Amalec had the better.

12 But Moses hands were heauy, and therefore they tooke a stone and put it vnder him, and hee sate downe thereon: and Aaron and Hur stayed by his handes, the one on the one side, and the other on the other side: and his hands remained steady vntill the going downe of the Sunne.

13 And Joshua discomfited Amalec and his people with the edge of the sword.

14 And the Lord saide vnto Moses, Write this for a remembrance in a booke, and commit it into the eares of Joshua: for I will vterly put out the remembrance of Amalec from vnder heaven.

15 And Moses made an Altar, and called the name of it, The Lord is he that worketh miracles for me.

16 For hee saide, The hand is on the seate of God, the Lord will haue warre with Amalec from generation to generation.

The xviii. Chapter.

1 Ichro Moses father in Law, brought his wife and children vnto him.

And Ethio the priest of Madian, Moses father in lawe, heard of all that God had done for Moses, and for Israel his people, & that the Lord had brought Israel out of Egypt.

2 Therefore he tooke Sephora Moses wife, after hee had sent her backe,

3 And her two sonnes, of which the one was called Gershom: for hee said, I haue bene an alien in a strange land.

4 The name of the other was Eliezer: for the God of my father said he was mine helpe, and deliuered me from the sword of Pharaos.

5 And Jethro Moses father in lawe, came with his two sonnes, and his wife, vnto Moses into the wilderness, where hee abode by the mount of God.

6 And he saide vnto Moses, I thy father in law Jethro am come to thee, and thy wife also, and her two sonnes with her.

7 And Moses went out to meete his father in lawe, and did obeysance, and kissed him: and ethe atked other of his health, and they came into the tent.

8 And Moses told his father in lawe all that the Lord had done vnto Pharaos and to the Egyptians for Israels sake, and all the trauaile that had come vpon them by the way, and how the Lord deliuered them.

9 And Jethro reioyced ouer al the goodnesse which the Lord had done to Israel, and because hee had deliuered them out of the hande of the Egyptians.

10 And Jetho saide, Blessed bee the Lord which hath deliuered you out of the hand of the Egyptians, & out of the hand of Pharao, which hath also deliuered his people from the hand of the Egyptians.

11 Now I knowe that the Lord is greater then all gods: for in the thing wherby they dealt proudly with the, were they destroyed themselves.

12 And Jetho Moses father in lawe, tooke whole burnt offerings and sacrifices, to offer to God: and Aaron & all the Elders of Israel came to eate bread with Moses father in lawe before God.

13 And on the morowe Moses sate to iudge the people: and the people stood about Moses, from morning vnto euen.

14 And when Moses father in lawe sawe all that he did vnto the people, he said, What is this that thou doest vnto the people? why sittest thou thy selfe alone, and all the people stand about thee from morning vnto euen?

15 And Moses said to his father in lawe, Because the people come vnto me to seeke counsell of God.

16 When they haue a matter, they come vnto me, and I iudge betweene every man and his neighbour, and shew them the ordinances of God and his lawes.

17 And Moses father in lawe said vnto him, It is not well that thou doest.

18 Thou both weariest thy selfe, and this people that is with thee: for this thing is of more waight then thou art able to performe thy selfe alone.

19 Heare therefore now my voice, and I will giue thee counsell, and God shall be with thee: Bee thou vnto the people as to Godward, that thou mayest bring the causes vnto God:

20 And thou shalt teach them ordinances and lawes, and shew them the way wherein they must walke, and the worke that they must doe.

21 Whoeouer, thou shalt seeke out among all the people men of courage and such as feare God, true men, hating couctousnesse, and place of these ouer the people rulers of thousands, rulers of hundreds, rulers of fifties, and rulers of tentes, 22 And let them iudge the people at all seasons: and every great matter that commeth, let them bring vnto thee, but let them iudge all small causes themselves, and so shall it be easier for thy selfe, and they shall beare a burden with thee.

23 If thou shalt doe this thing, and God charge thee withal, thou shalt be able to endure, and yet the people shall come to their place in peace.

24 And so Moses obeyed the voice of his father in lawe, and did all that he had said.

25 And Moses chose men of courage out of all Israel, and made them as heads ouer the people, rulers of thousands, rulers of hundreds, rulers of fifties, and rulers of tentes, 26 And they iudged the people at all seasons: but brought the hard causes vnto Moses, and iudged all small matters themselves.

27 And Moses let his father in lawe depart: and he went into his owne land.

The six. Chapter.

10 The people are commanded to be sanctified.

In the third moneth, when the children of Israel were gone out of the land of Egypt, the same day came they into the wilderness of Sinai.

2 For they were departed from Raphidim, and were come to the desert of Sinai, and had pitched their tents in the wilderness, and there Israel camped before the mount.

3 But Moses went by vnto God, and the Lord called vnto him out of the mountaine, saying, Thus shalt thou say vnto the house of Jacob, and tell the children of Israel,

4 Ye haue seene what I did vnto the Egyptians, and tooke you vp vpon Eagles wings, and haue brought you vnto my selfe.

5 Now therefore if ye will heare my voice in deed, and keepe my couenant, ye shall be as a deare treasure vnto me about all nations: for all the earth is mine.

6 Ye shall be vnto mee also a priestly kingdome, & a holy people. And these are the words which thou shalt say vnto the children of Israel.

7 Moses came and called for the elders of the people, and laid before their faces all these words which the Lord commanded him.

8 And the people answered all together, and said, All that the Lord hath said, we will do. And Moses brought the words of the people vnto the Lord.

9 And the Lord sayde vnto Moses, Lo, I come vnto thee in a thicke cloude, that the people may heare me talking with thee, and beleeue thee for euer. Moses shewed the wordes of the people vnto the Lord.

10 And the Lord said vnto Moses, Goe vnto the people, and sanctifie them to day and to morrow, and let them wash their clothes, 11 And bee ready against the third day: for the third day the Lord will come downe in the sight of all the people vpon mount Sinai.

12 And thou shalt set bounds vnto the people round about, and say, Take heede to your selves, that ye go not vp into the mount, or touch the border of it: whosoever toucheth the mount, shall surely die.

13 There shall not an hand touch it, els hee shall bee stoned, or shot thowoe: whether it be beast, or man, it shall not liue: when the trumpet bloweth long, then may they come vp into the mountaine.

14 And Moses went downe from the mount vnto the people, and sanctified them, and they washed their clothes.

15 And he said vnto the people, Bee ready against the third day, and come not at your wiues.

16 And the third day in the morning there was thunder and lightning, and a thicke cloude vpon the mount, and the voice of the trumpet exceeding loud, so that all the people that was in the holle was afraid.

17 And Moses brought the people out of the tents to meeete with God, and they stood at the nether part of the hill.

18 And mount Sinai was altogether on a smoke, because the Lord descended downe vpon it in fire, and the smoke thereof ascended vp as the smoke of a furnace, and all the mount quaked exceedingly.

19 And when the voice of the trumpet blew

20 And the Lord came downe vpon mount Sinai in the top of the hill: and when the Lord called Moses by into the top of the hill, Moses went vp.

21 And the Lord said vnto Moses, Go downe, charge the people lest they breake out from their bounds to see the Lord, and so, many of them perish.

22 And let the priestes also which come to the Lord sanctifie themselves, lest the Lord destroy them.

23 And Moses sayd vnto the Lord, The people cannot come vp into the mount Sinai, for thou chargedst vs, saying, Set bounds about the hill, and sanctifie it.

24 And the Lord sayd vnto him, Away, and get thee downe, and thou shalt come vp, thou, and Aaron with thee: but let not the priestes and the people presume for to come vp vnto the Lord, lest he destroy them.

25 And so Moses went downe vnto the people, and told them.

The xx. Chapter.

1 The ten commandments of God are declared vnto the people. 23 Gods of siluer and gold are againe forbidden.

And God spake all these words, and sayd, I am the Lord thy God, which haue brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

3 Thou shalt haue none other gods in my sight.

4 Thou shalt make thee no grauen image, neither the likenesse of any thing that is in heauen aboue, either in the earth beneath, nor in the waters vnder the earth.

5 Thou shalt not bow downe to them, nor worship them: for I the Lord thy God am a zealous God, and blisse the theinne of the fathers vpon the children, vnto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me:

6 And shew mercie vnto thousands in them that loue me, and keepe my commandments.

7 Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vaine: for the Lord wil not hold him guiltlesse that taketh his name in vaine.

8 Remember the Sabbath day, that thou shalt sanctifie it.

9 Sixe dayes shalt thou labour, and doe all that thou hast to doe.

10 But the seuenth day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God: in it thou shalt doe no manner of worke, thou and thy sonne & thy daughter, thy man seruant and thy maid seruant, thy cattell and the stranger that is within thy gates:

11 For in sixe dayes the Lord made heauen and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seuenth day: wherefore the Lord blessed the seuenth day, and halowed it.

12 Honour thy father and thy mother: that thy dayes may bee long in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.

13 Thou shalt not kill.

14 Thou shalt not commit adultery.

19 And said vnto Moses, Talke thou with vs: and wee will heare: But let not God talke with vs, lest we die.

20 And Moses sayd vnto the people, feare not, for God is come to proue you, and that his feare may be before your eyes, that ye sinne not.

20 And the people stood afarre off, and Moses went into the thicke cloude, where God was.

22 And the Lord said vnto Moses, Thus thou shalt say vnto the children of Israel, See haue seene that I haue talked with you from out of heauen.

23 See shall not make therfore with me gods of siluer, neither shall ye gods of gold.

24 An altar of earth thou shalt make vnto me, and thereon offer thy whole burnt offerings, and thy peace offerings, thy sheepe, and thine oxen: In all places where I shall put the remembrance of my name, thither I will come vnto thee, and blisse thee.

25 And if thou wilt make me an altar of stone, see thou make it not of hewen stone: els if thou list by thy toole vpon it, thou hast polluted it.

26 Neither shalt thou goe by thy steppes vnto mine altar, that thy name bee not sweved thereon.

28 If an orell goze a man, or a woman, that they die, then the ore shall be stoned, and his flesh shall not be eaten: but the owner of the ore shall goe quite.

29 If the ore were wont to push with his horne in time past, and it hath bene told his master, and he hath not kept him, but that hee hath killed a man or a woman: then the ore shall be stoned, and his owner shall die also.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

5 Moses offered vp sacrifice vnto the Lord, and sprinkled the people with the blood of the covenant. 7 The people promise obedience vnto the Lord.

And he sayd vnto Moses, Come by vnto the Lord, thou, and Aaron, Nadab, and Abihu, and the threescore and ten elders of Israel, and ye shall worshipping asarre off.

2 And Moses himselfe alone shall goe vnto the Lord: but they shall not come nigh, neither shall the people go by with him.

3 And Moses came, and tolde the people all the wordes of the Lord, and all the iudgements: and all the people answered with one voice, and sayd, All the wordes which the Lord hath sayd, will we do.

4 And Moses wrote all the wordes of the Lord, and rose by earely, and set by an altar vnder the hill, and twelue stones, according to the twelue tribes of Israel,

5 And sent yong men of the children of Israel, which brought whole burnt offerings, and offered peace offerings of oxen vnto the Lord.

6 And Moses tooke halfe of the blood, and put it in basons, and the other halfe he sprinkled on the altar.

7 And hee tooke the booke of the covenant, and read it in the audience of the people: and they sayd, All that the Lord hath sayd, will wee do, and be obedient.

8 And Moses tooke the blood, and sprinkled it on the people, and sayd, Beholde, this is the blood of the covenant which the Lord hath made with you vpon all these wordes.

9 Then went Moses and Aaron, Nadab, and Abihu, and the threescore and ten elders of Israel by.

10 And they saw the God of Israel: and there was vnder his feet, as it were, a worke of a Saphire stone, and as it were the heauen when it is cleare.

11 And hee layed not his hand vpon the noses of the children of Israel: and they saw God, and did eat and drinke.

12 And the Lord sayd vnto Moses, Come by to me into the hill, and be there, and I will giue thee tables of stone, and a law and commandments which I haue writtten, that thou mayest teach them.

13 And Moses rose by, and his minister Joshua: and Moses went by into the hill of God, 14 And sayd vnto the elders, Tary ye here vntill we come againe vnto you: Beholde, here is Aaron and Hur with you. If any man haue any matters to do, let him come to them.

15 And Moses went by into the mount, and a cloud couered the hill.

16 And the glory of the Lord abode vpon the mount Sinai, and the cloud couered it six dayes: and the seuenth day hee called vnto Moses out of the mids of the cloud.

17 And the light of the glory of the Lord, was like consuming fire on the top of the hill, in the eyes of the children of Israel.

18 And Moses went into the middes of the cloud, and gate him by into the mountaine: and *Moses was in the mount forty dayes, and forty nightes.

2 And thou shalt make holy raiment for Aaron thy brother, glorious and beautifull.

3 And thou shalt speake vnto all that are wise hearted, whom I haue filled with the spirit of wisdome, that they may make Aarons raiment to consecrate him, that hee may minister vnto me in the Priests office.

4 These are the garments which they shall make, a brestlap and an Ephod, a tunicle, a bordered coat, a miter, and a girdle, these holy garments that they make for Aaron thy brother and his sonnes, that they may minister vnto mee in the Priests office.

5 And let them take gold, blew silke, purple scarlet, and white twined silke.

11 And thou shalt kill him before the Lord, by the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation.

12 And take of the blood of the calfe, and put it vpon the hornes of the Altar with thy finger: and powre all the rest of the blood beside the bottoome of the Altar.

13 * And take all the fat that couereth the inwards, and the caule that is on the liuer, and the two kidneis, and the fat that is vpon them, and burne them vpon the altar.

14 But the flesh of the calfe, and his skin, and his dung, shalt thou burne with fire without the host: it is a sinne offering.

15 Thou shalt also take one ram, and Aaron and his sonnes shall put their handes vpon the head of the ram.

16 And when thou shalt slaine the ram, thou shalt take his blood, and sprinkle it round about vpon the altar:

17 And cut the ram in pieces, and wash the inwards of him, and his legs, and put them vnto the pieces, and vnto his head.

18 And then burne the whole ram vpon the Altar: for it is a whole burnt offering vnto the Lord for a sweete fauour, a sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord.

19 And take the other ramme, and Aaron and his sonnes shall put their handes vpon his head.

20 Then shalt thou kill him, and take of his blood, and put it vpon the tip of the right eare of Aaron, and vpon the tip of the right eare of his sonnes, and vpon the thumbe of their right handes, and vpon the great toe of their right foot, and sprinkle the blood vpon the altar round about.

21 And thou shalt take of the blood that is vpon the altar, and of the anointing oile, and sprinkle it vpon Aaron and his belements, and vpon his sonnes, and vpon their garments with him, and he shall be hallowed, and his clothes, and his sonnes, and their clothes with him.

22 And thou shalt take the fat of the ramme, and his rumpe, and the fat that couereth the inwards, and the caule of the liuer, and the two kidneis, and the fat that is vpon them, and the right shoulder, for that ramme is a full offering:

23 And a simnell of bread, and a cake of oiled bread, and wafer out of the basket of vnleavened bread that is before the Lord.

24 And put all vpon the hands of Aaron, and on the hands of his sonnes, and waue them for a waue offering before the Lord.

25 And againe, thou shalt take it from off their handes, and burne it vpon the altar for a whole burnt offering, to be a fauour of sweetnesse before the Lord: for it is a sacrifice by fire vnto the Lord.

26 And thou shalt take the brest of the ramme of Aarons consecration, and waue it for a waue offering before the Lord, and it shall bee thy part.

27 And thou shalt sanctifie the brest of the waue offering, and the shoulder of the waue offering, which is waued and heaued by of the ramme of the consecration for Aaron and for his sonnes.

28 And it shall be Aarons and his sonnes by a statute for euer from the children of Israel, for it is an heaue offering: and it shall be an heaue offering from the children of Israel, of the sacrifice of their peace offerings, euen their heaue offering shall it be vnto the Lord.

29 And the holy garments of Aaron shall bee his sonnes after him, to be anointed therein, and to fill their hands therein.

30 And that sonne that is priest in his stead after him, shall put them on seuen dayes, when hee commeth into the tabernacle of the congregation to minister in the holy place.

35 Therefore shalt thou doe vnto Aaron and his sonnes, according to all things which I haue commanded thee: seven dayes shalt thou fill their hands.

37 Seven dayes thou shalt reconcile the altar, and sanctifie it, and it shall be an altar most holy: and whatsoever toucheth the altar, shall be holy.

38 This is that which thou shalt offer vpon the altar, * two lambs of one yere old day by day continually:

42 And let this be a continuall whole burnt offering amongst your children after you, before the dooze of the Tabernacle of the congregation before the Lord, where I wil meet you, to speak there vnto thee.

43 There I will meet with the children of Israel, and the place shall be sanctified in my glory.

44 And I will sanctifie the tabernacle of the congregation and the altar: and I will sanctifie also both Aaron and his sonnes to be my priests.

45 And I will dwell amongst the children of Israel, and will be their God.

The xxx. Chapter.

1 The forme of the altar of incense. 13 The summe that the Israelites should pay to the tabernacle.

And thou shalt make an altar for sweet incense: of Sittim wood shalt thou make it.

2 A cubit long, & a cubit broad, foure square shall it be, and two cubits high: the hornes thereof shall proceed out of it.

3 And thou shalt overlay it with fine golde, both the roofe and the walles round about, and his hornes also, and shalt make vnto it a crowne of golde round about.

4 And two golden rings shalt thou make to it, on either side vnder the crowne, that they may be as places for the barres to beare it withall.

5 And thou shalt make the barres of Sittim wood, and couer them with golde.

6 And thou shalt put it before the baile that is by the Arke of testimony before the Mercie seat, that is, vpon the testimony where I will meet with thee.

7 And Aaron shall burne thereon sweet incense every morning, when hee doelleth the lamps, then shall he burne it.

8 And likewise at euen when hee setteth by the lamps, he shall burne incense, and this incensing shall be perpetually before the Lord throughout your generations.

9 Thou shalt offer no strange incense thereon, nor whole burnt sacrifice, nor meat offering, neither powre any drinke offering thereon.

10 And Aaron shall reconcile vpon the hornes of it once in a yere, with the blood of the sinne offering of reconciling, euen once in the yere shall hee reconcile vpon it throughout your generations: it is most holy vnto the Lord.

11 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

12 If thou takest the summe of the children of Israel after their number, they shall giue every man a reconciling of his soule vnto the Lord when thou numbrest them, that there be no plague amongst them when thou numbrest them.

13 And thus much shall every man giue that goeth into the number: halfe a sicle, after the sicle of the Sanctuarie. A sicle is twentie gerahs: an halfe sicle shall be the heaue offering of the Lord.

14 All that are numbred from twenty yeres olde and aboue, shall giue a heaue offering vnto the Lord.

15 The rich shall not passe, and the poore shall not goe vnder halfe a sicle, but yee shall giue an heaue offering vnto the Lord, that he may haue mercy on your soules.

16 And thou shalt take the reconciling money of the children of Israel, and shalt put it vnto the vse of the tabernacle of the congregation, that it may be a memoriale vnto the children of Israel before the Lord, that hee may haue mercy vpon your soules.

17 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

18 Thou shalt make a lauer of brasse, and his foot also of brasse, to wash withall, and shalt put it betweene the tabernacle of the congregation and the altar, and put water therein.

19 For Aaron and his sonnes shall wash their hands and their feet therein.

20 When they goe in to the tabernacle of the congregation, or when they go in to the altar to minister and to burne the Lords offering, they shall wash themselves with water, lest they die.

21 Likewise they shall wash their hands and their feet, lest they die: and it shall be an ordinance vnto them for ever, both vnto him and his seed throughout their generations.

22 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

23 Take vnto thee principall spices, of the most pure Myrrhe five hundred sicles, of sweet Cynamome halfe so much, euen two hundred and fifty sicles, of sweet Calamus two hundred and fifty sicles,

27 And the table and all his apparell, and the candlesticke and all his vessels, and the altar of incense, 28 And the Altar of whole burnt sacrifice with all his vessels, and the laver and his foot.

29 And thou shalt sanctifie them, that they may be most holy : whatsoeuer toucheth them, shall be sanctified.

30 And thou shalt anoint Aaron & his sonnes, and consecrate them, that they may minister vnto me in the priests office.

31 And thou shalt speake vnto the children of Israel, saying, This shall be an holy ointing oile vnto me thozowout your generations.

13 The Sabbath day is the signe of our sanctification.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

Behold, I haue called by name Besaleel the sonne of Uri, the sonne of Hur, of the tribe of Iuda,

3 And I haue filled him with the spirit of God, in wisdom and vnderstanding, in knowledge, and in all manner worke,

4 To find out witty deuices, and to worke in golde, siluer, and in brasse,

5 And in the craft to set stones, and to carue in timber, and to worke in all maner workmanship.

6 And beholde, I haue giuen him to be his companion, Ooliab the sonne of Achisemec, of the tribe of Dan: and in the hearts of all that are wise hearted I haue put wisdom, to make all that I haue commanded thee :

7 The Tabernacle of the congregation, the Arke of the testimony, and the Mercy seat that is thereupon, and all the furniture of the Tabernacle :

8 And the table and his furniture, and the pure candlesticke with all his furniture, and the altar of incense :

9 And the altar of whole burnt offering, and all his furniture, and the laver with his foot:

10 The vestments to minister in, and the holy garments for Aaron the Priest, and the garments of his sonnes to minister in :

11 And the anointing oile, and sweet incense for the Sanctuary: according to all that I haue commanded thee, shall they do.

12 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

13 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say, In any wise see that ye keepe my Sabbath: for it is a signe betweene mee and you in your generations, for to know that I the Lord am he that doth sanctifie you.

14 Keepe my Sabbath therefore, for it is holy vnto you. He that defileth it, shall be put to death: for whosoever worsheth therein, the same soule shall be rooted out from amongst his people.

15 Sixe dayes shall men worke, and in the seventh day is the Sabbath of the holy rest of the Lord: whosoever doeth any worke in the Sabbath day, shall die the death.

16 Wherefore let the children of Israel keepe the Sabbath, that they obserue the Sabbath thozowout their generations: it is a perpetuall covenant.

17 For it is a signe betweene me and the children of Israel for euer: for in six dayes the Lord made heauen and earth, and in the seventh day he rested, and was refreshed.

The xxxij. Chapter.

1 The Israelites worship the golden Calf. 11 Moses prayeth for the sinne of the people.

AND when the people saw that it was long yet Moses came downe out of the mountaine, they gathered them selues together vnto Aaron, and sayd vnto him, *Up, make vs gods to goe before vs: for we wote not what is become of this Moses, the man that brought vs out of the land of Egypt.

2 And Aaron sayd vnto them, I plucke off the golden earrings which are in the eares of your wiues, of your sonnes, and of your daughters, and bring them vnto me.

3 And all the people plucked off the golden earrings which they had in their eares, and brought them vnto Aaron.

4 And he receiued them of their hands, and fashioned it with a grauer, and made of it a Calf of molten metall: and they sayd, These be thy gods, O Israel, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

5 And when Aaron saw that he made an altar before it, and Aaron made proclamation, saying, To morrow is the holy day of the Lord.

6 And they rose vp in the morning, and offered whole burnt offerings, and brought peace offerings also: and the people sate them downe to eat and drinke, and rose vp againe to play.

7 And the Lord sayde vnto Moses, See get thee downe, thy people which thou broughtest out of the land of Egypt hath marred all.

hipped it, and haue offered thereunto, saying, These be thy gods, O Israel, which haue brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

9 And the Lord sayd vnto Moses, I haue seene this people, and beholde, it is a stiffnecked people.

10 And now suffer me, that my wrath may ware hot against them, and consume them: and I will make of thee a mighty people.

11 And Moses besought the Lord his God, and saide, Lord, why doest thy wrath ware hot against thy people, which thou hast brought out of the land of Egypt with great power, and with a mighty hand?

12 Wherefore should the Egyptians speake, and say, for a mischiefed did he bring them out, euen so to slay them in the mountaines, and to consume them from the face of the earth? Turn from thy fierce wrath, and repent of this euill against thy people.

13 Remember Abraham, Isaac, and Israel thy seruants, to whom thou swarest by thine owne selfe, and saidst vnto them, * I will multiply your seed as the starres of heauen, and all this land that I haue spoken of, will I giue vnto your seed, and they shall inherit it for euer.

14 And the Lord restrained himselfe from the euill which he sayd he would do vnto his people.

15 And Moses turned his backe, and went downe from the hill, and the two tables of the testimony were in his hand.

16 And the same tables were written in both the leaues, euen on the one side and on the other were they written: and these tables were the worke of God, and the writing was the writing of God, grauen in the tables.

17 And when Iosuah heard the noise of the people as they shouted, hee sayd vnto Moses, There is a noise of warre in the holle.

18 And hee answered, It is not the crie of them that haue the mallerie, nor of them that haue the worke: but I do heare the noise of them that sing.

19 And alsoone as hee came nigh vnto the holle, hee saw the Calfe and the daunsing: and Moses wrath waxed hot, and he cast the tables out of his handes, and brake them beneath the hill.

20 And hee tooke the Calfe which they had made, and burned it in the fire, and stamped it into powder, and strawed it in the water, & made the children of Israel drinke of it.

21 And Moses sayde vnto Aaron, what did this people vnto thee, that thou hast brought so great a sinne vpon them?

22 And Aaron answered, Let not the wrath of my lord ware fierce: thou knowest the people that they are set on mischiefed.

23 For they sayd vnto me, Make vs gods to go before vs, for we wote not what is become of Moses, the man that brought vs out of the land of Egypt.

24 And I sayde vnto them, Let them that haue gold, plucke it off: And they brought it vnto me: and I did cast it into the fire, and thereof came out this Calfe.

25 Moses therefore saw that the people were naked (and that Aaron had made them naked vnto their shame, amongst their enemies)

26 And Moses stood in the gate of the holle, and said, who pertaineth to the Lord, let him come vnto me. And all the sonnes of Leui gathered themselves together vnto him.

27 And he sayd vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord God of Israel, Put every man his sword by his side, and goe in and out from gate to gate thorowout the holle, & slay every man his brother, and every man his companion, and every man his neighbour.

28 And the children of Leui did as Moses had sayd: and there fell of the people the same day about three thousand men.

29 And Moses sayd, I fill your handes vnto the Lord this day, every man vpon his sonne, and vpon his brother, and that there may be giuen you a blessing this day.

30 And on the morow Moses sayde vnto the people, See haue sinned a great sinne: And now I wil go by vnto the Lord, peradventure I may purchase an atonement for your sinne.

31 Moses therefore went againe vnto the Lord, and sayd, Oh, this people haue sinned a great sinne: and haue made them gods of golde.

32 And nowe forgiue them their sinne: or if thou wilt not, wipe me, I pray thee, out of thy booke which thou hast written.

33 And the Lord sayde vnto Moses, I will put him out of my booke that hath sinned against me.

34 And now goe thou, bring the people vnto the place which I sayd vnto thee, Behold, mine Angell shall goe before thee: Deuert theesse, in that day when I visite, I will visite their sinne vpon them.

35 And the Lord plagued the people, because they made the Calfe which Aaron made.

4 And when the people heard this euill tidings, they sorowed: and no man did put on his best raiment.

5 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, Say vnto the children of Israel, Be are a stiffnecked people: I must come once suddenly vpon you, and make an ende of you: Therefore nowe put thy goodly raiment from thee, that I may wit what to do vnto thee.

6 And the children of Israel layd their goodly raiment from them, by the mount Horeb.

30 And Aaron and all the children of Israel looked vpon Moses, and beholde, the skinne of his face shone, and they were afraid to come nigh him.

31 And when Moses had called them, Aaron and all the chiefe of the congregation came vnto him, and Moses talked with them.

32 And afterward, all the children of Israel came nigh: and hee gaue them in commaundement all that the Lord had sayde vnto him in mount Sinai.

33 And when Moses had made an ende of communing with them, he put a covering vpon his face.

35 And the children of Israel saw the face of Moses, that the skin of Moses face shone: and Moses put the covering vpon his face againe, vntill he went in to commune with him.

The xxxv. Chapter.

2 The Sabbath is commanded to be kept.

And Moses gathered all the Congregation of the children of Israel together, and sayde vnto them, These are the wordes which the Lord hath commaunded, that ye should doe them.

2 Sixe dayes yee shall worke: but the seuenth day shall bee vnto you the holy Sabbath of the Lordes rest: whosoever doeth any worke therein, shall die.

3 Ye shall kinde * no fire throug hout your habitations vpon the Sabbath day.

4 And Moses spake vnto all the congregation of the children of Israel, saying, This is the thing which the Lord commanded, saying,

5 Take from amongst you an heaue offering vnto the Lord: whosoever is of a willing heart, let him bring that heaue offering to the Lozde, namely, gold, siluer, and brasse,

6 And blew silke, purple, scarlet, white silke, goates haire,

7 And rams skins red, and Carus skins, with Sittim wood,

8 Oile for light, and spices for anointing oile, and for the sweete incense:

9 And Onix stones, and stones to bee set in the Ephod, and in the brestlap.

10 And let all them that are wise hearted among you, come & make all that the Lord hath commaunded, 11 The tabernacle and the tent thereof, and hiscouering, and his rings, his boords, his bars, his pillars, and his sockets.

12 The arke and the stauces thereof with the mercie seate, and the baile that coureth it,

13 The table, and his barres, and all his beffels, and the shew bread,

14 The candlesticke of light, and his furniture, and his lampes with the oile for the light,

15 The incense altar, and his barres, the anointing oile, and the sweete incense, and the hanging of the dooze at the entring in of the tabernacle,

16 The altar of whols burnt sacrifice, with his brasen gridiron, his stauces, and al his beffels, the lauer and his foote:

17 And the hangings of the court, with his pillars, and their sockets, and the hanging in the dooze of the court, 18 The pinnes of the tabernacle, & the pinnes of the court, with their cordes.

19 The ministring garments to minister in the holy place, and the holy bestments for Aaron the Priest, and the bestments of his sonnes, that they may minister in the Priestes office.

20 And all the congregation of the children of Israel departed from the presence of Moses.

21 And euery one came, as many as their hearts encouraged them, and as many as their spirits made them willing, & brought an heaue offering for the Lord, to the making of the tabernacle of the congregation, and for all his beffels, and for the holy bestments.

22 And they came both men and women, as many as were willing hearted, and brought bracelets, and carerings, rings, and chaines, which ieiwels were all of golde: and all the men brought a wauie offering of gold vnto the Lord.

23 And euery man with whome was found blew silke, purple, scarlet, white silke, and goats haire, & red skins of rammes, and Carus skins, brought them.

24 All that did heaue by an oblation of siluer and brasse, brought an heaue offering vnto the Lord: and all men with whom was found Sittim wood for any maner worke of the ministracion, brought it.

25 And all the women that were wise hearted, did spin with their hands, and brought the spun worke, both of blew silke, purple, scarlet, and white silke.

27 And the lordes brought Onir stones, and stones to be set in the Ephod, and in the breastplate, 28 And spice, and oyle for light, and for the anoynting oyle, and for the sweet incense.

29 And the children of Israel brought a willing offering vnto the Lord, both men and women, as many as had willing hearts, to bring for al manner workes, which the Lord had commanded to be made by the hands of Moses.

30 And Moses saide vnto the children of Israel, Beholde, the Lord hath called by name Befaleel the sonne of Uri, the sonne of Hur, of the tribe of Juda,

31 And hath filled him with the spirit of God, in wisdom and vnderstanding, in knowledge, and in all manner of worke,

32 To finde out curious workes, which are made in golde, siluer, and brasse,

33 In the craft of stones to set them, and in caruing of wood, to make any manner of subtil worke, 34 And he hath put in his heart, that he may teach, both hee and Ooliab the sonne of Achisemeth, of the tribe of Dan.

35 Them hath hee filled with wisdom of heart, to worke all manner of grauen, and brodered, and needle worke, in blew silke, and purple, in scarlet, and white silke, and in weauing, and to doe all manner of worke, and wittie deuises.

The xxxvj. Chapter.

3 The great readinesse of the people in offering toward the building of the tabernacle.

AND Befaleel wrought, and Ooliab, and all wise hearted men, to whom the Lord gaue wisdom and vnderstanding to know how to worke all manner of worke for the seruiue of the Sanctuary, and all that the Lord had commanded.

2 And Moses called Befaleel, Ooliab, & all the wise hearted men, and such as the Lord had giuen wisdom vnto, & as many as their hearts couraged to come vnto that worke, to worke it.

3 And they receiued of Moses all the heauie offering which the children of Israel had brought for the worke of the seruiue of the Sanctuary, to make it withall. And beside that, they brought free offerings vnto it euery day in the morning.

4 And all the wise men that wrought at the holy worke, came euery man from his worke which they made:

5 And they spake vnto Moses, saying, The people bring too much, and more then enough for the seruiue and worke which the Lord hath commanded to be made:

6 And then Moses gaue commandement, and they caused it to bee proclaimed throughout the hoste, saying, See that neither man nor woman prepare any more worke for the heauie offering of the Sanctuary: and so the people were forbidden to bring.

7 For the stiffe they had, was sufficient for all the worke to make it, and too much.

8 All the wise hearted men therefore, and they that wrought for the Tabernacle, made ten curtaines of white twined silke, blew silke, purple, and scarlet, with Cherubims of brodered worke made they them.

9 The length of one curtaine was twentie and eight cubites, and the breadth four: and the curtaines were all of one cise.

10 And hee coupled five curtaines by themselves, and other fiue by themselves.

11 And he made loopes of blew silke along by the edge of one curtaine, euen in the seluedge of the coupling curtaine: and likewise he made on the side of the coupling curtain on the other side.

12 Fiftie loopes made he in the one curtaine, and fiftie in the edge of the coupling curtaine on the other side, & the loopes helde one curtaine to another.

13 And he made fiftie taches of gold, and coupled the curtaines one to another with the taches: and so was it made one tabernacle.

14 And hee made cleuen curtaines of goates haire, to be a tent ouer the tabernacle.

15 The length of one curtaine had thirtie cubites, and was foure cubites broad, and they all cleuen of one cise.

16 And hee coupled five curtaines by themselves, and siue by themselves.

17 And he made fiftie loops along by the border of the vttermost coupling curtaine, and fiftie in the edge of the other coupling curtaine.

18 And hee made fiftie taches of brasse, to couple the tent together, that it might be one.

19 And hee made a couering vpon the tent of rammeskinnes, red, and yet another of Carus skinnes aboute that.

20 And hee made standing boordes for the tabernacle of Sittim wood.

21 The length of a boord was ten cubits, the breadth one cubite and a halfe.

22 One boord had two tenons: whereby they were ioyned one to another: and thus made hee for all the boords of the tabernacle.

23 And he made twentie boords for the south side of the tabernacle.

24 And fourtie sockets of siluer vnder the twentie boords, two sockets vnder one boord for his two tenons, and two sockets vnder another boord for his two tenons.

25 And for the other side of the Tabernacle which is toward the North, hee made twentie boords.

26 And their fourtie sockets of siluer: two sockets vnder one boord, and two sockets vnder the other boord.

27 And toward the west ende of the Tabernacle, he made six boords.

28 And two other boords made he in the corners of the tabernacle, for either side.

29 And they were ioyned close beneath and aboue with a ring: and thus they did to both the corners.

30 And there were eight boords, and seueene sockets of siluer: vnder euery boord two sockets.

31 And he made barres of Sittim wood, fiue for the boords of the Tabernacle in the one side, 32 And fiue for the boords of the Tabernacle in the other side, and siue barres for the boords of the tabernacle in the west end.

33 And he made the midst bar to shut through the boords, from the one end to the other:

34 And overlaid the boords with golde, and made rings of gold to thrust the barres thorow, and covered the barres with golde.

35 And he made a baile of blew silke, purple, scarlet, and white twined silke: with Cherubims made he it of brydered woꝝke.

36 And hee made thereunto foure pyllyars of Sittim wood, and ouerlaped them with golde: their knoppes were also of golde, and he cast foꝝ them foure sockets of siluer.

37 And he made an hanging foꝝ the tabernacle dooꝝe, of blew silke, purple, scarlet, and white twined silke, of needle woꝝke, 38 And the fiue pyllyars of it, with their knops: and ouerlaped the knops of them, and the hoops with gold: their fiue sockets also were of bꝛasse.

The xxxvij. Chapter.

The making and framing of the arke of witnesse.

And Beſaleel made the arke of Sittim wood: two cubits and a halfe long, and a cubit and a halfe broad, and a cubit and a halfe high:

2 And ouerlaped it with fine golde within and without, and made a crowne of golde to it round about,

3 And cast foꝝ it foure rings of golde foꝝ the foure corners of it: two rings foꝝ the one ſide, and two foꝝ the other.

4 And made barres of Sittim wood, and couered them with golde,

5 And put the barres in the rings along by the ſide of the arke, to beare the arke withall.

6 And he made the mercy ſeat of pure golde: two cubits and a halfe was the length thereof, and one cubit and a halfe the bredth.

7 And hee made two Cherubims of thicke gold, byon the two ends of the mercy ſeat.

8 One Cherub on the one end, and another Cherub on the other end: of the mercy ſeat made he the Cherubims in the ends thereof.

9 And the Cherubims ſpread out their wings aboue on high, and couered the mercie ſeat therewith, and their faces were one to another, euen to the mercy ſeatward were the faces of the Cherubims.

10 And hee made the table of Sittim wood: two cubits was the length thereof, and a cubit the bredth, and a cubit and a halfe the height of it.

11 And hee ouerlaped it with fine golde, and made thereunto a crowne of golde round about,

12 And made thereunto an hoope of an hand broad round about: and made byon the hoope a crowne of golde round about.

13 And he cast foꝝ it foure rings of golde, and put the rings in the foure corners that were in the foure feet thereof.

14 Euen hard by the hoope were the rings, into the which the barres were put, to beare the table withall.

15 And he made the barres of Sittim wood, and couered them with golde, to beare the table withall.

16 And made the beſſels foꝝ the table of pure golde, his diſhes, his incenſe cups, his couerings, and his bowles to poꝝure out withall.

17 And he made the candleſticke of pure gold, of a whole woꝝke made hee the candleſticke: his ſtaffe, his branches, his bowles, his knops, and his flowers were of one piece.

18 Sixe branches proceeding out of the ſides thereof: three branches of the candleſticke out of the one ſide thereof, and three branches of the candleſticke out of the other ſide thereof.

19 And in one branch three bowles, made like vnto almonds, with a knop & a flower: and in an other branch three bowles made like almonds, with a knop and a flower: and ſo thozowout the ſix branches that proceed out of the candleſticke.

20 And byon the candleſticke it ſelfe were foure bowles, after the faſhion of almonds, with knops and flowers.

21 Under euery two branches, a knop of the ſame, & a knop vnder two branches of the ſame, and a knop vnder two branches of the ſame, according to the ſix branches that proceed out of it.

22 And the knops and the branches proceeded out of it: and it was all one piece of pure thicke golde.

23 And hee made his ſeuen lannes, with the ſnuffers, and beſſels foꝝ the ſnuſſe of pure golde.

24 Of a talent of pure golde made he it, with all the beſſels thereof.

25 And he made the incenſe altar of Sittim wood: the length of it was a cubit, & the bredth a cubit: foꝝ it was foure ſquare, and two cubits high, with hornes proceeding out of it.

26 And he couered it with pure gold, both the toppe and the ſides thereof round about, and the hornes of it: and made vnto it a crowne of golde round about.

27 And he made two rings of gold foꝝ it vnder the crowne thereof, in the two corners of it, and in the two ſides thereof, to put barres in foꝝ to beare it withall.

28 And he made the barres of Sittim wood, and ouerlaped them with golde.

29 And he made the holy anointing oyle, and the ſweet pure incenſe after the Apothecaries craft.

The xxxviii. Chapter.

1 The altar of the whole burnt offerings. 8 The braſen lauer. 24 The ſumme of that which the people offered.

And he made the whole burnt offering altar of Sittim wood: ſiue cubits was the length thereof, and ſiue cubits the bredth, foure ſquare, and three cubits high.

2 And he made vnto it hornes in the foure corners of it, proceeding out of it, and he ouerlaped it with bꝛaſſe.

3 And he made all the beſſels of the altar, the aſhpannes, and] beſoms, and baſons, ſeſhbooks, and ſiue pannes: all the beſſels thereof made he of bꝛaſſe.

4 And hee made a braſen gridiron of netwoꝝke vnto the altar, round about alow, beneath, vnto the midd of the altar.

5 And cast foure rings of bꝛaſſe foꝝ the foure ends of the gridiron, to put barres in:

6 And he made the barres of Sittim wood, and couered them with bꝛaſſe:

7 And put the barres into the rings in the foure corners of the altar, to beare it withall, and made the altar hollow within the boꝝds.

8 And hee made the lauer of bꝛaſſe, and the foot of it alſo of bꝛaſſe, of the glaſſes of the women aſſembling, which came together at the dooꝝe of the Tabernacle of the congregation.

9 And he made the court on the South ſide, full South: and the hangings of the court were of white twined ſilke, hauing a hundred cubits.

10 Their pyllyars were twenty, and their braſen ſockets twenty: but the knops of the pyllyars, and their hoops were of ſiluer.

||Or, as ſome reade, Forcipes, that is, tongs.

* Rabbi Kimbri ſayeth, that the women brought their looking glaſſes which were of glaſſe or ſiluer, and offered them to the uſe of the Tabernacle.

11 And on the Northside, the hangings were an hundred cubites, their pillars were twentie, and their sockets of brasle twenty: but the knops and hoopes of the pillars were of siluer.

12 On the West side were hangings of fiftie cubites, ten pillars, & their ten sockets: but the knops & the hoopes of the pillars were of siluer.

13 And toward the East side, full East, were hangings of fiftie cubites.

14 The hangings of the one side of the gate, were fiftene cubites long, with three pillars, and three sockets.

15 And of the other side of the court gate, were hangings of fiftene cubites long, with three pillars, and three sockets.

16 All the hangings of the court round about, were of white twined silke:

17 But the sockets of the pillars were of brasle, and the knops, and the hoopes were of siluer, and the covering of the heads was of siluer, and all the pillars of the court were hooped about with siluer.

18 And the hanging of the gate of the court was neede worke, of blew silke, purple, scarlet, and white twined silke: twentie cubites long, and five in height, and breadth, ouer against the hangings of the court.

19 And their pillars were foure, and their foure sockets of brasle, and the knops of siluer, and the heads overlaid with siluer, and hooped about with siluer.

20 And all the sockets of the Tabernacle, and of the court round about, were of brasle.

21 This is the summe of the Tabernacle, euen of the Tabernacle of witness, as it was counted according to the Commandement of Moses, for the office of the Leuites, by the hand of Ithamar, sonne to Aaron the Priest.

22 And Betaleel the sonne of Uri, the sonne of Hur, of the tribe of Iuda, made all that the Lord commanded Moses:

23 And with him was Aholiab, sonne of Ahisamach, of the tribe of Dan, a cunning worke-man, an embroiderer, and a worker of neede-worke, in blew silke, purple, scarlet, and white twined silke.

24 All the golde that was occupied for all the work of the holy place, was the gold of the waue offering, twentie and nine talents, and seven hundred, and thirtie sicles, after the sicle of the Sanctuary.

25 And the summe of siluer of them that were numbred in the Congregation, was an hundred talents, and a thousand, seven hundred, and threescore and fiftene sicles, after the sicle of the Sanctuary.

26 For euery man an halfe weight, euen halfe a sicle, after the sicle of the sanctuary, for all them that went to bee numbred, from twenty yeeres olde, and aboue, euen for six hundred thousand, and three thousand, & five hundred, & fifty men.

27 And of the hundred talents of siluer, were cast the sockets of the Sanctuary, & the sockets of the baile: an hundred sockets of the hundred talents, a talent to euery socket.

28 And of the thousand, seven hundred, seuentie and five sicles, he made knops to the pillars, and overlaid the heads, and hooped them.

29 And the brasle of the waue offering was threescore and tenne talents, and two thousand, and foure hundred sicles.

30 And therewith he made the sockets to the dooze of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and the brasen Altar, and the brasen gridiron for it, with all the vessels of the Altar.

31 And the sockets of the court round about, and the sockets for the court gate, and all the pinnes of the Tabernacle, and all the pinnes of the court round about.

The xxxix. Chapter.

1 The apparell of Aaron and his sonnes. 32 All that the Lord commanded, was done and finished. 43 Moses blesteth the people.

And of the blew silke, purple, and scarlet, they made vestments of ministrat[i]on, to do seruice in the Holy place: and made the holy garments for Aaron, as the Lord commanded Moses.

2 And he made the Ephod of gold, blew silke, purple, scarlet, and white twined silke.

3 And they did beate the golde into thinne plates, and cut it into wyers, to worke it in the blew silke, purple, scarlet, and in the fine white, with brodered worke.

4 And they made two sides for it, to close them by by the two edges.

5 And the brodering of the girdle that was vpon it, was of the same stuffe, and after the same worke, of golde, blew silke, purple, scarlet, and twined white silke, as the Lord commanded Moses.

6 And they wrought Onix stones, closed in ouches of golde, and graued as signets are grauen, with the names of the children of Israel.

7 And hee put them on the shoulders of the Ephod, that they should bee stones for a remembrance of the children of Israel, as the Lord commanded Moses.

8 And hee made the brestplatte of brodered worke, like the worke of the Ephod, of gold, blew silke, purple, scarlet, and twined white silke.

9 It was foure square, and they made the brestplap double, an hande breadth long, and an hand breadth broad.

10 And they filled it with foure rowes of stones. The first rowe, a Sardius, a Topazius, and a Smaragdus.

11 The second rowe, a Rubi, a Saphire, and a Diamond.

12 In the thirde rowe, a Lyncurius, an Achates, and an Amathyll.

13 In the fourth rowe, a Turcas, an Onix, and a Iaspis: and they were closed in ouches of gold in their inclosers.

14 And the twelue stones were grauen as signets, with the names of the children of Israel, euery stone with his name, according to the twelue tribes.

15 And they made vpon the brestplap, two fastning chaines of wretched worke of pure gold.

16 And they made two ouches of golde, and two golde rings: and put the two rings in the two corners of the brestplap.

17 And they put the two chaines of golde in the two rings in the corners of the brestplap.

18 And the two ends of the two chaines, they fastened in the two ouches, and put them on the shoulders of the Ephod, vpon the foresaunt of it.

19 And they made two rings of gold, and put them on the two corners of the brestplap, vnder the 20 And they made two golden rings, and put them on the two sides of the Ephod, beneath on the foreside of it, and ouer against his fellowe, a boue vpon the brodering of the Ephod.

 21 And they framed the brestlap by his rings vnto the rings of the Ephod, with a lace of blew silke, that it might bee vpon the brodering of the Ephod, and that the brestlap should not be loosed fro off the Ephod, as the Lord commanded Moses.
 22 And he made the tunicle vnto the Ephod, of wouen worke, altogether of blew silke.
 23 And there was a hole in the midst of the tunicle, as the collar of a partlet, with a band round about the collar, that it should not rent.
 24 And in the tunicle they made hemmes with Pomegranates of blew silke, purple, scarlet, and white wined silke.
 25 And they made little belles of pure golde, and put them amongst the Pomegranats round about vpon the edge of the tunicle.
 26 A bell and a Pomegranate, a bell and a Pomegranate, round about the hemmes of the tunicle to minister in, as the Lord commanded Moses.
 27 And they made coates of fine white silke of wouen worke, for Aaron and his sonnes.
 28 And a miter of fine white silke, and goodly bonnets of fine white silke, and linnen sloppes of twined white silke.
 29 And a girdle of twined white silke, blew, purple, and scarlet, euen of needle worke, as the Lord commanded Moses.
 30 And they made a plate of the holy Crowne of fine golde, and wrote vpon it with grauen worke as signets are grauen, THE HOLI- NES OF THE LORD.
 31 And hee tyed vnto it a lace of blew silke, to fallen it on high vpon the mitre, as the Lord commanded Moses.
 32 Thus was al the worke of the tabernacle, euen the tabernacle of the congregation finished: And the children of Israel did according to all that the Lord commanded Moses, so did they.
 33 And they brought the Tabernacle vnto Moses, euen the tabernacle, and all his furniture, his taches, his boards, his barres, his pillars, and his sockets,
 34 The couering of rammes shimmes, red, and the couering of Taurus shimmes, and the hanging baile, 35 The Arke of the Testimonie, & the barres thereof, and the mercie seat, 36 The Table, and all the vessels thereof, and the shew bread,
 37 The pure candlesticke, with the lampes thereof, euen with the lamps to be prepared, and all the vessels thereof, and the oyle for light,
 38 The golden altar, and the anoynting oyle, and the sweete incense, and the hanging of the tabernacle doore,
 39 And the brassen altar, with his gridiron of brasse, his barres, and all his vessels, the lauer and his foote,
 40 The curtaines of the court, with his pillars and sockets, the hanging to the court gate, and his pines and cozbes, and all the vessels of the seruice of the Tabernacle, euen of the tabernacle of the Congregation, 41 The ministering vestments to serue in the holy place, and the holy vestments for Aaron the Priest, and his sonnes raiments to minister in, in the Priests office:

42 According to all that the Lord commanded Moses, so the children of Israel made all the worke.

43 And Moses did looke vpon all the worke: and beholde, they had done it as the Lord had commanded, euen so had they done it: and Moses blessed them.

The xl. Chapter.

2 The Tabernacle is reared vp. 34 The glory of the Lord appeareth in a cloud, couering the tabernacle.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 In the first day of the first moneth shalt thou set vp the Tabernacle, euen the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

3 And put therein the Arke of the testimony, and couer the Arke with the baile: and thou shalt bring in the Table, and order it according to the appointment thereof:

4 And thou shalt bring in the Candlesticke, and light his lampes,

5 And let the incense altar of gold before the Arke of the testimony, and put the hanging at the doore of the Tabernacle.

6 And set the whole burnt offering altar before the doore of the tabernacle, euen the tabernacle of the Congregation:

7 And set the lauer betweene the tabernacle of the Congregation and the altar, and put water therein,

8 And make the court rounde about, and hang by the hanging at the court gate.

9 And thou shalt take the anoynting oyle, and anoynt the tabernacle, and all that is therein, and halo w it, with all the vessels thereof: and it shall be holy.

10 And thou shalt anoynt the Altar of the whole burnt offering, and all his vessels, and sanctifie the Altar: and it shall be an altar most holy.

11 And thou shalt also anoynt the lauer and his foote, and sanctifie it.

12 And thou shalt bring Aaron & his sonnes vnto the doore of the tabernacle of the Congregation, and wash them with water.

13 And thou shalt put vpon Aaron the holy vestments, and anoynt him, & sanctifie him, that he may minister vnto mee in the Priests office.

14 And thou shalt bring his sonnes, & clothe them with garments,

15 And anoynt them, as thou diddest anoynt their father, that they may minister vnto mee in the Priests office: for their anoynting shall be an euerlasting Priesthood vnto them throughout all their generations.

16 And Moses did according to all that the Lord commanded him, so did he.

17 Thus was the tabernacle reared by the first day of the first moneth, in the second yeere.

18 And Moses reared by the tabernacle, and fastened his sockets, and set by the boards thereof, and put in the barres of it, and reared by his pillars:

19 And spred abroad the rent ouer the Tabernacle, and put the couering of the tent an high a boue it, as the Lord commanded Moses.

 26 And hee put the golden altar in the tabernacle of the congregation before the baile, 27 And burnt sweete incense thereon, as the Lord commanded Moses.
 28 And he hanged by the hanging at the dooze of the tabernacle:

 31 And Moses, Aaron, and his sonnes, washed their hands and their feete therat, 34 * And the cloude covered the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and the glory of the Lord filled the tabernacle.

 35 And Moses coulde not enter into the Tabernacle of the congregation, because the cloude abode thereon, and the glory of the Lord filled the tabernacle.
 36 And when the cloude was taken by from off the tabernacle, the children of Israel tooke their iourneys throughout their armics:
 37 And when the cloude was not taken bp, they iourneyed not till it was taken by.
 38 For the<sup>d</sup> cloude of the Lord was vpon the Tabernacle by day, and fire by night, in the light of all the house of Israel, thowout all their armies.

 12 And hee shall cut it into his pieces, euen with his head and his fat: and the Priest shall put them vpon the wood that lieth vpon the fire on the altar.

16 And he shall plucke away his crop with his feathers, and cast them beside the Altar on the East part in the place of ashes.

17 And hee shall breake the wings of it, but plucke them not asunder: And the Priest shall burne it vpon the Altar, euen vpon the wood that is vpon the fire: that it may be a whole burnt offering, an oblation made by fire for a sweete sauour vnto the Lord.

The ij. Chapter.

1 The order of meate offerings. 13 All meate offerings must be seasoned with salt.

The soule that will offer a meate offering vnto the Lord, his offering shall be of fine flowre: and hee shall powre oyle vpon it, and put frankincense thereon:

2 And shall bring it vnto Aarons sonnes the Priests: And he shall take thereout his handfull of the flowre, and of the oyle, with all the frankincense, and the Priest shall burne it for a memorial of him vpon the Altar, to be an offering made by fire, for a sweete sauour vnto the Lord.

3 And the remnant of the meate offering shall be Aarons and his sonnes, a thing most holy of the sacrifices of the Lord made by fire.

4 If thou bring also a meate offering that is baken in the Oven, let it be an unleaouened cake of fine flowre mingled with oyle, or an unleaouened wafer anointed with oyle.

5 If thy meate offering bee baken in the frying panne, it shall be of unleaouened flowre mingled with oyle.

6 And thou shalt part it in pieces, and powre oyle thereon: that it may be a meate offering.

7 And if thy meate offering be a thing droyled vpon the gridiron, let it be of flour mingled with oyle.

8 And thou shalt bring the meate offering that is made of these things vnto the Lord, and shalt schuer it vnto the Priest, that he may offer it vpon the Altar.

9 And the Priest shall take from the meate offering a memorial thereof, and shall burne it vpon the Altar, that it may be a burnt offering for a sweete sauour vnto the Lord.

10 And that which is left of the meate offering, shall be Aarons and his sonnes: It is a thing most holy of the offerings of the Lord made by fire.

11 All the meate offerings which ye shall bring vnto the Lord, shall be made without leauen: for ye shall neither burne leauen nor home in any offering of the Lord made by fire.

12 In the oblation of the first fruits ye shall offer them vnto the Lord: but they shall not be burnt vpon the Altar for a sweete sauour.

13 All the meate offerings also shalt thou season with salt, neither shalt thou suffer the salt of the Couenant of thy God to be lacking from thy meate offering: but vpon all thine offerings thou shalt bring salt.

14 And if thou offer a meate offering of the first fruits vnto the Lord, thou shalt offer for the meate offering of thy first fruits, eares of corn beaten by the fire, euen beaten wheate of sul eares.

15 And thou shalt put oyle vpon it, a lay frankincense thereon, that it may be a meate offering.

16 And the Priest shall burne part of the beaten corne, and part of that oyle with all the frankincense, for a remembrance: and it shall be a sacrifice vnto the Lord made by fire.

The iij. Chapter.

1 The order of peace offerings. 6 Of Sheepe. 7 Of Lambes. 12 Of Goates.

And if his sacrifice be a peace offering, & hee take it from among the droves, whether it be a male or female, he shall bring such as is without blemish before the Lord,

2 And put his hand vpon the head of his offering, and kil it at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation: And Aarons sonnes the Priests shall sprinkle the blood vpon the Altar round about.

3 And he shall offer somewhat of the peace offering, to be a sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord: euen the fat that couereth the inwards, and all the fat that is vpon the inwards:

4 And the two kidneys, and the fat that is on them, and vpon the flankes, and the kail with the liuer shall he take away with the kidneys.

5 And Aarons sonnes shall burne them on the Altar with the whole burnt sacrifice which is vpon the wood that is on the fire, to be a burnt sacrifice made by fire for a sweet sauour vnto the Lord.

6 If he bring a peace offering vnto the Lord from off the stocke, let him offer male or female, but without blemish.

7 And if he offer a lambe for his sacrifice, hee shall bring it before the Lord,

8 And put his hand vpon his offerings head, and kil it before the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation: and Aarons sonnes shall sprinkle the blood thereof round about the altar.

9 And of the peace offering let him bring a sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord, the fat thereof, and the rumpe altogether, which they shall take off hard by the backe bone: and the fat that couereth the inwards, and all the fat that is vpon the inwards,

10 And the two kidneys, and the fat that is vpon them, and vpon the flankes, and the kail that is vpon the liuer shall hee take away, with the kidneys.

11 And the Priest shall burne them vpon the Altar, to be the food of a sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord.

12 If his offering bee a goat, he shall bring it before the Lord, 13 And put his hand vpon the head of it, and kil it before the Tabernacle of the Congregation: and the sonnes of Aaron shall sprinkle the blood thereof vpon the Altar round about.

14 And he shall bring thereof his offering, euen a sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord, the fat that couereth the inwards, and all the fat that is vpon the inwards.

15 And the two kidneys, and the fat that is vpon them, & vpon the flankes, and the kail vpon the liuer shall he take away with the kidneys.

16 And the Priest shall burne them vpon the Altar, for the food of the sacrifice made by fire, for a sweet sauour: All the fat is the Lords.

17 Let it be a perpetual statute for your generations throughout your dwellings, that ye eat neither fat nor blood.

5. That which is to be offered out of the flocke shall be without blemish.

Secundum illud quod dicitur in libro de sacrificiis, quod si offeratur in oleo, non debet esse in aqua.

8. That which is to be offered in the oven, shall be of fine flour mingled with oil, or an unleavened wafer anointed with oil.

a. That is, a sacrifice of thanksgiving, offered in peace and purity, either generally or particularly.

b. One part was burnt, and other appointed to the Priests, and the third to him that offered.

c. In the whole burnt offering, all was consumed, but in the offering made by fire, only the fat was burnt.

The iiii. Chapter.

1 The offering for the finnes, 3 Of the Priest, 13 Of the congregation, 22 The princes, 27 The private persons sinne done by ignorance.

AD the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say, If a soule shall sinne through ignorance in any of the commandements of the Lord, which ought not to be done, but shall doe contrary to any of them:

3 As if the Priest that is annoyned, doe sinne according to the sinne of the people, let him bring for his sinne which he hath sinned, a young bullocke without blemish, vnto the Lord for a sinne offering.

4 And he shall bring the young bullocke vnto the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation before the Lord, and shall put his hand vpon the young bullocks head, and kill the young bullocke before the Lord.

5 And the Priest that is annoyned, shall take of the young bullocks blood, and bring it into the tabernacle of the congregation.

6 And the Priest shall dippe his finger in the blood, and sprinkle thereof seuen times before the Lord, before the haile of the sanctuarie.

7 And the Priest shall put some of the blood before the Lord, vpon the hornes of the altar of sweete incense, which is in the tabernacle of the congregation, and shall powre all the blood of the young bullocke, vnto the bottome of the altar of the whole burnt offering, which is at the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation.

8 And he shall take away all the fatte of the bullocke for the sinne offering, the fat that couereth the inwards, and all the fatte that is about the inwards,

9 And the two kidneys, and the fatte that is vpon them, and vpon the flankes, and the hall vpon the liuer shall hee take away with the kidneys,

10 As it was taken away in the bullocke of the peace offerings: and let the Priest burne them vpon the altar of the whole burnt offering.

11 But the skin of the young bullocke, and all his flesh, with his head and his legges, with his inwards and his dung, shall he beare out,

12 And cary the whole bullocke altogether out of the holte vnto a cleane place, where the ashes are powred out, and burne him there on wood in the fire: by the place where the ashes are cast out shall he be burnt.

13 If the whole congregation of Israel sinne through ignorance, and the thing bee hid from the eyes of the multitude, and haue done somewhat against any of the commandements of the Lord, which should not be done, and haue offended:

14 When the sinne which they haue sinned is knowne, the congregation shall bring a young bullocke for the sinne, and bring him before the tabernacle of the congregation,

15 And the Elders of the multitude shall put their hands vpon the head of the bullocke before the Lord: and the bullocke shall be slaine before the Lord.

16 And the Priest that is annoyned, shall bring of the bullocks blood into the tabernacle of the congregation.

17 And the Priest shall dippe his finger in the blood, & sprinkle it seuen times before the Lord, euen before the haile, 18 And shall put of the blood vpon the hornes of the altar which is before the Lord, in the tabernacle of the congregation, and shall powre all the blood vnto the bottome of the altar of the whole burnt offering, which is before the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation.

19 And he shall take his fatte from him, and burne it vpon the altar.

20 And shall doe with this bullocke as he did with the bullocke for sinne, so shall hee doe with this: And the Priest shall make an atonement for them, and it shall be forgiven them.

21 And hee shall bring this bullocke without the holte, and burne him as hee burned the first bullocke: for it is an oblation for the sinne of the congregation.

22 When a lord sinneth, & committeth through ignorance any of these things which the Lord hath forbidden to bee done in his commandements, and hath offended:

23 And if his sinne be shewed vnto him which he hath done, he shall bring his offering, euen an hee goat without blemish,

24 And lay his hand vpon the head of the hee goat, and kill it in the place where the whole burnt offering is to be killed before the Lord: for it is a sinne offering.

25 And let the Priest take of the blood of the sinne offering with his finger, and put it vpon the hornes of the whole burnt offering altar, and powre his blood vnto the bottome of the whole burnt offering altar, 26 And burne all his fat vpon the altar, as the fatte of the peace offerings: and the Priest shall make an atonement for him as concerning his sinne, and it shall be forgiven him.

27 If one of the common people of the land sinne through ignorance, and commit any of the things which the Lord hath forbidden in his commandements to be done, & so hath trespassed:

28 If his sinne which he hath sinned come to his knowledge, hee shall bring for his offering a shee goat from among the flockes without blemish for his sinne which he hath sinned,

29 And shall lay his hand vpon the head of the sinne offering, and lay the sinne offering in the place of the whole burnt offerings.

30 And the Priest shall take of the blood thereof with his finger, and put it vpon the hornes of the whole burnt offering altar, and powre all the blood vnto the bottome of the altar.

31 And shall take away all his fat, as the fat of the peace offering is taken away: & the Priest shall burne it vpon the altar, that it may bee a sweete sauour vnto the Lord, and the Priest shall make an atonement for him, and it shall be forgiven him.

32 And if he bring a sheepe for a sinne offering, he shall bring a female without blemish, 33 And lay his hand vpon the head of the sinne offering, and lay it for a sinne offering, in the place where they kill the whole burnt offering.

34 And the Priest shall take of the blood of the sinne offering with his finger, and put it vpon the hornes of the whole burnt offering altar, and shall powre the blood thereof vnto the bottome of the altar.

35 And he shall take away all the fat thereof, a By commiseration of doctrine to do any thing whereby the people sin, as if the people sinne through the Priests fault, their sinne is required at his hands.

b Whereby confessing that hee hath done the same punishment which the law hath offered.

as the fatte of the sheepe of the peace offerings is wont to be taken a way: and the priest shall burne it vpon the altar, that it may be the Lords burnt sacrifice, and the Priest shall make an atonement for his sinne that he hath committed, and it shall be forgiven him.

The v. Chapter.

1 Ofothes. 2 The cleansing of him that toucheth vncleane things. 6 The purgation of an othe, 15 And of sinne done by ignorance.

If a soule sinne, and heare the voice of swearing, and is a witness whether he hath seene or knowen of it, if he doe not vtter it, yee shall beare his sinne.

2 Either if a soule touch any vncleane thing, whether it be the carion of an vncleane beast, or a carion of vncleane cattell, or a carion of vncleane creeping things, and is not ware of it: behold, he is vncleane, and hath offended.

3 Either if he touch any vncleannesse of man, whatsoeuer vncleannesse it bee that a man is wont to be defiled withall, and is not ware of it, and commeth to the knowledge of it, yee hath it respald.

4 Either if a soule sweare, and pronounceth with his lippes to doe euill, or to doe good, whatsoeuer it be that a man shall pronounce with an othe, and the thing be hidde from him, and commeth to the knowledge of it, and hath offended in one of these:

5 When yee hath sinned in one of these things, he shall confesse that he hath sinned in that thing.

6 Therefore shall he bring his trespass offering vnto the Lord for his sinne which hee hath sinned, a female from the flocke, a lambe or a shee goat, for a sinne offering: And the Priest shall make an atonement for him concerning his sinne.

7 And if he be not able to bring a sheepe, hee shall bring for his trespass which he hath sinned, two turtle doves, or two yong pigeons vnto the Lord: one for a sinne offering, and the other for a whole burnt offering.

8 And hee shall bring them vnto the Priest, which shall offer the sinne offering first, and wryng the necke asunder of it, but plucke it not cleane off.

9 And hee shall sprinkle of the blood of the sinne offering vpon the side of the altar, and the rest of the blood shall he poure by the bottome of the altar: for it is a sinne offering.

10 And hee shall offer the second for a whole burnt offering as the manner is: and so shall the Priest make an atonement for him for the sinne which he had sinned, and it shall be forgiven him.

11 And if he be not able to bring two Turtle doves, or two yong pigeons, then he that sinned, shall bring for his offering the tenth part of an Ephah of fine flour for a sin offering: but put none oyle thereto, neither put any frankincense thereon: for it is a sinne offering.

12 When shall he bring it to the Priest, and the Priest shall take his handfull of it for a remembrance thereof, and burne it vpon the altar, to be a sacrifice for the Lord made by fire: for it is a sinne offering.

13 And the Priest shall make an atonement for him as touching his sinne that he hath sinned in one of these, and it shall be forgiven him: and the remnant shall be the Priests, as a meat offering.

14 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

15 If a soule trespass and sinne through ignorance in things that are consecrated vnto the Lord, let him bring for his trespass vnto the Lord, a Ramme without blemish out of the flockes, valued in money at two sicles, after the sicle of the sanctuarie, that it may bee for a trespass offering.

16 And he shall make amends for the harme that he hath done in the holy thing, and let him put the last part more thereto, and giue it vnto the Priest: And the Priest shall make an atonement for him with the Ramme that is for the trespass: and it shall be forgiven him.

17 If a soule sinne, and commit any of these things which are forbidden to be done by the commandements of the Lord, and will it not, and hath offended, and beare his sinne:

18 Then shall hee bring a Ramme without blemish out of the flocke, that is esteemed to be worth a trespass offering, vnto the Priest: And the Priest shall make an atonement for him concerning his ignorance, wherein hee erred and was not ware: and it shall be forgiven him.

19 This is a trespass offering, for the trespass committed against the Lord.

The vj. Chapter.

3 The offering for sinnes, which are done willingly. 20 The offering of Aaron and his sonnes.

And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 If a soule sinne and trespass against the Lord, and demie vnto his neighbour that which was taken him to keep, or that was put into his hands, or doeth violent robbrie or wrong vnto his neighbour,

3 Or if he haue found that which was lost, and denyeth it, and sweareth falsly vpon whatsoever thing it be that a man doeth, and sinneth therein:

4 If he haue so sinned & trespassed, he shall restore againe that he tooke violently away, or the wrong which hee did, or that which was deliuered him to keep, or the lost thing which hee found:

5 And all that about which he hath sinned falsely, hee shall restore it againe in the whole summe, and shall adde the fifth part more thereto, and giue it vnto him to whome it appertaineth, the same day that he offereth for his trespass.

6 And let him bring for his trespass vnto the Lord a ramme without blemish out of the flock, that is esteemed worth a trespass offering vnto the Priest.

7 And the Priest shall make an atonement for him before the Lord, and it shall be forgiven him, whatsoeuer thing it be that hee hath done and trespassed therein.

8 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

9 Command Aaron and his sonnes, saying, This is the lawe of the whole burnt offering. (The whole burnt offering shall bee vpon the hearth of the altar all night vnto the morning, and the fire shall be kindled on the altar.)

burned the whole burnt sacrifice on the altar, and he shall put them beside the altar.

11 And put off his raiment, and put on other, and carie the ashes out without the holse vnto a cleane place.

12 The fire vpon the altar shall burne still, and neuer be put out: But the Priest shall laye wood on it euery day in the morning, and put the whole burnt sacrifice vpon it, and hee shall burne thereon the fat of the peace offerings.

13 The fire shall euer burne vpon the altar, and neuer goe out.

14 This is the law of the meate offering, which Aarons sonnes shall bring before the Lorde, before the altar.

15 And one of them shall take his handfull of the flour of the meate offering, and of the oyle, and all the frankincense which is vpon the meate offering, and shall burne it vnto a remembrance vpon the altar for a sweete sauour, a memoriall of it vnto the Lord.

16 And of the rest thereof shall Aaron and his sonnes eate: unleaued shall it be eaten in the holy place, in the court of the tabernacle of the congregation they shall eate it.

17 It shall not be baken with leauen: I haue giuen it vnto them for their portion of my sacrifices made by fire: It is most holy, as is the sinne offering, and the trespasse offering.

18 All the males among the children of Aaron shall eat of it: It shall be a statute for euer in your generations concerning the sacrifice of the Lorde made by fire: let euery one that toucheth it, be holy.

19 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

20 This is the offering of Aaron, and of his sonnes, which they shall offer vnto the Lorde in the day when hee is annoynted: The tenth part of an Ephah of fine flowre for a meate offering perpetuall, halfe of it in the morning, and halfe thereof at night.

21 In the frying panne it shall be made with oyle, and when it is fryed, thou shalt bring it in: and the baken peeces of the meate offerings shalt thou offer for a sweete sauour vnto the Lord.

22 And the Priest among his sonnes that is annoynted in his steade, shall offer it: It is the Lordes ordinance for euer, it shall be burnt altogether.

23 For euery meate offering that is made for the Priest, shall be burnt altogether, and shall not be eaten.

24 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

25 Speak vnto Aaron and to his sonnes, and say, This is the law of the sinne offering: In the place where the whole burnt offering is killed, shall the sinne offering be killed before the Lord, for it is most holy.

26 The Priest that offereth it, shall eat it: In the holy place shall it be eaten, in the court of the tabernacle of the congregation.

27 Whatsoeuer shall touch the flesh thereof, shall be holy: and when there droppeth of the blood thereof vpon any garment, thou shalt wash that wheron it droppeth, in the holy place.

28 But the earthen pottle that it is sodden in, shall be broken: And if it be sodden in a brasen pot, it shall be scoured, and rinsed in water.

29 All the males among the Priests shall eat thereof, for it is most holy.

30 And no sinne offering, whose * blood is brought into the tabernacle of the congregation to reconcile withall in the holy place, shall be eaten: but shall be burnt in the fire.

The vij. Chapter.

1 Trespasse offerings. 7 Sinne offerings. 11 Of peace offerings. 23 The fat and the blood may not be eaten.

It is likewise the lawe of the trespasse offering: it is most holy.

2 In the place where they kill the whole burnt offering, shall they kill the trespasse offering also, and the blood thereof shall hee sprinkle round about vpon the altar.

3 All the fat thereof shall be offer, the rumpe, and the fat that couereth the inwards.

4 And the two kidneys, and the fatte that is on them, and vpon the flankes, and the kalle that is on the liuer shalt thou take away with the kidneys.

5 And the Priest shall burne them vpon the altar, to be a sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord: for it is a trespasse offering.

6 All the males among the Priests shall eat thereof: it shall be eaten in the holy place, for it is most holy.

7 As the sinne offering is, so is the trespasse offering, one law serueth for both: that, wherewith the Priest shall make atonement, shall be his.

8 And the Priest that offereth any mans whole burnt offering, shall haue the skinne of the whole burnt offering which he hath offered.

9 And all the meate offering that is baken in the Oven: and that is dressed in the pan, & in the frying pan, shall be the Priests that offereth it.

10 And euery meate offering that is mingled with oyle, and that is dry, shall pertaine vnto all the sonnes of Aaron, and one shall haue as much as another.

11 This is the law of the peace offering, which he shall offer vnto the Lord.

12 If he offer it to giue thanks, he shall bring vnto his thanke offering unleaued cakes mingled with oyle, and unleaued wafers annoynted with oyle, and cakes mingled with oyle of fine flowre fryed.

13 He shall bring his offering, with cakes of unleaued bread for his peace offerings, to giue thanks:

14 And of all the sacrifice he shall offer one for an heate offering vnto the Lorde, and it shall be the Priests that sprinkled the blood of the peace offerings.

15 And the flesh of his peace offerings for thanks giuing, shall be eaten the same day that it is offered: and let him leaue nothing of it vntill the morow.

16 But if the offering of his sacrifice be a bo'tw, or of his owne free wil, it shall be eaten the same day that he offereth his sacrifice: and if ought remaine vntill the morow, it may be eaten.

17 But as much of the offered flesh as remaineth vnto the third day, shall be burnt with fire.

18 And if any of the flesh of his peace offerings be eaten in the third day, then shall he that offereth it obtaine no sauour, neither shall it be reckoned vnto him, but shall be an abomination: therefore the soule that eateth of it shall beare his sinne.

* Child priest: such Child: for as it beeth purifie, beate, and continue: so Child by his death and passion purifieth himselfe, & consumeth all sinnes, and by his holy spirit beatech and warmerth all the faithful.

* Because it was altogether burnt with fire, or that the priest's only do eat it.

* The Obedient with his heart to praise & offer thanks: this sacrifice they use when a man knowethed himselfe to be a sinner, or confesse his sinnes vnto the Lord, willing to reconcile himselfe vnto him.

19 And the flesh that toucheth any vncleane thing, shall not be eaten, but burnt with fire: and of this flesh, all that be cleane, shall eat thereof.

20 But if any soule eat of the flesh of the peace offering that pertaineth vnto the Lord, hauing his vncleannesse vpon him: the same soule shall be cut off from among his people.

21 Moreover, the soule that doth touch any vncleane thing, that is of the vncleannesse of man, or of any vncleane beast, or any abomination that is vncleane, and then eat of the flesh of the peace offering which pertaineth vnto the Lord: that soule shall be cut off from his people.

22 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

23 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say, Ye shall eat no manner fat of beecues, of sheep, and of goats.

24 Neuertheless, the fat of the beast that dyeth alone, and the fat of that which is tozme with wild beasts, shall be occupied in any manner of vse: but ye shall in no wise eat of it.

25 For whosoever eateth the fat of the beast, of which men be to bring an offering made by fire vnto the Lord, that soule that eateth it, shall be cut off from his people.

26 Moreover, ye shall eat no manner of blood, whether it bee of soule or of beast, in any your dwellings.

27 Whatsoeuer soule it bee that eateth any manner of blood, the same soule shall be cut off from his people.

28 And the Lord talked with Moses, saying,

29 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say, He that bringeth his peace offering vnto the Lord, let him bring his gift vnto the Lord of his peace offering:

30 Let his owne hands bring the offerings of the Lord made by fire: euen the fat with the breast shall he bring, that the breast may be waued for a waue offering before the Lord.

31 And the priest shall burne the fatte vpon the altar, and the breast shall be Aarons and his sonnes.

32 And the right shoulder shall ye giue vnto the priest for an heaue offering of your peace offerings.

33 The same that offereth the blood of the peace offerings and the fat, among the sonnes of Aaron, shall haue the right shoulder for his part:

34 For the waue breast and the heaue shoulder haue I taken of the children of Israel of their peace offerings, and haue giuen them vnto Aaron the priest, and vnto his sonnes, by a statute for euer from among the children of Israel.

35 This is the annoynting of Aaron, and the annoynting of his sonnes, concerning the sacrifices of the Lord made by fire, in the day when hee offered them to bee priests vnto the Lord:

36 And these be the portions which the Lord commanded to be giuen them in the day of their annoynting from among the children of Israel, by a statute for euer in their generations.

37 This is the lawe of the whole burnt offering, and of the meat offering, and of the sacrifice for sinne and trespass, for condecations, and for the peace offering:

38 Which the Lord commanded Moses in the mount of Sinai, when he commanded the children of Israel to offer their sacrifices vnto the Lord in the wilderness of Sinai.

The viij. Chapter.

The consecration of Aaron and his sonnes, and of the annoynting of the Tabernacle.

1 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Take Aaron and his sonnes with him, and the vestures, and the annoynting oyle, and a bullocke for a sinne offering, and two Rams, and a basket of vnleavened bread:

3 And gather thou all the congregation together, vnto the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation.

4 And Moses did as the Lord commanded him: & the people were gathered together vnto the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation.

5 And Moses sayde vnto the congregation, This is the thing which the Lord commanded to be done.

6 And Moses brought Aaron & his sonnes, and washed them with water.

7 And put vpon him the coate, and girded him with a girdle, and put vpon him the robe, and put the Ephod thereon, which hee girded with the bordered gard that was in the Ephod, and bound it vnto him there with.

8 And he put the breastplate thereon, and put in the breastplate the Urim and the Thummim.

9 And he put the cap of estate vpon his head, and put vpon the cap, euen vpon the forefront, the golden plate, the holy crowne, as the Lord commanded Moses.

10 And Moses tooke the annoynting oyle, and annoynted the tabernacle and all that was therein, and sanctified them.

11 And sprinkled thereof vpon the altar seuen times, and annoynted the altar and all his vessels, the lauer and his foot, to sanctifie them.

12 And he poured of the annoynting oyle vpon Aarons head, and annoynted him, to sanctifie him.

13 And Moses brought Aarons sonnes, and put coats vpon them, and girded them with girdles, and put bonnettes vpon their heads, as the Lord commanded Moses.

14 And he brought the bullocke for the sinne offering: and Aaron and his sonnes put their hands vpon the head of the bullock for the sinne offering.

15 And Moses slewe him, & tooke the blood, which he put vpon the horns of the altar round about with his finger, and purified the altar, and poured the blood at the bottome of the altar, and sanctified it, to make reconciliation vpon it.

16 And he tooke all the fat that was vpon the inwards, and the kail of the luer, and the two kidneys, and their fat, and Moses burned it vpon the altar.

17 But the bullocke, and his hyde, his flesh, and his dung, hee burnt with fire without the holte, as the Lord commanded Moses.

18 And he brought the Ramme for the whole burnt offering, and Aaron and his sonnes put their hands vpon the head of the Ramme.

19 Which Moses killed, & sprinkled the blood vpon the altar round about.

20 And Moses cut the Ramme into pieces, and burnt the head, the pieces, and the fat.

21 And washed the inwards and the legges in water, and Moses burnt the hamme every whit vpon the altar: for it was a whole burnt sacrifice for a sweet saour, and an offering made by fire vnto the Lord, as the Lord commanded Moses.

22 And hee brought the other hamme; the hamme of consecration: and Aaron and his sonnes put their handes vpon the head of the hamme.

23 Which Moses slew, and tooke of the blood of it, & put it vpon the tip of Aarons right eare, and vpon the thumbe of his right hand, and vpon the great toe of his right foote.

24 And Moses brought Aarons sonnes, and put of the blood on the tippe of the right eare of them, & vpon the thumbe of their right hands, and vpon the great toes of their right feete: and Moses spynkled the blood vpo the altar round about.

25 And he tooke the fat, and the rumpe, and all the fatte that was vpon the inwards, and the hall of the liuer, and the two kidnies with their fat, and their right shoulder:

26 And out of the basket of vneleuened bread that was before the Lord, he tooke one vneleuened cake, and a cake of oiled bread, and one wafer, and put them on the fat, and vpon the right shoulder:

27 And put all together vpon Aarons hands, and vpon his sonnes hands, & wauced it a waue offering before the Lord.

28 And Moses tooke them from off their hands, & burnt them vpon the altar for a whole burnt offering: These were consecrations for a sweete saour, and sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord.

29 And Moses tooke the brest and wauced it for a waue offering before the Lord: for of the ham of consecration it was Moses part, as the Lord commanded Moses.

30 And Moses tooke of the anointing oyle, and of the blood which was vpon the altar, and spynkled it vpon Aaron & vpon his garments, and vpon his sonnes, and vpon his sonnes garments with him: and sanctified Aaron and his bestures, and his sonnes, & his sonnes bestures with him.

31 And Moses said vnto Aaron and his sons, Wosle the flesh at the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation, & there * eate it with the bread that is in the basket of consecration, as I commanded, saying, Aaron & his sonnes shall eate it.

32 And that which remaineth of the flesh, and of the bread, shall ye burne with fire.

33 And ye shall not depart from the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation, seven dayes, vntil the daies of your consecration be at an end: for seven dayes shall he fill your hand.

34 As hee did this day, so the Lord hath commanded to doe, to make an atonement for you.

35 Therefore shall ye abide at the doore of the tabernacle of the Congregation, day and night, seven dayes long, & keepe the watch of the Lord, and ye shall not die: for so I am commanded.

36 And so Aaron & his sonnes, did all things which the Lord commanded by the hand of Moses.

The ix. Chapter.

8 The first offerings of Aaron. 22 Aaron blesseth the people. 23 The glory of the Lord is shewed.

Ad in the eight day, Moses called Aaron and his sonnes, and the elders of Israel.

2 And he said vnto Aaron, Take thee a yong calfe for a sinne offering, and a hamme for a whole burnt offering, both without blemish, & bring them before the Lord.

3 And vnto the children of Israel thou shalt speake, saying, Take ye a he goate for a sinne offering, and a calfe, and a lambe, both of a yere old, without blemish, for a whole burnt sacrifice.

4 Also, a bullocke and a hamme for peace offerings, to offer before the Lord, and a meate offering mingled with oyle: for to day the Lord will appeare vnto you.

5 And they brought that which Moses commanded, before the Tabernacle of the Congregation: and all the Congregation came and stood before the Lord.

6 And Moses said, This is the thing which the Lord commanded, that ye should doe, and the glory of the Lord shall appeare vnto you.

7 And Moses said vnto Aaron, Go vnto the altar, and offer the sacrifice for thy sinne, and thy whole burnt offering, and make an atonement for thee and for the people: and thou shalt offer the offering of the people, and make an atonement for them, as the Lord commanded.

8 Aaron therefore went vnto the altar, and slew the calfe of the sinne offering, which was for himselfe.

9 And the sonnes of Aaron brought the blood vnto him, and hee dipt his finger in the blood, and put it vpon the hornes of the altar, and poured the blood at the bottome of the altar.

10 But the fat, and the two kidnies, and the hall of the liuer of the sinne offering, he burnt vpon the altar, as the Lord commanded Moses.

11 The flesh and the hide he burnt with fire without the holse.

12 And he slew the whole burnt offering, and Aarons sonnes brought vnto him the blood, which he spynkled round about vpon the altar.

13 And they brought the whole burnt offering vnto him, with the pieces thereof, and the head: and he burnt them vpon the altar.

14 And hee did wash the inwards, & the legs, and burnt them vpon the whole burnt offering on the altar.

15 And then he brought the peoples offering, taking the goate, which was the sinne offering for the people, and slew it, and offered it for sinne, as he did the first.

16 And brought the whole burnt offering, and offered it as the maner was.

17 And hee brought the meate offering, and filled his hande therof, and burnt it vpon the altar, beside the whole burnt sacrifice of the morning.

18 He slew also the bullocke and the ram, for the peace offering which was for the people: And Aarons sonnes brought vnto him the blood, which he spynkled vpon the altar round about:

19 And the fat of the bullocke and of the ram, the rumpe and that couereth the inwards, and the kidnies, and the hall of the liuer,

20 And they put the fat vpon the breasts, and he burnt the fat vpon the altar:

21 But the breasts and the right shoulder Aaron wauced for a waue offering before the Lord, as the Lord commanded Moses.

Or, consecrate you.

Heb. Ministerie.

22 And Aaron lift by his hand over the people, and blessed them, and came downe from offering of the sinne offering, the whole burnt offering, and peace offerings.

23 And Moses and Aaron went into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and came out, and blessed the people: and the glory of the Lord appeared vnto all the people.

24 And there came a fire out from before the Lord, and consumed vpon the altar the whole burnt offering, and the fat: which when all the people saw, they gaue thankes, and fell on their faces.

The x. Chapter.

1 Nadab and Abihu are slaine. 6 Israel mourneth for them. 9 The priests are forbidden wine.

Nadab and Abihu, the sonnes of Aaron, tooke either of them his censor, and put fire therein, and put censre therevpon, and offered strange fire before the Lord, which he commanded them not.

2 And there went a fire from the Lord, and consumed them, and they died before the Lord.

3 Then Moses said vnto Aaron, This is it that the Lord spake, saying, I will bee sanctified in them that come nigh mee, and before all the people I will bee glorified. And Aaron held his peace.

4 And Moses called Misael and Elaphan the sonnes of Oziel, the vnckle of Aaron, and said vnto them, Come neere, carry your brethern from before the Sanctuary, out of the host.

5 And they went to them, and caried them in their coates out of the host, as Moses had said.

6 And Moses sayd vnto Aaron, and vnto Eleazar and Ithamar his sonnes, Vncover not your heads, neither rent your clothes lest ye die, and lest wrath come vpon all the people: But let your brethern the whole house of Israel bewaile the burning which the Lord hath kindled.

7 And go not ye out from the doore of the Tabernacle of the congregation, lest ye die: for the anointing oyle of God is vpon you. And they did as Moses said.

8 And the Lord spake vnto Aaron, saying,

9 Thou shalt not drinke wine nor strong drink, thou, nor thy sonnes that are with thee, when ye go into the tabernacle of the congregation, lest ye die: Let it be a law for euer thoro' our generations:

10 And that yee may put difference betweene holy and unholy, betweene vncleane and cleane:

11 And that yee may teach the children of Israel all the statutes which the Lord hath spoken vnto them by the hand of Moses.

12 And Moses said vnto Aaron, and vnto Eleazar and Ithamar his sonnes that were left, Take the meat offering that remaineth of the sacrifices of the Lord, made by fire, and eat it without leaue beside the altar, for it is most holy.

13 Ye shall eate it in the holy place, because it is thy duety, a thy sonnes duety, of the sacrifices of the Lord made by fire, for so I am comanded.

14 And the waue bread and heauē shoulder shall ye eate in a cleane place, thou, a thy sonnes, and thy daughters with thee: for they bee thy duety, and thy sonnes duety, giuen out of the peace offerings of the children of Israel.

15 The heauē shoulder, and the waue bread shall they bring in, with the sacrifices made by fire, of the fat, to waue it for a waue offering before the Lord: and it shall be thine and thy sonnes with thee, by a law for euer, as the Lord hath comanded.

16 And Moses sought the goate that was offered for sinne, and see, it was burnt: And hee was angry with Eleazar and Ithamar, the sonnes of Aaron, which were left aliue, saying,

17 Wherefore haue ye not eaten the sinne offering in the holy place? seeing it is most holy, and God hath giuen it you to beare the sinne of the congregation to make agreement for them before the Lord.

18 Behold, the blood of it was not brought in within the holy place: Ye should haue eaten it in the holy place, as I comanded.

19 And Aaron said vnto Moses, Behold, this day haue they offered their sinne offering a their whole burnt offering before the Lord: and such things are come vnto mee: if I had eaten the sinne offering to day, should it haue bene accepted in the sight of the Lord?

20 And when Moses heard that, hee was content.

The xj. Chapter.

1 Of beasts, fishes, and birds: which bee cleane, and which be vncleane.

And the Lord spake vnto Moses, and Aaron, and sayd vnto them,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israel, & say, * These are the beasts which yee shall eate among all the beasts that are on the earth,

3 Whatsoeuer parteth the hooft, and is clouen footed, and chaweth cud among the beastes, that shall yee eate.

4 Neuertheless, these shall yee not eate of them that chawe the cud onely, and of them that diuide the hooft onely, as is the camel, which chaweth cud, but he diuideth not the hooft, therefore he is vncleane vnto you.

5 Encn so the cony which chaweth the cud, but diuideth not the hooft, hee is vncleane vnto you.

6 And the hare, though he chaweth the cud, yet because he diuideth not the hooft, he is therefore vncleane vnto you.

7 And * againe, the swine, though he diuide the hooft, and is clouen footed, yet hee chaweth not the cud, he is vncleane to you.

8 Of their flesh shall yee not eate, and their carkeise shall ye not touch: but let them bee vncleane to you.

9 These shall yee eate of all that are in the waters, whatsoever hath finnes and scales in the waters, seas, and riuers, that shall ye eate.

10 And all that haue not finnes nor scales in the sea and riuers, of all that moue and lide in the waters, let them be abomination vnto you.

11 They, I say, shall be an abomination vnto you: yee shall not eate of their flesh, but abhorre their carkeises.

12 Let all that haue no finnes nor scales in the waters, be abominable vnto you.

13 These are they which yee shall abhorre among the soules, and that ought not to be eaten, for they are an abomination: The Eagle, the Osuarte, and the Ostray.

 Hargol after his kinde, and the Hagab after his kinde.
 23 All other foules that creep, and haue foure

 25 And whosoever beareth the carkeise of them, shall wash his clothes, and be vncleane vntill

 26 And euery beast that hath hoofe, and is not clouen footed, nor cha with cud, such are vncleane vnto you: euery one that toucheth them, shall be vncleane.
 27 And whatsoeuer goeth vpon his pawes, among all manner beastes that goe on all foure eth touch their carkeise, shall be vncleane vntill

 the Euen.
 28 And he that beareth the carkeise of them, shall wash his clothes, and be vncleane vntill the Euen: for such are vncleane vnto you.
 29 And let these also be vncleane vnto you, among the things that creepe vpon the earth:
 the Weatell, and the Mouse, and the Toad, after their kind,
 30 The Hedgehogge, the Stellio, the Lacert, the Snayle, and the Mole.
 31 These are vncleane to you among all that creepe: whosoever doeth touch them when they be dead, shall be vncleane vntill the Euen.
 32 And whatsoeuer any of the dead carkeises of them doth fall vpon, shall be vncleane, whether it be vessel of wood, or raiment, or skime, or sacke, or whosoever vessel it be that any worke is wrought in: and it must be plunged in the water, and it shall be vncleane vntill the Euen, and so shall it be cleane.
 33 All manner of earthen vessel whereinto any of them falleth, shall be vncleane, with all that therein is, and it shall be broken.
 34 All maner meate also that is vsed to be eaten, if any such water come vpon it, shall be vncleane:
 And all maner drinke that is vsed to be drinke in all maner such vessels, shall be vncleane.
 35 And euery thing that their carkeise falleth vpon, shall be vncleane, whether it be ouen or kettle, let it be broken: for they are vncleane, and shall be vncleane vnto you.
 36 Neuertheless, yet the fountains & wellles, and collections of waters, shall be cleane still:
 but that which toucheth their carkeises, shall be vncleane.
 37 If the dead carkeise of any such fall vpon any seed vsed to sow, it shall yet be cleane still:

38 But and if any water be powred vpon the seed, and a dead carkeise fall thereon, it shall be vncleane vnto you.
 39 If any beast of which ye may eat, die, and any man touch the dead carkeise thereof, he shall be vncleane vntill the Euen.
 40 He that eateth of the dead carkeise of it, shall wash his clothes, and be vncleane vntill the Euen: And hee also that beareth the carkeise of it, shall wash his clothes and be vncleane vntill
 the Euen.
 41 Let euery creeping thing that creepeth vpon the earth, be an abomination and not be eaten.
 42 Whatsoeuer goeth vpon the brest, & whatsoeuer goeth vpon foure, or that hath moe feete among all creeping things that creepe vpon the earth: of that see yee eate not, for they are abominable.
 43 Yee shall not make your soules abominable with any thing that creepeth, neither make your selues vncleane with them, that yee should be defiled thereby.
 44 For I am your Lord God: Be sanctified therefore, and ye shall be holy, for I am holy: and ye shall not defile your soules with any maner of creeping thing that creepeth vpon the earth:
 45 For I am the Lord that brought you out of the land of Egypt to be your God: ye shall be holy therefore, for I am holy.
 46 This is the lawe of the beasts and foules, and of euery living creature that moueth in the waters, and of euery creature that creepeth vpon
 the earth,
 47 That there may be a difference betweene the vncleane and cleane, and betweene the beast that may be eaten, and the beast that ought not to be eaten.

 child, she shall be vncleane seuen dayes: according to the dayes of the separation of her infirmitie shall she be vncleane.
 3 And in the eighth day, the flesh of the childs foreskinne shall be cut away.
 4 And she shall then continue in the blood of her purifying three and thirtie dayes: She shall

 5 If she beare a mayde childe, shee shall be vncleane

 6 And when the dayes of her purifying are out, whether it be for a sonne or for a daughter, she shall bring a lambe of one yere old for a whole cle of the congregation, vnto the Priest:

 7 which shall offer them before the Lord, and make an atonement for her, and she shall be purged of the issue of her blood. And this is the lawe for her that hath borne a male or a female.

he shall bring two turtles, or two yong pigeons, the one for the whole burnt offering, and the other for a sinne offering: And the Priest shall make an atonement for her, and she shall be cleane.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 The Priests must haue a consideration, and iudge who are lepers. 47 Of the leproous garments.

And the Lord spake vnto Moses and Aaron, saying,

2 The man that shall haue in the skin of his flesh a swelling, either a scabbe, or a glistering white, and the plague of leprosie be in the skinne of his flesh, he shall be brought vnto Aaron the Priest, or vnto one of his sonnes the Priests.

3 And the Priest shall looke on the soze in the skinne of his flesh: and when the haire in the soze is turned to white, and the soze also seeme to be lower then the skin of his flesh, it is a plague of leprosie: and the priest shall looke on him, & iudge him vn-cleane.

4 If there bee a white spot in the skinne of his flesh, and seeme not to be lower then the skin, nor the haire thereof is turned vnto white, the Priest shall shut vp him that hath the plague seuen dayes.

5 And the Priest shall looke on him againe the seuenth day: and if the plague seeme to him to abide still, and the plague grow not in the skin, the priest shall shut vp him that hath the plague seuen dayes moe.

6 And the Priest shall looke on him againe the seuenth day: then if the plague be darker, and not grown in the skin, the Priest shall iudge him cleane, for it is but a scabbe: and he shall wash his clothes, and be cleane.

7 But if the scabbe growe in the skin after that he is scene of the Priest, and iudged cleane, he shall be scene of the Priest againe.

8 If the priest see that the scabbe be grown abroad in the skinne, the priest shall pronounce him vn-cleane: for it is a leprosie.

9 When the plague of leprosie is in a man, he shall be brought vnto the priest.

10 And the Priest shall see him: and if the swelling be white in the skinne, and haue made the haire white, and there be rawe flesh in the swelling:

11 It is an olde leprosie in the skin of his flesh, and the priest shall pronounce him vn-cleane, and shall not shut him vp, seeing he is vn-cleane.

12 If a leprosie breake out abroad in the skin, and couer all the skin from his head to his foote where he couer the priest looketh:

13 Then the priest shall consider: and if the leprosie haue couered all his flesh, he shall iudge the plague to be cleane, because it is all turned into whitenesse, and he shall be cleane.

14 But if there be rawe flesh on him when he is scene, he shall be vn-cleane.

15 And the priest shall see the rawe flesh, and declare him to be vn-cleane: for the rawe flesh is vn-cleane, seeing it is a leprosie.

16 Or if the rawe flesh turne againe, & change vnto white, he shall come vnto the priest:

17 And the priest shall see him, and beholde, if the soze bee changed vnto white, the priest shall iudge the plague cleane, and hee shall be cleane.

18 The flesh also in whose skinne there is a byle, and is healed,

19 And in the place of the byle there appeare a white riling, either a shining white, and somewhat reddish, it shall be scene of the priest.

20 And if when the priest seeth him, it appeare lower then the skinne, and the haire thereof be changed vnto white, the priest shall iudge him vn-cleane: for it is a plague of leprosie broken out of the byle.

21 But if the priest looke on it, and there be no white haire therein, and if it be not lower then the skin, but be darker, the priest shall shut him vp seuen dayes.

22 And if it spread abroad in the skinne, the priest shall pronounce him vn-cleane, seeing it is a soze.

23 But if the spot stand still, and growe not, it is a scarre of a byle, and therefore the priest shall declare him to be cleane.

24 If there be any flesh, in whose skinne there is a whote burning, and the quicke flesh that burneth haue a white spot, somewhat reddish, or white,

25 The priest shall looke vpon it: and if the haire in that bright spot bee changed to white, and it appeare lower then the skin, it is a leprosie broken out of the burning, and therefore the priest shall iudge him vn-cleane, seeing it is the plague of leprosie.

26 But if the priest looke on it, and there bee no white haire in the bright spot, and the place be no lower then the other skinne, but be darker, the priest shall shut him vp seuen dayes.

27 And the priest shall looke vpon him the seuenth day: and if it be grown abroad in the skin the priest shall iudge him vn-cleane, seeing it is the plague of leprosie.

28 And if the spotte stande still in it, and growe not in the skinne, but is darke, it is a riling of the burning, and the priest shall therefore declare him cleane, seeing it is a scarre of the burning.

29 If man or woman hath a soze vpon the head or the beard,

30 The priest shall see the soze, & if it appeare lower then the skin, and there be in it a yellow haire and skinne, the priest shall iudge him vn-cleane, seeing that the same fretting is a token of leprosie vpon the head or beard.

31 And if the Priest looke on the soze of the fret, and it seeme not lower then the skinne, and that the haire is not blacke, the Priest shall shut vp him that hath the fretting soze seuen dayes.

32 And in the seuenth day, the priest shall looke on the soze: and if the fret be not grown, & there be in it no yellow haire, and the fret seeme not lower then the skinne,

33 He shall be shauen, but the fret shall he not shau: and the priest shall shut vp him that hath the fret, seuen dayes moe.

34 And in the seuenth day the priest shall looke on the fret: and if the fret be not grown in the skinne, nor seeme lower then the other skin, the priest shall cleanse him: and hee shall wash his clothes, and be cleane.

35 But if the fret grow in the skin after his cleansing, 36 The priest shall looke on him, and if the fret be grown in the skinne, the priest shall not seeke for yellow haire, for he is vn-cleane.

Some were tempted, but if the Priest iudged him vn-cleane he was put out from among the people, as appeareth by the words of the prophet, Ezech. 11. 14. and by King D. 11. 2. Ch. 26. 20.

Interpreting the word of the Lord, which is written in the book of the law, that the man which is afflicted with the plague of leprosie shall be shut up, and shall not come out of his habitation, until he be clean: and the priest shall see him, and if the plague be not in him, he shall be clean: and he shall wash his clothes, and be clean.

But if there be rawe flesh on him when he is scene, he shall be vn-cleane.

37 But if he see the fret stand still, and that there is blacke haire growen by therein, the fret is healed, and he shalbe cleane, and the priest shal declare him to be cleane.

38 If there be many white spots in the skin of the flesh of man or woman, 39 The Priest shall looke vpon it: and if the spots in the skin of their flesh be somewhat darke and white withall, it is a freckle growen in the skin, therefore he is cleane.

40 And the man whose haire is fallen off his head, he is balde, yet cleane.

41 And hee that hath his haire fallen off on the part of his head toward his face, is forehead-balde, yet cleane.

42 If there be in the balde head, or balde forehead a white reddish soze, there is leprosie spung vp in the balde head, or balde forehead.

43 And the Priest shall looke vpon him: and if the rising of the soze be white reddish in his balde head, or balde forehead, after the maner of leprosie, which is in the skin of his flesh, 44 Then he is a leprous man and vncleane: and the priest shall pronounce him vncleane, for the plague the reof is in his head.

45 The leper in whom the plague is, shal haue his<sup>d</sup> clothes rent, and his head bare, and shal put a covering vpon his lips, and shal cry, Vncleane, vncleane.

46 And as long as the disease lasteth vpon him, he shalbe defiled, and vncleane: he shal dwell alone, euen without the campe shall his habitation be.

47 The garment also, that the plague of leprosie is in, whether it be a wollen garment or a linen garment,

48 Whether it be in the warpe or woofe of linen or of wollen, either in a skin, or any thing made of skin:

49 If the disease be light greene, or somewhat reddish in the garment or skin, whether it be in the warpe or woofe, or any thing that is made of skin, then it is a plague of leprosie, and shall be shewed vnto the Priest.

50 The Priest therefore shall see the plague, and shut it by seuen dayes.

51 And hee shall looke on the plague the seuenth day: which if it be increased in the garment, whether it be in the warpe or woofe, or in a skinne, or in any thing that is made of skinne, it is the leprosie of a fretting soze, it is vncleane.

52 And he shall burne that garment, either warpe or woofe, whether it be wollen or linen, or any thing that is made of skin, wherein the plague is, for it is a fretting leprosie, it shall bee burnt in the fire.

53 If the Priest see that the plague is not growen in the garment, epyther in the warpe, or woofe, or in whatsoeuer thing of skinne it bee, 54 The Priest shall commaund them to wash the thing wherein the plague is, and he shal shut it by seuen dayes moe.

55 And the Priest shall looke on the plague againe after that it is washed: and if the plague haue not changed his colour, and is spread no further abroad, it is vncleane, thou shalt burne it in the fire, for it is fret inward, whether it be bare behinde or before.

56 And if the Priest see that the plague is darker after that it is washed, he shall cut it out of the garment, or out of the skinne, or out of the warpe, or out of the woofe.

57 And if it appeare still in the garment, epyther in the warpe, or in the woofe, or in any thing made of skinne, it is a spreading plaguc, thou shalt burne that wherem the plague is, with fire.

58 Whatsoeuer, the garment, either warpe or woofe, or whatsoeuer thing of skin it be, which thou hast washed, if the plague be departed therefrom, it shall be washed once againe, and then it shalbe cleane.

59 This is the law of the plague of leprosie in a garment, whether it be wollen or linen, either in the warpe, or woofe, or in any thing of skins, to declare it cleane, or vncleane.

The xiiij. Chapter.

3 The cleansing of the Leper, 34 and of the house that he is in.

And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 This is the lawe of the leper in the day of his cleansing: hee shall be brought vnto the Priest,

3 And the Priest shall goe out of the campe, and the Priest shall looke vpon him, and if the plague of leprosie be healed in the leper,

4 Then shall the Priest commaund to take for him that is cleansed, two liue birdes and cleane, and Cedar wood, and a scarlet lace, and hysope,

5 And the Priest shall commaund that one of the birdes be killed in an earthen vessell, and vpon running water.

6 And he shal take the liuing birde, with the Cedar wood, the scarlet lace and the hysope, and shall dip them and the liuing birde in the blood of the slain birde vpon the running water.

7 And hee shal sprinkle vpon him that must be cleansed of his leprosie, seuen times, & cleane him, and shall let the liuing birde goe free into the field.

8 And hee that is cleansed shall wash his clothes, and shauo off all his haire, and wash himselfe in water, that he may be cleane: And after that shall he come into the hosse, and shall tary without his tent seuen dayes.

9 But in the seuenth day, he shal shauo off all his haire of his head, his beard, and his browes, all his haire shall be shauen off: And he shal wash his clothes, and also wash his flesh in water, and he shalbe cleane.

10 In the eight day hee shall take two hee lambes, without blemish, and an ewe lambe of a peere old, without blemish, & three tenth deales of fine flour for a meate offering, mingled with oyle, and a Logge of oyle.

11 And the Priest that maketh him cleane, shal bring the man that is to be made cleane, & those things before the Lord, at the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation, 12 And the Priest shall take one lambe, and offer him for a trespass offering, and the logge of oyle, and waue them for a waue offering before the Lord.

13 And he shal slay þ lambe in the place where the sinne offering and the whole burnt offering are slaine, in the holy place: for as the sin offering is the Priest's, so is the trespass offering, seeing it is most holy.

14 And the Priest shall take of the blood of the trespass offering, and put it upon the tip of the right eare of him that is to be cleansed, and upon the thumbe of his right hande, & upon the great toe of his right foote.

15 The Priest shall take of the Logge of oyle, and powze it into the palme of his left hand:

16 And he shall dip his right finger in the oyle that is in his left hand, and sprinkle of the oyle with his finger seven times before the Lord.

17 And of the rest of the oyle that is in his hand, shall the Priest put upon the tip of the right eare of him that is for to be cleansed, and upon the thumbe of his right hande, and upon the great toe of his right foote, euen upon the blood of the trespass offering.

18 And the remnant of the oyle that is in the Priest's hand, hee shall powze upon the head of him that is for to be cleansed: and the Priest shall make an atonement for him before the Lord.

19 And the Priest shall offer the sinne offering, and make an atonement for him that is to be cleansed from his uncleannesse, and then shall he kill the whole burnt offering.

20 And the Priest shall offer the whole burnt offering, and the meate offering upon the altar: and the Priest shall make an atonement for him, and he shall be cleane.

21 If he be poore, and can not get so much, he shall take one lambe for a trespass offering, to waue it for his atonement, and a tenth deale of fine flour mingled with oile, for a meate offering, and a Logge of oyle,

22 And two turtle doves, or two young pigeons, such as he is able to get: whereof the one shall be for a sinne offering, & the other for a whole burnt offering.

23 And hee shall bring them the eight day for his cleansing unto the Priest before the doore of the Tabernacle of the congregation, before the Lord, 24 And the Priest shall take the lambe that is for the trespass offering, and the Logge of oyle, and waue them for a waue offering before the Lord.

25 And he shall kill the lambe for the trespass offering, and the Priest shall take of the blood of the trespass offering, and put it upon the tippe of his right eare that is to be cleansed, and upon the thumbe of his right hande, & upon the great toe of his right foote.

26 And the Priest shall powze of the oyle into the palme of his owne left hand, 27 And the Priest shall with his right finger, sprinkle of the oyle that is in his left hand seven times before the Lord.

28 And the Priest shall put of the oyle that is in his hand, upon the tip of the right eare of him that is to be cleansed, and upon the thumbe of his right hand, & upon the great toe of his right foot, in the place where the blood of the trespass offering was put.

29 And the rest of the oyle that is in the priest's hand, he shall put upon the head of him that is to be cleansed, that he may make an atonement for him before the Lord.

30 And he shall offer one of the turtle doves, or of the yong pigeons, such as he can get:

31 Such a lay as he is able to get, the one for a sinne offering, and the other for a whole burnt offering, with the meate offering: And the Priest shall make an atonement for him that is to be cleansed, before the Lord.

32 This is the lawe of him in whom is the plague of leprosie, and whose hand is not able to get that which pertaineth to his cleansing.

33 And the Lord spake unto Moses and Aaron, saying,

34 When ye be come into the land of Chanaan, which I giue you in possession, and if I put the plague of leprosie in a house of the lande of your possession:

35 He that oweth the house shall come, and tell the Priest, saying, We thinke that there is as it were a plague in the house.

36 Then the Priest shall commaund them to emptye the house, before the Priest goe into it to see the plague, that al that is in the house be not made vncleane: and then must the Priest go in, to see the house.

37 And hee shall see the plague: and if the plague be in the walles of an house, and that there be no hollow strakes, greemish or reddish, which seeme to be lower then the wall it selfe:

38 Then the Priest shall goe out of the house, to the dooze of the house, and shut vp the house seven dayes,

39 And the Priest shall come againe the seuench day, and if he see that the plague be increased in the walles of the house,

40 Then the Priest shall commaund them to take away the stones in which the plague is, and let them call them into a foule place without the citie,

41 And hee shall commaund the house to be scraped within round about, and powze out the dust that they scrape off, without the citie into a foule place,

42 And they shall take other stones, and put them in the place of those stones, and other moztter to plasser the house withall.

43 And if the plague come againe, and breake out in the house, after that he hath taken away the stones, and scraped the house, and after that he hath plattered the house.

44 Then the Priest shall come and see it: and if that the plague hath growen further in the house, it is a fretting leprosie in the house, it is therefore vncleane.

45 And he shall breake downe the house, and the stones of it, and the timber thereof, and al the moztter of the house, and he shall carrie them out of the citie into a foule place.

46 Moreover, he that goeth into the house al the while that it is shut vp, shall be vncleane vntil the Euen.

47 Hee also that sleepeth in the house, shall wash his clothes: he likewise that eateth in the house, shall wash his clothes.

48 And if the Priest come and see that the plague hath spread no further in the house after that it is new plattered: the Priest shall iudge that house cleane, because the plague is healed.

49 And let him take to cleanse the house with, all two birdes, Cedar wood, and a scarlet lace, and hysope.

50 And he shall kill one of the birdes in an earthen vessel, and upon running water.

51 And take the Cedar wood, and the hysope, and the scarlet lace, with the liuing birde, and dip them in the blood of the saine birde, and in the running water, and sprinkle the house seuen times.

52 And he shall cleanse the house with the blood of the birde, and with the running water, with the living bird, with the Cedar wood, and the hyssope, and the scarlet lace.

53 But he shall let the living birde flie out of the towne into the broad fields, and so make an atonement for the house, and it shall be cleane.

54 This is the law for all maner plague of leprosie and fret, 55 And of the leprosie of garment and house.

56 For a swelling, for a scabbe, and for a thing white, 57 To teach when it is vnckleane, and cleane: this is the law of leprosie.

The xv. Chapter.

2. 19 The maner of purging the vnckleannesse both of men and women.

And the Lord spake vnto Moses and Aaron, saying,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say vnto them, whosoever hath a running issue out of his seith, is vnckleane by reason of that issue.

3 And this shall be his vnckleannesse in his issue: if his seith run, or if his flesh be stopped from his issue, then it is vnckleannesse.

4 Every bed whereon he lieth that hath the issue, is vnckleane: and euery thing whereon he sitteth, is vnckleane.

5 Whosoever toucheth his bed, shall wash his clothes, and bathe himselfe in water, and be vnckleane vntill the Euen.

6 And he that sitteth on any thing whereon he sate that hath the issue, shall wash his clothes, and bathe himselfe in water, and be vnckleane vntill the Euen.

7 He that toucheth the flesh of him that hath the issue, shall wash his clothes, and bath himselfe in water, and be vnckleane vntill the Euen.

8 If he also that hath the issue, spit vpon him that is cleane, he shall wash his clothes, and bath himselfe in water, and be vnckleane vntill the Euen.

9 And what saddle soeuer he rideth vpon that hath the issue, shall be vnckleane.

10 And whosoever toucheth any thing that was vnder him, shall be vnckleane vnto the Euen: And he that beareth any such things, shall wash his clothes, and bathe himselfe in water, and be vnckleane vntill the Euen.

11 And whomsoever he toucheth that hath the issue, and hath not washed his hands in water, shall wash his clothes, and bathe himselfe in water, and be vnckleane vntill the Euen.

12 The vessel of earth that he toucheth which hath the issue, shall be broken: and all vessels of wood shall be rinsed in water.

13 When hee also that hath an issue is cleansed of his issue, he shall number him seuen dayes for his cleansing, and wash his clothes, and bathe himselfe in running water, and so shall he be cleane.

14 And the eighth day hee shall take to him two turtle doves, or two pong pigeons, & come before the Lord vnto the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation, and giue them vnto the Priest:

15 And the Priest shall offer them, the one for a sinne offering, and the other for a whole burnt offering, and the Priest shall make an atonement for him before the Lord, as concerning his issue.

16 If any mans seede depart from him in his sleepe, he shall wash all his flesh in water, and be vnckleane vntill the Euen.

17 And euery garment, and euery skin, where in is such seede of sleepe, shall be washed with water, and be vnckleane vntill the Euen.

18 And if he that hath such an issue of seede, doe lie with a woman, they shall both wash themselves with water, and be vnckleane vntill the Euen.

19 Also if a woman shall haue an issue, and her issue in her flesh shall be blood, she shall be put apart seuen dayes: whosoever toucheth her, shall be vnckleane vntill the Euen.

20 And all that she lieth vpon in the time of her separation shall be vnckleane: like as euery thing also that she sitteth vpon is vnckleane.

21 Whosoever toucheth her bed, shall wash his clothes, and bathe himselfe with water, and be vnckleane vntill the Euen.

22 And whosoever toucheth any thing that shee sate vpon, shall wash his clothes, and bathe himselfe with water, and be vnckleane vntill the Euen.

23 So that whether he touch her bed, or any vessel whereon she hath sitten, he shall be vnckleane vntill the euening.

24 And if any man lie with her, and her separation come vpon him, he shall be vnckleane seuen dayes: and all the bed whereon he lieth shall be vnckleane.

25 Also if a woman haue an issue of her blood many dayes out of the time of her separation, or if it runne beyonde her separation, let all the dayes of the issue of her vnckleannesse, be euen as the dayes of her separation: for she is vnckleane.

26 Euery bed whereon shee lieth as long as her issue lasteth, shall be vnto her as the bed of her separation: and whatsoeuer shee sitteth vpon, shall be vnckleane, as the vnckleannesse of her separation.

27 And whosoever toucheth any of these, shall be vnckleane, and shall wash his clothes, and bathe himselfe in water, and be vnckleane vntill the Euen.

28 But if shee be cleansed of her issue, shee shall count her seuen dayes: and after that shee shall be cleane.

29 And in the eighth day she shall take vnto her two turtles, or two young pigeons, and bring them vnto the Priest, before the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation.

30 And the Priest shall offer the one for a sinne offering, and the other for a whole burnt offering, and make an atonement for her before the Lord, as concerning the issue of her vnckleannesse.

31 Thus shall ye separate the children of Israel from their vnckleannesse, that they die not in their vnckleannesse, if they defile my tabernacle that is among them.

32 This is the law of him that hath an issue, and of him whose seede runneth from him in his sleepe, and is defiled therein:

33 Also of her that for her separation is put apart, and of whosoeuer hath a running issue, whether it bee man or woman, and of him that lyceth with her which is vnclane.

The xvj. Chapter.

2 What Aaron must doe. 8 Of the Scape goate. 14 The cleansing of the Sanctuary.

AND the Lord * spake vnto Moses after the death of the two sonnes of Aaron, when they offered before the Lord, and dyed.

2 And the Lord said vnto Moses, Speake vnto Aaron thy brother, that he come not at all times into the holy place within the vail before the mercie seate which is vpon the Arke, that he die not: for I will appeare in the cloud vpon the mercie seate.

3 But with this thing shall Aaron come into the holy place: euen with a young bullocke for a sinne offering, and with a ramme for a whole burnt offering.

4 He shall put the holy linen coate vpon him, and shall haue linen breeches vpon his flesh, and shall be girded with a linen girdle, and with a linnen cap shall he be attired. These are holy garments: therefore shall he wash his flesh in water when he doeth put them on.

5 And he shall take of the congregation of the children of Israel, two hee goates for a sinne offering, and a ramme for a whole burnt offering.

6 And Aaron shall offer his bullocke for his sinne offering, and make an atonement for him, and for his house.

7 And he shall take the two hee goates, and present them before the Lord at the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation.

8 And Aaron shall cast lottes ouer the two goates: one lot shall be for the Lord, and the other for the Scape goate.

9 And Aaron shall bring the goate vpon which the Lords lot fel, and offer him for a sinne offering.

10 But the goate of which the lot fel to be the Scape goate, shall be set aliué before the Lord to reconcile with, and to let him goe as a Scape goate into the wilderness.

11 And Aaron shall bring the bullocke for his sinne offering, and reconcile for himselfe and for his house, and shall kill the bullocke for his sinne offering.

12 And he shall take a censur full of burning coales from off the altar before the Lord, and shall fill his hand full of sweete incense beaten small, and bring them within the vail.

13 And he shall put the incense vpon the fire before the Lord, that the cloud of the incense may couer the mercie seate that is vpon the witness, and he shall not die.

14 * And hee shall take of the blood of the bullocke, and sprinkle it with his finger vpon the mercie seate Eastward: and before the mercie seate shall he sprinkle of the blood with his finger seven times.

15 Then shall he kill the goate that is the peoples sinne offering, and bring his blood within the vail, and doe with that blood as he did with the blood of the bullocke, sprinkling it vpon the mercie seate, and before the mercie seate.

16 And hee shall reconcile the holy place from the vncleannesse of the children of Israel, and from their trespasses in all their sinnes: & so shall hee doe for the tabernacle of the congregation that is set among them, euen among their vncleannesse.

17 * And let there be no body in the tabernacle of the congregation, when hee goeth in to make an atonement in the holy place, vntill hee come out, and haue made at atonement for himselfe, and for his household, and for all the congregation of Israel.

18 And he shall goe out vnto the altar that is before the Lord, and reconcile vpon it, and shall take of the blood of the bullocke, and of the blood of the goate, and put it vpon the hornes of the altar round about.

19 So shall hee sprinkle of the blood vpon it with his finger seven times, and cleanse it, and halowe it from the vncleannesse of the children of Israel.

20 And when he hath made an end of reconciling the holy place, and the tabernacle of the congregation, and the altar, hee shall bring the liue goate,

21 And Aaron shall put both his hands vpon the head of the liue goate, and confesse ouer him all the misdoedes of the children of Israel, and all their trespasses in all their sinnes, putting them vpon the head of the goate, and send him away by the hand of a conuenient man into the wilderness.

22 And the goate shall beare vpon him all their misdoedes vnto the land of separation, and he shall let the goate goe into the wilderness.

23 After, Aaron shall come into the tabernacle of the congregation, and put off the linnen clothes which hee put on when hee went in into the holy place, and leaue them there.

24 And let him wash his flesh with water in the holy place, and put on his own raiment, and then come out, & offer his whole burnt offering, and the whole burnt offering of the people, and make an atonement for himselfe, and for the people.

25 And the fat of the sinne offering shall hee burne vpon the altar.

26 And he that carried forth the goate for the Scape goate, shall wash his clothes, and bathe his flesh in water, and then come into the holle.

27 And the bullocke for the sinne offering, and the goate for the sinne offering, whose blood was brought in to cleanse the holy place, shall one carie out * without the holle, to be burnt in the fire, with their skins, their flesh, and their dung.

28 And hee that burneth them, shall wash his clothes, and bathe his flesh in water, and then come into the holle.

29 And this shall be an ordinance for euer vnto you: that in the tenth day of the seventh moneth ye humble your selves, and do no worke at all, whether it be one of your owne countrey, or a stranger that sojourneth among you.

30 * For that day shall the Priest make an atonement for you, to cleanse you, and that ye may be cleare from all your sinnes before the Lord.

31 Let it be a Sabbath of rest vnto you, and ye shall humble your selves by an ordinance for euer.

32 And the Priest whom he shall anoint, and whom hee shall consecrate to minister in his fathers stead, shall make the attonement and shall put on the linnen clothes, and holy ornaments:

The xvij. Chapter.

4 All sacrifice must be brought to the doore of the tabernacle. 7 To devils they may not offer. 10 They may not eat blood.

AND the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

2 Speake unto Aaron, and unto his sonnes, and unto all the children of Israel, and say unto them, This is the thing which the Lord hath charged, saying,

3 What man soever of the house of Israel killeth an ore, or lambe, or goate in the holle, or that killeth it out of the holle,

4 And bringeth it not unto the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation, to offer an offering unto the Lord before the dwelling place of the Lord, blood shall be imputed unto that man, he hath shed blood, and that man shall be cut off from among his people.

5 Wherefore, when the children of Israel bring their offerings that they offer in the wild field, they shall bring them unto the Lord, even unto the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation by the Priest, to offer them for peace offerings unto the Lord.

6 And the Priest shall sprinkle the blood upon the altar of the Lord, which is before the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation, and burne the fat for a sweete savour unto the Lord.

7 And let them no more offer their offerings unto devils, after who they have gone a whooring: This shall be an ordinance for ever unto them in their generations.

8 And thou shalt say unto them, whatsoever man it be of the house of Israel, or of the strangers which sojourne among you, that offereth a whole burnt offering or sacrifice,

9 And bringeth it not unto the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation, to offer it unto the Lord, that man shall be cut off from among his people:

10 And whatsoever man it be of the house of Israel, or of the strangers that sojourne among you, that eateth any manner of blood, I will set my face against that soule that eateth blood, and will cut him off from among his people.

11 For the life of the flesh is in the blood, and I have given it unto you upon the altar, to make an atonement for your soules: for this blood shall make an atonement for the soule.

12 Therefore I said unto the children of Israel, Let no soule of you eat blood, neither let any stranger that sojourneth among you eat blood.

13 And whatsoever man it be of the children of Israel, or of the strangers that sojourne among you, which hunteth & catcheth any beast or soule, that may be eaten, let him pour out the blood thereof, and cover it with dust.

14 For the life of the flesh is the blood of it joyned with his life: therefore I said unto the children of Israel, Ye shall eat the blood of no manner of flesh, for the life of all flesh is the blood thereof: whosoever eateth it, shall be cut off.

15 And every soule that eateth it which died alone, or that which was torne with wilde beasts, whether it be one of your own country, or a stranger, he shall wash his clothes, and bath himselfe in water, and be uncleane untill the evening: and then shall he be cleane.

16 If he wash them not, nor bathe his flesh, he shall beare his sinne.

4 But doe after my iudgements, and keepe mine ordinances, to walke therein: I am the Lord your God.

5 Ye shall keepe therefore mine ordinances and my iudgements: which if a man doe, hee shall live in them: I am the Lord.

7 The nakednesse of thy father, and the nakednesse of thy mother, shalt thou not uncover: for she is thy mother, therefore shalt thou not discover her nakednesse.

8 The nakednesse of thy fathers wife shalt thou not discover: for it is thy fathers nakednes.

9 Thou shalt not discover the nakednesse of thy sister, the daughter of thy father, or daughter of thy mother, whether she be born at home, or without.

10 Thou shalt not uncover the nakednesse of thy sonnes daughter, or thy daughters daughter, for that is thine owne nakednesse.

11 The nakednes of thy fathers wives daughter, begotten of thy father, which is thy sister, thou shalt not discover her nakednesse.

12 Thou shalt not uncover the nakednesse of thy fathers sister, for shee is thy fathers kind woman.

13 Thou shalt not discover the nakednesse of thy mothers sister: for shee is thy mothers kind woman.

14 Thou shalt not uncover the nakednesse of thy fathers brother, that is, thou shalt not go in unto his wife which is thine aunt.

15 Thou shalt not discover the nakednesse of thy daughter in law: for she is thy sonnes wife, therefore shalt thou not uncover her nakednesse.

16 Thou shalt not uncover the nakednesse of thy brothers wife, for that is thy brothers nakednesse.

17 Thou shalt not discover the nakednesse of thy wife and her daughter, neither shalt thou take her sons daughter, or her daughters daughter, to uncover their nakednesse: for they are her kindwomen, and it were wickednesse.

The xvij. Chapter.

15 And if a man lie with a beast, let him die, and ye shall slay the beast also.

16 If a woman goe into any beaſt, and lie downe thereto, thou shalt kill the woman and the beaſt also: let them die, their blood be vpon them.

17 If a man take his ſiſter, his fathers daughter, or his mothers daughter, and ſee her nakedneſſe, and ſeee his nakedneſſe, it is a wicked thing, they ſhall be cut off in the ſight of their people: he hath vncouered his ſiſters nakedneſſe, hee ſhall beare his ſinne.

21 No man that hath a blemiſh, and is of the ſeede of Aaron the Priet, ſhall come nigh to offer the ſacrifices of the Lord made by fire: when he hath a blemiſh, let him not preaſe to offer the bread of his God.

22 Let him eate the bread of his God, both of the moſt holy, and of the holy:

3 Who ought to abstaine from eating the things that were offered. 19 How, what, and when they should be offered.

And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

2 Speake unto Aaron and his sonnes, that they bee separated from the holy things of the children of Israel, and that they pollute not my holy name in those things which they halowe unto me: I am the Lord.

3 Say unto them, whosoever hee bee of all your seede among your generations after you, that goeth unto the holy things which the children of Israel halowe unto the Lord, having his uncleannesse upon him, that soule shall be cut off from out of my sight: I am the Lord.

4 What man soeuer of the seed of Aaron is a Leper, or hath a running issue, hee shall not eate of the holy things untill he be cleane. And who so toucheth any man that is uncleane by reason of a dead body, or a man whose seede runneth from him in his sleepe,

5 Or whosoever toucheth any creeping thing, whereby hee may bee made uncleane, or a man of whom he may take uncleannesse, whosoever uncleannesse he hath:

6 The same soule that hath touched any such, shall be uncleane untill euen, and shall not eate of the holy things, until he haue washed his flesh with water.

7 And when the sunne is downe, he shall be cleane, & shall afterward eate of the holy things, forasmuch as it is his food.

8 Of a beast that dieth alone, or is rent with wilde beastes, whereby he may be defiled, he shall not eate: I am the Lord.

9 Let them keepe therefore mine ordinance, lest they for the same lade sinne upon them, and die for it, if they deale it: I the Lord sanctifie them.

10 There shall no stranger eate of the holy thing, neither a ghest of the Priests, neither shall an hired seruant eate of the holy thing.

11 But if the priest buy any soule with money, he shall eate of it, like as hee that is borne in his house: they shall eate of his meate.

12 If the priests daughter also be married unto a stranger, shee may not eate of the halowed heaue offerings:

13 Notwithstanding, if the priests daughter be a widowe, or diuorced, and haue no childe, but is returned unto her fathers house againe, shee shall eate of her fathers meate, as well as she did in her youth: but there shall no stranger eate thereof.

14 If a man eat of the holy thing unwittingly, he shall put the fifth part thereunto, and giue it unto the priest, with the halowed thing.

15 And the Priests shall not defile the holy things of the children of Israel, which they offer unto the Lord:

16 To lade themselves with misdoing and trespass, while they eate their holy things: for I the Lord doe halow them.

17 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

18 Speake unto Aaron and his sonnes, and unto all the children of Israel, & say unto them, whatsoeuer he be of the house of Israel, or stranger in Israel that will offer his sacrifice for al his vowes, and for all his free will offerings, which they will offer unto the Lord for a whole burnt offering:

19 Ye shall offer willingly a male without blemish, of the beefes, of the sheepe, or of the goates.

20 But whatsoeuer hath a blemish, that shall ye not offer: for it shall not be acceptable for you.

21 And whosoever bringeth a peace offering unto the Lord, to accomplish his vowe, or a free will offering in beefes or sheepe, it shall be perfite to bee accepted: there shall bee also no blemish therein.

22 Blinde, or broken, or lame, or having a wenne, or skurue, or scabbed, yee shall not offer such unto the Lord, nor make an offering by fire of any such upon the altar unto the Lord.

23 A bulloche or a sheepe that hath any member superfluous or lacking, mayst thou offer for a free will offering: but for a vowe it shall not be accepted.

24 Ye shall not offer unto the Lord that which is bruised, or crushed, or broken, or cut away, neither shall you make any offering thereof in your land.

25 Neither of a strangers hand shall ye offer the bread of your God of any such, because their corruption is in them, and they haue deformity in themselves: and therefore shall they not be accepted for you.

26 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

27 When a bulloche, or a sheepe, or a goate, is brought forth, it shall be seuen dayes vnder the damme, and from the eight day and thenceforth, it shall be accepted for a burnt sacrifice unto the Lord.

28 And whether it be Cowe or ewe, yee shall not kill it and her yong both in one day.

29 When ye will offer a thank offering unto the Lord, offer it willingly:

30 And the same day it must bee eaten by, so that ye leaue none of it until the morowe: I am the Lord.

31 Therefore shall ye keepe my commaundments, and doe them: I am the Lord.

32 Neither shall ye pollute my name, but I will be halowed among the children of Israel: I am the Lord which halow you, 33 And that brought you out of the land of Egypt to be your God: I am the Lord.

7 In the first day ye shall haue an holy conuocation: ye shall doe no seruile worke therein.

8 But ye shall offer sacrifices made by fire vnto the Lord thoro'out these seuen dayes: and in the seuenth day is an holy conuocation, ye shall doe no seruile worke therein.

9 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

10 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say vnto them, When yee bee come into the land which I giue vnto you, and reape downe the harvest thereof, yee shall bring a sheafe of the first fruits of your harvest vnto the priest:

11 Which shall waue the sheafe before the Lord to be accepted for you: and the morowe after the Sabbath the priest shall waue it.

12 And ye shall offer that day, when ye waue the sheafe, an hee lambe without blemish, of a yeere olde, for a whole burnt offering vnto the Lord:

13 And the meate offering therof shall be made of two tenth deales of fine flowre, mingled with oyle, to be a sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord for a sweete savour: and the drinke offering therof shall be of wine, the fourth deale of an Hin.

14 And yee shall eate neither bread, nor parched corne, nor greene eares, vntill the selfe same day that ye haue brought an offering vnto your God: Let this be a law for euer in your generations, and in all your dwellings.

15 * And yee shall count vnto you from the morowe after the Sabbath, from the day that ye brought the sheafe of the waue offering, seuen Sabbaths, they shall be complet:

16 Euen vnto the morowe after the seuenth Sabbath, shall ye number fifty daies, and ye shall bring a new meate offering vnto the Lord.

17 And ye shall bring out of your habitations two waue loaves, made of two tenth deales of fine flowre, and that are made with leauen, for first fruits vnto the Lord.

18 And yee shall bring with the bread seuen lambes without defoultie, of one yeere of age, and one yong bullocke, and two rammes, which shall serue for a whole burnt offering vnto the Lord, with their meate offerings and their drinke offerings, to bee a sacrifice made by fire, for a sweete savour vnto the Lord.

19 Then yee shall prepare an hee goate for a sinne offering, and two lambes of one yeere olde for peace offerings.

20 And the Priest shall waue them with the bread of the first fruits, for a waue offering before the Lord, with the two lambes: they shall be holy to the Lord for the Priests.

21 And ye shall proclaim the same day, that it may be an holy conuocation vnto you: ye shall doe no seruile worke therein, let it be a lawe for euer in all your dwellings thoro'out your generations.

22 * And when ye reape downe the harvest of your land, thou shalt not make cleane riddance of the corners of the field when thou reapest, * neither shalt thou make any after gathering of thy harvest, but shalt leaue them vnto the poore and the stranger: I am the Lord your God.

23 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

24 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say, In the seuenth moneth in the first day of the moneth shall ye haue Sabbath, euen the remembrance of blowing of trumpets, an holy conuocation.

25 Ye shall doe no seruile worke therein, but offer sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord.

26 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

27 * The tenth day of the selfe seuenth moneth, is a day of reconciling, therefore it shall be an holy conuocation vnto you, and ye shall humble your soules, and offer sacrifices made by fire vnto the Lord.

28 Ye shall doe no worke the same day, for it is a day of reconciling, to make an atonemen for you before the Lord your God.

29 For whatsoeuer soule it be that humblyth not himselfe that day, hee shall be cut off from among his people.

30 And whatsoeuer soule doeth any worke that day, the same soule will I destroy from among his people.

31 Ye shall doe no maner of worke, therefore let it be a law for euer in your generations, and in all your dwellings, 32 Let it be vnto you a Sabbath of rest, and ye shall humble your soules in the ninth day of the moneth at Euen: from Euen to Euen shall ye celebrate your Sabbath.

33 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

34 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say, The fifteenth day of the same seuenth moneth, is the feast of tabernacles, * seuen daies vnto the Lord.

35 The first day is an holy conuocation, yee shall doe no seruile worke.

36 Seuen dayes yee shall offer sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord, and in the eighth day shall be an holy conuocation vnto you, and ye shall offer sacrifices made by fire vnto the Lord: It is the solemne assembly, & ye shall doe no seruile worke therein.

37 These are the feasts of the Lord which yee shall call holy conuocations, for to offer sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord, whole burnt offering, meate offering, ||sacrifices, and drinke offerings, euer thing vpon his day, 38 Beside the Sabbaths of the Lord, and beside your gifts, beside al your bowes, and al your free offerings, which ye giue vnto the Lord.

39 Moreover, in the fifteenth day of the seuenth moneth, when yee haue gathered in the fruit of the lande, yee shall keepe holy day vnto the Lord seuen dayes. The first day shall bee a Sabbath, likewise in the eight day shall bee a Sabbath.

40 And yee shall take you in the first day the fruits of goodly trees, branches of Palme trees, and the boughes of thicke trees, and willowes of the brooke, and shall reioice before the Lord your God seuen dayes.

41 And ye shall keepe this feast vnto the Lord seuen dayes || in the yeere: It shall be a law for euer in your generations, that yee keepe it in the seuenth moneth.

42 Yee shall dwell in || bootes seuen dayes: euen all that are Israelites borne, shall dwell in bootes:

The xxiiij. Chapter.

1 The oyle for the lampes. 15 He that blasphemeth must be stoned. 17 He that killeth, shall be killed.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Command the children of Israel, that they bring vnto thee pure oyle Olive, beaten for the light, to cause the lampes to burne continually:

3 without the vaile of witness, in the tabernacle of the congregation, shall Aaron dressethem, both euening & morning before the Lord alwayes: Let it be a Law for euer in your generations.

4 Ihee shall dresseth the lampes vpon the pure candlesticke before the Lord perpetually.

5 And thou shalt take fine flowre, and bake twelue cakes thereof, two tenth deales shall be in one cake.

6 And thou shalt set them in two rowes: five on a row vpon the pure table before the Lord.

7 And put pure frankincense vpon the rows, that they may be bread of remembrance, and an offering made by fire vnto the Lord.

8 Euery Sabbath hee shall put them in rowes before the Lord euermore, of the children of Israel shall they bee offered for an euerlasting covenant.

9 * And they shall be Aarons and his somes, which shall eat them in the holy place: for they are most holy vnto him, of the offerings of the Lord made by fire, by a perpetuall statute.

10 And the sonne of an Israelitish wife whose father was an Egyptian, went out among the children of Israel: and this sonne of the Israelitish wife, and a man of Israel kroue together in the holte.

11 And the Israelitish womans sonne blasphemed the name of the Lord, and cursed, & they brought him vnto Moses: His mothers name was Selomith, which was the daughter of Dibzi, of the tribe of Dan.

12 And they put him in ward, that the minde of the Lord might be shewed them.

13 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

14 Bring the cursed speaker without the holte, and let all that heard him, put their hands vpon his head, and let all the multitude stone him.

15 And thou shalt speake vnto the children of Israel, saying, whosoever curseth his God, shall beare his inime.

16 And he that blasphemeth the name of the Lord, let him be slaine, and al the multitude shall stone him to death: whether hee be borne in the land, or a stranger, when he blasphemeth the name of the Lord, let him be slaine.

17 * And he that killeth any man, let him dye the death.

18 And hee that killeth a beast, let him make him good, heaft for beast.

19 And if a man cause a blemish in his neighbour: as he hath done, so shall it be done to him.

20 Breach for breach, * eye for eye, and tooth for tooth: euen as hee hath blemished a man, so shall he be blemished againe.

21 And he that killeth a beast, let him restore it, and he that killeth a man, let him die.

22 Ye shall haue one manner of law, euen for the stranger, as well as for one of your owne countrey: for I am the Lord your God.

23 And Moses tolde the children of Israel, and they brought him that had cursed, out of the holte, and stoned him with stones: and the children of Israel did as the Lord commaunded Moses.

The xxv. Chapter.

2 The Sabbath of the seuenth yere, 8 and the yere of Iubilee.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses in mount Sinai, saying,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say vnto them, when ye come into the land which I giue you, the land shall rest and keepe * Sabbath vnto the Lord:

3 Six peeres thou shalt sowe thy field, and six peeres thou shalt cut thy vineyard, and gather in the fruite thereof.

4 But the seuenth yere shall be a Sabbath of rest vnto the land, the Lords Sabbath it shall be: thou shalt neither sowe thy field, nor cut thy vineyard.

5 That which groweth of the owne accord of thy haruell, thou shalt not reape, neither gather the grapes that thou hast left behind: for it is a yere of rest vnto the land.

6 And the rest of the land shall be meate for you, euen for thee, for thy seruant, and for thy maid, for thy hired seruant, and for the stranger that sojourneth with thee:

7 And for thy cattell, and for the beasts that are in thy land, shall all the increase thereof be meate.

8 And thou shalt number seven Sabbath of peeres vnto thee, euen seven times seven peeres, and the space of the seven Sabbath of peeres, will be vnto thee fourtie and nine peeres.

9 And then thou shalt cause to blowe the trumpet of the * Jubilee in the tenth day of the seuenth moneth, euen in the day of atonement shall ye make the trumpet blowe throughout all your land.

10 And ye shall hallowe that yere, euen the fiftieth yere, & proclaime libertie throughout all the lande, vnto all the inhabitants thereof: for it shall be a Jubilee vnto you, and ye shall returne euery man vnto his possession, and euery man vnto his hired againe.

11 A yere of Jubilee shall that fiftieth yere be vnto you. Ye shall not sow, neither reape that which groweth of it selfe, neither gather the grapes that are left.

12 For that yere of Jubilee shall be holy vnto you: but ye shall eate of the increase thereof out of the field.

13 In the yere of this Jubilee ye shall returne euery man vnto his possession againe.

14 If thou sellest ought vnto thy neighbour, or buyest ought of thy neighbours hand, ye shall not oppresse one another.

15 But according to the number of peeres after the Jubilee yere, thou shalt buy of thy neighbour: and according vnto the number of peeres of the fruite he shall sell vnto thee.

16 According to the multitude of peeres, hee shall increase the price thereof, and according to the fewnesse of peeres, hee shall minish the price of it: for the <sup>b</sup> number of frutes doth he sell vnto thee.

18 Wherefore, ye shall doe after mine ordinances, and keepe my lawes, and doe them, and ye shall dwell in the land in safetie.

19 And the land shall giue her fruit, and ye shall eate your fill, and dwell therein in safetie.

20 And if ye shall say, what shall we eate the seventh yeere, for we shall not sowe, nor gather in our increase?

21 I will sende my blessing vpon you in the sixth yeere, and it shall bring forth fruit for thre yeeres.

22 And ye shall sowe the eighth yeere, and eate yet of olde fruite vntill the ninth yeere: vntill her fruits come, ye shall eate of old store.

23 The land shall not be solde to waste: for the land is mine, and ye but strangers, and sojourners with me.

24 In all the land of your possession, ye shall grant a redemption for the land.

25 If thy brother be wahren pooze, and hath solde away of his possession, and if any of his kin come to redeme it, let him buy out that which his brother sold.

26 And if he haue no man to redeme it, and his hand hath gotten & found as much as may be sufficient to buy it out againe:

27 Then let him count howe long it hath bene solde, and deliuer the rest vnto the man to whom he sold it, that he may returne to his possession againe.

28 But and if his hand can not get sufficient to restore to the other againe, then that which is solde, shall remaine in the hand of him that hath bought it, vntill the yeere of Iubilee: and in the Iubilee it shall come out, and he shall returne vnto his possession againe.

29 And if a man sell a dwelling house in a walled citie, he may buy it out againe within a whole yeere after it is sold: within a yeere may he redeme it.

30 But and if he buy it not out againe within the space of a full yeere, then the house that is in the walled citie, shall be stablished, as translated to him that bought it, and his successors after him, and shall not goe out in the Iubilee:

31 But the houses of villages, which haue no walles round about them, are counted as the fields of the countrey: and therefore they may be bought out againe, and shall goe out in the Iubilee.

32 Notwithstanding, the cities of the Leuites, and the houses of the cities of their possession, may the Leuites redeme at all seasons.

33 And if a man purchase of the Leuites: the house that was sold, and the citie of their possession, shall goe out in the yeere of Iubilee: for the houses of the cities of the Leuites, are their possession among the children of Israel.

34 But the fields of the suburbs of their cities may not be solde, for it is their perpetuall possession.

35 If thy brother bee wahren pooze, and fallen in decay with thee, thou shalt relieue him as a stranger, or a sojourner, that he may liue with thee.

36 And thou shalt take no vsurie of him, or bantage: but thou shalt feare thy God, that thy brother may liue with thee.

37 Thou shalt not giue him thy money vpon vsurie, nor lend him thy victuals for increase.

38 I am the Lord your God, which brought you out of the lande of Egypt, to giue you the land of Chanaan, and to be your God.

39 If thy brother that dwelleth by thee be wahren pooze, and be solde vnto thee, thou shalt not compell him to serue as a bond seruant:

40 But as an hired seruant, and as a sojourner he shall be with thee, and shall serue thee vnto the yeere of Iubilee.

41 And then shall he depart from thee, both he and his children with him, and shall returne vnto his owne kinred againe, and vnto the possession of his fathers shall he returne.

42 For they are my seruants, which I brought out of the land of Egypt: and shall not therefore be sold as bondmen.

43 Thou shalt not rule ouer him cruelly, but shalt feare thy God.

44 Thy bondseruant, and thy bondmaide, which thou shalt haue, shall be of the heathen that are round about you: of them shall ye purchase seruants and maides.

45 Whoeuer, of the children of the strangers that are sojourners among you, of them shall ye buy, and of their families that are with you, which they begate in your land: these shall be your possession.

46 And ye shall take them as inheritance for your children after you, to possesse them for an inheritance, they shall be your bondmen for euer, but ouer your brethren the children of Israel, ye shall not rule one ouer an other cruelly.

47 If a sojourner or stranger wax rich by thee, & thy brother that dwelleth by him ware pooze, and sell himselfe vnto the stranger or sojourner by thee, or to the stocke of the strangers kin:

48 After that he is solde, he may be redeemed againe, one of his brethren may redeme him:

49 Either his uncle or his uncles sonne may buy him out, or any that is nigh of kinne vnto him of his kindred, may redeme him: either if his hand can get so much, he may be bought out.

50 And he shall reckon with him that bought him, from the yeere that he was sold in, vnto the yeere of Iubilee, and the price of his buying, shall be according vnto the number of yeeres, according to the time of an hired seruant that he be with him.

51 If there be yet many yeeres behind, according vnto them, let him giue againe for his deliuerance, of the money that he was bought for.

52 If there remaine but few yeeres vnto the yeere of Iubilee, let him count with him againe, and according vnto his yeeres giue him againe for his redemption.

53 And he shall be with him yeere by yeere as an hired seruant: and the other shall not rule cruelly ouer him in thy sight.

54 If he be not redeemed thus, he shall goe out in the yeere of Iubilee, both he and his children with him.

55 For vnto me the children of Israel are seruants, they are my seruants which I brought out of the lande of Egypt: I am the Lord your God.

16 I also will do this vnto you, I will bring vpon you fearefullnesse, consumption, and the burning ague, to consume your eyes, and gender sorow of heart: and ye shall towe your seede in vaine, for your enemies shall eate it.

17 And I will set my face against you, and ye shall fall before your enemies: they that hate you shall reigne ouer you, and ye shall see when no man followeth you.

18 And if ye wil not yet for all this hearken vnto mee, then will I punish you seuen times more for your finnes:

And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say vnto them, If any man will make a singular bowe of a person vnto the Lord, by thy estimation:

3 When thy estimation shall be thus: Of the male from twentie yeeres old vnto lirtie, shalbe by thy estimation fiftie sicles of siluer, after the sicke of the sanctuarie:

4 And if it be a female, then thy valuation shalbe thirtie sicles.

5 And from five yeeres to twenty, thy valuation shalbe of the male twenty sicles, and of the female ten sicles.

6 And from a moneth vnto five yeeres, thy estimation shalbe of the male, at five sicles of siluer, and of the female, at thre sicles of siluer.

7 And from lirtie yeeres old and aboue, if he be a male, then thy price shall be fiftene sicles, and for the female ten sicles.

8 But if hee be poozer then thou hast esteemed him, he shall present himselfe before the priest, and the price shall value him: according as the hand of him that bowed is able to get, euen so shall the Priest value him.

9 If it be a beast of which men bring an offering vnto the Lord, all that any man giueth of such vnto the Lord, shalbe holy.

10 He shall not alter it, nor change it, a good for a bad, or a bad for a good: And if he chaunge beaft for beaft, then both the same beaft, and it also wherewith it was changed, shall be holy.

11 If it be any manner of vncleane beaft, of which men do not offer a sacrifice vnto the Lord, he shall let the beaft before the Priest:

12 And the Priest shal value it, whether it be good or bad: & as the priest setteth it, so shall it be.

13 But if he will buy it againe, he shall giue the first part more aboue that it was set at.

14 If any man dedicate his house to be holy vnto the Lord, the Priest shall set it, whether it be good or bad: and as the Priest hath set it, so shall it stand.

15 And when he that sanctified it, wil redeeme his house, let him giue the first part of the money that it was iudged at thereto, and it shalbe his.

16 If a man halowe a piece of his inherited land vnto the Lord, thou shalt value it according to the seede thereof: An Homer of barley seede shalbe set at fiftie sicles of siluer.

17 If hee halow his siele immediately from the yeere of Jubilee, it shalbe woorthy according as thou doest esteeme it.

18 But and if he halow his siele after the Jubilee, the priest shal reckon vnto him the money, according to the number of yeeres that remaine, vnto the yeeres of Jubilee following, and it shal be abated by thy estimation.

19 If hee that consecrated the siele, will redeeme it againe, let him put the fifth part of the price that thou diddest value it at thereunto, and it shall be his.

20 And if he wil not redeeme the siele, but sel- leth the siele to another man, hee that vowed may redeeme it no more:

21 But when the siele goeth out in the yeere of Jubilee, it shall be holy vnto the Lord, as a siele separate from common bles, and it shall be the priests possession.

22 If a man sanctifie vnto the Lord a siele which he hath bought, and is not of the ground of his inheritance:

23 The Priest shall reckon vnto him what it is woorthy vnto the yeere of Jubilee, and he shal giue the price that it is set at the same day, as a thing consecrate vnto the Lord.

24 And in the yeere of Jubilee, the siele shall returne vnto him of whome it was bought, to him whose inheritance of land it was.

25 And all thy valuation shall be according to the sicke of the sanctuarie: One sicke containeth twentie Gerahs.

26 But the first borne of the beafts, that is the Lords first borne, may no man sanctifie, whether it be ore or sheepe, for it is the Lords alreadye.

27 If it be an vncleane beaft, he shall redeeme it as thou shalt set it at, and giue the fifth part more thereto: If it be not redeemed, it shal be sold according to thy estimation.

28 Notwithstanding, nothing separate from the common ble, that a man doth separate vnto the Lord, of all that hee hath, whether it be man or beaft, or lande of his inheritance, may be solde or redeemed: for euery thing separate from the common ble, is most holy vnto the Lord.

29 Nothing separate from the common ble, which shalbe separate from man, shalbe redeemed, but die the deatch.

30 Euery tith of the land also, both of the seed of the land, and of the fruite of the trees, is the Lords, and is sanctified vnto the Lord.

31 And if a man will redeeme ought of his tithes, let him adde the fifth part thereto.

32 And euery tith of ore and of sheepe, and of euery beaft that goeth vnder the rodde, euen euery tenth shalbe holy vnto the Lord.

33 He shall not looke if it be good or bad, nor change it: else if he change it, both it and that it was changed withall, shal be halowed, and may not be redeemed.

34 These are the commandements which the Lord commanded by Moses, vnto the children of Israel in mount Sinai.

4 Corus was an Hebrew measure, that containeth thirtie of four common bushels euery bushel hauing in weight 26. pound, 8. ounces.

21 Of Gerson came the kinred of the Libnites, and the kinred of the Semites. These are the kinreds of the Gersonites.

22 And the summe of them after the number of all the males, from a moneth olde and aboue, was counted seuen thousand and five hundred.

33 And of Merari came the kindred of the Maheites, and the kindred of the Muzites: these are the kindreds of Merari.

34 And the summe of them according to the number of all the males from a moneth old and aboue, was sixe thousand and two hundred.

35 The captaine and the most ancient of their house that were of the kindred of Merari, was Zuriel the sonne of Abihael: and these shall pitch on the Northside of the Tabernacle.

41 And thou shalt appoint the Leuites to me (for I am the Lord) for all the first borne of the children of Israel, and the cattell of the Leuites, for all the first borne of the cattell of the children of Israel.

42 And Moses numbred, as the Lord commanded him, all the first borne of the children of Israel.

43 And all the first borne males, rehearsed by their names, from a moneth olde and aboue according to their number, were twentie and two thousande, two hundred and threescore and thirtene.

47 Take five sicles of euery head, after the weight of the Sanctuary, the sicle containing twentie geras, 48 And giue the money, wherewith the odde number of them is redeemed, vnto Aaron and his sonnes.

51 And Moses gaue the money of them that were redeemed, vnto Aaron and his sonnes,

The iiij. Chapter.

5 The offices of the Leuites.

And the Lord spake vnto Moses and Aaron, saying,

2 Take the summe of the children of Caath, from among the sonnes of Leui, after their kindreds and houses of their fathers,

3 from thirtie yeres and aboue, vntill fiftie, all that enter into the hoste, for to doe the worke in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

4 This shall be the office of the children of Caath in the tabernacle of the Congregation, about the most holy.

5 And when the host remooueth, Aaron and his sonnes shall come and take doone the coupling baile, and wzap the Arke of witness in it:

6 And shall put theron a covering of badgers skinner, and shall spread vpon it a cloth, that is altogether of blew silke, and put in the barres thereof.

7 And vpon the Shew table they shall spread abroad a cloth of blew silke, and put thereon the dishes, incense cippes, and goblets, and pottes to powre with: and there shall be bread thereon continually.

8 And they shall spread vpon them a covering of scarlet, and couer the same with a covering of badgers skinner, and put in the barres thereof.

9 And they shall take a cloth of blewe silke, and couer the candlesticke of light, with his lampes, snuffers, and censers, and all the oyle vessels which they occupy about it.

10 And they shall put both it & all the vessels thereof within a covering of badgers skinner, and put it vpon a barre.

11 And vpon the golden altar they shall spread a cloth of blewe silke, and couer it with a covering of badgers skinner, and put to the barres thereof.

12 And they shall take all the instruments wherewith they minister in the Sanctuary, and put a cloth of blewe silke vpon them, and couer them with a covering of badgers skinner, and put them on a barre.

13 And they shall take away the ashes from the altar, and spread a purple cloth thereon.

14 And put vpon it all the vessels thereof, that they minister withall, euen the solepannes, the fleshhookes, the fire shouels, the basons, and the other vessels of the altar: and they shall spread vpon it a covering of badgers skinner, and put to the barres of it.

15 And when Aaron & his sonnes haue made an ende of covering the Sanctuary, and all the vessels of the Sanctuary, against that the hoste remooue, then the sonnes of Caath shall come in for to heare: but they shall not touch any holy thing, lest they die. And this is the charge of the sonnes of Caath in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

16 And to the office of Eleazar the sonne of Aaron the Priest, pertaineth the oyle for the light, the sweet incense, the dayly meat offering, and the anoynting oyle, and the ouersight of all the Tabernacle, and of al that therein is, both in the Sanctuary, and in all the vessels thereof.

a Sicles were of two sorts: the one common, the other belonging to the Sanctuary; and that of the Sanctuary was double the weight of the common. The column sicle weighed two groates, and the Sanctuary sicle foure. The Scripture in this place, and in the thirtieth of Exodus, and the thirtieth fourth and fiftie, saith that the laminary sicle was weighed thentient geras, which the Directour he call doholos, and here in English, an halfpente, when eight croates of four money was an ounce: and the Hebrewes doe thinke that weighing both weigh the weight of sicle were halfe croate.

Or, censers.

17 And the Lord spake vnto Moses and Aaron, saying,

18 Ye shall not cut off the tribe of the kinred of the Gaathites from among the Leuites:

19 But thus doe vnto them, that they may liue, and not die: when they goe vnto the most holy things, let Aaron and his sonnes go in, and appoint them euery one to his office, and to his charge.

20 But let them not go in to see when the holy things are folded vp, lest they die.

21 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

22 Take also the summe of the children of Gerson, throughout the houses of their fathers, and throughout their kinreds:

23 From thirtie yeeres olde and aboue, vntil fiftie yeeres shalt thou number them, all that enter into the assembly for to doe seruice in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

24 And this is the seruice of the kinred of the Gersonites, to serue and to beare:

25 They shall beare the curtaynes of the Tabernacle, & the tabernacle of the Congregation, his covering, and the covering of the badgers skinnes that is on high vpon it, & the baile of the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation:

26 And the curtaynes of the court, & the baile that is in the entering in of the gate of the court, which is nere the Tabernacle, and nere the altar round about, with the cordes, and all the instruments that serue vnto them, and all that is made for them: and so shall they serue.

27 At the mouth of Aaron and his sonnes shall all the seruice of the children of the Gersonites be done, in all their charges, and in all their seruice: and yee shall appoint vnto them all their burdens to keepe.

28 And this is the seruice of the kinred of the children of Gerson in the tabernacle of the Congregation, & their watch shall be vnder the hand of Jthamar the sonne of Aaron the Priest.

29 And thou shalt number the sonnes of Merari after their kinreds, and after the houses of their fathers:

30 From thirtie yeeres olde and aboue, vnto fiftie yeeres, shalt thou number them, euery one that enter into the assembly, to doe the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

31 And this is the office and charge according to all their seruice in the Tabernacle of the congregation, the boordes of the Tabernacle, with the bayes, pillars, and sockets thereof.

32 And the pillars that are round about the court, with their sockets, pinnes, and cordes, and with all the instruments of it, for al their seruice: and by name yee shall reckon the instruments of their office and charge.

33 This is the seruice of the kinreds of the sonnes of Merari, according to all their office in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, vnder the hand of Jthamar the sonne of Aaron the Priest.

34 And Moses and Aaron, and the princes of the multitude, numbred the sonnes of the Gaathites, after their kinreds & houses of their fathers.

35 From thirtie yeeres old and aboue, vnto fiftie yeeres, all that enter into the assembly, to doe seruice in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

36 And the number of them throughout their kinreds, were two thousande, seven hundred and fiftie.

37 This is the number of the kinreds of Gath, namely, all that might doe seruice in the Tabernacle of the congregation, which Moses and Aaron did number, according to the commandement of the Lord, by the hand of Moses.

38 Also the numbers of the sonnes of Gerson, throughout their kinreds and houses of their fathers:

39 From thirtie yeeres olde and aboue, vnto fiftie yeeres, all that enter into the assembly for to doe seruice in the Tabernacle of the Congregation:

40 And the numbers of them throughout their kinreds, and houses of their fathers, were two thousand, six hundred and thirtie.

41 This is the number of the kinreds of the sonnes of Gerson, of all that did seruice in the tabernacle of the congregation, which Moses and Aaron did number according to the commandement of the Lord.

42 And the numbers of the kinreds of the sonnes of Merari, throughout their kinreds, and houses of their fathers:

43 From thirtie yeeres old and by, vnto fiftie yeeres, all that enter into the assembly for the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation:

44 And the numbers of them after their kinreds, were three thousand and two hundred.

45 These be the summes of the kinreds of the sonnes of Merari, which Moses and Aaron numbred according to the worde of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

46 And so all the numbers of the Leuites, which Moses, Aaron, and the Lords of Israel numbred, after their kinreds and householdes of their fathers:

47 From thirtie yeeres old and by, vnto fiftie yeeres, euery one that came to doe his duetie, of fice, seruice, and charge in the Tabernacle of the Congregation: So the numbers of them were eight thousand, five hundred and foure score.

48 According to the word of the Lord did Aaron number them by the hand of Moses, euery one according to their seruice and charge: Thus were they of that tribe numbred, as the Lord commanded Moses.

The v. Chapter.

2 The leprous and polluted persons shall be put out of the tentes. 6 The satisfaction for sinne. 12 The law of ielousie.

And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Command the children of Israel that they put out of the hoste euery leper, & euery one that hath an issue, and whoeuer is defiled by the dead:

3 Both male and female shall yee put out, even out of the hoste shall ye put them, that they defile not their tents among which I dwell.

4 And the children of Israel did so, and put them out of the hoste: as the Lord spake vnto Moses, so did the children of Israel.

5 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

6 Speake vnto the childre of Israel, when a man or woman shall commit any sinne that men commit, and trespass against the Lord: when that person shall trespass,

7 Then they shall knowledg their sin which they haue done: and let him restore againe the hurt that he hath done, with his principall, and put the fifth part of it moze thereto, and giue it vnto him whom he hath trespassed against.

8 But if the man haue no kinsman to refoze the hurt vnto, let the trespasse be made good vnto the Lord, and it shall be the Priestes, beside the ramme of the atonement, whereby an atonement shall be made for him.

9 And euery heaue offering that is made of the holy things of the children of Israel, which they bring vnto the Priest, shall be his.

10 And euery mans halowed thing shall be his: whatsoeuer any man giueth the Priest, it shall be his.

11 And the Lord spake vnto Moses saying,

12 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say vnto them, If any mans wife goe aside, and trespasse against him,

13 So that another man lie with her fleshly, and it bee hid from the eyes of her husband, and is kept close that shee is defiled, and there is no witness against her, neither shee taken with the manner,

14 And the spirit of ielousie commeth vpon him, so that hee is ielous ouer his wife which is defiled: or if the spirit of ielousie come vpon him, so that hee is ielous ouer his wife which is yet vndefiled:

15 Then let the man bring his wife vnto the Priest, and bring her offering with her, the tenth part of an Ephah of barley meale: but let him put no oyle vpon it, nor put frankincense thereon, for it is an offering of ielousie, an offering for a remembrance, causing the sin to be thought vpon.

16 And the Priest shall bring her, and set her before the Lord.

17 And the Priest shall take holy water in an earthen vessel, and of the dust that is in the flooze of the Tabernacle, the Priest shall take it, and put it into the water:

18 And let the priest let the woman before the Lord, and bicouer the womans head, and put the offering of memoriall in her hands, which is the ielousie offering: and the Priest shall haue bitter and curd water in his hand.

19 And the Priest shall charge her by an othe, and say vnto the woman, If no man haue lpen with thee, neither hast gone aside to vncleanesse without thy husband, then haue thou no harme of these bitter and curd waters.

20 But and if thou hast gone aside from thy husband, and art defiled, and some man hath lien with thee beside thine husband:

21 (Then the Priest shall charge the woman with an othe of cursing, and the Priest shall say vnto the woman) The Lord make thee accursed and detestable for the othe among thy people, when the Lord doeth make thy thigh to rot, and thy belly swell.

22 These curd waters goe into the bowels of thee, that they may make thy belly swell, and thy thigh to rot. And let the woman say, Amen, Amen.

23 And let the Priest write these curses in a booke, and hee shall blot them out with the bitter waters:

24 And giue the woman those bitter and curd waters to drinke, that those curd and bitter waters may enter into her.

25 And then the Priest shall take the ielousie offering out of the womans hand, and waue it before the Lord, and bring it vnto the altar.

26 And the Priest shall take an handfull of the offering for a memoriall, & burne it vpon the altar, and then make the woman drinke the waters:

27 And when hee hath made the woman drinke the waters, if she be defiled and haue trespassed against her husband, then shall the curd and bitter waters go into her, and her belly shall swell, and her thigh shall rot: and the woman shall be a curse among her people.

28 And if the woman bee not defiled, but is cleane, she shall haue no harme, but shall concriue and beare.

29 This is the lawe of ielousie, when a wife goeth aside from her husband, and is defiled:

30 Or when the spirit of ielousie commeth vpon a man, and hee being ielous ouer his wife, doeth bring her before the Lord, and the Priest shall doe to her according vnto all this law:

31 And the man shall be guiltlesse, and this woman shall beare her sinne.

The vj. Chapter.

2 The law of consecration of the Nazarites. 24 How the Priestes shall blesse the people.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say vnto them, When either man or woman doeth separate themselves to be a bow of a Nazarite, to separate themselves vnto the Lord:

3 He shall separate himselfe from wine and strong drinke, & shall drinke no beeger of wine or of strong drinke, nor shall drinke whatsoeuer is pressed out of grapes, and shall cate no fresh grapes, neither yet dried.

4 As long as his abstinence endureth, shall hee cate nothing that is made of the birc tree, or of the cornels, or of the huske of the grape.

5 And as long as hee boweth and is separated, there shall no razor come vpon his head, vntill his dayes be out in the which hee separateth himselfe vnto the Lord, hee shall be holy, and shall let the lockes of his haire grow.

6 As long as he separateth himselfe vnto the Lord, he shall come at no dead body.

7 Hee shall not make himselfe vncleane at the death of his father, mother, brother, or sister: because that the consecration of his God is vpon his head.

8 All the dayes of his separation hee is holy vnto the Lord.

9 And if any man die suddenly before him or he be ware, the head of his consecration shall be defiled: and he shall shau his head the day of his cleansing, the seuenth day shall he shau it.

10 And the eighth day he shall bring two turtles or two yong pigeons to the Priest, before the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

11 And the Priest shall offer the one for a sinne offering, and the other for a whole burnt offering: and make an atonement for him as concerning that hee sinned by the dead, and shall halow his head the same day.

12 And he shall consecrate vnto the Lord the time of his separation, and shall bring a lambe of a yeere old for a trespasse offering, but the dayes that were before are lost, because his consecration was defiled.

13 This is the lawe of the Nazarite: when the time of his consecration is out, hee shall be

The viij. Chapter.

2 The order of the lamps. 4 The forme of the candlestick. 6 The cleansing and offering of the Leuites.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,
 2 Speake vnto Aaron, and say vnto him, when thou settest vp the lamps, the seven lamps shall giue light toward the forefront of the candlestick.

3 And Aaron did so, and lighted the lamps thereof toward the forefront of the candlestick, as the Lord commanded Moses.

4 And this was the worke of the candlestick, euen of gold, beaten out with the hammer, both the shaft and the flowers thereof was beaten out with the hammer: according vnto the paterne which the Lord had thewed Moses, so hee made the candlestick.

5 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

6 Take the Leuites from among the children of Israel, and cleanse them.

7 And thus shalt thou doe vnto them, when thou cleansest them, Sprinkle water of purifying vpon them, and let them haue all their flesh, and let them wash their clothes, & so make themselves cleane.

8 Then let them take a yong bullocke with his meat offering, euen five slowe mingled with oile, and another yong bullocke shalt thou take for a sinne offering.

9 And thou shalt bring the Leuites before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, thou shalt gather the whole multitude of the children of Israel together,

10 And bring the Leuites before the Lord, and the children of Israel shall put their handes vpon the Leuites.

11 And Aaron shall waue the Leuites before the Lord for a waue offering of the children of Israel, that they may execute the ministracion of the seruice of the Lord.

12 And the Leuites shall put their handes vpon the heads of the bullocks: and thou shalt offer the one for a sinne offering, and the other for a whole burnt offering vnto the Lord, that thou mayest make an atonement for the Leuites.

13 And thou shalt let the Leuites befoze Aaron and his sonnes, and waue them for a waue offering vnto the Lord.

14 And thus thou shalt separate the Leuites from among the children of Israel, and the Leuites shall be mine.

15 After that, shall the Leuites go in, to do the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation: and thou shalt cleanse them, and waue them for a waue offering:

16 For they are giuen and deliuered vnto me from among the children of Israel, for such as open euery wombe, * for the first borne of all the children of Israel haue I taken them vnto mee.

17 For all the first borne of the children of Israel are mine, both man and beast: since the day that I smote euery first borne in the lande of Egypt, I sanctified them for my selfe.

18 And I haue taken the Leuites for all the first borne of the children of Israel, 19 And haue giuen the Leuites as a gift to Aaron and his sonnes, from among the children of Israel, to doe the seruice of the children of Israel in the Tabernacle of the congregation, and to make an atonement for the children of Israel: that there bee no plague among the children of Israel, if the children of Israel come nigh vnto the Sanctuarie.

20 And Moses, and Aaron, and all the Congregation of the children of Israel, did with the Leuites, according vnto all that the Lord commanded Moses concerning the Leuites, so did the children of Israel vnto them.

21 And the Leuites were purified, and washed their clothes: and Aaron waued them as a waue offering before the Lord, and made an atonement for them to cleanse them.

22 After that, went the Leuites in, to do their seruice in the Tabernacle of the Congregation before Aaron and his sonnes: as the Lord had commanded Moses concerning the Leuites, so did they vnto them.

23 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

24 This is it that belongeth vnto the Leuites: from twenty and five yeeres olde, and upward, they shall goe in to wait vpon the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

25 And from the age of sixty yeres, they shall cease waiting vpon the seruice thereof, and shall serue no more:

ought to keepe the Passeouer. 15 The cloud couering the tabernacle, leadeth the Israelites thorow the wilderness.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses in the wilderness of Sinai, in the first moneth of the second yeere after they were come out of the land of Egypt, saying,

2 Let the children of Israel celebrate the Passeouer, at the time appointed thereunto,

3 In the fourteenth day of this moneth at Euen, ye shall keepe it in his season: according to all the rites of it, and according to all the ceremonies thereof, shall ye keepe it.

4 And Moses spake vnto the children of Israel, that they should celebrate the Passeouer.

5 And they kept the Passeouer the fourteenth day of the first moneth at Euen, in the wilderness of Sinai: according to all that the Lord commanded Moses, so did the children of Israel.

6 And certaine men were defiled by a dead man, that they might not keepe the Passeouer the same day, and they came before Moses and Aaron the same day.

7 And those men said vnto him, Wee are defiled by a dead man: wherfore are we kept backe, that wee may not offer an offering vnto the Lorde in due season, among the children of Israel?

8 And Moses sayd vnto them, Stand still, and I will heare what the Lord will command concerning you.

9 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

10 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say, If any man of your pollertie, shall bee uncleane by the reason of a coarte, or bee in a way farre distant from you, and from your generations, hee shall keepe the Passeouer vnto the Lord.

11 The fourteenth day of the second moneth at Euen let them keepe it, and eate it with unleauned bread, and lowze herbes.

12 Let them leaue none of it vnto the morning, nor breake any bone of it: * But according to all the ordinaunces of the Passeouer let them keepe it.

13 But the man that is cleane, and is not in a iourney, & yet was negligent to keepe the Passeouer, the same soule shall be cut off from his people, because hee brought not the offering of the Lord in his due season: that man shall beare his sinne.

14 And if a stranger dwell among you, and will keepe the Passeouer vnto the Lord: according to the ordinance of the Passeouer, and manner thereof, so shall hee doe. Ye shall haue one law both for the stranger, & for him that was borne in the same land.

15 * And the same day that the Tabernacle was reared vp, a cloude couered the Tabernacle, namely the Tabernacle of the testimonie: and at Euen there was vpon the tabernacle as it were the appearance of fire, vntill the morning.

16 So it was alway: the cloude couered it by day, and the appearance of fire by night.

17 And when the cloude was taken vp from the Tabernacle, then the children of Israel iourneyed, and in the place where the cloude abode, there the children of Israel pitched their tents.

18 At the mouth of the Lorde the children of Israel iourneyed, & at the mouth of the Lord they pitched: and * as long as the cloude abode vpon the tabernacle, they lay still:

19 And when the cloude carried still vpon the Tabernacle long time, the children of Israel kept the watch of the Lord, and iourneyed not.

20 And when the cloude abode a few dayes vpon the tabernacle, they abode in their tents according to the commandement of the Lord: and they iourneyed also at the commandement of the Lord.

21 And when the cloude abode vpon the tabernacle from euen vnto the morning, and was taken by in the morning, then they iourneyed: whether it was by day or by night that the cloude was taken by, they iourneyed.

22 Or if the cloude taried two dayes, or a moneth, or a yeere vpon the tabernacle, and remained thereon, the children of Israel remained still, and iourneyed not: and alsoone as the cloude was taken by, they iourneyed.

23 At the mouth of the Lord they rested in the tents, and at the commandement of the Lord they iourneyed, keeping the watch of the Lord at the commandement of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

The x. Chapter.

2 The trumpets of siluer, and their vse. 30 Hobab refuseth to goe with Moses.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Make thee two trumpets of siluer: of an whole piece shalt thou make them, that thou mayest vse them, to call the congregation together, & when the campe shall iourney.

3 And when they shall blow with them, all the multitude shall resort to thee, before the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation.

4 And if they blow but one trumpet, then the princes which are heads ouer the thousands of Israel shall come vnto thee.

5 But if you blow an alarme, the host that lie on the East parts shall go forward.

6 And if ye blow the alarme the second time, the host that lieth on the South side shall take their iourney, for they shall blowe an alarme when they take their iourneys.

7 But when the Congregation is to be gathered together, they shall blowe without an alarme.

8 And the sonnes of Aaron the Priests shall blowe with their trumpets, and yee shall haue them as a law for euer in your generations.

9 And if ye go to warre in your land against your enemies that bere you, ye shall blow an alarme with the trumpets, and ye shall be remembered before the Lord your God, to be saued from your enemies.

10 Also in the day of your gladnesse, & in your feast dayes, & in the beginning of your moneths, yee shall blowe the trumpets ouer your whole burnt sacrifices, and peace offerings, that they may be a remembrance for you before your God: I am the Lord your God.

11 And it came to passe the twentieth day of the second moneth, in the second yeere, that the cloude was taken vp from off the Tabernacle of the testimonie.

iourney out of the desert of Sinai, and the cloud rested in the wilderness of Pharan.

13 And they first tooke their iourney at the mouth of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

14 In the first place went the standard of the hoste of the children of Juda, according to their armies, whose captaine was Nahasson the sonne of Aminadab.

15 And ouer the hoste of the tribe of the children of Isachar, was Nathanael the sonne of Zuar.

16 And ouer the hoste of the tribe of the children of Zabulon, was Eliab the sonne of Helon.

17 And the tabernacle was taken downe, and the sonnes of Gerson and Merari went forth, bearing the tabernacle.

18 And the host of Reuben went forth with their standard and armies, whose captaine was Elizur the sonne of Sedeur.

19 And ouer the hoste of the tribe of the children of Simeon, was Salamiel the sonne of Surisaddai.

20 And ouer the hoste of the tribe of the children of Gad, was Elisaph the sonne of Ducl.

21 The Caathites also went forward, & bare the Sanctuarie, and the other did set by the tabernacle against the p.caine.

22 And the standard of the host of the children of Ephraim went forth, according to their armies, whose captaine was Elisama the sonne of Ammihud.

23 And ouer the host of the tribe of the sonnes of Manasse, was Gamaliel the sonne of Pedazur.

24 And ouer the host of the tribe of the sonnes of Benjamin, was Abidan the sonne of Gedeon.

25 And the standard of the host of the children of Dan came forth (gathering all the host together) thoro'out their armies, whose captaine was Abiezer the sonne of Ammisaddai.

26 And ouer the hoste of the tribe of the children of Aser, was Pagiel the sonne of Ochyan.

27 And ouer the hoste of the tribe of the children of Nephthali, was Ahira the sonne of Enan.

28 These are the iourneys of the children of Israel thoro'out their armies, and thus the hosts removed.

29 And Moses sayd vnto Hobab the sonne of Raguel the Madianite, which was Moses' father in law: we goe vnto the place, of which the Lord sayd, I will giue it you. Come thou therefore with vs, and we will doe thee good: for the Lord hath promised good vnto Israel.

30 And he answered him, I will not goe, but will depart to mine owne land, and to my kinred.

31 He sayd, Oh nay, leaue vs not: for thou knowest our mansions in the wilderness, and thou mayest be to vs in stead of eyes.

32 And if thou goe with vs, looke what goodnesse the Lord sheweth vnto vs, the same will we shew vnto thee.

33 And they departed from the mount of the Lord three dayes iourney, and the arke of the couenant of the Lord went before them in the three dayes iourney, to search out a resting place for them.

34 And the cloud of the Lord was vpon them by day, when they went out of the campe.

35 And when the Arke went forth, Moses sayd, * Rise vp Lord, and let thine enemies bee scattered, and let them that hate thee, flee before thee.

36 And when the arke rested, he said, Return, O Lord, vnto the many thousands of Israel.

The xj. Chapter.

1 The people murmureth. 4 They desire flesh. 6 They loche Manna. 31 It raineth quails. 33 The flesh-ruiners are punished.

AND when the people did impatiently, it was a displeasure in the eyes of the Lord: and when the Lord heard it, his countenance was prouoked to wrath, and the fire of the Lord burnt among them, and consumed them that were the vttermost of the host.

2 And the people cried vnto Moses: and when Moses made intercession vnto the Lord, the fire quenched.

3 And he called the name of the place Taberah: because the fire of the Lord burnt among them.

4 And a number of people that was among them, fell a lusting, and burned themselves, and wept (as did also the children of Israel) and said, * who shall giue vs flesh to eat?

5 We remember the fish which we did eat in Egypt freely, and the cucumbers, and melons, leeks, onions, and garlike.

6 But now our soule is dried away: for we can see nothing els but * Manna.

7 And * Manna was as coriander seed, and to see to, like * Bedellion.

8 And the people went about, and gathered it, and ground it in milles, or beat it in morters, and baked it in pannes, and made cakes of it: and the taste of it was like vnto the taste of a fresh oile cake.

9 And when the dew fell downe vpon the host in the night, Manna fell || vpon it.

10 And when Moses heard the people weep thoro'out their householdes, euery man in the doore of his tent, the wrath of the Lord was kindled exceedingly, and it grieved Moses also.

11 And Moses sayd vnto the Lord, wherefore hast thou troubled thy seruant? And wherefore haue I not found fauor in thy sight, seeing that thou puttest the weight of all this people vpon me?

12 Haue I conceived all this people, or haue I begotten them, that thou shouldest say vnto me, Carry them in thy bosome as a nurse beareth the sucking child, vnto the land which thou swearst vnto their fathers?

13 Where should I haue flesh to giue vnto all this people which weep before me, saying, Giue vs flesh, that we may eat?

14 I am not able to beare all this people alone, seeing it is too heauy for me.

15 If thou deale thus with mee, kill mee, I pray thee, if I haue found fauour in thy sight, that I see not my wretchednesse.

16 And the Lord sayd vnto Moses, Gather vnto me threescore and ten men, of the elders of Israel, which thou knowest that they are the elders of the people, and officers ouer them: and thou shalt bring them vnto the Tabernacle of the Congregation, that they may stande there with thee:

18 And say thou vnto the people, Be halloved against to morrow, and yee shall eat flesh: for your whining is in the eares of the Lord, seeing ye sayd, who shall giue vs flesh to eat: we were well in Egypt: therefore the Lord will giue you flesh, and ye shall eat.

19 Ye shall not eat one day, nor two, nor five dayes, neither ten, nor twenty dayes:

20 But a whole moneth, vntill it come out at the nostrils of you, and it shall be lothsome vnto you, because that yee haue cast the Lorde aside which is among you, and haue wept before him, saying, why came we thus out of Egypt?

21 And Moses sayd, Sire hundred thousand footmen are there of the people among which I am, and thou hast sayd, I will giue them flesh, that they may eat a whole moneth.

22 Shall the sheepe and the oren bee slaine for them to finde them? either shall all the fish of the sea bee gathered together for them, to suffice them?

23 And the Lord sayd vnto Moses, As the Lords hand wared short? Thou shalt see now whether my word shall come to passe vnto thee, or not.

24 And Moses went out, and told the people the saying of the Lord, and gathered the threescore and ten Elders of the people, and set them round about the Tabernacle.

25 And the Lord came downe in a cloud, and spake vnto him, and tooke of the spirit that was vpon him, and gaue it vnto the threescore and ten Elders: and when the spirit rested vpon them, they prophesied, and did not cease.

26 But there remained two of the men in the host, the name of the one was Eldad, & the name of the other Medad: and the spirit rested vpon them (and they were of them that were written, and went not out vnto the tabernacle) and they prophesied in the host.

27 And there ran a young man, and told Moses, and sayd, Eldad and Medad doe prophesie in the host.

28 And Josuah the sonne of Num the seruant of Moses, one of his young men, answered, and sayd, My lord Moses, forbid them.

29 And Moses sayd vnto them, Enuie I thou for my sake? would God that all the Lords people would prophesie, and that the Lord would put his spirit vpon them.

30 And Moses gaue him into the host, he, and the Elders of Israel.

31 And there went forth a *winde from the Lord, and brought quailles from the sea, and let them fall about the hoste, euen a dayes iourney round about on enery side of the hoste, and they did lie in the aire, as it were, two cubits hie ouer the earth.

32 And the people stood by all that day, and all that night, and all the next day, and they gathered quailles: And he that gathered little, gathered ten homers full: and they spread them abroad for their use round about the host.

33 And while the *flesh was yet betweene their teeth, and yet it was chewed by, the wrath of the Lord was kindled against the people, and the Lorde smote the people with an exceeding great plague.

34 And he called the name of the place, *The graues of lust: because they buried the people that lusted there.

35 And the people tooke their iourney from the graues of lust, vnto Hazeroth, and abode at Hazeroth.

1 Aaron and Marie grudge against Moses, 10 Marie striken with leprosie, and healed at the prayer of Moses.

And // Mary and Aaron spake against Moses, because of the woman of Ethiopia, which he had taken: for hee had taken a to wife one of Ethiopia.

2 And they said, Hath the Lord in deede spoken onely through Moses? Hath he not spoken also by vs? And the Lord heard it.

3 (But Moses was a very meeke man, & boue all the men of the earth.)

4 And the Lord spake at once vnto Moses, vnto Aaron, & to Mary, Come out ye three vnto the tabernacle of the congregation. And they came out all three.

5 And the Lord came downe in the pillar of the cloud, and stood in the doore of the Tabernacle, and called Aaron and Marie: and they went out both of them.

6 And he sayd, Heare my words: If there be a Prophet of the Lord among you, I will bee knowne of him in a vision, and will speake vnto him in a dreame.

7 My *seruant Moses is not so, which is faithfull in all mine house.

8 Vnto him will I speake mouth to mouth in a vision, not in darke speeches and similitudes of the Lord shall he see: wherefore then were ye not afraid to speake against my seruant Moses?

9 And the Lord was moued vnto wrath against them, and hee went his way.

10 And the cloude departed from the Tabernacle, and behold, Mary was become leproous as it were snow: And Aaron looked vpon Marie, and behold, she was leproous.

11 And Aaron sayd vnto Moses, Alas my lord, I beseech thee, put not the sinne vpon vs which we haue foolishly committed and sinned.

12 Oh, let her not bee as one dead, of whom the flesh is halfe consumed when hee cometh out of his mothers wombe.

13 And Moses cried vnto the Lord, saying, Heale her now, O God, I beseech thee.

14 And the Lord sayd vnto Moses, If her father had spit in her face, should shee not be ashamed seuen dayes? Let her be shut out of the host seuen dayes, and after that let her be receiued in againe.

15 And Marie was shut out of the host seuen dayes: and the people remoued not till Marie was brought in againe.

16 And after ward the people remoued from Hazeroth, & pitched in the wilderness of Itharan.

3 And Moses at the commandement of the Lord, <sup>Deu. 12. 31.</sup> sent forth out of the wilderness of Pharan, such men as were all heads of the children of Israel.

4 Their names are these, Of the tribe of Ruben, Sammua the sonne of Zacur.

5 Of the tribe of Simeon, Saphat, the son of Hozi.

6 Of the tribe of Iuda, Caleb the sonne of Iephune.

7 Of the tribe of Iachar, Igal the sonne of Joseph.

8 Of the tribe of Ephraim, Osea the sonne of Nun.

9 Of the tribe of Benjamin, Palti the sonne of Raphu.

10 Of the tribe of Zabulon, Gaddiel the sonne of Sodi.

11 Of the tribe of Joseph, namely, of the tribe of Manasse, Gaddi the sonne of Suli.

12 Of the tribe of Dan, Amiel the sonne of Gemalli.

13 Of the tribe of Aser, Sethur, the sonne of Michael.

14 Of the tribe of Nephthali, Nahabi the son of Naaphi.

15 Of the tribe of Gad, Guel the sonne of Machi.

16 These are the names of the men which Moses sent to spy out the land: And Moses called the name of Osea the sonne of Nun, Iosuah.

17 And Moses sent them forth to spy out the land of Chanaan, and sayd vnto them, Get you by this way Southward, that ye may go by into the high country,

18 And see the land what manner thing it is, and the people that dwelleth therein, whether they be strong or weakie, either few or many:

19 And what the land is that they dwell in, whether it be good or bad, and what manner of cities they be that they dwell in, whether they dwell in tents, or walled towncs:

20 And what manner of land that is, whether it be fat or leane, & whether there be trees therein, or not. Be of good courage, and bring of the fruit of the land: and it was about the time that grapes are first ripe.

21 And so they went by, and searched out the land, from the wilderness of Sin, vnto Iehob, as men come to Hemath.

22 And they ascended vnto the South, and came vnto Hebron, where Ahnan was, and Setai, and Chalmal, the sonnes of Anac. Hebron was built seven yeeres before Zoan in Egypt.

24 And the place was called the riuer Ecol, because of the cluster of grapes which the children of Israel cut downe thence.

25 And they turned backe againe from searching of the land after forty dayes.

26 And they went, and came to Moses and Aaron, and vnto all the multitude of the children of Israel in the wilderness of Pharan, to Cades, and brought them word, and also vnto all the congregation, and shewed them the fruit of the land.

27 And they told him, and sayd, We came vnto the land whither thou sentest vs, and surely it floweth with milke and hony, and here is of the fruit of it.

28 Neuertheless, the people be strong that dwell in the land, and the cities are walled and exceeding great: and moreover, we saw the children of Anac there.

29 The Amalechites dwell in the South country: and the Hethites, and the Jebusites, and the Amozites dwell in the mountaines: and the Chanaanites dwell by the sea, & by the coast of Iordane.

30 And Caleb filled the people before Moses, saying, Let vs goe by at once, and possesse it, for we be able to ouercome it.

31 But the men that went by with him, said, wee be not able to goe by against the people, for they are stronger then we.

32 And they brought by an euill report of the land which they had searched, saying vnto the children of Israel, The land which wee haue gone thowow to search it out, is a land that eateth by the inhabitants thereof, and the people that we saw in it, are men of a great stature.

33 And there wee saw also giants, the children of Anac, which come of the giants: and wee seemed in our sight as it were grasshoppers, and so we did in their sight.

4 And they said one to another, Let vs make a captaine, and returne vnto Egypt againe.

5 Then Moses and Aaron fell on their faces, before all the assembly of the Congregation of the children of Israel.

6 * And Iosuah the sonne of Nun, and Caleb the sonne of Iephune which were of them that searched the land, rent their clothes:

4 Then let him that offereth his offering unto the Lord, bring also a meat offering of a tenth deale of flour, mingled with the fourth part of an hin of oile.

5 And the fourth part of an hin of wine for a drinke offering shalt thou prepare, with the whole burnt offering, or any other offering, for one lambe.

6 ¶ If it be a ram, thou shalt prepare for a meat offering two tenth deales of flour mingled with the third part of an hin of oile.

7 And for a drinke offering, thou shalt offer the third part of an hin of wine, for a sweet savour unto the Lord.

8 And when thou preparest a bullocke for a whole burnt offering, or for a sacrifice, to fulfill a vow, or peace offering unto the Lord:

9 Let him bring with a bullocke a meat offering of three tenth deales of flour, mingled with halfe an hin of oile.

10 And thou shalt bring for a drinke offering halfe an hin of wine, for an offering made by fire of a sweet savour unto the Lord.

11 After this maner shall it be done for a bullocke, or for a ram, or for a lambe, or a kid, 12 According to the number that ye shall prepare, so shall ye do to every one according to their number.

13 All that are borne of the countrey, shall do these things after this maner, to offer an offering made by fire of a sweet savour unto the Lord.

14 And if a stranger sojourne with you, or whosoever be among you in your generations, and will offer an offering made by fire of a sweet savour unto the Lord: as ye do, so he shall do.

15 One ordinance shall be both for you of the congregation, & also for the stranger that dwelleth with you: It shall be an ordinance for ever in your generations: as ye are, so shall the stranger be before the Lord.

16 One law, and one maner shall serue both for you and for the stranger that sojourneth with you.

17 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

18 Speake unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, when ye be come into the land to the which I bring you,

19 Then when ye will eat of the bread of the land, ye shall offer by an heave offering unto the Lord.

20 Ye shall offer by a cake of the first of your dough for an heave offering: as ye doe the heave offering of the barne, so ye shall heave it.

21 Of the first of your dough ye shall give unto the Lord an heave offering in your generations.

22 And if yee have erred, and obserue not all these commandements which the Lord hath spoken unto Moses,

23 Euen all that the Lord hath commanded you by the hand of Moses, from the first day that the Lord commanded Moses, and henceforward among your generations:

24 If ought be committed ignorantly of the congregation, all the multitude shall offer a bullocke for a whole burnt offering to be a sweet savour unto the Lord, with the meat offering and drinke offering thereto, according to the maner, and an hee goat for a sinne offering.

25 And the Priest shall make an atonement for all the multitude of the children of Israel, and it shall be forgiven them, for it is ignorance: and they shall bring their offering, a sacrifice made by fire unto the Lord, and their sinne offering before the Lord for their ignorance, 26 And it shall be forgiven unto all the congregation of the children of Israel, & unto the stranger that dwelleth among you, seeing all the people were in ignorance.

27 If any soule sinne through ignorance, he shall bring a shee goat of a yeere olde, for a sinne offering.

28 And the Priest shall make an atonement for the soule that sinneth ignorantly, when hee sinneth by ignorance before the Lord, to reconcile him, and that it may be forgiven him.

29 And both thou that art borne of the children of Israel, and the stranger that dwelleth among you, shall have one law, whoso doth sinne through ignorance.

30 But the soule that doth ought presumptuously, whether hee be borne in the land, or a stranger, the same blasphemeth the Lord: and that soule shall be cut off from among his people.

31 Because hee hath despised the word of the Lord, and hath broken his commandement, that soule therefore shall be utterly cut off, & his sinne shall be upon him.

32 And while the children of Israel were in the wilderness, they found a man that gathered sticks upon the Sabbath day.

33 And they that found him gathering sticks, brought him unto Moses and Aaron, and unto all the congregation.

34 And they put him in ward, seeing it was not declared what should be done to him.

35 And the Lord sayde unto Moses, Let the man die, & let all the multitude stone him with stones without the host.

36 And all the multitude brought him without the host, and stoned him with stones, and he died as the Lord commanded Moses.

37 And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying,

38 Speake unto the children of Israel, and bid them that they make them fringes in the borders of their garments thoro'out their generations, and put upon the fringe of the borders a riband of blew like.

39 And the fringe shall be unto you to looke upon, that yee may remember all the commandements of the Lord, & do them: and that ye seeke not after your owne heart, or your owne eyes, after which ye be to go a whozing.

40 But ye shall remember rather, and doe all my commandements, & be holy unto your God.

41 I am the Lord your God, which brought you out of the land of Egypt, for to be your God: I am the Lord your God.

The xvj. Chapter.

30 The rebellion of Corah, Dathan, and Abiram, whom the earth swallowed vp quicke.

Deu. 22. 12.

2 And they rose up before Moses, with certaine of the children of Israel, two hundred and fifty, which were captaines of the multitude, famous in the congregation, and men of great renowne.

3 And they gathered themselves together against Moses and Aaron, and sayd vnto them, We take too much vpon you, seeing all the multitude are holy euery one of them, and the Lord is among them: why lift you your selues vp aboue the congregation of the Lord?

4 And when Moses heard it, hee fell vpon his face,

5 And spake vnto Corah, and vnto all his company, saying, To morow the Lord wil thew who are his, who is holy, and who ought to approach nigh vnto him: and whom he hath chosen, he will cause to come neere vnto him.

6 This do therefore: Take you fire pannes, both Corah and all his company,

7 And put fire therein, and put incense in them before the Lord to morow: And the man whom the Lord doeth chuse, the same shall be holy: Pee take too much vpon you, ye sonnes of Leui.

8 And Moses sayd vnto Corah, Heare, I pray you, ye sonnes of Leui.

9 Seemeth it but a small thing vnto you, that the God of Israel hath separated you from the multitude of Israel, and brought you to him selfe, to doe the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Lord, and to stand before the multitude, and to minister vnto them?

10 He hath taken thee to him, and all thy brethren the sonnes of Leui with thee: and seeke ye the office of the Priest also?

11 For which cause both thou and all thy company are gathered together against the Lord: And what is Aaron, that pee murmure against him?

12 And Moses sent, and called Dathan and Abiram the sonnes of Eliab: which sayd, Wee will not come vp.

13 Is it a small thing that thou hast brought vs out of the land that floweth with milke and hony, to kill vs in the wilderness: except thou make thy selfe lord and ruler ouer vs also?

14 Moreover, thou hast not brought vs vnto a lande that floweth with milke and hony, neither giuen vs inheritance of fields & vineyards: wilt thou put out the eyes of these men? wee will not come vp.

15 And Moses wared very angry, and sayde vnto the Lord, Turne not thou vnto their offering: I haue not taken so much as an asse from them, neither haue I hurt any of them.

16 And Moses said vnto Corah, We thou and all thy company before the Lord, both thou, they, and Aaron, to morow.

17 And take euery man his censur, and put incense in them, and bring yee before the Lord euery man his censur, two hundred and fiftie censers, thou also and Aaron, euery one his censur.

18 And they tooke euery man his censur, and put fire in them, and layed incense thereon, and stood in the dooze of the tabernacle of the congregation with Moses and Aaron.

19 And Corah gathered all the congregation against them, vnto the dooze of the Tabernacle of the Congregation: and the glory of the Lord appeared vnto all the Congregation.

20 And the Lord spake vnto Moses and Aaron, saying,

21 Separate your selues from among this Congregation, that I may consume them at once.

22 And they fell vpon their faces, and sayd, O God, the God of spirits of all flesh, hath not one man sinned? wilt thou bee wroth with all the multitude?

23 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

24 Speake vnto the Congregation, and say, Get you a way from about the tabernacle of Corah, Dathan, and Abiram.

25 And Moses rose up, and went vnto Dathan and Abiram: and the Elders of Israel followed him.

26 And he spake vnto the Congregation, saying, Depart, I pray you, from the tents of these wicked men, and touch nothing of theirs, lest ye perish in their sinnes.

27 And so they gate them from the tabernacle of Corah, Dathan, and Abiram, on euery side: and Dathan and Abiram came out, and stood in the dooze of their tents, with their wiues, their sonnes, and their little children.

28 And Moses said, Hereby ye shall know that the Lord hath sent me to doe all these works: for I haue not done them of mine owne minde.

29 If these men die the common death of all men, or if they be visited after the visitation of all men, then the Lord hath not sent me:

30 But and if the Lord make a new thing, and the earth open her mouth, & swallow them vp, with all that they haue, and they goe downe quicke into the pit: then ye shall vnderstand that these men haue prouoked the Lord.

31 And alsoone as hee had made an ende of speaking all these wordes, the ground cloue asunder that was vnder them:

32 And the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them vp, and their houses, and all the men that were with Corah, and all their goods.

33 And they, and all that they had, went downe alittle into the pit, and the earth closed vpon them: and they perished from among the Congregation.

34 And all Israel that were about them, fled at the crye of them: and they sayd, Lest the earth swallow vs by also.

35 And there came out a fire from the Lord, and consumed the two hundred and fiftie men that offered incense.

36 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

37 Speake vnto Eleazar the sonne of Aaron the Priest, that he take vp the censers out of the burning, and scatter the fire here and there, for they are hallowd.

38 The censers of these sinners against their own soules: let them make of them broad plates for a covering of the altar: for they offered them before the Lord, and therefore they are hallowd, and they shall be a signe vnto the children of Israel.

39 And Eleazar the Priest tooke the brasen censers, which they that were burnt had offered, and made broad plates, for a covering of the altar, 41 But on the morow, all the multitude of the children of Israel murmured against Moses and Aaron, saying, Pee haue killed the people of the Lord.

42 And when the multitude was gathered against Moses and Aaron, they looked towarde the tabernacle of the congregation: and behold, the cloud couered it, and the glory of the Lorde appeared.

43 And Moses and Aaron came before the tabernacle of the congregation.

44 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

45 Get you from among this congregation, that I may consume them quickly. And they fell vpon their faces.

46 And Moses sayd vnto Aaron, Take a censur, and put fire therein out of the altar, & powze on incense, and goe quickly vnto the congregation, and make an atonement for them: for there is wrath gone out from the Lord, and there is a plague begun.

47 And Aaron tooke as Moses commanded him, and ran into the mids of the congregation: and beholde, the plague was begun among the people, and he put on incense, & made an atonement for the people.

48 And when he stood betweene the dead, and them that were aliuie, the plague was stayed.

49 They that died in the plague, were foure teene thousand and seuen hundred, beside them that died about the conspiracy of Cozab.

50 And Aaron went againe vnto Moses before the dooze of the tabernacle of the congregation, and the plague was stayed.

9 Aarons rod buddeth, and beareth blossoms, whereby his Priesthood is confirmed against the rebellious people.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israel, a take of euery one of them a rodde, after the houses of their fathers, of all their princes, according to the familie of their fathers, euen twelue rods: and write euery mans name vpon his rod.

3 And write Aarons name vpon the rod of Leui: for euery rodde shall be for the head of the house of their fathers.

4 And put them in the Tabernacle of the Congregation before the Arke of the testimonie, where I will declare my selfe vnto you.

5 And the mans rodde whom I chuse, shall blossom: and I will make cease from mee the grudging of the children of Israel, whereby they grudge against me.

6 And Moses spake vnto the children of Israel, and all the princes gaue him a rod, one rod for euery prince according to their fathers houses, euen twelue rods: and the rod of Aaron was among their rods.

7 And Moses put the rods before the Lord in the tabernacle of witness.

8 And on the morow Moses went into the tabernacle of witness, & behold, the rod of Aaron for the house of Leui was budded, and brought forth buds, bare blossomes, and ripe almonds.

9 And Moses brought out all the rods from before the Lord, vnto all the children of Israel: and they looked vpon them, & tooke euery man his rod.

10 And the Lord sayde vnto Moses, * Bring Aarons rod againe before the witness, to be kept for a token to the rebellious children, and that their murmuring may cease from me, and that they die not.

1 The office of the Leuites. 8 The tithes and first fruits must be given them. 20 Aarons heritage.

AND the Lord sayde vnto Aaron, Thou and thy sonnes, and thy fathers house with thee, shall beare the iniquity of the sanctuary: and thou and thy sonnes with thee shall beare the iniquity of your Priests office.

2 And thy brethren of the tribe of Leui, and of thy fathers house, thou shalt bring with thee, that they may be ioyned vnto thee, and minister vnto thee: but thou and thy sonnes with thee shall minister before the Tabernacle of witness.

3 They shall keepe thy charge, the charge of all the tabernacle: onely let them not come nigh the vessels of the Sanctuary and the Altar, that they and ye also die not.

4 And they shall be ioyned with thee, & keepe the charge of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, for all the seruice of the Tabernacle: and let no stranger come nigh vnto you.

5 Therefore shall ye keepe the charge of the Sanctuary, and the charge of the Altar, that there fall no more wrath vpon the children of Israel.

6 Beholde, I haue taken your brethren the Leuites from among the children of Israel, which as a gift of yours are giuen vnto the Lord, to doe the seruice of the tabernacle of the congregation.

7 Therefore shalt thou and thy sonnes with thee, keepe your Priests office for all things that pertaine vnto the altar, & within the baile: and ye shall serue, for I haue giuen your Priests office vnto you as a gift, and therefore the stranger that commeth nigh, must be slaine.

8 And the Lord spake vnto Aaron, Behold, I haue giuen thee the keeping of mine heave offerings, of all the hallowed things of the children of Israel, euen vnto thee I haue giuen them for the anointing, and to thy sonnes for an ordinance for euer.

9 This shalbe thine, of the most holy things reserved from the fire of the Altar: all their sacrifices for all their meat offerings, sinne offerings, or trespass offerings, which they bring vnto me, that shall be most holy vnto thee, and to thy sonnes.

10 In the most holy place shalt thou eat it, and all that are males shall eat of it: let it be holy vnto thee.

Heb. 9.4

* That is, if ye refuse in a thing concerning the ceremonies of the Sanctuary: your office, ye shall be punished.

11 And this also is thine : the heave offerings of their gifts, thozowout all the waue offerings of the children of Israel : I haue giuen them vnto thee, and thy sonnes and thy daughters with thee, to be a duty for euer: and all that are cleane in thy house shall eat of it.

12 All the fat of the oile, and all the fat of the wine, and of the wheat, which they shall offer vnto the Lorde for first fruits, the same haue I giuen vnto thee.

13 And whatsoever is first ripe in their land, which they bring vnto the Lord, shall be thine, & all that are cleane in thine house, shall eat of it.

14 All things separate from the common ble in Israel, shall be thine.

15 All that breaketh the matrice in all flesh, that men bring vnto the Lord, whether it be of men or beasts, shall be thine : Neuertheless, the first borne of man shalt thou redeeme, & the first borne of vnclane beasts shalt thou redeeme.

16 Those that are to be redeemed, shalt thou redeme, from the age of a moneth, according to thine estimation, * for the money of five sicles, after the sicle of the Sanctuary, which is twenty gersahs.

17 But the first borne of a cow, sheepe, & goat, shalt thou not redeme, for they are holy : therefore thou shalt spinnchle their blood vpon the Altar, and shalt burne their fat as a sacrifice made by fire for a sweet sauour vnto the Lord.

18 And the flesh of them is thine, as the waue brest, and the right shoulder, these are thine.

19 All the heave offerings of holy things, which the children of Israel offer vnto the Lord, haue I giuen thee, and thy sonnes & thy daughters with thee, to be a duty for euer: let it be a salted couenant for euer before the Lord, both vnto thee, and to thy seed with thee.

20 And the Lorde spake vnto Aaron, Thou shalt haue no inheritance in their land, neither shalt thou haue any part among them : * I am thy part, and thine inheritance among the children of Israel.

21 Behold, I haue giuen the children of Leui all the tenth in Israel, to inherit, for the seruiue which they serue in the tabernacle of the Congregation.

22 Neither must the children of Israel henceforth come nigh the tabernacle of the congregation, lest they beare sinne, and die.

23 But the Leuites shall do the seruiue in the tabernacle of the congregation, and beare their sinne : It shall be a law for euer in your generations, that among the children of Israel they possess no inheritance.

24 But the tithes of the children of Israel which they pay as an heave offering vnto the Lord, I haue giuen the Leuites to inherit : and therefore I haue sayde vnto them, Among the children of Israel ye shall possess no inheritance.

25 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

26 Speake vnto the Leuites, and say vnto them, when ye take of the children of Israel the tithes which I haue giuen you of them for your inheritance, ye shall take an heave offering of that same for the Lorde, euen the tenth part of that tithe.

27 And this your heave offering shall be reckoned vnto you, as though it were of the corne of the barne, or as the fullness of the wine presse.

28 Of this manner ye shall therefore offer an heave offering vnto the Lord of all your tithes which ye receiue of the children of Israel, and ye shall giue therof the Lords heave offering to Aaron the priest.

29 Of all your gifts ye shall offer all the Lords heave offering, euen all the fat of the same, to wit, the holy things thereof.

30 Wherefore thou shalt say vnto them, when ye haue taken a way the fat of it from it, it shall be conuited vnto the Leuites, as if it were the increase of the corne flooze, or the increase of the wine presse.

31 And ye shall eat it in all places, both ye and your householdes : for it is your reward for your seruiue in the tabernacle of the congregation.

32 And ye shall beare no sinne by the reason of it, when ye haue offered from it the fat of it : neither shall ye pollute the holy things of the children of Israel, lest ye die.

2 Of the ashes of the red cow. 9 The water of expiation is made to wash away diuers vnclaneesses.

And the Lord spake vnto Moses and Aaron, saying,

2 This is the ordinance of the law, which the Lord hath commanded, saying, Speake vnto the children of Israel, that they bring thee a redde cow without spot, and wherein is no blemish, and vpon which neuer came yoke.

3 And ye shall giue her vnto Eleazar the priest, that hee may bring her without the host, and cause her to be slaine before his face :

4 And let Eleazar the priest take of her blood with his finger, and spinnchle it directly before the tabernacle of the congregation seuen times.

5 And cause the cow to be burnt in his sight, with her skin, flesh, and blood : and the doung of her shall he burne also.

6 And let the priest take cedar wood, and hyssope, and scarlet lace, and cast it in the mids of the burning of the cow.

7 Then let the priest wash his clothes, and he shall bache his flesh in water, and then come into the host, and the priest shall be vnclane vntill the euen.

21 And it shal be a perpetuall law vnto them, that hee that sprinkleth the water of separation, shall wash his clothes: and he that toucheth the water of separation, shall be vnclene vntill Euen.

The xx. Chapter.

1 Mary the sister of Moses and Aaron dieth. 12 Moses and Aaron shall not enter into the land of promise.

AND the children of Israel came with the whole multitude into the desert of Sin, in the first moneth, and the people abode at Cades: and there died Mary, and was buried there.

2 But there was no water for the multitude: and they gathered themselues together against Moses and Aaron.

3 And the people chode with Moses, & spake, saying, Would God that wee had perished when our brethren died before the Lord.

4 Why haue ye brought the congregation of the Lord into this wilderness, that both wee and our cattell should die in it?

5 Wherefore haue pee made vs to come out of Egypt, to bring vs to this euill place, which is no place of feede, nor of figges, nor vines, nor pomegranates, neither is there any water to drinke?

6 And Moses and Aaron went from the presence of the Congregation, vnto the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and fell vpon their faces, and the glory of the Lord appeared vnto them.

7 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

8 Take the rodde, and gather thou and thy brother Aaron the congregation together, and speake vnto the rocke before their eyes, and it shal giue forth his water, and thou shalt bring them water out of the rocke, to giue the company drinke, and their beasts also.

9 And Moses tooke the rod from before the Lord, as he commanded him.

10 And Moses and Aaron gathered the congregation together before the rocke, and Moses said vnto them, Heare ye rebels, must we fetch you water out of this rocke?

11 And Moses lift by his hand, and with the rod he smote the rocke two times, and the water came out abundantly, and the multitude dranke and their beasts also.

12 And the Lord spake vnto Moses and Aaron, Because yee belieued me not, to sanctifie me in the eyes of the children of Israel, therefore yee shall not bring this congregation into the land which I haue giuen them.

13 This is the water of strife, because the children of Israel stroue with the Lord, and hee was sanctified in them.

14 And Moses sent messengers from Cades vnto the king of Edom, Thus sayth thy brother Israel, Thou knowest all the trouble that wee haue had.

15 Our fathers went downe into Egypt, and wee haue dwelt in Egypt a long time: and the Egyptians hated vs and our fathers.

16 And when wee cried vnto the Lord, hee heard our voice, and sent an Angel, and hath fet vs out of Egypt: and behold we are in Cades, in the vttermoost citie of thy border.

17 Let vs passe, I pray thee, thoro'we thy countrey, but we will not goe thoro'w the fieldes, or vineyards, neither will we drinke of the water of the fountaines: we will goe by the kings high way, & neither turne vnto the right hand nor to the left, vntill we be past thy borders.

18 And Edom answered him, Thou shalt not goe by me, lest I come out against thee with the sword.

19 The children of Israel sayd vnto him, we will goe by the beaten way: and if I and my cattell drinke of thy water, I will pay for it: I will but onely (without any harme) goe thoro'we on my feete.

20 He answered, Thou shalt not goe thoro'w, And Edom came out against him with much people, and with a mighty power.

21 And thus Edom denied to giue Israel passage thoro'we his countrey: wherefore Israel turned a way from him.

22 And the children of Israel departed from Cades, and came vnto mount Hor, with all the Congregation.

23 And the Lord spake vnto Moses and Aaron in mount Hor, hard by the coast of the land of Edom, saying, and put them vpon Eleazar his sonne: and Aaron shall bee gathered into his people, and shall die there.

24 Aaron shall bee gathered vnto his people: for he shall not come into the land which I haue giuen vnto the children of Israel, because ye disobeyed my mouth at the water of strife.

27 And Moses did as the Lord commanded: and they went by into mount Hor in the sight of all the multitude.

28 And Moses tooke off Aarons clothes, and put them vpon Eleazar his sonne, and Aaron died there in the top of the mount: * and Moses and Eleazar came downe out of the mount.

The xxj. Chapter.

1 Israel vanquisheth king Arad a Chanaanite. 6 The fiery serpents are sent to sting the murmuring people.

AD * when King Arad the Chanaanite, which dwelt toward the South, heard tell that Israel came by the way that the spies had found out, hee fought against Israel, and tooke some of them prisoners.

2 And Israel bowed a bow to the Lord, and sayd, If thou wilt deliuer this people into my hand, I will utterly destroy their cities.

3 And the Lord heard the voice of Israel, and deliuered them the Chanaanites: and they destroyed them and their cities, & called the name of the place Horma.

4 And they departed from mount Hor, by the way of the red sea, to compasse the land of Edom: and the soule of the people was sore grieved, because of the way.

5 And the people spake against God, and against Moses, wherfore haue ye brought vs out of Egypt, for to die in the wilderness: for here is neither bread nor water, and our soule lotheth this light bread.

6 * wherfore the Lord sent fiery serpents among the people, which stung them, and much people of Israel died.

7 Therefore the people came to Moses and sayd, Wee haue sinned, for wee haue spoken against the Lord, and against thee: make intercession to the Lord, that he take away the serpents from vs.

8 And the Lord sayde vnto Moses, Make thee a || fierie * serpent, and set it vpon a pole: that as many as are bitten, may looke vpon it, and liue.

9 And Moses made a serpent of brasse, and set it vpon a pole, and when a serpent had bitten any man, hee beheld the serpent of brasse and liued.

10 And the children of Israel departed thence, and pitched in Dboth.

11 And they departed thence, and pitched at the heapes of Abarim, in the wilderness which is before Moab, on the East side.

12 And they remooued thence, and pitched vpon the riuer Zared.

13 And they departed thence, and pitched on the other side of Arnon, which is in the wilderness, and cometh out of the coastes of the Amorites: for * Arnon is the border of Moab, betweene Moab and the Amorites.

14 wherfore it shall be spoken in the booke of the warres of the Lord, what thing he did in the red sea, and in the riuer of Arnon,

15 And at the streame of the riuers that goeth downe to the dwelling of Ar, and lieth vpon the border of Moab.

16 From thence they returned vnto Beer: the same is the well wherof the Lord spake vnto Moses, Gather the people together, and I will giue them water.

17 Then Israel sang this song, Spring by well, sing ye vnto it:

18 The princes digged this well, the captains of the people digged it with the law giuer, and with their slaues, and from the wilderness they went to Mathana:

19 And from Mathana, to Nahaliel, & from Nahaliel, to Bamoth,

20 And from Bamoth of the balley that is in the field of Moab, vnto the top of || the hill that looketh to ward Iesimon,

21 * And Israel sent messengers vnto Sehon king of the Amozites, saying,

22 Let me passe thorow thy land, we will not turne into the fields, nor vineyards, neither drinke of the waters of the well: but we will goe along by the kings high way, vntill wee bee past thy countrey.

23 But Sehon would giue Israel no licence to passe thorow his countrey: but gathered all his people together, and went out against Israel into the wilderness: and hee came to Jaza, and fought against Israel.

24 * And Israel smote him in the edge of the sword, and conquered his land from Arnon vnto Jabor, vnto the children of Ammon: for the border of the children of Ammon was strong.

25 And Israel tooke all these cities, and dwelt in all the cities of the Amozites in Helbon, and in all the towne that long thereto.

26 For Helbon was the cite of Sehon the king of the Amozites which fought before against the king of the Moabites, and tooke all his land out of his hand, vnto Arnon.

28 wherfore they that speake in proverbes, say, Come to Helbon, and let the cite of Sehon be built and repaired.

28 For there is a fire gone out of Helbon, and a flame from the cite of Sehon, and hath consumed Ar in Moab, and the lordes of Bamoth in Arnon.

29 * Do to thee, Moab, O people of Chamos ye be undone: he hath suffered his sonnes to be pursued, and his daughters to bee in captiuitie vnto Sehon the king of the Amozites.

30 Their empire is lost from Helbon vnto Dibon, and we made a wilderness vnto Moybaba, which reacheth vnto Medaba.

31 And thus Israel dwelt in the land of the Amozites.

32 And Moses sent to search out Jazer, and they tooke the towne belonging thereto, and rooted out the Amozites that were therein.

33 * And they turned, and went by toward Basan: and Og the king of Basan came out against them, hee, and all his people, to fight at Edrai.

34 And the Lord said vnto Moses, feare him not: for I haue deliuered him into thy hand, and all his people, and his land, and thou shalt doe to him as thou didst vnto Sehon the king of the Amozites, which dwelt at Helbon.

The xxij. Chapter.

5 King Balac sendeth wife for Balaam to curse the Israelites. 12 The Lord forbiddeth him to goe. 21 The Angel rebuketh him. 28 And Balaams asse speaketh.

And the children of Israel departed, and pitched in the fields of Moab, on the other side of Jordan from Jericho.

2 And Balac the sonne of Ziphor, saw all that Israel had done to the Amorites.

3 And the Moabites were sore afraid of the people, because they were many, and they were stricken with feare of the children of Israel.

4 And Moab sayd vnto the Elders of Madian, Howe shall this company like by all that are round about vs, as an ore licketh by the grasse of the field. And Balac the sonne of Ziphor, was king of the Moabites at that time.

5 Hee sent messengers therfore vnto Balaam the sonne of Beor, to Bethor, which is by the riuer of the land of the children of his folk, to call him, saying, Beholde, there is a people come out of Egypt, and beholde, they couer the face of the earth, and dwell ouer against me.

6 Come now therfore, I pray thee, & curse me this people, for they are too mighty for me, so it may be I shall be able to smite them, & to driue them out of the land: for I wote that he whom thou blessest, is blessed, and hee whom thou cursest, is cursed.

7 And the Elders of Moab, and the Elders of Madian departed, hauing the reward of the soothsaying in their hand: And they came vnto Balaam, and told him the words of Balac.

8 He answered them, Carry here this night, and I will bring you word as the Lord shall say vnto mee: And the lordes of Moab abode with Balaam.

9 And God came vnto Balaam, and sayde, What men are these with thee?

10 And Balaam sayde vnto God, Balac the sonne of Ziphor, king of Moab, hath sent vnto me, saying, 11 Beholde, there is a people come out of Egypt, and couereth the face of the earth: come now therfore, and curse them for my sake, so it may be that I shall be able to ouercome them in battell, and to driue them out.

12 And God sayd vnto Balaam, So not thou with them, neither curse the people: for they are blessed.

13 And Balaam rose vp in the morning, and sayd vnto the lordes of Balac, Get you vnto your land, for the Lord will not suffer me to go with you.

14 And the lordes of Moab rose vp, and went vnto Balac, and sayd, Balaam would not come with vs.

15 And Balac sent againe a greater company of lordes, ad more honourable then they.

16 Why came vnto Balaam, and tolde him, Thus sayd Balac the sonne of Ziphor, Why let nothing le thee, but come vnto me:

17 For I wil greatly promote thee vnto great honour, and will do whatsoeuer thou sayest vnto mee: come, I pray thee, curse this people for my sake.

to mee: come, I pray thee, curse this people for my sake.

18 And Balaam answered, and sayde vnto the seruants of Balac, If Balac would giue me his house full of siluer and golde, I cannot goe beyond the word of the Lord my God, to doe lesse or more:

19 Now therfore, I pray you, tarry ye heere this night, that I may wit what the Lord will say vnto me moze.

20 And God came vnto Balaam by night, and sayd vnto him, If the men come to call thee, rise vp, and go with them: but looke what I say vnto thee, that shalt thou doe.

21 And Balaam rose vp early, and saddled his asse, and went with the lordes of Moab.

22 And the wrath of God was kindled, because he went: and the Angell of the Lord stood in the way to be against him, as hee rode vpon his asse, and his two seruants were with him.

23 And when the Ass saw the Angell of the Lord stand in the way, and hauing his sword drawn in his hand, the Ass turned aside out of the way, and went out into the field: And Balaam smote the Ass, to turne her into the way.

24 But the Angell of the Lord stood in a path betweene the vineyards, and there was a wall on the one side, and another on the other.

25 And when the Ass sawe the Angell of the Lord, he thrust her selfe vnto the wall, & crushed Balaams foot against the wall: and hee smote her againe.

26 And the Angell of the Lord went further, and stood in a narrow place, where was no way to turne either to the right hand or to the left.

27 And when the Ass saw the Angell of the Lord, hee fell downe vnder Balaam: and Balaam was wroth, & smote the Ass with a staffe.

28 And the Lord opened the mouth of the Ass, and hee sayd vnto Balaam, What haue I done vnto thee, that thou hast smitten mee now threec times?

29 And Balaam sayd vnto the asse, Because thou hast mocked mee: I would also there were a sword in mine hand, for euen nowe would I kill thee.

30 And the asse sayd vnto Balaam, Am not I thine asse, which thou hast ridden vpon since the first time, vnto this day? Was I euer wont to do so vnto thee? He sayd, Nay.

31 And the Lord opened the eyes of Balaam, and hee sawe the Angell of the Lord standing in the way, hauing his sword drawn in his hand: he bowed himselfe therfore, & fell flat on his face.

32 And the Angell of the Lord sayd vnto him, Wherefore hast thou smitten thine Ass threec times? Beholde, I came out to withstand thee, because thine heart hath declined out of the way before me.

33 And the asse saw me, and turned from me nowc threec times: or els if hee had not turned from me, I had surely slaine thee, and saved her aliue.

34 Balaam sayd vnto the Angell of the Lord, I haue sinned, so I will not that thou standest in the way against mee: Now therfore if it displeaseth thee, I will turne home againe.

35 The Angell of the Lord said vnto Balaam, Goe with the men: but what I say vnto thee, that shalt thou speake. And so Balaam went with the lordes of Balac.

37 And Balac said vnto Balaam, Did I not sende for thee to call thee? and wherefore camest thou not vnto me? Am I not able in deed to promote thee vnto honour?

38 And Balaam made answer vnto Balac, Lor, I am come vnto thee: and can I now say any thing at all? The word that God putteth in my mouth, that shall I speake.

39 And Balaam went with Balac, and they came vnto a citie of streetes.

40 And Balac offered oren and sheepe, and sent thereof to Balaam, and to the lords that were with him.

2 And Balac did as Balaam saide, and Balac and Balaam offered on euery altar an oren and a ramme.

3 And Balaam saide vnto Balac, Stand by thy whole burnt sacrifice, and I wil goe, if so be that the Lord wil meete me: and whatsoever he sheweth mee, I will tell thee. And hee went by || higher.

4 But God met Balaam, and Balaam saide vnto him, I haue prepared seuen altars, & haue offered vpon euery altar an oren and a ramme.

5 And the Lord put a saying in Balaams mouth, and saide, Goe againe to Balac, and say on this wise.

6 And when he went againe vnto him, loe, he stood by his whole burnt sacrifice, hee, and all the lords of Moab.

7 And he tooke by his parable, and said, Balac the king of Moab hath brought mee from Helopocania, out of the mountaines of the East, saying, Come, curse Iacob for my sake, come and desie Irael.

8 How shall I curse him, whom God hath not cursed? or how shall I desie him, whom the Lord hath not defied?

9 For from the top of the rockes I see him, and from the hills I beholde him: loe, the people shall dwell by themselves, and shall not be reckoned among the nations.

10 Who can tell the dust of Iacob, and the number of the fourth part of Irael? I pray God that my soule may die the death of the righteous, and that my last ende may be like his.

11 And Balac saide vnto Balaam, what hast thou done vnto mee? I tooke thee to curse mine enemies, and beholde, thou hast blessed them altogether.

12 Hee answered and saide, Must I not take heede to speake that which the Lord hath put in my mouth?

13 And Balac saide vnto him, Come, I pray thee, with me, vnto another place, whence thou mayest see them, and thou shalt see but the vtmost part of them, and shalt not see them al: curse them out of that place for my sake.

14 And hee brought him in to a fiede, where men might see farre off, to the top of an hil, and built seuen altars, and offered an oren and a ram on euery altar.

15 And hee saide vnto Balac, Stand here by thy whole burnt sacrifice, while I meet the Lord yonder.

16 And the Lord met Balaam, & put a word in his mouth, and said, Goe againe vnto Balac, and say thus.

17 And when he came to him, behold, he stood by his whole burnt sacrifice, and the lords of Moab with him. And Balac saide vnto him, what hath the Lord said?

18 And hee tooke by his parable, and answered, Rise by Balac, and heare, and hearken vnto me, thou sonne of Ziphor.

19 God is not a man, that hee should lie, neither the sonne of man, that hee should repent: should hee say, and not doe? or should hee speake, and not make it good?

20 Beholde, I haue taken vpon me to blesse: for hee hath blessed, and it is not in my power to alter it.

21 Hee behelde no vanitie in Iacob, nor sawe transgression in Irael: the Lord his God is with him, and the ioyfull shoute of a King is among them.

22 * God brought them out of Egypt, they haue strength as an unicornne.

23 For there is no socery in Iacob, nor soothsaying in Irael, according to this time it shall be saide of Iacob and Irael, what hath God wrought?

24 Behold, the people shall rise by as a Lion, and heaue by himselfe as a yong Lion: he shall not lie downe vntill hee eate of the pray, and drinke the blood of them that are slaine.

25 And Balac saide vnto Balaam, Neither curse them, nor blesse them at all.

26 But Balaam answered, and said vnto Balac, Colde not I thee, saying, All that the Lord speaketh, that I must doe?

27 And Balac saide vnto Balaam, Come, I pray thee, and I wil bring thee yet vnto another place, if at all it wil please God that thou mayest thence curse them for my sake.

28 And Balac brought Balaam vnto the top of Peor, that looketh toward Iesimon.

29 And Balaam saide vnto Balac, Make mee here seuen altars, and prepare mee here seuen oren, and seuen rammes.

30 And Balac did as Balaam had said, and offered an oren and a ramme on euery altar.

3 And he tooke vp his parable, and said, Balaam the sonne of Beor hath said, and the man whose eyes are open, hath said, 18 And Edom shall be possessed, and Scir shall fall to the possession of their enemies, and Israel shall do manfully.

19 Out of Jacob shall come he that shall haue dominion, & shall destroy the remnant of the city.

20 And when hee looked on Amalec, he tooke vp his parable, and said, Amalec is the first of the nations, but his latter ende shall perish vtterly.

21 And hee looked on the Kenites, and tooke vp his parable, and said, Strong is thy dwelling place, and thou puttest thy nest in a rocke.

22 Neuertheless, the Kenite shall be rooted out, until Assur take thee prisoner.

23 And hee tooke vp his parable, and saide, Agag, who shall lue when God doeth this?

25 And Balaam rose vp, and went and returned to his place: and Balac also went his way.

And Moses spake vnto the heads of the Tribes, concerning the children of Israel, saying, This is the thing which the Lorde hath commanded.

2 If a man bove a bow vnto the Lorde, or sweare an othe to bind his soule: he shall not go backe with his worde, but shall fulfill all that is proceeded out of his mouth.

3 If a woman also bove a bowe vnto the Lorde, and binde her selfe, beeing in her fathers house in the time of her youth:

4 And her father heare her bove and bond which shee hath made vpon her soule, and holde his peace thereto: then all her bowes and bonds which shee hath made vpon her soule, shall stand in effect.

5 But if her father disalow her the same day that hee heareth all her bowes and bondes which shee hath made vpon her soule: they shall not be of value, and the Lorde shall forgiue her, because her father<sup>a</sup> disallowed her.

6 If she had an husband when she bowed, or pronounced ought out of her lippes, wherewith she bound her soule:

7 And her husband heard it, and helde his peace thereat the same day he heard it: then her bowes shall stand, and her bonds wherewith she bound her soule, shall stand in effect.

8 And if her husband disalow her the same day that he heard it, then he shall make her bow which she hath vpon her, and the opening of her lippes wherewith shee bound her soule, of none effect, and the Lorde shall forgiue her.

9 But euery bowe of a widowe, and of her that is diuorced, that they haue boind their soule withall, shall stand in effect with them.

10 If she bowed in her<sup>b</sup> husbands house, or bound her soule with an othe:

11 And her husband heard it, and helde his peace concerning her, & disallowed her not: then all her bowes shall stand, and euery bond wherewith she bound her soule, shall stand.

12 But if her husband disanulled them the same day that he heard them: then nothing that proceedeth out of her lippes in bowes and bonds wherewith she bound her soule, shall stand in effect: for her husband hath disanulled them, and the Lorde shall forgiue her.

13 All bowes and othes that binde to humble the soule, may her husband stablish, or breake.

14 But if her husband holde his peace from one day to another, then hee stablisheth all her bowes and bonds which shee had vpon her: hee confirmeth them, because hee helde his peace concerning her the same day that he heard them.

15 But if hee breake them, after that hee hath heard them, hee shall beare her sinne himselfe.

16 These are the ordinances which the Lorde commaunded Moses betweene a man and his wife, and betweene the father and his daughter, beeing yet a damsell in her fathers house.

8 The Madianites are slaine, and their cities burnt, Balaam also is slaine. 18 Onely the virgines are reserved aliu.

And the Lorde spake vnto Moses, saying, 2 *Avenge the children of Israel of the Madianites, and afterwarde shalt thou be gathered vnto thy people.

3 And Moses spake vnto the folke, saying, Harnesse some of you vnto warre, and let them goe vpon the Madianites, and avenge the Lorde of the Madianites.

4 Of euery tribe a thousand, throughout all the tribes of Israel, shall ye send to the warre.

5 And there were deliuered out of the thousands of Israel, twelue thousand prepared vnto warre, of euery tribe a thousand.

6 And Moses sent them to the warre, a thousand of euery tribe, and with them Phinees the sonne of Eleazar the Priest to the warre, and the holy vessels, and the trumpets to blow were in his hand.

7 And they warred against the Madianites, as the Lorde commaunded Moses, and slew all the males.

8 * And they slew the kings of Madian among other that were slaine. Namely Eui, and Rekem, Zur, and Hur, and Reba: five Kings of Madian, with<sup>c</sup> Balaam the son of Beor, whom they slew with the sword.

9 And the children of Israel tooke all the women of Madian prisoners, & their children, and spoiled all their cattell, and all their flockes, and all their goods.

10 And they burnt all their cities wherein they dwell, and all their goodly dwellings with fire:

11 And they tooke all the spoyle, and all the bootie, both of men and beasts.

23 And all that may abide the fire, yee shall make it goe through the fire, and it shall be cleane: neuertheless, it shall be purified with water of separation: And all that suffereth not the fire, yee shall make goe through the water:

24 And wash your cloathes the seventh day, and yee shall be cleane, and after ward come into the hoste.

25 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

26 Take the summe of the pray, that was taken, both of the persons and of the cattell, thou and Eleazar the Priest, and the chiefe fathers of the congregation:

27 And deuide the pray into two parts, betwene them that tooke the warre vpon them and went out to battell, & all the congregation.

28 And take a tribute vnto the Lord of the men of warre which went out to battell: one soule of five hundred, both of the persons, and of the beeuers, and of the asses, and of the sheepe.

29 And ye shall take it of their halfe, and giue it vnto Eleazar the Priest, as an heaue offering of the Lord.

30 And of the halfe of the children of Israel, thou shalt take one portion of fiftie, of the persons, and of the beeuers, of the asses, and of the sheepe, and of all manner of beasts, and giue them vnto the Leuites which waite vpon the charge of the tabernacle of the Lord.

31 And Moses and Eleazar the Priest, did as the Lord commaunded Moses.

32 And the boctie, and the rest of the pray which the men of warre had caught, was sixe hundred thousand, and threescore and sittene thousand sheepe,

33 And threescore and twelue thousand of beeuers,

34 And threescore and one thousand asses,

35 And thirtie and two thousand persons in all, of women that had ysen by no man.

36 And the halfe, which was the part of them that went out to warre, was in number three hundred thousand, and seuen and thirtie thousand, and five hundred sheepe.

37 And the Lords part of the sheepe, was sixe hundred and threescore and fiftene.

38 And the beeuers were thirtie and sixe thousand, of which the Lords part was threescore and twelue.

39 And the asses were thirtie thousand and five hundred, of which the Lords part was threescore and one.

40 And the persons were seutene thousand, of which the Lords part was thirtie and two persons.

41 And Moses gaue the tribute, which was the Lords heaue offering, vnto Eleazar the priest, as the Lord commaunded Moses:

42 And the other halfe of the children of Israel, which Moses diuided from the men of warre,

43 That is to wit, the halfe that pertained vnto the congregation, was three hundred thousand, and thirtie and seuen thousand, and five hundred sheepe:

44 And thirtie and sixe thousand beeuers:

45 And thirtie thousand asses, and five hundred.

46 And seutene thousand persons,

47 And Moses tooke of the halfe that pertained vnto the children of Israel, one portion of fiftie, both of the persons and of the cattell, and gaue them vnto the Leuites which wayted vpon the charge of the Tabernacle of the Lord, as the Lord commaunded Moses.

48 And the officers of thousands of the hoste, the captaines ouer the thousands, and the captaines ouer the hundreds, came forth, 49 And said vnto Moses, Thy seruantes haue taken the summe of the men of warre which are vnder our authoritie, and there lacketh not one man of vs.

50 We haue therefore brought a present vnto the Lord, what euery man found, of ierwels of gold, bracelets, chains, rings, earrings, and spangles, to make an atonement for our soules before the Lord, 51 And Moses and Eleazar the Priest tooke the gold of them, all the wrought ierwels.

52 And all the gold of the heaue offering that they heaue vnto the Lord, of the captaines ouer thousands and hundreds, was seutene thousand, seuen hundred, and fiftie sicles.

53 (For the men of warre had spoyled, euery man for himselfe.)

Moses giueth to the Rubenites, Gadites, and to the halfe tribe of Manasses, their portion of their inheritance beyond Iordane.

The children of Ruben, and the children of Gad, had an exceeding great multitude of cattell: And when they saw the land of Jazer, and the land of Silad, that it was an apt place for cattell.

2 The children of Ruben, and the children of Gad, came and spake vnto Moses and Eleazar the Priest, and vnto the lords of the congregation, saying,

3 The land of Ataroth and Dibon, Jazer, and Henrah, Helbon and Elealeh, Sabam, and Bebo, and Beon,

4 which countrey the Lord smote before the Congregation of Israel, is a land meete for cattell, and we thy seruants haue cattell.

5 wherefore sayd they, if we haue found grace in thy sight, let this land be giuen vnto thy seruants to possesse, a thing vs not ouer Iordan.

6 And Moses sayd vnto the children of Gad and of Ruben, Shall your brethren go to warre, and shall ye sit here?

7 wherefore sayd they, let not the heart of the children of Israel, that they should not goe out into the land which the Lord hath giuen them:

8 This did your fathers when I sent them from Cadis Barnea to see the land.

10 And the Lordes wrath was kindled the same time, and he sware, saying,

11 *None of the men that came out of Egypt, from twentie yerres olde and aboue, shall see the land which I sware vnto Abraham, Isahac, and Jacob, because they haue not wholly followed me, 12 Saue Caleb the sonne of Iephune the Benecite, and Josuah the sonne of Nun: for they haue constantly follo wed the Lord.

13 And the Lord was very angrie with Israel, and made them wander in the wildernesse fourtie yerres. vntill all the generations that had done euill in the sight of the Lord, were consumed.

14 And behold, ye are risen vp in your fathers stead, as an encrease of sinnefull men, to augment the fierce wrath of the Lord toward Israel.

15 For if ye turne away from after him, hee will yet againe leaue the people in the wildernesse, and ye shall destroy all this folke.

16 And they went nere him, and said, We will build sheepfolds here for our sheepe, and for our cattell, and walled cities for our children:

17 But wee our selues will goe readie armed before the children of Israel, vntill wee haue brought them vnto their place: and our children shall dwell in the fenced cities, because of the inhabitants of the land.

18 We will not returne vnto our houses, vntill the children of Israel haue inherited, euery man his inheritance:

19 Neither will wee inherite with them on yonder side Jordan for ward, because our inheritance is fallen to vs on this side Iordane Eastward.

20 And Moses said vnto them, *If ye will do this thing, and goe harnessed before the Lord to warre,

21 And will goe all of you in harnesse ouer Iordane before the Lord, vntill he haue cast out his enemies from his sight, 22 And vntill the land bee subdued before the Lord: then ye shall returne, and be without sinne before the Lord, and before Israel, & this land shall be your possession before the Lord.

23 But if ye will not doe so, behold, yee haue sinned against the Lord: and be sure & your sinne will find you out.

24 Now therefore, build cities for your children, and foldes for your sheepe, and doe that yee haue spoken.

25 The children of Gad, and the children of Ruben spake vnto Moses, saying, Thy seruants will doe as my lord commaundeth.

26 Our children, our wiues, our sheepe, and our cattell, shall remaine heere in the cities of Gilead:

27 But thy seruants will goe all harnessed for the warre, and vnto battell before the Lord, as my Lord saith.

28 *And for their sakes Moses commanded Eleazar the Priest, & Josuah the sonne of Nun, and the chiefe fathers of the tribes of the children of Israel.

29 And Moses said vnto them, If the children of Gad, and the children of Ruben will go with you ouer Iordane, all armed to fight before the Lord, then when the land is subdued before you, he shall giue them the land of Gilead to possesse:

30 But if they will not goe ouer with you in harnesse, they shall haue their possessions among you in the land of Chanaan.

31 And the children of Gad, and the children of Ruben answered, saying, As the Lord hath sayd vnto thy seruants, so will we doe:

32 Wee will goe harnessed before the Lord into the land of Chanaan, that the possession of our inheritance may bee giuen vs on this side Iordane.

33 * And Moses gaue vnto the children of Gad, and to the children of Ruben, & vnto halfe the tribe of Manasse the sonne of Joseph, the kingdome of Sehon king of the Amozites, and the kingdome of Og king of Basan, the lande, with the cities thereof, in the coasts and cities of the countrey round about.

34 And the children of Gad built Dibon, and Ataroth, and Aroer, 35 And Atroth, Sophan, Jaaser, & Jogbea, 36 Bethnimra, and Betharan, fenced cities: and they built foldes for the sheepe.

37 And the children of Ruben built Hesbon, Eleale, Kiriatshaim, 38 Nebo, Baalmeon, & turned their names, and Sibama also: and gaue other names vnto the cities which they builded.

39 * And the children of Machir, the sonne of Manasse, went to Gilead, and tooke it, and put out the Amozites that dwelt therein.

40 And Moses gaue Gilead vnto Machir the sonne of Manasse, and he dwelt therein.

41 And Jair the sonne of Manasse, went and tooke the small townes thereof, and called them <sup>h</sup> Baath Jair.

The end of the fourth booke of Moses, called Numeri.

The fifth booke of Moses, called in the Hebrew Elle haddebarim, and in the Latine Deuteronomium.

The first Chapter.

32 Moses reproveth the people for their incredulity.

These be the wordes which Moses spake vnto all Israel, on the other side Jordan in the wildernesse, in the plaine ouer against the red sea, betweene Pharan, and Chophel, Laban, Hazeroth, and Dizahab.

2 There are eleuen dayes iourney from Horeb, by the way of mount Seir, vnto Cades Barnea.

3 And it came to passe in the first day of the eleuenth moneth, in the fourtieth yere that Moses spake vnto the children of Israel, according vnto all that the Lorde had giuen him in commandement vnto them,

4 * After he had slaine Sehon the king of the Amozites, which dwelt in Hesbon, and Og the king of Basan, which dwelt at Asaroth in Edrai.

5 On the other side Jordane in the land of Moab, bega Moses to declare this law, saying,

6 The Lorde our God spake vnto vs in Horeb, saying, Ye haue dwelt long enough in this mount:

7 Turne you, and take your iourney, and goe to the mount of the Amozites, and vnto all the places nigh thereunto, both vnto the plaine, and hills, and dales, to the South, to the sea side, to the land of Chanaan, and vnto Libanon, vnto the great riuer, the riuer Euphrates.

8 Beholde, I haue set the land before you: Soe in and possesse the lande which the Lorde swore vnto your fathers, Abraham, Israhac, and Jacob, to giue vnto them, and to their seede after them.

9 And I spake vnto you in the same time, saying, * I am not able to beare you my selfe alone:

10 For the Lorde your God hath multiplied you, so that you be this day as the starres of heauen in number.

11 (The Lorde God of your fathers make you a thousand times so many moe as ye are, & blisse you, as he hath promised you.)

12 * How can I my selfe alone d beare your cumbrance, your charge, and your strife that is among you?

13 Bring you men of wisdom and of vnderstanding, and expert according to your tribes, and I will make them rulers ouer you.

14 And ye answered me, & saide, What which thou hast spoken, is good for vs to doe.

15 And so out of your tribes I tooke the chiefe men of wisdom, and that were expert, and made them rulers ouer you, captaines ouer thousands, and captaines ouer hundreds, captaines ouer fifties, and captaines ouer tens, and officers among your tribes.

16 And I charged your Judges that same time, saying, * Heare the cause of your brethren, and iudge righteously betweene euery man and his brother, and the stranger that is with him.

17 * Ye shall haue no respect of any person in iudgement, but you shall heare the small as well as the great: You shall not feare the face of any man, for the iudgement is Gods: And the cause that is too hard for you, referre it vnto me, and I will heare it.

18 And I commanded you the same season, all the things which ye should doe.

19 And when we departed from Horeb, we went through al that great and terrible wildernesse, as ye haue seene by the way of the mountaine of the Amozites, as the Lorde our God commanded vs: and we came to Cades Barnea.

20 And I said vnto you, Pee are come vnto the mountaine of the Amozites, which the Lorde our God doth giue vnto vs.

21 Behold, the Lorde thy God hath set the land before thee: goe vp and possesse it, as the Lorde God of thy fathers hath saide vnto thee: feare not, neither be discouraged.

22 And ye came vnto me euery one, and said, we will send men before vs, to search vs out the land, and to bring vs word againe what way we must goe by, and vnto what cities we shal come.

23 * And the saying pleased me well: and I tooke twelue men of you, of euery tribe one.

24 * Which departed, and went by into that mountaine, and came vnto the valley Escol, and searched it out,

25 And tooke of the land in their hands, and brought it vnto vs, and brought vs word againe, and said, It is a good land which the Lorde our God doth giue vs.

26 Notwithstanding, ye would not goe by, but were disobedient vnto the word of the Lorde your God, 27 And murmured in your tents, and saide, Because the Lorde hateth vs, therefore hath he brought vs out of the land of Egypt, to deliuer vs into the hand of the Amozites, and to destroy vs.

28 Whither shal we goe by? Our brethren haue discouraged our heart, saying, The people is greater and taller then we, the cities are great, and walled by to heauen, & moreover, wee haue seene the somes of the Anakims there.

29 Then I said vnto you, Dread not, nor be afraid of them:

30 The Lorde your God which goeth before,

In the country of Moab: this wildernesse was betweene the alme of Egipt, and the sea.

dwelt in Seir, for whom he destroyed the Ho-rings before them, and they possessed them, and dwelt in their stead vnto this day.

23 And the Auims which dwelt in Hazarin, euen vnto Aza, the Caphthozims which came out of Caphthoz, destroyed them, and dwelt in their stead.

24 Rise ye by therefore, and take your iotru-ney ouer the riuer Arnon: Beholde, I haue gi-uen into thy hand Sehon the Amozite, king of Hefbon, and his land, beginne to possesse it, and prouoke him to battaile.

25 This day will I beginne to send the feare and dread of thee vpon all nations that are vnder all the heauen, so that they which heare speake of thee, shall tremble and quaeke before thee.

26 * And so I sent messengers out of the wil-dernesse of Kedomoth, vnto Sehon king of Hefbon, with words of peace, saying,

27 Let me passe through thy land, I will goe along by the high way, I will neither turne vnto the right hand, nor to the left.

28 Thou shalt sell me meate for money, for to eat, and giue me water for money, for to drinke:
Onely I will goe through on my feete.

29 As the children of Esau which dwell in mount Seir, and the Moabites which dwell in Ar, did vnto me, vntill I be come ouer Iordane, vnto the lande which the Lozde our God giueth vs.

30 But Sehon the king of Hefbon would not let vs passe by him, for the Lozde thy God hardened his spirit, and made his heart obstinate, because he would deliuer him into thy hand, as it is come to passe this day.

31 And the Lozde said vnto mee, * Behold, I haue begun to giue Sehon and his lande before thee, begin to possesse and inherite his land.

32 When both Sehon and al his pcople came out against vs to fight at Jaza.

33 And the Lozde set him before vs, and wee smote him, and his sonnes, and all his people.

34 And we tooke al his cities the same season, and slew the men, women, and children of al the cities, and let nothing remaine.

35 Saue the cattell onely wee caught vnto our selues, and the spoule of the cities which we tooke.

36 From Aroer which is by the brynke of the riuer of Arnon, and from the citie that is in the riuer vnto Gilead, there was not one citie too strong for vs: the Lozde our God deliuered all vnto vs.

37 Only vnto the land of the children of Ammon thou camest not, nor vnto every place of the riuer Jaboc, nor vnto the cities in the mo-taines, nor vnto whatsoever the Lozde our God forbade vs.

The iij. Chapter.

Things that chanced from the victorie of the two Kings, Sehon and Og, vnto the institution of Iosuah in Moses stead.

When we turned, and went by the way to Basan: * and Og the king of Basan came out against vs, hee and al his people, to fight at Edrai.
2 And the Lozde said vnto me, feare him not: for I wil deliuer him, and all his people, and his land into thy hand, & thou shalt doe vnto him, * as thou diddest vnto Sehon king of the Amozites, which dwelt at Hefbon.

3 * And so the Lozde our God deliuered into our hands Og also the king of Basan, and al his folke: and we smote him vntill none was left him aliue.

4 And we tooke al his cities the same season, neither was there a citie which wee tooke not from them, therefore cities throughout the region of Argob, of the kingdome of Og in Basan.

5 All these cities also were made strong with high walles, gates, and barres, beside brwalled to wnes a great many.

6 And we utterly destroyed them, as we did vnto Seho king of Hefbon, bringing to nought all the cities, with men, women, and children:

7 But all the cattell, and the spoule of the cities, we tooke for our selues.

8 And thus we tooke the same season out of the hande of two kings of the Amozites, the land that was on the other side Iordane, from the riuer of Arnon vnto mount Hermon:

9 (which Hermon the Sidons cal Syzion: and the Amozites call it Seir.)

10 All the cities that lie in the plaine, and all Gilead, and all Basan, vnto Selcha, and Edrai, cities of the kingdome of Og in Basan:

11 For onely Og king of Basan remained of the remnant of Giants, whose bed was a bed of pyon: And is it not yet at Rabbath among the children of Ammō? Nine cubits doth the length thereof containe, and foure cubites the breadth of it, after the cubite of a man.

12 * And so we conquered this land the same time, from Aroer, which is by the riuer of Arno, vnto halfe mount Gilead, and the cities thereof gave I vnto the Rubenites, and Gadites.

13 And the rest of Gilead, and al Basan, of the kingdome of Og, gave I vnto the halfe tribe of Manasse: euen all the region of Argob, with all Basan, which is called the land of Giants.

14 Jair the sonne of Manasse, tooke all the countrey of Argob, vnto the coastes of Geshuri, and Maachati, and called them after his owne name, Basan Hauoth Jair, vnto this day.

15 And I gave Gilead vnto Machir.

16 And vnto the Rubenites and Gadites, I gave Gilead, vnto the riuer of Arnon, halfe the balley, and beyond, euen vnto the riuer Jaboc, which is the border of the children of Ammon:

17 The plaine also, and Iordane, and the coast thereof, from Cencreth, vnto the sea which is in the plaine, euen the salt sea, vnder the springs of the hill, Eastward.

18 And I commanded you the same time, saying, The Lozde your God hath giuen you this land to enioy it: Per shall goe harnessed before your brethren the children of Israel, all that are meete for the warre.

19 Your wiues onely, your children, & your cattell (for I know that ye haue much cattell) shall abide in your cities which I haue giuen you,

20 vntill the Lozde haue giuen rest vnto your brethren, as well as vnto you, and vntill they also possesse the lande which the Lozde your God hath giuen them beyond Iordane: and then shall ye returne againe every man vnto his possession which I haue giuen you.

21 * And I commanded Iosuah himselfe the same time, saying, Thine eyes haue bene all

The iiii. Chapter.

An exhortation to obserue the lawe without adding thereto, or diminishing. 9 We must teach the law to our children. 15 We ought to make no image whereby we might be induced to idolatrie.

Now therefore hearken, O Israel, vnto the ordinances, and lawes which I teach you, for to do them, that so ye may liue, and goe in and possesse the lande which the Lorde God of your fathers giueth you.

1 Ye shall put nothing vnto the word which I commaund you, neither shall you take ought from it, that yee may keepe the commaundements of the Lorde your God, which I commaund you.

2 Your eyes haue scene what the Lorde did against Baal Peor: for all the men that followed Baal Peor, the Lorde thy God hath destroyed from among you.

3 But yee that cleaue vnto the Lorde your God, are aliuie every one of you this day.

4 Beholde, I haue taught you ordinances and lawes, such as the Lorde my God commaunded me, that ye should doe so in the land whither ye goe to possesse it.

5 Keepe them therefore, and doe them, for that is your wisdom and vnderstanding in the sight of the people, that they may heare all these ordinances, and say, Surely it is a wise and vnderstanding people: it is a great nation.

6 For what other nation is so great, that gods come to nigh vnto, as the Lorde our God is nigh vnto vs in all things as oft as we call vnto him?

7 Pea, and what nation is so great, that hath ordinances and lawes so righteous, as all this law which I set before you this day?

8 So take heed to thy selfe therefore, and keepe thy soule diligently, & thou shalt forget not the things which thine eyes haue scene, & that they depart not out of thy heart all the dayes of thy life: but teach them thy sonnes, and thy sonnes sonnes.

9 Specially the day that thou stoodst before the Lorde thy God in Horeb, when the Lorde said vnto me, Gather me the people together, & I wil make the heare my words, that they may learne to feare me all the daies that they shall liue vpon the earth, & that they may teach their children.

10 Ye came and stood also vnder the mountaine, and the mountaine burnt with fire vnto the mids of heauen, and there was darkenesse, cloudes, and mist.

11 And the Lorde spake vnto you out of the mids of the fire, and yee heard the voice of the wordes, but sawe no similitude, saue heard a voice onely.

12 And he declared vnto you his covenant which he commaunded you to doe, euen ten commaundements, which he wrote vpon two tables of stone.

13 And the Lorde commaunded me that same season, that I should teach you ordinances and lawes, which ye ought to doe in the lande whither ye goe to possesse it.

14 Take therfore good heed vnto your selues, as pertaining vnto your soules: for ye sawe no manner of image in the day that the Lorde spake vnto you in Horeb out of the mids of the fire.

15 Left yee marre your selues, and make you a grauen image and picture of any maner of figure, whether it be the likenesse of man, or woman,

16 The likenesse of any maner of beast that is on the earth, or the likenesse of any manner feathered soule that flecth in the aire,

17 Or the likenesse of any maner worne that creepeth on the earth, or the likenesse of any maner fish that is in the waters beneath the cart:

18 Pea, and least thou lift by thine eyes vnto heauen, & when thou seest the sunne, the moone, and the starres, with all the hoste of heauen, shouldest be dritzen to worship them, and serue them, and shouldest worship & serue the things, which the Lorde thy God hath made to serue all nations vnder the whole heauen.

19 But the Lorde hath taken you, and brought you out of the yron furnace, euen out of Egypt, to be vnto him a people and an inheritance, as ye be this day.

20 Furthermore, the Lorde was angry with me for your wordes, and sware that I should not goe ouer Iordane, and that I should not goe in vnto that good land which the Lorde thy God giueth thee for thine inheritance.

21 But I must die in this land, and shall not goe ouer Iordane: but ye shall goe ouer, and possesse that good land.

22 Take heede vnto your selues, that yee forget not the appointment of the Lorde your God which he made with you, and that yee make you no grauens image, or likenesse that the Lorde thy God hath forbidden thee.

23 For the Lorde thy God is a consuming fire, and a ialous God.

24 When thou shalt beget children, and thy children beget children, and shalt haue remained long in the land, ye doe wickedly and make any maner of grauen image, and worke euill in the sight of the Lorde thy God, to prouoke him to anger:

you this day, that ye shall shortly perish from off the land wherunto you go ouer Jordan to possess it: Ye shall not prolong your dayes therein, but shall bitterly be destroyed:

27 And the Lord shall scatter you among the people, and ye shall be left fewe in number among the nations whither the Lord shall bring you.

28 And there ye shall serue gods which are the worke of mens hand, wood and stone, which neither see, nor heare, nor eate, nor smell.

29 If from thence thou shalt seeke the Lord thy God, thou shalt find him, if thou seeke him with all thy heart, and with all thy soule.

30 When thou art in tribulation, and when all these things that be here spoken of, are come upon thee, euen in the latter dayes, if thou turne to the Lord thy God, and shalt be obedient vnto his voice, 31 For the Lord thy God is a merciful God) he will not forsake thee, neither destroy thee, nor forget the appointment of thy fathers, which he swore vnto them.

32 For aske of the dayes that are past, which were before and since the day that God created man vpon earth, and aske from the one side of heauen vnto the other, if euer there came to passe such a great thing, or whether any such like hath bene heard as this.

33 Did euer any people heare the voice of God speaking out of the middes of a fire, as thou hast heard, and yet liued?

34 Didst thou see God any way, or hast thou seen him? or hath God any way been seen, or hath he been heard? or hath he been felt? or hath he been seen, or hath he been heard? or hath he been felt? or hath he been seen, or hath he been heard?

35 Vnto thee it was shewed, that thou mightest know that the Lord is God, and that there is none other but he.

36 Out of heauen he made thee heare his voice that he might instruct thee: and vpon earth hee shewed thee his great fire, and thou heardest his word out of the middes of the fire.

37 And because he loued thy fathers, he chose their feede after them, and brought thee out in his sight with his mightie power out of Egypt, 38 To thrust out nations, great and mightier then thou art, before thee, and to bring thee in, and to giue thee their lande to inheritance, as it is come to passe this day.

39 Vnderstand therefore this day, and consider it in thine heart, that the Lord he is God in heauen aboue, and vpon the earth beneath, neither is there any other.

40 Thou shalt keepe therefore his ordinances and his commandements, which I commaund thee this day, that it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee, that thou mayest prolong thy dayes vpon the earth, which the Lord thy God giueth thee for euer.

41 Then Moses leuured three cities on the other side Jordan, toward the Sonne rising:

42 That he should see thither, which had killed his neighbour brauwares, and hated him not in times past, and therefore should flee vnto one of the same cities, and lue:

43 Namely Bezer in the wilderness, in the plaine countrey of the tribe of Ruben, and Bamoth in Gilead of the tribe of Gad, and Golan in Basan of the tribe of Manasse.

44 And so this is the law which Moses set by before the children of Israel:

45 These are the witnesses, statutes, and ordinances, which Moses told the children of Israel after they came out of Egypt,

46 On the other side Jordan in the balley ouer against the house of Peor, in the land of Sehon king of the Amorites, which dwelt at Heshbon, whom Moses and the children of Israel smote, after they were come out of Egypt,

47 And possessed his land, and the land of Og king of Basan, two kings of the Amorites, which were on the other side Jordan toward the Sonne rising, 48 From Aroer, which is by the banke of the riuer Arnon, vnto mount Sion, which is Permon.

49 And all the plaine on the other side Jordan eastward, euen vnto the sea, which is in the plaine vnder the springs of the hill.

The v. Chapter.

5 Moses is the meane betweene God and the people.

6 The lawe is repeated. 23 The people were afraid at Gods voice. 29 The Lord wisheth that the people would feare him. 32 They must neither decline to the right hand, nor left.

And Moses called all Israel, and sayd vnto them, Heare, O Israel, the ordinances and lawes which I speake in your eares this day, that ye may learne them, and fulfil them in dedde.

2 The Lord our God made a covenant with vs in Horeb.

3 The Lord made not this couenant with our fathers, but with vs: but with vs which are all here aliuie this day.

4 The Lord talked with our face to face, in the mount out of the mids of the fire:

5 And I stood betweene the Lord and you the same tyme, and shewed you the word of the Lord: for ye were afraid at the sight of the fire, and went not vp into the mount, and he said,

6 I am the Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage.

7 Thou shalt haue none other gods in my presence.

8 Thou shalt make thee no graven image, or any likeness of that which is in heauen aboue, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the waters beneath the earth.

9 Thou shalt neither bowe thy selfe vnto them, nor worship them: for I the Lord thy God am a ielous God, visiting the wickednesse of the fathers vpon the children, vnto the third and fourth generation among them that hate me:

10 And shew mercie vpon thousands among them that loue mee, and keepe my commandements.

15 Remember that thou wast a seruant in the land of Egypt, and how that the Lord thy God brought thee out thence through a mightie hand, and a stretched out arme: for which cause the Lord thy God commanded thee to keepe the Sabbath day.

22 These words the Lord spake vnto all your multitude in the mount, out of the middes of the fire, of the cloude, and of the darknesse, with a great voice, and added no moze thereto, and wrote them in two Tables of stone, and deliuered them vnto me.

23 And it came to passe, that when yee heard the voice out of the middes of the darknesse (for the mountaine did burne with fire) * then yee came vnto me, with the captains of your tribes, and your elders,

24 And ye saide, Behold, the Lord our God hath shewed vs his glory and his greatnesse, and we haue heard his voice out of the mids of the fire: we haue scene this day that God doth talke with man, and he yet liueth.

25 Now therefore why should we die? that this great fire should consume vs: If we heare the voice of the Lord our God any moze, wee shall die.

26 For what flesh hath it bene that euer heard the voice of the liuing God speaking out of the middes of the fire (as we haue done) and yet did liue?

27 Goe thou and heare all that the Lord our God sayeth, and tell thou vnto vs all that the Lord our God saith vnto thee, and we wil heare it, and doe it.

28 And the Lord heard þ voice of your words when ye spake vnto me, and the Lord saide vnto me, I haue heard the voice of the wordes of this people, which they haue spoken vnto thee: they haue well saide all that they haue spoken.

29 Oh that there were such an heart in them, that they would feare mee, and keepe my commandements alway, that it might goe well with them, and with their children for euer.

30 Go, and say vnto them, Get you into your tents againe:

31 But stand thou heare by mee, and I will tell thee all the commandements, ordinances, and lawes which thou shalt teach them, that they may doe them in the lande which I giue them to possesse.

32 Take heede therefore, that ye doe in deede as the Lord your God hath commaunded you, and s<sup>r</sup>uarne not aside either to the right hand, or to the left.

The vj. Chapter.

1 An exhortation to feare God, and keepe his commandements. 16 God ought not to be tempted.

THese are the commandements, ordinances, and lawes, which the Lord your God commanded mee to teach you, that ye might doe them in the land whither ye goe to possesse it:

2 That thou mightest feare the Lord thy God, and keepe all his ordinances and his commandementes which I commaund thee, thou, and thy sonne, and thy sonnes sonne, all the dayes of thy life: that thy dayes may be prolonged.

3 Heare therefore, O Israel, and take heede that thou doe it, that it may goe well with thee, and that ye may increase mightily, as the Lord God of thy fathers hath promised thee, a lande that floweth with milke and hony.

4 * Heare, O Israel, the Lord our God is Lord onely.

5 And thou shalt loue the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soule, and with all thy might.

6 And these words which I commaund thee this day, shall be in thine heart:

7 And thou shalt shew them vnto thy children, and shalt talke of them when thou art at home in thine house, and as thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest vp.

8 And thou shalt bind them for a signe vpon thine hand, and they shall bee as frontlets betwene thine eyes, 9 And thou shalt write them vpon the posts of thy house, and vpon thy gates.

10 And when the Lord thy God hath brought thee into the land which hee swaie vnto thy fathers, Abraham, Ihsaac, and Jacob, and shall giue to thee great and goodly cities, which thou buildedst not,

11 Houses full of all maner of goods, which thou filledst not, and welles digged which thou diggedst not, vineyardes and oliue trees, which thou plantedst not, and when thou hast eaten, and art full:

12 Then beware lest thou forget the Lord which brought thee out of the lande of Egypt, from the house of bondage.

13 Thou shalt feare the Lord thy God, and serue him, and shalt sweare by his name.

14 See that ye walke not after strange gods, the gods of the nations which are about you:

15 (for the Lord thy God is a ielous God among you) lest the countenance of the Lord thy God bee moued to wrath against thee, and destroy thee from the face of the earth.

16 * Ye shall not tempt the Lord your God, as ye did in the place of temptation:

The vij. Chapter.

The Israelites may make no couenant with the Gentiles.

Deut. 31.3 When the Lord thy God shall bring thee into the lande whither thou goest to possesse it, and hath cast out many nations before thee, the Hittites, the Gergesites, the Amorites, the Chanaanites, the Pherezites, the Hettites, and the Jebulites, seuen nations, greater and mightier then thou:

2 And when the Lord thy God hath set them before thee, thou shalt smite them, and utterly destroy them, * a make no couenant with them, nor haue couassion on them.

3 Thou shalt make no marriages with them: neither giue thy daughter vnto his sonne, nor take his daughter vnto thy sonne.

4 For they will deceiue thy sonne, that hee should not followe mee, and they shall serue strange gods: and then will the wrath of the Lord ware hotte against thee, and destroy thee suddenly.

5 But thus ye shall deale with them, * Ye shall overthrow their altars, and breake downe their pillars, and cut downe their groves, and burne their graven images with fire.

6 For thou art an holy people vnto the Lord thy God: the Lord thy God hath chosen thee to be a speciall people vnto himselfe, aboue all nations that are vpon the earth.

7 The Lord did not set his loue vpon you, nor choose you because ye were more in number then any people (for ye were the fewest of all people.)

8 But because hee would keepe the othe which he had swoone vnto your fathers, therefore hath the Lord brought you out through a mightie hand, and deliuered you out of the house of bondage, from the hand of Pharao king of Egypt.

9 Vnderstand therefore, that the Lord thy God, he is God, and that a true God, which keepeth appointment and mercie vnto them that loue him, and keepe his commandements, thorowout a thousand generations:

10 And rewardeth the that hate him to their face, so that he bringeth them to nought, and doeth not deferre the time, but rewardeth him that hateth him before his face.

11 Keepe thou therefore the commandements, and ordinances, and lawes, which I command thee this day that thou doe them.

12 If ye hearken vnto these lawes, and obserue and doe them: the Lord thy God also shall keepe vnto thee the couenant and the mercie which he swore vnto thy fathers.

13 He will loue thee, and blesse thee, and multiply thee: he will also blesse the fruite of thy wombe, and the fruit of thy land, thy corne, thy wine, and thine oyle, & the encrease of thy kine, and the flocks of thy sheepe, in the land which he swore vnto thy fathers to giue thee.

14 Thou shalt be blessed aboue all nations: there shall be neither man nor woman vnfruitfull among you, nor any of your cattell shall be barren.

15 Moreover, the Lord will take away from thee all maner infirmities, and will put none of the euill diseases of Egypt (which thou knowest) vpon thee: but will send them vpon all them that hate thee.

16 Thou shalt consume all the nations which the Lord thy God shall deliuer thee: thine eye shall haue no pity vpon them, neither shalt thou serue their gods, for that shall be thy decay.

17 If thou say in thine heart, These nations are more then I, how can I cast them out?

18 Thou shalt not feare them: but remember what the Lord thy God did vnto Pharao, and vnto all Egypt.

19 The great temptations which thine eyes saw, and the signes and wonders, and the mightie hand and stretched out arme, whereby the Lord thy God brought thee out: so shall the Lord thy God doe vnto all nations of whom thou art afraid.

20 Moreover, the Lord thy God will sende Hornets among them, vntill they that are left, and hide themselves from thee, be destroyed.

21 Thou shalt not feare them: for the Lord thy God is among you, a mightie God, and a terrible.

22 For the Lord thy God will put out these nations before thee by a litle and a litle: thou mayest not consume them at once, least the beasts of the field increase vpon thee.

23 But the Lord thy God shall giue them before thee, and shall destroy them with a mightie destruction, vntill hee haue brought them to nought.

24 And he shall deliuer their kings into thine hand, & thou shalt destroy their name from vnder heauen: There shall no man be able to stand before thee, vntill thou haue destroyed them.

25 The graven images of their gods shall thou burne with fire: and couet not the golde and siluer that is on them, nor take it vnto thee, lest thou be snared therein: for it is an abomination before the Lord thy God.

18 The child must not only seeue God our father directing our life: but also embrace him that our children may doe the same after vs.

The viij. Chapter.

Moses putteth the Israelites in remembrance of al the benefites which God bestowed vpon them, and the afflictions which God sent them in the wildernes, 19 lest the forgetfulness thereof should bring them to destruction.

AL the commandements which I command thee this day, shall ye keepe for to doe them, that ye may liue, and multiply, and goe in, and possesse the land which the Lord swore vnto your fathers.

2 And thou shalt remember all the way which the Lord thy God led thee this fourtie yeeres in the wilderness, for to humble thee, and to prouue thee, and to know what was in thine heart, whether thou wouldest keepe his commandements or no.

3 He humbled thee, and suffered thee to hunger, and fed thee with Manna, which neither thou nor thy fathers knewe of: to make thee know that a man doth not liue by bread onely, but by euery worde that proceedeth out of the mouth of the Lord, doth a man liue.

4 Thy raiment waxed not olde vpon thee, neither did thy foot swell these fourtie yeeres.

5 This also shalt thou consider in thine heart: that as a man chastiseth his sonne, so the Lord thy God chasteneth thee.

6 Therefore shalt thou keepe the commandements of the Lord thy God, that thou walke in his wayes, and feare him.

7 For the Lord thy God bringeth thee into a good land, a land in the which are riuers of water, and fountains, and depthes that spring out of balleyes and hilles:

8 A land wherein is wheate & barley, vineyards, figge trees, and pomegranates, a lande wherein is oyle Olive, and hony:

9 A land wherein thou shalt eat bread with-out scarcenelle, neither shalt thou lache any thing: a land whose stones are yron, and out of whose hills thou shalt digge brasie.

10 When thou hast eaten thereof and filled thy selfe, thou shalt blesse the Lord thy God, for the good land which he hath giuen thee.

11 Beware that thou forget not the Lord thy God, that thou wouldest not keepe his commandements, his lawes and his ordmances, which I command thee this day:

12 Yea, and when thou hast eaten and filled thy selfe, and hast built goodly houses, and dwelt therein:

13 And when thy bestes and thy sheepe are wares many, and thy siluer and golde is multiplied, and all that thou hast is increased:

14 Then beware lest thine heart rise, and thou forget the Lord thy God which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, and from the house of bondage:

15 And which was thy guide in the great and terrible wilderness, wherein were fierie serpents, scorpions, and drought without any water: But he brought out water for thee out of the rock of sinit.

16 Hee fedde thee in the wilderness with

Manna, which thy fathers knewe not, for to humble thee, and to prouue thee, and that hee might so doe thee good at the latter end.

17 Lest thou shouldest say in thine heart, My power, and the might of mine owne hand hath prepared me this abundance:

18 But remember the Lord thy God, for it is hee which giueth thee power to get substance, for to make good the promise which he swore vnto thy fathers, as appeareth this day.

19 And if thou forget the Lord thy God, and walke after strange gods, and serue them, and worship them: I testifie vnto you this day, that ye shall surely perish.

20 As the nations which the Lord destroyed before your face, so ye shall perish, because ye would not be obedient vnto the voice of the Lord your God.

The ix. Chapter.

4 God is not good to them for their owne righteoufnesse, but for his owne sake. 17 The two tables are broken. 26 Moses prayeth for the people.

CARE, O Israel, thou passedst ouer Iordane this day, to goe in, and possesse nations greater & mightier then thy selfe, cities great, and walled vp to heauen:

2 A people great and tall, the children of the Anahims, which thou knowest of, and of whom thou hast heard say, Who can stand before the children of Anak?

3 Understand therefore this day, that the Lord thy God is he which goeth ouer before thee as a consuming fire, he shall destroy them, and hee shall bring them downe before thy face: So shalt thou call them out, & bring them to nought quickly, as the Lord hath said vnto thee.

4 Speake not thou in thine heart, after that the Lord thy God hath call them out before thee, saying, For my righteoufnesse the Lord hath brought mee in to possesse this land: but for the wickednesse of these nations the Lord hath call them out before thee.

5 It is not for thy righteoufnesse sake, or for thy right heart, that thou goest to possesse their land: But for the wickednesse of these nations the Lord thy God doth call them out before thee, to performe the worde which the Lord thy God swore vnto thy fathers Abraham, Isahac, and Iacob.

6 Understand therefore, that it is not for thy righteoufnesse sake, that the Lord thy God doth giue thee this good land to possesse it, seeing thou art a stiffnecked people.

7 Remember, and forget not howe thou prouokedst the Lord thy God to anger in the wilderness: since the day that thou diddest depart out of the land of Egypt, vntill ye came vnto this place, ye haue rebelled against the Lord.

8 Also in Horeb ye prouoked the Lord to anger, so that the Lord was wroth with you, to haue destroyed you,

9 when I was gone by into the mount, to receiue the tables of stone, the tables of the couenant which the Lord made with you, and I abode in the mount fourtie dayes and fourtie nights, when I neither did eat bread, nor drinke water.

11 And when the fourtie dayes and fourtie nights were ended, the Lord gaue mee the two tables of stone, the tables of the couenant.

12 And the Lord said vnto me, Arise, and get thee downe quickly from hence, for thy people which thou hast brought out of Egypt, haue marred all: they are turned at once out of the way which I commanded them, and haue made them a molten image.

f These things are conuict, when they depart from their obedience to God.

13 Furthermoze, the Lorde spake vnto mee, saying, I haue seene this people, and behold, it is a stiffnecked people.

g Meaning, that wolly mens papers doe say Gods vengeance.

14 Let me alone, that I may destroy them, and put out the name of them from vnder heauen, and I will make of thee a mightie nation, and greater then they be.

15 And I turned mee, and came downe from the hill, euen from the hill that burnit with fire, and the two tables of the couenant were in my hands.

16 And I looked, and behold, ye had sinned against the Lord your God, and had made you a molten calfe, and had turned at once out of the way which the Lord had commanded you.

h Whose is this of a gooly calfe, and not of any humane passion.

17 And I tooke the two tables, and cast them out of my two handes, and brake them befoze your eyes.

18 And I fell downe flat befoze the Lorde as at the first time, and fourtie dayes, and fourtie nights, I did neither eate bread, nor drinke water, because of all your sinnes, which ye sinned, in doing wickedly in the sight of the Lorde, in that ye prouoked him vnto wrath.

19 (For I was afraid, that for the wrath and fiercenesse wherewith the Lord was mouued against you, hee would haue destroyed you) But the Lord heard me at that time also.

20 The Lord was very angry with Aaron also, to haue destroyed him: And I made intercession for Aaron also the same time.

i This metaphor is dangerous a thing it is for rulers to suffer wickednesse to be committed.

21 And I tooke your sinne, the calfe which ye had made, and burnt him with fire, and stamped him, and ground him very small, euen to dust: and I cast the dust thereof into the brooke that descended out of the mount.

k 20th. of Sinai, Exod. 17. 7. num. 21. 16

22 Also at the burning place, at the place of tempting, and at the sepulchres of lust, ye prouoked the Lord to anger.

23 Like wise when the Lorde sent you from Cades Barnea, saying, Goe by and possesse the land which I haue giuen you, you rebelled against the word of the Lord your God, and neither beleued him, nor hearkened vnto his voice.

24 You haue bene rebellious vnto the Lord, since the day that I knew you.

25 And I fell downe flat befoze the Lord fourtie daies, and fourtie nights, as I fell downe befoze: for the Lord said, he would destroy you.

26 I made intercession therefore vnto the Lorde, and saide, O Lord God, destroy not thy people, and thine inheritance, which thou hast deliuered through thy great goodnesse, & which thou hast brought out of Egypt through a mightie hand.

l What is, thy promise made to them.

27 Remember thy seruants, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, & looke not vnto the stubbornnesse of this people, nor to their wickednesse & sin:

28 *Least the land whence thou broughtest them, say, The Lord is not able to bring them into the land which he promised them, & because he hated them, therefore hath he caried them out, to slay them in the wilderness.

29 Behold, they are thy people, and thine inheritance which thou broughtest out in thy mightie power, and in thy stretched out arme.

12 And nowe Israel, what doth the Lord thy God require of thee, but to feare the Lord thy God, and to walke in all his wayes, to loue him, and to serue the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soule?

The xi. Chapter.

1 An exhortation to loue God and alwayes to be mindfull of his lawes, and to keepe them.

Therefore thou shalt loue the Lord thy God, and keepe his obseruances, his ordinaunces, his lawes and his commandements alway.

2 Knowe you this day (for I speake not to your children which haue neither knowne nor seene) the chastisement of the Lord your God, his greatnesse, his mighty hand, and his stretched out arme.

3 His miracles and his actes which hee did in the middes of Egypt, euen vnto Pharaos the king of Egypt, and vnto all his land:

4 And what he did vnto the hoste of Egypt, vnto their horses and charets, how he brought the water of the red sea vpon them, as they pursued you behind, & how the Lord hath brought them to nought vnto this day:

5 And what hee did vnto you in the wilderness, vntill ye came vnto this place:

6 And what he did vnto Dathan and Abiram the sonnes of Esau the sonne of Ruben: how the earth opened her mouch and swallowed them with their households, and their tents, and all their substance that was in their possession in the middes of Israel.

7 Doubtlesse, your eyes haue seene all the great actes of the Lord, which hee did.

8 Therefore shall ye keepe all the commandements which I commaund you this day, that ye may be strong, and goe in, and possesse the land whither ye goe to possesse it:

9 And that ye may prolong your dayes in the land which the Lozde swaue vnto your fathers to giue vnto them, and to their seed, a land that floweth with milke and honie.

10 For the land whither thou goest vp to possesse it, is not as the land of Egypt that ye came out of, where thou sowedst thy seed, and wateredst it with thy feete, as a garden of herbes.

11 But the land whither ye goe ouer to possesse it, is a land that hath hills and valleys, and drinketh water of the raine of heauen.

12 This land doeth the Lozde thy God care for, and the eyes of the Lord thy God are alwayes upon it, from the beginning of the yere, vnto the end of the yere.

13 If you shall hearken thereto: vnto my commaundements which I commaunde you this day, that ye loue the Lord your God, and serue him with all your heart, and with all your soule:

14 I also will giue raine vnto your land in due season, the first raine and the latter, that thou mayest gather in thy corne, thy wine, and thine oyle.

15 And I will send grasse in thy fields for thy cattell, that thou mayest eate, and fill thy selfe.

16 But beware that your heart deceiue you not, and ye turne aside, and serue strange gods, and worship them:

17 And then the Lord, being wroth against you, shutt vp the heauen, that there be no raine, and that your land yeelde not her fruit, and lest ye perish quickly from off the good land which the Lord giueth you.

18 Therefore shall ye put by these my wordes in your heart, and in your soule, and binde them for a signe vpon your hand, that they may be as a frontlet betweene your eyes.

19 And ye shall teach them your children, that they may talke of them, when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, when thou liest downe, and when thou risest vp.

20 Yea, and thou shalt write them vpon the doore postes of thine house, and vpon thy gates:

21 That your dayes may be multiplied, and the dayes of your children, in the land which the Lord swaue vnto your fathers to giue them, as long as the dayes of heauen last vpon the earth.

22 For if ye keepe all these commandements which I commaund you, so that ye doe them: namely, that ye loue the Lord your God, and walke in all his wayes, and cleaue vnto him:

23 Then will the Lord cast out all these nations before you, and ye shall be the heires of great nations, and of them that are mightier then your selues.

24 All the places whereon the soles of your feete shall treade, shalbe yours: from the wilderness, and from Libanon, and from the riuers Euphrates, vnto the uttermost sea, shall your coast be.

25 There shall no man be able to stand before you: for the Lord your God shall cast the feare and dread of you vpon all the land that ye shall tread vpon, as he hath said vnto you.

26 Behold, I set before you this day a blessing and a curse:

27 A blessing, if ye obey the commandements of the Lord your God, which I commaund you this day:

28 And a curse, if ye will not obey the commandements of the Lord your God, but turne out of the way which I commaund you this day, to goe after strange gods which ye haue not knowne.

29 When the Lozde thy God therefore hath brought thee into the land whither thou goest to possesse it, thou shalt put the blessing vpon mount Garizim, & the curse vpon mount Ebal.

The xii. Chapter.

1 God commandeth the places of idolatrie to be destroyed. 5. 8 God will be serued as hee doeth appoint, and not as man doeth fantastic.

These are the ordinances & lawes, which yee shall obserue and doe in the land which the Lord God of thy fathers giueth thee to possesse it, as long as ye liue vpon the earth.

2 Yee shall destroy all places, wherein the nations which ye shall possesse serued their gods, vpon high mountaines, on hilles, and vnder euery greene tree.

3 You shall ouerthrowe their altars, and breake their pillars, and burne their groues with fire, and you shall hewe downe the grauen images of the gods that they haue, and bring the names of them to nought out of that place.

4 Yee shall not doe so vnto the Lorde your God:

5 * But yee shall seeke the place which the Lord your God shall chuse out of all your tribes, to put his name there, and there to dwell, and thither thou shalt come :

6 And thither yee shall bring your whole burnt sacrifices, your offerings, your tithes, and heaue offerings of your hand, your bowes, your free will offerings, and the first borne of your kine, and of your sheepe.

7 And there yee shall eate before the Lord your God, and yee shall reioice in all that you put your hand vnto, both yee and your householdes, wherein the Lord thy God hath blessed thee.

8 Ye shall not doe after all the things that we doe here this day, euery man that serueth his own good in his owne eyes.

9 For ye are not yet come to rest, and to the inheritance which the Lord your God giueth you.

10 But when ye goe ouer Iordane, and dwell in the land which the Lord your God hath giuen you to inherit, and when he hath giuen you rest from all your enemies round about, and shall dwell in safety :

11 Then vnto the place which the Lorde your God hath chosen to * put his name there, yee shall bring all that I command you: your whole burnt sacrifices, your offerings, your tithes, the heaue offering of your hand, and all your speciall bowes which yee bowe vnto the Lord.

12 And yee shall reioice before the Lord your God, yee and your sonnes and your daughters, your seruants and your maidens, and the Lewite that is within your gates, sozasmuch as he hath no part nor inheritance with you.

13 Take heede that thou offer not thy whole burnt offerings in euery place that thou seest.

14 But in the place which the Lord shall chuse in one of thy tribes, there thou shalt offer thy whole burnt offerings, and there thou shalt doe all that I commaund thee.

15 Notwithstanding thou mayest kill and eat flesh in all thy cities, whatsoeuer thy soule lusteth after, according to the blessing of the Lorde thy God which he hath giuen thee: both the vnclane and the cleane may eat thereof, of the Roe bucke and of the Hart.

16 Only ye shall not eate the blood, but powze it vpon the earth as water.

17 Thou mayest not eate within thy gates the tyche of thy corne, of thy wine, and of thy oyle, and the first borne of thy kine, and of thy sheepe, neither any of thy bowes which thou doest, nor thy free will offerings, or heaue offering of thine hand :

18 But thou must eate them before the Lorde thy God, in the place which the Lorde thy God hath chosen, thou, and thy some, and thy daughter, thy seruant, and thy mayde, and the Lewite that is within thy gates: and thou shalt reioyce before the Lord thy God, in all that thou puttest thine hand to.

19 Beware that thou forsake not the Lewite, as long as thou liuest vpon the earth.

20 If when the Lord thy God shall enlarge thy border, as he hath promised thee, thou say, I will eat flesh (because thy soule * longeth to eate flesh) thou mayest eat flesh whatsoeuer thy soule lusteth.

21 If the place which the Lord thy God hath chosen to put his name there, be too farre from thee, then thou shalt kill of thy oren and of thy sheepe, which the Lorde hath giuen thee, as I haue commaunded thee, and thou shalt eate in thine owne citie // whatsoeuer thy soule lusteth.

22 And as the Roe bucke and the Hart is eaten, so thou shalt eate them: both the cleane and the vnclane shall eat of them.

23 But // take heede that thou eate not the blood: for the blood is the life, and thou mayest not eat the life with the flesh.

24 Thou shalt not eate it, but powze it vpon the earth as water.

25 Thou shalt not eat it, that it may goe well with thee, and with thy children after thee: but thou shalt doe that which is right in the sight of the Lord.

26 But thy holy things which thou hast, and thy bowes, thou shalt take, and come vnto the place which the Lord hath chosen.

27 And thou shalt offer thy whole burnt offerings, both flesh and blood, vpon the altar of the Lorde thy God: and the blood of thine offerings shall be powzed out vpon the altar of the Lorde thy God, and thou shalt eat the flesh.

28 Take heed, & heare all these words which I command thee, that it may goe well with thee, and with thy children after thee for euer, if thou doest that which is good and right in the sight of the Lord thy God.

29 When the Lorde thy God shall destroy the nations before thee, whither thou goest to possesse them, and thou succeedest in their inheritance, and dwellest in their land :

30 Beware that thou be not taken in a snare after them, after that they bee destroyed before thee, and that thou aske not after their gods, saying, As these nations serue their gods, I will doe so likewise.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 The falſe prophets, 5 and the inticers to idolatrie, muſt be put to death.

If there ariſe among you a prophet, oꝛ a dreamer of dreames, and giue thee a ſigne oꝛ a wonder,

2 And that ſigne oꝛ wonder which he hath ſaid, come to paſſe, and then ſay, Let vs goe after ſtrange gods (which thou haſt not known) and let vs ſerue them:

3 Hearken not thou vnto the words of that prophet oꝛ dreamer of dreames: for the Lord thy God pzoueth you, to knowe whether you loue the Lorde your God with all your heart, and with all your ſoule.

4 Ye ſhall walke after the Lord your God, and feare him, keepe his commandments, and hearken vnto his voice, you ſhall ſerue him, and cleaue vnto him.

5 And that prophet oꝛ dreamer of dreames ſhall die, becauſe he hath ſpoken to turne you away from the Lord your God, which brought you out of the land of Egypt, and deliuered you out of the houſe of bondage, to thruſt thee out of the way which the Lorde thy God commanded thee to walke in) and therefore thou ſhalt put the euill away from thee.

6 If thy brother, the ſonne of thy mother, oꝛ thine owne ſonne, oꝛ thy daughter, oꝛ the wife that lieth in thy boſome, oꝛ thy friend, which is as thine owne ſoule vnto thee, entice thee ſecretly, ſaying, Let vs goe a ſerue ſtrange gods, which thou haſt not known, noꝛ yet thy fathers:

7 And they be any of the gods of the people which are round about you, whether they be nigh vnto thee, oꝛ farre off from thee, from the one end of the earth vnto the other:

8 Thou ſhalt not conſent vnto him noꝛ hearken vnto him, thine eyes ſhall not pitie him, neither ſhalt thou haue compaſſion on him, noꝛ keepe him ſecret.

9 But *cauſe him to be ſlaine: Thine hand ſhalbe firſt vpon him, to kill him, and then the hands of all the people.

10 And thou ſhalt ſtone him with ſtones, that he die: becauſe he hath gone about to thruſt thee away from the Lorde thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, & from the houſe of bondage.

11 And all Iſrael ſhall heare and feare, and ſhal doe no moꝛe any ſuch wickedneſſe as this is among you.

12 If thou ſhalt heare ſay in one of thy cities, which the Lorde thy God hath giuen thee to dwell in.

13 That certaine men being the children of Belial, are gone out from among you, and haue moued the inhabitants of the city, ſaying, Let vs goe and ſerue ſtrange gods, which ye haue not known:

14 Then thou muſt ſeek and make ſearch, and enquire diligently: and behold, if it be true, and the thing of a ſuretie, that ſuch abomination is wrought among you:

15 Then thou ſhalt ſmite the dwellers of that city with the edge of the ſword, and deſtroy it utterly, and all that is therein, and the bevy cattell thereof, with the edge of the ſword.

16 And gather all the ſpoile of it into the mids of the ſtreete thereof, and burne with fire both the cite, and all the people thereof euery whit, for the Lord thy God: and it ſhall be an heape for euer, and ſhall not be built againe.

17 And there ſhall cleaue nought of the damned thing in thine hand, that the Lord may turn from the fierceneſſe of his wrath, and ſhew thee mercie, and haue compaſſion on thee, and multiply thee, as he hath ſworne vnto thy fathers.

18 Therefore ſhalt thou hearken vnto the voice of the Lord thy God, to keepe all his commandments which I commaund thee this day, that thou doe that which is right in the eyes of the Lord thy God.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 The manner of the Gentiles in mourning for the dead may not be followed. 4 What meates are cleane to be eaten, and what not.

7 Neuertheleſſe, theſe ye ſhal not eat of them that chew cud, and of them that deuide & cleaue the hoofe, onely the Camel, the Hare, and the Conie: for they chew the cud, but deuide not the hoofe, therefore they are vncliaue vnto you.

8 And alſo the Swine, though he deuide the hoofe, yet he chewech not cud, therefore is he vncliaue vnto you: ye ſhal not eate of the fleſh of ſuch, noꝛ touch the dead carkeſſe of them.

9 Theſe ye ſhal eat, of all that are in the waters: all that haue finnes and ſcales ſhall ye eate.

10 And whatſoeuer hath not finnes & ſcales, of that ye may not eate, but it is vncliaue vnto you.

11 Of all cleane birdes ye ſhall eate.

12 But theſe are they of which ye ſhall not eate: the Eagle, the Goſhawk, and the Dipyay, 13 The Glede, the kite, and the vulture, after their kind.

29 And the Letiue which hath no part nor inheritance with thee, that come, and the stranger, the fatherlesse, and the widow, which are within thy gates, shall eat and bee filled, that the Lord thy God may blesse thee, in all the workes of thine hand which thou doest.

The xv. Chapter.

1 The forgiuenesse of debts in the seuenth yeere. 7 To helpe the poore is commended. 12 The freedome of seruants.

The terme of * seuen yeres thou shalt make a freedome.

2 And this is the maner of the freedome, whosoever lendeth ought with his hande vnto his neighbour, may not aske againe (that which he hath lent) of his neighbour, or of his brother, because it is called the Lords free yeere.

3 Yet of a stranger thou mayest call it home againe, but he that is thy brother, him shalt thine hand remit.

4 In any wise there shall be no begger among you: for the Lord shall blesse thee in the land which the Lord thy God giueth thee for an inheritance.

5 So that thou hearken vnto the voice of the Lord thy God, to obserue and to do al these commandements which I command thee this day:

6 for the Lord thy God hath blessed thee, as he hath promised thee, and thou shalt lend vnto many nations, but thou thy selfe shalt not borrow: and thou shalt reigne ouer many nations, and they shall not reigne ouer thee.

7 If one of thy brethren among you bee poore, within any of thy gates, in the land which the Lord thy God giueth thee: thou shalt not harden thine heart, nor shut to thine hand from thy poore brother:

8 But thou shalt * open thine hand vnto him, and lend him sufficient for his need which he hath.

9 Beware that there be not a wicked thought in thine heart, that thou wouldest say, The seuenth yeere, the yeere of freedome is at hande: and therefore it grieueth thee to looke on thy poore brother, and giuest him nought, and hee then crieth vnto the Lord against thee, and it be sinne vnto thee.

10 Thou shalt giue him and let it not grieue thine heart to giue vnto him: because that for this thing the Lord thy God shall blesse thee in all thy workes, and in all that thou puttest thine hand vnto.

11 The land shall * neuer be without poore: and therefore I command thee, saying, Thou shalt open thine hand vnto thy brother that is needie and poore in thy land.

12 If thy * brother an Hebrew sel himselfe to thee, or an Hebrew woman, and serue thee six yeeres, in the seuenth yere thou shalt let him go free from thee.

13 And when thou sendest him out free from thee, thou shalt not let him goe away emptye:

14 But thou shalt giue him liberally of thy sheep, of thy corne, and of thy wine, & giue him of that wherewith the Lord thy God hath blessed thee.

15 And remember that thou wast a seruant in the land of Egypt, and the Lord thy God deliuered thee thence: and therefore I command thee this thing to day.

16 And if hee say vnto thee, I will not goe away from thee, because he loueth thee, and thine house, and is well at ease with thee, 17 Then shalt thou take a nauie, and nagle his eare to the dooze therewith, and let him bee thy seruant for ever, and vnto thy mayd seruant thou shalt doe likewise.

18 And let it not grieue thine eye when thou lettest him goe out from thee, for he hath bene worth a double hyred seruant to thee in his seruitce six yeeres: and the Lord thy God shall blesse thee in all that thou doest.

19 * All the first males that come of thy cattell, and of thy sheepe, thou shalt hallow vnto the Lord thy God: thou shalt doe no worke with the first borne bullocke, nor sheare the first borne of thy sheepe.

20 Thou shalt eat it before the Lord thy God yeere by yeere, in the place which the Lord shall chuse, both thou and thy household.

21 * If there be any blemish therein: as if it be lame or blinde, or haue any other euillauorednesse, thou shalt not offer it vnto the Lord thy God, 22 But shalt eat it within thine owne gates: the vnclane and cleane person shall eat it alwie, as the Roe and the Hart.

23 Only eat not the blood thereof: but potwe it vpon the ground as water.

2 Thou shalt therefore offer the Paschevnto the Lord thy God (of sheepe and oxen) in the place which the Lord shall chuse to put his name there.

3 Thou shalt eate no leavened bread with it: but seven dayes shalt thou eate unleavened bread therewith, even the bread of tribulation (for thou camest out of the land of Egypt in hast) that thou mayest remember the day when thou camest out of the land of Egypt, all the dayes of thy life.

16 Three times in a yeere shall all the males appeare before the Lord thy God, in the place which hee shall chuse: in the feast of unleavened bread, in the feast of weekes, and in the feast of Tabernacles: and they shall not appeare before the Lord empty.

17 Every man shall giue according to the gift of his hand, and according to the blessing of the Lord thy God, which he hath giuen thee.

18 Judges and officers shalt thou make thee, in all thy cities which the Lord thy God giueth thee, throughout thy tribes, and they shall iudge the people with iust iudgement.

19 Wilt not thou the lawe, nor knowe any person, neither take any reward: for giftes doe blind the eyes of the wise, and peruert the wordes of the righteous.

The Priests, and the Leuites, and all the tribe of Leui, must haue no part nor inheritance with Israel, but shall eate the offerings of the Lord made by fire, and his inheritance.

2 Therefore shall they haue no inheritance among their brethren, but the Lord he is their inheritance, as he hath said vnto them.

3 And the Priests duetie of the people, and of them that offer, whether it be ore or sheepe, they must giue vnto the Priest the shoulder, and the two cheekes, and the maw.

4 The first fruit also of thy corne, wine, and oyle, and the first of the fleece of thy sheepe, shalt thou giue him.

5 For the Lord thy God hath chosen him out of all thy tribes, to stand and to minister in the Name of the Lord, he, and his sonnes for euer.

6 If a Leuite come out of any of thy cities of all Israel, where he is a sojourner, and come

8 And they shall haue like portions to eate, beside that which cometh of the sale of his patrimoine.

9 When thou art come vnto the land which the Lord thy God giueth thee, thou shalt not learne to doe after the abominations of those nations.

10 Let there not bee found among you any one that maketh his sonne or his daughter to goe thow in the fire, or that bleth witchcraft, or a regarder of times, or that regardeth the flying of foules,

11 Or a sozcerer, or a charmer, or that selleth with spirites, or a soothsayer, or that selleth countsell of the dead.

12 For all that doe such things, are abomination vnto the Lord: and because of these abominations, the Lord thy God doeth call them out before thee.

13 Thou shalt be perfite therefore in the sight of the Lord thy God.

14 For these nations which thou shalt possess, hearken vnto regarders of times, and vnto sozcerers: but the Lord thy God hath not suffered thee so to doe.

15 The Lord thy God will stirre vp vnto thee a Prophet among you of thy brethren, vnto him ye shall hearken.

16 According to all that thou desiredst of the Lord thy God in Horeb, in the day of the assembly, when thou saidest, Let me heare the voice of my Lord God no more, nor see this great fire any more, that I die not.

17 And the Lord sayde vnto me, They haue well spoken.

18 I will raise them vp a Prophet from among their brethren, like vnto thee, and wil put my words in his mouth, and hee shall speake vnto them all that I shall commaund him.

19 And whosoever wil not hearken vnto my words, which hee shall speake in my Name, I will require it of him.

20 But the prophet which shall presume to speake a worde in my Name, which I haue not commaunded him to speake, or that speaketh in the name of strange gods, the same prophet shall die.

21 And if thou say in thine heart, Howe shall wee knowe the word which the Lord hath not spoken?

22 When a Prophet speaketh in the name of the Lord, if the thing follow not, nor come to passe: that is the thing which the Lord hath not spoken, but the prophet hath spoken it presumptuously: thou shalt not therefore be afraid of him.

2 Thou shalt separate three cities for thee in the middes of the lande, which the Lorde thy God giueth thee to possesse it:

3 Thou shalt prepare the way, and deuide the coasts of the land, which the Lorde thy God giueth thee to inherite, into three partes, that whosoever committeth murder, may flee thither.

4 For this cause must the slayer flee thither: that hee may liue, who so killeth his neighbour ignorantely, and hated him not in time past:

5 And when a man goeth vnto the wood with his neighbour, to hew wood, as his hand fetcheth a stroke with the axe to cut downe the tree, the head slippeth from the helme, and smiteth his neighbour that he dyeth: the same shall flee vnto one of the same cities, and liue:

6 Lett the auenger of the blood follow after the slayer while his heart is hote, and ouertake him, because the way is long, and slay him, and yet there is no cause worthy of death in him, in as much as he hated him not in time past.

7 Wherefore I commaund thee, saying, Thou shalt appoint out three cities for thee.

8 And if the Lorde thy God enlarge thy coasts (as he hath sworne vnto thy fathers) and giue thee all the land which hee saide hee would giue vnto thy fathers:

9 Thou shalt keepe all these commaundements to doe them, which I commaund thee this day, that thou loue thy Lorde thy God, and walke in his wayes euer: and adde three cities more, for thee, beside these three.

10 That innocent blood be not shedde in thy land which the Lord thy God giueth thee to inherite, and to blood come vpon thee.

11 But and if any man hate his neighbour, and lay a wayt for him, and rise against him, and smite him that he dye, and then fleeth vnto any of these cities:

12 The elders of his citie shall send and fetch him thence, and deliuer him into the handes of the auenger of blood, that he may die.

13 Thine eye shall not spare him, but thou shalt put away innocent blood from Israel, that it may goe well with thee.

14 Thou shalt not remooue thy neighbours mark, which they of old time haue set in thine inheritance, that thou shalt inherite, in the land which the Lord thy God giueth thee to enioy it.

15 One witnesse shall not rise against a man for any trespass, or for any sinne, or for any fault that hee offendeth in: but at the mouth of two witnessses, or of three witnessses, shall the matter be established.

16 If a false witnesse rise by against any man to accuse him of trespass:

17 Then both the men which strue together, shall stand before the Lorde, before the Priests and the Judges which shall be in those dayes:

18 And the Judges shall make diligent inquisition: and if the witnesse be found false, and that hee hath giuen false witnesse against his brother:

19 Then shall yet doe vnto him, as hee had thought to doe vnto his brother: and thou shalt put euill away from the middes of thee.

20 And other shall heare, and feare, and shall henceforth commit no more any such wickednes among you.

21 And thine eye shall haue no compassion, but life for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot.

3 The exhortation of the Priest, when the Israelies goe to battell, 10 Peace must first be proclaimed, 19 The trees that beare fruit must not be destroyed.

When thou goest out to battell against thine enemies, and seest hozes and charrets, and people more then thou, be not afraid of them: for the Lorde thy God is with thee, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

2 And when ye are come nigh vnto battell, the Priest shall come forth to speake vnto the people,

3 And shal say vnto them, Heare, O Israel, you are come this day vnto battell against your enemies, let not your hearts faint, neither feare, nor be amazed, nor adread of them:

4 For the Lord your God goeth with you, to fight for you against your enemies, and to saue you.

5 And let the officers speake vnto the people, saying, If any man haue built a newe house, and haue not dedicate it: let him goe and returne to his house, leaſt he die in the battell, and another man dedicate it.

9 And when the officers haue made an ende of speaking vnto the people, they shal make captaines of the armie to gouerne the people.

14 But the women, and the children, and the cattell, and all that is in the citie, and all the spoyle thereof, shalt thou take vnto thy selfe, and eat the spoyle of thine enemies, which the Lord thy God hath giuen thee.

15 Thus shalt thou doe vnto all the cities which are a great way off from thee, which are not of the cities of these nations, 21 When thou hast bowed a bow vnto the Lord thy God, thou shalt not slacke to pay it: for the Lord thy God will surely require it of thee, and it shall be sinne in thee.

22 If thou shalt leaue bowing, it shall be no sinne in thee:

23 But that which is onse gone out of thy lips, thou must keepe, and doe according as thou hast bowed vnto the Lord thy God of a free wil, and as thou hast spoken with thy mouth.

24 When thou comest into thy neighbours vineyard, thou mayest eate grapes thy belly full at thine owne pleasure, but thou shalt put none in thy bestell.

25 Euen so, when thou comest into thy neighbours corne, thou mayest plucke the eares with thine hande: but thou shalt not moue a sickle vnto thy neighbours corne.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

1 Diuorcement is permitted. 5 He that is newly married, is exempted from warre. 6 Mercie is to be shewed toward the poore debtors.

When a man hath taken a wife and married her, if shee finde no fauour in his eyes, because hee hath spied some vncleamnesse in her: then let him write her a bill of diuorcement, and put it in her hand, and send her out of his house.

2 And when she is departed out of his house, let her goe and be another mans wife.

3 And if the second husband hate her, let him write her also a letter of diuorcement, and put it in her hand, and send her out of his house: Or if the seconde man die which tooke her to wife:

4 Her first man which sent her away, may not take her againe to be his wife after that shee is defiled: for that is abomination in the sight of the Lord, and thou shalt not cause the lande to sinne, which the Lord thy God shall giue thee to inherit.

5 When a man taketh a newe wife, hee shall not goe a warrefare, neither shall hee be charged with any businesse: but shall be free at home one yeere, and reioyce with his wife which hee hath taken.

6 No man shall take the nether or the vpper millstone to pledge: for he hath layd his life to pledge to thee.

7 If any man bee found stealing any of his brothers the children of Israel, and abuseth him or selleth him: the thiefe shall die, and thou shalt put euil a way from the middes of thee.

8 Take heede to thy selfe as concerning the plague of leprosie, that thou obserue diligently, and doe according to all that the Priests the Leuites shall teach you: as I commanded them, so ye shall obserue to do.

9 Remember what the Lord thy God did vnto Mary by the way, after that ye were come out of Egypt.

10 When thou doest lende thy brother any thing, thou shalt not go into his house to fetch a pledge from thence:

11 But shalt stand without, and the man that hath borrowed it of thee, shall bring the pledge out of the doozes vnto thee.

12 Furthermore, if it bee a poore body, thou shalt not sleepe with his pledge:

13 But deliuer him the pledge againe when the Sunne goeth downe, that hee may sleepe in his owne raiment, and blesse thee: and it shall be righteousnes vnto thee before the Lord thy God.

14 Thou shalt not oppresse an hired seruant that is needie and poore, whether hee bee of thy brethren, or of the strangers that are in thy land within thy gates:

15 But shalt giue him his hire the same day, and let not the Sunne goe downe thereon, for hee is needie, and therewith sustaineth his life: leaue he cry against thee vnto the Lord, and it bee sinne vnto thee.

16 The fathers shall not be put to death for the children, nor the children for the fathers: but every man shall bee put to death for his owne sinne.

17 Thou shalt not peruert the right of the stranger, nor of the fatherlesse, nor take a widows raiment to pledge:

18 But remember that thou wast a seruant in Egypt, and howe the Lord thy God deliuered thee thence: and therefore I command thee to do this thing.

19 When thou cuttest downe thine harouff in thy fielde, and hast got a sheafe in the fielde, thou shalt not goe againe to set it: But it shall be for the stranger, the fatherlesse, and the widowe: that the Lord thy God may blesse thee in all the workes of thine hand.

20 When thou beatest downe thine Oliue tree, thou shalt not beat ouer the boughes againe: but it shall be for the stranger, the fatherlesse, and the widow.

21 When thou gatherest the grapes of thy vineyard, thou shalt not gather the grapes cleane after thee: but leaue them for the stranger, the fatherlesse, and the widow.

22 And remember that thou wast also a seruant in the land of Egypt: and therefore I command thee to do this thing.

7 And if the man wil not take his kinswoman, then let her goe by to the gate, vnto the Elders, and say, My kinsman *refuseth to stirre vnto his brother a name in Israel, neither will he marrie me.

8 Then the Elders of his cite shall cal him, and commune with him: and if hee stand and say, I wil not take her:

9 Then shall his kinswoman come vnto him in the presence of the Elders, and loose his shoe off his foote, and spit in his face, and answer, and say, So shall it bee done vnto that man that doeth not build by his brothers house.

10 And his name shall bee called in Israel, The vnhod house.

13 Thou shalt not haue in thy bagge two manner of weights, a great and a small.

14 Neither shalt thou haue in thine house diuers measures, a great and a small.

15 But thou shalt haue a right & iust waight, and a perfect and a iust measure shalt thou haue: that thy dayes may bee lengthened in the lande which the Lord thy God giueth thee.

16 For all that doe such things, and all that do vnrigh, are abomination vnto the Lord thy God.

3 The offering of the first fruits. 19 To what honor God prefereth them which acknowledge him to be their Lord.

When thou art come into the lande which the Lord thy God giueth thee to inherite, and hast enjoyed it, and dwellest therein:

2 Take of the first of all the fruit of the earth, and bring it out of the land that the Lord thy God giueth thee, and put it in a basket, and goe vnto the place which the Lord thy God shall chooſe to set his Name in it:

3 And thou shalt come vnto the Priest that shall be in those dayes, and say vnto him, I know ledge this day vnto the Lord thy God, that I am come vnto the countrey which the Lord swaere vnto our fathers so, to giue vs.

4 And the Priest shall take the basket out of thine hand, and set it downe before the Altar of the Lord thy God.

5 And thou shalt answer and say before the Lord thy God, The Syrians went about to destroy my father, and hee went downe into Egypt, and so sojourned there with a fewe folke, and grew there vnto a nation, great, mightie, and full of people.

6 And the Egyptians bered vs, and troubled vs, and laded vs with most cruel bondage.

7 And when we cried vnto the Lord God of our fathers, the Lord heard our voice, and looked on our aduersitie, labour, and oppression.

8 And the Lord brought vs out of Egypt in a mightie hand, and stretched out arme, and in great terribleſſe, and signes, and wonders.

9 And hee hath brought vs into this place, and hath giuen vs this lande that floweth with milke and home.

10 And now loe, I haue brought the first fruits of the land which thou O Lord hast giuen me: and thou shalt set it before the Lord thy God, and worship before the Lord thy God.

11 And reioyce in all the good things which the Lord thy God hath giuen vnto thee, and vnto thine house, thou, and the Leuite, and the stranger that is among you.

12 When thou shalt made an ende of tything of all the tythes of thine increase the third yeere, which is the yeere of tything, thou shalt giue it vnto the Leuite, the stranger, the fatherlesse and the widow, that they may eat within thy gates, and fill themselves:

13 And thou shalt say before the Lord thy God, I haue brought the hallowed things out of mine house, and haue giuen them vnto the Leuite, the stranger, the fatherlesse, and the widow, according to all thy Commandements, which thou hast commanded me: I haue not transgressed thy Commandements, nor forgotten them.

14 I haue not eaten thereof in my mourning, nor suffered ought to perish thoro we briclamelle, nor giuen ought thereof so, the dead: but haue hearkned vnto the voyce of the Lord my God, and haue done after all that thou hast commanded me.

15 *Looke downe therefore from thy holy habitation, from heauen, and blesse thy people Israel, and the land which thou hast giuen vs, as thou swaerdest vnto our fathers, a land that floweth with milke and home.

18 And the Lord hath set thee by this day to be a seuerall people vnto him, as he hath promised thee, and that thou keepe all his Commandements:

19 And to make thee high above all nations which he hath made, in praise, in name, and honour, and that thou mayest be an holy people vnto the Lord thy God, as he hath said.

The xxvij. Chapter.

2 They are commanded to write the Law vpon stone for a remembrance.

Moses with the Elders of Israel commanded the people, saying, Keepe all the Commandements which I command you this day.

2 And in that day when you shall passe ouer Jordan, vnto the land which the Lord thy God giueth thee, thou shalt set thee by great stones, and plaister them with plaister:

3 And write vpon them all the words of this Lawe when thou art come ouer, because thou art come into the land which the Lord thy God giueth thee, a land that floweth with milke and honey, as the Lord God of thy fathers hath promised thee.

4 Therefore when yee bee come ouer Jordan, yee shall set by these stones which I command you this day in mount Ebal, and thou shalt plaister them with plaister.

5 And there shalt thou builde vnto the Lord thy God an altar of stones, and lift by no yron vpon them.

6 Thou shalt make the altar of the Lord thy God of whole stones, and offer whole burnt offerings thereon vnto the Lord thy God:

7 And thou shalt offer peace offerings, & shalt eate them, and reioyce before the Lord thy God.

8 And thou shalt write vpon the stones, all the words of this Law, plainly, and distinctly.

9 And Moses and the Priests the Levites spake vnto all Israel, saying, Take heede, and heare, O Israel, this day thou art become the people of the Lord thy God.

10 Thou shalt hearken therefore vnto the voice of the Lord thy God, and do his Commandements, and his ordinances which I command thee this day.

11 And Moses charged the people the same day, saying,

12 These shall stand vpon mount Garizim to blesse the people, when yee are come ouer Jordan: Simeon, Leui, Iuda, Issachar, Joseph, and Benjamin.

13 And these shall stand vpon mount Ebal to curse: Ruben, Gad, Aser, Zabulon, Dan, and Nephthali.

14 And the Levites shall answer, and say vnto all the men of Israel with a loude voyce,

15 Cursed be the man that maketh any carved or molten image, an abomination vnto the Lord, the worke of the hands of the craftsman, and putteth it in a secret place: and all the people shall answer and say, Amen.

16 Cursed be he that curseth his father and his mother: and all the people shall say, Amen.

17 Cursed be he that remoueth his neighbors marke: and all the people shall say, Amen.

18 Cursed be he that maketh the blinde to go out of his way: and all the people shall say, Amen.

19 Cursed be hee that hindereth the right of the stranger, fatherlesse, and widow: and all the people shall say, Amen.

20 Cursed be hee that lieth with his fathers wife, and vnhealeth his fathers couering: and all the people shall say, Amen.

21 Cursed be he that lieth with any manner of beast: and all the people shall say, Amen.

22 Cursed be he that lieth with his sister, the daughter of his father, or the daughter of his mother: and all the people shall say, Amen.

23 Cursed be he that lieth with his mother in lawe: and all the people shall say, Amen.

24 Cursed be hee that smiteth his neighbour secretly: and all the people shall say, Amen.

25 Cursed be he that taketh reward to slay the soule of innocent blood: and all the people shall say, Amen.

26 Cursed be he that continueth not in all the words of this Lawe to doe them: and all the people shall say, Amen.

The xxviii. Chapter.

1 The promises to them that obey the Commandements. 15 The threatnings to them that disobey.

If thou shalt hearken diligently vnto the voice of the Lord thy God, and obserue and doe all his Commandements which I command thee this day: the Lord wil set thee on high above all nations of the earth.

2 And all these blessings shall come on thee, and ouertake thee, if thou shalt hearken vnto the voice of the Lord thy God.

3 Blessed shalt thou be in the citie, and blessed in the field.

4 Blessed shall be the fruite of thy body, and the fruite of thy ground, and the fruite of thy cattell, the increase of thy kine, and the flockes of thy sheepe.

5 Blessed shall be thy basket and thy store.

6 Blessed shalt thou be when thou comest in, and blessed when thou goest out.

7 The Lord shall giue ouer thine enemies that rise against thee, that they may fall before thy face: they shall come out against thee one way, and flee before thee seven wayes.

8 The Lord shall command the blessing by on thee in thy store houses, and in all that thou settest thine hand vnto, and wil blesse thee in the land which the Lord thy God giueth thee.

9 The Lord shall make thee an holy people vnto himselfe, as he hath sworn vnto thee: if thou shalt keepe the Commandements of the Lord thy God, and walke in his wayes.

10 And all nations of the earth shall see, that the name of the Lord is called vpon ouer thee, and they shall be afraid of thee.

11 And the Lord shall make thee plenteous in goods, in the fruite of thy body, in the fruite of thy cattell, and in the fruite of thy ground, in the land which the Lord swaue vnto thy fathers to giue thee.

59 The Lord wil send vnto thee and thy seed great plagues, and of long continuance, euill sicknesses, and of long durance.

60 Moreover, he will bring vpon thee all the diseases of Egypt, and those which thou wast afraid of, shall cleaue vnto thee.

61 And all maner sicknesses, and all maner plagues which are not written in the booke of this law, will the Lord bring vpon thee, vntil he bring thee to nought.

62 And ye shall be left fewe in number, where before ye were as the <sup>n</sup> starres of heauen in multitude: because thou wouldest not hearken vnto the voice of the Lord thy God.

63 And it shall come to passe, that as the Lord reioiced ouer you to do you good, and to multiply you: so he will reioice ouer you to destroy you, & to bring you to nought, and ye shall bee walled from off the land whither thou goest to enjoy it.

64 And the Lord shall scatter thee among all nations, from the one end of the world vnto the other: and there thou shalt serue strange gods, which thou no; thy fathers haue knowen, euen wood and stone.

65 And among these nations thou shalt finde none ease, neither shall the <sup>o</sup> sole of thy foot haue rest: But the Lord shall giue thee there an vquiet heart, and dazing eyes, and sorow of mind.

66 And thy life shall hang in doubt before thee, and thou shalt feare both day and night, and shalt haue none assurance of thy life.

67 In the morning thou shalt say, Would God it were night: and at night thou shalt say,

Would God it were morning, for feare of thine heart which thou shalt feare, and for the light of thine eyes which thou shalt see.

68 And the Lord shall bring thee into Egypt againe with <sup>p</sup> ships by the way which I said to thee. Thou shalt see it no more againe: and there ye shall be sold vnto your enemies for bondmen and bondwomen, and no man shall buy you.

The xxix. Chapter.

2 The people are exhorted to obserue the commandments. 10 The whole people from the highest to the lowest are comprehended vnder Gods covenant. 19 The punishment of him that flattereth himselfe in his wickednes. 24 The cause of Gods wrath against his people.

These are the wordes of the covenant which the Lord commanded Moses to make with the children of Israel in the land of Moab, beside the appointment which hee made with them in <sup>h</sup> Horeb.

2 And Moses called all Israel, and said vnto them, Pee haue * scene all that the Lord did before your eyes in the land of Egypt vnto Pharaoh, and vnto all his seruants, & vnto all his land.

3 The great temptations which thine eyes haue scene, those great miracles and wonders:

4 And yet the Lord hath not giuen you an heart to perceiue, and eyes to see, and eares to heare vnto this day.

5 And I haue led you forty yeres in the wilderness: and your clothes are not waxed old vpon you, & thy shoe is not wared old vpon thy foot.

6 Ye haue eaten no bread, nor drunke wine or strong drinke: that ye might know how that I am the Lord your God.

7 * And ye came vnto this place: and Sehon the king of Heshbon, and Og the king of Basan, came out against vs vnto battell, and wee smote them,

8 And tooke their land, and gaue it for an inheritance vnto the Rubemites, & Gadites, and to the halfe tribe of Manasse.

9 Keepe therfore the wordes of this covenant, and doe them, that ye may vnderstand all that ye ought to doe.

10 Pee stand this day every one of you before the <sup>b</sup> Lord your God: your captains, your tribes, your Elders, your officers, and all the men of Israel.

11 Your children also, your wiues, and the stranger that is in thine hose, from the beuer of thy wood, vnto the drauer of thy water:

12 That thou shouldest go into the covenant of the <sup>c</sup> Loyde thy God, and into his othe which the Lord thy God maketh with thee this day:

13 For to make thee a people vnto himselfe, and that he may be vnto thee a God, as hee hath said vnto thee, and as he hath swoorne vnto thy fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

14 I make not this bond and this othe with you onely:

15 But both with him that standeth heere with vs this day before the Lord our God, and also with him that is not <sup>d</sup> heere with vs this day.

16 For ye know how wee haue dwelt in the land of Egypt, and how wee came thozow the nuddest of the nations which ye passed by:

17 And yee haue scene thine abominations, and their idols, wood, and stone, siluer and gold, 21 And the Lord shall separate him vnto euil, out of all the tribes of Israel, according vnto all the curses of the couenant that are writzen in the booke of this law.

22 So that the generation to come of your children, that shall rise vp after you, and the stranger that shall come from a farre land, shall say, when they see the plagues of that land, and the diseases where with the Lord hath smitten it, 24 Then shall all nations say, * wherefore hath the Loyde done on this fashion vnto this land? How fierre is this great wozach?

25 And men shall say, Because they haue forsaken the couenant of the Lord God of their fathers, which he made with the when he brought them out of the land of Egypt.

26 For they went and serued strange gods, and worshipped them, gods which they knew not, and which had giuen them nothing.

27 And the wozach of the Lord wared hote against this land, to bring vpon it all the curses that are writzen in this booke.

28 And the Lord call them out of their land, in anger, wozach, and great indignation, and cast them into a strange land, as this day beareth witness.

29 The secrets of the Lord our God are opened vnto vs, and to our children for euer, that we may doe all the wordes of this law.

The xxx. Chapter.

1 Mercy shewed when they repent. 19 Life and death is set before them. 20 The Lord is their life which obey him.

When all these words are come vpon thee, the blessing and the curse, which I haue set before thee, thou shalt turne vnto thine heart among all the nations whither the Lord thy God hath diuened thee.

2 And come againe vnto the Loyde thy God and hearken vnto his voice in all these things that I command thee this day, thou and thy children, with all thine heart, and with all thy soule:

3 And the Lord thy God wil turne thy captiuitie, and haue compassion vpon thee, and will turne and fetch thee againe from all the nations among which the Lord thy God hath scattered thee.

4 Though thou wast cast vnto the extreme parts of heauen, from thence will the Lord thy God gather thee, & from thence will he fetch thee.

5 And the Lord thy God wil bring thee into the land which thy fathers possessed, and thou shalt inioy it: and he will shewe thee kindnesse, and multiply thee aboute thy fathers.

6 And the Lord thy God will circumsise thine heart, and the heart of thy seele, that thou mayest loue the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and all thy soule, that thou mayest liue.

7 And the Lord thy God will put all these curses vpon thine enemies, and on them that hate thee, and that persecute thee.

8 But thou shalt turne and hearken vnto the voice of the Lord, and doe all his commandments which I command thee this day:

9 (And the Loyde thy God will make thee plenteous in all the workes of thine hand, in the fruit of thy body, & in the fruit of thy cattell, and in the fruit of thy land, for thy wealth: for the Lord wil turne againe, and reioice ouer thee to doe thee good, as he reioiced ouer thy fathers.)

10 If thou hearken onely vnto the voice of the Lord thy God, to keepe his commandments and his ordinaunces which are writzen in the booke of this law, & if thou turne vnto the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and all thy soule:)

11 For the commandment which I command thee this day, is not hidden from thee, neither farre off.

12 It is not in heauen, that thou needest to say, who shall goe by for vs to heauen, and bring it vnto vs, that we may heare it, and doe it?

13 Neither is it beyond the Sea, that thou shouldest say, who shall goe ouer the sea for vs, and bring it vnto vs, that we may heare it, and doe it?

14 But the worde is very nigh vnto thee, euen in thy mouth, and in thy heart, that thou doe it.

15 Behold I haue set before thee this day life, and good, death, and euill:

16 For where as I command thee this day to loue the Lord thy God, to walke in his wayes, and to keepe his commandments, his ordinaunces and his lawes, if thou so doe thou shalt liue, and multiply, and the Lord thy God shall blesse thee in the land, whither thou goest to possesse it.

17 But if thine heart turne away, so that thou wilt not heare, but shalt goe adray and worship strange gods, and serue them:

18 I pronounce vnto you this day, that yee shall surely perish, and that yee shall not prolong your dayes vpon the land, whither thou passest ouer Iordane to goe and possesse it.

19 I call heauen and earth to record this day against you, that I haue set before you life and death, blessing, and cursing: therefore choose life, that both thou and thy seele may liue, 20 That thou mayest loue the Lord thy God, and be obedient to his voice, & cleaue vnto him: for hee is thy life, and the length of thy dayes, that thou mayest dwell vpon the earth, which the Lord swore vnto thy fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob to giue them.

Iosuah to rule the people. 9 Hee giuech the Law to the Leuites, that they should reade it to the people

And Moses went and spake these words vnto al Israel,

And saide vnto them, I am an hundred and twentie yeeres old this day, and can no more goe out and in: also the Lord hath said vnto mee, Thou shalt not goe ouer this Iordane.

The Lord thy God he will goe ouer before thee, and hee will destroy these nations before thee, and thou shalt possesse them: and Iosuah shall goe before thee, as the Lord hath said.

And the Lord shall doe vnto them, as hee did to Sehon and Og, Kings of the Amozites, and vnto the land of them whom he destroyed.

And the Lord shall giue them ouer before your face, that yee may doe vnto them according vnto all the Commandements which I haue commanded you.

Plucke vp your hearts therefore, and bee strong, dread not, nor bee afraide of them, for the Lord thy God himselfe doeth goe with thee, hee shall not faile thee, nor forsake thee.

And Moses called vnto Iosuah, and saide vnto him in the sight of al Israel, Be strong, and of good courage: for thou must goe with this people vnto the land which the Lord hath swoorne vnto their fathers to giue them, and thou shalt giue it them to inherite.

And the Lord he doth go before thee, hee shall be with thee, hee shall not faile thee, neither forsake thee: feare not therefore, nor be discouraged.

And Moses wrote this Law, and deliuered it vnto the Priests the sonnes of Levi, which bare the Arke of the Testament of the Lord, and vnto all the Elders of Israel.

And Moses commanded them, saying, Euery seuenth yeere, in the solemnitie of the free yeere, in the feast of Tabernacles,

When all Israel is come to appeare before the Lord thy God, in the place which hee hath chosen: thou shalt reade this Lawe before all Israel, that they may heare it.

Gather the people together, men, women, and children, and the stranger that is within thy gates, that they may heare, and learne, and feare the Lord your God, and keepe and obserue all the wordes of this Law.

And that their children which know nothing, may heare, and learne to feare the Lord your God, as long as ye liue in the land, whither ye goe ouer Iordane to possesse it.

And the Lord said vnto Moses, Beholde, the dayes are come that thou must die: call Iosuah therefore, and stand yee, in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, that I may giue him a charge. And Moses and Iosuah went and stood in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

And the Lord appeared in the Tabernacle, in the pillar of the cloude: and the pillar of the cloude stood ouer the doore of the Tabernacle.

And the Lord said vnto Moses, Beholde, thou shalt sleepe with thy fathers, & this people will rise vp, and goe s a whozing after strange gods of the lande whither they goe, and will forsake mee, and breake the appointment which I haue made with them.

And then my wrath will waie hote against them in that day, and I will forsake them, and will hide my face from them, and they shall bee consumed, and much aduersitie and tribulation shall come vpon them, so that then they will say, Are not these troubles come vpon mee, because God is not with me?

And I also will surely hide a way my face in that day, for all the euils sake which they shall haue wrought, in that they are turned vnto strange gods.

Now therefore, write ye this song for you, and teach it the children of Israel, and put it in their mouthes, that this song may bee my witnesse against the children of Israel.

For I will bring them into the land which I sware vnto their fathers, that floweth with milke and home: and they shall eate, and fill themselves, and ware fatte, and turne vnto strange gods, and serue them, and blaspheme mee, and breake my Couenant.

And when much mischief and tribulation is come vpon them, this song shall answer them as a witnes: for it shall not bee forgotten out of the mouthes of their seede, for I knowe their imagination which they goe about euen now, before I haue brought them into the land which I sware.

Moses therefore wrote this song the same day, and taught it the children of Israel.

And hee gaue Iosuah the somme of Mun a charge, & said, Be bold and strong: for thou shalt bring the children of Israel into the land which I sware vnto them: and I will be with thee.

And when Moses had made an end of writing the wordes of this Law in a booke, but hee had finished them,

Moses commanded the Leuites which bare the Arke of the couenant of the Lord, saying,

Take ye the booke of this Law, and put it in the side of the Arke of the Couenant of the Lord your God, that it may be there for a witnesse against thee.

For I knowe thy rebellion, and thy stiffe necke: while I am yet aliuie with you this day, yee haue bene disobedient vnto the Lord, & how much more after my death?

Gather vnto mee all the Elders of your tribes, & your officers, that I may speake these wordes in their eares, and call heauen and earth to record against them.

For I am sure that after my death ye will bitterly be corrupt, & turne from the way, which I haue commanded you: and tribulation will come vpon you in the latter dayes, because yee shall haue wrought wickednes in the sight of the Lord, to prouoke him through the woordes of your handes.

And Moses spake in the eares of all the Congregation of Israel the wordes of this song, vntill hee had ended them.

ascribe ye honour vnto our God.

4 Perfect is the worke of the most mightie God, for all his wayes are iudgement: Hee is a God of trueth, without wickednesse, righteous and iust is he.

5 Forwardly haue they dont against him by their vices, not being his orone children, but a wicked and forward generation.

6 Doe ye so reward the Lord, O thou foolish nation, and brutish? Is not hee thy father that hath bought thee? Hath hee not made thee, and ordeined thee?

7 Remember the dayes of the world that is past, consider the yeres of so many generations: Aske thy father, and he wil shew thee, thy elders, and they will tell thee.

8 When the most highest diuided to the nations their inheritance, and when hee separated the soimes of Adam, hee put the borders of the nations, according to the number of the children of Israel:

9 For the Lords part is his people, and Jacob is the portion of his inheritance.

10 Hee found him in a desert land, in a boide ground, and in a roaring wilderness: Hee led him about, he gaue him vnderstanding, and kept him as the apple of his eye.

11 As an Eagle that stirreth by her neast, and fluttereth ouer her young, and spreadeth her wings, taketh them, and beareth them on her wings:

12 The Lord alone was his guide, and there was no strange God with him.

13 Hee caried him vp to the hie places of the earth, that hee might eate the increase of the fields, & he fed them with honey out of the rocke, and with oile out of the most hard stone:

14 With butter of kine, & milke of the sheepe, with fat of the lambes, and fat of the rammes, and he goats, with the fat of the plenteous wheat, and that thou mightest drinke the most pure blood of the grape.

15 But he that was byright, when he wared fat, turned with his heele: Thou art well fed, thou art growen thicke, thou art laden with fatnesse: And hee forsooke God his maker, and regarded not the God of his saluation.

16 They prouoked him to anger with strange gods, with abominations prouoked they him.

17 They offered vnto deuils, and not to God: to gods whom they knew not, to new gods that came newly vp, whom their fathers feared not.

18 Of God that begat thee thou art brutishfull, and hast forgotten God that made thee.

19 The Lord therefore saw it, and was angry: because of the prouoking of his sonnes and his daughters.

20 And hee sayde, I will hide my face from them, and will see what their ende shall bee: For they are a berie forward generation, children in whom is no faith.

21 They haue angered me with that which is no god, and prouoked mee with their banities: And I also will prouoke them with those which are no people, I will anger them with a foolish nation.

22 For fire is kindled in my wrath, and burneth vnto the bottome of hell, and hath consumed the earth with her increase, and set afire the bottomes of the mountaines.

23 I will heape mischiefes vpon them, and will destroy them with mine arrowes.

24 They shall be burnt with hunger, and consumed with heat, and with bitter destruction: I will also send the teeth of beastes vpon them, with the furiousnesse of serpents in the dust.

25 Outwardly shall the sword robbe them of their children, and in the chamber feare, both yong men, and yong women, and the sucklings, with the men of gray heads.

26 I haue sayde, I will scatter them abroad, and make the remembrance of them to cease from among men:

27 Were it not that I feared the wrath of the enemy, lest their aduersaries should wax proud, and lest they should say, Our hie hand hath done all this, and not the Lord.

28 For it is a nation void of counsell, neither is there any vnderstanding in them.

29 That they were wise, & vnderstood this, that they would consider their latter end.

30 How should one chase a thousand, and two put ten thousand to flight, except their maker had solde them, and except the Lord had shut them vp?

31 For their god is not as our God: our enemies also themselves are iudges.

32 For their vine is of the vineyard of Sodom, and of the fields of Gomorra: their grapes are grapes of gall, and their clusters be bitter.

33 Their wine is the poison of dragons, and the cruell gall of alpes.

34 Is not this layd in store with me, and sealed by among my treasures?

35 Vengeance is mine, and I will reward, their feet shall slide in due time: for the day of their destruction is at hand, and the things that shall come vpon them, make haste.

36 For the Lorde shall iudge his people, and haue compassion on his seruants, when he seeth that their power is gone, and that they bee in a maner shut vp, or brought to nought and forsaken.

37 And when it shall be sayd, where are their gods, their god in whom they trusted?

38 The fat of whose sacrifices they did eate, and dranke the wine of their drinke offerings: let them rise vp, and helpe you, and be your protection.

39 See now, how that I, I am God, & there is none but I: I kill, and will make aliuie: I wound, and wil heale: neither is there any that can deliuer out of my hand.

40 For I will lift vp my hand to heauen, and will say, I liue for euer.

41 If I whet the edge of my sword, and mine hand take holde to doe iustice, I will recompense vengeance on mine enemies, and will reward them that hate me.

42 I will make mine arrowes drunke with blood, and my sword shall deuoure flesh, and that for the blood of the slaine, and for their captiuitie, since the captiuitie of the wrath of the enemy.

43 Ye nations praise his people, for he will auenge the blood of his seruants, & will auenge him of his aduersaries, and will be mercifull vnto his land, and to his people.

The xxxiiij. Chapter.

29 There is no god like vnto the God of Israel. 29 Nor any people like vnto his.

His is the blessing wherewith Moses the man of God blessed the children of Israel before his death, and sayd,

2 The Lord came from Sinai, and rose vp from Seir vnto them, and appeared from mount Pharan, and he came with ten thousand of saints, and in his right hand a law of fire for them.

3 And he loued the people, all his saints also are in thy hands: they sate downe at thy feet, to receiue thy words.

5 And hee was in Israel as king, when the heads of the people, & the tribes of Israel, were gathered together.

6 Let Ruben liue, and not die, and be few in number.

7 This is the blessing of Iuda, and he sayd, Heare Lord the voice of Iuda, and bring him vnto his people: his hands shall be good enough for him, if thou helpe him against his enemies.

8 And vnto Levi he sayd, * Right and light shall bee with thee, and with euery one that is godly in thee: thou diddest prouee him also in thee, thou diddest prouee him also in the temptation, and triuedst with him at the waters of strife.

9 He that hath sayd vnto his father and to his mother, (I haue not seene him) and he that knew not his brethren, nor knew his owne children: those are they that haue obserued thy word, and shall keepe thy covenant.

10 They shall teach * Jacob thy iudgements, and Israel thy law: they shall put incense to thy nose, and the whole burnt sacrifice vpon thine altar.

11 Blesse Lord his first fruits, and accept the worke of his handes, smite the loines of them that rise against him, and of them that hate him, that they rise not againe.

12 And of Benjamin he sayd, The beloued of the Lord shall dwell in safety by him, and the Lord shall couer him all the day long, and he shall dwell betweene his shoulders.

13 And of Joseph he sayd, Blessed of the Lord is his land for the fruits of heauen, through the dew and springs that lie beneath,

14 And for the sweet fruits of the increase of the sunne, and the ripe fruits of the moone:

15 For the first fruits of the principall mountaines, and for the fruits that the hilles bring forth for euer:

16 And for the fruits of the earth, and fullnesse thereof: and for the good will of him that dwelt in the bush, shall the blessing come vpon the head of Joseph, and vpon the top of the head of him that was separated from among his brethren.

17 His glory is like the first borne ore, and his hornes are as the hornes of an unicorn, & with them hee shall toss the nations together vnto the ends of the world: These are also ten thousands of Ephraim, and the thousands of Manasse.

18 And vnto Zabulon hee sayd, Reioyce Zabulon in thy going out, and thou Issachar in thy tents.

19 They shall call the people vnto the hill, and there they shall offer offerings of righteousness: for they shall sucke of the abundance of the sea, and of treasure hid in the land.

20 And vnto Gad he sayd, Blessed be he that enlarged Gad: hee dwelleth as a lion that catcheth for a pray the arme with the head.

21 Hee looked to himselfe at the beginning, because there was a portion of the lawgiuer hid, and hee came with the heads of the people, and executed the righteousness of the Lord, and his iudgements with Israel.

22 And vnto Dan hee sayd, Dan is a lions whelpe, he shall leape from Basan.

23 And vnto Rephthai hee sayd, O Rephthai satisfied with Gods saueur, and full with the blessing of the Lord, possesse thou the west and the South.

24 And to Aser hee sayd, Aser shall be blessed with children, hee shall be acceptable vnto his brethren, and shall dip his foot in oile.

25 Thy shoes shall be yron and brass, and thy strength shall continue as long as thou liuest.

26 There is none like vnto the God of Israel, which though he sit vpon the heauen, as vpon an horse, yet is hee thine helper, whose glory is in the celestiall places.

27 The eternall God is thy refuge, and vnder the armes of the cuerlasting God shalt thou liue: hee shall cast out the enemy before thee, and say, Destroy them.

28 Israel then shall dwell in safetie, and alone, and the fountaine of Jacob shall be vpon a lande of come and wine, and his haucens shall drop the dew.

29 Happy art thou, O Israel, who is like vnto thee, O people, thou art saued in the Lord, which is the shield of thy helpe, and sword of thy glory: thine enemies haue lost their strength to thee ward, and thou shalt tread vpon their high places.

The xxxiiij. Chapter.

1 Mofes feeth all the land of Chanaan, 5 hee dieth, 8 Israel weepeth. 9 Iofuah fucceedeth in Mofes roome. 10 The praife of Mofes.

And Mofes went from the plaine of Moab, by into the mountaine of Nebo, and vnto the top of the hill that is ouer againſt Jericho: and the Lord ſhewed him all the land of Gilead, vnto Dan:

2 And all Nephtali, and the land of Ephraim, and Manaffe, and all the land of Iuda, vnto the vtmoſt ſea:

3 And the South, and the plaine of the balicy of Jericho, the city of palme trees vnto Zoar.

4 And the Lord ſayd vnto him, This is the land which I ſware vnto Abraham, Iſaac and Iacob, ſaying, I will giue it vnto thy ſeed: I haue cauſed thee alſo to ſee it with thine eyes, but thou ſhalt not go ouer thither.

5 Mofes the ſeruant of the Lord died there in the lande of Moab, according to the word of the Lord.

6 And hee was buried in a balley in the land of Moab, ouer againſt the houſe of Peor: but no man knoweth of his ſepulchre vnto this day.

7 Mofes was an hundred and twenty yeres olde when he died: his eye was not dim, nor his naturall force abated.

8 And the children of Iſrael wept for Mofes in the plaine of Moab thirty dayes: and the dayes of weeping and mourning for Mofes were ended.

9 And Iofuah the ſonne of Nun was full of the ſpirit of wiſedome, for Mofes had put his hands vpon him, & the children of Iſrael were obedient vnto him, and did as the Lord commanded Mofes.

10 And there aroſe not a prophet ſince in Iſrael like vnto Mofes, whom the Lord knew face to face.

11 According vnto all the miracles and wonders which the Lord ſent him to doe in the land of Egypt befoze Pharao and all his ſeruants: and befoze all his land, 12 And according to all that mighty hand, and all the great feare which Mofes ſhewed in the ſight of all Iſrael.

The end of the fifth booke of Mofes, called in the Hebrew Elle haddebarim, and in the Latine Deuteronomium.

The Booke of Iofuah, vvhom the Hebrewes call Iehofua.

The firſt Chapter.

2 The Lord encourageth Iofuah to invade the land of promiſe. 5 The Lord promiſeth to aſſiſt Iofuah, if he obey his word. 11 Iofuah commandeth the people to prepare themſelues to paſſe ouer Iordan, 12 and exhortheth the Rubenites to execute their charge.

After the death of Mofes the ſeruant of the Lord, it came to paſſe, that the Lord ſpake vnto Iofuah the ſon of Nun, Mofes' miſtiſter, ſaying,

2 Mofes my ſeruant is dead: now therefore ariſe, goe ouer this Iordan, thou and all this people, vnto the land the which I to them the children of Iſrael do giue.

3 All the places that the ſoles of your feet ſhal tread vpon, haue I giuen you, as I ſayd vnto Mofes.

4 From the wilderneſſe and this Libanon, vnto the great riuer Euphrates, all the land of the Hethites, euen vnto the great ſea, toward the going downe of the ſunne, ſhalbe your coaſt.

5 There ſhall not a man be able to withſtand thee all the dayes of thy life: for as I was with Mofes, ſo will I be with thee, and wil not faile thee, nor forſake thee.

6 Bee ſtrong therefore and bolde: for vnto this people ſhalt thou diuide the land for inheritance, which I ſware vnto their fathers to giue them.

7 Onely be thou ſtrong, and of a ſtout courage, that thou mayeſt obſerue and doe according to all the lawe which Mofes my ſeruant commanded thee: turne from the ſame neither to the right hand nor to the left, that thou mayeſt do wiſely in all that thou takeſt in hand.

8 Let not the booke of this Law depart out of thy mouth, but occupy thy minde therein day and night, that thou mayeſt obſerue and doe according to all that is written therein: for then thou ſhalt make thy waye proſperous, and then thou ſhalt do wiſely.

9 Haue not I commanded thee, that thou ſhouldeſt be ſtrong and hardy, and not feare: nor be faint hearted? for I the Lord thy God am with thee, whithertoener thou goeſt.

12 And vnto the Rubenites, Gadites, and halfe the tribe of Manasses, spake Iosuah, saying,

16 And they answered Iosuah, saying, All that thou commandest vs, we will do, and whither soeuer thou sendest vs, we will go.

17 According as wee obeyed Moses in all things, so will we obey thee: onely the Lord thy God be with thee, as he was with Moses.

The ij. Chapter.

9 Rahab acknowledgeth the God of Israel to be the highest God.

And Iosuah the sonne of Nun, sent out of Sittim two men, to spie secretly, saying, Go, and view the land, and also Jericho. And they went, and came into an harlots house, named Rahab, and lodged there.

2 And it was tolde the king of Jericho, saying, Behold, there came men in hither to night, of the children of Israel, to spie out the country.

3 And the king of Jericho sent vnto Rahab, saying, Bring forth the men that are come to thee, and which are entred into thine house: for they be come to search out all the land.

4 And the woman tooke the two men, and hid them, and said thus, Indeed there came men vnto me, but I wist not whence they were.

5 And about the time of the shutting of the gate, when it was dark, the men went out, whither the men went, I wote not: follow ye after them quickly, for ye shall ouertake them.

6 But she had brought them vp to the rooffe of the house, and hid them with the stalks of flax which she had layng abroad vpon the rooffe.

7 And the men pursued after them the way to Jordan, vnto the fourds: and alsoone as they which pursued after them were gone out, they shut the gate.

8 And of euer they were alleepe, she came vp vnto them vpon the rooffe,

9 And sayd vnto the men, I know that the Lord hath giuen you the lande, for the feare of you is fallen vpon vs, and the inhabitants of the land faint at the presence of you:

10 For we haue heard how the Lord dried by the water of the red Sea before you, when you came out of Egypt, and what you did vnto the two kings of the Amozites that were on the other side of Jordan, Sehon and Og, whom pee utterly destroyed.

11 And alsoone as we had heard these things, our hearts did faint, & there remained no more courage in any man at the presence of you: for the Lord your God, he is the God in heauen above, and in earth beneath.

12 Now therefore, I pray you, sweare vnto me by the Lord, that as I haue shewed you mercy, pee shall also shewe mercy vnto my fathers house, and giue me a true token:

13 And that ye shall saue aliuie both my father and my mother, my brethren and my sisters, and all that they haue, and that ye shall deliuer our soules from death.

14 And the men answered her, Our liues for you to die, if pee btter not this our businesse. And when the Lord hath giuen vs the land, we will deale mercifully and truly with thee.

15 And then shee let them downe by a coard thow a window: for her house was vpon the towne wal, and she dwelt vpon the towne wall.

16 And shee sayd vnto them, Get you into the mountain, lest the pursuers meet you, and hide your selues there thre dayes, vntill the pursuers be returned, & then shall ye go your owne way.

17 And the men sayd vnto her, Wee will be blamelesse of this thy oth which thou hast made vs swear:

18 Behold, when we come into the land, thou shalt bind this coard of red threed in the window which thou diddest let vs downe by: and thou shalt bring thy father and thy mother, thy brethren, and all thy fathers householde, into thine house.

19 And then whosoever doeth goe out at the doozes of thy house into the street, his blood shall be vpon his owne head, and we wil be guiltlesse: and whosoever shall bee with thee in the house, his blood shall be on our head, if any mans hand touch him.

20 And if thou btter these our wordes, we will be quit of thy oth which thou hast made vs to swear.

21 And she sayd, According vnto your wordes, so be it. And she sent them away, they departed: and she bound the red coard in the window.

22 And they departed, and came into the mountaine, and there abode thre dayes, vntill the pursuers were returned: And the pursuers sought them thowout all the way, but found them not.

23 And the two men returned, and descended from the mountaine, and passed ouer, and came to Iosuah the sonne of Nun, and tolde him all that came vnto them.

24 And they sayde vnto Iosuah, Truly the Lord hath deliuered into our hands all the land, and all the inhabitants of the countrey faint at the presence of vs.

And Josuah rose early, and they removed from Sittim, and came to Jordan, he and all the children of Israel : and lodged there before they went over.

2 And after three dayes, the officers went thorowout the host,

3 And commanded the people, saying, when ye see the Arke of the covenant of the Lord your God, and the priests that are Levites bearing it, ye shall depart from your place, and go after it.

4 So yet that there shalbe a space betweene you and it, about <sup>c</sup>two thousand cubits by measure : and ye shall not come nigh vnto it, that ye may know the way by which ye must goe : for ye haue not gone this way in times past.

5 And Josuah said vnto the people, Sanctifie your selues : for to morow the Lord shall doe wonders among you.

6 And Josuah spake vnto the Priests, saying, Take vp the Arke of the covenant, and go ouer before the people. And theyooke vp the arke of the covenant, and went before the people.

7 And the Lord said vnto Josuah, This day will I begin to magnifie thee in the sight of all Israel, that they may know how that as I was with Moses, so will I be with thee.

8 And thou shalt command the Priests that beare the Arke of the covenant, saying, when ye are come to the edge of the waters of Jordan, ye shall stand still in Jordan.

9 And Josuah sayd vnto the children of Israel, Come hither, and heare the words of the Lord your God.

10 And Josuah sayd, <sup>d</sup>Hereby ye shall know that the liuing God is among you, and that hee will without faile cast out before you the Chanaanites, and the Hethites, the Heuites, the Pherezites, the Gergesites, the Amozites, and the Jebusites.

11 Beholde, the Arke of the covenant of the Lord of all the world, goeth before you into Jordan.

12 Nowe therefore, take from among you <sup>e</sup>twelue men out of the tribes of Israel, out of euery tribe a man.

13 And alsoone as the soles of the feet of the priests, that beare the Arke of the Lord the gouernour of all the world, tread in the waters of Jordan, the waters of Jordan shall be diuided : and the waters that come from above, shall stand still vpon an heape.

14 And so when the people were departed from their tents to goe ouer Jordan, the Priests bearing the Arke of the <sup>f</sup>covenant, went before the people.

15 And alsoone as they that bare the Arke, came vnto Jordan, and the feet of the Priests that bare the Arke, were dipped in the brymme of the water (for Jordan blyeth to fill all his <sup>g</sup>banks all the time of haruest.)

16 The waters also that came downe from above, did rise vp vpon an heape, and departed far from the citie of Adam, that was beside Zarchan: and the waters that were beneath toward the sea of the wilderness, euen the salt sea, failed, and were cut off: and the people went right ouer against Jericho.

17 And the Priests that bare the Arke of the covenant of the Lord, stood drie within Jordan, ready <sup>h</sup>prepared, and all the Israelites went o-

The iij. Chapter.

1 Twelue stones out of the chanel be erected for a signe of the drying of Iordan.

And so when the people were all gone ouer Jordan, the Lorde spake vnto Josuah, saying,

2 Take you twelue men out of the people, out of euery tribe a man :

3 And command you them, saying, Take you hence out of the mids of Jordan, out of the place where the Priests feet stood in a readines, twelue stones, which ye shall take away with you, and leaue them in the lodging where you shall lodge this night.

4 Then Josuah called the twelue men, whom he had prepared of the children of Israel, out of euery tribe a man :

5 And Josuah sayd vnto them, Set you before the Arke of the Lord your God, thorow the mids of Jordan, and take vp euery man of you a stone vpon his shoulder, according vnto the number of the tribes of the children of Israel :

6 That this may be a signe among you, that when your <sup>i</sup>children aske their fathers in time to come, saying, what meane these stones with you?

7 Ye may answer them how that the waters of Jordan were diuided at the presence of the Arke of the covenant of the Lord, (for when it went ouer Jordan, the waters of Jordan were diuided) and these stones are become a memoriall vnto the children of Israel for euer.

8 And the children of Israel did euen so as Josuah commanded, & tooke vp twelue stones out of the mids of Jordan as the Lord sayd vnto Josuah, according to the number of the tribes of the children of Israel, and caried them away with them vnto the place where they lodged, and layed them downe there.

9 And Josuah set vp twelue stones in the middes of Jordan, in the place where the feet of the Priests which bare the arke of the testament stood : and there haue they continued vnto this day.

10 For the Priests which bare the Arke stood in the middes of Jordan, vntill all was finished that the Lorde commanded Josuah to say vnto the people, according to all that Moses charged Josuah : And the people halted, and went ouer.

11 And when all the people were cleane passed ouer, the Arke of the Lorde went ouer also, and the Priests <sup>j</sup>before the people.

12 And the children of Ruben, and the children of Gad, and halfe the tribe of Manasses, went before the children of Israel armed, as Moses charged them.

13 Euen forty thousand prepared for warre, went before the <sup>k</sup>Lord vnto battell, thzough the plaine of Jericho.

14 That day the Lorde magnified Josuah in the sight of all Israel, and they feared him, as they feared Moses all the dayes of his life.

15 And the Lord spake vnto Josuah, saying,

16 Command the Priests that beare the Arke of the testimonie, to come vp out of Jordan.

17 Josuah therefore commanded the Priests, saying, Come ye vp out of Jordan.

19 And the people came by out of Jordan the tenth day of the first moneth, and pitched in Gilgal, in the East border of the cite Jericho.

20 And the twelue stones which they tooke out of Jordan, did Iosuah pitch in Gilgal.

21 And hee spake vnto the children of Israel, saying, If your children aske their fathers in time to come, and say, what meane these stones?

22 Ye shall shew your children, and say, Israell came ouer this Jordan on dry land.

23 For the Lorde your God dried by the waters of Jordan before you, vntill ye were gone ouer, as the Lord your God did the red sea, which he dried by before vs, till we were gone ouer:

24 That all the people of the world may know the hand of the Lord how mightie it is, & that ye might feare the Lord your God for euer.

The v. Chapter.

2 Of the second circumcision vnder Iosuah, and wherefore it was. 12 Manna faileth, and becometh scarce.

And when all the kings of the Amorites which are beyond Jordan well ward, and all the kings of the Chanaanites which were by the sea, heard how the Lord had dried by the waters of Jordane before the children of Israel, vntill they were gone ouer, their hearts fainted for feare, and there was no spirit in them any more, for the presence of the children of Israel.

2 That same time the Lord sayd vnto Iosuah, Make thee sharpe kniues, and go to again, and circumcise the children of Israel the second time.

3 And Iosuah made him sharpe kniues, and circumcised the children of Israel in the hill of the foreskinnes.

4 And this is the cause why Iosuah circumcised all the people, euen the males that came out of Egypt: because that all the men of warre died in the wilderness by the way, after they came out of Egypt.

5 For all the people that came out, were circumcised: but all the people that were borne in the wilderness by the way, after they came out of Egypt, were not circumcised.

6 For the children of Israel walked fourtie yers in the wilderness, till all the people of the men of warre that came out of Egypt were consumed, because they hearkened not vnto the voice of the Lord: vnto whom the Lord sware that he would not shew them the land which the Lord sware vnto their fathers that hee would giue vs, euen a lande that floweth with milke and honie.

7 And their children, whom he set by in their stead, then Iosuah circumcised, for they were vncircumcised: because they circumcised them not by the way.

8 And when they had circumcised all the people, they abode in their places in the campe, till they were whole.

9 And the Lord said vnto Iosuah, This day

haue I taken away the name of Egypt from you: wherfore the name of the same place is called Gilgal, vnto this day.

10 And the children of Israel abode in Gilgal, and held the feast of Passouer, the fourteenth day of the first moneth at euen, in the plaine of Jericho.

11 And they did eat of the corne of the land on the morow after the Passouer, sweet cakes, and parched corne, in the selfsame day.

12 For the Manna ceased on the morow after they had begunne to eat of the corne of the land, neither had the children of Israel Manna any more, but did eat of the fruit of the land of Chanaan that yere.

13 And when Iosuah was nigh to Jericho, he lift by his eyes, and looked: and behold, there stood a man against him, having a sword drawn in his hand: and Iosuah went vnto him, and sayd vnto him, Art thou on our side, or on our aduersaries?

14 And he sayd, Nay, but as a captaine of the host of the Lord am I now come. And Iosuah fel on his face to the earth, and did worship, and sayde vnto him, What sayth my Lord vnto his seruant?

15 And the captaine of the Lords hoste sayde vnto Iosuah, Doe thy shoe off thy foote, for the place whereon thou standest, is holy. And Iosuah did so.

The vj. Chapter.

1 God giueth the cite of Jericho vnto Iosuah. 20 Jericho is taken. 22 Rahab is saued. 26 The builder againe of Jericho is cursed.

And Jericho was shut by and closed, because of the children of Israel, neither might any man goe out or in.

2 And the Lord sayd vnto Iosuah, Beholde, I haue giuen into thine hande Jericho, and the king thereof, & the strong men of warre.

3 And ye shall compasse all the cite, all ye that be men of warre, & go round about it once: and so shall you doe sixe dayes.

4 And seven Priests shall beare before the arke seven trumpets of rammes hornes: and the seuenth day ye shall compasse the cite seven times, and the Priests shall blowe with their trumpets.

5 And when they make a long blast with the rammes horn, and ye heare the sound of the hoze, all the people shall shout with a great shout: and then shall the wall of the cite fall downe, and the people shall ascend by euery man strait before him.

6 And Iosuah the sonne of Nuni called the Priests, and sayd vnto them, Take by the arke of the covenant, and let seven Priests beare seven trumpets of rammes hornes before the arke of the Lord.

7 And he said vnto the people, Go and compasse the cite, and let him that is harnesssed goe before the arke of the Lord.

8 And when Iosuah had spoken vnto the people, the seven Priests bare the seven trumpets of rammes hornes, and went forth before the arke of the Lord, and blew with the trumpets: and the arke of the covenant of the Lorde followed them.

9 And the men of armes went befoze the priests that blew with the trumpets : and the gathering hoste came after the Arke as they went, and blew with trumpets.

10 And Josuah had commanded the people, saying, See shall not shout, nor make any noise with your voice, neither shall any word procede out of your mouth, untill the day I bidde you shout, then shall ye shout.

11 And so the Arke of the Lord compassed the city, and went about it once : and they returned into the host, and lodged there.

12 And Josuah rose early in the morning, and the Priests tooke by the arke of the Lord.

13 And seven Priests bare seven trumpets of rammes hornes, and went befoze the Arke of the Lord, and going, blew with the trumpets : and the men of armes went befoze them, but the gathering hoste came after the arke of the Lord, which went befoze with the blowing of the trumpets.

14 And the second day they compassed the city once, and returned againe into the hoste : and so they did five dayes.

15 And when the seventh day came, they rose early with the dawning of the day, and compassed the citie after the same maner seven times : onely that day they compassed the city seven times.

16 And at the seventh time, when the priests blew with the trumpets, Josuah sayd vnto the people, Shout, for the Lord hath giuen you the citie.

17 And the citie shalbe accursed, and all that are therein, vnto the Lorde : onely Rahab the harlot shall liue, and all that are with her in the house, because she hidde the messengers that we sent.

18 And in any wise be ye ware of the accursed things, lest ye make your selues accursed, & take of the accursed things, and make the host of Israel accursed, and trouble it.

19 But all the siluer, golde, vessels of brasse and yron, shall be consecrated vnto the Lorde, and all shall come into his treasure.

20 And the people shouted & blew with trumpets: and when the people heard the sound of the trumpet, they shouted with a great shout, and the wall fell downe flat, so that the people went by into the citie, euery man straight befoze him, and tooke the citie.

21 And they utterly destroyed all that was in the citie, both man and woman, yong and olde, ore, sheepe, and asse, with the edge of the sword.

22 But Josuah had sayde vnto the two men that had spied out the country, Go into the harlots house, and bring out thence the woman and all that she hath, as I sware vnto her.

23 And the yong man that were spies, went in, and brought out Rahab, and her father, and mother, and her brethren, and all that she had : and they brought out all her kindred, & put them without the host of Israel.

24 And they burnt the citie with fire, and all that was therein : onely the siluer and the golde, the vessels of brasse and yron, they put into the treasury of the house of the Lord.

25 And Josuah saued Rahab the harlot, and her fathers householde, and all that shee had : and she dwelt in Israel euen vnto this day, because she hid the messengers which Josuah sent to spie out Jericho.

26 * And Josuah sware at that time, saying, Cursed bee the man before the Lord, that riseth by a buildeth this citie Jericho : he shall lay the foundation thereof in his eldest sonne, and in his yongest sonne shall he set by the gates of it.

27 And so the Lorde was with Josuah, and his fame was noised throughout all lands.

Achan vsurpeth of the Church iewels. 2 Ai is searched. 21 What things Achan had conueyed of those which ought to haue bene burnt.

But yet the children of Israel trespassed in the cursed thing : for Achan the sonne of Charmi, the son of Zabdi, the sonne of Zarech, of the tribe of Iuda, tooke of the cursed thing : and the wrath of the Lord waxed hote against the children of Israel.

2 And Josuah sent men from Jericho to Ai, which is beside Bethauen, on the East side of Bethel, and spake vnto them, saying, Get you by, and view the country. And the men went by, and viewed Ai.

3 And returned to Josuah, and sayde vnto him, Let not all the people goe by : but let as it were two or thzee thousand men goe by, & smite Ai : and make not all the people to labor thither, for they are but few.

4 And so there went by thither of the people about thzee thousand men, and they fled befoze the men of Ai.

5 And the men of Ai smote of them vpon thirty and sixe men : for they chased them from befoze the gate, euen vnto Sebarim, and smote them in the going downe : wherefoze the hearts of the people for feare melted away like water.

6 And Josuah rent his clothes, & fell to the earth vpon his face, befoze the Arke of the Lord, vntill the euentide, he and the Elders of Israel, and put earth vpon their heads.

7 And Josuah sayd, Alas, O Lorde God, wherefoze hast thou brought this people ouer Jordan, to deliuer vs into the hand of the Amorites, & to destroy vs? would to God we had bene content, and dwelt on the other side Jordan.

8 Oh Lord, what shall I say, when Israel turneth their backs befoze their enemies?

9 Surely the Chanaanites, and all the inhabitants of the land, shall heare of it, and shall conspire against vs, and destroy the name of vs, out of the earth : and what wilt thou doe vnto thy mighty Name?

10 And the Lord sayd vnto Josuah, Get thee by, wherefoze liest thou thus vpon thy face?

11 Israel hath sinned, and they haue transgressed my covenant which I commanded them : for they haue taken of the cursed things, & haue also sollen, and dissembled also, and put them vnto their owne stuffe.

12 And therefore is it that the children of Israel cannot stand befoze their enemies, but shall turne their backs befoze their enemies, because they be accursed : neither will I be with you any more, except ye destroy the accursed from among you.

15 And hee that is found with the accursed thing, shall be burnt with fire, he, and all that he hath, because he hath transgressed the covenant of the Lord, and wrought folly in Israel.

16 And so Iosuah rose by early in the morning, and brought Israel by their tribes, and the tribe of Iuda was caught.

17 And he brought the kindreds of Iuda, and tooke the kindred of the Zarehites: & he brought the kindred of the Zarehites, man by man, and Zabdi was caught.

18 And he brought his household, man by man, and Achan the sonne of Charni, the sonne of Zabdi, the sonne of Zared, of the tribe of Iuda, was caught.

19 And Iosuah sayd vnto Achan, My sonne, I beseech thee give glory to the Lord God of Israel, and make confession vnto him, and shew me what thou hast done, hide it not from me.

20 And Achan answered Iosuah, and sayd, Ofa truth I haue sinned against the Lord God of Israel, and thus and thus haue I done.

21 I saw among the spoiles, a goodly Babylonish garment, and two hundred sicles of silver, and a tongue of gold of fifty sicles weight, and I coveted them, and tooke them, and beholde, they lie hid in the earth in the middes of my tent, and the silver is thereunder.

22 And so Iosuah sent messengers, which when they ran vnto his tent, beholde, they were hid in his tent, and the silver thereunder.

23 Therefore they tooke them out of the midd of his tent, and brought them vnto Iosuah, and vnto all the children of Israel, and layed them out before the Lord.

24 And Iosuah tooke Achan the sonne of Zarech, and the silver, and the garment, and the tongue of gold, and his sonnes, and his daughters, and his oxen, and his asses, his sheepe, his tent, and all that he had, & all Israel with him, brought them vnto the valley of Achor.

25 And Iosuah sayde, In as much as thou hast troubled vs, the Lord shall trouble thee this day. And all Israel stoned him with stones, and burned them with fire, and ouerwhelmed them with stones.

26 And they cast vpon him a great heape of stones vnto this day: and so the Lorde turned from the wrath of his indignation. And the name of the place is called, The valley of Achor vnto this day.

The viij. Chapter.

3 The siege, 19 and winning of Ai. 29 The King thereof is hanged, 30 Iosuah setteth vp an Altar. 32 He writeth the Law vpon stones, 35 and readeth it to all the people.

And the Lorde sayde vnto Iosuah, feare not, neither bee thou faint hearted: take all the men of warre with thee, and by, and get thee to Ai: Beholde, I haue giuen into thy hand the king of Ai, and his people, his citie, and his land:

2 And thou shalt doe to Ai and her king, as thou diddest vnto Jericho and her king: Neuertheless, the spoile and cattel thereof shall ye take vnto your felues: * thou shalt lie in wait against the citie, on the backside thereof.

3 And so Iosuah arose, and all the men of warre, to goe by against Ai: and Iosuah chose out thirtie thousand strong men, and baliant, and sent them away by night:

4 And he commanded them, saying, Behold, ye shall lie in wait against the towne, on the backside thereof: goe not very farre from the citie, but be all ready:

5 And I, and all the people that are with me, will approach vnto the city: And when they come out against vs, as they did at the first time, then will we flee before them:

6 For they will come out after vs, till wee haue brought them out of the city, for they will say, They flee before vs as at the first time: and we will flee before them.

7 In the meane time shall ye rise vp from lying in wait, and destroy the citie: for the Lord your God will deliuer it into your hand.

8 And when ye haue taken the citie, ye shall set it on fire: according to the commandement of the Lord shall ye do. Behold, I haue charged you.

9 Iosuah therefore sent them forth, and they went to lie in wait, and abode betweene Bethel and Ai, on the west side of the citie of Ai: but Iosuah lodged that night among the people.

10 And Iosuah rose by early in the morning, and numbrized the people, and went by, he, and the Elders of Israel, before the people, against Ai.

11 And all the men of warre that were with him, went by, and drew nigh, and came against the city, and pitched on the North side of Ai: and there was a balley betweene them and Ai.

12 And hee tooke vpon a sune thousand men, and set them to lie in wait, betweene Bethel and Ai, on the west side of the citie.

13 And the people set all the host that was on the North side, against the citie, and the liers in wait on the west, against the citie: and Iosuah walked the same night in the middes of the balley.

14 And when the king of Ai sawe it, they hastened, and rose by early, and the men of the citie went out against Israel to battell, hee, and all his people, at a time appointed, euen before the plain, and wist not that there were liers in wait against him on the backside of the city.

15 And Iosuah and all Israel, as beaten before them, fled by the way of the wilderness.

16 And all the people of the towne were called together to follow after them: and they followed after Iosuah, and were drawn away from the citie.

17 And there was not a man left in Ai and in Bethel, that went not out after Israel: and they left the citie open, and followed after Israel.

18 And the Lord said vnto Iosuah, Stretch out the speare that is in thine hand, toward Ai, for I will giue it into thine hand. And Iosuah stretched out the speare that he had in his hand, toward the citie:

19 And the liers in waite arose quickly out of their place, and ranne as soone as Iosuah had stretched out his hand: and they entred into the citie, and tooke it, and halsted, and set the citie on fire.

20 And when the men of Ai looked behinde them, they saw the smothe of the citie ascend by to heauen, and they had no place to flee, either this way or that: and the people that fled to the wilderness, turned backe againe vpon the lowwers.

21 And when Iosuah and all Israel saw that the liers in waite had taken the citie, and that the smoke of it ascended, they turned againe, and slew the men of Ai.

22 And the other issued out of the city against them, and so were they in the middelt of Israel: for these were on the one side of them, and the rest on the other side, and they laid vpon them, so that they let none of them escape nor remaine.

23 And the king of Ai they tooke aliue, and brought him to Iosuah.

24 And when Israel had made an ende of slaying all the inhabitants of Ai, in the helde of the wilderness where they chased them, and when they were all fallen on the edge of the sword, vntill they were wasted, all the Israelites returned vnto Ai, and smote it with the edge of the sword.

25 And all that fell that day, both of men and women, were twelue thousand, euen all the men of Ai.

26 For Iosuah plucked not his hande backe againe, which he stretched out vpon the spear, vntill he had utterly destroyed all the inhabitants of Ai.

27 Onely the cattell, and the spoile of the citie, Israel tooke vnto themselves, according vnto the word of the Lord, which he commanded Iosuah.

28 And Iosuah set Ai on fire, and made it an heape for euer, and a wilderness vnto this day.

29 And the king of Ai he hanged on a tree vntill euen: and as soone as the sunne was down, Iosuah commaunded that they should take the carkeise downe off the tree, and cast it at the entring of the gate of the citie, and lay thereon a great heape of stones that remaineth vnto this day.

30 Then Iosuah built an altar vnto the Lord God of Israel in mount Ebal.

31 As Moses the seruant of the Lorde commaunded the children of Israel, and as it is written in the booke of the law of Moses, an altar of whole stones, ouer which no man hath lift by an yron: and they sacrificed thereon whole burnt sacrifices vnto the Lord, and offered peace offerings.

32 And he wrote there vpon the stones a rehearfall of the law of Moses, and wrote it in the presence of the children of Israel.

33 And all Israel, and the elders thereof, and their officers, and Judges, stood part on this side the arke, and part on that side, before the Priests that were Leuites, which bare the arke of the couenant of the Lord, as well the stranger, as they that were borne among them: halfe of them ouer against Mount Garizim, and halfe of them ouer against mount Ebal, as Moses the seruant of the Lord had commanded before, that he should blesse the people of Israel.

34 Afterward he read all the wordes of the law, the blessings and cursings, according to all that is written in the booke of the law.

35 And there was not one worde of all that Moses commanded, which Iosuah read not before all the congregation of Israel, as well the women and children, as the strangers that were conuertant among them.

2 They gathered themselves together to fight against Iosuah, and against Israel, with one accord.

3 And the inhabitants of Gibeon heard what Iosuah had done vnto Jericho, and to Ai.

4 And they did worke wisly, and went and made themselves embassadours, and tooke olde sakes vpon their asses, and wine bottels olde, both rent and bound by:

5 And old clothed shoes vpon their feet, and their raiment was olde: and all their provision of bread was dried by, and hoared.

6 And they came vnto Iosuah into the hoste to Bēgal, and said vnto him, and to all the men of Israel, we be come from a farre countrey: and now make ye agreement with vs.

7 And the men of Israel said vnto the Heuite, It may be thou dwellest among vs, & then how can I make peace with thee?

8 And they said vnto Iosuah, wec are thy seruants. And Iosuah said vnto them againe, what are ye, and wherice come ye?

16 But at the ende of three dayes, after they had made a league with them, they heard that they were their neighbors, and that they dwelt among them.

17 And the children of Israel tooke their journey, and came vnto their cities the third day: and their cities were Gibeon, and Caphira, Beroth, and Kiriath-iarim.

18 And the children of Israel slew them not, because the Princes of the Congregation had sworn vnto them by the Lorde God of Israel: And all the multitude murmured against the princes.

19 But all the princes sayde vnto all the congregation, wee haue sworn vnto them by the Lord God of Israel: and therefore we may not hurt them.

20 But this we will doe to them, we will let them liue, leaſt wrath be vpon vs, because of the othe which we swore vnto them.

21 And the princes sayde vnto them againe, Let them liue, and hew wood, and draw water vnto all the Congregation, and they did as the princes sayd vnto them.

22 And Iofuah called for them, and talked with them, and sayd, wherfore haue ye beguiled vs, saying, wee dwell farre from you, when ye dwell among vs?

23 And now are ye cursed, and there shall not cease to bee of you bonomen, and hewers of wood, and drawers of water, for the house of my God.

24 And they answered Iofuah, and sayde, It was tolde thy seruants how that the Lorde thy God commaunded his seruant Moſes to giue you all the lande, and to destroy all the inhabitants thereof out of your sight, and therefore we were exceedinge ſore afrayde for our liues at the preſence of you, and haue done this thing.

26 And euen ſo did hee vnto them, and ridde them out of the hand of the children of Israel, that they ſlew them not.

27 And Iofuah made them that ſame day hewers of wood, and drawers of water for the congregation, and for the altar of God vnto this day, in the place which he ſhould chooſe.

The x. Chapter.

1 Five kings make warre againſt Gibeon, whome Iofuah diſcomfitedh. 12 The ſunne ſtandeth ſtill at Iofuahs prayer. 26 The ſuekinges are hanged.

NOW when Adonizedec king of Hieruſalem, had heard howe Iofuah had taken <sup>A</sup> Ai, and had deſtroyed it (and howe that as he done to Jericho and her king, euen ſo he had done to <sup>A</sup> Ai and her king) and howe the inhabitants of Gibeon had made peace with Israel, and were among them,

2 They feared exceedingly, for Gibeon was a great city, as any cite of the kingdome, and was greater then Ai, and all the men thereof were very mightie.

3 Wherfore Adonizedec king of Hieruſalem, ſent vnto Hoham king of Hebron, and vnto Piria king of Jarmuth, and vnto Iabbia king of Lachis, and vnto Dabir king of Eglon, ſaying,

4 Come by vnto me, and helpe me, that we may ſmite Gibeon: for they haue made peace with Iofuah, and with the children of Israel.

5 Therefore the ſue kings of the Amozites, the king of Hieruſalem, the king of Hebron, the king of Jarmuth, the king of Lachis, and the king of Eglon, gathered themſelues together, and went by, they with all their hoſtes, and beſieged Gibeon, and made warre againſt it.

6 And the men of Gibeon ſent vnto Iofuah to the hoſte in Gilgal, ſaying, withdraw not thy hand from thy ſeruants, come by to vs quickely, and ſaue vs, and help vs: for all the kings of the Amozites which dwell in the mountaynes, are gathered together againſt vs.

7 And ſo Iofuah aſcended from Gilgal, hee, and all the people of warre with him, and all the men of might.

8 And the Lorde ſaide vnto Iofuah, feare them not: for I haue deliuered them into thine hand, neither ſhall any of them ſtand againſt thee.

9 Iofuah therfore came vnto them ſuddenly, and went by from Gilgal all night.

10 And the Lorde troubled them before Israel, and ſlew them with a great ſlaughter at Gibeon, and chaſed them along the way that goeth by to Bethoron, and ſmote them to Azekah and Bakeda.

11 And as they fledde from before Israel, and were in the going downe to Bethoron, the Lorde caſt downe great ſtones from heauen vpon them vntill Azekah, and they dyed: there were moe dead with haile ſtones, then they were whome the children of Israel ſewe with the ſword.

12 Then ſpake Iofuah to the Lorde, in the day when the Lorde deliuered the Amozites before the children of Israel, and he ſayd in the ſight of Israel, <sup>S</sup> Sunne, ſtand thou ſtill vpon Gibeon, and thou <sup>M</sup> Moone in the balley of Aialon.

13 And the Sunne abode, and the Moone ſtood ſtill, vntill the people had auenged themſelues vpon their enemies. Is not this written in the booke of the righteous? So the Sunne abode in the middell of heauen, and halted not to goc downe by the ſpace of a whole day.

14 And there was no day like that before it, or after it, that the Lorde heard the voice of a man: for the Lorde fought for Israel.

15 And Iofuah returned, and all Israel with him, vnto the campe to Gilgal.

16 But the ſue kings fledde, and were hid in a caue at Bakeda, 17 And it was told Iofuah, ſaying, The ſue kings are found hidde in a caue, which is at Bakeda.

18 And Iofuah ſayde, Houle great ſtones by on the mouth of the caue, and ſet men by it, for to keepe it:

19 And ſtand ye not ſtill, but follow after your enemies, and ſmite all the hindmoſt, and ſuffer them not to enter into their cities: for the Lorde your God hath deliuered them into your hand.

20 And when Iofuah and the children of Israel had made an end of ſlaying them with an exceeding great ſlaughter, til they were waſhed:

22 Then sayde Iosuah, Open the mouth of the caue, and bying out those five kings vnto me out of the caue.

23 And they did so, and brought those five kings vnto him out of the caue, euen the king of Hierusalem, the king of Hebron, the king of Jarmuth, the king of Lachis, & the king of Eglon.

24 And when they brought out those five kings vnto Iosuah, Iosuah called for all the men of Israel, and sayde vnto the chiefe of the men of warre which went with him, Come neere, & put your feete vpon the necks of these kings. And they came neere, and put their feete vpon the neckes of them.

25 And Iosuah sayd vnto them, Ye shall not feare, nor bee faint hearted, but be strong, and plucke bp your hearts: for thus shall the Lorde doe to all your enemies against whom ye fight.

26 And then Iosuah smote them, and slewe them, and hanged them on flue trees: and they hanged still vpon the trees, vntill the euening.

27 And at the going downe of the sunne, Iosuah gaue commandement, and they tooke them downe off the trees, and cast them into the caue wherein they had bene hid, & laid great stones in the caues mouth which remaine vntill this day.

28 And that same day, Iosuah tooke Maheda, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and the king thereof also destroyed hee bitterly, with all the soules that were therein, and let none remaine: and hee did to the king of Maheda as he did vnto the king of Jericho.

29 Then Iosuah went from Maheda, and all Israel with him, vnto Libna, and fought against Libna.

30 And the Lorde deliuered it and the king thereof, into the hand of Israel: and he smote it with the edge of the sword, and all the soules that were therein: he let none remaine in it, but did vnto the king thereof, as he did vnto the king of Jericho.

31 And Iosuah departed from Libna, and all Israel with him, vnto Lachis, and besieged it, and assaulted it.

32 And the Lorde deliuered Lachis into the hand of Israel, which tooke it the second day, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and all the soules that were therein, doing according to all as he had done to the cite of Libna.

33 Then Hoiam king of Geter, came bp to helpe Lachis: and Iosuah smote him and his people, vntill none remained of him.

34 And from Lachis, Iosuah departed vnto Eglon, and all Israel with him, and they besieged it, and assaulted it.

35 And tooke it the same day, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and all the soules that were therein, hee bitterly destroyed the same day, according to all that he had done to Lachis.

36 And Iosuah departed by from Eglon, and all Israel with him, vnto Hebron, and they fought against it.

37 And when they had taken it, they smote it with the edge of the sword, and the king thereof, and all the towines that pertained to it, and all the soules that were therein, and he left none remaining, but did according to all as he had done to Eglon, and destroyed it bitterly, and all the soules that were therein.

38 And Iosuah returned, and all Israel with him to Dabir, and fought against it.

39 And when hee had taken it, and the king thereof, and all the towines that pertained thereto, they smote them with the edge of the sword, and bitterly destroyed all the soules that were therein, neither let he any remaine: euen as hee did to Hebron, so hee did to Dabir, & to the king thereof, as he had done also to Libna, & her king.

40 Iosuah therefore smote all the hill countreys, and the South countreys, & the balleyes, and the downes, and all their kings, and let none remaine of them, but bitterly destroyed all that breathed, as the Lord God of Israel commanded.

41 And Iosuah smote them from Cades Barnea, vnto Ash, and all the countrey of Gosen, euen vnto Gibeon.

42 And all these kings and their land did Iosuah take at one time: because the Lord God of Israel fought for Israel.

43 And Iosuah and all Israel returned vnto the hoste that was in Gilgal.

The xj. Chapter.

1 Certaine Kings are gathered against Iosuah. 6 God deliuereth al the kings vnto Iosuah, which had conspired against him.

AN when Iabin king of Hazor had heard those things, he sent to Jobab king of Madon, and to the king of Simron, and to the king of Achlaph,

3 And vnto the Chanaanites both by East and West, & vnto the Amozites, Bethites, Perezites, and Jebusites in the mountaines, and vnto the Heuites that were vnder Hermon in the land of Misphah,

4 And they came out, and all their hostes with them, a multitude of folke, euen as the sand that is vpon the sea thore, in a great number, with hoxles and charets exceeding many.

5 And all these kings met together, & came and pitched together at the waters of Merom, for to fight against Israel.

6 And the Lord said vnto Iosuah, Be not afraid at the presence of them: for to morrowe about this time will I deliuer them all aaine before Israel: thou shalt hough their hoxles, and burne their charets with fire.

7 And so Iosuah came, and all the men of warre with him, against them, by the waters of Merom, and suddenly fell vpon them.

8 And the Lord deliuered them into the hand of Israel, and they smote them, and chased them vnto great Sidon, and vnto Misrephothmaim, and vnto the balley of Misphah, which is Eastward: and smote them, vntill they had none remaining of them.

9 And Iosuah did vnto them as the Lord had him: hee houghed their hoxles, and burnt their charets with fire.

10 And Iosuah at that time turned backe, and tooke Hazor, & smote the king thereof with 13 But Israel burnt none of the cities that stood still in their strength, saue Hazor only that Iofuah burnt.

16 And so Iofuah tooke all that lande of the hilles, and all the South countrey, and all the land of Gosen, and the lowe countrey, and the plaine, and the mountaine of Israel, and the low countrey of the same:

18 Iofuah made warre long time with those kings.

19 Neither was there any cite that made peace with the children of Israel, saue those Hethites that inhabited Gideon, and therefore all other they tooke with battell.

20 For it came of the Lord, which did harden their hearts, that they should come against Israel in battell, and that they should destroy them utterly, and shew them no mercy: but to bring them to nought, as the Lord commanded Moses.

21 And that same season came Iofuah, and destroyed the Anakims out of the mountaines, as out of Hebron, Dabir, Anab, and out of all the mountaines of Iuda, and out of all the mountaines of Israel: and Iofuah destroyed them utterly, with their cities.

22 There was not an Anakim left in the land of the children of Israel: onely in Azzah, Bath, and Adod, there remained of them.

23 And Iofuah tooke the whole land, according to all that the Lord sayd vnto Moses, and Iofuah gaue it for a possession vnto Israel, according to their parts and tribes: and the land rested from warre.

Jhoshua was olde, and stricken in yeres, and the Lord said vnto him, Thou art olde, & stricken in yeres, and there remaineth yet exceeding much land to be possessed.

2 This is the land that yet remaineth: all the regions of the Philistines, and all Gessuri:

3 From † Nilus, which is † vpon Egypt, vnto the borders of Accaron Northward, which land is counted vnto Chanaan, euen five lordships of the Philistines, the Azathites, Ascalonites, Bethites, Accaronites, and the Gittites.

4 And from the South, all the lande of the Chanaanites, and the † caue that is beside the Sidonians, euen vnto Apher, and to the borders of the Amozites.

5 And the land of the Gilytites, and al Libanon toward the Sunne rising, from the plaine of Gad vnder mount Hermon, vntil a man come to Hamath.

6 All the inhabitants of the hill country, from Libanon vnto <sup>b</sup> Hithrephothmaim, and all the Sidonians, will I cast out from before the children of Israel: only see that thou in any wise decide it by lot vnto the Israelites to inherite, as I haue commanded thee.

7 Nowe therefore, decide this land to inherite vnto the nine tribes, and the halfe tribe of Manasses.

8 For with that other, the Rubenites, & the Gadites haue receiued their inheritance, which Moses gaue them beyonde Jordane Eastward, as Moses the seruant of the Lord gaue them:

9 From Aroer that lieth on the brimme of the riuer Arnon, and from the citie that is in the middell of the riuer, and all the plaine of Medeba vnto Dibon:

10 And all the cities of Sehon king of the Amozites, which reigned in Hef bon, vnto the border of the children of Ammon:

11 And Gilead, and the border of Gessuri, and Machati, and all mount Hermon, with all Basan vnto Salecha:

12 All the kingdom of Og in Basan, which reigned in Astaroth and Edrai, which same remained yet of the rest of the Giants: these did Moses smite, and cast them out.

13 Neuerthelesse, the children of Israel expelled not the Gessurites and the Machathites: but the Gessurites and the Machathites dwell among the Israelites euen vntill this day.

14 Onely vnto the tribe of Leui he gaue none inheritance: but the sacrifices of the Lord God of Israel is their inheritance, as he said vnto them.

15 Moses gaue vnto the tribe of the children of Ruben inheritance according to their kindreds.

16 And their coast was from Aroer that lieth on the banke of the riuer Arnon, and from the citie that is in the middell of the riuer, and all the plaine which is by Medeba:

17 Hef bon, with all their towne that lie in the plaine: Dibon, and the high places of Baal, and the house of Baalmeon.

18 And Jahazah, and Kedemoth, and Dephaath.

19 Birtathaim, Sabamath, and Zarah Zabar, in the mount of the balley.

20 The house of Deor, and the springs of the hilles, and Bethpeor, and Ardooth-pisgab, and Beth-iesmoth:

21 And all the cities of the plaine, and all the kingdom of Sehon king of the Amozites, which reigned in Hef bon, which Moses smote, with the lords of Hadian, Gui, Rechem, Zur, and Hur, and Reba, the which were dukes of Sehon, dwelling in the countrey.

22 And Balaam also the sonne of Beor, the soothsayer, did the children of Israel slay with the sword, among other of them that were slaine.

23 And the border of the children of Ruben, was Jordane, with the countrey that lieth thereon: This was the inheritance of the children of Ruben after their kindreds, cities, and billages pertaining thereto.

24 And Moses gaue inheritance vnto the tribe of Gad, euen vnto the children of Gad hee gaue by their kindreds:

25 And their coastes were Jazer, and all the cities of Gilead, & halfe the land of the children of Ammon, vnto Aroer that lieth before Rabba:

26 And from Hef bon vnto Ramath, Mishpeh, and Betonim: and from Mahanaim vnto the borders of Babil.

27 And in the balley they had Beth-aram, Beth-nimra, Socoth, and Zaphon, the rest of the kingdom of Sehon king of Hef bon, vnto Jordane, and the coastes that lie thereon, euen vnto the edge of the sea of Cenereth, on the other side Jordane Eastward.

28 This is the inheritance of the children of Gad after their kindreds, their cities, & billages.

29 And Moses gaue inheritance vnto † halfe tribe of Manasses: and this was the possession of the halfe tribe of Manasses, by their kindreds:

30 Their coast was from Mahanaim, euen all Basan, and all the kingdom of Og king of Basan, and all the townes of Jair which lie in Basan, threescore cities.

31 And halfe Gilead, Astaroth, and Edrai, cities of the kingdom of Og in Basan, which pertaine vnto the children of Machir the sonne of Manasses, euen to the one halfe of the children of Machir by their kindreds.

32 These are the heritages which Moses did distribute in the fields of Moab on the other side Jordane ouer against Jericho Eastward.

7 Fourtie yeeres olde was I when Moses the seruant of the Lord sent me from Cades Barnea, to espie out the lande, and I brought him word againe as it was in mine heart.

8 Nevertheless, my brethren that went by with mee, discouraged the heart of the people: and I followed the Lord my God.

9 And Moses sware the same day, saying, The land whercon thy feete haue troden, shall be thine inheritance, and thy childrens for ever, because thou hast followed the Lord my God.

10 And beholde, the Lord hath kept me aliuie as he said, this fourtie and five yeeres, euen since the Lord spake this word unto Moses, while the children of Israel wandered in the wilderness: and now loe, I am this day foure scoze and five yeeres olde, 12 Now therefore giue mee this mountaine, wherof the Lord spake in that day, (for thou headeest in that day howe the Anakims were there, and the cities great and walled) if the Lord will be with me, and I shall be able to driue them out, as the Lord said.

13 And Iosuah blessed him, and gave unto Caleb the sonne of Iephune Hebron to inherit.

14 And Hebron therefore became the inheritance of Caleb the sonne of Iephune the Benefite, unto this day: because he followed constantly the Lord God of Israel.

15 And the name of Hebron was called in old time Kiriath Arba, which Arba was a great man among the Anakims: and the lande ceased from warre.

This was the lot of the tribe of the children of Iuda by their kindreds, euen to the border of Edom in the wilderness of Zin Southward, euen from the uttermost part of the South coast.

2 And their South coast was from the brinke of the salt sea, from a rocke that leareth Southward.

3 And it went out to the Southside, toward the going by to Baale acrabim, and went along to Zin, and ascended by on the Southside unto Cades Barnea: and went along to Beeron, and went by to Adar, and set a compasse to Karcaa.

4 From thence went it along to Amnon, and reached unto the riuer of Egypt, and the ende of that coast was on the west side: this is their South coast.

5 Their East coast is the salt Sea, euen unto the ende of Iordane: and their border in the North quarter, was from the rocke of the sea, and from the ende of Iordane.

6 And the same border went by to Bethhagla, and went along by the North side of Betharabah, and by from thence to the stone of Bothen the sonne of Ruben.

7 And againe the same border went by to Debir, from the valley of Achor, and so Northward, turning toward Gilgal, that lieth before the going by to Adummim, which is of the South side of the riuer: and the same border went by to the waters of the fountaine of the Sunne, and ended at the well of Rogel.

8 And then went by to the balley of the son of Hennom, euen unto the Southside of Jebusi, the same is Hierusalem: and then went by to the top of the hill that lieth before the balley of Hennom Westward, and by the ende of the balley of the giants Northward.

9 And then it compasseth from the top of the hill unto the fountaine of the water of Pephthoah, and goeth out of the cities of mount Ephraim, and draweth to Baala, which is Kiriathiarim.

10 And then it compasseth from Baala Westward unto mount Seir, and then goeth along unto the side of mount Jarim, which is Chesalon on the North side, and cometh downe to Bethsames, and goeth to Thinnah.

11 And goeth out againe unto the side of Akaron Northward: and then draweth to Secron, and goeth along to mount Baala, and stretcheth unto Jabneel: and the endes of the coastes leaue at the West sea.

12 And the West border was the great sea, and the same coast was the coast of the children of Iuda round about, in their kindreds.

13 And unto Caleb the sonne of Iephune, did Iosuah giue a part among the children of Iuda, according to the mouth of the Lord, euen Kiriatharba of the father of Enac, which citie is Ebron.

14 And Caleb drewe thence the thre sonnes of Enac, Sefai, Ahiman, and Thalmi which were the sonnes of Enac.

15 And he went by thence to the inhabitants of Dabir: and the name of Dabir in the olde time was Kiriath Sephar.

16 And Caleb said, Hce that smiteth Kiriath Sephar, and taketh it, to him will I giue Achlah my daughter to wife.

17 And Othniel the sonne of Kenes, the brother of Caleb, tooke it: and he gaue him Achlah his daughter to wife.

The xvij. Chapter.

1 The lot or part of Ephraim. 10 The Chanaanites dwelled among them.

AND the lot of the children of Ioseph fell from Iordane by Jericho, vnto the water of Jericho Eastward, and to the wilderness that goeth by from Jericho throughout mount Bethel:

2 And goeth out from Bethel to Luz, and runneth along vnto the borders of Archi Ataroth:
 3 And goeth downe againe westward, euen to the coast of Japhleti, and vnto the coast of Beth-hozon the nether, and to Gazer, and the ends of their coastes leaue at the west sea.
 4 And so the children of Ioseph, Manasses, and Ephraim, tooke their inheritance:
 5 And the borders of the children of Ephraim was by their kinreds. Their border on the East side was Ataroth Adar, euen vnto Beth-hozon the upper:
 6 And went out westward to Machmathath on the Northside, and returneth Eastward vnto Chaanath Silo, and pass it on the East side vnto Janoah,
 7 And went downe from Janoah to Atharoth and Naarath, and came to Jericho, and went out at Iordane.
 8 And their border went from Chaphuah westward vnto the riuer Banath, and the ends were the west sea: This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Ephraim by their kinreds.
 9 And the separate cities for the children of Ephraim were among the inheritance of the children of Manasses, euen the cities, with their villages.
 10 And they draue not out the Chanaanites that dwelt in Gaza: but the Chanaanites dwell among the Ephraimites vnto this day, and serue vnder tribute.

The xvij. Chapter.

1 The portion of the halfe tribe of Manasse. 3 A portion is given to the daughters of Zalphaad.

His was the lot of the tribe of Manasses, which was the eldest sonne of Ioseph, to wit, of Machir, the eldest sonne of Manasses, which was the father of Gilead: (now because hee was a man of warre) hee had Gilead and Basan.

2 * This is the possession of the rest of the children of Manasses by their kinreds, namely of the children of Abiezer, the children of Helch, the children of Ariel, the children of Sechem, the children of Hepher, the children of Semida: for these were the male children of Manasses, the sonne of Ioseph by their kinreds.

3 * But Zalphaad the sonne of Hepher, the sonne of Gilead, the sonne of Machir, the sonne of Manasses, had no sonnes, but daughters: whose names are these, Mahala, Noa, Hagla, Melcha, and Thirsa:

4 which came before Eleazar the Priest, and before Iosuah the sonne of Nuri, and before the lords, saying, The Lord commanded Moses to give vs an inheritance among our brethren: and therefore according to the commandement of the Lord, he gaue them an inheritance among the brethren of their father.

5 And there fell ten portions to Manasses, beside the land of Gilead & Basan, which were on the other side Iordane, * Enith thought to be a citie at the end of mount Bethel, which is also named Bethel, Gen. 28. and so Bethel is both the name of a citie, and of a mount.

Gen. 46. 14.

Num. 26. 29. For the other halfe tribe had their portion beyond Iordane, Gen. 26.

Num. 27. 7. and 36. 2.

b Among brethren of our tribe.

Of these cities hee left in with his name. For hee is, because they gave the mark part of these, hee burnt these cities, King. 1. 10. David after hee had driven them out, 2. Sam. 4.

6 Because the daughters of Manasses did inherit among his sonnes: and Manasses other sonnes had the land of Gilead.

7 And the coast of Manasses was frō Aler to Machmethath, that lieth before Sichem, and went along on the right hand, euen vnto the inhabitants of En-raphuah.

8 And the lande of Chaphuah belonged to Manasses: which Chaphuah is beside the border of Manasses, beside the border of the children of Ephraim.

9 And the coast descended vnto the riuer Canah Southward, euen to the riuer: these cities of Ephraim are among the cities of Manasses: the coast of Manasses went also on the Northside to the riuer, and the endes of it go out at the Sea:

10 So that the South pertained to Ephraim, and the North to Manasses, and the sea is his border, & they met together in Aler Northward, and in Machar Eastward.

11 And Manasses had in Machar and in Aler, Beth-sean and her towines, Jiblean and her towines, and the inhabitants of Dor, with the towines pertaining to the same, and the inhabitants of Endor, with the towines of the same, and the inhabitants of Chaanach with her towines, & the inhabitants of Hageddo with the towines of the same, euen three countreys.

12 Yet the children of Manasses coude not ouercome those cities, but the Chanaanites pursued to dwell in the same land.

13 Scuerthelesse, as soone as the children of Israel were ware of strong, they put the Chanaanites vnder tribute, but expelled them not.

14 And the children of Joseph spake vnto Iosuah, saying, Why hast thou giuen mee but one lot and one portion to inherite, seeing I am a great people, and forasmuch as the Lord hath blessed me hither to?

15 And Iosuah answered them, If thou bee much people, then get thee by to the wood countrey, and prepare for thy selfe there in the land of the Pherezites and of the Gians, if mount Ephraim be too narrow for thee.

16 And the children of Joseph said, The hill is not ynough for vs: and all the Chanaanites that dwell in the lowe countrey haue charrets of yron, and so haue they that inhabite Beth-sean and the towines of the same, and they also that dwell in the valley of Jezrael.

17 And Iosuah sayd vnto the house of Joseph, Ephraim, and Manasses, See bee much people, and haue great power, & shall not therefore haue one lot:

18 Therefore the hill shalbe yours, and ye shal cut downe the wood that is in it: and the endes of it shalbe yours, if ye call out the Chanaanites, which haue yron charrets, and are very strong.

The xvij. Chapter.

AND the whole Congregation of the children of Israel came together at Silo, and set by the Tabernacle of the Congregation there, after the lande was in subiectiō before them.

2 And there remained among the children

3 And Iosuah saide vnto the children of Israel, How long are yee to slacke to come and possesse the lande which the Lord God of your fathers haue giuen you?

4 Giue out from among you for euery tribe three men, that I may send them: and that they may rise, and walke thoroʷ the land, and distribute it according to the inheritance thereof, and come againe to me.

5 And let them deuide it vnto them into seuen parts: and Juda shall abide in their coast on the South, and the house of Joseph shall stand in their coastes on the North.

6 Describe ye the land therefore into seuen parts, and bring the description hither to mee: and I shal cast lots for you here before the Lord our God.

7 But the Leuites haue no part among you, for the Priesthood of the Lord is their inheritance: and Gad and Ruben, and halfe the tribe of Manasses, haue receiued their inheritance beyonde Iordane Eastward, which Moses the seruant of the Lord gaue them.

8 And the men arose, and went their way: and Iosuah charged them that went to describe the land, saying, Depart, and goe thoroʷ the land, and describe it: and come againe to mee, that I may here cast lots for you before the Lord in Silo.

9 And the men departed, and walked thoroʷ the lande, and described it by cities, into seuen parts, in a booke, and returned to Iosuah into the holle at Silo.

10 And Iosuah cast lots for them in Silo before the Lord: and there Iosuah diuided the lande vnto the children of Israel, to eche their portion.

11 And the lot of the tribe of the children of Beniamin came by, according to their kindreds, and the coast of their lot came betwene the children of Juda, and the children of Joseph.

12 And their North coast was from Iordane, and went by to the side of Jericho on the North side, and went by thoroʷ the mountaines Westward, and they ended at the wilderness of Beth-auen.

13 And went from thence toward Luz, euen to the Southside of Luz (the same is Bethel) and descended againe to Ataroth-Abar, vnto the hill that lieth on the Southside of the nether Bethoron.

14 And the coast turneth thence, and compasseth the corner of the Sea Southward, euen from the hill that lyeth before Beth-horon Southward: and goeth out at Kiriath-baal (which is Kiriath-iarim) a cite of the children of Juda: This is the west quarter.

15 And the South coast goeth from the ende of Kiriath-iarim, and goeth out Westward, and thence it turneth to the well of waters of Nephtoi.

16 And commeth downe againe to the ende of the hill that lieth before the halley of the sonne of Bennom, euen in the halley of the Gians Northward, and descendeth into the halley of Bennom beside Jebusi Southward, and goeth downe to the well of Rogel.

17 And compasseth from the North, and goeth south to En-sembles, & departeth from thence

The xxij. Chapter.

1 Ruben, Gad, and the halfe tribe of Manasses are sent againe to their possessions.

Then a Josuah called the Rubenites, the Gadites, and the halfe tribe of Manasses,

2 And said vnto them, Ye haue kept all that Moses the seruant of the Lord commanded you, and haue obeyed my voice in all that I commanded you.

3 Ye haue not left your brethren of a long season vnto this day, but haue kept the commandement of the Lord your God.

Which word is to be understood of the children of Israel.

Num. 32. 33.

Josuah note at parting, willing to stirre them to care, a lescher shall hear for their plures, remembrance of the keeping of Gods lawe, is the only meane of all the rest, and the citie be well kept then, d be commended there to God, and prepared for them.

20 Gal. 1. 10. but were no priests but Leuites only.

25 Which word is to be understood of the children of Israel.

The families of Gad and Gerson already spoken of, remained onely Merari, of which being the fourth, came the third family of Leuites, and are here sheweth call the Merari, the cities of refuge vnto the Leuites and Merari, and the tribe of Gad.

children of Ruben, the children of Gad, and the halfe tribe of Manasses built there an altar by Iordane, and that a great altar to see to.

11 When the children of Israel heard say, Behold, the children of Ruben, the children of Gad, and the halfe tribe of Manasses have built an altar in the forefront of the land of Chanaan, in the borders of Iordane, at the passage of the children of Israel:

12 When the children of Israel heard of it, the whole congregation of the children of Israel gathered them together at Silo, to make battaile against them.

13 And the children of Israel sent vnto the children of Ruben, and to the children of Gad, and to the halfe tribe of Manasses, into the land of Gilead, Phinehes the sonne of Eleazar the Priest,

14 And with him tenne lords, of euery chiefe house a lord, throughout all the tribes of Israel, which were heads of their fathers housholdes, among the || thousands of Israel.

15 And they went vnto the children of Ruben, and to the children of Gad, and to the children of the halfe tribe of Manasses, vnto the land of Gilead, & they spake with them, saying, 16 Thus sayeth the whole congregation of the Lorde, What transgression is this that yee haue transgressed against the God of Israel, to turne away this day from the Lorde, in that yee haue builded you an altar for to rebell this day against the Lorde?

17 * Is the wicked deed of Deor too little for vs, whereof wee are yet not cleaned vnto this day: and there was a plague in the congregation of the Lorde?

18 Ye also are turned away this day from the Lorde: and seeing yee rebell to day against the Lorde: it wil come to passe that to morow he shall be wroth with all the congregation of Israel.

19 Notwithstanding, if yee thinke that the land of your possession is vncleane, then come ouer vnto the land of the possession of the Lorde, wherein the Lords tabernacle dwelleth, & take possession among vs: but rebell not against the Lorde, nor rebell against vs, to build you any other altar, saue the altar of the Lorde our God.

20 Did not Achaz the sonne of Zareth trespass grievously in the accursed thing, & wroth fell on all the congregation of Israel? and this man perished not alone in his wickednesse.

21 Then the children of Ruben, and the children of Gad, and the halfe tribe of Manasses, answered, and sayde vnto the heads ouer the thousands of Israel, 22 The Lorde God of gods, the Lorde God of gods knoweth, and all Israel shall knowe, if it be to rebell or to transgresse against the Lorde, then thou Lorde saue vs not this day.

23 Or else if wee haue built vs an altar to turne from following the Lorde, or to offer thereon whole burnt offering, or meat offering, to offer peace offerings thereon, let the Lorde himselfe require it.

24 And if we haue not rather done it for feare of this thing, saying, In time to come your children might say vnto ours, what haue you to doe with the Lorde God of Israel?

25 The Lorde hath made Iordane a border betwene vs and you, ye children of Ruben, and of Gad, ye haue no part therefore in the Lorde:

and so shall your children make our children cease from fearing the Lorde.

26 Therefore we said, we wil make vs an altar, not for whole burnt offering, nor for sacrifice:

27 But for a witness betwene vs and you, and our generations after vs, that wee should serue the Lorde with our whole burnt offerings, sacrifices, and peace offerings before him: & that your children should not say to ours in time to come, Ye haue no part in the Lorde.

28 Therefore said wee, that if they should so say to vs, or to our generations in time to come, that we would say againe, Behold the fashion of the altar of the Lorde, which our fathers made, neither for whole burnt offerings, nor sacrifices, but for a witness betwene vs and you.

29 God forbid that wee should rebell against the Lorde, and turne this day from after him, and builde any other altar for whole burnt offerings, oblations, or sacrifices, saue the altar of the Lorde our God that is before his tabernacle.

30 And when Phinehes the Priest, and the lords of the congregation, and heads ouer the thousands of Israel which were with him, heard these wordes, that the children of Ruben, and the children of Gad, and the children of Manasses spake, they were well content.

31 And Phinehes the sonne of Eleazar the Priest, said vnto the children of Ruben, and to the children of Gad, and to the children of Manasses, This day we perceiue that the Lorde is among vs, because yee haue not done this trespass against the Lorde: now ye haue rid the children of Israel out of the hand of the Lorde.

32 And Phinehes the sonne of Eleazar the Priest, with the lords, returned from the children of Ruben, and from the children of Gad, out of the land of Gilead, vnto the land of Chanaan, to the children of Israel, and brought them this word againe.

33 And the saying pleased the children of Israel, and they blessed God, and did not intend to goe against them in battell, and to destroy the lande which the children of Ruben and Gad dwelt in.

34 And the children of Ruben, and the children of Gad called the altar || Ed, for it shall bee a witness betwene vs, that the Lorde is God.

5 And the Lord your God shall expel them before you, and cast them from out of your sight, and ye shall conquer their land, as the Lord your God hath said vnto you.

6 Be ye therefore of a good courage, that ye keepe and doe all that is written in the booke of the law of Moses, that ye be not asidde therefrom, to the right hand nor to the left.

7 Neither company with these nations, that is, with them that are left with you, neither make mention of the name of their gods, nor cause to sweare by them, neither serue them, nor bow you selues vnto them.

8 But sicke fall vnto the Lorde your God, as ye haue done vnto this day.

9 So shal the Lord cast out before you great nations, and mighty, as no man hath bene able to stand before you hitherto.

11 Take good heede therefore vnto your selues, that ye loue the Lord your God.

14 And behold, this day doe I enter into the way of all the worlde, and ye know in all your hearts, and in all your soules, that nothing hath failed of al the good things which the Lord your God promised you, but al are come to passe vnto you, and nothing hath failed thereof.

15 Therefore as all good things are come vpon you, which the Lord your God promised you: so shall the Lord bring vpon you all euill, vntill he haue destroyed you from this good land which the Lord your God hath giuen you.

16 When ye haue transgressed the testamēt of the Lord your God, which hee commanded you, and haue gone and serued strange gods, and bowed your selues to them: then shall the wrath of the Lord ware hote vpon you, and ye shall perish quickly from the good land which hee hath giuen you.

The xxiiiij. Chapter.

2 Iofuah rehearseth Gods benefites, 14 And exhorteth the people to feare God. 26 Iofuah dieth.

AND Iofuah gathered all the tribes of Israel to Sichem, and called for the Elders of Israel, and for their heads, iudges, and officers, a they presented themselves before God.

2 And Iofuah said vnto all the people, Thus saith the Lorde God of Israel, Your fathers dwell on the other side of the flood in old time, euen Chare the father of Abraham, and of Nachoz, and serued strange gods.

3 And I tooke your father Abraham from the other side of the flood, and brought him thorowout all the land of Chanaan, and multiplied his seed, and gaue him Ihsaac.

4 And I gaue vnto Ihsaac, Jacob and E-lau: and I gaue vnto Esau mount Seir, to possesse it: but Jacob and his children went downe into Egypt.

5 I sent Moses also, and Aaron, and I plagued Egypt, and when I had so done among them, I brought you out.

6 And I brought your fathers out of Egypt: and as they came vnto the sea, the Egyptians followed after your fathers with charets and horsemen vnto the red sea.

7 And when they cried vnto the Lord, the Lord put darkenesse betwene you and the Egyptians, and brought the sea vpon them, and couered them, and your eyes haue seene what I haue done to the Egyptians, and ye dwell in the wilderness a long season.

8 And I brought you into the land of the Amozites, which dwell on the other side Iordane: and they fought with you, a I gaue them into your hand, that ye might conquer their country, and I destroyed them from out of your sight.

9 Then Balac the sonne of Ziphoz king of Moab, arose and warred against Israel, and sent and called Balaam the sonne of Beoz for to curse you:

10 But I would not hearken vnto Balaam, and therefore he rather blessed you: and so I deliuered you out of his hand.

11 And ye went ouer Iordane, and came vnto Jericho: and the men of Jericho fought against you, the Amozites, Perezites, Chanaanites, Hethites, Gergesites, Heuites, and Jebusites, and I deliuered them into your hand.

12 And I sent hornets before you, which cast them out of your sight, euen the two kings of the Amozites: but not with your owne worde, or with your owne bowe.

13 And I haue giuen you a land in which ye did not labour, and cities which ye built not, and which ye dwell in: vineyardes also, and Oliue trees which ye planted not, and wherof ye doe eate.

14 Nowe therefore, feare the Lorde, and serue him in perfectnes, and trueth, and put away the gods which your fathers serued on the other side of the flood, and in Egypt, and serue ye the Lord.

15 And if it seeme euill vnto you to serue the Lord, then choose you this day whom you will serue, whether the gods which your fathers serued (that were on the other side of the flood) or the gods of the Amozites, in whose land ye dwell: as for me and my house, we will serue the Lord.

16 The people answered and said, God forbid that wee should forsake the Lorde, and serue strange gods.

17 For the Lord our God, hee it is that brought vs and our fathers out of the lande of Egypt, and from the house of bondage, and which did those great miracles in our sight, and preserved vs in all the the way that we went, and among all the people which we came through.

18 And the Lord did call out before vs all the people, euen the Amozites which dwell in the land, and therefore will wee also serue the Lord, for hee is our God.

19 And Iofuah said vnto the people, Ye cannot serue the Lord: for hee is an holy God, and a ielous God, and cannot beare your iniquity and sinne.

24 The people said vnto Iofuah, The Lord our God will wee serue, and his voice will wee obey.

25 And so Iofuah made a covenant with the people the same day, and set an ordinance and law before them in Sichem.

26 And Iofuah wrote these wordes in the booke of the law of God, and tooke a great stone, and pitched it on an end in the said place, vnder an Oake that was in the Sanctuary of the Lord.

27 And Iofuah saide vnto all the people, Behold, this stone shall be a witnesse vnto vs, for it hath heard all the wordes of the Lord which hee spake vnto vs, it shall bee therefore a witnesse

28 And so Iofuah let the people depart, euery man vnto his inheritance.

29 And after these things, Iofuah the sonne of Nun the seruant of the Lord died, being an hundred and ten yeeres old.

30 And they buried him in the border of his inheritance in Chamnah Serah, which is in mount Ephraim, on the North side of the hill of Gaas.

33 And Eleazar the sonne of Aaron died, whom they buried in a hill that pertained to Phinehes his sonne, which hill was giuen him in mount Ephraim.

The first Chapter.

1 After Iofuah was dead, Iuda was constituted capitaine. 6 Adoni-bezek is taken. 14 The request of Achish. 16 The children of Keni. 19 The Chanaanites are made tributaries, but not destroyed.

After the death of Iofuah, it came to passe that the children of Israel asked the Lord, saying, who shall goe by vs against the Chanaanites, to fight first against them?

2 And the Lord said, Iuda shall goe by: behold, I haue deliuered the land into his hands.

3 And Iuda sayde vnto Simeon his brother, Come by with me in my lot, that wee may fight against the Chanaanites, and I like wife will go with thee into thy lot. And so Simeon went with him.

4 And Iuda went by, and the Lord deliuered the Chanaanites and Pherezites into their hands: and they slew of them in Bezek tenne thousand men.

5 And they found Adoni-bezek in Bezek: and they fought against him, and slew the Chanaanites and Pherezites.

6 But Adon-bezek fled, and they followed after him, caught him, and cut off his thumbs, and his great toes.

7 And Adoni-bezek sayd, Threescore and ten kings, hauing their thumbs and their great toes cut off, gathered their meate vnder my table: as I haue done, so God hath done to mee again. And they brought him to Hierusalem, and there he died.

8 (The children of Iuda had fought against Hierusalem, and had taken it, and smitten it with the edge of the sword, and set the citie on fire.)

9 Afterwarde the children of Iuda went downe to fight against the Chanaanites that dwelt in the mountain, and toward the South, and in the low countrey.

10 And Iuda went against the Chanaanites that dwelt in Hebron which befoze time was called Biriath-arba, and slewe Setai, Ahiman, and Chalmai.

11 And from thence hee went to the inhabitants of Dabir, whose name in olde time was called Biriath-sepher.

12 And Caleb sayd, He that smiteth Biriath-sepher, and taketh it, to him will I giue Achish my daughter to wife.

13 And Othoniel the sonne of Kenez Calebs younger brother, tooke it: to whom hee gaue Achish his daughter to wife.

14 When she came to him, she counsailed him to ake of her father a fielde: And then shee lighted off her alle, and Caleb said vnto her, What wilt thou?

15 She answered vnto him, Giueme a blessing: for thou hast giuen me a southward land, giue me also springes of water. And Caleb gaue her springes both aboue and beneath.

16 And the children of the Benice. Moses father in law, went vp out of the citie of palme trees, with the children of Iuda, into the wilderness of Iuda, that lyeth in the South of Arad, and they went and dwelt among the people.

17 And Iuda went with Simeon his brother, and they slue the Chanaanites that inhabited Zephath, and utterly destroyed it, and called the name of the citie Bozma.

18 And also Iuda tooke Azzah with the coasts thereof, and Ahalon with the coasts thereof, and Aharon with the coasts thereof.

19 And the Lord was with Iuda, and he conquered the mountaines, but could not driue out the inhabitants of the halleys, because they had charrets of yron.

20 And they gaue Hebron vnto Caleb, * as Moses saide: and he expelled thence the three sonnes of Anac.

21 And the children of Benjamin did not cast out the Jebusites that inhabited Hierusalem: but the Jebusites dwell with the children of Benjamin in Hierusalem vnto this day.

22 And in like maner they that were of the house of Ioseph went vp to Bethel, & the Lord was with them.

23 * And the house of Ioseph searched out Bethel, which before time was called Luz.

24 And the spies saw a man come out of the citie, and they said vnto him, Shew vs, we pray thee, the way into the citie, and we will shewe thee mercie.

25 And when he had shewed them the way into the citie, they smote it with the edge of the sword, but let the man & all his household go free.

26 And the man went into the lande of the Bethites, and built a citie, and called the name thereof Luz: which is the name thereof vnto this day.

27 Neither did Manasses expell Bethsean with her townes, Chanach with her townes, the inhabitants of Doz, with her townes, the inhabitants of Jeblaam, with her townes, neither the inhabitants of Magiddo, with her townes: but the Chanaanites dwell still in the land.

28 But as soone as Israel was waxed mighty, they put the Chanaanites to tribute, and expelled them not wholly.

29 In like maner Ephraim expelled not the Chanaanites that dwell in Gazer: but the Chanaanites dwell still in Gazer among them.

30 Neither did Zabulon expel the inhabitants of Hetron, neither the inhabitants of Nabalol: but the Chanaanites dwell among them, and became tributaries.

31 Neither did Aser cast out the inhabitants of Acho, neither the inhabitants of Sidon, and of Ahalab, Aczib, and Belbah, Aphek, nor of Kohob:

32 But the Aserites dwell among the Chanaanites, the inhabitants of the land: for they did not driue them out.

33 Neither did Nephthali driue out the inhabitants of Bethsameg, nor the inhabitants of Bethanath, but dwell amongst the Chanaanites, the inhabitants of the land: neuertheless, the inhabitants of Bethsameg, and of Bethanath, became tributaries vnto them.

34 And the Amozites // droue the children of Dan into the mountaine, and suffered them not to come downe to the halley.

35 And the Amozites were content to dwell in mount Heres in Aialon, and in Salabim: and the hand of Ioseph preuailed, so that they became tributaries.

36 And the coast of the Amozites was from the going vp to Acrabim, and from the <sup>m</sup> rocke byward.

The ij. Chapter.

2 The Angel rebuketh the people, because they had made peace with the Chanaanites. 22 The cause is shewed why God suffered idolaters to remaine among them.

And the Angel of the Lord came by from Gilgal to Bochim and sayde, I made you to goe out of Egypt, and haue brought you vnto the land which I swaie vnto your fathers, and I saide, I will neuer bryake my couenant that I made with you.

2 And ye also shall make no couenant with the inhabitants of this lande, but shall bryake downe their altars: neuertheless, ye haue not hearkened vnto my voyce: why haue ye this done?

3 Wherefore I haue likewise determined, that I will not cast them out before you: but they shall be as thornes vnto you, and their gods shall be a snare vnto you.

4 And when the Angel of the Lord spake these words vnto all the children of Israel, the people cryed out, and wept:

5 And called the name of the said place, // Bochim, and offered sacrifices there, vnto the Lord.

6 And when Iosuah had sent the people away, the children of Israel went euery man into his inheritance, to possesse the land.

7 And the people serued the Lord at the daies of Iosuah, and all the dayes of the Elders that outliued Iosuah, and had seene all the great workes of the Lord, that he did for Israel.

8 And Iosuah the sonne of Nun, the seruant of the Lord died, when he was an hundred and ten yeeres old:

9 whom they buried in the coasts of his inheritance in Chinnath Heres, in mount Ephraim, on the North side of the hill Gaas.

10 And so all that generation were gathered vnto their fathers: and there arose another generation after them, which neither knew the Lord, nor yet the workes which he had done for Israel.

11 And then the children of Israel did wickedly in the sight of the Lord, and serued Baalim,

12 And forsooke the Lord God of their fathers, which brought them out of the land of Egypt, & followed strange gods, euen of the gods of the nations that were round about them, & bowed themselves vnto them, and angered the Lord:

13 They forsooke the Lord, and serued Baal and Asaroth,

14 And the wrath of the Lord waxed hot against Israel, & he deliuered them into the hands of raueners, that spoiled them, and sold them into the hands of their enemies round about them, so that they had no power any longer to stande before their enemies.

15 But whither soever they went out, the hand of the Lord was sore against them, as the Lord had said, and had sworn vnto them: and he punished them sore.

16 Nevertheless, the Lord raised by Judges, which deliuered them out of the hands of their oppressours.

17 And yet for all that, they would not hearken vnto their Judges, but rather went a whoring after strange gods, and bowed themselves vnto them, and turned quickly out of the way which their fathers walked in, obeying the commandments of the Lord, but they did not so.

18 And when the Lord raised them by Judges, he was with the Judge, and deliuered them out of the hands of their enemies, all the dayes of the Judge: (for the Lord had compassion ouer their sorowings, which they had by the reason of them that oppressed them, & beyed them:)

19 Yet for all that, as soone as the Judge was dead, they returned, and did worse then their fathers, in following straunge gods, to serue them, and worship them, & ceased not from their own inuentions, nor from their stubborne way.

20 And the wrath of the Lord was moued against Israel, and he said, Because this people hath transgressed my covenant which I commaunded their fathers, and haue not hearkened vnto my voice:

21 I will henceforth not cast out before them one man of the nations which Iosuah left when he dyed:

22 That through them I may prouue Israel, whether they will keepe the way of the Lord, and walke therein as their fathers did, or not.

23 And so the Lord left those nations, and droue them not out immediately, neither deliuered them into the hand of Iosuah.

The iij. Chapter.

1 The Chanaanites were left to trie Israel. 9 Othoniel deliuereth Israel. 21 Ahud killeth king Eglon. 23 Samgar killeth the Philistines.

These are the nations which the Lord left, that he might prouue Israel by them: that is to say (as many of Israel as had not knowen the warres of Chanaan:

2 Onely for the learning of the generations of the childre of Israel, that he also might teach them warre, onely such as before knew nothing thereof:)

3 Of those whome hee left, there were five lords of the Philistines, & all the Chanaanites, and the Sidonites, and the Heuites that dwelt in mount Libanon, from mount Baal Hermon, vnto the coming into Hamath.

4 Those remained to prouue Israel by, and to wit whether they would hearken vnto the commandments of the Lord which hee commaunded their fathers by the hand of Moses.

5 And the children of Israel dwelt among the Chanaanites, Hethites, Amorites, Pherezites, Heuites, and Jebusites.

6 And tooke the daughters of them to bee their wiues, and gaue their owne daughters to their sonnes, and serued their gods.

7 And the children of Israel did wickedly in the sight of the Lord, and forgate the Lord their God, and serued Baalim, and Ashtaroth.

8 Therefore the Lord was angry with Israel, and he sold them into the hands of Chusan Rishathaim king of Mesopotamia: and the children of Israel serued Chusan Rishathaim eight yeeres.

9 And when the children of Israel cryed vnto the Lord, the Lord stirred by a saviour to the children of Israel, and saued them, one Othoniel the sonne of Kenes, Calebs yonger brother.

10 And the spirit of the Lord came vpon him, and he iudged Israel: & went out to warre, and the Lord deliuered Chusan Rishathaim king of Mesopotamia into his hande, and his hand prevailed against Chusan Rishathaim.

11 And the land had rest fourtie yeeres: and Othoniel the sonne of Kenes dyed.

12 And the children of Israel againe committed wickednesse in the sight of the Lord: and the Lord strengthened Eglon the king of the Moabites, against the children of Israel, because they had committed wickednesse before the Lord.

13 And this Eglon gathered vnto him the children of Ammon, and the Amalekites, and went and smote Israel, and possessed the city of Palme trees.

14 And so the childre of Israel serued Eglon the king of Moab eighteene yeeres.

15 But when they cryed vnto the Lord, the Lord stirred them by a saviour, Ahud the sonne of Gera, the sonne of Jemini, a man lame of his right hand: and by whom the children of Israel sent a present vnto Eglon the king of Moab.

16 But Ahud made him a dagger with two edges, of a cubite length, and he digged it vnto his rayment, vpon his right thigh, 17 And carried the present vnto Eglon the king of Moab: and Eglon was a very fat man.

18 And when he had presented the present, he sent the people that bare it, away.

19 But hee himselfe turned againe from the place of grauen images that was by Gilgal, and said, I haue a secret errand vnto thee, O king: which sayd, Keepe silence. And all that stood before him, went out from him.

20 And Ahud came vnto him, and in a Sommer parler which he had, sate hee himselfe alone: And Ahud said, I haue a message vnto thee from God. And he arose out of his seat.

21 And Ahud put forth his left hande, and took the dagger from his right thigh, and thrust it into his belly.

22 And the haft went in after the blade: and the fatte closed the haft, so that hee might not drawe the dagger out of his belly, but the dirt came out.

23 Then Ahud gate him out into the porch, and shut the doores of the parler vpon him, and locked them.

24 When hee was gone out, his seruants came: and when they saw that the doores of the parler were locked, they sayd, Surely hee couereth his feet in his sommer chamber.

25 And they taried till they were ashamed: and seeing hee opened not the doores of the parler, they tooke a keye, and opened them: and beholde, their lord was fallen downe dead on the earth.

26 And Ahud escaped while they taried, and was gone beyond, to the place of the grauen images, and escaped vnto Berath.

27 And when he was come, hee blew a trumpet in mount Ephraim, and the children of 29 And they slew of the Moabites the same time about ten thousand men, which were all fat, and men of warre, and there escaped not a man.

30 So Moab was subdued that day vnder the hand of Israel, and the lande had rest foure score yeres.

31 After him was Samgar the sonne of Anath, which slue of the Philistines fire hundred men with an oxe goad, & deliuered Israel also.

The iiii. Chapter.

4 Debora iudgeth Israel, and exhorteth Barac to deliuer the people. 16 Sifera fleeth, 17 and is killed by Iael.

And the children of Israel began againe to doe wickedly in the sight of the Lord, when Ahud was dead.

2 And the Lord sold them into the hand of Jabin king of Chanaan, that reigned in Hazor, whose captaine of warre was called Sifera, which dwelt in Harofeth of the Gentiles.

3 And the children of Israel cryed vnto the Lord, for he had nine hundred charrets of yron: and twenty yeres he troubled the children of Israel very sore.

4 And Debora a prophetesse, the wife of Lapidoth, iudgeth Israel the same time.

5 And the same Debora dwelt vnder a palm tree, betweene Ramath and Bethel, in mount Ephraim: and the children of Israel came by to her for iudgement.

6 And she sent and called Barac the sonne of Abinoam, out of Kedesh Nephthali, and said vnto him, Hath not the Lord God of Israel commanded, saying, Goe, and draw toward mount Chabor, and take with thee ten thousand men of the children of Nephthali, and of the children of Zabulon?

7 And I will bring vnto thee to the riuer Kison, Sifera the captaine of Jabin's armie, with his charrets, and his people, and will deliuer him into thine hands.

8 And Barac said vnto her, If thou wilt go with mee, I will go: but and if thou wilt not come with me, I will not goe.

9 She said, I will surely goe with thee, but this iourney that thou takest, shall not bee for thine honour: for the Lord shall deliuer Sifera into the hand of a woman. And Debora arose, and went with Barac to Kedesh.

10 And Barac called Zabulon and Nephthali to Kedesh, and led after him ten thousand men: and Debora went with him.

11 But Haber the Kenite, which was of the children of Hobab, the father in lawe of Moses, remooued from the Kenites, and pitched his tent vnto the plaine of Zaaurain, which is by Kedesh.

12 And they shewed Sifera, that Barac the sonne of Abinoam was gone by to mount Chabor.

13 And Sifera gathered together all his charets, euen nine hundred charrets of iron, and all the people that were with him, from Harofeth of the Gentiles, vnto the riuer of Kison.

14 And Debora sayd vnto Barac, vsp, for this is the day in which the Lord hath deliuered Sifera into thine hand: is not the Lorde gone out before thee? And so Barac went downe from mount Chabor, and tenne thousand men after him.

15 But the Lord destroyed Sifera and all his charrets, and all his hoste with the edge of the sword, before Barac: so that Sifera lighted downe off his charret, and fled away on his feete.

16 But Barac followed after the charrets, and after the hoste vnto Harofeth of the Gentiles, & all the hoste of Sifera fell vpon the edge of the sword, and there was not a man left.

17 Howbeit Sifera fled away on his feete, to the tent of Iael the wife of Haber the Kenite (for there was peace betweene Jabin the king of Hazor, and the household of Haber the Kenite.)

18 And Iael went out to meete Sifera, and said vnto him, Turne in, my lord, turne in to me, feare not. And when hee had turned in vnto her into her tent, shee couered him with a mantell.

19 And he said vnto her, Giue me, I pray thee, a little water to drinke, for I am thirstie. And shee opened a bottel of milke, & gaue him drinke, and couered him.

20 And againe he said vnto her, Stand in the doore of the tent, and when any man doth come and enquire of thee whether there bee any man here, thou shalt say, Nay.

21 Then Iael Habers wife, tooke a nail of the tent, and an hammer in her hand, and went softly vnto him, and smote the nail into the temples of his head, and fastened it into the ground: (for hee slumbred sore, and was weary) and so he died.

22 And behold, as Barac followed after Sifera, Iael came out to meete him, and said vnto him, Come, and I will shew thee the man whom thou seekest. And when hee came into her tent, behold, Sifera lay dead, and the nail was in his temples.

23 And so God brought Jabin the king of Chanaan into subiection that day, before the children of Israel.

24 And the hande of the children of Israel prospered, & preuailed against Jabin the king of Chanaan, vntill they had destroyed Jabin king of Chanaan.

The v. Chapter.

The song and thankgiuing of Debora and Barac after the victorie.

Debora, & Barac the sonne of Abinoam, sang the same day, saying,

2 Praise ye the Lord, for the auenging of Israel, and for the people that became so willing.

3 Heare, O ye kings, hearken, O ye princes: I, euen I will sing vnto the Lord, I will sing praise to the Lord God of Israel.

7 The inhabitantes of the towne were gone, they were gone in Israel, vntill Deborah came by, which came by a mother in Israel.

8 They chose newe gods, and then had they the enemy in the gates: was there a thiele or speare seene among fourtie thousand of Israel?

11 For the noyse of the Archers among the drawers of water ceased, there shall they speake of the righteousnesse of the Lord, his righteousnesse in his fenced towne in Israel: then shall the people of the Lord goe downe to the gates.

12 Up Deborah, by: get thee by, and sing a song: arise Barac, and leade the captiuitie captiue, thou sonne of Abinoam.

13 Then shall they that remaine, haue dominion of the proudest of the people: the Lord hath giuen the dominion ouer the mightie.

14 Out of Ephraim was there a roote of them against Amalek, and after thee Benjamin among thy people: Out of Machir came rulers, and out of Zabulon they that handle the pen of the writer.

15 And of Isachar there were princes with Deborah, and Isachar, and also Barac hee was sent on foot into the balley: for the diuisions of Ruben, were great thoughts of heart.

20 They fought from heauen, even the stars in their courses fought against Sisara.

21 The ruler of Kison swept them away, that ancient ruler, the ruler Kison: O my soule, thou hast marched valiantly.

22 Then were the horse hooles smitten asunder, by the meanes of the prauunings that their mightie men made.

23 Curse ye the tribe of Meros (said the Angel of the Lord) curse the inhabitants thereof: because they came not to helpe the Lord, to helpe the Lord against the mightie.

24 Jacl the wife of Iaber the Kenite, shall be blessed aboue other women, blessed shall shee be aboue other women in the tent.

25 He asked water, and he gaue him milke, he brought forth butter in a lordly dish.

right hand to the Smithes hammer: with the hammer smote he Sisara, and smote his head, wounded him, and pearced his temples.

27 He bowed him downe at her feete, he fell downe, and lay still at her feete, he bowed himselfe, and fell: and when he had sunkie downe, he lay there destroyed.

28 The mother of Sisara looked out at a window, and cryed thowow the lattesse, why is his charet so long a coming? why tary the wheelles of his charets?

29 All the wise ladies answered her, yea and her owne words answered her selfe, 30 Surely they haue found, they diuide the spoiles, euery man hath a damsell or two: Sisara hath a pray of diuers coloured garmentes, euen a pray of raiment dyed with sundry colours, and that are made of needle worke: raiment of diuers colours, and of needle worke on both sides, which is meete for him that is chiefe in distributing of the spoyle.

31 So perish all thine enemies, O Lord: but they that loue him, let them be as the sunne when he ariseth in his might. And the land had rest fourtie yeeres.

The vi. Chapter.

1 Israel is oppressed of the Madianites for their wickednesse. 14 Gedeon is sent to be their deliuerer. 37 He asked a signe.

AND the children of Israel committed wickednesse in the sight of the Lord: and the Lord deliuered them into the hands of Madian seven yeeres.

2 And the hand of Madian preuailed against Israel: and because of the Madianites, the children of Israel made them dens in the mountaines, and caues, and strong holdes.

3 And when Israel had sowed, then came by the Madianites, the Amalekites, and they of the East, and came by against them.

4 And pitched their tents against them, and destroyed the increase of the earth, til thou come vnto Azah, and left no sustenance for Israel, neither sheepe, ore, nor asse:

5 For they went by, they and their cattell, and came with their tents, as a multitude of Grasshoppers, so that both they and also their camels were without number: and they entred into the land to destroy it.

6 And so was Israel exceedingly impouertised in the sight of the Madianites, and cryed vnto the Lord.

7 And when the children of Israel cryed vnto the Lord, because of the Madianites,

8 The Lord sent vnto the Prophet, which said vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, I set you from Egypt, and brought you out of the house of bondage.

9 And I rid you out of the hand of the Egyptians, and out of the hand of all that oppressed you, and cast them out before you, and gaue you their land:

10 And I said vnto you, I am the Lord your God, feare not the gods of the Amorites in whose land you dwell: But you haue not obeyed my voyce.

11 And the Angel of the Lord came, and late vnder an Oke which was in Ephrah, that pertained vnto Joas the father of the Gittites: and b For feare of the enemies. c Because he did the aucteritie and power that God gaue her, for the death of her people, and not to suppress them after the manner of tyrants. d Hee is greater than those which were hindered in the executing of their office, and marchants that shall dwell not further from this to come. e A certaine place, much oppressed with the enemies, in a place used for marching, to the which for feare of the enemies there was a fence made. f From the enemies of like used to this with upon, and to endanger. g In this remaining up of the intention of this victorie, hee bringeth with her selfe, as a roote of Ephraim, and called the Chanaanites. his sonne Gedeon threshed wheate by the winepress, to hide it from the Madianites.

12 And the Angel of the Lord appeared vnto him, and said vnto him, The Lord is with thee thou mightie man.

13 And Gedeon answered him, Oh my Lord, if the Lord be with vs, why is all this come vpon vs? Pea, and where be all his miracles which our fathers told vs of, and said, Did not the Lord bring vs out of Egypt? but now the Lord hath forsaken vs, and deliuered vs into the hands of the Madianites.

14 And the Lord looked vpon him, and said,
Goe hence in this thy might, and thou shalt deli-uier Israel out of the hands of the Madianites:
haue not I sent thee?

15 And he answered him, Oh Lord, wherewith shall I saue Israel? behold, my hired is || poore in Danasse, and I am least in my fathers house.

16 The Lord said vnto him, I will be with thee, and thou shalt smite the Madianites as they were but one man.

17 And hee answered him, Oh, if I haue found grace in thy sight, then shew me a<sup>n</sup> signe, that it is thou that talkest with me:

18 Depart not hence, I pray thee, vntill I come vnto thee, and till I bring mine offering, and haue set it before thee. And he said, I will tary vntill thou come againe.

19 And Gedeon went in, and made ready a suld, and sweete cakes of an Ephah of flour, and put it with the flesh in a basket, & put the broth in a pot, and brought it out vnto him vnder the Dake, and presented it.

20 And the Angell of God sayde vnto him,
Take the flesh and the sweete cakes, and lay them vpon this rocke, and powre out the broth. And he did so.

21 Then the Angel of the Lord put forth the end of the staffe that he helde in his hand, and touched the flesh, and the sweete cakes, and there rose by fire out of the rocke, and consumed the flesh and the sweete cakes: but the angel of the Lord departed out of his sight.

22 And when Gedeon perceiued that it was an Angel of the Lord, he said, Alas, O Lord God, haue I therefore seene an Angel of the Lord face to face, that I should die?

23 And the Lord said vnto him, Peace be vnto thee, feare not, thou shalt not die.

24 Then Gedeon made an altar there vnto the Lord, and called it, The Lord of peace. And vnto this day it is yet in Ephrah, that perteineth vnto the father of the Etrites.

25 And the same night the Lord said vnto him, Take thy fathers young bullocke, and another bullocke of seuen yeeres old, and<sup>2</sup> destroy the altar of Baal that thy father hath, and cut downe
the groue that is by it:

26 And make an altar vnto the Lord thy God vpon the toppe of this rocke, in a conuenient place, and take the second bullocke, and offer whole burnt sacrifices vpon the wood of the groue which thou shalt cut downe.

27 Then Gedeon tooke ten men of his ser-uants, and did as the Lord had bid him: But because hee feared to doe it by day, for his fathers household, and the men of the citie, he did it by night.

28 And when the men of the citie arose early in the morning, behold the altar of Baal was broken, and the groue cut downe that was by it, and the second bullocke offered vpon the altar that was made.

29 And they said one to another, Who hath done this thing? And when they enquired and asked, they said, Gedeon the sonne of Joas hath done this thing.

30 Then the men of the citie said vnto Joas, Bring out thy sonne, that he may die: because he hath destroyed the altar of Baal, & cut downe
the groue that was by it.

31 And Joas said vnto all that stood by him,
Will ye pleade<sup>m</sup> Baals cause? or wil ye saue him?
He that will contend for him, let him die per the morning: if he be a God, let him pleade for himselfe, against him that hath cast down his altar.

32 And from that day was Gedeon called Jerobaal: because his father had said, Let Baal plead for himselfe, because he hath broken down his altar.

33 All the Madianites therefore, and the A-malechites, and they of the East were gathered together, and went, and pitched in the valley of Jezrael.

34 But the spirit of the Lord came vpon Gedeon, and hee blew a trumpet, and<sup>n</sup> Abiczer was ioynd with him.

35 And hee sent messengers throughout all Danasse, which also was ioynd with him, and hee sent messengers vnto Aser, Zabulon,
Nephthali, and they came to meete them.

36 And Gedeon said vnto them, If thou wilt saue Israel by mine hand, as thou hast said,

37 Behold, I will put a fleece of wooll in the threshing place: and if the dewe come on the fleece onely, and it be drie vpon all the earth beside, then shall I be sure that thou wilt saue Israel by my hand, as thou saidest.

38 And it came so to passe: for he rose by early on the morow, and thrust the fleece together, and wroong the dewe thereout, and filled a boule of water.

39 * And Gedeon said againe vnto God, Bee not angry with mee that I speake once more, for I will proue once againe by the fleece. Let it be drie onely vpon the fleece, and dewe vpon all the ground.

40 And God did so that same night: for it was drie vpon the fleece onely, and there was dew on all the ground.

02 be afraine, let him returne and depart carely from mount Gilcad: and there returned of the people tventie and two thousand, and there abode ten thousand.

4 And the Lord said vnto Gedeon. The people are yet too many: bring them downe vnto the water, and I will trie them vnto thee there: and of whom I say vnto thee, This shal go with thee: the same shal go with thee. And of whom soeuer I say vnto thee, This shall not goe with thee: the same shall not goe.

5 So he brought downe the people vnto the water: and the Lord said vnto Gedeon, As many as lay the water with their tongues as a dog lappeth, them put by themselves, and so doe them that kneele downe vpon their knees to drinke.

6 And the number of them that put their hands to their mouthes, and lapped, were three hundred men: but all the remnant of the people kneeled downe vpon their knees to drinke water.

7 And the Lord sayde vnto Gedeon, By these three hundred men that lapped, will I save you, and deliuer the Madianites into thine hand, and let all the other people goe every man vnto his place.

8 They therefore of the people tooke victuals with them, and their trumpets: and he sent all the rest of Israel, every man vnto his tent, and retained those three hundred men: and the hoste of Madian was beneath him in a valley.

9 And the same night the Lord saide vnto him, Arise, get thee downe vnto the hoste, for I haue deliuered it into thine hand.

10 But if thou feare to goe downe, then goe thou and Phara thy lad downe to the host.

11 And thou shalt hearken what they say, and so shall thine hands be strong to goe downe vnto the host. Then went he downe, and Phara his lad, vnto the outside of the men of armes that were in the hoste.

12 And the Madianites, the Amalekites, and all they of the East, lay along in the balley like a multitude of grasshoppers, & their camels were without number, as the sand by the sea side in multitude.

13 And when Gedeon was come, beholde, there was a man that tolde a dreame vnto his neighbour, & said, Behold, I dreamed a dreame, and me thought that a cake of barley bread tumbled into the host of Madian, and came vnto a tent, and smote it that it fell, and ouerturned it, that the tent lay along.

14 And his fellow answered, and said, This is nothing els saue the sword of Gedeon the son of Joas, a man of Israel: for into his hand hath God deliuered Madian and all the hoste.

15 When Gedeon heard the telling of the dreame, and the interpretation of the same, he worshipped, and returned into the hoste of Israel, and said, say: for the Lord hath deliuered us into your hand the hoste of Madian.

16 And hee deuided the three hundred men into three companies, and gaue euery man a trumpet in his hand, with empty pitchers, and lappes therein.

17 And said vnto them, Looke on me, and do like wise: that when I come to the side of the hoste, euen as I doe, so doe you.

18 When I blowe with a trumpet, and all that are with me, blowe ye the trumpets also on euery side of the host, and say, For the Lord, and for Gedeon.

19 So Gedeon and the hundred men that were with him, came vnto the outside of the host in the beginning of the middle watch, and raised by the watchmen, and they blew with their trumpets, and brake the pitchers that were in their hands.

20 And the three companies blew with trumpets, and brake the pitchers, and hede the lamps in their left hands, and the trumpets in their right to blowe withal: and they cried, The sword of the Lord, and of Gedeon.

21 And they stood still euery man in his place round about the host: and all the hoste ran, and cried, and fled.

22 And the three hundred blew with trumpets, * and the Lord sent euery mans sword vpon his neighbour thowout all the hoste: and the host fled to Bathbaithan, to Zererath, and to the edge of the plaine of Heholah vnto Cabath.

23 And the men of Israel, being gathered together out of Sefphath, of Aser, and of all Manasses, followed after the Madianites.

24 And Gedeon sent messengers vnto all mount Ephraim, saying, Come downe against the Madianites, and take before them the waters vnto Bethbarath, and to Iordane. Then all the men of Ephraim gathered together, and tooke the waters vnto Bethbarath, and to Iordane.

25 * And they tooke two princes of the Madianites, Oreb and Zeb: and slew Oreb vpon the rocke Oreb, and Zeb at the winepresse of Zeb, and followed after Madian: and brought the heads of Oreb and Zeb to Gedeon on the other side Iordane.

AS the men of Ephraim said vnto him, Why hast thou serued vs thus, that thou calledst vs not when thou wentest to fight with the Madianites: And they chode him sharply.

2 And hee sayd vnto them, What deede haue I done like vnto yours? Is not the gleaming of the grapes of Ephraim, better then the vintage of Abiezer?

3 God hath deliuered into your hands the lords of Madian, Oreb and Zeb: and what was I able to doe like as you haue done? and then they left off their anger from him, when hee had said that.

4 And Gedeon came to Iordane, to passe ouer, hee and the three hundred men that were with him, weary, and yet followed the chafe.

5 And hee saide vnto the men of Succoth, Gue I pray you takes of bread vnto the people that follow me, for they be fainte, that I may follow after Zebah and Zalmana hirings of Madian.

6 And the lordes of Succoth said, Are the hands of Zebah and Zalmana nowe in thine hands, that wee should giue bread vnto thine arme.

7 Gedeon saide, Therefore when the Lord hath deliuered Zebah and Zalmana into mine hande, I will teare the fleshy of you with the thornes of the wildernesse, and with byers.

8 And he went by thence to Phanael, and spake vnto them likewise: and the men of Phanael answered him, as did the men of Sucoth.

9 And he said also vnto the men of Phanael, when I come againe in peace, I will breske do wite this towre.

10 Zebah and Zalmana were in Carcoz, and their hostis with them, vpon a fiftene thousand men, which were all that were left of all the hostis of them of the East: for there was slaine an hundred and twentie thousande men that dyed w swords.

11 * And Gedeon went through them that dwelt in tabernacles on the East side of Nobah, and Zegbahah, and smote the hoste: for the host did cast no perils.

12 And when Zebah and Zalmana fled, hee followed after them, and tooke the two kings of Madian, Zebah and Zalmana, and discomfated all the hoste.

13 And Gedeon the sonne of Joas, returned from battell afore the sunne was vp,

14 And caught a ladde of the men of Sucoth, and enquired of him: and hee wrote him of the lordis and elders of Sucoth threescore and seuen teene men.

15 And he came vnto the men of Sucoth, and said, Behold Zebah & Zalmana, with which ye did cast me in the creth, saying, Are the hands of Zebah & Zalmanah already in thine hand, that we should giue bread vnto thy faintie men?

16 And he tooke the elders of the citie, and thornes of the wildernesse, and byers, and did teare the men of Sucoth with them.

17 And he brake downe the towre of Phanael, and slew the men of the citie.

18 And then said he vnto Zebah and Zalmana, what maner of men were they whom ye slew at Chabor? And they answered, The likeness of thee and them is all one, euen after the fashion of the children of a king.

19 And he said, O. ye were my brethren, euen my mothers children: as truly as the Lord liueth, if ye had saued their liues, I would not slay you.

20 And he said vnto Jether his eldest sonne, ary, and slay them. But the lad dyed not his sword: for he feared, because he was yet yong.

21 Then Zebah and Zalmana said, Wile thou, and fall vpon vs: for as the man is, so is his strength. And Gedeon arose, and slew Zebah and Zalmana, and tooke away the ornaments that were on their camels neckes.

22 Then the men of Israel said vnto Gedeon, Reigne thou ouer vs, both thou, thy sonne, and thy sonnes sonne, for thou hast deliuered vs out of the hand of Madian.

23 And Gedeon said vnto them, I will not reigne ouer you, neither shall my child reigne ouer you: but the Lord shall reigne ouer you.

24 And againe Gedeon saide vnto them, I would desire a request of you, that you would giue me every man the earings of his pray. For they had golden care rings, because they were Ismaelites.

25 And they answered, wee will giue them. And they spred a mantell, and did cast therein every man the care rings of his pray.

26 And the weight of the golden care rings that he required, was a thousand & seuen hundred sicles of golde, beside chaines and iewels, and purple rayment that was on the kings of Madian, and beside the chains that were about their camels neckes.

27 And Gedeon made an Ephod thereof, and put it in his citie Ephrah: and all Israel went a whooring after it in the same place, which thing became a ruine vnto Gedeon, and to his house.

28 Thus was Madian brought lowe before the children of Israel, so that they lifted by their heads no moze: and the countrey was in quietnesse fourtie yeeres in the dayes of Gedeon.

29 And Jerobaal the sonne of Joas, went and dwelt in his owne house.

30 And Gedeon had threescore & ten sonnes of his body begotten: for he had many wiues.

31 And his concubine that was in Sichem bare him a sonne also, whose name he called Abimelech.

32 And Gedeon the sonne of Joas died in a good age, & was buried in the sepulchre of Joas his father in Ephrah, that pertained vnto the father of the Erites.

33 But as soone as Gedeon was dead, the children of Israel turned away, & went a whooring after Baalim, and made a covenant with Baal to be their god.

34 And the children of Israel thought not on the Lord their God, which had deliuered the out of the hands of all their enemies on euery side.

35 Neither shewed they mercie on the house of Jerobaal, otherwile called Gedeon, according to al the goodnesse which he had shewed vnto Israel.

The ix. Chapter.

1 Abimelech vsurpeth the kingdome, and putteth his brethren to death. 7 loatham propoleth a parable.

ABimelech the sonne of Jerobaal, went to Sichem, vnto his mothers brethren, & communed with them, and with al the kindred of the house of his mothers father, saying,

2 Say, I pray you, in the eares of all the men of Sichem, whether is better for you, that all the sonnes of Jerobaal (which are threescore and ten persons) reigne ouer you, either that one reigne ouer you? Remember that I am of your bone, and of your flesh.

3 And his mothers brethren spake of him in the audience of all the men of Sichem, all these wordes, and their hearts were moued to followe Abimelech: for they said, He is our brother.

4 And they gaue him threescore and ten pieces of siluer, out of the house of Baal Berith, wherewith Abimelech hired daine and light persons, which went with him.

5 And hee went vnto his fathers house at Ephrah, and slew his brethren the sonnes of Jerobaal, being threescore and ten persons, by or one stone: notwithstanding, yet Joatham the yongest sonne of Jerobaal escaped, for he hid himselfe.

6 And al the men of Sichem gathered together, and all the house of Dello, and came, and made Abimelech king, in the plaine where the fount was in Sichem.

7 And when they told it to Ioatham, he went and stood in the top of mount Garzim, and lift up his voyce, and cryed, and saide vnto them, Hearken vnto mee, you men of Sichem, that God may hearken vnto you.

8 The trees went forth to anoint a king ouer them, and said vnto the Oliue tree, Reigne thou ouer vs.

9 But the Oliue tree said vnto the, Should I leaue my fatnelle, where with by me they honour God and man, and goe to be promoted ouer the trees?

10 And the trees said to the figge tree, Come thou, and be king ouer vs.

11 The figge tree answered them, Should I forsake my sweetnesse, and my good fruit, and goe to be promoted ouer the trees?

12 Then said the trees vnto the vine, Come thou, and be king ouer vs.

13 The vine said vnto them, should I leaue my wine wherby I cheere both God and man, and goe to be promoted ouer the trees?

14 Then saide all the trees vnto the Byer, Come thou, and reigne ouer vs.

16 Now therefore, if ye doe truly and incorruptly to make Abimelech king, and if ye haue dealt wel with Jerobaal, and his house, and haue done vnto him according to the deseruing of his hands:

17 (For euen my father fought for you, and aduentured his life, and rid you out of the hand of Hadrian :

18 And yee are risen by against my fathers house this day, and haue slaine his children, being threelcore and ten persons, vpon one stone, & haue made Abimelech, the sonne of his maide seruant, king ouer the men of Sichem, because he is your brother:)

19 If yee then haue dealt truly and purely with Jerobaal, and with his house this day, then reioyce ye with Abimelech, and let him reioyce with you.

20 But if you haue not dealt truly, then let a fire come out of Abimelech, and consume the men of Sichem, and the house of Delo: and let there come out a fire from among the men of Sichem, and out of the house of Delo, and consume Abimelech.

21 And Ioatham ran away, and fled, and went to Beer, and dwelt there for feare of Abimelech his brother.

22 When Abimelech had reigned threeperez ouer Israel.

23 God sent an euill spirit betweene Abimelech and the men of Sichem: and the citizens of Sichem brake their promise to Abimelech:

24 That the wickednesse done to the threelcore and ten sonnes of Jerobaal, might come on him, and that God might lay the blood of them vnto Abimelech their brother which slew them, and vpon the other men of Sichem which aided him in the killing of his brethren.

25 And the citizens of Sichem set men to lay a waite for him in the toppes of the mountaines, which men robbed all that came along the way by them: and it was told Abimelech.

26 And Gaal the sonne of Obed came with his brethren, and they gate them to Sichem: and the men of Sichem put their confidence in him.

27 And they went out into the fieldes, and gathered in their grapes, and trode them, and made merrie, and went into the house of their god, and did eate and drinke, and curted Abimelech.

28 And Gaal the sonne of Obed sayde, what is Abimelech? and what is Sichem, that wee should serue him? Is not he the sonne of Jerobaal? and Zebul is his officer: serue such as come of Hemo: the father of Sichem: for what reason is it that we should serue him?

29 Would God this people were vnder my hand, then would I take Abimelech out of the way. And he spake against Abimelech, Make thine hoste greater, and goe out.

30 And when Zebul the ruler of the city heard the wordes of Gaal the sonne of Obed, he was wroth, 31 And sent messengers vnto Abimelech priuily, saying, Behold, Gaal the sonne of Obed, and his brethren, be come to Sichem, and behold, they fortifie the citie against thee.

32 Now therefore, by by night, thou and the people that is with thee, and lie in waite in the field.

33 And rise early in the morning as soone as the sunne is vp, and fall vpon the citie: And if he and the people that is with him come out against thee, doe to them what thine hands shall be able.

34 And Abimelech rose by, and all the people that were with him by night, and they laid a waite against Sichem in foure companies.

35 And Gaal the sonne of Obed went out, and stood in the entering of the gate of the citie: and Abimelech rose by, and the folke that were with him, from lying in waite.

36 And when Gaal saw the people, he sayd vnto Zebul, Beholde, there come people downe from the top of the mountaines. And Zebul said vnto him, The shadow of the hilles seeme men vnto thee.

37 And Gaal answered again, and said, See, there come folke downe by the middle of the land, and another companie come along by the plaine of the charmers.

38 Then said Zebul vnto him, where is now thy mouth that said, what fellow is Abimelech, that we should serue him? Is not this the people that thou hast despised? Goe out now, and fight with them.

39 And Gaal went out before the citizens of Sichem, and fought with Abimelech.

40 And Abimelech chased him, that he fled before him, and many were ouerthrowen & wounded, euen vnto the entering of the gate.

41 And Abimelech dwelt at Arimath: and Zebul thrust out Gaal and his brethren, that they should not dwell in Sichem.

42 And on the morow the people went out into the field, and they told Abimelech.

43 And he tooke the people, and detided them into thre compnies, and laide a waite in the field, and looked, and beholde, the people were come out of the citie, and he ran vpon them, and smote them.

44 And Abimelech, and the companies that were with him, rushed forward, and stood in the entering of the gate of the city: and the two other companies ranne upon all the people that were in the fields, and slew them.

45 And when Abimelech had fought against the citie all that day, he tooke it, and slew the people that was therein, and destroyed the citie, and sowed salt in it.

46 And when all the men of the towre of Sichem heard that, they entered into an hold of the house of the god Berith, 47 And it was tolde Abimelech, that all the men of the towre of Sichem were gathered together.

48 And Abimelech gate him to mount Zelmon, both he and all the people that were with him, and tooke axes with him, and cut downe boughs of trees, and tooke them, and bare them on his shoulder, & saide vnto the folke that were with him, what yee haue seene me doe, speede your selues, and doe likewise as I haue done.

49 And all the men that were among the people cut downe boughes, and followed Abimelech, and put them into the hold, and set the hold asure by them: so that all the men of the towre of Sichem died also, vpon a thousand men and women.

50 Then went Abimelech to Thebez, and besieged it, and tooke it.

51 But there was a strong towre within the citie, and thither ranne all the men and women, and all the chiefe that were in the citie, and shut it to them, and gate them by to the toppc of the towre.

52 And Abimelech came vnto the towre, and fought against it, and went hard vnto the doore of the towre, to let it on fire.

53 *And a certaine woman cast a piece of a millstone vpon his head, and all to brake his braine pan.

54 Then Abimelech called hastily vnto the yong man that bare his harnesse, and said vnto him, Drawe thy sword, and slay mee, that men say not of me, A woman slew him: and his lad thrust him through, and he died.

55 And when the men of Israel saw that Abimelech was dead, they departed euery man vnto his owne house.

56 Thus God rendred the wickednesse of Abimelech which he did vnto his father, in slaying his seuentie brethren.

57 And thereto all the wickednes of the men of Sichem, did God bring vpon their heads: and vpon them came the curse of Joatham the sonne of Jerobaal.

The x. Chapter.

2 Thola dyeth. 5 Iair also dieth. 7 The Israelites are punished for their finnes. 10 They cry vnto God, 16 and he hath pitie on them.

After Abimelech, there arose to defende Israel, Thola the sonne of Phuah, the sonne of Dodo, a man of Issachar, which dwelt in Samir in mount Ephraim.

2 And he iudged Israel twentie and thre peeres, and died, and was buried in Samir.

3 And after him arose Iair a Gileadite, and iudged Israel twentie and two peeres.

4 And hee had thirtie sonnes that rode on thirtie alle coltes, and they had thirtie cities, which are called Hauoth Iair vnto this day, and are in the land of Gilead.

5 And Iair died, and was buried in Camon.

6 And the children of Israel wrought wickednesse yet againe in the sight of the Lord, and serued Baalim and Asaroth, and the gods of Syzzia, the gods of Sidon, and the gods of Moab, the gods of the children of Ammon, and the gods of the Philistines, and forsooke the Lord, and serued not him.

7 And the Lord was wroth with Israel, and he sold them into the hands of the Philistines, and into the hands of the children of Ammon.

8 Which from that yere forth, pilld and oppressed the children of Israel eightene peeres, all that were on the other side Iordane, in the land of the Amozites, which is in Gilead.

9 Moreover, the children of Ammon went ouer Iordan, to fight against Iuda, Benjamin, and the house of Ephraim, so that Israel was sore cumberd.

10 And the children of Israel cryed vnto the Lord, saying, We haue sinned against thee, for we haue forsaken our owne God, and haue serued Baalim.

11 And the Lord said vnto the children of Israel, Did not I rid you from the Egyptians, and from the Amozites, from the children of Ammon, and from the Philistines?

12 The Sidonites also, and the Amalekites, and the Moabites did oppresse you, and ye cryed to me, and I deliuered you out of their hands.

13 And for all that ye haue forsaken me, and serued strange gods: wherefore I wil helpe you no more.

14 Goe, and cry vnto the gods which ye haue chosen, and let them saue you in the time of your tribulation.

15 And the children of Israel sayd vnto the Lord, We haue sinned, doe thou vnto vs whatsoever pleaseth thee, deliuer vs onely, wee pray thee, this day.

16 And they put away the strange gods from them, and serued the Lord: and his soule had pitie on the miserie of Israel.

17 Then the children of Ammon gathered together, and pitched in Gilead: and the children of Israel gathered them together, and pitched in Hishpah.

18 *And the people and lords of Gilead sayde ech to other, whofoeuer will begin the battell against the children of Ammon, the same shall be head ouer all the inhabitants of Gilead.

4 And in procelle of time, the children of Ammon made warre against Israel.

5 And when the children of Ammon fought thus against Israel, the elders of Gilead went to fetch Jephthah out of the land of Tob.

6 And said vnto him, Come, and be our captaine, that wee may fight with the children of Ammon.

7 Jephthah answered the Elders of Gilead, Did not ye hate me, and expell me out of my fathers house? how then come you vnto me now in time of your tribulation?

8 And the Elders of Gilead sayd vnto Jephthah, Therefore we turne againe to thee now, that thou mayest goe with vs, and fight against the children of Ammon, and be our head ouer all the inhabitants of Gilead.

9 And Jephthah said vnto the elders of Gilead, If ye bring me home againe to fight against the children of Ammon, then if the Lord deliuer them before me, shall I be your head?

10 And the elders of Gilead sayde to Jephthah, The Lord be witness betweene vs, if we doe not according to thy words.

11 Then Jephthah went with the Elders of Gilead, and the people made him head and captaine ouer them: and Jephthah rehearsed al his words before the Lord in Mizpah.

12 And Jephthah sent messengers vnto the king of the children of Ammon, saying, what hast thou to doe with me, that thou art come against me to fight in my land?

13 The king of the children of Ammon answered vnto the messengers of Jephthah, * Because Israel tooke away my lande when they came out of Egypt, euen from Arnon vnto Jabok, and vnto Iordane: now therefore restore thole lands againe with faire meanes.

14 And Jephthah sent messengers againe vnto the children of Ammon:

15 And said vnto him, Thus saith Jephthah, Israel tooke not away the land of Moab, nor the land of the children of Ammon:

16 But when Israel came by from Egypt, and walked through the wilderness vnto the red sea, they came to Cades:

17 And Israel sent messengers vnto the king of Edom, saying, Let me, I pray thee, goe thorow thy land. But the king of Edom would not agree thereto: And in like maner they sent vnto the king of Moab, but hee would not consent: and Israel abode still in Cades.

18 And the they went along through the wilderness, & compassed the land of Edom, and the land of Moab, and came along by the East side of the land of Moab, & pitched on the other side of Arnon, and would not come within the coast of Moab: for Arnon was the border of Moab.

19 And then Israel sent messengers vnto Sehon king of the Amorites, & king of Hesbon, and said vnto him, Let vs passe, wee pray thee, thorow thy land, vnto our owne countrey.

20 But Sehon consented not to Israel, that he should goe thorow his coast: but gathered all his people together, and pitched in Jaza, and fought with Israel.

21 And the Lord God of Israel deliuered Sehon and all his folke into the handes of Israel, and they smote them: so Israel smote them, and possessed all the land of the Amorites, the inhabitants of that countrey.

22 And they possessed all the coastes of the Amorites, from Arnon vnto Jabok, and from the wilderness vnto Iordane.

23 So now seeing the Lord God of Israel hath cast out the Amorites before his people Israel, shouldest thou possesse it?

24 Nay, but what people Camos thy god driueth out, that land possesse thou: Euen so, whatsoever nation the Lord our God expelleth before vs, that land ought we to enioy.

25 And art thou better then Baalac the sonne of Sephor king of Moab? Did he not strue with Israel, and fight against them, 27 Wherefore I haue not sinned against thee, but thou doest me wrong to warre against mee: the Lord therefore which is a iudge, bee iudge this day betwene the children of Israel, and the children of Ammon.

28 Howbeit, the king of the children of Ammon hearkened not vnto the words of Jephthah which he sent him.

29 Then the Spirit of the Lord came vpon Jephthah, and he passed ouer to Gilead, and to Danasse, & came to Mizpah, that lyeth in Gilead, & from thence vnto the children of Ammon.

30 And Jephthah bowed a bowe vnto the Lord, and said, If thou shalt deliuer the children of Ammon into my hands, 31 Then that thing that cometh out of the doozes of my house against me, when I come in peace from the children of Ammon, shall bee the Lords, and I will offer it by for a whole burnt offering.

32 And so Jephthah went vnto the children of Ammon, to fight against them, and the Lord deliuered them into his hands.

33 And hee smote them from Aroer, till thou come to Dennith, euen twenty cities, and so forth to the plaine of the bincyards, with an exceeding great slaughter: and thus the children of Ammon were brought vnder before the children of Israel.

34 When Jephthah came to Mizpah vnto his house, see, his daughter came out against him with timbrels and dances, which was his onely childe: so that beside her hee had neither sonne nor daughter.

35 And when he saw her, he rent his clothes, and sayd, Alas, my daughter, thou hast brought me lowe, and art one of them that troubleth me: for I haue opened my mouth vnto the Lord, and cannot goe backe.

36 And she said vnto him, My father, if thou haue opened thy mouth vnto the Lord, then doe with me according to it that proceeded out of thy mouth: forasmuch as the Lord hath auenged thee of thine enemies the children of Ammon.

37 And she said vnto her father, do thus much for me: Let me alone two moneths, that I may goe to the mountaines, and bewaile my virginity, I, and my fellowes.

38 And he said, Goe. And hee sent her away two moneths, and so shee went with her companions, and lamented her maidenhead vpon the mountaines.

6 Jephthah killeth two and fourty thousand Ephraimites. 8 After Jephthah succedeth Ibzan, 11 Elon, 13 and Abdon.

And the men of Ephraim gathered themselves together, and went Northward, and sayd vnto Jephthah, wherefore wentest thou to fight against the children of Ammon, and diddest not call vs to goe with thee? wee will therefore burne thine house vpon thee with fire.

2 And Jephthah sayd vnto them, I and my people were at great strife with the children of Ammon: and when I called you, ye deliuered me not out of their hands.

3 And when I saw that ye deliuered me not, I put my life in my hands, and went vpon the children of Ammon, & the Lorde deliuered them into my hands: wherefore then are ye come vpon me now, to fight against me?

4 Jephthah therefore gathered together all the men of Gilead, and fought with the Ephraimites: and the men of Gilead smote the Ephraimites, because they sayd, Wee Gileadites are but runagates of Ephraim, among the Ephraimites, and the Manassites.

5 Moreover, the men of Gilead tooke the passages of Iordane before the Ephraimites: and when those Ephraimites that were escaped, sayd, Let mee goe ouer: then the men of Gilead sayde vnto him, Art thou an Ephraimite? If hee sayd, Nay:

6 Then said they vnto him, Then say Sibboleth. And he sayd, Sibboleth: for he could not so pronounce. And then they tooke him, and slew him at the passages of Iordane: and there were overthrowen at that time of the Ephraimites, fortie and two thousand.

1 Israel for their wickednesse is oppressed of the Philistines. 3 The Angel appeareth to Manoahs wife. 16 The Angel commaunded him to sacrifice vnto the Lord. 24 The birth of Samson.

And the children of Israel began againe to commit wickednes in the sight of the Lord, and the Lord deliuered them into the hands of the Philistines fortie yeeres.

2 And there was a man in Zorah, of the kindred of Dan, named Manoah, whose wife was barren, and bare not.

3 And the Angel of the Lord appeared vnto the woman, and said vnto her, Behold now thou art barren, and bearest not: but thou shalt conceive and beare a sonne.

4 And now therefore beware that thou drinke no wine, nor strong drinke, neither eate any vncleane thing:

5 For loe, thou shalt conceive and beare a sonne, and there may no razor come on his head, for the lad shall bee a Nazarite vnto God from his birth: and hee shall begin to saue Israel out of the hands of the Philistines.

6 Then the wife came, and told her husband, saying, A man of God came vnto mee, and the fashion of him was like the fashion of an Angel of God, exceeding fearefull: but I asked him not to vntouch mee, neither tolde hee mee his name:

7 But said vnto mee, Behold, thou shalt be with child and beare a sonne, and now drinke no wine nor strong drinke, neither eate any vncleane thing: for the lad shall bee a Nazarite to God from his birth, to the day of his death.

8 Then Manoah made intercession to the Lord, and said, I pray thee my Lord, let the man of God which thou sendest, come againe vnto vs, and teach vs what we shall do vnto the lad when he is bozne.

9 And God heard the voice of Manoah, and the Angel of God came againe vnto the wife as shee sate in the field: But Manoah her husband was not with her.

10 And the wife made haste, and ranne and she wed her husband, and said vnto him, Behold, the man appeared vnto me, that came vnto mee to day.

11 And Manoah arose, and went after his wife, and came to the man, and sayd vnto him, Art thou the man that spakest vnto the woman? And he sayd, I am.

12 Manoah sayd, now let thy saying come to passe: How shall we order the childe, and doe vnto him?

13 And the Angel of the Lord said vnto Manoah, The woman must abstaine from all that I said vnto her:

14 Shee may eate of nothing that commeth of the vine tree, nor drinke wine or strong drinke, nor eate any vncleane thing: but must obserue all that I bade her.

15 Manoah said vnto the Angel of the Lord, I pray thee let vs retaine thee, vntill wee haue made ready a kid before thee.

2 Samson desireth to haue a wife of the Philistines.

6 He killeth a Lion. 12 He propoundeth a riddle

19 He killeth thirtie. 20 His wife forsaketh him, and taketh another.

Samson went downe to Chamnah, and saw a woman in Chamnah, of the daughters of the Philistines:

2 And he came by, and told his father, and his mother, and said, I haue seene a woman in Chamnah, of the daughters of the Philistines: and now I giue me her to wife.

3 Then his father and mother sayd vnto him, Is there neuer a woman among the daughters of thy brethren, and among all my people, but that thou must goe and take a wife of the uncircumcised Philistines? And Samson said vnto his father, Sitte mee this woman, for she pleaseth me well.

4 But his father and mother will not that it was the Lords doing, and that hee sought an occasion against the Philistines: for at that time the Philistines reigned ouer Israel.

5 When went Samson, and his father, and his mother, downe to Chamnah, and came to the vineyards of Chamnah: and behold, a yong Lion roared vpon him.

6 And the spirit of the Lord came vpon him, and he tare him as he would haue rent a kid, and yet had nothing in his hand: neither told his father and mother what he had done.

7 And he went downe and talked with the woman, which seemed wellfaouered in the sight of Samson.

8 And within a short space after, as he went thither againe to take her to wife, he turned out of the way to see the carkeise of the Lion: and behold, there was a swarme of Bees and honie in the carkeise of the Lion.

9 And hee tooke thereof in his hands, and went eating, and came to his father and mother and gaue them also, and they did eate: but hee told not them that he had taken the honie out of the carkeise of the Lion.

10 And so his father went downe vnto the woman, and Samson made there a feast: for so bled the yong men to doe.

11 And when they sawe him, they brought thirtie companions to be with him.

12 And Samson said vnto them, I will now put forth a riddle vnto you, and if you can declare it me within seuen dayes of the feast, and find it out, I will giue you thirtie sheetes, and thirtie change of garments:

13 But if you cannot declare it me, then shall ye giue me thirtie sheets, and thirtie change of garments. And they answered him, Put forth thy riddle, that we may heare it.

14 And hee sayd vnto them, Out of the eater came meate, and out of the strong came sweetness. And they could not in thre dayes expound the riddle.

15 And when the seuenth day was come, they said vnto Samsons wife, Entice thine husband, that he may declare vs the riddle, lest wee burne thee a thy fathers house with fire: haue ye called vs hither, to make vs beggers: is it not so?

16 And Samsons wife wept before him, and said, Surely thou hatest me, and louest me not: for thou hast put forth a riddle vnto the children of my folke, and hast not told it me. And hee sayd vnto her, Behold, I haue not tolde it my father and my mother, and shall I tell it thee?

17 And Samsons wife wept before him seuen dayes while the feast lasted: and the seuenth day he told her, because she lay so close vpon him: and she tolde the riddle to the children of her folke.

18 And the men of the cite said vnto him the seuenth day before the Sun went downe, what is sweeter then hony? and what is stronger then a Lion? Then said he vnto them, If ye had not plowed with my heifer, ye had not found out my riddle.

19 And the spirit of the Lord came vpon him, and he went downe to Ascalon, and slewe thirtie men of them, and spoiled them, and gaue change of garments vnto them which expounded the riddle: and he was wroth, and went by to his fathers house.

20 But Samsons wife was giuen to one of his companions that hee had taken vnto him.

12 And they sayde vnto him againe, wee are come to binde thee, and to deliuer thee into the hand of the Philistines. And Samson sayd vnto them, Swear vnto me, that ye shall not fall vpon me your selues.

16 And Samson sayde, with the iawe of an Ass, heapes vpon heapes, with the iawe of an Ass haue I slaine a thousand men.

17 And when he had left speaking, hee cast away the iaw bone out of his hand, and called the place Ramath Lehi.

18 And he was sore athirst, and called on the Lord, and said, Thou hast giuen this great victorie into the hand of thy seruant: and nowe I must die for thirst, and fall into the hands of the vncircumcised.

19 But God brake a great tooth that was in the iaw, and there came water therout, & when

1 Samson carrieth away the gates of Azzah. 18 He was deceiued by Dalila. 23 Hee pulleth downe the house vpon the Philistines, & dieth with them.

Then went Samson to Azzah, and saw there an harlot, and went in vnto her,

2 And it was tolde the Azzahites, saying, Samson is come hither. And they went about, and layd wayt for him there all night in the gate of the citie, and were still all the night, saying, In the morning when it is day, we shall kill him.

3 And Samson tooke his rest til midnight, and arose at midnight, and tooke the doozes of the gate of the citie, and the two postes, and rent them off, with the barre and all, and put them vpon his shoulders, and carried them bp to the top of an hill that is before Hebron.

4 And after this, he loued a woman by the riuer of Sozek, whose name was Dalila.

6 And Dalila sayd to Samson, Oh tell mee where thy great strength lyeth, and how thou mightest be bound, and brought vnder.

7 Samson answered vnto her, If they bind me with seuen greene withs that were neuer dyled, I shall be weake, and be as another man.

8 And then the lordes of the Philistines brought her seuen withes that were yet greene, and neuer dyled, and the bound him therewith.

9 (Notwithstanding, he had men lying in wayt with her in the chamber:) and she said vnto him, The Philistines be vpon thee, Samson. And immediatly hee brake the cordes, as a string of tow breaketh when it feeleth the fire: and so his strength was not knowen.

11 He answered her, If they binde me with new ropes that neuer were occupied, I shall be weake, and be as another man.

12 Dalila therefore tooke new ropes, and bound him therewith, and sayd vnto him, The Philistines be vpon thee, Samson. (And there were lvers in wayte in the chamber.) And hee brake them from his armes, as they had beene but a thread.

17 And so he told her all his heart, and sayde vnto her, There neuer came rasoz vpon mine head, for I haue bene a Nazarite vnto God from my mothers wombe: therefore when I am haueu, my strength will goe from me, and I shall waie weakie, and be like all other men.

18 And when Dalila saw that he had tolde her all his heart, she sent and called for the lords of the Philistines, saying, Come by yet this once, for he hath shewed me all his heart. Then the lords of the Philistines came by vnto her, and brought the money in their hands.

23 Then the lords of the Philistines gathered them together, for to offer a solemne offering vnto Dagon their god, and to reioice: for they said, Our god hath deliuered Samson our enemy into our hands.

24 And when the people saw him, they prayed their god: for they said, Our god hath deliuered into our hands our enemy, and destroyer of our countrey, which slew many of vs.

25 And when their hearts were merry, they said, Send for Samson, that he may make vs laugh. And they set Samson out of the prison house, and he played before them, and they set him betwene the pillars.

26 And Samson said vnto the lad that led him by the hand, Set me that I may touch the pillars that the house standeth vpon, and that I may leane to them.

27 And the house was full of men and women, and there were all the lords of the Philistines: and there were vpon the roose a thre thousand men and women, that behelde while Samson played.

28 And Samson called vnto the Lord, and said, O Lord God, I pray thee, thinke vpon me, and strengthen me, I beseech thee, at this time onely, O God, that I may be at once auenged of the Philistines for my two eyes.

29 And Samson caught the two middle pillars on which the house stood, and on which it was borne vp, the one in his right hand, and the other in his left.

30 And Samson said, My soule shall die with the Philistines, and bowed him with all his might, and the house fell vpon the lords, and vpon all the people that were therein: and to the dead which he slew at his death, were more then they which he slew in his life.

31 And then his brethren, and all the house of his father, came downe, and tooke him vp, and brought him, and buried him betwene Zarah and Etbaol, in the burying place of Manoah his father: and he iudged Israel twentie yeeres.

d Filled the hand.

e For the better sake of Gods name.

f Certain men in religion wander before Gods word, they think they please God, when in heart they are from him, and generally.

In those dayes there was no king in Israel, and in those dayes the tribe of Dan sought them an inheritance to dwell in: for vnto that time all their inheritance had not fallen vnto them among the tribes of Israel.

2 And the children of Dan sent of their hindered, five actiue men in seates of warre, out of their coasts, euen out of Zarahah, and Ethaol, to view the land, and to search it out, and said vnto them, Go, and search out the land, which when they came to mount Ephraim, to the house of Micah, they lodged there.

3 And when they were in the house of Micah, they knewe the voice of the young man the Leuite: and when they turned in thither, they sayd vnto him, Who brought thee hither: what makest thou in this place: and what hast thou here?

4 And hee answered them, Thus and thus dealeth Micah with me, and hath hyped me, and I am become his Priest.

5 And they sayde vnto him againe, Ake counsell now of God, that wee may know whether the way which we goe, shall be prosperous, or no.

6 And the Priest sayde vnto them, Goe in peace, for the Lorde guideth your way which ye goe.

7 Then the five men departed, and came to Laish, and saw the people that were therein, how they dwelt carelesse, after the manner of the Sidons, still, and without casting of perils, a that no man made any trouble in the land, or blurped any dominion: but were farre from the Sidons, and had no businesse with other men.

8 And they came againe vnto their brethren, to Zarahah, and Ethaol, and their brethren sayd vnto them, What haue ye done?

9 And they answered, Arise, that we may go vp against them: for wee haue seene the lande, surely a very good one: and doe yee sit still? We not slothful to goe and enter, to possesse the land.

10 If ye will goe, ye shall come vnto a people that calleth no perils, and it is a very large countrey, which God hath giuen into your hands, it is also a place that both lacke nothing that is in the world.

11 And there departed thence of the hindered of the Danites, out of Zarahah, and Ethaol, five hundred men, appoynted with instruments of warre.

12 And they went by, and pitched in Birath-iarim, which is in Iuda: wherefore they called the place || Bahanch-dan, vnto this day, and it is on the backe side of Birath-iarim.

13 And they went thence vnto mount Ephraim, and came vnto the house of Micah.

14 Then answered the five men that went to spye out the countrey of Laish, and sayde vnto their brethren, Note ye not that there is in these houses an Ephod, Theraphim, and a grauen image, and a molten image? Now therefore, consider what ye haue to doe.

15 And they turned thitherward, and came to the house of the young man the Leuite, euen vnto the house of Micah, and saluted him peaceably.

16 And the five hundred men girded with weapons of warre, which were of the children of Dan, stood by the entring of the gate.

17 And the five men that went to spye out the land, went in thither, and tooke the grauen Image, and the Ephod, Theraphim, and the molten image: (and the priest stood in the entring of the gate, with the five hundred men that were appoynted with weapons of warre.)

18 While the other went into Micahs house, and set the carued Image, the Ephod, Theraphim, and the molten image: then sayd the priest vnto them, What doe ye?

19 They answered him, Hold thy peace, lay thine hand vpon thy mouth, and come with vs to be our father and priest: Is it better for thee to bee a Priest vnto the house of one man, then to bee a Priest vnto a tribe or kindred in Israel?

20 And the Priestes heart was glad, and tooke the Ephod, and Theraphim, and the grauen Image, and went in the middelt of the people.

21 And they turned, and departed, and put the children, the cattel, and their other substance before them.

22 And when they were a good way from the house of Micah, the men that were in the houses neere to Micahs house, gathered together, and followed after the children of Dan.

23 And called vnto them: and they turned their faces, and sayd vnto Micah, What ayleth thee, that thou makest an outcrie?

24 And hee sayde, Yee haue taken a way my gods which I made, and also the Priest, and goe your wayes: and what haue I more? Howe then say ye vnto me, What ayleth thee?

25 And the children of Dan saide vnto him, Let not thy voyce be heard among vs, least angre fellowes run vpon thee, and thou loose thy life, with the liues of all thine household.

26 And the children of Dan went their way: and when Micah saw that they were too strong for him, hee turned, and went backe vnto his house.

26 And they tooke the things which Micah had made, and the Priest which hee had, and came vnto Laish, vnto a people that were at rest, and without mistrust, and smote them with the edge of the sword, and burnt the citie with fire.

28 And there was no man to helpe, because Laish was farre from Sidon, and they had no meddling with any other man: and it was in the halley that lyceth by Bethrethob.

29 And they built them there a citie, and dwelt therein, and called it Dan, after the name of Dan their father, which was bozne vnto Israel: notwithstanding the name of the citie was Laish at the beginning.

30 And the children of Dan set them by the grauen image: and Jonathan the sonne of Gerson, the sonne of Manasses, and his sonnes, were the priests in the tribe of Dan, vntill the day of the captiuitie of the land.

31 And they set them by the carued image, which Micah made, at the while that the house of God was in Silo.

Also in those dayes, when there was no king in Israel, a certain Leuite sojourning on the side of mount Ephraim, tooke to wife a concubine out of Bethlehem Juda:

2 And his concubine played the whoze by him, and went away from him vnto her fathers house to Bethlehem Juda, and there continued foure moneths.

3 And her husband arose, and went after her, to speake friendly vnto her, and to bring her againe, hauing his lad with him, & a couple of Asses: and he brought him vnto her fathers house, and when the father of the damsell sawe him, he reioyced of his comming.

4 And his father in law, the damselfs father, retayned him, and hee abode with him thre dayes: and so they did eat and drinke, and lodged there.

5 The fourth day when they arose early in the morning, the man stood by to depart: and the damselfs father sayd vnto his sonne in lawe, Comfort thine heart with a morsell of bzead, and then goe your way.

6 And they sate downe, and did eat & drinke both of them together: and the damselfs father sayd vnto the man, Be content, I pray thee, and tarie all night, and let thine heart be merry.

7 And when the man stood ready to depart, his father in law compelled him: therefore hee returned, and taried all night there.

8 And he rose by early the fift day to depart, & the damselfs father sayd, Comfort thine heart, I pray thee. And they taried vntil after mid day: and they did eat both of them together.

9 And when the man arose to depart with his concubine, and his lad, his father in law, the damselfs father, sayd vnto him, Behold, now the day goeth fall away, and draweth toward euen, I pray you tarie all night: behold, the Sunne goeth to rest, lodge heere, that thine heart may be merry: and to morow get you early vpon your way, that thou mayest get thee to thy tent.

10 Neuerthelesse, the man would not tary, but arose, and departed, and came as farre as Jebus (which is Hierusalem) and his two Asses laden, and his concubine with him.

11 And when they were fall by Jebus, the day was soze spent, and the yong man sayd vnto his master, Come, I pray thee, and let vs turne in into this cite of the Jebusites, and lodge all night there.

12 His master answered, Wee will not turne into a strange city, that are not of the children of Israel, we will goe forth to Gibe.

13 And he said vnto his lad, Go forward, and let vs draw nere to one of these places to lodge all night, either in Gibe, or in Rama.

14 And they went forward vpon their way, and the Sunne went downe vpon them when they were fall by Gibe, which belongeth to them of Beniamin.

15 And they turned thitherward, to goe in and lodge all night in Gibe: and when he came, hee sate him downe in a streete of the cite, for there was no man that tooke them into his house to lodging.

16 And behold, there came an old man from his worke out of the field at Euen, which was also of mount Ephraim, and dwelt as a stranger in Gibe: but the men of the place were the children of Beniamin.

17 And when he had lift by his eyes, he sawe a wayfaring man in the streete of the cite: and the old man said, Whither goest thou? & whence comest thou?

18 He answered him, We come from Bethlehem Juda, toward the side of mount Ephraim, from thence am I: and I went to Bethlehem Juda, and goe now to the house of the Lord, and there is no man that receiueth mee to house.

19 We haue straw and pzoender for our Asses, and bzead and wine for mee and thy handmaid, and for the lad that is with thy seruant: and we lacke nothing.

20 The old man said, Peace bee with thee, all that thou lackest, shalt thou finde with mee: only abide not in the streete all night.

21 And so he brought him into his house, and gaue fodder vnto the Asses: and they washed their feet, and did eate and drinke.

22 And as they were making their hearts merry, behold, the men of the cite which were wicked, beset the house round about, and thrust at the dooze, & spake to the man of the house, the old man, saying, Bring forth the man that came into thine house, that we may know him.

23 And this man, the master of the house went out, and said vnto them, Oh, nay my brethren, doe not so wickedly, seeing that this man is come into mine house, doe not so vnneete a thing.

24 Behold, heere is my daughter a mayden, and this mans concubine, them I will bring out now vnto you, and humble them, and doe with them what seemeth you good: but vnto this man doe not so abominable a thing.

25 But the men would not hearken to him: and the man tooke his concubine, and brought her out vnto them, which knew her, and abused her all the night vnto the morning: and when the day began to spring, they let her goe.

26 And then came the woman in the dawning of the day, and fell downe at the dooze of the mans house where her lord was, till it was day.

27 And her lord arose by in the morning, and opened the doozes of the house, and went out to goe his way: and behold, the woman his concubine lay along befoze the dooze of the house, and her hands vpon the threhold.

28 And he said vnto her, Wap, and let vs be going. But she answered not: then the man tooke her by vpon an Ass, and stood by, and gate him vnto his place.

29 And when he was come into his house, he tooke a knife, and caught his concubine, and diuided her in pieces with the boges into twelue parts, and sent her into all quarters of Israel.

30 And all that sawe it, saide, There was no such deeде done or scene since the children of Israel came out of Egypt vnto this day: consider the matter, take aduisement, and say your minds.

2 And there assembled the * chiefe of all the people, and of all the tribes of Israel, in the congregation of the people of God, foure hundred thousand footmen that drew swords.

3 Nowe the children of Benjamin heard that the children of Israel were gone vp to Mishpah. Then b sayd the children of Israel, Tell vs how this wickednesse is committed?

4 And the Leuite, the womans husband that was slaine, answered and sayd, I came into Gibeon that is in Benjamin, with my concubine to lodge all night.

5 And the men of Gibeon rose against me, and beset the house round about vpon mee by night, and thought to haue slaine me: and my concubine haue they forced, that she is dead.

6 And I tooke my concubine, and cut her in peeces, and sent her throughout all the countrey of the inheritance of Israel: for they haue committed abomination and billyary in Israel.

7 Behold, ye are all children of Israel, giue your aduise and counsell herein.

8 And all the people arose as one man, saying, There shall not a man of vs goe to his tent, neither turne into his house,

9 But this shall be it that we will doe to Gibeon, we will goe vp by lot against it:

10 And we will take ten men of the hundred throughout all the tribes of Israel, and an hundred of the thousand, and a thousand out of ten thousand, to fetch victuall for the people, that they may doe, when they come to Gibeon Benjamin, according to all the abomination that they haue wrought in Israel.

11 And so all the men of Israel gathered together against the city, knitte together as one man.

12 And the tribes of Israel sent men thorow all the tribe of Benjamin, saying, what wickednesse is this that is committed among you?

13 Nowe therefore deliuer vs the men, those children of Belial which are in Gibeon, that wee may slay them, and put away euill from Israel.

14 But the children of Benjamin would not hearken vnto the voice of their brethren the children of Israel: but the children of Benjamin gathered themselves together out of the cities, vnto Gibeon, to come out and fight against the children of Israel.

15 And the children of Benjamin were numbered at that time out of the cities, twentie and six thousand men that drew swords, beside the inhabitants of Gibeon, which were numbered seven hundred chosen men.

16 And among all these folke, were seven hundred chosen men, being left handed, which euery one could sling stones at an haire breadth, and not misse.

17 And the children of Israel beside Benjamin, were numbered foure hundred thousand men that drew swords, and were all men of warre.

18 And the children of Israel arose, and went vp to the house of God, and asked of God, saying, which of vs shall goe by first to the battell against the children of Benjamin? And the Lord sayd, Juda shall begin.

19 And the children of Israel stood by earely, and camped against Gibeon.

20 And the men of Israel went out to battell against Benjamin, and the men of Israel put themselves in aray to fight against them beside Gibeon.

21 And the children of Benjamin came out of Gibeon, and destroyed downe to the ground of the Israelites that day twentie and two thousand men.

22 And the people the men of Israel plucked by their hearts, and set their battell againe in aray, in the same place where they did the first day.

23 (And the children of Israel went by, and wept before the Lorde vnto Eben, and asked of the Lorde, saying, Shall we goe againe to battell against the children of Benjamin our brethren? And the Lorde sayde, Goe by against them.)

24 And the children of Israel came neere, against the children of Benjamin, the second day.

25 And the children of Benjamin went against them out of Gibeon the second day, and destroyed to the earth of the children of Israel once againe eightene thousand men, that drew swords euery one of them.

26 Then all the children of Israel, and all the people went by, & came vnto the house of God, and wept, and sate there before the Lord, and asked the same day vnto Eben, and offered whole burnt offerings, and peace offerings, before the Lord.

27 And the children of Israel asked the Lord, (for there was the Arke of the appointment of God in those dayes:

28 And Phinehes the sonne of Eleazar the sonne of Aaron stood before it at that time) saying, Shall I get me by to goe out any more to battell against the children of Benjamin my brethren, or shall I cease? The Lord sayd, Goe by, for to morrowe I will deliuer them into your hands.

29 And Israel set lyes in waye round about Gibeon.

30 And the children of Israel went by against the children of Benjamin the third time, and put themselves in aray against Gibeon, as twise before.

31 And the children of Benjamin came out against the people, & were drawn away from the citie, and they began to smite of the people deade as twise before, by two high wayes in the field (of which one goeth by to the house of God, and the other to Gibeon) vpon a thirtie men of Israel.

32 And the children of Benjamin sayde, They are fallen before vs as at the first. But the children of Israel sayde, Let vs slye, and pluche them away from the citie, vnto the high wayes.

33 And all the men of Israel rose by out of their place, and put themselves in aray at Baal Chamat: and like wise the lyes in waye of Israel came forth out of their places, euery out of the medowes that were about Gibeon.

35 And the Lozde plagued Beniamin before Israel, and the children of Israel destroyed of the Beniamites the same day twenty and five thousand, & an hundred men, that die w' swords euery one of them.

36 And the children of Beniamin sawe that they were stricken downe: for the men of Israel gaue place to the Beniamites, because they trusted into the Iyers in wayte which they had layd beside Gibeā.

37 And the Iyers in wayte hasted, and brake forth against Gibeā, and the embushment dyed to themselues along, and smote all the citie with the edge of the sword.

38 And the men of Israel had appoynted a certaine time with the Iyers in wayte, that they should make a great flame and smoke rise vp out of the city.

39 And when the men of Israel retzred in the battell, Beniamin began to smite dead of the children of Israel about thirtie persons, and sayd, Surely they are stricken downe before vs, as in the first battell.

40 But when there began to arise out of the city a flame, as a pillar of smoke, the Beniamites looked backe, and behold, the flame of the whole citie began to ascend by to heauen.

41 When the men of Israel also turned againe, the men of Beniamin were abashed, for they saw that euill approched them:

42 And therefore they turned their backs before the men of Israel, vnto the way that leadeth to the wildernesse, but the battell ouertooke them: and beside that, they which came out of the city, destroyed them in the middle of them.

43 And thus they compassed the Beniamites about, and chased them diligently, and ouerranme them, euen ouer against Gibeā on the East side.

44 And there were slaine of Beniamin eighteene thousande men, which were men of warre.

45 And they turned and fledde to the wildernesse ward, and vnto the rocke of Rimmon: and they gleaned by the way of the rest of them five thousand men: and pursued after them vntill they came to Gidōin, & slew two thousand men of them.

46 So that all that were slaine that same day of Beniamin were twentie and five thousand men that dye w' swords, which were all men of warre.

47 Onely five hundred men turned and fled to the wildernesse vnto the rocke of Rimmon, and abode in the rocke of Rimmon foure moneths.

48 And the men of Israel turned backe againe vnto the children of Beniamin, and smote them with the edge of the sword in the cities both man and beast, and all that came to hand, and set on fire all the cities that they coulde come by.

10 And the congregation sent thither twelue thousand men of the strongest, and commaunded them, saying, Goe, & smite the inhabitants of Iabes Gilead with the edge of the sword, both women and children.

1 Elimelech goeth with his wife and children into the land of Moab. 3 Hee and his sonnes die. 19 Naomi and Ruth come to Bethlehem.

Ne came to passe, that when the Judges ruled, there fell a dearth in the land, and a certaine man of Bethlehem in Iuda, went for to sojourn in the countrey of Moab, he and his wife, and his two sonnes.

2 The name of the man was Elimelech, and the name of his wife Naomi, and the names of his two sonnes were Mahlon, and Chilion, Ephraimites, out of Bethlehem Iuda: and when they came into the land of Moab, they continued there.

3 And Elimelech Naomies husband died, and the remained with her two sonnes:

4 Which tooke them wiuues of the Moabites: the ones name was Orpha, and the others Ruth: and they dwelled there about ten yeeres.

5 And Mahlon and Chilion died also both of them, and the woman was left destitute of her two sonnes, and of her husband.

6 Then she arose with her daughters in law, and returned from the countrey of Moab: for he had heard say in the countrey of Moab, how that the Lord had visited his people, and giuen them bread.

7 Wherefore shee departed out of the place where hee was, and her two daughters in lawe with her: and they went on their way to returne vnto the land of Iuda.

8 And Naomi said vnto her two daughters in law, Goe and returne eche of you vnto your mothers house: and the Lord deale as kindly with you, as yee haue dealt with the dead, and with me.

9 And the Lord graunt you, that you may finde rest either of you in the house of her husband. And when shee killed them, they lift vp their hope and wept.

10 And said vnto her, Surely we wil returne with thee vnto thy folke.

11 And Naomi said, Turne againe my daughters: for what cause will you goe with me? Are there any mo children in my wombe to be your husbands?

12 Turne againe my daughters, goe your way, for I am too olde to haue an husband: and if I saide, I haue hope, if I tooke a man also this night, yea, and though I had already borne sonnes:

13 Would yee tary for them till they were of age? or would ye for them to long refrain from taking of husbands? not so my daughters: for it grieueth me much for your sakes, that the hand of the Lord is gone out against me.

14 And they lift vp their voyces, and wept againe: and Orpha kissed her mother in lawe, but Ruth abode still by her.

15 And Naomi saide, See, thy sister in law is gone backe againe vnto her people, and vnto her gods: returne thou after her.

16 And Ruth answered, Entreate mee not to leaue thee, and to returne from thee: for whither thou goest, I wil goe also, and where thou dwellest, there I will dwell: thy people shall bee my people, and thy God my God:

17 Where thou diest, there will I die, & there will I be buried: the Lord do so to mee and more also, if ought but death depart thee and me.

18 When she saw that shee was stedfastly minded to goe with her, shee left speaking vnto her.

19 And so they went both, until they came to Bethlehem: And when they were come to Bethlehem, it was noyised of them through all the citie, and they said, Is not this Naomi?

20 And she answered them, Call me not Naomi, but call me Mara: for the Almighty hath made me very bitter.

21 I went out full, & the Lord hath brought me home againe empty: why then call yee me Naomi, seeing the Lord hath humbled mee, and the Almighty hath brought me vnto aduersitie?

The ij. Chapter.

1 Ruth gathereth corne in the fields of Booz. 15 The gentleness of Booz toward her.

AND Naomies husband had a kinsman, a man of power and wealth, which was of the kindred of Elimelech, named Booz.

2 And Ruth the Boobitess said vnto Naomi, Let mee now goe to the field, and gather eares of corne after any man, in whose sight I finde grace. And she said vnto her, Goe, my daughter.

3 And she went and came to the field, and gathered after the reapers: and so it was, that the same ficke pertained vnto Booz, which was of the kindred of Elimelech.

4 And behold, Booz came from Bethlehem, and said vnto his reapers, The Lord be with you. And they answered him, The Lord blesse thee.

5 Then said Booz vnto his pong man which stood by the Reapers, whose damosell is this?

6 And the pong man that stood by the reapers answered and said, It is the Boobitish damosell that came with Naomi out of the countrey of Boob.

7 And shee said vnto vs, I pray you let mee glean and gather after the reapers amongst the sheaves: and so shee came, and hath continued euen from the morning vntil now, saue that shee taried a litle in the house.

8 Then said Booz vnto Ruth, Hearest thou, my daughter? Goe to no other ficke to gather, neither goe from hence, but abide here by my maydens.

9 Let thine eyes bee on the ficke that they doe reape, and goe thou after the maidens: Haue I not charged the pong men, that they shall doe thee no hurt? Moreover, when thou art a thirt, goe vnto the belesse, and drinke of that which the laddes haue drawn.

10 Then shee fell on her face, and bowed her selfe to the ground, and sayd vnto him, How is it that I haue founde grace in thine eyes, and that thou shouldst knowe mee, seeing I am a stranger?

11 And Booz answered, and said vnto her, All is tolde and shewed mee that thou hast done vnto thy mother in lawe since the death of thine husband: howe thou hast left thy father and thy mother, and the lande where thou wast borne, and art come vnto a people, which thou knewest not in time pasted.

12 The Lord quite thy worke, and a full reward bee giuen thee of the Lord God of Israel, vnder whose wings thou art come to trust.

13 Then she said, Let mee finde fauour in thy sight, my lord, thou that hast comforted mee, and spoken comfortably vnto thy mayde, which yet am not like vnto one of thy maydens.

14 Booz said vnto her againe, At the meale time come thou hither, and eat of the bread, and dip thy morsell in the vinegar. And shee sat beside the reapers: and hee reached her parched corne, and shee did eate, and was sufficed, and left part.

15 And when shee was risen vp, to gather, Booz commanded his pong men, saying, Let her gather euen among the sheaves and scrubbe her not.

16 And leaue her some of the sheaves for the nonce, and let it lie, that shee may gather it vp, and rebuke her not.

17 And so she gathered in the field vntil euen, and threshed that shee had gathered: and it was in measure vpon an Epha of barley.

18 And shee tooke it vp, and went into the cite: and when her mother in lawe had seene what shee had gathered, shee plucked out also, and gaue to her that shee had reserued, when shee had eaten ynough.

19 And her mother in lawe said vnto her, Where hast thou gathered to day? and where wroughtest thou? blessed be hee that knewe thee. And shee shewed her mother in lawe, howe shee had wrought with him, and saide, The mans name, with whome I wrought to day, is Booz.

20 And Naomi said vnto her daughter in lawe, Blessed be hee of the Lord, for hee ceaseth not to doe good to the liuing and to the dead. And Naomi said againe vnto her, The man is nigh vnto vs, and of our affinitie.

21 And Ruth the Boobitess said, Hee said vnto mee also, Thou shalt bee with my pong men, vntil they haue ended all my haruest.

22 And Naomi answered vnto Ruth her daughter in lawe, It is best my daughter, that thou goe out with his maydens, that they come not against thee in any other field.

23 And so she kept her by the maidens of Booz to gather, vnto the ende of barley haruest, and of wheate haruest also, and dwelt with her mother in lawe.

The iij. Chapter.

1 Naomi giueth Ruth counsell. 8 Shee sleepech at Booz feete. 12 Hee acknowledgeth himselfe to bee her kinsman.

THEN Naomi her mother in lawe said vnto her, My daughter, shall I not seeke rest for thee, that thou maist prosper?

2 And is not Booz our kinsman, with whose maydens thou wast? Behold, hee winnoweth barley to night in the threshing flooze.

3 Wash thy selfe therefore, and anoynt thee, and put thy raiment vpon thee, and get thee downe to the flooze: but let not the man know of thee, vntill hee haue left eating and drinkeing.

4 And when hee goeth to sleepe, marke the place, where hee layeth him downe, and then go, and list by the clothes, that are on his feete, and lay thee downe there: and hee shall tell thee what thou shalt doe.

5 And shee answered her, All that thou biddest me, I will doe.

6 And shee went downe vnto the flooze, and did according to all that her mother in lawe bade her.

7 And when Booz had eaten and drunken, and cheered his heart, hee went to lie downe at the ende of the heape of corne: and shee came softly, and list by the clothes of his feete, and layd her downe.

8 And at midnight the man was afraide, and caught holde: and beholde, a woman lay at his feete.

1 Booz speakech to Ruths next kinfman touching her marriage. 7 The ancient custome in Israel. 10 Boz marieth Ruth, of whom hee begetteth Obed. he generation of Phares.

Her went Booz by to the gate, and fate him downe there: and behold, the kinfman, of which Booz spake, came by, vnto whom he said, Ho, such one: come, sit downe here. And he turned, and fate downe.

2 And he tooke ten men of the Elder of the cite, and saide, Sit ye downe here. And they fate downe.

3 And hee saide vnto the kinfman, Naomi, that is come againe out of the countrey Moab, will sell a parcell of land which was thy brother Elimelechs.

4 And I thought to doe thee to wia and bid thee buy it before the inhabitants and Elders of my people. If thou wilt redeeme it, reeme it: but if thou wilt not redeeme it, then I me, that I may knowe: for there is none to decme it, I saue thou, and I next to thee. And if other answered, I will redeeme it.

5 Then saide Booz, what day thou buiest the field of the hand of Naomi, thou must buy it also of Ruth the Moabitelle, the wife of the dead, to sitte by the name of the dead vpon his inheritance.

6 The kinfman answered, I cannot redeeme it, for marring of mine owne inheritance: redeeme thou my right to thee, for I cannot redeeme it.

7 Now this was the maner of olde time in Israel, concerning redeeming and changing, for to stablish all things: that a man must plucke off his shoe, and giue it his neighbour: and this was a sure witness in Israel.

8 Therefore the kinfman said to Booz, Buy it thou: and so due off his shoe.

9 And Booz saide vnto the Elders, and vnto all the people, See are witnesses this day, that I haue bought all that was Elimelechs, and all that was Chilion, and Mahalon of the hand of Naomi.

10 And moreover, Ruth the Moabitelle, the wife of Mahalon, haue I purchased to bee my wife, to sitte by the name of the dead vpon his inheritance, and that the name of the dead bee not put out from among his brethren, and from the gate of his place: ye are witnesses this day.

11 And all the people that were in the gate, and the elders said, We are witnesses: The Lord make the woman, that is come into thine house, like Rachel and Lea, which twaine did build the house of Israel: and that thou mayest do worthily in Ephrata, and be famous in Bethlehem.

12 Thy house bee like the house of Pharez (whom Thamar bare vnto Iuda) euen of the seed which the Lord shall giue thee of this yong woman.

13 And so Booz tooke Ruth, and she was his wife: And when he went in vnto her, the Lord gaue, that shee conceived, and bare a sonne.

14 And the women said vnto Naomi, Blessed be the Lord, the which hath not left thee this day without a kinfman, and his name shall be continued in Israel:

15 And that shall bring thy life againe, and cherish thine olde age: for thy daughter in lawe which loueth thee, hath borne vnto him, and she is better to thee then seven sonnes.

16 And Naomi tooke th child: and layd it in her lappe, and became nurse vnto it.

The end of the booke of Ruth.

The first Booke of Samuel, otherwise called the first Booke of the Kings.

The first Chapter.

1 The genealogie of Elkana the father of Samuel. 2 His two wiues. 11 Hanna was barren, and prayed to the Lord. 15 Her answer to Eli. 20 Samuel is borne. 24 She doeth dedicate him to the Lord.

Here was a man of one of the two <sup>a</sup> Hamathaim Sophim, of mount Ephraim named Elkana, the son of Jeroham, the sonne of Elihu, the sonne of Tohu, an Ephraimite,

2 which had two wiues, the one called Hanna, and the other Phenenna: and Phenenna had children, but Hanna had no children.

3 And this man went by out of his city every yeere, to worship and to sacrifice vnto the Lord of hostes in Silo, where were the two sonnes of Eli, Hophni and Phinehes, the Lords Priestes.

4 And it fell on a day, that Elkana offered and gaue to Phenenna his wife, and to all her sonnes and daughters, portions. 5 But vnto Hanna hee gaue a worthy portion: for hee loued Hanna, and the Lord had made her barren.

6 And her enemy Phenenna bered her soze, soasmuch as she byhaided her, because the Lord had made her barren. 7 (And so did he yeere by yeere) and as oft as shee went by to the house of the Lord, thus hee bered her, that she wept, and did not eate.

8 Then saide Elkana her husband to her, Hanna, why weepell thou? and why eatest thou not? and why is thy heart troubled? Am I not better to thee then ten <sup>d</sup> sonnes? 9 So Hanna rose by after that they had eaten & drunken in Silo. (And Eli the priest sate vpon a stoope by one of the postes of the Temple of the Lord.)

10 And shee was troubled in her minde, and prayed vnto the Lord, and wept soze. 11 And bowed a bowe, and saide, O Lord of hostes, if thou wilt looke on the trouble of thine handmayde, and remember mee, and not forget thine handmayde, but giue vnto thine handmaid a man child. I will giue him vnto the Lord all the dayes of his life, and there shall no razor come vpon his head.

12 And as hee continued praying before the Lord, Eli marked her mouth.

13 For Hanna spake in her heart, and her lippes did but moue onely, but her voyce was not heard: and therefore Eli thought hee had bene drunken.

14 And Eli saide vnto her, Howe long wilt thou bee drunken? Put away from thee the wine that thou hast.

15 Hanna answered, and saide, Not so, my lord: I am a woman of a sorrowfull heart, I haue drunke neither wine nor strong drinke, but haue poured out my soule before the Lord.

16 Count not thine handmayde for a wicked woman: for out of the abundance of my beautiesse and grieffe, haue I spoken hitherto.

17 Eli answered her againe, and saide, Goe in peace: the God of Israel grant thee thy petition, that thou hast asked of him.

18 She said, Let thine handmaid find grace in thy sight. And so the woman went her way, and did eate, and looked no more sad.

19 And they rose by earely, and worshipped before the Lord, and then returned, and came to their house to Ramath: and when Elkana saw Hanna his wife, the Lord remembered her.

20 For in proceffe of time it came to passe, that hee conceived, and bare a sonne, and called his name Samuel, saying, Because I haue asked him of the Lord.

21 And the man Elkana, and all his house, went by to offer vnto the Lord the yeerely sacrifice, and also his vow.

22 Neuerthelesse, Hanna went not by, but saide vnto her husband, I will tary until the lad be weaned, and then I will bring him that hee may appeare before the Lord, and there abide for euer.

23 Elkana her husband answered her, Doe what cometh thee best, tarry at home until thou haue weaned him, and I beseech the Lord to make good his saying. And so the woman abode, and gaue her sonne sucke, until hee weaned him.

24 And when she had weaned him, shee tooke him wth her, with three bullocks, and an Ephah of flow, and a bottel of wine, and brought him vnto the house of the Lord in Silo, & the child was <sup>e</sup> 7 yag.

25 As they sawe a bullocke, and brought in the laddo Eli.

26 And he saide, Oh my lord, as thy soule liueth, my lord, I am the woman, that stood before thee praying vnto the Lord.

27 For his lad I prayed, and the Lord hath giuen me my desire, which I asked of him.

28 And therefore I haue giuen him vnto the Lord, as lok as he liueth hee shall be giuen to the Lord. And hee worshipped the Lord there.

10 The aduerfaries of the Lord shall be destroyed of him, and out of heauen shall he thunder vpon them: The Lord shall iudge the endes of the world, and shall giue might vnto his king, and exalt the horne of his anointed.

11 And Elkana went to Ramath to his house, and the lad did minister vnto the Lord before Eli the Priest.

12 But the sonnes of Eli were children of Belial, and knew not the Lord.

13 And the Priests custome toward the people was, that whensoeuer any man offered any offering, the Priests lad came, while the flesh was a seething, and a fleshooke with thre teeth in his hand.

14 And thrust it into the pan, kettle, caldron, or pot: and all that the fleshooke brought by, that the Priest tooke for himselfe: and so they did vnto all the Israelites that came thither to Silo.

16 And if any man said vnto him, Let them burne the fat according to the custome, and then take as much as thine heart desireth: then he would answer him, Pea, thou shalt giue it me now: and if thou wilt not, I will take it with violence.

17 And the sinne of the yong men was very great before the Lord: for men abhoyred the offering of the Lord.

18 But the childe Samuel ministered before the Lord, giued with a limmen Ephod.

19 Moreouer, his mother made him a little coate, and brought it to him from yeere to yeere, when she came by with her husband to offer the yeerely sacrifice.

20 And Eli blessed Elhana and his wife, and said, The Lord giue thee seede of this woman, for the petition that thee asked of the Lord, And they went vnto their owne home.

21 And the Lord visited Hanna, so that shee conceived, and bare thre sonnes, & two daughters: and the childe Samuel grew before the Lord.

22 Eli was very olde, and heard all that his sonnes did vnto Israel, and howe they lay with the women that waited at the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation.

23 And he said vnto them, why doe ye such things? for of all these people I heare euill reports of you.

24 Oh nay my sonnes: for it is no good report that I heare, how that yee make the Lords people to trespasse.

26 The childe Samuel profited, and grew, and was in fauour both with the Lord, and also with men.

27 And there came a man of God vnto Eli, and said vnto him, Thus sayth the Lord, Did not I plainely appeare vnto the house of thy father, when they were in Egypt in Pharaos house?

28 And I chose him out of all the tribes of Israel, to be my Priest, for to offer vpon mine altar, and to burne incense, to weare an Ephod before mee: and I gaue vnto the house of thy father, all the offerings made by fire of the children of Israel.

31 Behold, the dayes come, that I will cut off thine arme, and the arme of thy fathers house, that there shall not be an old man in thine house.

2 And as at that time Eli lay in his place, his eyes began to waxe dimme, that he could not see.

3 And per the lampe of God went out, Samuel laid him downe to sleepe in the temple of the Lord, where the Arke of God was.

4 And the Lord called Samuel. And he answered, I am here.

5 And he ran vnto Eli, and sayd, Here am I, for thou calledst mee. And hee said, I called thee not, goe againe and sleepe. And hee went, and laid him downe to sleepe.

6 And the Lord called once againe, Samuel. And Samuel arose, and went to Eli, and said, I am here, for thou diddest call me. And hee answered, I called thee not, my sonne, goe againe and sleepe.

7 Samuel knew not yet the Lord, neither was the word of the Lord yet opened vnto him.

8 And the Lord went to, and called Samuel the third time. And he arose, and went to Eli, and said, I am here, for thou hast called mee. And Eli perceiued that the Lord had called the child.

9 Therefore Eli said vnto Samuel, Goe and sleepe, and if he call thee, then say, Speake Lord, for thy seruant heareth thee. So Samuel went and slept in his place.

10 And the Lord came, and stood, and called as before, Samuel. Samuel. Then Samuel answered, Speake, for thy seruant heareth.

11 And the Lord said to Samuel, Behold, I will doe a thing in Israel, that both the eares of as many as heare it, shall tingle.

12 In that day, I will raise vp against Eli, all things which I haue spoken concerning his house: when I begin, I will also make an ende.

13 I haue tolde him, that I will iudge his house for euer, for the wickednesse which hee knoweth: for when the people cursed his sonnes for the same wickednesse, he did not correct them.

14 And therefore I haue snoyne vnto the house of Eli, that the wickednesse of Elys house shall not bee purged with sacrifice, nor offering, for euer.

15 Samuel slept vntill the morning, and opened the doores of the house of the Lord: and Samuel feared to shew Eli the vision.

16 Then Eli called Samuel, and sayd, Samuel my sonne. And he answered, Here am I.

17 Hee sayde, What is that the Lord hath sayd vnto thee? I pray thee hide it not from mee: God doe so to thee, and moze also, if thou hide any thing from mee, of all that hee sayd vnto thee.

18 And Samuel told him euery whit, and hid nothing from him. And hee sayd, It is the Lord: let him doe what seemeth him good.

19 And Samuel grewe, and the Lord was with him, and left none of his words vnpurposed.

20 And all Israel, from Dan to Beer-seba, with that faithfull Samuel was the prophet of the Lord.

21 And the Lord appeared againe in Silo: for the Lord opened himselfe to Samuel in Silo, through the word of Lord.

The iiij. Chapter.

10 The Arke of the Lord is taken. 11 Eli and his children die.

And Samuel spake vnto all Israel: and Israel went out against the Philistines to battell, and pitched beside the Ebenezer: and the Philistines pitched in Aphec.

2 And put themselves in aray against Israel: and when they ioyned the battell, Israel was smitten downe before the Philistines: and the Philistines slew of the armie in the field about foure thousand men.

3 And when the people were come into their tents, the Elders of Israel sayde, Wherefore hath the Lord cast vs downe this day before the Philistines? let vs fetch the Arke of the appointment of the Lord out of Silo vnto vs, that when it commeth among vs, it may saue vs out of the hand of our enemies.

4 And so the people went to Silo, and set from thence the Arke of the appointment of the Lord of hostes, which dwelleth betwene the Cherubims: and there were the two sonnes of Eli, Hophni, and Phinehes, with the Arke of the appointment of God.

5 And when the Arke of the appointment of the Lord came into the host, all Israel shouted a mightie shout, so that the earth rang againe.

6 And when the Philistines heard the noise of the shout, they said, What meaneth the sound of this mightie shout in the host of the Hebrewes? And they vnderstood how that the Arke of the Lord was come into the host.

7 And the Philistines were afraid, and said, God is come into the host. And they said againe, Doe vnto vs: for it was neuer before this.

8 Doe vnto vs: who shall deliuer vs out of the hand of these mightie gods? these are the gods that smote the Egyptians with many plagues in the wilderness.

9 Be strong, and quite your selues like men, O ye Philistines, that ye be not seruants vnto the Hebrewes, as they haue bene to you: be of a manly courage therefore, and fight.

10 And the Philistines fought, and Israel was smitten downe, and fled euery man into his tent: and there was an exceeding great slaughter, for there were ouerthrowen of Israel thirtie thousand footmen.

11 And the Arke of God was taken, and the two sonnes of Eli, Hophni and Phinehes were dead.

12 And there ran a man of Benjamin out of the armie, and came to Silo the same day with his clothes rent, and earthy vpon his head.

13 And when hee came, loe, Eli sat vpon a stoole by the way side, waiting: for his heart feared for the Arke of God. And when the man came into the citie, and tolde it, all the city cried,

5 Because there were very fewe Prophets to declare it.

6 In the court next to the tabernacle.

7 He was not instructed to hear the voice.

8 God heareth what the heart saith, and will also make an ende.

9 God punisheth the wicked, and will also make an ende.

10 Or fall to the ground.

11 From the departure of the Israelites out of Egypt vnto this time of Samuel, are about 390. years. Or, stone of helpe.

12 Samuel, as it is of some of the Hebrewes, was called with the Lord because this was taken in hand: and for that cause they alke the question.

13 This he hath because of the mercy that was betwene the Cherubims.

14 Before was fought against men: and now God is come to fight against vs.

15 For in the sea in the wilderness, the Egyptians were destroyed: which was the fall of all his pleasures.

16 And our hearts was not for lacke of sufficient number of our, but for lacke of Gods iudgement.

17 He commeth to the city, and will also make an ende.

18 He will also be taken to the city.

14 And when Eli heard the noyse of the crying, hee said, what meaneth this noyse of the tumult? And the man came in hastily, and tolde Eli.

15 Eli was ninetie and eight yeeres olde, and his sight failed him, that he could not see.

16 And the man said vnto Eli, I am hee, that came out of the armie, and fledde this day out of the holse. And hee saide, what thing is done my sonne?

17 The messenger answered, and said, Israel is fled befoze the Philistines, & there hath bene a great slaughter among the people, and thy two sonnes, Hophni, and Phineches, are dead, and the Arke of God is taken.

18 And when hee made mention of the Arke of God, Eli fell from his stoole backward by the side of the gate, and his necke brake, and he died: for hee was an old man, and heauie, and I Iudged Israel fourtie yeeres.

19 And his daughter in lawe Phineches wife was with childe, and nigh the birth: and when shee heard the tidings that the Arke of God was taken, and that her father in lawe and her husband were dead, she bowed her selfe & trauelled, and her paines came vpon her.

20 And about the time of her death, the women that stood about her, saide vnto her, feare not, for thou hast borne a sonne. But shee answered not, nor regarded it.

21 And shee named the childe Ichabod, saying, The glory is departed from Israel, (because the Arke of God was taken, and because of her father in lawe and her husband.)

22 And saide againe, The glory is gone from Israel: for the Arke of God is taken.

The v. Chapter.

2 The Philistines bring the Arke into the house of Dagon. 6 The men of Asdod are plagued. 8 The Arke is caried into Gath, and after to Acaron.

And the Philistines tooke the Arke of God, and caried it from Eben-ezer vnto Asdod.

2 Pea the Philistines tooke the Arke of God, and brought it into the house of Dagon, and set it by Dagon.

3 And when they of Asdod were by the next day in the morning, beholde, Dagon was fallen vpon his face on the earth befoze the Arke of the Lord: and they tooke Dagon, and set him in his place againe.

4 And when they were come earely in the next morning, behold, Dagon was fallen vpon his face on the ground, befoze the Arke of the Lord, and his head, and his two hands were cut off vpon the thresholde, that onely the rumpe of Dagon was left to him.

5 And therefore is it, that neither the priests of Dagon, nor any man that commeth into Dagon's house, treadeth on the threshold of Dagon in Asdod vnto this day.

6 But the hand of the Lord was heauy vpon them of Asdod, & he destroyed them, and smote them with Emerods, both Asdod, and all the coastes thereof.

7 And when the men of Asdod sawe that it was so, they said, The Arke of the God of Israel shall not abide here with vs: for his hand is foze vpon vs, and vpon Dagon our god.

8 They sent therefore, and gathered all the lords of the Philistines vnto them, and saide, what shall we do with the Arke of the God of Israel? They answered, Let the Arke of the God of Israel bee caried about vnto Gath. And they caried the Arke of the God of Israel about.

9 And when they had caried it about, the hand of the Lord was against the city with a very great destruction: and hee smote the men of the city both small and great, and they had Emerods in their secret parts.

10 Therefore they sent the Arke of God to Acaron: and as soone as the Arke of God came to Acaron, the Acaronites cried out, saying, They haue brought the Arke of the God of Israel to vs, to slay vs, and our people.

11 And so they sent, and gathered together all the lords of the Philistines, and saide, Send away the Arke of the God of Israel, to goe againe to his owne place, that it slay vs not, and our people. For there was a destruction and death throughout all the city: and the hande of God was exceeding foze there.

12 And the men that died not, were smitten with the Emerodes: and the cry of the city went vp to heauen.

The vj. Chapter.

17 The Philistines offer golden Emerodes. 19 The men of Bethsames are stricken for looking into the Arke.

And the Arke of the Lord was in the countrey of the Philistines seuen moneths.

2 And the Philistines called for the priests and the soothsayers, saying, what shall wee doe with the Arke of the Lord? Tell vs wherewith we shall send it home againe.

3 They said, If thou send away the Arke of the God of Israel, sende it not empty: but reward it with a sinne offering: and then ye shall bee whole, and it shall be knowen to you, why his hand departeth not from you.

4 Then said they, And what shall be the sinne offering, which we shall reward him with? They answered, Five golden Emerodes, and five golden Dice, according to the number of the princes of the Philistines: for one plague was on you all, and on your princes.

5 Wherefoze yee shall make images like to your Emerodes, and images like to your Dice, that corrupt the land, and yee shall giue glory vnto the God of Israel, that hee may take his hand from off you, and from off your gods, and from off your land.

6 Wherefoze doe ye harden your hearts, as the Egyptians and Pharaoh hardened their hearts? which when he wrought wonderfully among them, did they not let the people goe, and they departed?

7 Now therefore, make a new cart, and take two milch kine, on whom there hath come no yoke, and tie the kine to the cart, and bring the calves home from them.

8 And take the Arke of the Lord, and lay it vpon the cart, and put the iewels of gold, which yee reward him with for a sinne offering in a coffer by the side thereof, and sende it away, that it may goe.

9 And if yee see that he goeth by the way of his owne coast to Bethsames, then it is hee that did vs this great euill: If no, we shal know then that it is not his hand that smote vs, but it was a chance that happened vs.

10 And the men did euen so: and tooke two kine that gaue milke, and tied them to the cart, and kept the calves at home.

11 And they layed the Arke of the Lord vpon the cart, and the coffer, with the mice of golde, and with the images of their emerods.

12 And the kine tooke the straight way to Bethshames, and went on the straight way: and as they went, they lowed, and turned neither to the right hand, nor to the left: and the princes of the Philistines went after them, vnto the borders of Bethshames.

13 And they of Bethshames were reaping their wheat harvest in the balley: and they lifted vp their eyes, and spied the arke, and reioyced when they saw it.

14 And the cart came into the field of one Jehosua, a Bethshamite, and stood still there. There was also a great stone: and they claue the wood of the cart, and offered the kine a burnt offering vnto the Lord.

15 And the Leuites tooke downe the Arke of the Lord, and the coffer that was with it, where in the iewels of gold were, and put them on the great stone: and the men of Bethshames sacrificed whole burnt sacrifice, and offered offerings the same day vnto the Lord.

16 And when the five princes of the Philistines had seene it, they returned to Acaron the same day.

17 And these are the golden emerods which the Philistines gaue for a sinne offering to the Lord, for Ashod, one, for Gaza, one, for Ascalon, one, for Gath, one, and for Acaron, one.

18 And golden mice, according to the number of all the cities of the Philistines, belonging to the five lordes, both of walled towines, and of towines vnwalled, vnto the great stone of Abel, whereon they set downe the Arke of the Lord, vnto this day, in the field of Jehosua the Bethshamite.

19 And he smote of the men of Bethshames, because they had looked in the arke of the Lord, and hee slew among the people fittie thousand, and threescore and tenne men: and the people lamented, because the Lord had slaine the people with so great a slaughter.

20 Wherefore the men of Bethshames sayd, who is able to stand before this holy Lord God: and to whom shall he go from vs?

21 And they sent messengers to the inhabitants of Kiriath-iarim, saying, The Philistines haue brought againe the arke of the Lord, come ye downe, and set it vp to you.

The vij. Chapter.

1 The arke is brought to Kiriath-iarim. 3 Samuel exhortheth the people to forsake their sinne, and turne to the Lord. 10 The Philistines fight against Israel, and are ouercome. 16 Samuel iudgeth Israel.

And to the men of Kiriath-iarim came, and set by the Arke of the Lord, and brought it into the house of Aminadab in the hill, and sanctified Eleazar his sonne, to keepe the Arke of the Lord.

2 And while the arke abode in Kiriath-iarim, the time was long, for it was twenty yeres: and all the house of Israel lamented after the Lord. 3 And Samuel spake vnto all the house of Israel, saying, If pee be come againe vnto the Lord with all your hearts, then put away the strange gods and Asaroth from among you, and prepare your hearts vnto the Lord, and serue him onely: for he shall rid you out of the hand of the Philistines.

4 Then the children of Israel did put away Baalim and Asaroth, and serued the Lord onely.

5 And Samuel sayd, Gather all Israel to Mizpah, and I wil pray for you vnto the Lord.

6 And they gathered together to Mizpah, and drew water, and powred it out before the Lord, and fasted the same day, and sayde there, We haue sinned against the Lord. And Samuel iudged the children of Israel in Mizpah.

7 When the Philistines heard that the children of Israel were gathered together in Mizpah, the princes of the Philistines went by against Israel: and when the children of Israel heard that, they were afraid of the Philistines.

8 And the children of Israel sayd to Samuel, Cease not to crie vnto the Lord our God for vs, that hee may saue vs out of the hand of the Philistines.

9 And Samuel tooke a sucking lambe, and offered it all together for a whole burnt offering vnto the Lord, and cried vnto the Lord for Israel, and the Lord heard him.

10 And as Samuel offered the whole burnt offering, the Philistines came to fight against Israel: but the Lord thundred a great thunder the same day among the Philistines, and scattered them, that they were slaine before Israel.

11 And the men of Israel went out of Mizpah, and pursued the Philistines, & smote them, vntill they came vnder Bethchar.

12 And then Samuel tooke a stone, and pitched it betweene Mizpah and Sen, and called the name thereof Eben-ezer, saying, Hitherto hath the Lord helped vs.

13 And so the Philistines were brought vnder, and they came no more into the coast of Israel: and the hand of the Lord was against the Philistines all the dayes of Samuel.

14 The cities which all the Philistines had taken from Israel, were restored to Israel, euen from Acaron to Gath, and the coasts of the same did Israel deliuer out of the hands of the Philistines: and there was peace between Israel and the Amozites.

15 Samuel iudged Israel all the dayes of his life.

16 And went about yeere by yeere to Bethel, Gilgal, and Mizpah, and iudged Israel in all those places.

17 And came againe to Rama: for there was his house, and there hee iudged Israel also, and there he built an altar vnto the Lord.

The viij. Chapter.

When Samuel was olde, hee made his sonnes iudges ouer Israel.

5 And sayd vnto him, Behold, thou art old, and thy sonnes walke not in thy wayes: nowe therefoze make vs a king to iudge vs, as all other nations haue.

6 But the thing displeas'd Samuel, when they sayde, Giue vs a king to iudge vs: and Samuel pray'd vnto the Lord.

7 And the Lord sayd vnto Samuel, Heare the voice of the people in all that they say vnto thee: for they haue not call'd thee away, but they haue call'd mee away, that I should not reigne o-

8 And as they haue euer done since I brought them out of Egypt vnto this day, and haue for-vnto thee.

9 Now therefore hearken vnto their voice:
howbeit, yet testify vnto them, & shew them the manner of the king that shall reigne ouer them.

10 And Samuel tolde all the wordes of the Lord vnto the people that asked a king of him:

d Except he be of such kinde as shall haue the feare of God before their eyes, and will follow his

11 And hee sayd, This shall be<sup>d</sup> the manner of the king that shall reigne ouer you: He will take your sonnes, and put them to his charrets, and make his horsemen of them, to runne before his charet,

12 And will make him of them captaines ouer thousands, and ouer fifties, and will set them to eare his ground, and to gather in his harvest, and to make instruments of warre, and things that serue for his charrets,

13 And hee will take your daughters, and make them Apotaries, Cooks, and Bakers.

14 And he shall take your fields, & your vineyards, and your best oliue trees, and giue them to his seruants.

15 And he shall take the tenth of your seed, and of your vineyardes, and giue to his eunuches, and to his seruants.

16 And he shall take your men seruants, and maid seruants, yong men, and the chiefe of your asses, and put them to his worke.

17 And he shall take the tenth of your sheepe, and ye shall be his seruants,

18 And ye shall crie out at that time, because of your king which ye shall haue chosen you, and the Lord will not heare you at that day.

e Because you repent not for your finnes.

19 Neuer thelesse, the people would not heare the voice of Samuel, but did say, Nay, not so:
but there shall be a king ouer vs.

20 That wee may be like other nations, and that our king may iudge vs, and goe out before vs, and fight our battels.

21 Therefore when Samuel heard all the wordes of the people, hee reheard them in the eares of the Lord.

22 And the Lord sayd to Samuel, Hearken vnto their voice, and make them a king. And Samuel sayd vnto the men of Israel, Go euery man vnto his citie.

The ix. Chapter:

1 Saul seeking his fathers asses, by the counsell of his seruant goeth to Samuel. 9 The Prophets called Seers.

Here was a man of Benjamin, named Cis, the sonne of Abiel, the sonne of Zeror, the sonne of Bechorah, the sonne of Appiah, the sonne of a man that was a Jeminite, mightie in power.

a This Abiel
in the 2. Chap. is so called Sect.

2 And the same had a sonne called Saul, a goodly yong man, and a faire: so that among the children of Israel there was none goodlier then hee: from the shoulders backward, hee was higher then all the other people.

b That is,
both valliant
and rich.

3 And the asses of this Cis, Sauls father, were lost, and Cis sayd to Saul his sonne, Take one of the lads with thee, and arise, go and seeke the asses.

c All these circumstances were meant to leade vnto Sauls promisence, whereby Saul was made king.

4 And hee went thozow mount Ephraim, and passed thozow the land of Salifa, but they found them not: then they went thozow the land of Salim, and there they were not: when they went also thozow the land of Jemini, they found them not.

5 At the last, when they were come to the land of<sup>d</sup> Zuph, Saul sayde to his lad that was with him, Come, let vs returne, lest my father leauē caring for the asses, & take thought for vs.

d There was Ramath Se-phaim the city of Samuel.

6 He sayd vnto him, Behold, there is in this city a man of God, and he is an honorable man, all that he sayth, commeth surely to passe: Now then let vs go thither, if so he can shew vs what way we may go.

7 Then sayd Saul to his lad, If we will go, what shall wee bring the man? for the bread is spent in our vessels, and there is no other present to bring the man of God: what haue we?

[Or, victuals.

8 And the lad answered Saul againe, and sayd, Behold, I haue found about me the fourth part of a shele of siluer, that will I giue the man of God, to tell vs our way.

e Which is a-which hee had by his siluer, and for that hee was to come.

10 Then sayd Saul to his lad, Well sayd of thee, come, let vs go. And so they went vnto the city where the man of God was:

11 And as they went their way by the hill to the citie, they mette with damosels that came out to draw water, and said vnto them, Is there here a Seer?

12 And the maidens answered them, & sayd,
Yea, beholde, he is before you, make haste now:
for hee came this day to the citie, for there is an offering of the people this day in the hie place.

g That is, a trill after the offering.

13 When ye be come into the city, ye shall find him straightway: for hee goe by to the hie place to eate: for the people will not eate vntill he come, because he doth<sup>h</sup> blesse the offering, and then eat they that be bidden to the feast: Nowe therefore get you vp, for this day shall ye finde him.

h That is,
that hee shall blesse the meat according to the custome.

14 And they went by into the city: and when they were come into the mids of the city, behold, Samuel came out against them, for to goe by the hie place.

people, and their <sup>c</sup>rie is come vnto me.

17 When Samuel therefore saw Saul, the Lord answered him, See, this is the man whom I spake of thee of, this same shall reigne ouer my people.

18 Then went Saul to Samuel in the midst of the gate, and sayd, Tell me, I pray thee, where the Seers house is.

19 Samuel answered Saul, and sayd, I am the Seer: goe by before me vnto the high place, for ye shall cat with me to day, and to morrow I will let thee goe, and will tell thee all that is in thine heart.

20 And as for thine asses that were lost thre daies ago, care not for them, for they are found: And <sup>m</sup> whose shall the beautifull things of Israel be? belong they not to thee, and vnto all thy fathers house?

21 But Saul answered, and sayd, Am not I the sonne of Jenim, of the smallest tribe of Israel? and my kinned is the least of all the kindreds of the tribe of Benjamin? wherefore then speakest thou so to me?

22 And Samuel tooke Saul and his lad, and brought them into the <sup>n</sup> parlar, and made them sit in the chiefest place among them that were bidden, which were vpon a thirtie persons.

23 And Samuel sayd vnto the Cooke, Bring forth the portion which I gaue thee, & of which I sayd vnto thee, Keepe it with thee.

24 And the Cooke tooke by the shoulder, and that which was <sup>o</sup> vpon it, and set it before Saul, and Samuel sayd, Beholde, that which is left, put it before thee, and eate: for hitherto hath it bene kept for thee, saying, Also I <sup>p</sup> called the people. And so Saul did eat with Samuel that day.

25 And when they were come downe from the high place into the city, Samuel communed with Saul vpon the <sup>q</sup> top of the house.

26 And when they arose early about the spring of the day, Samuel called Saul vpon the toppe of the house, saying, vp, that I may send thee a way. And Saul arose, and they went out, both he and Samuel.

27 And when they were come almost out of the towne, Samuel said to Saul, Did the lad go before vs (and hee went before) but stand thou still a while, that I may shew thee the <sup>r</sup> word of God.

The x. Chapter:

1 Saul is anointed king by Samuel. 19 Samuel assembleth the people, and sheweth them their sinnes.

And then Samuel tooke a beffell of <sup>a</sup> oil, and powred it vpon his head, and killed him, and sayd, *Hath not the Lord anointed thee to bee captaine ouer his inheritance?

2 When thou art departed from me this day, thou shalt finde two men by <sup>b</sup> Bethels sepulchre in the border of Benjamin, euen at Felzah; and they will say vnto thee, The asses which thou wentest to seeke, are found: and loe, thy father hath left the care of the asses, and sorroweth for you, saying, what shall I do for my sonne?

3 Then shalt thou go forth from thence, and shalt cometo the <sup>c</sup> plaine of Chabor, and there shall meet thee three men, going by to God to Bethel, one carrying three kids, and another carrying thre loaves of bread, and another carrying a bottle of wine.

4 And they will <sup>d</sup> salute thee, and giue thee two loaves of bread, which thou shalt receiue of their hands.

5 After that shalt thou come to the <sup>e</sup> hill of God, where is the garison of the Philistines: and when thou art come thither to the city, thou shalt meete a company of Prophets coming downe from the high place, with a psalter, timbrel, a pipe, and a harpe before them, and they shall prophesie.

6 And the spirit of the Lord will come vpon thee also, and thou shalt prophesie with them, and shalt be turned into another man.

7 Therefore when these signics are come vnto thee, do what thou hast to do, for God is with thee.

8 And thou shalt go downe before me to Gilgal, and I also will come downe vnto thee, to sacrifice whole burnt sacrifices, and to offer peace offerings, tary for me seuen daies, till I come to thee, and shew thee what thou shalt do.

9 And when he had turned his <sup>f</sup> backe to go from Samuel, God gaue him another heart, and all those tokens came to passe that same day.

10 And when they came thither to the hill, beholde, the company of the Prophets met him, and the spirit of God came vpon him, & he <sup>g</sup> prophesied among them.

11 And all that knew him before, when they saw that he prophesied among the prophets, they sayd ech to other, What is this that is come vnto the sonne of Cis? Is Saul also among the prophets?

12 And one of the same place answered, and sayd, who is their <sup>h</sup> father? And thereof came the puerbe, what, is Saul also among the prophets?

13 And when he had made an end of prophesying, he came to the high place.

14 And Sauls bridle sayde vnto him, and to his lad, whither went ye? He sayd, To seeke the asses: and when wee sawe that they were no where, we came to Samuel.

15 And Sauls bridle sayd, Tell mee, I pray thee, what Samuel sayd vnto you?

16 Saul sayd vnto his bridle, Hee tolde vs plainly that the asses were found. But of the kingdome whereof Samuel spake, tolde he him not.

17 And Samuel called the people together vnto the Lord, to Mizpah, 18 And said vnto the children of Israel, Thus sayd the Lord God of Israel, I brought Israel out of Egypt, and deliuered you out of the hand of the Egyptians, & out of the hands of all kingdoms that troubled you.

19 And ye haue this day cast away your God, who onely deliuereth you out of all your aduersities and tribulations: and yet haue sayd vnto him, No, but make a king ouer vs. Now therefore, stand ye before the Lord by your tribes, and by your thousands.

20 And when Samuel had assembled together all the tribes of Israel, the tribe of Benjamin was <sup>i</sup> taken.

21 When he had assembled together the tribe of Benjamin by their kindreds, the kindred of Matri was caught, and at the last, Saul the sonne of Cis was caught: and when they sought him, he could not be found.

23 And they ranne, and set him thence, and when he stood among the people, he was higher then any of the people, from the shoulders byward.

24 And Samuel sayd to all the people, See ye not him whom the Lorde hath chosen, and howe there is none like him among all the people? And all the people shouted, and sayd, * God saue the king.

25 Then Samuel tolde the people the ductie of the kingdome, and wrote it in a booke, and layd it by before the Lord, and sent all the people away, euery man to his house.

26 And Saul also went home to Gibea, and there folloved him a band of men, whose hearts God had touched.

The xj. Chapter.

1 Nahas the Ammonite warreth against Iabes Gilead, who asketh helpe of the Israelites. 6 Saul promiteth helpe. 11 The Ammonites are slaine. 14 The kingdome is renewed.

Then Nahas the Ammonite came by, & besieged Iabes in Gilead: & all the men of Iabes sayde vnto Nahas, Make a couenant with vs, and we will be thy seruants.

2 And Nahas the Ammonite answered the, In this will I make a couenant with you, if I may thrust out all your right eyes, and bring that shame vpon all Israel.

3 To whom the Elders of Iabes sayd, Giue vs seven dayes respite, that wee may send messengers vnto all the coasts of Israel: and then if there be no man to deliuer vs, we will come out to thee.

4 Then came the messengers to Gibea of Saul, and tolde this tidings in the eares of the people: and all the peple lift by their voices, and wept.

5 And behold, Saul came following the cattell out of the field, and Saul sayd, what aileth this people that they weepe? And they told him the tidings of the men of Iabes.

6 And the spirit of God came vpon Saul, when he heard those tidings, and he was exceeding angry.

7 And tooke a poke of oren, and hewed them in pieces, and sent them thozowout al the coasts of Israel by the handes of messengers, saying, whosoever commeth not forth after Saul and after Samuel, so shall his oren be serued. And the feare of the Lord fell on the people, and they came out with one consent.

8 And when he numbred them in Bezek, the children of Israel were three hundred thousand men, and the men of Iuda thirty thousand.

9 And they sayd vnto the messenger that came, So say vnto the men of Iabes in Gilead, To morow by that time the sunne be hot, ye shall haue helpe. And the messengers came, and shewed it to the men of Iabes, which were glad.

10 Therefore the men of Iabes sayd, To morow we will come out vnto you, and ye shall do with vs all that pleasech you.

11 And on the morow Saul put the people in three parts, and they came in vpon the host in the morning watch, and slew the Ammonites, vntill the heat of the day: and they that remained, were scattered, so that two of them were not left together.

12 And the people sayd vnto Samuel, & who is hee that sayd, Shall Saul reigne ouer vs: bring those men, that we may slay them.

13 And Saul sayd, There shall no man die this day: for to day the Lord hath saued Israel.

14 Then sayde Samuel vnto the people, Come, that we may go to Gilgal, and renew the kingdome there.

15 And all the people went to Gilgal, and made Saul king there before the Lorde in Gilgal, and there they offered peace offerings before the Lorde: and there Saul and all the men of Israel reioyced exceedingly.

The xij. Chapter.

1 Samuel declaring to the people his integrity, repro- ueth their ingratitude.

And Samuel sayd vnto all Israel, Beholde, I haue hearkened vnto your voice in all that ye sayd vnto me, & haue made a king ouer you:

3 Beholde, here I am, beare record of mee before the Lord, & before his anointed: whose ore haue I taken? or whose alle haue I taken? whome haue I done wrong to? whome haue I hurt? or of whose hande haue I receiued any bribe to blinde mine eyes therewith? and I will restore it you.

4 They sayd, Thou hast done vs no wrong, nor hurt vs, neither hast thou taken ought of any mans hand.

5 He sayd vnto them againe, The Lord is witnesse against you, and his anointed is witnesse this day, that ye haue found iought in my hands. And they answered, He is witnesse.

6 And Samuel sayd vnto the people, It is the Lord that made Moses & Aaron, and that brought your fathers out of the land of Egypt.

7 Now therefore stand still, that I may reason with you before the Lord, according to al the righteoufnesse of the Lord, which he thewd both you and your fathers.

10 And they cried vnto the Lord, and said, We haue sinned, because we haue forsaken the Lord, and haue serued Baalim and Astaroth: nowe therefore deliuer vs out of the hands of our enemies, and we will serue thee.

The xiiij. Chapter.

13 Saul being disobedient to Gods commandement, is shewed of Samuel that he shall not reigne.

SAUL now he had beene king one yeere, (and hec reigned two yeeres ouer Israel.)

2 And Saul chose him three thousand men of Israel, two thousand were with Saul in Michmas, & in mount Bethel, and a thousand with Jonathan in Gibeon Benjamin: and the rest of the people he sent euery man to his tent.

3 And Jonathan smote the garison of the philistines that was in the hill, and it came to the philistines eares: and Saul blew the trumpet thoro'out all the land, saying, Let the Hebræwes heare.

4 And all Israel heard say, how that Saul had destroyed a garison of the philistines, wher- fore Israel was had in abomination with the philistines: And the people gathered together after Saul to Gilgal.

5 The philistines also gathered themselues together, to fight with Israel, thirty thousand chariots, and six thousand horsemen, with other people, like the sand by the sea side in multitude, and came by, & pitched in Michmas, Eastward from Bethauen.

6 And when the men of Israel saw it, they were in a strait (for the people were in a distresse) and the people hid themselues in caues, and in holdes, and in rocks, and in high places, and in pits.

7 And some of the Hebræwes went ouer Jordan, to goe vnto the lande of Gad and Gilead: and Saul was yet in Gilgal, and all the people being astrayd, followed him.

8 And he taried seuen dayes, euen vnto the time that Samuel had appointed: but Samuel came not to Gilgal, and the people were there- fore scattered from him.

9 And Saul sayd, Bring a whole burnt sacrifice to me, and peace offerings. And he offered a whole burnt sacrifice.

10 And assoone as he had made an end of offer- ring the whole burnt sacrifice, behold, Samuel came, and Saul went against him to salute him.

11 And Samuel sayd, what hast thou done? Saul said, Because I saw that the people scat- tered from me, and that thou camest not within the dayes appointed, and that the philistines gathered themselues together to Michmas:

12 Therefore sayde I, The philistines shall come down now vpon me to Gilgal, and I haue not made supplication vnto the Lorde: I was bold therfore, and offered a whole burnt offering.

13 And Samuel sayd to Saul, Thou art be- come a foole, thou hast not kept the commande- ment of the Lord thy God, which he com- manded thee: for at this time would the Lorde haue stablished thy kingdome vpon Israel for euer.

14 But now thy kingdome shall not conti- nue: the Lord hath sought him a man after his owne heart, and the Lord hath commanded him to bee captaine ouer his people, because thou hast not kept that which the Lord commanded thee.

15 And Samuel arose, and gate him by from Gilgal in Gibeon of Benjamin, and Saul num- bered the people that were found with him, and they were about six hundred men.

16 And Saul and Jonathan his some, and the people that were found with them, had their abiding in Gibeon of Benjamin: but the philistines pitched in Michmas.

17 And there came out of the host of the philistines, three companies, to destroy: one com- pany turned vnto the way that leadeth to Ophra, vnto the land of Saul.

18 And another company turned the way to Bethozon: and the third company turned to the way of the coast that is scene aboue the halley of Zeboim toward the wilderness.

19 There was no smyth found thoro'out all the land of Israel: for the philistines sayd, Let the Hebræwes make them swords of speares.

20 But all the Israelites went downe to the philistines, to mend euery mans his share, his mattocke, his axe, and weeding hook.

The xiiij. Chapter.

14 Jonathan and his harness-bearer put the Philistines to flight.

When on a time Jonathan the son of Saul sayd vnto his yong man that bare his harness, Come, and let vs goe ouer to the Philistines garison, that are vnder on the other side: and he tolde not his father.

2 And Saul taried in the vttermost part of Gibea, vnder a pomegranate tree, which is in Migron: and the people that were with him, were vpon a fixe hundred men.

3 And Ahia the sonne of Ahitob Ithabods brother, the sonne of Hinehes the sonne of Eli, was the Lords Priest in Silo, and ware an ephod: and the people wist not that Jonathan was gone.

4 And in the mids of the passage, by which Jonathan sought to goe ouer vnto the Philistines garison, there was a sharpe rocke on the one side, and a sharpe rocke on the other side: the one called Bozez, and the other Senes:

5 The forefront of the one leaned Northward toward Michmas, and the other was Southward toward Gibea.

6 And Jonathan said to the yong man that bare his harness, Come, and let vs goe ouer vnto the garison of these vncircumcised, it may be that the Lord will worke with vs: for it is no hardnesse with the Lord to saue either in many or in few.

7 And his harness-bearer sayde vnto him, Doe all that is in thine heart: goe where it pleaseth thee, behold, I am with thee as thine heart lusteth.

8 Then sayd Jonathan, Beholde, we goe ouer vnto these men, and shal the our selues vnto them.

9 If they say on this wise to vs, Carry vntill we come to you: then wee will stand still in our place, and not goe by vnto them.

10 And if they say, Come by vnto vs: then we will goe by, for the Lord hath deliuered them into our hands: and this halbe a signe vnto vs.

11 And they both the wed themselves vnto the garison of the Philistines: and the Philistines sayd, See, the Hebrzewes come out of the holes where they had hid themselves in.

12 And the men of the garison answered Jonathan and his harness-bearer, and sayd, Come by to vs, and we will shew you a thing. And Jonathan sayd vnto his harness-bearer, Come by after me, for the Lord hath deliuered them into the hand of Israel.

13 And Jonathan climed by vpon a handes and feet, and his harness-bearer after him: and they fell befoze Jonathan, and his harness-bearer slew them after him.

14 And that first slaughter which Jonathan and his harness-bearer made, was vpon a twen-tie men, within the compasse as it were about an halfe acre of land, which two oxen plow.

15 And there was a feare in the holde in the field, and among all the people: insomuch that they that were gone out of the garison to robbe, were afraid also, and the earth trembled for the feare that was sent of God.

16 And the watchmen of Saul in Gibea Benjamin saw: and behold, the multitude were discomfited, and were smitten as they went.

17 Then said Saul vnto the people that was with him, Search, and see who is gone away from vs. And when they had numbred, behold, Jonathan and his harness-bearer were not there.

18 And Saul sayd vnto Ahia, Bring hither the Arke of God. (For the Arke of God was at that time with the children of Israel.)

19 And while Saul talked vnto the Priest, the noise that was in the host of the Philistines spred farther abroad, and increased: And Saul sayd vnto the Priest, Withdraw thine hand.

20 And Saul ioynd himselfe vnto all the people that were with him, and they came to the battell, and beholde, euery mans sword was against his fellow, and there was a verry great discomfiture.

21 Moreover, the Hebrzewes that were with the Philistines befoze that time, and were come with them into all parts of the host, turned to be with the Israelites that were with Saul and Jonathan.

22 And all the men of Israel also which had hid themselves in mount Ephraim, alsoone as they heard howe that the Philistines were fled, they followed after them in the battell.

23 And so the Lord saued Israel that day: and the battell continued vnto Bethauen.

24 And when the men of Israel were kept downe with hunger that day, Saul charged the people with an oath, saying, Curbed be the man that eateth any food vntill night, till I be aunged of mine enemies. And so none of the people tasted any luffenance.

25 And all they of the land came to a wood, where hony lay vpon the ground.

26 And the people came into the wood, and beholde the hony dropped, and no man moued his hand to his mouth: for the people feared the oath.

27 But Jonathan heard not when his father charged the people with the oath, wherefoze hee put forth the end of his rod that was in his hand, and dipt it on an hony combe, and put his hand to his mouth, and his eyes receiued sight.

28 Then answered one of the people, & sayd, Why father made the people to sweare, saying, Curbed be the man that eateth any luffenance this day: And the people were faint.

29 Then sayde Jonathan, My father hath troubled the land: see how mine eyes hath receiued sight, because I tasted a litle of this hony:

30 How much moze then to day, if the people had eaten of the spoile of their enemies which they found: And had there not bene then a much greater slaughter among the Philistines:

31 And they smote the Philistines that day from Michmas to Aialon: and the people were exceeding faint.

32 And the people gate them to the spoile, and tooke sheepe, oxen, and calues, and slew them on 36 And Saul said, Let vs go downe after the philistines by night, and spoile them vntill it be day in the morning, & let vs not leaue one man of them. And they sayd, Doe whatsoever thou thinkest best. Then sayd the priest, Let vs come hither vnto God.

37 And Saul asked of God, Shal I go down after the philistines? wilt thou deliuer them into the hands of Israel? But he answered him not at that time.

38 And Saul sayd, Let all the chiefe of the people come hither, and know and see by whom this sinne is done this day.

39 For as the Lord liueth, which saued Israel, though it be in Jonathan my sonne, he shall die the death. But there was no man among all the people that answered him.

40 Then said he vnto all Israel, Be ye on one side, and I and Jonathan my sonne will be on the other side. And the people sayd vnto Saul, What thou thinkest best, that do.

41 Therefore Saul sayd vnto the Lord God of Israel, Giue a perfect lot. And Saul and Jonathan were caught: but the people scaped free.

42 And Saul sayd, Cast lot betweene mee and Jonathan my sonne. And Jonathan was caught.

43 Then Saul sayd to Jonathan, Tell mee what thou hast done. And Jonathan then tolde him, and sayd, I tasted a litle hony with the end of the rodde that was in mine hand, and loe, I must die.

44 Saul answered, God do so, and moze also to me, thou shalt die the death, Jonathan.

45 And the people sayd vnto Saul, Shall Jonathan die, which hath so mightily deliuered Israel? God forbid: as the Lord liueth, there shall not one haire of his head fall to the ground: for hee hath wrought with God this day. And so the people deliuered Jonathan, that hee died not.

46 And then Saul departed by from following the philistines: and the philistines went to their owne place.

47 And so Saul held the kingdome ouer Israel, and fought against all his enemies on euery side, against Moab, against the children of Ammon, against Edom, against the kings of Zobah, and against the philistines: and whithersoever hee turned himselfe, hee put them to the woork.

48 And he gathered his host together, & smote the Amalchites, and ridd Israel out of the hands of them that spoiled them.

49 The sonnes of Saul, were Jonathan, Iessui, and Melchisua, and his two daughters were thus named, the elder was called Merob, and the yonger Michol.

50 And the name of Saulls wife was Ahinoah, the daughter of Ahimaaz, and the name of his chiefe captaine, was Abner, the sonne of Ner, Saulls vnckle.

51 And Cis was Saulls father: and Ner the father of Abner was the sonne of Abiel.

52 And there was soze war against the Philistines all the dayes of Saul: and whomsoeuer Saul saw to be a strong man, and meet for the warre, he tooke him vnto him.

The xv. Chapter.

3 Saul is commanded to slay Amalek. 9 He spareth Agag and the best things. 19 Samuel reprocueth him.

Amuel also said vnto Saul, The Lord sent mee to anoint thee to be king ouer his people, ouer Israel: nowe therefore hearken thou vnto the voice of the wordes of the Lord.

2 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, I remember that which Amalek did to Israel, how they layed wait for them in the way as they came by from Egypt.

3 Now therefore go, and smite Amalek, and destroy yee all that pertaineth vnto them, and haue no compassion on them, slay both man and woman, infant and suckling, ore a sheepe, camel and asse.

4 And Saul gathered the people together, and numbred them in Telaim, two hundred thousand footmen, and tenne thousand men of Iuda.

5 And Saul came vnto a city of Amalek, and set watch in the brooke.

6 And Saul sayd vnto the Benites, Doe, and depart, and get you downe from among the Amalchites, lest I destroy you with them: for ye shewd mercy to all the children of Israel when they came out of Egypt. And so the Benites departed from among the Amalchites.

7 And Saul smote the Amalchites from Hevila, as thou commest to Sur, that lieth befoze Egypt.

8 And tooke Agag the king of the Amalchites aliue, and bitterly destroyed all the people with the edge of the sword.

9 But Saul and the people spared Agag, the better sheepe, and the fatter oren, and the lambs, and all that was good, and would not destroy them: but all that was soule and nought worth, that they destroyed bitterly.

10 Then came the word of the Lorde vnto Samuel, saying,

11 It repenteth me that I haue made Saul king: for hee is turned from mee, and hath not performed my commandements. And Samuel was euill apayed, and cried vnto the Lorde all night.

12 And when Samuel rose early to meet Saul in the morning, it was told Samuel that Saul was come to Carmel, and behold, he hath made him there a place, and is returned, and departed and gone downe to Gilgal.

13 And Samuel came to Saul, and Saul sayd vnto him, Blessed be thou in the Lord: I haue 14 Samuel sayde, what meaneth then the bleating of the sheepe in mine eares, & the lowing of the oxen which I heare?

15 Saul answered, They haue brought them from the Amalekites: for the people spared the best of the sheepe, & of the oxen, to sacrifice them vnto the Lord thy God, and the remnant haue we destroyed vtterly.

16 Samuel sayde, Let me tell thee what the Lord hath sayd to me this night. And he said vnto him, Say on.

17 Samuel sayde to Saul, when thou wast little in thine own sight, wast thou not made the head of the tribes of Israel, and the Lord anointed thee king ouer Israel?

18 And the Lord sent thee on a iourney, and sayd, Goe, and vtterly destroy those sinners the Amalekites, and fight against them, vntill thou destroy them.

19 And wherfore hast thou not hearkened vnto the voice of the Lord, but hast turned to the pray, and hast done that which is wicked in the sight of the Lord?

20 And Saul said vnto Samuel, Yea I haue hearkened vnto the voice of the Lord, and haue gone the way which the Lord sent me vnto, and haue brought Agag the king of Amalek, & haue destroyed the Amalekites.

21 But the people tooke of the spoile, sheepe, oxen, and the chiefest of the things which should haue bene destroyed, to offer vnto the Lord thy God in Gilgal.

22 * And Samuel sayde, Hath the Lord as great pleasure in whole burnt sacrifices and offerings, as when the voice of the Lord is obeyed? Behold, to obey is better then sacrifice: and to hearken, is better then the fat of rammes.

23 For rebellion is as the sinne of witchcraft, and stubbornnesse is as the wickednesse of idolatry: because thou hast cast away the word of the Lord, therfore he hath cast away thee also from being king.

24 And Saul sayd vnto Samuel, I haue sinned: for I haue gone farther then the saying of the Lord, and thy wordes: because I feared the people, and obeyed their voice.

25 Now therefore, I pray thee, take away my sinne, and turne againe with me, that I may worship the Lord.

26 And Samuel sayd vnto Saul, I will not returne with thee: for thou hast cast away the word of the Lord, and the Lord hath cast away thee, that thou shalt not be king ouer Israel.

27 And as Samuel turned himselfe to goe away, he caught the lap of his coat, and it rent.

28 And Samuel sayde vnto him, The Lord hath rent the kingdome of Israel from thee this day, and hath giuen it to a neighbour of thine, that is better then thou.

29 The strength of Israel will not lie, nor repent: for hee is not a man that hee should repent.

30 He sayd, I haue sinned: but now honour me before the elders of my people, and before Israel, and turne againe with me, that I may worship the Lord thy God.

31 And so Samuel turned againe, & followed Saul, and Saul worshipped the Lord.

32 Then sayd Samuel, Bring you hither to me Agag the king of the Amalekites. And Agag came vnto him delicately: And Agag sayde, Truly the bitterness of death is past.

33 And Samuel sayd, As thy sword hath made women childlesse, so shall thy mother be childlesse aboue other women. And Samuel hewed Agag in pieces before the Lord in Gilgal.

34 And then Samuel departed to Rama, and Saul went home to his house to Gibea Saul.

35 And Samuel came no more to see Saul vntill the day of his death: neuerthelesse, Samuel mourned for Saul: and the Lord repented that he had made Saul king ouer Israel.

The xvj. Chapter.

1 Samuel is reproued of God, and is sent to anoint Dauid, 7 God regardeth the heart. 13 The spirit of the Lord commeth vpon Dauid.

The Lord sayd vnto Samuel, How long wilt thou mourne for Saul, seeing I haue call him away fro reigning ouer Israel? fill thine horne with oile, and come, that I may send thee to Isai the Bethlehemitic: for I haue prouided me a king among his sonnes.

2 And Samuel sayd, How can I goe: for if Saul heare it, hee will kill mee. The Lord answered, Take an heifer with thee, and say, I am come to offer to the Lord.

3 And call Isai to the offering, and I will shew thee what thou shalt do: and thou shalt anoint vnto me him whom I name vnto thee.

4 And so Samuel did as the Lord bade him, and came to Bethlehem: and the Elders of the towne were astonied at his coming, and said, Comest thou peaceably?

5 He answered, Yea, I am come to offer vnto the Lord: sanctifie your selues, and come with me to the offering. And he sanctified Isai, and his sonnes, and bade them to the offering.

6 And when they were come, he looked on Eliab, and sayd, Surely the Lords anointed is before him.

7 But the Lord sayd vnto Samuel, Look not on his fashion, or on the height of his stature, because I haue refused him: for God seeth not as man seeth. For man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord beholdeth the heart.

8 Then Isai called Abinadab, and made him come before Samuel: and he said, Neither hath the Lord chosen this.

9 Then Isai made Samma come: and he sayd, Neither yet hath the Lord chosen him.

10 Againe Isai made seuen of his sonnes to come before Samuel, and Samuel sayde vnto Isai, The Lord hath chosen none of these.

11 And Samuel sayd vnto Isai, Are here all thy children? He sayd, There is yet a little one behinde, that keepeth the sheepe. And Samuel sayd vnto Isai, Send, and fetch him: for wee will not sit downe till he come hither.

12 And he sent, and brought him in: and hee was ruddy, and of an excellent beauty, and well fauoured in sight. And the Lord sayd, Arise, and anoint him: for this is he.

13 Therfore Samuel tooke the horne of oile, and anointed him in the mids of his brethren: and the spirit of the Lord came vpon Dauid from that day forward: and Samuel rose vp, and went to Rama.

15 And Sauls seruants sayd vnto him, Beholde, an euill spirit sent of God bereth thee.

16 Let our Lord therefore command thy seruants (that are before thee) to seeke a man that is a cunning player with an harpe: that when the euill spirit of God commeth vpon thee, hee may play with his hand, and thou shalt be ealed.

17 Saul sayd vnto his seruants, Provide mee a man then, that can play well, and bring him to me.

18 Then answered one of his seruants, and sayd, Beholde, I haue feene a sonne of Isai the Bethlehemite, that can play vpon instruments, and is strong, valiant, and a man of warre, and prudent in doing of feats, and well made, and the Lord is with him.

19 Wherefore Saul sent messengers vnto Isai, and sayd, Send me Dauid thy sonne which is with the sheepe.

20 And Isai tooke an asse laden with bread, and a flagon of wine, and a kid, and sent them by Dauid his sonne vnto Saul.

21 And Dauid came to Saul, and stood before him: and hee loued him very well, and hee was made his harness bearer.

22 And Saul sent to Isai, saying, Let Dauid now remaine with me: for he hath found fauour in my sight.

23 And so when the euill spirit of God came vpon Saul, Dauid tooke an harpe, and played with his hande: and so Saul was refreshed, and did amend, and the euill spirit departed from him.

The xvij. Chapter.

1 The Philistines make warre against Israel. 10 Goliath defeth Israel. 50 Dauid killeth Goliath, and the Philistines flee.

The Philistines gathered their host to battell, & came together to Socho, which is in Iuda, and pitched betweene Socho and Azekah, in the coast of Dammin.

2 And Saul and the men of Israel came together, and pitched in the valley of Elah, and put themselues in battell aray, to meet the Philistines.

3 And the Philistines stood on a mountaine on the one side, and Israel stood on a mountaine on the other side: and there was a valley betweene them.

4 And there came a man betweene them both, out of the tents of the Philistines, named Goliath of Gath: six cubites and an hand bredth long:

5 And had an helmet of brasse vpon his head, and a coat of male about him: and the weight of his coat of male was five thousand sicles of brasse.

6 And he had boots of brasse vpon his legs, and a shield of brasse vpon his shoulders.

7 And the shaft of his speare was like a weauers beame, and his speares head weighed six hundred sicles of yron: and one bearing a shield, went before him.

8 And he stood and cried against the hoste of Israel, and sayd vnto them, Why are ye come to set your battell in aray? am not I a Philistine, and you seruants to Saul? chuse you a man for you, and let him come do wnto me.

9 And if he be able to fight with mee, and to kill me, then will we be your seruants: but if I can ouercome him, and kill him, then shall yee be our seruants, and serue vs.

10 And the Philistine sayd, I defie the host of Israel this day, giue mee a man, that wee may fight together.

11 When Saul and all Israel heard those words of the Philistine, they were discouraged, and greatly afraid.

12 Dauid was the sonne of an Ephrathite, of Bethlehem Iuda, named Isai, which had eight sonnes: and this man was taken for an olde man in the dayes of Saul.

13 And the thre eldest sonnes of Isai went, and followed Saul to the battell: and the names of his thre sonnes that went to battell, were Eliab the eldest, and the next Abinadab, and the thirde Samma:

14 And Dauid was the least: and the thre eldest went after Saul.

15 Dauid also went, & departed from Saul, to feed his fathers sheepe at Bethlehem.

16 And the Philistine came forth in the morning and euening, and continued forty dayes.

17 And Isai sayd vnto Dauid his son, Take for thy brethren an epha of this parched corne, and these ten loaues, and run to the host to thy brethren.

18 And carry these ten fresh cheeses vnto the captaine, and looke how thy brethren fare, and set out their pledge.

19 And Saul, and they, and all the men of Israel, were in the valley of Elah, fighting with the Philistines.

20 And Dauid rose by early in the morning, and left the sheepe with a keeper, and tooke and went as Isai had commanded him, and came within the compasse of the hoste: and the hoste went out in aray, and shouted in the battell.

21 For Israel and the Philistines had put themselues in aray, army against army.

22 And Dauid left the things which he bare, vnder the hands of the keeper of the beuelles, and ran into the host, and came and saluted his brethren.

23 And as he talked with them, behold, there stood a man in the mids (Goliath the Philistine by name, of Gath) out of the armie of the Philistines, and spake such wordes: and Dauid heard it.

24 And all the people of Israel when they saw the man, ran away from him, and were soze afraid.

25 And euery man of Israel said, Saw ye not this man that commeth by? euen to reuile Israel is he come: and to him that killeth him, will the king giue great riches, and wil giue him his daughter thereto, yea, and make his fathers house free in Israel.

26 And Dauid spake to the men that stood by, and sayd, What shall be done to the man that killeth this Philistine, and taketh away the shame from Israel? and what is this incircumcised Philistine, that he should reuile the host of the living God?

27 And the people answered him after this manner, saying, So shall it be done to the man that killeth him.

29 And Dauid sayd, And what haue I now done? is there not a cause?

30 And hee departed from him into the presence of another, and spake of the same maner: and the people answered him againe as before.

31 And they that heard the words which Dauid spake, rehearsed them before Saul: which caused him to be set.

32 And Dauid said to Saul, Let no mans heart faile him because of him: thy seruant will goe, and fight with yonder Philistine.

33 And Saul said to Dauid againe, Thou art not able to goe against yonder Philistine, to fight with him: for thou art but a childe, but he is a man of warre, cucn from his youth.

34 Dauid answered vnto Saul, Thy seruant kept his fathers sheepe, and there came a Lion, and likewise a Beare, and tooke a sheepe out of the flocke:

35 And I went out after him, and smote him, and tooke it out of his mouth: and when hee arose against me, I caught him by the beard, and smote him, and slew him.

36 And so thy seruant slew both the Lion and the Beare: and truely this vncircumcised Philistine shall be as one of them, seeing he hath railed upon the host of the liuing God.

37 And Dauid spake moreover, The Lord that deliuered mee out of the hand of the Lion, and out of the hand of the Beare, he shall deliuer me also out of the hand of this Philistine. And Saul said vnto Dauid, Goe, and the Lord bee with thee.

38 And Saul put his raiment vpon Dauid, and put an helmet of brasse vpon his head, and put a coate of mail vpon him.

39 And girded Dauid with his owne sworde vpon his raiment, and hee assayed to goe: and because hee had neuer proued it, Dauid said vnto Saul, I cannot goe with these: for I haue not vsed my selfe thereto. And Dauid put them off him.

40 And tooke his staffe in his hand, and chose him fite smooth stones out of a brooke, and put them in a shepherds bag which he had, that is, in a scrip, and his sling was in his hand, and hee went to the Philistine.

41 And the Philistine came and dreyne neere against Dauid, and the man that bare the shield, went before him.

42 And when the Philistine looked about, and sawe Dauid, hee disdained him: for he was but yong, ruddy, and of a comely face.

43 And the Philistine sayd vnto Dauid, Am I a dog, that thou commest to mee with stauers? And the Philistine curst Dauid in the name of his gods.

44 And the Philistine said to Dauid, Come to me, and I will giue thy flesh vnto the fowles of the aire, and to the beasts of the field.

45 Then said Dauid to the Philistine, Thou commest to mee with a sworde, a speare, and a shield: but I come to thee in the name of the Lord of hostes, the God of the hoste of Israel.

whom thou hast railed vpon.

46 This day shall the Lord close thee into my hand, and I shall smite thee and take thine head from thee, and will giue the carcases of the hoste of the Philistines this day vnto the fowles of the aire, and to the beasts of the earth, that all they which be in the world, may knowe that there is a God in Israel.

47 And all this congregation shall knowe that the Lord saueth not with sword and speare (for the battell is the Lords) and he shall giue you into our hands.

48 And when the Philistine arose to come and draw nigh to Dauid, Dauid hasted, and ran to fight against the Philistine.

49 And Dauid put his hande in his bagge, and tooke out a stone, and slung it, and smote the Philistine in his forehead, that the stone funke into his forehead, and hee fell groueling to the earth.

50 And so Dauid ouercame the Philistine with a sling, and a stone, & smote the Philistine, and slew him, when Dauid had no sworde in his hand.

51 But Dauid ran and stood vpon the Philistine, and tooke his sword, and dreyne it out of his sheath, and slew him, and cut off his head therewith. And when the Philistines sawe that their Champion was dead, they fled.

52 And the men of Israel, and of Iuda, arose, and shouted, and followed after the Philistines, vntill they came to the balley, and vnto the gates of Acaron: and the Philistines fell downe wounded by the way to Saaramin, cuen vnto Gath and Acaron.

53 And the children of Israel returned from chaling after the Philistines, and spoiled their tents.

54 And Dauid tooke the head of the Philistine, and brought it to Hierusalem, but hee put his armour in his tent.

55 When Saul sawe Dauid goe forth against the Philistine, hee sayd vnto Abner the captaine of the hoste, Abner, whose sonne is this yong man? Abner answered, As thy soule liueth, O King, I cannot tell.

56 And the King sayd, Enquire thou whose sonne the yongling is.

57 And when Dauid was returned from the slaughter of the Philistine, Abner tooke him, and brought him before Saul, with the head of the Philistine in his hand.

58 And Saul sayd to him, whose sonne art thou, thou yong man? Dauid answered, I am the sonne of thy seruant Iesai, the Bethlehemite.

5 And Dauid went out whither so euer Saul sent him, and behaued himselfe wisely: and Saul set him ouer his men of warre, and he was accepted in the sight of all the people, and in the sight of Sauls seruants.

6 And as they came againe, when Dauid was returned from the slaughter of the Philistine, the women came out of all cities of Israel, singing and dancing, to meete king Saul, with timbrels, with ioy, and with instruments of musick.

7 And the women answered one another in their play, and saide, Saul hath slaine his thousand, and Dauid his ten thousand.

8 And Saul was exceeding wroth, and the saying displeas'd him, and he said, They haue ascribed vnto Dauid ten thousand, and to mee but a thousand: and what can hee more haue, saue the kingdom?

9 Wherefore Saul had an eye on Dauid, from that day forward.

10 And on the morow the euill spirit sent of God, came vpon Saul, and he prophesied in the mids of the house: and Dauid played with his hand, like as at other times: and there was a iaulin in Sauls hand.

11 And Saul tooke the iaulin, and said, I will naye Dauid to the wall with it: And Dauid auoided out of his presence, two times.

12 And Saul was afraid of Dauid, because the Lord was with him, and was departed from Saul.

13 Therefore Saul put him from him, and made him a captaine ouer a thousand, and hee went out and in before the people.

14 And Dauid behaued himselfe wisely in all his wayes, and the Lord was with him.

15 Wherefore, when Saul saw that hee was so exceeding wise, he was afraid of him.

16 But all Israel and Juda loued Dauid, because he went out and in before them.

17 And Saul sayde to Dauid, Behold my eldest daughter Merob, her will I giue thee to wife: only be a valiant sonne vnto me, and fight the Lozdes battels: for Saul thought, Mine hand shall not be vpon him, but the hand of the Philistines shall be vpon him.

18 And Dauid answered Saul, what am I? and what is my life, or the hired of my father in Israel, that I should bee sonne in lawe to the king?

19 Howbeit when the time was come, that Merob Sauls daughter should haue bene giuen to Dauid, hee was giuen vnto Adiel, a Bethlathite, to wife.

20 Howbeit Michol Sauls daughter, loued Dauid: and they shewed Saul, and the thing pleased him.

21 And Saul sayd, I wil giue him her, that shee may be a snare to him, and that the hand of the Philistines may be against him. wherefore Saul sayd to Dauid, Thou shalt this day be my sonne in lawe in the one of the twaine.

22 And Saul commaunded his seruants to commune with Dauid secretly, and to say, Behold, the king hath a fauour to thee, and all his seruants loue thee: bee now therefore the kings sonne in lawe.

23 And Sauls seruants spake those wordes in the eares of Dauid. And Dauid sayd, Seemeth it to you a light thing to bee a kings sonne in lawe, seeing that I am a pooze man, and of small reputation?

24 And the seruants brought Saul word againe, saying, Of this maner spake Dauid.

25 And Saul sayd, This wife shall see say to Dauid, The king careth for no other dowry, but for an hundred foreskinnes of the Philistines, to bee auenged of the kings enemies. But Saul thought to make Dauid fall into the hands of the Philistines.

26 And when his seruants told Dauid these wordes, he pleased Dauid well to bee the kings sonne in law: and the dayes were not expired.

27 Afterward, Dauid arose with his men, and went and slewe of the Philistines two hundred men, and Dauid brought their foreskinnes, and they gaue them wholly to the king, that hee might be the kings sonne in lawe: Wherefore Saul gaue him Michol his daughter to wife.

28 And Saul saw, and vnderstood how that the Lord was with Dauid, and that Michol his daughter loued him:

29 And hee was the more afraid of Dauid, and Saul became alway Dauids enemye.

30 The lozdes of the Philistines used to goe foorth: and when they went foorth, Dauid behaued himselfe more wisely then all the seruants of Saul, so that his name was much set by.

SAUL spake to Jonathan his sonne and to all his seruants, that they should kill Dauid.

2 But Jonathan Sauls sonne had a great fauour to Dauid, and Jonathan tolde Dauid, saying, Saul my father goeth about to slay thee: Nowe therefore I pray thee, take heede to thy selfe vntill the morning, and abide in some secret place, and hide thy selfe:

3 And I will goe out and stand by my father in the field where thou art, and will commune with my father of thee, and whatsoeuer I see, I will tell thee.

5 And Jonathan spake good of Dauid vnto Saul his father, and sayd vnto him, Let not the king sinne against his seruant, against Dauid: for he hath not sinned against thee, & his workes haue bene to thee ward very good.

4 For hee did put his life in his hande, and slew the Philistine, & the Lord brought to passe a great health for all Israel: thou fastest it, and thou reioicest: wherefore then wilt thou sinne against innocent blood, and say Dauid without a cause?

6 And Saul hearkened vnto the boice of Jonathan, and Saul sweare, As the Lord liueth, he shall not die.

7 And Jonathan had called Dauid, and Jonathan shewed him all those wordes: and Jonathan brought Dauid to Saul, and he was in his presence as in times past.

8 And the warre began againe, and Dauid went out, and fought with the Philistines, and slewe them with a great slaughter, and they fled from him.

11 Saul also sent messengers vnto Dauids house, to watch him, and to slay him in the morning : and Michol Dauids wife tolde him, saying, If thou saue not thy selfe this night, to morrow thou shalt be slaine.

12 And to Michol <sup>e</sup>let Dauid do wne thozow a window : and he went, and fledde, and was saued.

13 And Michol tooke an image, and layed it in the bed, and put a pillow stuffed with goats haire vnder the head of it, and couered it with a cloth.

14 And when Saul sent messengers to fetch Dauid, he sayd, He is sicke.

15 And Saul sent the messengers againe to see Dauid, saying, Bring him to me bed and all, that I may slay him.

16 And when the messengers were come in, behold, there lay an image in the bed with a pillow of goats haire vnder the head of it.

17 And Saul sayde vnto Michol, why hast thou mocked me so, and sent away mine enemy, that hee is escaped ? Michol answered Saul, for he sayd vnto me, Let me go, or els I will kill thee.

18 And so Dauid fled, and escaped, and came to Samuel to Rama, & tolde him all that Saul had done to him : and he and Samuel went and dwelt in <sup>f</sup>Raioth.

19 And one told Saul, saying, Beholde, Dauid is at Raioth in Rama.

22 Then went he himselfe to Rama, and came to a great well that is in Sechu : and hee asked, and sayd, Where are Samuel and Dauid ? And one sayd, Beholde, they be at Raioth in Rama.

23 And he went thither, even to Raioth in Rama : and the spirit of God <sup>i</sup>came vpon him also, and hee went prophesying vntill hee came to Raioth in Rama.

24 And hee stript off his clothes, and prophesied before Samuel in like maner, and <sup>k</sup>fell naked all that day and all that night : and thereof it is that they say, Is Saul also among the prophets ?

The xx. Chapter.

2 Ionathan comforted Dauid. 3 They renue their league. 33 Saul would haue killed Ionathan. 38 Ionathan aduertiseth Dauid by three arrows, of his fathers furie.

AND Dauid fledde from Raioth, which is in Rama, and came and sayd before Jonathan, what haue I done ? wherein am I faultie ? what is the sinne that I haue committed before thy father, that he seeketh my life ?

2 He sayd vnto him, God forbid, thou shalt not die : behold, my father wil do nothing either great or small, but that he will <sup>l</sup>shew it me : and how should my father hide this thing from me ? he will not do it.

3 And Dauid sware againe, and sayd, Thy father knoweth that I haue soue grace in thine eyes, and therefore he thinketh, Jonathan shall not know it, lest he be sorry : and in very deed, euen as the Lord liueth, and as thy soule liueth, there is but a <sup>m</sup>step betweene me and death.

4 Then sayd Jonathan vnto Dauid, what soeuer thy soule <sup>n</sup>desireth, that I will doe vnto thee.

5 And Dauid sayd vnto Jonathan, Behold, to morrow is the <sup>o</sup>beginning of the month, and I should sit with the king at meat : but let mee goe, that I may hide my selfe in the fields vnto the third day at euen.

6 If thy father speake of mee, then say, Dauid asked leaue of me that he might goe to Bethlehem to his owne city : for there is holden a yeerely feast for all the kinred.

7 And if he say, It is well done, then thy seruant shall haue peace : but if hee be angry, then be sure that wickednesse is vtterly concluded of him.

8 And then thou shalt shew mercy vnto thy seruant, <sup>p</sup>for thou hast toynded thy seruant into a couenant of the Lord with thee : not withstanding, if there be in me iniquity, slay me thy selfe : for why shouldst thou bring me to thy father ?

9 And Jonathan answered, God keepe that from thee : for if I knew that wickednesse were <sup>q</sup>concluded of my father to come vpon thee, would not I tell it thee ?

10 Then sayd Dauid to Jonathan, who shall tell me ? howe shall I know if thy father answerd thee cruelly ?

11 And Jonathan sayd vnto Dauid, Come, and let vs goe out into the field. And they went out both of them into the field.

12 And Jonathan sayd vnto Dauid, O Lord God of Israel, when I haue groped my fathers minde, at this time to morrow, or within these three dayes, and if it be well with Dauid, and I then send not vnto thee, and shew it thee :

13 The Lord do so : and much more to Jonathan : but if my father haue pleasure to doe thee euill, I will shew thee also, and send thee away : that thou mayest goe in peace, and the Lord bee with thee, as he hath bene with my father.

14 And I require not whyles I liue, for I doubt not but thou wilt shewe mee the mercy of the Lord, that I die not :

15 But I require that thou cut not off thy mercy from my house for euer, no not when the Lord hath destroyed the enemies of Dauid euery one from the face of the earth.

16 And so Jonathan made a bonde with the house of Dauid, saying, Let the Lord require it at the hands of Dauids enemies.

17 And Jonathan sware againe vnto Dauid, because hee loued him : for hee loued him as his owne soule.

18 Then Jonathan sayd to Dauid, To morrow is the first day of the moone : and thou shalt bee <sup>r</sup>inuilid, because the place where thou wast wont to sit, shall be empty.

20 And I will shoot thee arrowes on the side thereof, as though I shot them at a marke.

21 And I wil send a lad, and bid him go seeke the arrowes. And if I say vnto the lad, See, the arrowes are on this side thee, bring them: then come thou, for it is peace & no hurt, as the Lord liueth.

22 But if I say vnto the lad, Behold, the arrowes are beyond thee: goe thy way, for the Lord hath sent thee a way.

23 And as touching this which thou and I haue spoken, behold, the Lord be betweene thee and me for euer.

24 And so Dauid hid himselfe in the field: And when the new Moone was come, the king late him downe to eate meate.

25 And the king late as at other times, vpon his seate, euen vpon his seate by the wall: and Jonathan arose, and Abner late by Sauls side, and Dauids place was empty.

26 Neuertheless, Saul said nothing at all that day: for he thought, Some thing hath befallen him, & though hee were cleane: or else because he was not purified.

27 But on the morow, which was the second day of the new Moone, Dauids place was empty againe: and Saul sayd vnto Jonathan his sonne, wherfore commeth not the sonne of I: sai to meate, neither yesterday no: to day?

28 And Jonathan answered vnto Saul, Dauid asked licence of me to goe to Bethlehem.

29 For hee sayd, Let me goe. I pray thee, for our hired doth hold an offering in the cite, and my brother hath sent for mee, and therefore if I haue found fauour in thine eyes, let mee goe, I pray thee, and see my brethren: This is the cause that he commeth not vnto the kings table.

30 Then Saul was angry with Jonathan, and said vnto him, Thou sonne of the wicked rebellious woman, doe not I know that thou hast chosen the sonne of I: sai vnto thine own rebuke, and vnto the rebuke and shame of thy mother?

31 For as long as the sonne of I: sai liueth vpon the earth, thou shalt not bee stablished, no: yet thy kingdome: wherfore nowe send and fetch him vnto me, for he is the child of death.

32 And Jonathan answered vnto Saul his father, and sayd vnto him, wherfore shall hee die: what hath he done?

33 And Saul lift vp a speare to hit him, wherby Jonathan will wel that it was vtterly determined of his father to slay Dauid.

34 And so Jonathan arose from the table in a great anger, and did eat no meate the second day of the moneth: for he was loy for Dauid, because his father had done him shame.

35 On the next morning Jonathan went out into the field, at the time appointed, with Dauid, and a little lad with him.

36 And he sayd vnto his boy, Run, and seeke out mine arrowes which I shooce. And as the boy ran, he shot an arrow beyond him.

37 And when the lad was come to the place whither Jonathan had shot the arrowe, Jonathan cried after the lad, and sayd, Is not the arrow beyond thee?

38 And Jonathan cried after the lad againe, Make speed, haste, and stand not still. And Jonathans lad gathered by the arrowes, and came to his master.

39 But the lad wist nothing of the matter, onely Jonathan and Dauid wist it.

40 And Jonathan gaue his instruments vnto the lad that was with him, and said vnto him, Goe and carie them to the towne.

41 And alioone as the lad was gone, Dauid arose out of a place that was toward the South, and fell on his face to the ground, & bowed himselfe three times: and they killed each other, and went together, but Dauid exceeded.

42 And Jonathan sayde to Dauid, Goe in peace, and the things which wee haue swoome both of vs in the name of the Lord, saying, The Lord be between me and thee: and betwene thy seede and mine, let them stand for euer. And hee arose, and departed: and Jonathan went into the towne.

The xxj. Chapter.

1 Dauid fleeth to Nob to Ahimelech the Priest. 6 He getteth of him the shewbread to satisfie his hunger.

Then came Dauid to Nob, to Ahimelech the Priest, and Ahimelech was astonied at the meeting of Dauid, and sayd vnto him, Why art thou alone, and no man with thee?

2 And Dauid saide vnto Ahimelech the Priest, The king hath commaunded mee a certaine thing, and hath sayd vnto me, Let no man know wherabout I send thee, & what I haue commanded thee: and I haue appointed my seruants to such places:

3 Now therefore, if thou hast ought vnder thine hand, giue me sixe loaves of bread, or what commeth to hand.

4 And the Priest answered Dauid, and said, There is no common bread vnder mine hand, but here is hallowed bread: if the yong men haue kept themselves specially from women,

5 Dauid answered the Priest and sayd vnto him, O a trueth women haue bene separated from vs this two or three dayes, since I came out: and the vessels of the yong men were holy, although this way be impure, yet this day it shal be sanctified in the vessel.

6 And so the Priest gaue him hallowed bread, for there was none other bread there, saue the shew bread that was taken from before the Lord, to put fresh bread there, the day that it was taken a way.

7 (And there was there the same day, a certaine man of the seruants of Saul, abiding before the Lord, named Doeg, an Edomite, the chiefest of Sauls heardmen.)

8 And Dauid sayd vnto Ahimelech, Is not here vnder thine hand either speare or sword: for I haue neither brought my sword no: my harness with mee, because the kings businesse required halfe.

9 And the Priest sayd, The sword of Goliath the Philistine, whom thou slewest in the balley of Giah, behold, it is here wrapped in a cloth behinde the Ephod: if thou wilt take that, take it, for there is no other saue that here. And Dauid sayd, There is none to that, giue it me.

The xxij. Chapter.

1 Dauid hideth himselfe in a caue. 2 Many that were in trouble, came vnto him.

DAuid therefore departed thence, and escaped to the caue. Adullam: when his brethren also and his fathers house heard it, they went downe thither to him.

2 And there gathered vnto him al men that were in combrance, and in debt, and troubled in their minds, & he became a captaine ouer them: and there were with him vpon a foure hundred men.

3 And Dauid went thence to Hishpah, in the land of Moab, and said vnto the king of Moab, Let my father & my mother, I pray thee, come forth vnto you, till I know what God will doe for mee.

4 And hee brought them before the king of Moab: and they dwelt with him all the while that Dauid kept himselfe in the holde.

5 And the Prophet Gad saide vnto Dauid, Abide not in the holde, but depart and goe into the lande of Iuda. Then Dauid departed, and came into the forrest Bareth.

6 And Saul heard that Dauid was discovered, & also the men that were with him: & Saul late in Gibeon vnder a tree in Rama, hauing his speare in his hand, & al his men stood about him.

7 And Saul said vnto his seruants that stood about him, Heare, I pray you, ye sonnes of Iemim: Will the sonne of Isai giue euery one of you fieldes and vineyards, and make you all captaines ouer thousands, and ouer hundreds:

8 That yee haue also conspired against mee, and there is none that telleth me that my sonne hath made a covenant with the son of Isai, and there is none of you that is sorie for me, or weth me that my sonne hath stirred by my seruant to lie in wait against me, as appeareth this day?

9 Then answered Doeg y Edomite, (which was appointed by the seruants of Saul) and saide, I saue the sonne of Isai when he came to Nob, to Ahimelech the sonne of Ahitob, 10 which asked counsell of the Lord for him, and gaue him victuals, and gaue him the sword of Goliath the Philistine also.

11 Then the king sent and called for Ahimelech the Priest the sonne of Ahitob, and al his fathers house, that is to say, the Priests that were in Nob: and they came all to the King.

12 And Saul said, Heare now thou sonne of Ahitob. He answered, Here I am, my lord.

13 And Saul laide vnto him, Why haue yee conspired against mee, thou, & the sonne of Isai, in that thou hast giuen him victuall, & a sword, and hast asked counsell of God for him, that hee should rise against me, and lie in waite for me, as appeareth this day?

14 Ahimelech answered the king, and saide, who is so faithfull among al thy seruants, as Dauid, being also the Kings sonne in lawe, & goeth at thy bidding, & is had in honor in thine house.

15 Haue I this day begun first to aske counsell of God for him: that be farre from me: let not the King impute any thing vnto his seruant, nor to all the house of my father: for thy seruant knew nothing of all this, either lesse or moze.

16 The King said, Thou shalt surely die, Ahimelech, thou, and all thy fathers house.

17 And the King said vnto the footmen that stood about him, Turne, and slay the Priests of the Lord: both because their hande is with Dauid, and because they knew when Dauid fled, and shewed it not to me. But the seruants of the King would not moue their hands to fall vpon the Priests of the Lord.

18 And the king saide to Doeg, Turne thou and fall vpon the Priests. And Doeg the Edomite turned, and ran vpon the Priests, and slew that same day foure score and five persons that did weare a linnen Ephod.

19 And Nob the cite of the Priests smote hee with the edge of the sword, both men & women, children and sucklings, oren and asses, & sheepe, with the edge of the sword.

20 And one of the sonnes of Ahimelech, the sonne of Ahitob, named Abiathar, escaped and fled to Dauid:

21 And Abiathar shewed Dauid howe that Saul had slaine the Lords Priests.

22 And Dauid said vnto Abiathar, I wist it the same day, when Doeg the Edomite was there, that he would tel Saul: and I am cause of the death of all the persons of thy fathers house.

23 Abide thou with me, and feare not: for he that seeketh my life, he shal seeke thine also, with me thou shalt be in safegard.

3 And Davids men said vnto him, See, we be afraid here in Iuda: how much moze then if wee come to Keila against the holle of the Philistines?

4 Then Dauid asked counsell of the Lord againe: and the Lord answered him, and saide, Arise, and goe downe to Keila: for I will deliuer the Philistines into thine hand.

5 And so Dauid and his men went to Keila, and fought with the Philistines, and brought

6 And when Abiathar the sonne of Ahimelech fled to Dauid to Keila, hee brought an Ephod with him in his hand,

8 And Saul called al the people together to warre, for to goe downe to Keila, and to besiege Dauid and his men.

9 And Dauid hauing knowledge that Saul imagined mischief against him, saide to Abiathar the Priest, Bring the Ephod.

10 Then said Dauid, O Lord God of Israel, thy seruant hath heard that Saul is about to come to Keila, to destroy the city for my sake.

11 Will the lords of Keila deliuer me into his hande? And will Saul come downe as thy seruant hath heard, O Lord God of Israel? I beseech thee tel thy seruant. And the Lord said, He will come downe.

12 Then said Dauid, wil the Lords of Keila deliuer me, and the men that are with mee, into the hand of Saul? And the Lord said, They wil deliuer thee by.

13 Then Dauid and his men, which were by on a fire hundred, arose, and departed out of Keila, and went whither they could: and it was told Saul that Dauid was fled from Keila, and he let the iourney alone.

14 Dauid abode in the wilderness, in strong holds, and remained in a mountaine in the wilderness of Ziph: and Saul sought him every day, but God deliuered him not into his hand.

15 And Dauid saw that Saul was come out to seeke his life: and Dauid was in the wilderness of Ziph in the wood.

16 And Jonathan Sauls sorne arose, and went to Dauid into the wood, and comforted his hand in God, 17 And said vnto him, feare not, for the hand of Saul my father shall not finde thee, and thou shalt be king ouer Israel, and I shall be next vnto thee: and that doeth Saul my father know.

18 And they made a bond both of them together before the Lord: and Dauid taried still in the wood, and Jonathan went to his house.

19 Then came the Ziphites to Saul to Gibeon, saying, Doeth not Dauid hide himselfe fast by vs in strong holdes in the wood, in the hill of Bethla, on the right side of Jelsimon?

20 Now therefore, O king, thou mayest come downe according to al the lust of thy soule, for our part shall be to deliuer him into the kings hand.

21 And Saul said, Blessed are ye in the Lord, for ye haue compassion on me:

22 Goe, I pray you, and prepare yet better, know, and see where his foote hath bene, and who hath seene him there: for it is told me that he is very subtil.

23 See therefore, and know all the lurking places where hee hideth himselfe, and come ye againe to mee with the certaintie, and I will goe with you: and if hee be in the land, I will search him out throughout all the thousandes of Iuda.

24 And they arose, and went to Ziph before

Saul: but Dauid and his men were in the wilderness of Maon, in the plaine that is on the right hand of Jelsimon.

25 Saul also and his men went to seeke him, and they told Dauid: wherefore he came downe vnto a rocke, and abode in the wilderness of Maon: and when Saul heard that, hee followed after Dauid in the wilderness of Maon.

26 And Saul and his men went on the one side of the mountaine, and Dauid and his men on the other side of the mountaine: and Dauid made haste to get from the presence of Saul: for Saul and his men compassed Dauid and his men round about, to take them.

27 But there came a messenger vnto Saul, saying, Haste thee, and come: for the Philistines haue invaded the land.

28 Wherefore Saul returned from persecuting Dauid, and went against the Philistines, and therefore they called that place, Sela Hamahlechor. And Dauid went thence, and dwelt in strong holds at En-gadi.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

2 Then Saul tooke three thousand chosen men out of all Israel, and went to seeke Dauid and his men in the height of the rockes: where wilde goates remaine.

3 And hee came to the sheepe coates by the way, where there was a caue, and Saul went in to do his easement: and Dauid and his men remained in the inward parts of the caue.

4 And the men of Dauid said vnto him, See, the day is come of which the Lord saide vnto thee, Beholde, I will deliuer thine enemy into thine hand, and thou shalt doe to him as it shall seeme good in thy sight. Then Dauid arose, and cut off the lappe of Sauls garment yniuil.

5 And afterward Dauids heart smote him, because he had cut off the lap of Sauls garment.

6 And he said vnto his men, The Lord keepe mee from doing that thing vnto my master the Lords anointed, to lay mine hand vpon him, seeing he is the anointed of the Lord.

7 And so Dauid kept off his seruants with these wordes, and suffered them not to rise against Saul: but Saul rose by out of the caue, and went away.

8 Dauid also arose afterward, and went out of the caue, and cryed after Saul, saying, My lord king. And when Saul looked behinde him, Dauid stomped with his face to the earth, and bowed himselfe:

9 And Dauid sayd to Saul, wherefore giueth thou an eare to mens wordes, that say, Beholde, Dauid seeketh euill against thee?

10 Beholde, this day thine eyes haue seene how that the Lord hath deliuered thee this day into mine hand in the caue: and some bade mee kill thee, but I had compassion on thee, and said, I will not lay mine hands on my master, for he is the Lords anointed.

The xxv. Chapter.

1 Samuel dieth. 3 Nabal and Abigail. 38 The Lord killeth Nabal. 42 Abigail and Ahinoam Dauids wiues. 43 Michol is giuen to Phalti.

And Samuel died, and all the Israelites gathered together, and lamented him, and buried him in his owne house at Rama. And Dauid arose, and went downe to the wilcernetelle of Bharan.

2 And there was a man in <sup>b</sup> Maon, whose possession was in Carmel, and the man was exceeding mighty, and had thzee thousand sheepe, and a thousand goates: and he was shearing his sheepe in Carmel.

3 The name of the man was Nabal, and the name of his wife was Abigail, and shee was a woman of a singular wisdom, and beautifull: but the man was churlish, and of the wde conditions, and was of the kindred of Caleb.

4 And Dauid heard in the wilbernesse that Nabal did sheare his sheepe.

5 And Dauid sent out ten yong men, and said vnto them, Get you vp to Carmel, and goe to Nabal, and <sup>f</sup> grette him in my name.

6 And ye shal say, So mayest thou liue, peace be to thee, peace be to thine house, and peace bee vnto all that thou hast.

7 Beholde, I haue heard say that thou hadst shearers: nowe thy shepheards were with vs, and wee did them no spite, neither was there ought mulling vnto them al the while they were in Carmel.

8 Aske thy lads, and they will theroe thee: wherefore let these yong men finde fauour in thine eyes (for we come in a good <sup>2</sup> season) & giue, I pray thee, whatsoeuer <sup>d</sup> cometh to thine hand, vnto thy seruants, and to thy sonne Dauid.

9 And when Dauids yong men came, they told Nabal all those wordes in the name of Dauid: and held their peace.

10 And Nabal answered Dauids seruants, and said, <sup>e</sup> Who is Dauid: and who is the son of Isai? There is plentie of seruants now a dayes that breake a way every man from his master.

11 Shall I then take my bread, my water, and my flesh that I haue killed for my hearers, & giue it vnto men whom I wote not whence they be?

12 And so Dauids seruants turned their way, and went againe, and came and tolde him all those sayings.

13 And Dauid said vnto his men, Girde euery man his sworde about him. And they girded euery man his sworde about him, and Dauid was girded with his sword: and there followed Dauid vpon a foure hundred men, & two hundred abode by the <sup>f</sup> stufte.

14 But one of the lads tolde Abigail Nabals wife, saying, Beholde, Dauid sent messengers vnto our master out of the wilbernesse to salute him: and he <sup>g</sup> railed on them.

15 And yet the men were very good vnto vs, and did vs no displeasure, neither milled we any thing as long as wee were conuersant with them, when we were in the fields.

16 They were <sup>h</sup> a wall vnto vs both by night and day, all the while wee were with them keeping sheepe.

17 Now therefore take heede, and see what thou shalt do: for surely euil <sup>i</sup> wil come vpon our master, and all his household: for he is so wicked, that a man cannot speake to him.

18 Then Abigail made haste, and tooke two hundred <sup>j</sup> loaues, and two botels of wine, and five sheepe ready dresled, and five measures of parched cozne, and an hundred <sup>k</sup> frailes of raphans, and two hundred <sup>l</sup> cakes of figges, and laded them on asses.

19 And saide vnto her yong men, Goe before me, beholde, I come after you. But she tolde her husband Nabal nothing thereof.

20 And as she rode on her asse, she came priuily downe the side of the hill, and beholde, Dauid and his men came down against her, & she met them.

21 And Dauid said, Surely in vaine haue I kept all that this fellow hath in the wilbernesse, so that nothing was missed of all that pertained vnto him: and he hath quit me euil for good.

22 So and moze also doe God vnto the enemies of Dauid, if I leaue of all that pertaine to him by the dawning of the day, any that <sup>m</sup> pisseth against the wall.

tie be counted mine, my lord, and let thine hand-mayd I pray thee, speake in thine audience, and heare the words of thine handmayd.

25 Let not my lord, I pray thee, regard this wicked man Nabal: for as his name is, so is he: Nabal is his name, and folly is with him: But I thine handmayd saw not the yong men of my lord whom thou sendest.

26 Howe therefore my lord, as the Lord liueth, and as thy soule liueth, euen the Lord that hath withholden thee from comming to shed blood, and kept thine hand to thee: so now, I pray God, that thine enemies, and they that intend to doe my lord euill, may be as Nabal.

27 And now thine blessing which thine handmayd hath brought vnto my lord, let it be giuen vnto the yong men that follow my lord.

28 I pray thee, forgive the trespass of thine handmaid: for the Lord wil make my lord a sure house, because my lord fighteth the battels of the Lord, and there could none euill be found in thee in all thy dayes.

29 And yet a man hath risen to persecute thee, and to seeke thy soule: but the soule of my lord shall be bound in the bundle of the liuing with the Lord thy God, and the soules of thine enemies shall God cast out, euen as out of the middle of a sling.

32 And Dauid said to Abigail, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, which sent thee this day to meete me.

33 Blessed is thy saying, and blessed art thou which hast kept mee this day from comming to shed blood, and from auenging my selfe with mine owne hand.

34 For in very dede, as the Lord God of Israel liueth, which hath kept me backe from hurting thee, except thou haddest hated and met me, surely there had not bene left vnto Nabal by the dawning of the day, any that pilfereth against the wall.

35 And so Dauid receiued of her hande that which shee had brought him, and saide vnto her, Goe by in peace to thine house, beholde, I haue heard thy voyce, & haue granted thy petition.

36 And Abigail came to Nabal, and beholde, he held a feast in his house like the feast of a king, and Nabals heart was merie within him, for he was very drunken: wherefore shee tolde him nothing neither lesse nor more, buttill the morrow morning.

37 But in the morning when the wine was gone out of Nabal, his wife tolde him these words, and his heart died within him, and he became as a stone.

38 And about ten dayes after, the Lord smote Nabal, that he died.

39 And when Dauid heard that Nabal was dead, he said, Blessed be the Lord that hath iudged the cause of my rebuke of the hand of Nabal, and hath kept his seruant from euill: for the Lord hath recompenced the wickednesse of Nabal by 40 And when the seruants of Dauid were come to Abigail to Carmel, they spake vnto her, saying, Dauid sent vs vnto thee, to take thee to his wife. And shee arose, and bowed her selfe on her face to the earth, and said, Beholde, let thine handmayd be a seruant to wash the feete of the seruants of my Lord.

41 And Abigail hastned, and rose, and gate her vpon an asse, with fixe damosels of hers that went at her feete, and shee went after the messengers of Dauid, and became his wife.

42 Dauid also tooke Abinoam of Jezrael, and they were both his wiues.

43 But Saul had giuen Michol his daughter, Dauids wife, to Phalti the sonne of Laish, which was of Gallim.

The xxvj. Chapter.

1 Dauid was discouered vnto Saul by the Ziphites. 12 Dauid taketh away Sauls speare, and a cruse of water that stood at his head. 21 Saul confesseth his sinne.

He Ziphites came againe vnto Saul to Gibeon, saying, Doeeth not Dauid hide himselfe in the hill of Hachilah, which is before Beth-lehem?

2 Saul arose, and went downe to the wilderness of Ziph, hauing thre thousand chosen men of Israel with him, for to seeke Dauid in the wilderness of Ziph.

3 And Saul pitched in the hill of Hachilah, which is before Beth-lehem by the way side: but Dauid dwelt in the wilderness, and he saw that Saul came after him into the wilderness:

4 Dauid there fore sent out spies, and vnderstood that Saul was come in very deed.

5 And Dauid arose, & came to the place where Saul had pitched: and Dauid beheld the place where Saul lay, and Abner the sonne of Ner, which was the chiefe captaine: for Saul lay in the fort, & the people pitched round about him.

6 Then answered Dauid, and spake to Abimelech the Bethite, and to Abisai the sonne of Zaria and brother to Joab, saying, who wil go downe with me to Saul to the hoste? And Abisai said, I wil goe downe with thee.

7 And so Dauid and Abisai came downe to the people by night, and beholde, Saul lay sleeping within the fort, and his speare sticke in the ground at his head: but Abner and the people lay round about him.

8 Then said Abisai to Dauid, God hath closed thine enemy into thine hand this day: now, I pray thee, let mee smite him once with my speare to the earth, and I wil not smite him the second time.

9 And Dauid saide to Abisai, Destroy him not: for who can lay his hand on the Lords anointed, and be guiltlesse?

10 And Dauid said furthermore, As the Lord liueth, the Lord shall smite him, or his day shall come to die, or hee shall descend into battell, and perish:

11 The Lord keepe mee from laying mine hand vpon the Lords anointed: but I pray thee, take thou now the speare that is at his head, and the cruse of water, and let vs goe.

13 Then Dauid went ouer to the other side, and stood on the top of an hill afarre off (a great space being betweene them.)

14 And Dauid cryed to the people, and to Abner the sonne of Ner, saying, Hearest thou not, Abner? Abner answered, and said, Who art thou that cryest to the king?

15 And Dauid sayde to Abner, Art not thou a dan man? a who is like to thee in Israel: wherefore then hast thou not kept thy lozde the king? for there came one of the folke in, to destroy the king thy lozd.

18 And he sayd, Wherefore doth my lozd thus persecute his seruant? for what haue I done? or what euill is in mine hand?

19 Now therefore, I pray thee, let my lozde the king heare the words of his seruant: If the Lozde haue stirred thee vp against me, let him smell the sauour of a sacrifice: but if they bee the children of men, cursed are they before the Lozd, for they haue cast me out this day from abiding in the inheritance of the Lozd, saying, Go serue other gods.

20 Now therefore, let not my blood fall to the earth before the face of the Lozd: for the king of Israels come out to seeke a flea: as when one doth hunt a partridge in the mountaines.

21 Then sayd Saul, I haue sinned: Come againe, my sonne Dauid, for I will doe thee no more harme, because my soule was precious in thine eyes this day: beholde, I haue played the fooie, and haue erred exceedingly.

22 And Dauid answered, and sayd, Beholde the kings speare, let one of the young men come our, and fetch it.

23 The Lozd rewarde every man according to his righte ouines and faithfulness: for the Lozd deliuered thee into my hand this day, but I would not lay mine hand vpon the Lordes anointed.

24 And behold, like as thy life was much set by this day in mine eyes: so be my life set by in the eyes of the Lozd, that he deliuer me out of all tribulation.

25 Then Saul sayde to Dauid, Blessed art thou, my sonne Dauid: for thou shalt doe great things, and pzeuante. And so Dauid went his way, and Saul turned to his place againe.

The xvij. Chapter.

2 Dauid fleeth to Achis king of Gath, who giueth him Ziklag. 8 Dauid deltroych certaine of the Philistines. 10 Achis is deceiued by Dauid.

And Dauid sayd in his heart, I shall perish one day by the hande of Saul: therefore is there nothing better for me then to flee, and saue my selfe in the hand of the Philistines, and Saul shall cease, and seeke me no more in all the coastes of Israel, and so shall I escape out of his hand.

2 And Dauid arose, and he and the six hundred men that were with him, went vnto Achis the sonne of Maach king of Gath.

3 And Dauid dwelt with Achis at Gath, both he and his men, eury man with his household, and Dauid with his two wiues, Ahinoam the Jezraelite, and Abigail Nabals wife the Carmelite.

4 And it was tolde Saul that Dauid was fled to Gath, and he sought no more for him.

5 And Dauid sayde vnto Achis, If I haue now found grace in thine eyes, let them giue me a place in some towne in the countrey, that I may dwell there: for why should thy seruant dwell in y head cite of the kingdome with thee?

6 Then Achis gaue him Ziklag that same day, for which cause Ziklag pertaincth vnto the kings of Iuda vnto this day.

7 And the time that Dauid dwelt in the countrey of the Philistines, was foure moneths and certaine dayes.

8 And Dauid and his men went by and inuaded the Gekirites, the Serzites, and the Amalekites: for those nations were from the beginning the inhabitants of the land, as men go to Sur vnto the land of Egypt.

9 And Dauid smote the lande, and left neither man nor woman aliue, and tooke a way the sheepe, the oren, the asses, the camels, & clothes, and returned, and came to Achis.

10 And Achis sayd, where haue ye beene a roving this day? And Dauid answered, Against the South of Iuda, and against the South of the Jerameelites, and against the South of the Benites.

11 And Dauid saued neither man nor woman aliue, to bring tydings to Gath, saying, Least they should tell on vs, and say, So did Dauid, and so will be his manner all the while he dwelleth in the countrey of the Philistines.

12 And Achis beleueed Dauid, saying, Hee hath made his people Israel vtterly to abhorre him, & therefore he shall be my seruant for euer.

6 And when Saul asked counsell of the Lord, the Lord answered him not, neither by dreams, nor by Urim, nor yet by Prophets.

7 Then sayde Saul vnto his seruants, Seeke me a woman that hath a familiar spirit, that I may goe to her, and aske of her. And his seruants sayd to him, Behold, there is a woman that hath a familiar spirit at Endor.

8 And Saul changed himselfe, and put on other rayment, and then went he and two men with him, & they came to the woman by night, and he sayd, I pray thee coniecture vnto me by thy familiar spirit, and bring me him by whom I shall name vnto thee.

9 And the woman sayd vnto him, Beholde, thou knowest what Saul hath done, how hee hath destroyed the sojourners, and the soothsayers out of the land: wherefore then layest thou a snare for my soule, to cause me to die?

10 And Saul swore to her by the Lord, saying, As the Lord liueth, there shall no harme come to thee for this thing.

11 Then sayd the woman, whome shall I fetch by vnto thee? He answered, Bring me by Samuel.

12 When the woman saw Samuel, shee cryed with a loude voyce, and spake to Saul, saying, Why hast thou deceiued me? for thou art Saul.

13 And the king sayde vnto her, Bee not afraid: what sawest thou? The woman sayd vnto Saul, I sawe gods ascending by out of the earth.

14 He sayd vnto her againe, what fashion is hee of? Shee answered, There cometh by an olde man with a mantle vpon him. And Saul perceiued that it was Samuel, and he stooped with his face to the ground, and bowed himselfe.

15 And Samuel said to Saul, why hast thou troubled me, to make me be brought by? Saul answered, I am sore encumbered, for the Philistines make warre against mee, and God is departed from me, and answereth me no more, neither by Prophets, nor by dreams: and therefore I haue called thee, that thou mayest tell mee what I shall doe.

16 Then sayd Samuel, wherfore doest thou aske of mee, while the Lord is gone from thee, and is become thine enemy?

17 Truly the Lord hath done to him euil as he spake by my hand: for the Lord hath rent the kingdome out of thine hand, and giuen it thy neighbour Dauid:

18 Because thou obeyedst not the voyce of the Lord, nor executedst his wrath vpon the Amalekites, therefore hath the Lord done this vnto thee this day.

19 And moreover, the Lord will deliuer Israel with thee, into the hands of the Philistines: to morrow shalt thou and thy sonnes be with me, and the Lord shall giue the hoste of Israel into the hands of the Philistines.

20 When Saul fell straightway all along on the earth, and was sore afraid, because of the wordes of Samuel, and there was no strength in him: for he had eaten no bread all the day, nor all the night.

21 And the woman came vnto Saul, and saw that hee was sore troubled, and sayd vnto him, See, thine handmaide hath obeyed thy voice, and I haue put my soule in my hand, and haue hearkened vnto thy wordes which thou saydest vnto me.

22 Now therefore, I pray thee, hearken thou also vnto the voyce of thine handmaide, and let me set a morsell of bread before thee, that thou mayest eate, and get thee strength, and then goe on thy iourney.

23 He refused, and sayd, I will not eate. But his seruants, and the woman together compelled him, and he hearkened vnto their voyce: and so he arose from the earth, and sate on a bed.

24 The woman had a fat calfe in the house, and shee hasted and killed it, and tooke flower and kneaded it, and did bake unleavened breade thereof,

25 And brought them before Saul, and before his seruants: and when they had eaten, they stood by, and went away the same night.

The xxix. Chapter.

4 The Princes of the Philistines cause Dauid to be sent backe from the battell against Israel, because they mistrusted him.

¶ The Philistines were gathered together with all their armies in Aphec: and the Israelites pitched by Ain, which is in Jezrael.

2 And the Princes of the Philistines went soorth by hundreds and thousands: but Dauid and his men came behinde with Achis.

3 Then sayd the Princes of the Philistines, what doe these Hebrwes here? Achis said vnto the princes of the Philistines, Is not this Dauid the seruant of Saul the King of Israel, which hath bene with mee these dayes, or these yeeres, and I haue found no fault in him since he fell vnto me, vnto this day?

4 And the Princes of the Philistines were wroth with him, & the princes of the Philistines sayd vnto him, Make this fellow to returne, that hee may goe againe to his place which thou hast appointed him, and let him not goe downe with vs to battell, lest in the battell hee be an aduersarie to vs: for where with should hee obtaine the fauour of his master? should it not be with the heads of these men?

5 Is not this Dauid, to whom they sang in daunces, saying, Saul slewe his thousand, and Dauid his ten thousand?

6 When Achis called Dauid, and sayd vnto him, As the Lord liueth, thou hast bene honest and good in my sight, when thou wentest out and in with mee in the hoste, neither haue I found euill with thee since thou camest to mee vnto this day: neuertheles the Princes fauour thee not.

7 Wherefore nowe returne and go in peace, that thou displeasest not the princes of the Philistines.

8 And Dauid sayd vnto Achis, And what haue I done? what hast thou found in thy seruant as long as I haue bene with thee vnto this day, that I may not goe fight against the enemies of my lord the king?

9 Achis answered and said to Dauid, I know that thou art good in my sight as an Angel of God: notwithstanding the princes of the Philistines haue sayd, Let him not goe by with vs to battell.

The xxx. Chapter.

1 The Amalekites burne Ziklag. 5 Dauids two wiues are taken prisoners. 6 The people would stone him. 8 He asketh counsell of the Lord, and pursuing his enemies, recouereth the pray.

But when Dauid & his men were come to Ziklag the third day, the Amalekites had inuaded vpon the South, euen vnto Ziklag, and had smitten Ziklag, and burnt it with fire.

2 And had taken the women that were therein prisoners, both smal and great, and slew not a man, but caried them away, and went their wayes.

3 So Dauid and his men came to the citie, and beholde, it was burnt with fire, and their wiues, their sonnes, and their daughters were taken prisoners.

4 Then Dauid and the people that were with him, lift by their voyces and wept, vntill they could weepe no more.

5 And Dauids two wiues were taken prisoners also, Ahinoam the Jezraelite, and Abigail the wife of Nabal the Carmelite.

6 And Dauid was in great cumberance: for the people intended to stone him, because the hearts of all the people were bered, every man for his sonnes, and for his daughters: but Dauid tooke a good courage to him in the Lord his God,

7 And saide to Abiathar the priest Ahimelechs sonne, I pray thee, bring me the Ephod: and Abiathar brought the Ephod to Dauid.

8 And Dauid asked counsell at the Lorde, saying, Shall I followe after this company? shall I ouertake them? and hee answered him, followe, for thou shalt surely ouertake them, and recouer all.

9 So Dauid and the fire hundred men that were with him, went, and came to the riuer Besor, where a part of them abode.

10 But Dauid and foure hundred men followed: (for two hundred abode behind, being too wearie to goe ouer the riuer Besor.)

11 And they found an Egyptian in the field, and brought him to Dauid, and gaue him bread, and he did eate, and water to drinke, 12 And gaue him a lewe sigges, and two clusters of raisins: and when he had eaten, his spirite came againe to him: for hee had eaten no bread, nor drunke any water in thre dayes and thre nights.

13 And Dauid said vnto him, To whome belongeth thou? and whence art thou? Hee sayde, I am a young man of Egypt, and seruant to an Amalekite, and my master left me because thre dayes agone I fell sicke.

14 Wee came a routing vpon the South of Cherethus, and vpon the coast belonging to Iuda, and toward the South of Caleb, and wee burnt Ziklag with fire.

15 And Dauid said to him, Canst thou bring me to this company? And he sayd, I sweare vnto me by God, that thou wilt neither kill me, nor deliuer me into the hands of my master, and I will bring thee to this company.

16 And when hee had brought him thither, behold, they laye scattered abroad vpon all the earth, eating, and drinking, and dauncing, because of all the great pray that they had caried away out of all the lande of the Philistines, and out of the land of Iuda.

17 And Dauid layd vpon them from the twilight, euen vnto the evening of the next morow: so that there escaped not a man of them, saue foure hundred yong men which rode vpon Camels, and fled.

18 And Dauid recouered all that the Amalekites had caried away: and Dauid rescued his two wiues:

19 So that there was nothing lacking to them, small or great, sonne or daughter, or of the spoyle of all that they had taken away, Dauid recouered them all.

20 And Dauid tooke all the sheepe, and the Oren, and they draue them befoze his cattell, and sayd, This is Dauids pray.

21 And Dauid came to the two hundred men that were too wearie for to followe Dauid, whome they had made also to abide at the riuer Besor: and they came to meete Dauid and the people that were with him: and when Dauid came to the people, he saluted them friendly.

22 Then answered all the wicked and the blythys of the men that went with Dauid, and sayde, Because they went not with vs, therefore will we giue them none of the pray that we haue recouered: but let cuery man take his wife and his children, those let them carry away, and depart.

23 Then sayd Dauid, Ye shall not doe so, my brethren, with which the Lord hath giuen vs, who hath preserued vs and deliuered the companie that came against vs, into our hands.

24 For who will hearken vnto you in this matter? But as his part is that goeth downe and fighteth, so shall his part be that tarieth by the stiffe, for shall part alike.

25 And so from that day forwarde was that made a statute, and a lawe in Israel, vnto this day.

26 When Dauid therefore came to Ziklag, hee sent some of the pray vnto the elders of Iuda, and to his friends, saying, See, there is a blessing for you, of the spoyle of the enemies of the Lord.

27 Hee sent to them of Bethel, to them of South Ramoth, to them of Jathir, 28 To them of Aroer, to them of Sephamoth, to them of Eshtemo,

29 To them of Machal, to them of the cities of Jerahmeel, to them of the cities of the Kenites,

30 To them of Donna, to them of Chozoban, to them of Athach, 31 To them that are in Hebron, and to all places where Dauid and his men were wont to haunt.

4 It was told Dauid of Sauls death. 15 Hee causeth him to be slaine that brought the tidings. 19 Hee lamenteth the death of Saul and Jonathan.

After the death of Saul, when Dauid was returned from the daughter of the Amalekites, and had bene two dayes in Bihlag:

2 Behold, there came a man the thirde day out of the house from Saul, with his clothes rent, and earth vpon his head: & when he came to Dauid, hee fell to the earth, and did obeisance.

3 Dauid sayde vnto him, whence comest thou? He sayd vnto him, Out of the house of Israel I am escaped.

4 And Dauid sayde vnto him, And what is done? I pray thee, tell me. He sayd, The people is fled from the battell, and many of the people are overthrowen and dead, and Saul and Jonathan his sonne are dead also.

5 And Dauid sayd vnto the yong man that told it him, How knowest thou that Saul and Jonathan his sonne be dead?

6 The yong man that told him, answered, As I came by chance to mount Gilboa, behold, Saul leaned vpon his spear: and loe, the charrets and || horsemen followed hard after him.

7 And when he looked backe, he saw me, and called me: and I answered, Here am I.

8 And he said vnto me, who art thou? I answered him, I am an Amalekite.

9 He said vnto me againe, I pray thee, come vpon me and slay me: for anguish is come vpon me, because my life is yet whole in me.

10 And so I || stood vpon him, & slew him: and because I was sure that hee could not liue after that he had fallen, I tooke the crowne that was vpon his head, and the bracelet that was on his arme, & haue brought them hither vnto my lord.

11 Then Dauid tooke holde on his clothes and rent them, and so did all the men that were with him.

12 And they mourned & wept, & fasted vntill Euen for Saul and Jonathan his sonne, and for the people of the Lord, & for the house of Israel, because they were overthrowen with the sword.

13 And Dauid sayde vnto the yong man that brought him these tidings, whence art thou? Hee answered, I am the sonne of an aliant, an Amalekite.

14 And Dauid sayde vnto him, * How is it that thou wast not afraine to lay thine hand on the Lords anoynted, to destroy him?

15 And Dauid called one of his yong men, and sayd, Goe to, and fall vpon him. And hee smote him, that he dyed.

17 And Dauid mourned with this lamentation ouer Saul, and ouer Jonathan his sonne.

18 (Also hee haue them teach the children of Iuda the vse of the bowe: and behold, it is written in the booke of the righteous:)

19 O noble Israel, he is slaine vpon thy high places: how are the mighty ouerthrowen?

20 Tell it not in Gath, nor publish it in the streets of Ascalon: lest the daughters of the Philistines reioice, and lest the daughters of the uncircumcised triumph.

21 Ye mountaines of Gissoa, vpon you bee neither dewe nor raine, nor fields of offerings: for there the shield of the mighty is cast downe, the shield of Saul, as though hee had not benee anointed with oyle.

22 The bowe of Jonathan neuer turned backe, neither did the sword of Saul returne emptye from the blood of the slaine, and from the fat of the mighty.

23 Saul and Jonathan were louely and pleasant in their liues, and in their deaths they were not diuided: they were swifter then Eagles, and stronger then Lions.

24 Ye daughters of Israel, weep ouer Saul, which clothed you in scarlet with pleasures, & hanged ornaments of gold vpon your apparel.

25 How were the mighty slaine in the midst of the battell? O Jonathan, thou wast slaine in thine high places.

The ij. Chapter.

4 Dauid is anointed king in Hebron.

After this Dauid asked counsel at the Lord, saying, Shal I go vp into any of the cities of Iuda? And the Lord said vnto him, Go vp. And Dauid sayd, Whither shall I goe? He answered, vnto Hebron.

2 And so Dauid went thither with his two wiues, Ahinoam the Jerralite, and Abigail Nabals wife the Carmelite:

3 And the men that were with him, did Dauid carie by also, euery man with his household: and they dwell in the townes of Hebron.

4 And the men of Iuda came, and there they anointed Dauid king ouer the house of Iuda: and they told Dauid, saying, It is the men of Jabes Gilead that buried Saul.

5 And Dauid sent messengers vnto the men of Jabes Gilead, and said vnto them, Blessed are ye vnto the Lord, that ye haue shewed such kindnes vnto your Lord Saul, and haue buried him.

6 And now the Lord shew mercie & truth vnto you: and I wil do you also such kindnesse, as ye haue done in this thing:

7 Therefore now let your hands be strong, and play vee the men: for your master Saul is dead, and they that are of the house of Iuda, haue anointed me king ouer them.

8 But Abner the sonne of Ner, that was captaine of Sauls holde, tooke Ichoseph the sonne of Saul, and brought him to Mahanaim, the Assurites, and ouer Iezrael, Ephraim, Benjamin, and ouer all Israel.

10 And Ichoseph Sauls sonne was fourtie yeres old when he began to reigne ouer Israel, and reigned two yeres: but the house of Iuda followed Dauid.

11 (And the time which Dauid reigned in Hebron ouer the house of Iuda, was seuen yeres and sixe moneths.)

12 And Abner the sonne of Ner, and the seruants of Ichoseph the sonne of Saul, went out of Mahanaim, to Gibeon.

13 And Joab the sonne of Zaruia, and the seruants of Dauid went out, and met one another by the poole of Gibeon: and they sat downe, the one on the one side of the poole, and the other on the other side.

14 And Abner said to Joab, Let the wrong men now arise, and play betoze vs, and Joab sayd, Let them arise.

15 Then there arose and went ouer twelue of Benjamin by number, which pertained to Ichoseph the sonne of Saul, and twelue of the seruants of Dauid.

16 And euery one caught his fellowe by the head, and thrust his sworde in his fellows side, and so they fell downe together: wherefore, the place was called Helkath-hazzurim, which is in Gibeon.

17 And there was an exceeding cruell battell that same day: for Abner and the men of Israel fell before the seruants of Dauid.

18 And there were three sonnes of Zaruia there, Joab, Abisai, and Asahel: and Asahel was as light of foote as a wilde Roe.

19 And Asahel followed after Abner, and in going, he turned neither to the right hand nor to the left from Abner.

20 Then Abner looked behind him, and said, Art thou Asahel? He answered, Yea.

21 Abner said, Turne thee either to the right hand, or to the left, and catch one of the young men, and take thee his weapons. But Asahel would not depart from him.

22 And Abner said againe to Asahel, Depart from mee: wherefore should I smite thee to the ground, and not be able to hold by my face to Joab thy brother?

23 Howbeit, when hee would in no wise depart, Abner with the hinder ende of the speare smote him vnder the fifth ribbe, that the speare came out behind him, that hee fell downe in the same place, and died there: and as many as came to the place where Asahel fell downe and died, stood still.

24 Joab also and Abisai pursued after Abner: and the Sunne went downe when they were come to the hill Amma, that lieth betoze Giah, by the way of the wilderness of Gibeon.

25 And the children of Benjamin gathered themselues together after Abner, and were on a heape, and stood on the top of an hill.

26 Then Abner called to Joab, & said, Shall the sword deuoure for euer? knowest thou not that it will be bitterness in the latter end? How long shall it bee then, yet thou bid the people returne from following their brethren?

27 And Joab said, As God liueth, if thou hadst spoken, surely euen in the morning the people had departed euery one from persecuting his

The iij. Chapter.

1 Long warre betweene the houses of Saul and Dauid. 2 The children of Dauid in Hebron. 12 Abner turneth to Dauid. 27 Ioab killeth him.

Here was then a long warre betweene the house of Saul, and the house of Dauid: but Dauid wared stronger & stronger, and the house of Saul wared weaker and weaker.

2 And vnto Dauid were childzen bozne in Hebron: his eldest sonne also was Amnon, of Ahinoam the Israelite:

3 The second, Cheleab, of Abigail the wife of Nabal the Carmelite: the third, Absalom the sonne of Maacha, the daughter of Talmai the king of Gethur:

4 The fourth Adoniah the sonne of Haggith: the fifth, Sephatia the sonne of Abital:

5 And the sixth, Iethream, by Eglia Dauids wife, these were bozne to Dauid in Hebron.

6 And while there was warre betweene the house of Saul, and the house of Dauid, Abner held by the house of Saul.

7 And Saul had a concubine, named Rishpha, the daughter of Abia: and Ishboeth said to Abner, wherefoze hast thou gone in vnto my fathers concubine?

8 Then was Abner very wroth for the wordz of Ishboeth, and said, Am I a dogs head, which against Iuda do shew mercie this day vnto the house of Saul thy father, and to his brethren and friends, and haue not deliuered thee into the hand of Dauid: and thou findest a fault in me this day, for this woman?

9 So doe God to Abner, and more also, except, as the Lord hath sworne to Dauid, euen so will I doe to him,

10 To bring the kingdome from the house of Saul, that the thzone of Dauid may bee established ouer Israel, and ouer Iuda, euen from Dan to Beer-seba.

11 And he could giue Abner neuer a word to answer, because he feared him.

12 And Abner sent messengers to Dauid secretly, saying, whose is the land? who should also say, Make a bond with mee, and behold, my hand is with thee, to bring all Israel vnto thee.

13 He saide, well, I will make a bond with thee: but one thing I require of thee, that thou see not my face, except thou first bring Michol the daughter of Saul, when thou comest to see me.

14 And Dauid sent messengers to Ishboeth Sauls sonne, saying, Deliuere me my wife Michol, which I married for an hundred foreskins of the Philistines.

15 And Ishboeth sent, and tooke her from her husband Phalti, the sonne of Laiz.

16 And her husband went with her, and came weeping behind her till they came to Bahurim: then said Abner vnto him, Goe and returne, and he returned.

17 And Abner had communication with the Elders of Israel, saying, Ye sought for Dauid in times past, that he might be your king:

18 Now then doe it, for the Lord hath spoken of Dauid, saying, By the hand of my seruant Dauid I will saue my people Israel out of the hands of the Philistines, and out of the hand of all their enemies.

19 And Abner spake in the eeres of Benjamin: and after ward Abner went to speake in the eeres of Dauid in Hebron, all that Israel was content with, & the whole house of Benjamin.

20 And so Abner came to Dauid to Hebron, hauing twenty men with him: and Dauid made Abner and the men that were with him a feast.

21 And Abner sayd vnto Dauid, I will be, and goe gather all Israel vnto my lord the king, that they may make an appointment with thee, and that thou maiest riegne ouer all that thine heart desireth. And when Dauid had let Abner depart, he went in peace.

22 And beholde, the seruants of Dauid and Joab came from the campe, and brought in a great pray with them: (but Abner was not with Dauid in Hebron, for hee had sent him away, to depart in peace.)

23 When Joab and all the host that was with him, were come, men told Joab, saying, Abner the sonne of Ner came to the king, and hee hath sent him away, and he is gone in peace.

24 Then Joab came to the king, and sayd, what hast thou done? behold, Abner came vnto thee, and why hast thou sent him away, and he is quite gone?

25 Thou knowest Abner the sonne of Ner, for he came to deceiue thee, and to know thy outgoing and ingoing, and to know all that thou doest.

26 And when Joab was come out from Dauid, hee sent messengers after Abner, which brought him againe from the well of Syria, vnknowing to Dauid.

27 And when Abner was come againe to Hebron, Joab tooke him aside in the gate to speake with him peaceably: and smote him vnder the fifth ribbe, that he died, for the blood of Asahel his brother.

28 And when after ward it came to Dauids eare, hee sayd, I and my kingdome are guiltlesse before the Lord for ever, concerning the blood of Abner the sonne of Ner.

29 Let the blood fall on the head of Joab, and on all his fathers house, that the house of Joab be neuer without one or other that hath running issues, or leper, or that leaucth on a staffe, or that doeth fall on the sword, or that lacketh bread.

35 And when all the people came to cause Dauid to eat meat while it was yet day, Dauid swaue, saying, So doe God to me, and more also, if I taste bread or ought else till the Sunne be downe.

36 And all the people wist it, and it pleased them: as whatsoeuer the king did, pleased all the people.

37 For all the people, and all Israel understood that day howe that it was not the kings deed that Abner the sonne of Ner was slaine.

38 And the king sayde vnto his seruants, Knowe ye not how that there is a prince and a great man fallen this day in Israel?

39 And I am this day tender and newly anoynted king, and these men the sonnes of Zaruia be too hard for me: the Lorde reward the doer of euill, according to his wickednesse.

The iiii. Chapter.

5 Baanah and Rechab slaye Isboseth the sonne of Saul. 12 Dauid commaunded them to be slaine.

When Sauls sonne heard that Abner was dead in Hebron, his hands were feeble, and all the Israelites were afraid.

2 And Sauls sonne had two men that were captaines of bands, the one called Baanah, and the other Rechab, the sonnes of Rimmon a Berothite, of the children of Benjamin: (for Beroth was reckoned to Benjamin.)

3 And these Berothites fled to Githaim, and sojourned there vntill this day.)

4 And Jonathan Sauls sonne had a sonne that was lame on his feet, and was five yeeres old when the tydings came of Saul and Jonathan out of Israel, and his nurse tooke him by, and fled a way: and as she made haste to flee, the childe fell, and began to halt, and his name was Hiphiboseth.

5 And the sonnes of Rimmon the Berothite, Rechab and Baanah, went and came in the heat of the day to the house of Isboseth, which slept on a bed at noone.

6 And beholde, they came in the mids of the house, as though they would haue fetched wheate: and Rechab and Baanah his brother, smote him vnder the fifth ribbe, and fled.

7 For when they came into the house, hee slept on his bedde in his bedchamber, and they smote him, and slewe him, and beheaded him, and tooke his head, and gate them away thorow the plaine all that night.

8 And they brought the head of Isboseth vnto Dauid to Hebron, and said to the king, Behold, there is the head of Isboseth Sauls sonne thine enemy, which sought after thy life, and the Lorde hath auenged my loyde the king this day of Saul and of his seed.

9 And Dauid answered Rechab and Ba-nah his brother, the sonnes of Rimmon the Berothite, and said vnto them, As the Lorde liueth, which hath deliuered my soule out of all aduersities,

10 * when one tolde me, and sayd that Saul was dead (thinking to haue brought good tydings) I caught him, and slewe him in Siklag, which thought that I would haue giuen him a reward for his tydings bringing:

11 How much more when wicked men haue slaine a righteous person in his owne house, and vpon his bed? Shall I not nowe therefore require his blood of your hand, and take you from the earth?

12 And Dauid commaunded his young men, and they slew them, and cut off their handes and feet, and hanged them by ouer the pool in Hebron: but they tooke the head of Isboseth, and buried it in the sepulchre of Abner in Hebron.

The v. Chapter.

3 Dauid is made king ouer all Israel. 7 He taketh the fort of Zion. 19 He asketh counsell of the Lorde, 20 And ouercommeth the Philistines twise.

Then came all the tribes of Israel to Dauid vnto Hebron, and sayde thus, Beholde, wee are thy bone, and thy flesh.

2 And in time past, when Saul was our king, thou ledst Israel in and out: and the Lorde sayd to thee, Thou shalt feede my people Israel, and thou shalt bee a captaine ouer Israel.

3 And so all the Elders of Israel came to the king to Hebron, and king Dauid made a covenant with them in Hebron before the Lorde: and they anoynted Dauid king ouer Israel.

4 And Dauid was thirtie yeeres old when he began to reigne, and he reigned fourtie yeeres.

5 In Hebron hee reigned ouer Iuda seuen yeeres and sixe moneths: and in Hierusalem he reigned thirtie and threer yeeres ouer all Israel and Iuda.

6 The king also and his men went to Hierusalem, vnto the Jebusites, the inhabitants of the land, which spake vnto Dauid, saying, Except thou take away the blinde and the lame, thou shalt not come in hither: for they sayde, Thou art not able to come in hither.

7 Neuertheless, Dauid tooke the strong hold of Zion: the same is the cite of Dauid.

8 And Dauid said the same day, whosoever smiteth the Jebusites, and getteth vp to the gutters of the houses, and smiteth the lame and the blind, hated of Dauids soule, I will preferre him, wherefore they sayde, The blinde and the lame shall not come into that house.

9 And so Dauid dwelt in the tower, and called it the cite of Dauid, and built round about it, from Millo, and inward.

10 And Dauid prospered and grewe, and the Lord God of hostes was with him.

11 And Hiram king of Tyre sent messengers to Dauid, and Cedar trees, and carpenters, and Matons for walles: and they built Dauid an house.

12 And Dauid perceiued that the Lorde had established him king ouer Israel, and that he had exalted his kingdome for his people Israels sake.

Dauid gathered together all the chosen men of Israel, euen thirtie thousand,

2 And arose, and went with all the folke that were with him from Baala of Iuda, to set away from thence the arke of God, whose name is called by the name of the Lord of hostes, that dwelleth vpon it betwene the Cherubims.

5 And Dauid and all the house of Israel played before the Lord on sundrie instruments made of Cedar wood, with harpes, psalteries, tymbrels, cornets, and cyrnals.

c The intent of this prayer is to be good, but being contrary to Gods will, it was a fault.

6 And when they came to Nachons threshing floore, Oza put his hand to the arke of God, and helde it, for the oxen did shake it.

7 And the Lord was wroth with Oza, and God smote him in the same place for his fault, and there he died before the arke of God.

8 And Dauid was displeas'd, because the Lord had smitten Oza: And he called the name of the place || Perez Oza, vntill this day.

Heb. made a breach of. || Or, the diuision of Oza.

9 And Dauid was then afraid of the Lord and said, How shall the arke of the Lord come to me?

10 And so Dauid would not bring the arke of the Lord vnto him into the citie of Dauid: but Dauid carried it into the house of Obed Edom, a Gethite.

d Obed being a Gethite, had stock in Obedom.

11 And the arke of the Lord continued in the house of Obed Edom the Gethite, thre moneths: and the Lord blessed Obed Edom, and all his household.

1. Chro. 15. 25.

12 * And one tolde king Dauid howe that the Lord had blessed the house of Obed Edom, and all that pertained vnto him, because of the arke of God. And Dauid went, and brought the arke of God from the house of Obed Edom, into the citie of Dauid, with gladnesse.

e Speaking, he caused the Lord to be heard, according to the law.

13 And when they that bare the arke of the Lord, had gone sixe paces, he offered an oxe and a fat beaft.

14 And Dauid danc'd before the Lord with all his might, and was girded with a linen Ephod.

f With a garment like the priests garment.

15 So Dauid and all the house of Israel brought the arke of the Lord, with shouting and trumpet blowing.

16 And as the arke of the Lord came into the citie of Dauid, Michol Sauls daughter looked through a window, and saw king Dauid spzing and dance before the Lord, and she despised him in her heart.

g She saw that he had by night behauiour: but great was his foolishness in the temple.

17 And when they brought in the arke of the Lord, they set it in his place, euen in the mids of the tabernacle that Dauid had pitched for it: and Dauid offered whole burnt offerings, and peace offerings, before the Lord.

18 * And alsoone as Dauid had made an end of offering whole burnt offerings and peace offerings, hee blessed the people in the name of the Lord of hostes.

19 And gaue among al the folke, euen among the whole multitude of Israel, as well to the women, as men, to every one a cake of bread, and a piece of flesh, and a flagon of wine: and so al the people departed every one to his house.

20 Then Dauid returned to blesse his household, and Michol the daughter of Saul came out to meete Dauid, and sayde, Howe glorious was the King of Israel this day: which was vncouered to day in the eyes of the maidens of his seruants, as a foole vncouereth himselfe?

h He had to saye for his seruants, as he had done for the people.

21 And Dauid said vnto Michol, It was before the Lord, which chose me rather then thy father and all his house, and commanded me to be ruler ouer all the people of the Lord, euen ouer Israel, and therefore will I play before the Lord:

i Michol's griefe is to be pittie, because she was the daughter of a king.

22 And will yet be more vile then so, and will be meeke in mine owne sight: and of the very same maide seruants which thou hast spoken of, shall I be had in honour.

23 Therefore Michol the daughter of Saul had no child vnto the day of her death.

k For a punishment, because she mock'd the seruants of Obed.

The vii. Chapter.

2 Dauid would build God an house, but is forbidden by the Prophet Nathan.

Afterward, when the king late in his house, and the Lord had given him rest round about from all his enemies.

2 The king said vnto Nathan the prophet, Behold, I dwell now in an house of Cedar trees, but the Arke of God dwelleth within the curtaines.

3 And Nathan saide to the king, Goe, and do all that is in thine heart, for the Lord is with thee.

4 And the same night the worde of the Lord came vnto Nathan, saying,

5 Goe and tell my seruant Dauid, Thus saith the Lord, Shalt thou build me an house to dwell in?

6 For I haue not dwelt in any house, since the time that I brought the children of Israel out of Egypt, vnto this day: but haue walked in a tent and tabernacle.

7 In all the places wherein I haue walked with all the children of Israel, I spake I one word with any of the tribes of Israel when I commanded the iudges to feed my people Israel, saying, why build ye not me an house of Cedar trees?

8 Nowe therfore so say vnto my seruant Dauid, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, I tooke thee from the sheepe cote, as thou wast following sheepe, that thou mightest be ruler ouer my people, ouer Israel.

9 And I was with thee in all that thou wentest to, and haue destroyed all thine enemies out of thy sight, and haue made thee a great name, like vnto the name of the great men that are in the earth.

10 Also I will appoint a place for my people Israel, and will plant it, that they may dwell in a place of their owne, and moue no more: neither shall wicked people trouble them any more, as before time.

11 And since the time that I set iudges ouer my people Israel: and I wil giue thee rest from all thine enemies: And the Lord telleth thee that he will make thee an house.

12 And when thy dayes be fulfilled, thou shalt sleepe with thy fathers, and I will set vp thy seede after thee, which shall procede out of thy body, and will stablish his kingdome.

13 He shall build an house for my name, and I will stablish the throne of his kingdome for euer.

14 I will be his father, and hee shall be my sonne: If he sinne, I will chasten him with the rod of men, and with the plagues of the children of men.

15 But my mercy shal not depart away from him, as I tooke it from Saul, whom I put away before thee.

16 And thine house and thy kingdome shal be stablished for euer before thee, euen thy throne shall be stablished for euer.

17 According to all these wordes, and according to all this vision, so did Nathan speake vnto Dauid.

18 Then went king Dauid in, and set him downe before the Lord, and said, who am I, O Lord God? and what is my house, that thou hast brought me hitherto?

19 And this was yet a small thing in thy sight, O Lord God: but thou hast spoken also of thy seruants house for a great while, but doth this appertaine to man, O Lord God?

20 And what can Dauid say more vnto thee? for thou Lord God knowest thy seruant.

21 Euen for thy words sake, and according to thine owne heart hast thou done all these great things, to make them knowne vnto thy seruant.

22 Wherefore thou art great, O Lord God: for there is none like thee, neither is there any God beside thee, according to all that wee haue heard with our eares.

23 And what one people in the earth is like thy people, like Israel, whose God went and redeemed them to himselfe, that they might be his people, and that he might make him a name, and doe for you great things, and terrible, for thy land, O Lord, euen for thy people which thou redeemedst to thee out of Egypt, from the nations and their gods?

24 For thou hast ordeined thy people Israel to be thy people for euer: and thou Lord art become their God.

25 And now Lord God, the word that thou hast spoken concerning thy seruant, and his house, make it good for euer, and doe as thou hast said:

26 And let thy name be magnified for euer of men, that shall say, The worde of hostes is the God ouer Israel: and let the house of thy seruant Dauid be stablished before thee.

27 For thou, O Lord of hostes, God of Israel, hast tolde in the care of thy seruant, saying, I will build thee an house: and therefore hath thy seruant found in his heart to pray this prayer vnto thee.

28 Therefore now Lord God, (thou art God, and thy words be true, thou that hast tolde this goodnesse vnto thy seruant.)

29 Therefore now let it please thee to blesse the house of thy seruant, that it may continue for euer before thee: for thou Lord God hast spoken it, and with thy blessing let the house of thy seruant be blessed for euer.

The viij. Chapter.

and put their armie in aray at the entring in of the gate: and the Syrians of Zoba, of Iehob, Ithob, and Maacha, were by themselves in the field.

9 When Joab saw that the front of the battell was against him, before and behinde, hee chose of all the choise of Israel, and put them in aray against the Syrians.

10 And the rest of the people he deliuered into the hand of Abisai his brother, that he might put them in aray against the children of Ammon.

11 And he said, If the Syrians be stronger then I, thou shalt helpe me: but if the children of Ammon be too strong for thee, I will come and succour thee.

12 Therefore quite thee like a man, and let vs be valiant for our people, and for the cities of our God: and the Lord doe that which is good in his owne eyes.

13 And Joab proceeded forth, and the people that were with him, to fight against the Syrians: but they fled before him.

14 And when the children of Ammon sawe that the Syrians were fled, then fled they also before Abisai, and entred into the citie: and so Joab returned from the children of Ammon, and came to Hierusalem.

15 And when the Syrians sawe that they were smitten before Israel, they gathered them together.

16 And Hadarezer sent, and brought out the Syrians that were beyond the riuer, and they came to Helain: and Zoba the captaine of the hoste of Hadarezer went before them.

17 And when it was heard Dauid, hee gathered all Israel together, and passed ouer Jordan, and came to Helain: and the Syrians set themselves in aray against Dauid, and fought with him.

18 And the Syrians fled before Israel, and Dauid destroyed seven hundred chariots of the Syrians, and fourtie thousand horsemen, and smote Zoba the captaine of their hoste, which also died there.

19 And when all the kings that were seruants to Hadarezer sawe, that they fell before Israel, they made peace with Israel, and serued them: and so the Syrians feared to helpe the children of Ammon any more.

The xj. Chapter.

1 The citie Rabba is besieged. 4 Dauid committeth adulterie. 17 Urias is slaine. 27 Dauid marricth Bethsabe.

And it came to passe, that after the yere was expired, in the time when the kings goe forth to battell, Dauid sent Joab and his seruants with him, and all Israel, which destroyed the children of Ammon, and besieged Rabba: but Dauid tarried still at Hierusalem.

2 And in an euening tide Dauid arose out of his bed, and walked vpon the rooffe of the kings palace, and from the rooffe he sawe a woman washing her selfe, and the woman was very beautifull to looke vpon.

3 And Dauid sent to enquire what woman it should be: And one said, Is not this Bethsabe the daughter of Eliam, and wife to Urias the Hethite?

4 And Dauid sent messengers, and tooke her away: and she came in vnto him, and he lay with her (as she was purified from her uncleanness) and returned vnto her house.

5 And the woman conceived, and sent and told Dauid, and said, I am with child.

6 And Dauid sent to Joab, saying, Send me Urias the Hethite. And Joab sent Urias to Dauid.

7 And when Urias was come vnto him, Dauid demaunded of him how Joab did, and how the people fared, and howe the warre prospered.

8 And Dauid said to Urias, Goe downe to thy house, and wash thy feete. And Urias departed out of the kings palace, and there folloved him a present from the king.

9 But Urias slept at the doore of the kings palace, with all the seruants of his lord, and went not downe to his house.

10 Which when they had told Dauid, saying, Urias went not downe vnto his house: Dauid said vnto Urias, Camest thou not from thy journey? why diddest thou not goe downe then vnto thine house?

11 Urias answered Dauid, The Arise, and Israel, and Juda dwell in paulions, and my lord Joab, and the seruants of my lord abide in the open fieldes, and shall I then goe into mine house, to eate and drinke, and lie with my wife? By thy life, and by the life of thy soule, I will not doe this thing.

12 And Dauid said to Urias, Carie here this day also, and to morowe I will let thee depart. And so Urias abode in Hierusalem that day, and the morow.

13 And when Dauid had called him, he did eate and drinke before him, and hee made him drinke: And at euen he went out to lie on his couch with the seruants of his lord, but went not downe to his house.

14 On the morow Dauid wrote a letter to Joab, and sent it by the hand of Urias:

15 And he wrote thus in the letter, Put ye Urias in the forefront of the Harper battell, and come ye backe from him, that he may be smitten, and die.

16 So when Joab besieged the citie, he assigned Urias vnto a place where he wist that strong men were.

17 And the men of the citie came out, and fought with Joab: and there were certaine overthrowen of the people of the seruants of Dauid: and Urias the Hethite died also.

18 Then Joab sent, and told Dauid all the things concerning the warre:

19 And charged the messengers, saying, When thou hast made an ende of telling the matters of warre vnto the king:

20 If the kings anger arise, and he say vnto thee, wherefore approched ye so nigh vnto the citie when ye did fight? wilt yee not that they would hurle and shoot from the wall?

21 Who smote Abimelech sonne of Jerubesheth? Did not a woman cast a piece of a millstone vpon him from the wall, and he died in Thebes? why went yee nigh the wall? Then say thou, Thy seruant Urias the Hethite is dead also.

22 So the messenger went, and came and shewed Dauid all that Joab had sent him for.

23 And the messenger sayde vnto Dauid, The men preuailed against vs, and came out

4 Feareful I had he should be slaine according to the law

4 Dauid thought by this means to cloke his fault.

4 Thereby to provoke him to get an ill by his war.

† Heb. was euill in the eyes of the Lord,

27 And when the mourning was past, Dauid sent, and fet her to his house, and she became his wife, and bare him a sonne: but this thing that Dauid did, displeased the Lord.

The xij. Chapter.

1 Dauid reprooued by Nathan, confesseth his sinne. 18 The child conceived in adulterie, dyeth.

AND the Lord sent Nathan vnto Dauid: and hee came vnto him, and told him, There were two men in one cite, the one rich, and the other poore.

2 The rich man had exceeding many Sheepe and Oren:

3 But the poore had nothing saue one little sheepe, which he had bought and nourished by: and it grew by with him, and with his children also, and did eat of his owne meate, and dranke of his owne cup, and slept in his bolome, and was vnto him as his daughter.

5 And Dauid was exceeding wroth with the man, and said to Nathan, As the Lord liueth, the man that hath done this thing, is the child of death:

7 And Nathan said to Dauid, Thou art the man: thus saith the Lord God of Israel, I anointed thee king ouer Israel, and rid thee out of the hand of Saul.

9 Wherefore then hast thou despised the commandement of the Lord, to do euill in his sight: thou hast killed Vriah the Hethite with the sword, and hast taken his wife to thy wife, and hast slaine him with the sword of the children of Ammon.

10 Now therefore the sword shall neuer depart from thine house, because thou hast despised me, and taken the wife of Vriah the Hethite to be thy wife.

11 Wherefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will stirre by euill against thee, euen out of thine owne house, and will take thy wiuers before thine eyes, and giue them vnto thy neighbour, and he shall lie with thy wiuers in the sight of thine sinne.

e Straining, partly, as at noone dayes.

12 For thou diddest it secretly: but I will doe this thing before all Israel, and in the open sunne light.

13 And Dauid saide vnto Nathan, I haue sinned against the Lord. And Nathan said vnto Dauid, The Lord also hath put away thy sinne, thou shalt not die.

14 Howbeit, because in doing this deed, thou hast giuen the enemies of the Lord a cause to blaspheme, the childe that is borne vnto thee, shall surely die.

15 And Nathan departed vnto his house: and the Lord strake the childe that Vriahs wife bare vnto Dauid, and it sickened foze.

16 Dauid therefore besought God for the child, and fasted, and went in, and lay all night vpon the earth.

17 And the elders of his house arose, & went to him, to take him by from the earth: but hee would not, neither did hee eate meate with them.

18 And the seuenth day the childe died, and the seruants of Dauid feared to tel him that the childe was dead: for they said, Behold, while the childe was yet aliuie, we spake vnto him, and he would not hearken vnto our boyce: howe will he then bere himselfe, if we tell him that the childe is dead?

19 But Dauid seeing his seruants whispering, perceiued that the childe was dead: and Dauid said vnto his seruants, Is the child dead? They said, He is dead.

20 And Dauid arose from the earth, & washed, and anointed himselfe, and changed his apparel, and came into the house of the Lord, and worshipped: and afterwarde came to his owne house, and bare that they should set bread before him, and hee did eate.

21 Then said his seruants vnto him, What thing is this that thou hast done? thou diddest fast and weepe for the child while it was aliuie, and as soone as it was dead, thou biddest rise vp and eate meate.

22 He said, While the child was yet aliuie, I fasted and wept: for this I thought, who can tell whether God will haue mercie on me, that the childe may liue?

23 But now seeing it is dead, wherefore should I fast? Can I bring him againe any more? I shall goe to him, rather then hee shall come againe to me.

24 And Dauid comforted Bethsabe his wife, and went in vnto her, and lay with her: and she bare a sonne, and hee called his name Solomon, and the Lord loued him, 25 And had sent by the hand of Nathan the Prophet, therefore hee called his name Jedidias, of the Lords behalfe.

26 Then Joab fought against Rabba of the children of Ammon, and tooke the cite of the kingdome.

27 And Joab sent messengers to Dauid, saying, I haue fought against Rabba, and haue taken the cite of waters.

28 Now therefore, gather the rest of the people together, and besiege the cite, that thou mayest take it: least I take it, and it be called after my name.

The xiiij. Chapter.

- 14 Amnon Dauids sonne defleth his sister Thamar.
- 19 Thamar is comforted by her brother Absalom.
- 29 Absalom therefore killeth Amnon.

After this, so it was, that Absalom the sonne of Dauid had a faire sister named Thamar, whom Amnon the sonne of Dauid loued.

2 And he was so zealous, that he fell in love with his sister Thamar: for she was a virgine, and he thought it hard for him to doe any thing to her.

3 But Amnon had a friend called Jonadab, the sonne of Simah Dauids brother: and Jonadab was a very subtil man.

4 And he said vnto him, Howe commeth it that thou, being the kings sonne, art thus consumed from day to day? wilt thou not tell me? Amnon answered him, I loue Thamar my brother Absaloms sister.

5 Jonadab said vnto him, Lay thee downe on thy bed, and make thy selfe sick: and when thy father is come to see thee, say vnto him, I pray thee, let my sister Thamar come, and giue me meate, and dresse it in my sight, that I may see it, and eate it of her hand.

6 And so Amnon lay downe, and made himselfe sick: and when the king was come to see him, Amnon said vnto the king, I pray thee, let Thamar my sister come, and make me a couple of cakes in my sight, that I may eate of her hand.

7 Then Dauid sent home to Thamar, saying, Goe now to thy brother Ammons house, and dresse him meate.

8 So Thamar went to her brother Ammons house (and he was layd downe) and she tooke flour, and kneaded it, and made cakes in his sight, and did bake them.

9 And tooke a pan, and powdered them out before him, but he would not eate: And Amnon said, Haue out all men from me. And they went all out from him.

10 And Amnon said vnto Thamar, Bring the meate into the chamber, that I may eat of thyne hand. And Thamar tooke the cakes which she had made, and brought them into the chamber to Amnon her brother:

11 And when she had set them before him to eate, he tooke her, and saide vnto her, Come lie with me, my sister.

12 And she answered him, Nay, my brother, doe not force me: for there hath no such thing bene done in Israel, doe not thou this folly.

13 And she said, Whither shall I caule my shame to goe? and thou shalt be as one of the fooles in Israel: Now therefore, I pray thee, speake vnto the king, and he will not denie mee vnto thee.

14 Howbeit shee would not hearken vnto her boice: but being stronger then shee, forced her, and lay with her.

15 And then Amnon hated her exceedingly, so that the hatred wherewith hee hated her, was greater then the loue with which he before loued her: And Amnon said vnto her, Rise and get thee hence.

16 Shee answered him, There is no cause: This euill that thou puttest mee away, is greater then the other that thou didst vnto mee. Nevertheless, he would not heare her:

17 But called his boy that serued him and said, Put a way this woman from mee, and bolt the doore after her.

18 And she had a garment of diuers colours vpon her: for with such garments were the kings daughters that were virgins apparelled. Then his seruant brought her out, and locked the doore after her.

19 And Thamar tooke and put ashes on her head, and rent her garment of diuers colours that was on her, and layd her hand on her head, and so she went away crying.

20 And Absalom her brother said vnto her, Hath Amnon thy brother bene with thee? Now yet see still, my sister, hee is thy brother, let not this thing grieue thine heart. And so Thamar remained desolate in her brother Absaloms house.

21 But when King Dauid heard of all these things, he was very wroth.

22 And Absalom said vnto his brother Amnon neither good nor bad: howbeit Absalom hated Amnon, because he had forced his sister Thamar.

23 And after the time of two yeres, Absalom had sheepe shearers in the plaine of Hazor, beside Ephraim, and bade all the kings sonnes, 24 And came to the king, and said, Behold, thy seruant hath sheepehearers. I pray thee, that the king with his seruants come to thy seruant.

25 The king answered Absalom, Nay, my sonne, I pray thee, let vs not goe all, lest we be chargeable vnto thee. And Absalom lay foze vpon him: howbeit he would not goe, but blessed him.

26 Then said Absalom, But, I pray thee, shall not my brother Amnon goe with vs? And the king answered him, what needeth it that he goe with thee?

27 But Absalom made such instance, that he let Amnon and all the kings children goe with him.

28 Now had Absalom commanded his yong men, saying, Marke when Ammons heart is merry with wine, and when I bid you, smite Amnon: then kill him, and keare not: haue not I bidden you? hee hold therefore, and play the men.

29 And the seruants of Absalom did vnto Amnon, even as Absalom had commanded: and all the kings sonnes arose, and euery man gate him vpon his mule, and fled.

30 And while they were yet in the way, tidings came to Dauid, saying, Absalom hath slaine all the kings sonnes, and there is none left aliue.

31 Then the king arose, and tare his garments, and lay along on the earth: and all his seruants stood by with their clothes rent.

brother, answered, and said, Let not my lozde suppose that they haue laine all the young men of the kings sonnes, but Ammon onely is dead: for that hath bene determined in Abfaloms mind, since he forced his sister Thamar.

33 Now therefore let not my lozde the king take the thing so grieuouly, to thinke that all the kings sonnes are dead, for Ammon onely is dead.

34 But Abfalom fled: and the yong man that kept the watch, lift vp his eyes, and looked, and beholde, there came much people by the way of the hill side behinde him.

35 And Ionadab sayde vnto the king, Behold, the kings sonnes come: as thy seruant said, so it is.

36 And as soone as he had left speaking, behold, the kings sons came, & lift vp their voyces, and wept. The king also and all his seruantes wept exceedingly soze.

37 But Abfalom escaped, & went to Thamar the sonne of Ammihur king of Gesur: and Dauid mourned for his sonne euery day.

38 And so Abfalom escaped, and went to Gesur, and was there three yeeres.

39 And king Dauid desired to goe forth vnto Abfalom: for where as Ammon was dead, he was comforted ouer him.

The xiiij. Chapter.

2 Abfalom is reconciled to his father by the subtiltie of Ioab. 24 Abfalom may not see the kings face.

Dab the sonne of Zaria, perceiued that the kings heart was toward Abfalom:

2 And he sent to Thecoa, and set thence a wife woman, and said vnto her, I pray thee saue thy selfe to be a mourner, and put on mourning apparel, and anoint not thy selfe with oyle, but be as a woman that had long time mourned for the dead:

3 And come to the king, and speake on this manner vnto him: and so Ioab taught her what she should say.

4 And when the woman of Thecoa spake with the king, she fell on her face to the ground, and did obeysance, and said, Heipe O king.

5 The king said vnto her, what ayleth thee? She answered, I am in deede a widow, and mine husband is dead.

6 And thy handmaide had two sonnes, and they two fought together in the fiede, where was no man to goe betwene them, but the one smote the other, and slew him.

7 And beholde, the whole kinred is risen against thine handmaide, and they saide, Deliuer him that smote his brother, that wee may kill him for the soule of his brother whom he slew, we will destroy the heire also: and so they shall quench my sparkle which is left, and shall not leaue to my husband neither name nor issue vpon the earth.

8 And the king said vnto the woman, Go home to thine house, I will giue a charge for thee.

9 And the woman of Thecoa saide vnto the king, My lord, O king, this trespasse be on me, and on my fathers house: and the king and his throner be guiltlesse.

10 And the king saide, If any man say ought vnto thee, bring him to me, and hee shall hurt thee no more.

11 Then sayd she, I pray thee, let the king remember the Lord thy God, that thou wouldest not suffer many reuengers of blood to destroy, lest they slay my sonne. And he answered, As the Lord liueth, there shall not one haire of thy sonne fall to the earth.

12 The woman sayd, Let thine handmaide speake one word vnto my lord the king. And he sayd, Say on.

13 The woman sayd, Wherefore then hast thou thought such a thing against the people of God? For the king doth speake this thing as one which is faulty, that he should not fetch home againe his banished.

14 For wee must needs die, and are as water spilt on the ground, which cannot bee gathered by againe, neither doeth God spare any person: yet doth he appoint means, that his banished be not utterly expelled from him.

15 Nowe therefore I am come to speake of this thing vnto my lord the king, because the people haue made mee afraid: and thy handmaide sayd, Now will I speake vnto the king, it may be that the king will performe the request of his handmaide.

16 And the king shall heare his handmaide, to deliuer her out of the hande of the man that would haue destroyed me, and also my sonne, out of the inheritance of God.

17 And thine handmaide said, The word of my lord the king shall now be comfortable: for my lord the king is as an Angel of God in hearing of good and bad: therefore the Lord thy God be with thee.

18 Then the king answered and sayd vnto the woman, Hide not from mee, I pray thee, the thing that I shall aske thee. And the woman said, Let my lord the king now speake.

19 And the king sayd, Is not the hand of Ioab with thee in all this matter? The woman answered and sayd, As thy soule liueth, my lord the king, I will not turne to the right hand nor to the left, from ought that my lord the king hath spoken: for euery thy seruant Ioab bade me, and he put all these words in the mouth of thine handmaide:

20 For to the intent that I should change the course of speech, hath thy seruant Ioab done this thing: and my lord is wise, according to the wisdom of an Angel of God, to vnderstand all things that are in the earth.

21 And the king sayd vnto Ioab, Behold, I haue done this thing: goe, and bring the yong man Abfalom againe.

22 And Ioab fell to the ground on his face, and bowed himselfe, and thanked the king: and Ioab sayd, Nowe thy seruant knoweth that I haue found grace in thy sight, my lord, O king, in that the king hath fulfilled the request of his seruant.

23 And so Ioab arose, and went to Gesur, and brought Abfalom to Hierusalem.

24 And the king sayd, Let him turne to his owne house, and not see my face. And so Abfalom returned to his owne house, and saw not the kings face.

25 But in all Israel there was none to bee so much praised as Abfalom for beautie: from the sole of his foote to the top of his head there was no blemish in him.

28 So Abfalom dwelt two yeeres in Hierusalem, and saw not the kings face.

29 Therefore Abfalom sent for Joab, to haue sent him to the king, but he would not come to him: and when he sent againe, hee would not come.

30 Therefore he said vnto his seruants, Behold, Joab hath a field by my place, and he hath barley therein: goe, and set it on fire. And Abfaloms seruants set it on fire.

31 Then Joab arose, and came to Abfalom vnto his house, and saide vnto him, wherefore haue thy seruants burnt my field with fire?

32 And Abfalom answered Joab, Behold, I sent for thee, desiring thee to come, because I would haue sent thee to king, for to say, wherefore art I come from Gethur? It had bene better for me to haue bene there still: Howe therefore would I see the kings face, and if there be any trespass in me, let him kill me.

33 And so Joab came to the king, and tolde him: which when he had sent for Abfalom, he came to the king, and fell to the ground on his face before him, and the king killed Abfalom.

14 Dauid and his seruants flee. 31 Dauids praier.

After this, Abfalom prepared him charrets and horses, and sitted men to runne before him.

2 And Abfalom rose by earely, and scoode in the place of the entering in of the gate: and euery man that had any matter, and came to the King for iudgement, him did Abfalom call vnto him, and saide, Of what citie art thou? He answered, Thy seruant is of one of the tribes of Israel.

3 And Abfalom said vnto him, See, thy matters are good and righteous, but there is no man deputed of the king to heare thee.

4 Abfalom said moreover, Oh that I were made iudge in the land, that euery man which hath any plea and matter in the lawe, might come vnto mee, that I might doe him iustice.

5 And when any man came nigh to him, and did him obeyfance, he put forth his hand, and took him to him, and killed him.

6 And on this maner did Abfalom to all Israel, that came to the king for iudgement: so Abfalom stole the hearts of the men of Israel.

7 And after fourtie yeeres, Abfalom layde vnto the king, I pray thee, let me go to Hebzon, and pay my bow which I haue bowed vnto the Lord.

8 For thy seruant bowed a bowe when I was in Gethur in Syria, saying, If the Lord shall bring me againe in deede to Hierusalem, I will serue the Lord.

9 And the king said vnto him, Goe in peace. And so he arose, and went to Hebzon.

10 But Abfalom sent spies thoro'out all the tribes of Israel, saying, As soone as ye heare the voyce of the trimpet blow, ye shall say, Abfalom reigneth in Hebzon.

11 And with Abfalom went two hundred men out of Hierusalem that were called, and they went with pure hearts, not knowing of any thing.

12 And Abfalom sent for Achitophel the Gilomite, Dauids counsellor, from his citie Gilom, while he offered sacrifices, & there was wrought strong treason: for the people went and increased with Abfalom.

13 And there came a messenger to Dauid, and said, The hearts of the men of Israel are turned after Abfalom.

14 And Dauid said vnto all his seruants that were with him at Hierusalem, say, that we may flee, for we shall not els escape from Abfalom: make speede to depart, least hee come suddenly, and catch vs, and bring euill vpon vs, and smite the citie with the edge of the sword.

15 And the kings seruants said vnto him, Behold, thy seruants are ready to doe whatsoeuer my lord the king shall appoint.

16 And the king departed, and all his household at his feete: and the king left tenne concubines to keepe the house.

17 And the king went forth, and all the people at his feete, and taried in a place that was farre off.

18 And all his seruants went about him: and all the Gerethites, and all the Shelchites, and all the Gethites, euen five hundred men, which were come after him from Geth, went before the king.

19 Then said the king to Ithai the Gethite, wherefore comest thou with vs? Returne, and abide with the king, for thou art a stranger, depart therefore to thy place.

20 Thou camest yesterday, and should I bring thee to day to goe with vs? I will go whither I can: therefore returne thou, and carrie againe thy brethren: mercie and truth be with thee.

21 And Ithai answered the king, and said, As the Lord liueth, and as my lord the king liueth, in what place my lord the king shall be, whether in death or life, euen there also will thy seruant be.

22 And Dauid said to Ithai, Come then, and goe forward. And Ithai the Gethite went forth, and all his men, and all the children that were with him.

23 And all the countrey wept with a loude voice, and all the people went ouer: the king also himselfe passed ouer the brooke Cedron, and all the people went ouer toward the way that lea- deth to the wilde nesse.

24 And Ioe, Sadoc also, and all the Leuites were with him, and they bare the arke of the covenant of God, and they set be downe the arke of God, and Abiathar went by, vntill the people were all come ouer out of the citie.

25 And the king said vnto Sadoc, Carie the arke of God againe into the citie: if I shall finde fauour in the eyes of the Lord, he will bring me againe, and shew me both it, and the tabernacle thereof.

26 But if he thus say, I haue no lust vnto thee: behold, here am I, let him doe with me what seemeth good in his eyes.

Art not thou a Seer? Returne into the citie in peace and take your two sonnes with you, Ahimaa thy sonne, and Jonathan the sonne of Abiathar.

Behold, I will tarie in the fieldes of the wilderness, until there come some word from you to be told me.

Sadoc therefore and Abiathar caried the arke of God againe to Hierusalem, and they taried there.

And Dauid went by on mount Oliuet, and wept as he went by, and had his head couered, and went barefoot, and all the people that was with him had eury man his head couered, and as they went by, they wept.

And one told Dauid, saying, Achitophel is one of them that haue conspired with Absalom. And Dauid said, O Lord, I pray thee, turne the counsell of Achitophel into foolishnesse.

When Dauid was come to the top of the mount, he worshipped God: and behold, Chusai the Arachite came against him, with his coate torne, and hauing earth vpon his head.

Unto whom Dauid said, If thou go with me, thou shalt be a burden vnto me.

But if thou returne to the city, and say vnto Absalom, I will be thy seruant, O king: as I haue thus long bene thy fathers seruant, so am I now thy seruant: thou mayest for my sake destroy the counsell of Achitophel.

And hast thou not there with thee Sadoc and Abiathar the Priestes? therefore whatsoever thou shalt heare out of the kings house, thou shalt shewe to Sadoc and Abiathar the Priestes.

And beholde, they haue there with them their two sonnes, Ahimaa Sadocs sonne, and Jonathan Abiathars sonne: by them also shall ye send me all that ye can heare.

And lo Chusai Dauids friend went to the citie, and Absalom entred into Hierusalem.

The xvj. Chapter.

The infidelitic of Ziba. 5 Semei curseth Dauid. 18 Chusai cometh to Absalom.

And when Dauid was a litle past the top of the hill, behold, Ziba the seruant of Ahiphoboth met him with a couple of asses laden, and vpon them two hundred loaves of bread, and one hundred bunches of raisings, and an hundred of dryed figges, and a bottell of wine.

And the king saide vnto Ziba, what meanest thou with these? And Ziba said, They be asses for the kings household to ride on, and bread and fruit for the pong men to eate, & wine, that such as be faint in the wilderness may drinke.

And the king saide, where is thy masters sonne? Ziba answered to the king, Beholde, he tarieeth still at Hierusalem: for he said, This day shall the house of Israel restore me the kingdome of my father.

Then said the king to Ziba, Behold, thine are all that pertained vnto Ahiphoboth. And Ziba said, I humbly beseech thee that I may find grace in thy sight, my lord, O king.

And when king Dauid came to Bahurim, behold, thence came out a man of the kindred of the house of Saul, named Semei the sonne of Gera, and he came out cursing.

And hee cast stones at Dauid, and at all the seruants of Dauid: and all the people, and all the men of warre were on his right hand, and on his left.

And thus saide Semei when hee cursed, Come foorth, come foorth, thou blood-shedder, and thou man of blood.

The Lord hath brought vpon thee all the blood of the house of Saul, in whose stead thou hast reigned, and the Lorde hath deliuered the kingdome into the hand of Absalom thy sonne: and behold, thou art come to thy mischiese, because thou art a bloodshedder.

Then said Absai the sonne of Zaria vnto the king, why doth this dead dogge curse my lord the king? let me goe nowe and take off the head of him.

And the king sayde, what haue I to doe with you ye sonnes of Zaria? for hee curseth, euen because the Lord hath hidden him curse Dauid: who dare then say, wherefore hast thou done so?

And Dauid sayde to Absai, and to all his seruantes, Beholde, my sonne which came of mine owne bowels, seeketh my life: howe much more then may this sonne of Amimi doe it? Suffer him to curse, for the Lord hath bid den him.

It may be that the Lorde will looke on mine affliction, and doe mee good for his cursing this day.

And as Dauid and his men went by the way, Semei went along on the hillsides ouer against him, and cursed as he went, and threw stones at him, and cast dust.

And the king, and all that were with him, came wearie, and refreshed themselues there.

And Absalom and all the people the men of Israel, came to Hierusalem, and Achitophel was with him.

And as soone as Chusai the Arachite Dauids friend was come vnto Absalom, Chusai said vnto Absalom, God saue the king, God saue the king.

And Absalom said to Chusai, Is this the kindnesse to thy friend? why wentest thou not with him?

Chusai answered vnto Absalom, Nay not so: but whom the Lord and this people, and all the men of Israel choole, his will I be, and with him will I dwell.

And moreover, vnto whom shal I do seruice? not to his sonne? And as I was seruant before with thy father, so will I be with thee.

Then spake Absalom to Achitophel, Giue counsell what we shall doe.

And Achitophel sayde vnto Absalom, Set thee in vnto thy fathers Concubines, which he hath left to keepe the house, and all Israel shall heare that thou art abhorred of thy father, then shall the hands of all that are with thee be strong.

And so they spread Absalom a tent vpon the toppes of the house, and Absalom went in vnto his fathers Concubines in the sight of all Israel.

And the counsell of Achitophel which he counsellled in those dayes, was as a man had asked counsell at the oracle of God: euen so was all the counsell of Achitophel, both with Dauid and with Absalom.

The xvij. Chapter.

7 Achitophels counsel is ouerthrown by Chufai.

Achitophel also said vnto Absalom, Let mee chooseth out nome twelue thousand men, and I will by, and follow after Dauid this night:

2 And I will come vpon him while hee is weary and weake handed: and will feare him: and all the people that are with him shall see, and so will I smite the king onely,

3 * And will bring againe all the people vnto thee: and when all shall returne, the man whom thou seekest being slaine, all the people shall be in peace.

4 And the saying pleased Absalom wel, and all the elders of Israel.

5 * Then sayd Absalom, Call nowe Chufai the Arachite also, & let vs heare like wise what he saith.

6 When Chufai was come to Absalom, Absalom spake vnto him, saying, Achitophel hath giuen such counsel: shall we do after his saying, or no: tell thou.

7 Chufai answered vnto Absalom, The counsel that Achitophel hath giuen, is not good at this time.

8 For, said Chufai, Thou knowest thy father and his men, how that they bee strong men, and they be chased in their mindes, and are euen as a Beare robbed of her whelpes in the field: thy father is a man also practised in warre, and will not lodge with the people.

9 Behold, he is hid now in some caue, or in some other place: and though some of his men be ouerthrowen at the first hunt, yet they that heare it, will say, The people that followeth Absalom be put to the worke.

10 And he also that is baliant, whose heart is as the heart of a Lion, shall thinke and faint: for all Israel knoweth that thy father is a mighty man, and they which be with him are stout men.

11 Therefore my counsell is, that all Israel bee gathered vnto thee, from Dan to Beerseba, as the sand of the sea in number, and that thou goe to battell in thine owne person.

12 For so shall we come vpon him in one place or other where we shall find him, and we will fall vpon him, euen as thicke as the dewe falleth on the ground: and of all the men that are with him, we shall not leaue him one.

13 Moreover, if hee bee gotten into a towne, then shall all the men of Israel bring ropes to that city, and we will draw it into the riuer, vntill there be not one small stone found there.

14 And Absalom and all the men of Israel sayd, The counsel of Chufai the Arachite, is better then the counsel of Achitophel. For it was euen the Lordes determination to destroy the good counsel of Achitophel, that the Lord might bring euill vpon Absalom.

15 Then said Chufai vnto Sadoc and Abiathar the Priests, Of this and that manner, did Achitophel and the Elders of Israel counsel Absalom, and thus and thus haue I counselled.

16 Now therefore lend quickly, and shew Dauid, saying, Carie not this night in the fieldes of the wilderness, but get thee ouer, lest the king bee deuoured, and all the people that are with him.

17 Now Jonathan and Ahimaaz abode by the well Rogel: (for they might not bee seene to come into the cite) and a wench went and told them: & they went, & shewed king Dauid.

18 Neuerthelesse, a lad saw them, and told it to Absalom: but they went both of them away quickly, and came to a mans house in Bahurim, which had a well in his yard, into the which they went downe.

19 And the wife tooke and spread a couerlet ouer the welles mouth, and spread ground cozne thereon, and the thing was not spied.

20 And when Absaloms seruants came to the wife to the house, they sayd, where is Ahimaaz and Jonathan? The woman answered them, They bee gone ouer the brooke of water. And when they had sought them, and could not finde them, they returned to Hierusalem.

21 And as soone as they were departed, the other came out of the well, and went and tolde king Dauid, and sayde vnto him, vay, and get you quickly ouer the water, for such counsell hath Achitophel giuen against you.

22 Then Dauid arose, and all the people that were with him, and they were come ouer Jordan: by that it was day: so that there lacked not one of them that was not come ouer Jordan.

23 And when Achitophel saw that his counsell was not followed: hee sabled an asse, and arose and gate him home to his owne house, and to his owne cite, and put his household in order, and hanged himselfe, and dyed, and was buried in the sepulchre of his father.

24 Then Dauid came to Mahanaim, and Absalom passed ouer Jordan, he and all the men of Israel with him.

25 And Absalom made Amasa capitaine of the hoste in stead of Joab: which Amasa was a mans sonne named Jethra an Israelite, that went in to Abigail the daughter of Nabal, sister to Zarua Joabs mother.

26 So Israel and Absalom pitched in the land of Gilead.

27 And when Dauid was come to Mahanaim, Sobi the sonne of Nahas, out of Rabba, of the children of Ammon, & Machir the sonne of Ammiel, out of Lodeber, and Barzellai the Gileadite, out of Rogelim,

28 Brought beds, basons, earthen vessels, wheate and barley, floure and parched cozne, beanes, lentiles, and parched pulse,

29 Honey, butter, sheepe, and cheefe of kine, for Dauid, and for the people that were with him to eat: for they sayd, The people is hungrie, wearie, and thirstie in the wilderness.

The xvij. Chapter.

2 Dauid diuideth his armie into three parts,

And Dauid numbred the people that were with him, and set captaines of thousands and of hundreds ouer them.

2 And Dauid sent forth the third part of the people vnder the hand of Joab, and the third part vnder the hand of Abiathar the sonne of Zarua Joabs brother, and the other third part vnder the hand of Ittai the Gethite: and the king sayd vnto the people, I will goe with you my selfe also.

4 And the king said vnto them, what seemeth your best, that will I do. And the king stood by the gate side, and all the people came out by hundreds, and by thousands.

5 And the king commanded Joab, and Abisai, and Jthai, saying, Intreate the pong man Abalom gently for my sake. And all the people heard that the king gaue all the captains charge concerning Abalom.

6 And so the people went out into the fiede against Israel (and the battell was in the wood of Ephraim.)

7 Where the people of Israel were slaine before the seruants of Dauid, and there was a great slaughter that day, euery of twenty thousand men.

8 For the battell was scattered ouer all the country: and the wood deuoured moe people that day, then did the sword.

9 And Abalom met the seruants of Dauid. he rode vpon a Mule, which caried him vnder the thicke boughs of a great oke, and his head was caught of the oke, and hee was lift by betwene the heauen and the earth, and the mule that was vnder him went away.

10 And one that saw it told Joab, saying, Behold, I saw Abalom hang in an oke.

11 And Joab sayd vnto the man that tolde him, If thou didst see him, why didst not thou there smite him to the ground, & I would haue giuen thee ten sicles of siluer, and a girdle?

12 The man saide vnto Joab, Though I should receiue a thousand sicles of siluer in mine hand, yet would I not stretch out mine hand against the kings sonne: for wee heard with our eares when the king charged thee, and Abisai, and Jthai, saying, Beware that none touch the pong man Abalom.

13 Moreover, if I had done it, I should haue done against mine own life: for there is no matter hid from the king, yea, and thou thy selfe wouldst haue bene against me.

14 Then said Joab, I may not stand thus carrying with thee. And hee tooke thre darts in his hand, and thrust them thorow Abalom, while he was yet aliuie in the midst of the oke.

15 And ten seruants that bare Joabs weapons, turned, and smote Abalom, and slew him.

16 And Joab blew the trumpet, and the people returned from following Israel: for Joab held backe the people.

17 And they tooke Abalom, and cast him into a great pit in the wood, and layd a nighty great heape of stones vpon him, and all Israel fled euery one to their tents.

18 And this Abalom yet in his life time, tooke and reared vpon a pillar, which is in the kings dale: for he said, I haue no sonne to keepe my name in remembrance: And he called the pillar after his owne name, and it is called vnto this day Abalom place.

19 Then said Ahimaz the sonne of Zadoc, Let mee runne now, and beare the king tidings how that the Lorde hath iudged him quite of the hand of his enemies.

20 And Joab saide vnto him, Thou art no man to beare tidings to day, Thou shalt beare tidings another time: but to day thou shalt beare none, because the kings sonne is dead.

21 Then said Joab to Chusai, Go and tell the king what thou hast seene. And Chusai bowed himselfe vnto Joab, and ran.

22 Then said Ahimaz the sonne of Sadoc againe to Joab, what, I pray thee, if I also run after Chusai? And Joab said, wherefore wilt thou run, my sonne, seeing that thou hast no tidings to bring?

23 Yet what if I runne? Hee said vnto him, Runne. Then Ahimaz ran by the way of the plaine, and came before Chusai.

24 And Dauid sate betwene the two gates: and the watchman went by to the roote ouer the gate, vnto the wall, and lift by his eyes, and saw, and behold, there came a man running alone.

25 And the watchman cried, & told the king, And the king said, If hee bee alone, there is tidings in his mouth, And hee came apace, and drew neere.

26 And the watchman saw another man running, and the watchman called vnto the porter, and said, Behold, there commeth another man running alone. And the king sayd, Hee is also a tidings bringer.

27 And the watchman sayd, He thinketh the running of the foze most, is like the running of Ahimaz the sonne of Sadoc. The king said, He is a good man, and commeth with good tidings.

28 And Ahimaz called, and sayd vnto the king, Peace be with thee, And he fell downe to the earth vpon his face before the king, and sayd, Blessed bee the Lord thy God, which hath shut vp the men that lift by their hands, against my lord the king.

29 And the king sayd, Is the pong man Abalom safe? Ahimaz answered, when Joab sent the kings seruant, and me thy seruant, I saw a great tumult, but I wote not what it was.

30 And the king said vnto him, Turne aside, and stand here. And he turned aside, and stood still.

31 And beholde, Chusai came also, and said, Tidings, my lord the king: for the Lord hath deliuered thee this day out of the hand of all them that rose against thee.

32 And the king sayd vnto Chusai, Is the pong man Abalom safe? Chusai answered, The enemies of my lord the king, and all that rise against thee to doe thee hurt, bee as that young man is.

33 And the king was moued, and went by to the chamber ouer the gate, and wept, and as hee went, thus hee sayd, O my sonne Abalom, my sonne, my sonne Abalom: would God I had died for thee, O Abalom, my sonne, my sonne.

3 And the people went that day into the citie, by stealth, as people confounded doe conuey themselves when they flee in battell.

4 But the king hid his face, and cryed with a loude voyce, O my sonne Absalom, O Absalom, my sonne, my sonne.

5 And Joab came into the house to the king, and said, Thou hast shamed this day the faces of all thy seruants, which this day haue saued thy life, and the liues of thy sonnes, and of thy daughters, and the liues of thy wiues, and of thy concubines.

6 In that thou louest thine enemies, and hatest thy friendes: for thou hast declared this day, that thou regardest neither thy princes, nor seruants: and this day I doe perceiue, that if Absalom had liued, and all wee had died this day, that had pleased thee well.

7 Nowe therefore, by, and come out, and speake comfortably vnto thy seruants: for I sweare by the Lord, except thou come out, there will not tarie one with thee this night, and that will be worse vnto thee, then all the euil that fel on thee from thy youth, vnto this houre.

8 Then the king rose, and sate in the gate: and they told vnto al the people, saying, Behold, the king doeth sit in the gate: and all the people came before the king, for Israel had fled euery man to his tent.

9 And all the people were at Gibeon: and the king sate by out of the hand of our enemies, and hee deliuered vs out of the hande of the Philistines, and now he is fled out of the land for Absalom:

10 But Absalom, whom we anointed ouer vs, is dead in battell: therefore why are yee so still, that ye bring not the king againe?

11 And king Dauid sent to Sadoc and Abiathar the priests, saying, Speake vnto the elders of Iuda, and say, Why are ye behinde, to bring the king againe to his house, (seeing that such tidings is come from all Israel vnto the king, euen to his house?)

12 Yee are my brethren, my bones and my flesh: wherefore then are yee the last that bring the king againe?

13 And say ye to Amasa, Art thou not of my bone, and of my flesh? God do so to me, and moze also, if thou be not captaine of the hoste to me for euer, in the roume of Joab.

14 And he bowed the hearts of all the men of Iuda, euen as the heart of one man, so that they sent this word to the king, Returne thou with all thy seruants.

15 So the king returned, and came to Iordane: and Iuda came to Gilgal, for to goe to meete the king, and to conduct him ouer Iordane.

16 And Semei the sonne of Gera, the sonne of Jemini, which was of Bahurim, halled, and came downe with the men of Iuda, to meete king Dauid.

17 And there were a thousand men of Benjamin with him, and Ziba the seruant of the house of Saul, and his fiftene sonnes & twenty seruants with him, and they went ouer Iordane before the king.

18 And there went ouer a boate to carrie ouer the kings household, and to doe him pleasure: and Semei the sonne of Gera, fell before the king as he was come ouer Iordane.

19 And said vnto the king, Let not my lord impute wickednesse vnto me, nor remember the things that thy seruant did wickedly, when my lord the king departed out of Hierusalem, that the king should take it to his heart:

20 For thy seruant doeth knowe howe that I haue done amisse: and therefore beholde, I am the first this day of all the house of Ioseph, that am come downe to meete my lord the king.

21 But Abisai the sonne of Zaruia answered, and said, Shall not Semei die for this, because he cursed the Lords anointed?

22 And Dauid sayde, What haue I to doe with you, ye sonnes of Zaruia? For this day ye be aduertaries vnto me: shall there any man die this day in Israel? Doe not I knowe that I am this day king ouer Israel?

23 And therefore the king said vnto Semei, Thou shalt not die: and the king sware vnto him.

24 And Hiphibosech the sonne of Saul came downe to meete the king, & had neither washed his feete, nor dyelled his beard, nor washed his clothes, from the time the king departed, but till he came againe in peace.

25 And when he was come to Hierusalem, and met the king, the king said vnto him, Wherefore wentest not thou with me, Hiphibosech?

26 He answered, My lord, O king, my seruant deceiued me: for thy seruant said, I would haue mine Asse saddled to ride thereon, for to goe to the king: because thy seruant is lame.

27 And he hath accused thy seruant vnto my lord the king, and my lord the king is as an angell of God: doe therefore what seemeth good in thine eyes.

28 For all my fathers house were but dead men before my lord the king, and yet diddest thou put thy seruant among them that did eate at thine owne table: what right therefore haue I yet to cry any moze vnto the king?

29 And the king said vnto him, Why speakest thou any moze of thy matters? I haue said, Thou and Ziba diuide the lands betwene you.

30 And Hiphibosech saide vnto the king, Yea, let him take all, for so much as my lord the king is come againe in peace vnto his owne house.

31 And Barzilai the Gileadite came downe from Roglim, and went ouer Iordane with the king, to conduct him ouer Iordane.

32 Barzilai was a very aged man, euen fourscore yeeres olde, and provided the king of substance while he lay at Mahanaim: for he was a man of very great substance.

33 And the king saide vnto Barzilai, Come ouer with me, and I will feede thee with me in Hierusalem.

34 And Barzilai said vnto the king, How long haue I to liue, that I should goe by with the king vnto Hierusalem?

35 I am this day fourescore yeeres olde: and can I discern betwene good & euill? Hath thy seruant any taste in that he eateth or drinketh? Can he heare any moze the voice of singing men and women? wherefore then should thy seruant be yet a burden vnto my Lord the king?

The xx. Chapter.

1 Seba raiseth Israel against Dauid. 10 Iob killeth Amasa traitorously. 22 The head of Seba is deliuered to Iob. 23 Dauids chiefe officers.

¶ When there came thither a certaine man || of Belial, named Seba, the sonne of Bichzi, a man of Iermini, a he blew a trumpēt, and said, we haue no part in Dauid, neither haue we inheritance in the sonne of Isai: euery man to his tents, O Israel.

2 And so euery man of Israel went from Dauid, and followed Seba the sonne of Bichzi: but the men of Iuda claue fast vnto their king, from Iordane to Hierusalem.

3 And Dauid came to his house to Hierusalem, and the king tooke the tenne women his Concubines, that hee had left behinde him to keepe the house, and put them in warde, and fed them, but lay no more with them: and so they were inclosed vnto the day of their death, liuing in widowhood.

4 Then said the king to Amasa, || Call the men of Iuda together within thre dayes, and be thou here also.

5 And so Amasa went to gather the men of Iuda together, but taried longer then the time which he had appointed him.

6 And Dauid said to Abisai, Now shall Seba the sonne of Bichzi doe vs more harme then did Absalom: take thou therfore thy lordes seruants, and follow after him, least hee get him walled cities, and escape vs.

7 And there went out after him Iobas men, and the Gethites, and the Shelethites, and all the mightiest men: and they departed out of Hierusalem to followe after Seba the sonne of Bichzi.

8 And when they were at the great stone in Gibcon, Amasa || went before them: and Iobas garment that hee had about him was girded vnto him, and he had girded thereon a sworde, which was topped fast to his loynes in a sheath, that as he went it fell sometime out.

9 And Iobas saide to Amasa, Art thou in health, my brother? And Iobas tooke Amasa by the beard with the right hand to kille him.

10 But Amasa tooke no heede to the sworde that was in Iobas hand: so there with he smote him in the fifth ribbe and shed out his bowels to the ground, and thrust at him no more, and he died: so Iobas and Abisai his brother followed after Seba the sonne of Bichzi.

11 And one of Iobas men stood by him, and said, Hee that beareth any fauour to Iobas, or good will to Dauid, let him goe after Iobas.

12 And Amasa wallowed in blood in the mids of the way: and when the man saw that all the people stood still, he remoued Amasa out of the way into the field, and cast a cloth vpon him, because he sawe that euery one that came by him, stood still.

13 And as soone as he was remoued out of the way, all the people went after Iobas, to followe after Seba the sonne of Bichzi.

14 And he went thoro all the tribes of Israel, vnto Abel, and to Bethmaacha, and all the places of Berin: and they gathered together and went after him.

15 And they came and besieged him in Abel, neere to Bethmaacha, and they call by a banke against the citie, and the people thereof stood on the ramper, and all the people that was with Iobas thrust at the wall to euerthowe it.

16 Then cryed a wise woman out of the citie, Heare, heare: I pray you say vnto Iobas, Come hither, that I may speake with thee.

17 When Iobas was come vnto her, the woman said, Art thou Iobas? He answered, I am he. She said vnto him, Heare the wordes of thine handmaide. And he answered, I doe heare.

18 Then she spake thus, They spake in the old time, saying, They should aske of Abel: and so haue they continued.

19 I am one of them that are peaceable, and faithfull in Israel, and thou goest about to destroy a citie, and a nother in Israel: why wilt thou deuoure the inheritance of the Lord?

20 And Iobas answered and said, God forbid, God forbid it me, that I should either deuoure, or destroy.

21 The matter is not so: but a man of mount Ephraim (Seba the sonne of Bichzi by name) hath liff by his hand against the king, euen against Dauid: deliuer vs him onely, and I will depart from the citie. And the woman said vnto Iobas, Behold, his head shall be throwen to thee ouer the wall.

22 And then the woman went vnto all the people with her wisdom, and they smote off the head of Seba the sonne of Bichzi, and call it out to Iobas: and he blew a trumpēt, and they returned from the citie euery man to his tent: and Iobas returned to Hierusalem vnto the king.

Then there was an hunger in the dayes of Dauid three yeres together: and Dauid enquired of the Lord. And the Lord answered, It is for Saul, and the house of blood, because he slew the Gibeonites.

2 And the king called the Gibeonites, and sayd vnto them, Now the Gibeonites were not of the children of Israel, but a remnant of the Amorites, and the children of Israel sware vnto them: and Saul sought to slay them, for a zeale that hee had to the children of Israel and of Juda.)

3 Wherefore Dauid saide vnto the Gibeonites, what shall I do for you, and wherewith shall I make the atonement, that yee may blesse the inheritance of the Lord?

4 The Gibeonites answered him, wee will haue no siluer nor golde of Saul, nor of his house, neither is it our minde that thou shouldst kill any man in Israel. Hee said, what you shall say, that will I doe for you.

5 They answered the king, The man that consumed vs, a imagined to bring vs to nought, that we are destroyed from remaining in any of the coasts of Israel:

6 Let seuen men of his sonnes be deliuered vnto vs, and wee will hang them by vnto the Lord in Gibeath of Saul, whome the Lord did chuse. And the king sayd, I will giue them you.

7 But the king had compassion on Abihoboth the sonne of Jonathan the sone of Saul, because of the Lordes othe that was betweene them, euen betweene Dauid and Jonathan the sonne of Saul.

8 But the king tooke the two sonnes of Rispha the daughter of Aia, whome she bare vnto Saul, euen Arnon, and Abihoboth, and the five sonnes of Michol the daughter of Saul, whome she bare to Abiel the sonne of Barzilai, the Gheolathite:

9 And he deliuered them into the handes of the Gibeonites, which hanged them in the hill before the Lord: and they fell all seuen together, and were slaine in the dayes of haruel, euen in the first dayes, and in the beginning of barley haruel.

10 And Rispha the daughter of Aia tooke a sackcloth, and hanged it by for her vpon the rocke, from the beginning of haruel, vntill water droppd vpon them out of heauen, and suffered neither the birds of the ayre to light on them by day, nor beasts of the field by night.

11 And it was tolde Dauid what Rispha the daughter of Aia the concubine of Saul had done.

12 And Dauid went and tooke the bones of Saul, and of Jonathan his sonne, from the citizens of Jabes in Gilead, which had stollen them from the streete of Bethsan, where the Philistines had hanged them, when the Philistines had slaine Saul in Gilboa:

13 And he brought thence the bones of Saul, and the bones of Jonathan his sonne, and they gathered the bones of them that were hanged.

14 And the bones of Saul and Jonathan his sonne, buried they in the countrey of Benjamin in Zela, in the sepulchre of Cis his father: and when they had performed all that the king commaunded, God was then at one with the lande.

15 Moreover, the Philistines had yet warre againe with Israel, and Dauid went downe, and his seruants with him, and fought against the Philistines, and Dauid wared saint.

16 And Ietobebod, one of the sonnes of the Gyrants (the yron of whose speare weighed three hundred scales of balie) a hee being girded with a new sword, thought to haue slaine Dauid.

17 But Abisai the sonne of Nerua succoured him, and smote the Philistine, and killed him. Then the seruants of Dauid swore vnto him, saying, Thou shalt goe no more out with vs to battaile, that thou quenche not the light of Israel.

18 And yet after this, there was a battell with the Philistines, at Gob: and then Sibechai the Husathite, a new Saph, which was one of the sonnes of the Gyrants.

19 And there was another battell in Gob, with the Philistines, where Eshanan the sonne of Jaare Oegim a Bethlehemite slew Goliath the Gethite: the slayer of whose speare was as great as a weauers beame.

20 And there was yet another battell in Geth, where was a man of great stature, that had on euery hand sixe fingers, and on euery foote sixe toes, foure and twentie in number, and was boyme also of the kindred of the Gyrants in Geth:

21 And when hee defyed Israel, Jonathan the sonne of Sinaah the brother of Dauid slew him.

22 These foure were boyme to the Gyrant in Geth, and died by the hand of Dauid, and by the hands of his seruants.

Lord, and cryed to my God: and he did heare my boice out of his Temple, and my crie did enter into his eares.

8 The earth trembled and quaked: the foundations of heauen moued, and shooke when he was angrie.

9 Smoke went out at his nostrils, and consuming fire out of his mouth: coales were kindled thereat.

10 And he bowed heauen, and came downe: and there was darkenesse vnder his feet.

11 And hee rode vpon Cherub, and did flye: he came flying vpon the wings of the winde.

12 Hee made darkenesse a tabernacle round about him: with waters gathered together in thicke clouds.

13 Throughe the brightnesse of his presence, were the coales of fire kindled.

14 The Lord thundred from heauen: and he that is most high, gaue his boice.

15 Hee shot arrowes, and scattered them: to wit, lightning, and ouerthrew them.

16 The channels of the Sea appeared, and the foundations of the world were seene: by the reason of the rebuking of the Lorde, and through the blasting of the breath of his nostrils.

17 Hee sent from aboue, and tooke mee: hee drewe me out of many waters.

18 He deliuered me from my mightie enemy, and from them that hated me: for they were too strong for me.

19 When they had persecuted me in the day of my calamitie: the Lord stayed me vp.

20 For he brought me out into a large place: hee deliuered mee, because hee had a fauour vnto mee.

21 The Lorde rewarded me according to my righteousnesse: according to the purenesse of my hands he recompensed me.

22 For I haue kept the wayes of the Lorde: and did not wickedly against my God.

23 For all his lawes were in my sight: and from his statutes I did not depart.

24 In his sight also haue I bene vpright: and haue kept mee from mine owne iniquitie.

25 And the Lorde did to me againe according to my righteousnesse: euen after my purenesse in his eye sight.

26 With the godly thou shalt be godly: and with the man that is vpright, thou shalt be vpright.

27 With the pure thou shalt be pure: and with the frowarde, thou shalt shewe thy selfe frowarde.

28 And the pooze people thou wilt saue: but thine eyes are vpon the proud, to bring them downe.

29 For thou art my light, O Lorde: and the Lord shall lighten my darkenesse.

30 For by thee I shall breake through an host of men: and by my God will I spring ouer a wall.

31 God is incorrupt in his way, the word of the Lorde is tryed in the fire: hee is a shield to all them that trust in him.

32 For who is a God saue the Lorde: and who is mightie saue our God?

33 God strengtheneth me in battell: and maketh the way cleare before me.

34 He maketh my feet like Hindes feet: and setteth me vpon my high places.

35 Hee teacheth my handes to fight: so that euen a bowe of Steele is broken with mine armes.

36 Thou hast giuen me the shield of thy saluation: and with thy louing meekenesse thou dost multiply me.

37 Thou hast enlarged my steps vnder me: and my legges shall not faile me.

38 I haue followed vpon mine enemies, and destroyed them: and turned not againe vntill I had consumed them.

39 I haue wasted them and wounded them, that they shall not be able to arise: yea, they shall fall vnder my feete.

40 Thou hast girded me about with might to battell: and them that rose against mee, hast thou subdued vnder me.

41 And thou hast giuen me the necks of mine enemies: that I might destroy them that hate mee.

42 They looked about, but there was none to saue them: euen vnto the Lord, but hee heard them not.

43 Then did I beat them as small as the dust of the earth: I did stampe them as the clay of the street, and did spread them abroad.

44 Thou also hast deliuered me from the dissension of people, thou hast kept mee to bee an head ouer nations: the people which I knewe not, doe serue me.

45 Strange children dissemble with me: at the hearing of the eare they obey me.

46 Strange children will thinke away: and they shall bee smitten with feare in their priuie chamber.

47 The Lorde kureth, and blessed bee my strength: magnified be God, euen the force of my saluation.

48 It is God that giueth mee power to reuenge mee: and bringeth downe the people vnder me.

49 Hee deliuereth mee from mine enemies, thou also hast lift me vp on high from them that rose against me: thou hast deliuered me from the wicked man.

50 And therefore I will praise thee, O Lorde, among the nations: and will sing vnto thy Name.

51 Hee is the towre of saluation for his king, and dealeth mercifully with his anoynted: with Dauid, and with his seede for evermore.

7 But the man that shall touch them, must bee defended with p:or, or with the haft of a speare, and they shall bee burnt with fire in the same place.

8 These be the names of the mightie men whome Dauid had: one that fate in the seate of wisdome, being chiefest among the Princes, was Adino of Gint, hee slewe eight hundred at one time.

9 After him was Eleazar the sonne of Do- do the sonne of Ahothi, one of the thre worthies with Dauid, which deteyd the Philistines that were there gathered together to battell when the men of Israel were gone by.

10 He arose, and layd on the Philistines, br- till his hand was wearie, and claue vnto the sword: and the Lozde gaue great victorie the same day, and the people returned after him on- ly to hoyle.

11 After him was Samma the sonne of Age the Ararite: and the Philistines gathered to- gether beside a towne, where was a parcell of land full of lentiles, and the people fled from the phi- listines.

12 But he stood in the middes of the ground, and defended it, and slewe the Philistines: and the Lozde gaue great victorie.

13 These thre (which were of the thirtie chiefe captaines) went do wne to Dauid in the harvest time, vnto the caue Adullam: and the hoste of the Philistines pitched in the valley of Gyants.

14 And Dauid was then in an holde, and the souldiers of the philistines were then in Beth- lehem.

15 And Dauid longed, and sayd, Oh that I had of the water that is in the well by the gate of Bethlehem, for to drinke.

16 And the thre mightie brake thro wne the hoste of the Philistines, and drew water out of the well of Bethlehem, that was by the gate, and tooke it, and brought it to Dauid: neuerthe- lesse, he would not drinke thereof, but s powred it vnto the Lozde.

17 And sayd, The Lozde forbid that I should doe so: is not this the blood of the men that went in regardie of their liues? and therefore hee would not drinke it. And these things did these thre mightie men.

18 Abisai the brother of Joab, the sonne of Zariua was chiefest among the thre, and hee list vp his speare against thre hundred, and slewe them, and had the name among the thre.

19 For he was most excellent of the thre, and was their captaine, howbeit, hee attained not vnto the first thre.

20 And Banais the sonne of Jehoiaada the sonne of a mightie man, baliant in acts, of Iab- zeel, slewe two strong men of Moab: hee went do wne also and slewe a Lyon in the middet of a pit in the time of snow.

21 And he slew an Egyptian, a goodly bigge man, the Egyptian had a speare in his hand: but he went do wne to him with a kasse, & pluck- ed the speare out of the Egyptians hand, & slew him with his owne speare.

22 These things did Banais the sonne of Je- hoiaada, and had the name among the thre wor- thies.

23 He was honourable among chittie, but hee attained not to the first thre: and Dauid made him of his counsell.

24 Abiel the brother of Joab was one of the thirtie: Elhanan the son of Dodo of Bethlehem,

25 Samma the Harodite, Elia the Haro- dite, Helez the Paltite, Ira the sonne of Acez the Checoite, 26 Abiezzer of Anothoth, Debunai the Hu- sathite,

8 And so when they had bene abroad thoroout all the land, they returned to Hierusalem after the end of nine moneths, and twentie dayes.

9 And Joab deliuered the number a summe of the people vnto the king, and there were in Israel eight hundred thousand men of might that drew swords: and the men of Juda were hire hundred thousand men.

10 And Dauids heart smote him, after that he had numbrd the people: and Dauid said vnto the Lord, I haue sinned exceedingly in that I haue done: and now I beseech thee, Lord, take away the trespass of thy seruant, for I haue done very foolishly.

e Callom God had appeared for Dauid and his time.

11 And when Dauid was by in the morning, the voyde of the Lord came vnto the Prophet Gad Dauids Sect, saying, 12 Goe and say vnto Dauid, Thus sayth the Lord, I offer thee three things, chuse thee which of them I shall doe vnto thee.

f For three yeeres of famine were had for the Beniaminites, this was the fourth yeere, in the which should haue bene added three yeeres more.

13 So Gad came to Dauid, and shewed him, and said vnto him, wilt thou haue seven yeeres of hunger to come vpon the lande: or wilt thou see three moneths before thine enemies, they following thee: or that there be three dayes pestilence in thy land? Now therefore aduise thee, and see what answer I shall giue to him that sent me.

14 And Dauid sayde vnto Gad, I am in a wonderfull strait: let me fall now into the hand of the Lord (for much is his mercie) and let me not fall into the hand of man.

g From the one side of the country to the other.

15 And so the Lord sent a pestilence in Israel, from the morning vnto the time appointed: and there dyed of the people from Dan to Beerleba, seuentie thousand men.

16 And when the Angel stretched out his hand vpon Hierusalem to destroy it, the Lord repented him of the euill, and sayde to the Angel that destroyed the people, It is now sufficient, holde thine hande. And the Angel of the Lord was by the threshing place of Arcuna the Jebusite.

17 And Dauid spake vnto the Lord when he saw the Angel that smote the people, and saide, Loe, it is I that haue sinned, and that haue done wickedly: but these sheepe, what haue they done? Let thine hand, I pray thee, bee against me, and against my fathers house.

18 And Gad came the same day to Dauid, and sayde vnto him, Goe by, and reare an altar vnto the Lord in the threshing flooze of Arcuna the Jebusite.

19 And Dauid, according to the saying of Gad, went by, as the Lord commaunded.

20 And Arcuna looked, and saw the king and his seruants comming toward him: and Arcuna went out, and bowed himself before the king on his face vpon the ground.

21 And Arcuna sayde, Wherefore is my lord the king come to his seruant? Dauid answered, To buy the threshing flooze of thee, and to make an altar vnto the Lord, that the plague may cease from the people.

22 And Arcuna sayde vnto Dauid, Let my lord the king take, and offer what seemeth him good in his eyes: behold, here be oren for whole burnt sacrifice, and charrets, and the other instruments of the oren for wood.

23 All these things did Arcuna, as a king, giue vnto the king, and said moreover vnto the king, The Lord thy God accept thee.

24 And the king sayde vnto Arcuna, Not so, but I will buy it of thee at a price, and will not offer whole burnt sacrifices vnto the Lord my God, of that which doeth cost me nothing. And so Dauid bought the threshing flooze, and the oren for fiftie sheles of siluer.

25 And Dauid built there an altar vnto the Lord, and offered whole burnt sacrifices, and peace offerings: so the Lord was intreated for the land, and the plague ceased from Israel.

The end of the second booke of Samuel, otherwise called the second booke of Kings.

The first Booke of the Kings, commonly called the third Booke of the Kings, after the reckoning of the Latinists: which third booke and the fourth also, is but one with the Hebrewes.

The first Chapter.

3 Abisag keepeth Dauid in his extreme age. 5 Adonia viurpeth the kingdom. 30 Solomon is anointed King. 50 Adonia fleeth to the Altar.

King Dauid was old, and stricken in yeeres, so that when they couered him with clothes, hee caught no heate.

Wherefore his seruants saide vnto him, Let there be sought for my lord the King a yong virgin, to stand before the king, and to cherish him, and let her lye in thy bosome, that my lord the King may get heate.

And so they sought for a faire damosell thoroout all the coastes of Israel, and found one Abisag a Sunamite, and brought her to the king.

And the damosell was exceeding faire, and cherished the king, and ministred to him: but the king knew her not.

And Adonia the sonne of Haggith exalted himselfe, saying, I will be king. And he gat him charrets and horsemen, and affricke men to runne before him.

And his father for his time would not displease him, to say, Why hast thou done so? And he was a very goodly man, and his mother bare him next after Absolon.

And he tooke counsell at Joab the sonne of Zaruia, & at Abiathar the Priest: and they helped forward Adonia:

But Sadoc the Priest, Banaias the sonne of Jehoiada, Nathan the Prophet, Semei, and Rei, and the men of might which were with Dauid, they were not with Adonia.

And Adonia sacrificed sheepe and oren, and fat cattell, by the stone of Zoheleth, which is by the well of Rogel, and called all his brethren the kings sonnes, and all the men of Iuda the kings seruants.

But Nathan the Prophet, and Banaias, and the mightie men, and Solomon his brother, he called not.

Wherefore Nathan spake vnto Bethsabe the mother of Solomon, saying, Hast thou not heard that Adonia the sonne of Haggith doeth reigne, and Dauid our Lord knoweth it not?

Now therefore come, and I wil giue thee counsell howe to saue thine owne life, and the life of thy sonne Solomon.

Go, and get thee in vnto king Dauid, and say vnto him, Diddest not thou, my lord, King, swear vnto thy handmayde, saying, Assuredly Solomon thy sonne shall reigne after mee, and hee shall sit vpon my seate? why is then Adonia King?

Beholde, while thou yet talkest there with the king, I wil come in after thee, and confirme thy wordes.

And Bethsabe went in vnto the king into the chamber: and the king was very olde, and Abisag the Sunamite ministred vnto the King.

And Bethsabe stouped, and made obeyesance vnto the king: and the king saide, what is thy matter?

She answered, My lord, thou swarest by the Lord thy God vnto thine handmayde, saying, Assuredly Solomon thy sonne shall reigne after me, and he shall sit vpon my seat:

And behold, now is Adonia king, and thou my lord the king knowest it not.

And hee hath offered oren, fat cattell, and many sheepe, and hath called all the sonnes of the king, and Abiathar the Priest, and Joab the captaine of the hoste: but Solomon thy seruant hath he not bidden.

And now my lord, O King, the eyes of all Israel waite on thee, that thou shouldest tell them who ought to sit on the seate of my lord the King after him:

For else when my lord the king shall sleepe with his fathers, I & my sonne Solomon shall be sinners.

And so, while she yet talked with the king, Nathan the Prophet came also.

And they tolde the king, saying, Beholde, here commeth Nathan the Prophet. And when he was come in to the king, hee made obeyesance before the king vpon his face on the ground.

And Nathan saide, My lord, O King, hast thou said, Adonia shall reigne after mee, and hee shall sit vpon my seate?

For hee is gone downe this day, and hath slaine oren, and fat cattell, and sheepe a great many, and hath called all the kings sonnes, and the captaines of the hoste, and Abiathar the Priest: and behold, they cate and drinke before him, and say, God save king Adonia.

But mee thy seruant, & Sadoc the Priest, and Banaias the sonne of Jehoiada, and thy seruant Solomon hath he not called.

Is this thing done of my lord the king, and thou hast not shewed it vnto thy seruant, who should sit on the seate of my lord the King after him?

Then king Dauid answered, and said, Calme Bethsabe. And shee came into the kings presence, and stood before him.

And the king sware, saying, As the Lord

31 Then Bethsabe bowed on her face to the earth, and did reuerence vnto the king, and said, I pray God that my lord King Dauid may liue for euer.

32 And king Dauid said, Call me Sadoc the Priest, and Nathan the Prophet, and Banaiā the sonne of Jehoiada. And they came before the king.

33 The king also said vnto them, Take with you the seruants of your lord, & set Solomon my sonne vpon mine owne mule, and cary him
downe to Gihon:

34 And let Sadoc the Priest, and Nathan the Prophet, anoynt him there King ouer Israel:
and blowe yee with trumpets, and say, God saue king Solomon.

35 And then yee shall come by after him, that he may come and sit vpon my seat: for he shall be king in my stead: and I haue commanded him to be captaine ouer Israel and Iuda.

36 And Banaiā the sonne of Jehoiada answered the king, and saide, Amen: and the Lord
God of my lord the king say so too.

37 And as the Lord hath bene with my lord the king, euen so be he with Solomon also. And make his seate greater then the seate of my lord king Dauid.

38 And so Sadoc the Priest, and Nathan the Prophet, and Banaiā the sonne of Jehoiada, and the Gerethites, and Phelethites, went downe, and set Solomon vpon king Dauids mule, and brought him to Gihon.

39 And Sadoc the Priest tooke an horne of oyle out of the Tabernacle, and anoynted Solomon: and they blew the trumpets, and all the people said, God saue king Solomon.

40 And all the people came by after him, piping with pipes, and reioycing greatly, so that the earth rang with the sound of them.

41 And Adonia and all the ghesles that he had called vnto him, heard it euen as they had made an ende of eating: and when Joab heard the sound of the trumpet, hee saide, what meareth this noise and bydoare in the cite?

42 And as he yet spake, behold, Jonathan the sonne of Abiathar the Priest came, and Adonia saide vnto him, Come in, for thou art a valiant man, and bringest good tidings.

43 And Jonathan answered and said to Adonia, Verily our lord king Dauid hath made Solomon king.

44 And the king hath sent with him Sadoc the Priest, and Nathan the Prophet, and Bana-iā the sonne of Jehoiada, and the Gerethites, and the Phelethites, and they haue set him vpon
the kings mule.

45 And Sadoc the Priest and Nathan the Prophet haue anoynted him king in Gihon: and they came by from thence, and reioyced, that the cite did sound againe: and that is the noise that ye haue heard.

46 And Solomon sitteth on the seate of the kingdome.

47 And when the kings seruants came to blesse our lord king Dauid, saying, God make the name of Solomon more honourable then thy name, & make his seat greater then thy seat.

And the king bowed himselfe vpon the bed.

48 And thus saide the king, Blessed bee the Lord God of Israel, which hath made one to sit on my seat this day, mine eye seeing it.

49 And all the ghesles that were with Adonia were afraide, and rose vp, and went euery man his way.

50 And Adonia fearing the presence of Solomon, arose, and went, and caught hold on the horns of the Altar.

51 And one tolde Solomon, saying, Behold, Adonia feareth king Solomon: for loe, hee hath caught holde on the horns of the Altar, saying, Let king Solomon swaie vnto mee this day, that he will not slay his seruant with the sword.

52 And Solomon said, If he will serue himselfe a worthy man, there shall not an haire of him fall to the earth: but if wickednesse be found in him, he shall die.

53 And so king Solomon sent, & they brought him from the Altar, and hee came and did obe-sance vnto king Solomon, and Solomon saide vnto him, Get thee to thine house.

Chro. 29.

3.

12 Then late Solomon * vpon the seate of Dauid his father, and his kingdome was established mightily.

13 And Adonia the sonne of Haggith came to Bethsabe the mother of Solomon, and shee saide, Commett thou peaceably? And hee saide, Peaceably.

14 Hee saide mozeouer, I haue somewhat to say vnto thee. Shee said, Say on.

15 And he saide, Thou knowest that the kingdome was mine, and that all Israel set their faces on mee, that I should raigne: howbeit the kingdome is turned away, and giuen to my brother: for it is appointed him of the Lord.

16 And nowe I aske a petition of thee, deny me not. And hee said vnto him, Say on.

17 And hee saide, Speake, I pray thee, vnto Solomon the king (for hee wil not say thee nay) that he giue me Abisag the Sunamite to wife.

18 And Bethsabe saide, I will speake for thee vnto the king.

19 Bethsabe therefore went vnto king Solomon, to speake vnto him for Adonia: and the king rose vp to meeete her, and bowed himselfe vnto her, and sate him downe on his seate, and there was a seate set for the kings mother, and shee sate on his right side.

20 Then shee saide, I desire a little petition of thee, I pray thee say mee not nay: and the king said vnto her, Aske on my mother, for I will not say thee nay.

21 Shee said, Let Abisag the Sunamite be giuen to Adonia thy brother to wife.

22 And king Solomon answered, and saide vnto his mother, Why doest thou aske Abisag the Sunamite for Adonia? Aske for him the kingdome also: for he is mine eldier brother, and hath for him Abiathar the Priest, and Joab the sonne of Zaruia.

23 Then king Solomon sware by the Lord, saying, God doe so and so to mee, if Adonia haue not spoken this word against his owne life.

24 Nowe therefore as the Lord liueth, which hath ordeined me, and set me on the seate of Dauid my father, and made me an house as hee promised, Adonia shall die this day.

25 And king Solomon sent by the hande of Banaia, the sonne of Jehoiada, and hee smote him that hee died.

26 And vnto Abiathar the Priest saide the king, Get thee to Anathoth vnto thine owne fieldes, for thou art worthy of death: but I will not at this time kill thee, because thou barest the Arke of the Lord God before Dauid my father, and because thou hast suffered with my father in all his afflictions.

27 And so Solomon put away Abiathar from being Priest vnto the Lord: that he might fulfill the words of the Lord, which hee spake ouer the house of Eli in Silo.

28 Then tidings came also to Joab (for Joab had turned after Adonia, though he turned not after Absalom) and Joab fled vnto the Tabernacle of the Lord, and caught hold on the hornes of the Altar.

29 And it was told king Solomon how that Joab fled vnto the Tabernacle of the Lord, and beholde, he is by the Altar: Then Solomon sent Banaia the sonne of Jehoiada, saying, Goe, and fall vpon him.

30 And Banaia came to the Tabernacle of the Lord, and saide vnto him, Thus saith the king, Come out. And he said, Nay, but I will die euen here. And Banaia brought the king word againe, saying, Thus said Joab, and thus he answered me.

31 And the King saide vnto him, Doe euen as hee hath saide, smite him, and burie him: that thou mayest take away the blood which Joab shed causelesse, from mee, and from the house of my father.

32 And the Lord shall bring his blood vpon his owne head: for hee smote two men, moze righteous and better then hee, and slewe them with the sword, my father Dauid not knowing thereof, euen * Abner the sonne of Ner, captaine of the holle of Israel, and * Amasa the sonne of Jether, captaine of the holle of Iuda.

33 Their blood shall therefore returne vpon the head of Joab, and on the head of his seede for euer: but vpon Dauid, and vpon his feede, and vpon his house, and vpon his seate, shall there be peace for euer of the Lord.

34 So Banaia the sonne of Jehoiada went vp, and he fell vpon him, & slew him, and buried him in his owne house in the wilderness.

35 And the king put Banaia the sonne of Jehoiada in his roome, ouer the hol, and put Sadoe the Priest in the roome of Abiathar.

36 And the King sent, and called Semei, and said vnto him, Wilde thee an house in Hierusalem, and dwell there, and see that thou goe not forth thence any whither.

37 For bee thou sure, that the day that thou goest out, and passest ouer the riuer Cedron, thou shalt die that day, and thy blood shall bee vpon thine owne head.

38 And Semei said vnto the king, This saying is good: as my lord the king hath said, so will thy seruant doe. And Semei dwelt in Hierusalem many a day.

39 And after thre yeres, two of the seruants of Semei ranne away vnto Achis sonne of Geth: and they told Semei, saying, Behold, thy seruants be in Geth.

40 And Semei stood vp, and saddled his asse, and gat him to Geth to Achis, to seeke his seruants: and Semei went, and brought his seruants againe from Geth.

41 And it was told Solomon how that Semei had gone from Hierusalem to Geth, and was come againe.

42 And the king sent and called Semei, and saide vnto him, Did I not charge thee by the Lord with an othe, and testified vnto thee, saying, Bee sure that whensoever thou goest out, and walkest abroad any whither, thou shalt die the death? And thou saydest vnto mee, It is good tidings that I haue heard.

43 Why then hast thou not kept the othe of the Lord, and the commandement that I charged thee withall?

44 The king said moreover to Semei, Thou rememberest all the wickednes which thine heart knoweth, and that thou diddest to Dauid my father: the Lord also shall bring thy wickednesse vpon thine owne head:

45 And king Solomon shall be blessed, and the seate of Dauid stablished before the Lord for euer.

46 So the king commanded Baraia the son of Jehoiada: which went out, and smote him, that he died: and the kingdome was stablished in the hand of Solomon.

The iij. Chapter,

1 Solomon taketh Pharaos daughter to wife. 5 The Lord appeareth to him, and giueth him wisdom. 17 The pleading of the two harlots, and Solomons sentence therein.

Solomon * made alliance with Pharao king of Egypt, and tooke Pharaos daughter, and brought her into the citie of Dauid, vntill he had made an end of building his owne house, and the house of the Lord, and the wall of Hierusalem round about.

2 Onely the people sacrificed in high places, because there was no house built vnto the Name of the Lord vntill those dayes.

3 And Solomon loued the Lord, walking in the ordinances of Dauid his father: saue onely that hee sacrificed and offered incense vpon altars in high places.

4 And the king went to Gibeon to offer there, for that was the speciall high place: and a thousand whole burnt offerings did Solomon offer vpon that Altar.

5 And in Gibeon the Lord appeared to Solomon in a dreame by night, and God said, Aske what thou wilt, that I may giue it thee.

6 And Solomon said, Thou hast shewed vnto thy seruant Dauid my father great mercie, when he walked before thee in trueth, in righteousness, and in plainnesse of heart with thee, and thou hast kept for him this great mercie that thou hast given him a sonne to sit on his seat, as it is come to passe this day.

7 And now, O Lord my God, it is thou that hast made thy seruant King, in stead of Dauid my father: and I am but yong, and wote not how to goe out and in.

8 And thy seruant is in the middes of thy people which thou hast chosen, and verily thy people are so many that they cannot be told, nor numbered for multitude.

9 Bine * therefore thy seruant an vnderstanding heart, to iudge thy people, that I may discern betwene good and bad: for who is able to iudge this thy so mightie a people?

10 And this pleased the Lord well, that Solomon had desired this thing.

11 And God said vnto him, Because thou hast asked this thing, and hast not asked for thy selfe long life, neither hast asked riches for thy selfe, nor hast asked the life of thine enemies, but hast asked for thy selfe vnderstanding, and discretion in iudgement:

12 Beholde, I haue done according to thy wordes: loe, I haue giuen thee a wise and an vnderstanding heart, so that there was none like thee before thee, neither after thee shall any arise like vnto thee.

13 * And I haue also giuen thee that which thou hast not asked, euen riches and honour, so that there shall be no king like vnto thee all thy dayes.

14 And if thou wilt walke in my wayes, to keepe mine ordinances & my Commandements, as thy father Dauid did walke, I will lengthen thy dayes.

15 When Solomon awoke, beholde, it was a dreame: and he came to Hierusalem, and stood before the Arke of the Couenant of the Lord, and offered whole burnt offerings, and peace offerings, and made a feast to all his seruants.

16 Then came there two women that were harlots, vnto the king, and stood before him.

17 And the one woman saide, O my lord, I and this woman dwell in one house, and I was deliuered of a childe with her in the house.

18 And the thirde day after that I was deliuered, shee was deliuered also: and wee were together, and no stranger with vs in the house saue we two.

19 And this wiues childe died in the night: for she smothered it.

20 And shee arose at midnight, and tooke my sonne from my side while thine handmayd slept, and layd it in her bosome, and put her dead childe in my bosome.

21 And when I rose in the morning to giue my childe sucke, beholde, it was dead: but when I had looked vpon it in the morning, beholde, it was not my sonne which I did beare.

22 And the other woman saide, It is not so, but my sonne liueth, and thy sonne is dead. And shee saide againe, No, but thy sonne is dead, and my sonne is aliu. And thus they pleaded before the King.

23 Then saide the king, The one saith, This that is aliu is my sonne, and the dead is thine: and the other saith, Nay: but thy sonne is dead, and the liuing childe is mine.

24 And the king said, Bring me a sword. And they brought out a sword before the King:

25 And the king said, Diuide the liuing childe in two, and giue the one halfe to the one, and the other to the other.

26 Then spake the woman whose the liuing childe was, vnto the King (for her bowels perned vpon her sonne) and saide, I beseech thee my lord, giue her the liuing childe, and in no wise slay it. But the other said, Let it be neither mine nor thine, but diuide it.

27 Then the King answered and saide, Giue her the liuing childe, and slay it not: for she is the mother thereof.

28 And all they of Israel heard of the Iudgement which the King had iudged, and feared the King: for they sawe that the wisdom of God was in him, to do iustice.

AND HIRAM KING OF TYRE SENT HIS seruants vnto Solomon: (for hee had heard that they had anointed him king in the countrey of his father) for Hiram was euer a louer of Dauid.

2 * And Solomon sent to Hiram, saying,

3 Thou knowest howe that Dauid my father could not build an house vnto the name of the Lord his God, for the warres which were about him on euery side, vntill the Lord put them vnder the soles of his feete.

4 But nowe the Lord my God hath giuen me rest on euery side, so that there is neither aduersarie nor euill to resist.

5 And behold, I am determined to build an house vnto the name of the Lord my God, as the Lord spake vnto Dauid my father, saying, Thy sonne whome I will set vpon thy seat for thee, he shall build an house vnto my name.

6 Now therefore command thou, that they hewe me Cedar trees out of Libanon, and my seruants shall be with thine: and vnto thee will I giue the hire for thy seruants, according to all such things as thou shalt appoint: for thou knowest that there are not among vs, that can skill to hewe timber like vnto the Sidons.

7 And when Hiram heard the wordes of Solomon, hee reioiced greatly, and said, Blessed be the Lord this day, which hath giuen vnto Dauid a wise sonne ouer this mighty people.

Thevj. Chapter.

1 The building of the temple, and the fourme thereof. 12 The promise of the Lord to Solomon.

AN * in the foure hundred and fourescore yere, after the children of Israel were come out of the land of Egypt, and in the fourth yere of the reigne of Solomon byon Israel, and in the moneth || Zif, which is the second moneth, hee began to build the house of the Lord.

2 And the house which king Solomon built for the Lord, was threescore cubites long, and twenty cubites broad, and thirtie cubites high.

3 And he made a porch before the temple of the house, which was twenty cubites long, after the breadth of the house, a ten cubites broad in the forefront of the house.

4 And in the house hee made windowes, broad without, and narrow within.

5 And by the wall of the house he made chambers round about in the walles of the house round about the temple and the quier: and hee made chambers round about.

6 The nethermost chamber was five cubites broad, and the middle was six cubites broad, and the third was seven cubites broad: for without in the wall of the house hee made rests round about, that the beams of the chambers should not be fastened in the walles of the house.

7 And the house was built of stone, made perfect already before it was brought thither: so that there was neither hammer nor axe, either any toole of iron heard in the house while it was in building.

8 The doore of the middle chamber was in the right side of the house: and men went by with winding staires into the middle chamber, and out of the middle into the third.

9 And so he built the house, and finished it: and sieled the house, being haued, with sieeling of Cedar trees.

10 And then hee built chambers to all the temple, five cubites high: and they were ioyned to the house with beames of Cedar.

11 And the word of the Lord came to Solomon, saying,

12 Concerning the house which thou art in building, if thou wilt walke in mine ordinances, and execute my lawes, and keep all my commaundements to walke in them: then will I make good vnto thee my promise, * which I promised Dauid thy father:

13 And I will dwell among the children of Israel, and will not forsake my people Israel.

14 Solomon therefore built the house, and finished it:

15 And sieled the walles of the house within with boords of Cedar tree, euen from the pavement of the house, vnto the rooffe, did he siele the walles of it within with Cedar tree, & boozed the floore of the house with planks of firre.

16 And hee builded twenty cubites in the sides of the quier of the Temple, both floore & walles with boords of Cedar, and dyessed it within the secret place of the Temple euen in the most holy place.

17 But the house, that is, the Temple before it, was forty cubites long.

18 And the Cedar of the house within was carued with knops, and grauen with flourres: and all was Cedar timber, so that no stone was seene.

19 And the quier that was within the Temple, hee prepared, to set the arke of the appointment of the Lord.

20 And the quier || before was twenty cubites long, and twenty cubites in breadth, and twenty cubites in height: and hee couered it with pure gold, and boozed the altar with Cedar.

21 So Solomon couered the house within with pure gold, and hee made golden barres, run along the quier, which hee had couered with gold.

22 And the whole house hee overlaid with gold, vntil hee had ended it: also all the altar that was before the quier, hee overlaid with gold.

23 And within the quier hee made two Cherubims of || oliue tree, ten cubites high.

24 Five cubites long was a wing of the one Cherub, and five cubites long was a wing of the other Cherub: so that from the uttermost part of the one wing vnto the uttermost part of the other, were ten cubites.

25 And the other Cherub was tenne cubites high also: so that both the Cherubims were of one measure, and one cise:

26 For the height of the one Cherub was ten cubites, and so was it of the other.

27 And hee put the Cherubims within the inner house: and the Cherubims stretched out their wings, so that the one wing of the one touched the one wall, and the one wing of the other touched the other wall: & the other two wings of them touched one another in the midst of the house.

28 And hee overlaid the Cherubims with golde.

29 And in the walles of the house rounde about, hee made figures of carued and sieled worke: as namely pictures of Cherubims, and palme trees, and grauen flowers within and without.

30 And the flooze of the house he covered with gold, within and without.

31 And in the entring of the quier hee made two doozes of oliue tree: and both the byper and two side posts, were fiue square.

32 The two doozes also were of Oliue tree, and hee graued them with grauing of Cherubims, and palme trees, and grauen flowers, and covered them with gold, and layd thin plates of gold byon the Cherubims and palme trees.

33 And so made he for the dooze of the temple, posts of oliue tree, foure square.

34 The two doozes were of firre tree, and either dooze with folding leaues.

35 And he graued thereon Cherubims, palme trees, and carued flowers: and covered the carued worke with gold finely wrought:

36 And hee built the inner court with threerowes of hewed stone, and one rowe of Cedar wood.

37 In the fourth yeere was the foundation of the house of the Loyde layd in the moneth of Zif.

38 And in the eleuenth yeere in the moneth of Bul (which is the eight moneth) was the house full finished thoroout all the parts thereof, according to all the fashion of it: And so was he seuen yeeres in building it.

But Solomon was building his owne house thirteene yeeres, and finished it all.

2 And he built the house in the wood Libanon, a hundred cubits long, and sixtie cubits broad, and thirtie cubits high: and it stood upon foure rowes of Cedar pillars, and Cedar beames were layd byon the pillars.

3 And the rooffe was Cedar aboue byon the beams that lay on the pillars, euen fiue and forty beames, fiftene in a rowe.

4 And there were windowes in threerowes, and the windowes were one against another, thre folde.

5 And all the doozes with the side posts, and the byper posts, were foure square, and had windowes one against another, thre folde.

6 And hee made a porch by the pillars that bare vp the house fifty cubits long, and thirtie cubits broad, and the porch was before those and the other pillars: so there was a thicke tree set before them.

7 Then he made a porch to sit and iudge in, euen a porch of iudgement sieled with Cedar thoroout all the pamentments.

8 And his house wherein he dwelt, had another hall moze inward then the porch, of like worke: and then Solomon made an house for pharaohs daughter * (whome hee had taken to wife) like vnto the fashion of the porch.

9 And all these were of the best stones, hewed after a measure, and sawed with sawes within and without, from the foundation into the beames that lay aboue, after the measure, and euen to on the outside toward the great court.

10 And the foundation was layd byon rich stones, and that very great stones, whereof some were ten cubits, and some eight cubits.

11 And aboue were rich stones squared after a certaine rule, and covered with Cedar.

12 And the great court round about, was with threerowes of hewed stones, and one rowe of Cedar plankes after the maner of the inner court of the house of the Loyd, and of the porch of the temple.

13 And king Solomon sent and set one Hiram out of Tyre,

14 A widowes sonne of the tribe of Nephtali, his father being a man of Tyre: which Hiram was a craftsman in brasse, full of wisdom, brnderstanding, and cunning, to worke all maner of worke in brasse: and hee came to king Solomon, and wrought all his worke.

15 For he cast two pillars of brasse of eighteen cubits high a peece: and a string of twelue cubits did compasse either of them about.

16 And hee made two pommels of moultten brasse, after the fashion of a crowne, to set byon the toppes of the pillars: the height of the one head peece contained fiue cubits, and the height of the other head peece contained fiue cubits also.

17 Hee made net worke and wrethen worke, like chaines, for the pommels byon the head pieces that were on the top of the pillars: euen seuen rowes byon the one head peece, and seuen byon the other.

18 And so he made the pillars, and two rowes of pomegranates round about in the one net worke, to couer the pommels that were byon the toppe: and this he did also for the other head peece.

19 And the pommels that were byon the top of the pillars, were after lilly worke in the porch, foure cubits.

20 And the pommels byon the two pillars had also aboue ouer against the midst within the net worke pomegranates, and byon the second head peece were there two hundred pomegranates, in two rowes round about.

21 And hee set by the pillars in the porch of the temple: and when he had set by the right pillar, hee called the name thereof<sup>b</sup> Jachin: and when he had set by the left pillar, hee called the name thereof<sup>c</sup> Boaz.

22 And byon the top of the pillars were lilly worke: and so was the workmanship of the pillars finished.

23 And he made a moultten lauatoz, ten cubits wide from bym to bym, round in compasse, and fiue cubits high: and a string of thirtie cubits did compasse it about.

24 And vnder the bym of it, there were knops round about, ten in one cubit, and they compassed the lauatoz round about: and the knoppes were call with it in two rowes when it was cast.

25 And it stood on twelue open, of which, three looked toward the North, thre toward the west, thre toward the South, and thre to ward the East: and the lauatoꝝ stooðe vpon them, and all their hinder parts were inward.

26 It was an hand breadth thicke, and the brim was wrought like the brim of a cup, with floures of Lillies, and it contained two thousand Battes.

27 And hee made ten feete of brasse: foure cubites long, and foure cubites broade a piece, and thzee cubites high.

28 And the worke of the feet was on this manner, they had sides, and the sides were betweene the leges.

29 And on the sides that were betweene the leges, were Lions, Oren, and Cherubims: and likewise vpon the leges that were aboue: and beneath the Lions and Oren, were certaine additions made of thinne worke.

30 And vnder euery foote were foure brasse wheelcs, and || boords of brasse: and in the foure corners thereof vnder the lauatoꝝ, were vnderletters moulten, at the side of euery addition.

31 And the skafke of the lauatoꝝ was in the middle of it, and aboue one cubite: but the skafke thereof was round, after the worke of the foote, a cubite and a halfe: and also vpon the skafke were grauings, with their bands, fouresquare, and not round.

32 And vnder the sides were foure wheelcs, and the areltrees ioynd fast to the bottome, and the height of euery wheele was a cubite and an halfe.

33 And the workmanship of the wheelcs was like the worke of a charet wheele: and their areltrees, their naues, spokes, and shaftes, were all moulten.

34 And there were foure vnderletters in the foure corners of one foote, and the vnderletters were of the very bottome it selfe.

35 And in the height of the bottom was there a round compasse of halfe a cubite high: and in that height of the bottome there proceeded both leges and sides out of the same.

36 For in the boords of the ledges, and on the sides, he had grauen pictures of Cherubims, Lions, and Palme trees, one by another round about.

37 Thus made he the ten feete after this manner: and they had all one fashion of casting, one measure, and one cife.

38 Then made he ten lauers of brasse, one lauer conteyning fourtie Battes: and euery lauer was foure cubits, and vpon euery one of the ten feete, he put one lauer.

39 And he put fiue of those feete on the right side of the house, and other fiue on the left: and he set the lauatoꝝ on the right side of the house Eastward, and toward the South.

40 And Hiram made pots, shouels & basons, and so finished all the worke that hee made king Solomon for the house of the Lord:

41 That is to say, two pillars, and two round head pieces that were to be set on the tops of the two pillars: and two netwozkes, to couer the two round head pieces which were vpon the top of the pillars:

42 And foure hundred pomegranates for the two netwozkes, euen two rowes of pomegranates in one netwozke, to couer the two head pieces that were to bee set on the coppes of the pillars:

43 And the ten feet, & ten lauers on the feete:

44 The lauatoꝝ, and twelue oren vnder it:

45 And pots, shouels, & basons: and all these vessels which Hiram made to King Solomon for the house of the Lord, were of bright brasse.

46 In the plaine of Iordane did the king cast them in the thicke clay, betweene Socoh and Farthan.

47 And Solomon left all the vessels vnweighed: because they were so exceeding many, neither found they out the weight of the brasse.

48 And so Solomon made all the vessels that pertained vnto the house of the Lord, the golden altar, and the golden table whereon the shewe bread was:

49 And fiue candlesticks for the right side, and fiue for the left before the quier of pure golde, with flowers, lampes, and snuffers of gold,

50 And bowles, flat pieces, basons, spoones, and masors of pure gold: and hindges made he of gold, both for the doores of the quier the place most holy, and for the doores of the Temple also.

51 And so was ended all the worke that king Solomon made for the house of the Lord,* and Solomon brought in the things which Dauid his father had dedicated, euen the siluer, golde, and vessels, and layed them by among the treasures of the house of the Lord.

The viij. Chapter.

4 The Arke is borne into the Temple. 10 A cloude filleth the temple. 15 The king blefseth the people.

Then * Solomon gathered the Elders of Israel, and all the heads of the tribes, and them that were captaynes among the fathers of the children of Israel, vnto him in Ierusalem, that they might bring by the Arke of the Couenant of the Lord, out of the citie of Dauid, which is Sion.

2 And all the men of Israel assembled vnto king Solomon, to the feast that falleth in the || moneth Echanim, which is the seventh moneth.

3 And all the Elders of Israel were come, and the Priests tooke vp the Arke.

4 And they bare the Arke of the Lord, the tabernacle of the Congregation, and all the holy vessels that were in the tabernacle, those did the Priests and the Leuites beare.

5 And king Solomon, and all the Congregation of Israel, that were assembled vnto him, and went with him before the Arke, did offer sheepe, and oxen, that could not be told nor numbered for multitude.

6 And so the Priests brought the Arke of the couenant of the Lord vnto his place, euen into the quier of the Temple, and place most holy, vnder the wings of the Cherubims:

7 For the Cherubims stretched out their wings ouer the place of the Arke, and covered both it, and also the saues thereof ahigh vpon it.

8 And they brue out the saues, that the ends of them might appeare out of the holy place within the quier, but they were not seene without, and there they haue bene vnto this day.

9 And there was nothing in the Arke * a latte the two tables of stone, which Moses put there at Horeb, where the Lord made a couenant with the children of Israel when hee brought them out of the land of Egypt.

10 And when the Priests were come out of the holy place, the cloude filled the house of the Lord, 12 Then spake Solomon, The Lord said that he would dwell in the darke cloud.

13 I haue built thee an house to dwell in, an habitation for thee to abide in for ever.

14 And the king turned his face, and blessed all the congregation of Israel: and all the congregation of Israel stood still.

15 And hee sayd, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, which spake with his mouth vnto Dauid my father, and hath with his hand fulfilled it, saying, 16 Since the day that I brought my people Israel out of Egypt, I chose no citie of all the tribes of Israel to build an house, that my name might be therein: but I haue chosen Dauid to be ruler ouer my people Israel.

Sam. 7.1.

17 * And it was in the heart of Dauid my father, to build an house for the name of the Lord God of Israel.

18 And the Lord said vnto Dauid my father, whereas it was in thine heart to build an house vnto my name, thou diddest well that thou wast so minded:

19 Neuerthelesse, thou shalt not builde the house: but thy sonne that shall come out of thy loines, he shall build the house vnto my name.

20 And the Lord hath made good his word that he spake, and I am risen by in the roume of Dauid my father, and sit on the seat of Israel, as the Lord promised, and haue built an house for the name of the Lord God of Israel:

21 And I haue prepared therein a place for the Arke, wherein is the couenant of the Lord, which hee made with our fathers, when hee brought them out of the land of Egypt.

22 Solomon stood before the Altar of the Lord, in the sight of all the congregation of Israel, and stretched out his handes toward heauen, and sayd, Mac. 2.8.

23 * Lord God of Israel, there is no God like thee, in heauen aboue, or in the earth beneath, thou that keepest couenant and mercie with thy seruants that walke before thee with all their heart, 24 Thou that hast kept with thy seruant Dauid my father that thou promisedst him: thou spakest also with thy mouth, and hast fulfilled it with thine hand, as it is come to passe this day.

Sam. 7.12

25 Therefore now, Lord God of Israel, keepe with thy seruant Dauid my father, that thou promisedst him, saying, * Thou shalt not be without a man in my sight, to sit on the seat of Israel: so that thy children take heed to their way, that they walke before me, as thou hast walked in my sight.

26 And now, O God of Israel, let thy word be verified which thou spakest vnto thy seruant Dauid my father.

27 Will God indeed dwell on the earth? Behold, the heauen and heauen of all heauens are not able to containe thee: and how should then this house do it that I haue builded?

28 Haue thou therefore respect vnto the prayer of thy seruant, & to his supplication, O Lord my God, to heare the cry and prayer which thy seruant prayeth before thee this day:

29 That thine eyes may be open toward this house night and day, euen toward this place, of which thou hast sayd, * Why name shall be there: that thou mayest hearken vnto the prayer which thy seruant prayeth in this place:

Deu. 12.11

30 And regard thou the supplication of thy seruant, and of thy people Israel, when they pray in this place: and heare thou in heauen thy dwelling place, and when thou hearest, haue mercy.

31 If any man trespass against his neighbour, and there goe an oth betweene them, and the one compell the other, and come, swearing before thine altar in this house:

32 Then hearken thou in heauen, and do and iudge thy seruants, that thou condemne the vngodly, to bring his way vpon his head: and iustifie the righteous, to giue him according to his righteousnesse.

33 When thy people Israel bee put to the woofe before the enemy, because they haue sinned against thee, and after ward turne againe to thee, and knowledg vnto thy name, and pray, and make supplication vnto thee in this house:

34 Then heare thou in heauen, to be mercifull vnto the sinne of thy people Israel, and bring them againe vnto the lande which thou gauest vnto their fathers.

35 If heauen be shut vp, & there be no raine, because they haue sinned against thee: yet if they pray in this place, and giue knowledg vnto thy name, and turne from their sinne through thy scourging of them:

36 Then heare thou in heauen, and be mercifull vnto the sinnes of thy seruants, and of thy people Israel, that thou shew them a good way to walke in, and giue raine vpon the land that thou hast giuen to thy people to inherit.

37 If there be in the land dearth, or pestilence, drouth, blasting, grasshopper, or caterpillar: or if their enemy besiege them in the land of their cities, or whatsoeuer plague or sickness chance vnto them,

38 Then what prayer and supplication so euer be made of any man of all thy people Israel, which shall knowledg euery man the plague of his owne heart, and stretch forth his hands toward this house:

39 Heare thou then in heauen in thy dwelling place, and be mercifull, and do and giue euery man according to his wayes, euen as thou that onely knowest his heart (for thou onely knowest the hearts of all the children of men.)

40 That they may feare thee, as long as they liue, in the land which thou gauest vnto our fathers.

41 And likewise, if a stranger that is not of thy people Israel, come out of a farre countrey, for thy names sake,

42 (For they shall heare of thy great name, and of thy mighty hand, and of thy stretched out arme) and shall come and pray in this house:

43 Heare thou in heauen thy dwelling place, and doe all that the stranger calleth to thee for: that all nations of the earth may knowe thy name, and feare thee, as doe thy people Israel, and that they may know that thy name is called vpon in this house which I haue builded.

44 If thy people go out to battel against their enemy, whithersoever thou shalt send them, and shall pray vnto the Lord toward the way of the city which thou hast chosen, and toward the house that I haue built for thy name:

wherby they haue done wickedly against thee, and get thou them the fauour of those which led them away captiue, that they may haue compas-

51 For they bee thy people, and thine inheritance, which thou broughtest out of Egypt, euen from the mids of the furnace of piron.

52 And let thine eyes be open vnto the prayer of thy seruant, and vnto the prayer of thy people Israel, to hearken vnto them in all that they cal for vnto thee.

53 For thou didst separate them from among all the nations of the earth to be thine owne inheritance, as thou saydest by the hand of Moses thy seruant, when thou broughtest our fathers out of Egypt, O Lord God.

54 And when Solomon had made an end of praying al this prayer and supplication vnto the Lord, he arose from before the altar of the Lord, and from kneeling on his knees, and from stretching of his hands vp to heauen.

55 And stood, and blessed all the congregation of Israel, with a loud voice, saying,

56 Blessed bee the Lord that hath giuen rest vnto his people Israel, according to all that hee promised : there hath not failed one worde of all the good promise, which he promised by the hand of Moses his seruant.

57 The Lord our God be with vs, as he was with our fathers, and forsake vs not, neither leave vs by :

58 But that hee may bothe our hearts vnto him, that wee may walke in all his wayes, and keepe his commandements, his statutes, and his lawes which he commanded our fathers.

59 And those my wordes which I haue prayed before the Lorde, be nigh vnto the Lorde our God day and night, that hee defend the cause of his seruant, and the cause of his people Israel at all times, as the matter shall require :

60 That all nations of the earth may knowe that the Lord is God, and no one but he.

61 Let your heart therefore be perfect with the Lord your God, that yee walke in his statutes, and keepe his commandements, as this day.

62 And the king, and all Israel with him, offered offerings before the Lord.

63 * And Solomon offered a sacrifice of peace offerings, which he offered vnto the Lord, to wit, twenty and two thousand oxen, and an hundred and twenty thousand sheepe : And so the king and all the children of Israel dedicated the house of the Lord.

64 The same day did the king hallo to the middle of the court that was before the house of the Lord : for there he offered whole burnt offerings, meat offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings:
because the brazen Altar that was before the Lord, was too little to receiue the whole burnt offerings, meat offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings.

65 And Solomon held the same time an hie feast, and all Israel with him, a very great congregation, euen from the entering in of Hemath, vnto the riuer of Egypt, before the Lorde our God seven dayes, and seven dayes, euen foure-teene dayes.

66 And the eight day he sent the people away, and they blessed the king, and went vnto their tents ioyous, and with glad heart, because of all the goodnesse that the Lord had done for Dauid his seruant, and for Israel his people.

The ix. Chapter.

11 Solomon giueth cities to Hiram.

which thou hast built, to * put my name there for euer, and mine eyes and mine heart shall be my lawes :

5 Then will I stablish the seat of thy kingdome vpon Israel for euer, as I * promised to Dauid thy father, saying, Thou shalt not bee without a man vpon the seat of Israel.

6 But if yee and your children turne away from me, & will not keepe my commandements and my statutes which I haue set before you, but go and serue other gods, and worship them :

7 Then will I weed Israel out of the land which I haue giuen them, and this house which I haue hallowed for my name, will I cast out of my sight, and Israel shall be a prouerbe, and a sable among all nations.

8 And this house shall bee taken away : so that every one that passeth by it, shall be astonied, and shall hiss, and they shall say, * why hath the Lord done thus vnto this land, and to this house ?

9 And they shall answer, Because they for-

22 But of the children of Israel did Solomon make no bondmen: but they were men of war, his ministers, his lordes, his captaines, and rulers of his charets, and his horsemen.

25 And thise a yere did Solomon offer whole burnt offerings, and peace offerings vpon the altar which he built vnto the Lord, and he burnt incense vpon the altar that was before the Lord, and so he finished the house.

26 And king Solomon made a navy of ships in Azion Gader, which is beside Cloth, on the brinke of the red sea, in the land of Edom.

27 And Hiram sent by shippe also of his seruants that were shipmen and had knowledg of the sea, with the seruantes of Solomon:

2 And she came to Hierusalem with a very great traine, with camels that bare sweet odours, and golde exceeding much, and precious stones: and shee came to Solomon, and communed with him of all that was in her heart.

3 And Solomon declared vnto her all her questions, so that there was not one thing hid from the king, which hee expounded vnto her.

4 And the Queene of Saba considered all Solomons wisdom, and the house that he had builded,

5 And the meat of his table, and the sitting of his seruants, the order of his ministers, and their apparell, and his butlers, and his whole burnt sacrifices that he offered in the house of the Lord: and she was astonied.

6 And she sayd vnto the king, It was a true word that I heard in mine own land, of thy sayings, and of thy wisdom.

7 Howbeit, I beleued it not, till I came, and saw it with mine eyes: and beholde, the one halfe was not tolde mee: for thy wisdom and prosperity exceedeth the fame which I heard of thee.

8 Happy are thy men, and happy are these thy seruants which stand euer before thee, and heare thy wisdom.

9 Blessed be the Lord thy God which loued thee, to set thee on the seat of Israel, because the Lord loued Israel for euer, and made thee king, to do equity and righteousnesse.

the people to whom he gave a king.

10 And he gaue the king fixe scoze talents of golde, and of sweet odours exceeding much, and precious stones: there came no more such abundance of sweet odours, as the queene of Saba gaue to king Solomon.

11 The navy also of the ships of Hiram (that caried gold from Ophir) brought likewise great plenty of Almuge trees, and precious stones, from Ophir.

12 And the king made of the Almuge trees pillars for the house of the Lord, & for the kings palace, and made Harps and psalteries for lingers: there came no more such Almuge trees, nor were any more seene vnto this day.

13 And king Solomon gaue vnto the queene of Saba, according to all her desire, whatsoeuer she asked, besides that he gaue her of a free will with his owne hand: and so she returned vnto her owne country, both she and her seruants.

14 The weight of golde that came to Solomon in one yere, was fixe hundred, threescoze and fixe talents of gold.

15 Besides that hee had of merchants, and of the merchandizes of the spices, and of all the kings of Arabia, and of the lordes of the countrey.

16 And king Solomon made two hundred targets of beaten gold: fixe hundred sicles of gold went to a target.

17 And he made thre hundred shields of beaten gold: thre pound of gold went to one shield, and the king put them in the house of the wood of Libanon.

18 And the king made a great seate of iuorie, and covered it with the best golde.

19 And the seat had six steps, and the top of the seat was round behind, and there were pommels on either side on the place of the seat, and two lions stood beside the pommels.

20 And there stood twelue lions on the steps, six on a side: there was none like wozbe seene in any kingdom.

21 And all king Solomons drinking vessels were of golde, and likewise all the vessels of the house of the wood of Libanon were of purc gold: and as for siluer, it was nothing worth in the dayes of Solomon:

22 For the kings nauie of ships went on the Sea vnto Charis, with the nauic of Hirans ships: euen once in thre yeeres went the nauie to Charis, and brought gold & siluer, elephants teeth, apes, and pectoas.

23 And so king Solomon exceeded all the kings of the earth, both in riches and wisdom.

24 And all the world resorted to Solomon, to heare his wisdom which God had put in his heart:

25 And brought him euery man his present, vessels of siluer, and vessels of gold, raiment, harness, and sweet odours, and horses, and mules, yeece by yeece.

26 And * Solomon gathered together charrets and horsemen. And he had a thousand and foure hundred charrets, and twelue thousand horsemen, whom hee bestowed in the charret cities, and with the king at Hierusalem.

27 And the king made siluer in Hierusalem as plenteous as stones, and Cedar as plenteous as the wilde figge trees, that grow abundantly in the fields.

28 Also Solomon had horses brought out of Egypt, and fine linnen: the kings merchants receiued the linnen for a price.

29 A charct came by out of Egypt for six hundred sicles of siluer, that is, one horse for an hundred and fiftie, and euen so for all the kings of the Hethites, and for the kings of Syria, did they bring them out through their hands.

The xj. Chapter.

1 Solomon had a thousand wiues and concubines, which bring him to idolatry.

BUt king Solomon loued manie outlandish women, & the daughter of Pharao, and women of the Moabites, Ammonites, Edomites, Sidonites, and Hethites:

2 Whereas yet concerning these nations, the Lord sayd vnto the children of Israel, Goe not yee in to them, no let them come in to you, els will they turne your hearts after their gods: neuerthelesse, Solomon claue vnto the in loue.

3 And hee had seuen hundred wiues that were queenes, and thre hundred concubines: and his wiues turned away his heart.

4 For it came to passe when Solomon was olde, his wiues turned his heart after other gods: and his heart was not perfect with the Lord his God, as was the heart of Dauid his father.

5 For Solomon followed * Asaroth the god of the Sidons, and Bilchom the abomination of the Amozites.

6 And Solomon wrought wickednesse in the sight of the Lord, and followed not the Lord perfectly, as did Dauid his father.

7 For then did Solomon build an hie place for Chamos the abomination of Moab, in the hill that is before Hierusalem, and vnto Moloch the abomination of the children of Ammon.

8 And likewise did he for all his outlandish wiues, which burnt incense, and offered vnto their gods.

9 And the Lorde was angrie with Solomon, because his heart was turned from the Lord God of Israel, which had appeared vnto him twise,

10 And gaue him a charge concerning this thing, that he should not follow other gods: but hee kept not that which the Lorde commanded him..

11 Wherefore the Lord sayd vnto Solomon, forasmuch as this is done of thee, and thou hast not kept mine appointment, and my statutes which I commanded thee, I will rent the kingdom from thee, and will giue it to thy seruant.

12 Notwithstanding, in thy dayes I will not do it, because of Dauid thy father: but will take it from the hand of thy sonne.

13 Howbeit, I will not take away all the kingdom: but will giue one tribe to thy sonne, because of Dauid my seruant, and because of Hierusalem which I haue chosen.

14 And the Lord stirred by an aduerfarye vnto Solomon, euen one Hadad an Edomite, of the kings seed, which was in Edom.

15 For when Dauid was in Edom, and Joab the captaine of the host was gone by to burie them that were slaine, he smote all the men children in Edom:

16 For six moneths did Joab remaine there, and all Israel, till hee had destroyed all the men children of Edom)

17 And this Hadad fled, and certaine other Edomites of his fathers seruants with him, to come into Egypt: Hadad being yet a little childe.

18 And they arose out of Hadian, and came to Paran, and tooke men with them out of Paran, and came to Egypt, vnto Pharao king of Egypt, which gaue him an house, and appointed him victuals, and gaue him land.

19 And Hadad gat great fauour in the sight of Pharao, so that he gaue him to wife the sister of his owne wife, euen the sister of Thaphpenes the queene.

20 And the sister of Thaphpenes bare him Genubath his sonne, whom Thaphpenes nourished in Pharaos house: and Genubath was with Pharaos household among the sonnes of Pharao.

21 And when Hadad heard in Egypt that Dauid was layed to sleepe with his fathers, and that Joab the captaine of the hoste was dead also, he said to Pharao, Let me depart, that I may go to mine owne countrey.

22 Pharao sayde vnto him, what hast thou lacked heere with mee, that thou wouldest thus goe to thine owne countrey? He answered, Nothing: Howbeit, let me go.

23 And God stirred him by another aduerfarye, one Rezon, the sonne of Eliada, which fled

Chr. 13.6

26 * And Ieroboam the sonne of Nabat, an Ephzathite, of Zareda (whose mother was called Zeruah, which was a widow) and hee Solomons seruant, lift vp his hande against the king.

27 But this was the cause that hee lift vp his hand against the king : Solomon built Bello, and mended the broken places of the city of Dauid his father.

28 And his fellow Ieroboam was a man of strength and courage : and Solomon seeing the yong man that hee was able to doe the worke, made him ruler ouer all the charge of the house of Joseph.

29 And at that season Ieroboam went out of Hierusalem, and the prophet Ahia the Silonite met him by the way, hauing a newe mantle on him, and they two were alone in the field.

30 Ahia caught the new mantle that was on him, and rent it in twelue pieces, 31 And sayd to Ieroboam, Take thee ten pieces : for thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, Behold, I will rent the kingdome out of the hands of Solomon, and will giue ten tribes to thee.

32 And he shall haue one for my seruant Dauids sake, and for Hierusalem the city which I haue chosen out of all the tribes of Israel :

33 Because they haue forsaken me, and haue worshipped Asaroth the god of the Sidons, and Chamos the god of the Moabites, and Milcom the god of the children of Ammon, and haue not walked in my wayes, to fulfill my pleasure, my statutes, & my lawes, as did Dauid his father.

34 I will not take the whole kingdome out of his hand : but I will make him chiefe all his life long, for Dauid my seruants sake, whom I chose, because he kept my commandements and my statutes :

35 But I will take the kingdome out of his sonnes hand, and will giue it vnto thee, euen ten tribes of it :

36 And vnto his sonne will I giue one tribe, that Dauid my seruant may haue a light alway before me in Hierusalem, the city which I haue chosen me to put my Name there.

37 And I will take thee, and thou shalt reigne according to all that thy soule desireth, and shalt be king ouer Israel.

38 And if thou hearken vnto all that I command thee, and wilt walke in my wayes, and do that is right in my sight, that thou keepe my statutes, and my commandements, as Dauid my seruant did, then will I be with thee, and build thee a sure house, as I built for my seruant Dauid, and will giue Israel vnto thee.

39 And I will for this offence which Solomon hath committed, punish the seed of Dauid, but not for euer.

40 Solomon sought therefore to kil Ieroboam, and Ieroboam arose, and fled into Egypt, vnto Sisac king of Egypt, and continued there in Egypt vntill the death of Solomon.

41 The rest of the words that concerne Solomon, and all that hee did, and his wisdom, are they not written in the booke of the wordes of Solomon ?

42 The time that Solomon reigned in Hierusalem, vpon all Israel, was forty yeres.

43 And Solomon slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of Dauid his father : and Roboam his sonne reigned in his stead.

2 And when Ieroboam the son of Nabat, which was yet in Egypt, heard of it (for he fled to Egypt from the presence of king Solomon, and dwelt in Egypt.)

3 So they sent, and called him : and Ieroboam and all the Congregation of Israel came, and spake vnto Roboam, saying,

5 Thy father made our yoke grieuous, now therefore make thou the grieuous seruire of thy father, and his sore yoke which hee put vpon vs, lighter, and we will serue thee.

5 And he sayd vnto them, Depart yet for the space of thre daies, and then come againe to me. And the people departed.

might perform his saying which the Lord spake by * Ahia the Silonite vnto Ieroboam the son of Nabat.

16 And so when all Israel sawe that the king regarded them not, the people answered the king with these wordes, saying, What portion haue wee in Dauid? wec haue no inheritance in the sonne of Isai: to four tents, O Israel, now see to thine owne house, Dauid. And so Israel departed vnto their tents.

17 Howbeit, ouer the children of Israel which dwelt in the cities of Iuda, did Roboam reigne till.

18 Then king Roboam sent Aduram the receiuer of the tribute, and al they of Israel stoned him to death: but king Roboam made speed to get him by to his charret, & to flee to Hierusalem.

19 And they of Israel rebelled against the house of Dauid vnto this day.

20 And when all Israel heard that Ieroboam was come againe, they sent and called him vnto the multitude, and made him king ouer all Israel, and there was no tribe that followed the house of Dauid, but Iuda onely.

21 And when * Roboam was come to Hierusalem, hee gathered all the house of Iuda, with the tribe of Benjamin, an hundred and foure scoze thousand of chosen men, which were good warriors, to fight against the house of Israel, and to bring the kingdome againe to Roboam the sonne of Solomon.

22 * And the word of God came vnto Semaiâ the <sup>c</sup> man of God, saying,

23 Spake vnto Roboam the sonne of Solomon king of Iuda, and vnto all the house of Iuda and Benjamin, and to the remnant of the people, saying,

24 Thus sayth the Lord, Ye shall not goe by, nor yet fight against your brechzen the children of Israel: retorne euery man to his house, for this thing is my doing. They hearkened therefore to the word of the Lord, and returned to depart, according to the word of the Lord.

25 Then Ieroboam built Sichem in mount Ephraim, and dwelt therein, and went from thence, and built Penuel.

26 And Ieroboam thought in his heart, Now shall the kingdome retorne to the house of Dauid.

27 <sup>d</sup> For if this people goe by, and doe sacrifice in the house of the Lord at Hierusalem, then shall the heart of this people turne againe vnto their lord Roboam king of Iuda, and so shall they kill me, and goe againe to Roboam king of Iuda.

28 Whereupon the king tooke counsell, and made two calves of golde, and sayd vnto them, It is much for you to go by to Hierusalem: * behold, O Israel, these are thy gods, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

29 And he set the one in Bethel, and the other set he in Dan.

30 And this thing turned to sinne: for the people went (because of the one) as far as Dan.

31 And he made an house of hie places, * and made priests of the lowest of the people, which were of not the sonnes of Leui.

32 And Ieroboam made a feast the fifteenth day of the eight moneth, like vnto the feast that is in Iuda, and offered on the altar: and so did he in Bethel, to offer vnto the calves that he had made: and hee put in Bethel the Priests of the high places which he had made.

33 And he went by to the altar, to burne incense, which hee had made in Bethel, the fifteenth day of the eight moneth, euen in the moneth which he had imagined of his owne heart: and made a solemne feast vnto the children of Israel, and offered vpon the altar, and burnt incense.

The xiiiij. Chapter.

1 Ieroboam is reprehended of the Prophet. 4 His hand is dried vp.

And beholde, there came a man of God out of Iuda by the word of the Lord, vnto Bethel: and Ieroboam stood by the altar, to put incense.

2 And he cried against the altar in the word of the Lord, and sayd, O altar, altar, thus sayth the Lord, * Beholde, a childe shall be borne vnto the house of Dauid, Iosia by name, and vpon thee shall he offer the priests of the hie places that burne incense vpon thee, and mens bones shall be burnt vpon thee.

3 And he gaue a token the same time, saying, This is the token that the Lord hath spoken it, Beholde, the altar shall rent, and the ashes that are vpon it shall fall out.

4 And when the king heard the saying of the man of God, which had cried against the altar in Bethel, he stretched out his hand from the altar, saying, Holde him: And his hand which he put forth against him, dried vp, and he could not pull it in againe to him.

5 The altar also claue asunder, and the ashes fell out from the altar, according to the token which the man of God had guen by the word of the Lord.

6 And the king answered, and sayd vnto the man of God, Oh pray vnto the Lorde thy God, and make intercession for me, that my hand may be restored me againe. And the man of God besought the Lord, and the kings hand was restored againe, and became as it was before.

7 And the king sayde vnto the man of God, Come home with me, that thou maiest dine, and I will giue thee a reward.

8 And the man of God sayde vnto the king, If thou wilt giue mee halfe thine house, I will not go in with thee, neither will I eat bread, nor drinke water in this place:

9 For so was it charged mee through the word of the Lorde, saying, Eat no bread, nor drinke water, nor turne againe by the same way that thou camest.

10 And so hee went another way, and returned not by the way that he came to Bethel.

11 And there dwelt an olde prophet in Bethel, and his sonnes came and tolde him all the workes that the man of God had done that day, in Bethel: and the wordes which he had spoken vnto the king, tolde they their father also.

12 And their father sayde vnto them, what way went he? And his sonnes shewed him what way the man of God went, which came from Iuda.

him sitting vnder an oke, and he sayd vnto him, Art thou the man of God that camest from Iuda: And he sayd, I am.

15 He sayd vnto him, Come home with me, and eat bread.

16 Hee answered, I may not returne with thee, to go in with thee: neither wil I eat bread, noz drinke water with thee in this place.

17 For it was sayd to mee in the word of the Lord, Thou shalt eat no bread, noz drinke water there, noz turne againe to goe by the way that thou camest.

18 He sayd vnto him, I am a Prophet also as well as thou, and an Angel spake vnto me in the word of the Lord, saying, Bring him again with thee into thine house, that he may eat bread, and drinke water: And he lied vnto him.

19 And so he went againe with him, and did eat bread in his house, and dranke water.

20 And as they sate at the table, the word of the Lord came vnto the prophet that brought him againe.

21 And hee cried vnto the man of God that came from Iuda, saying, Thus sayth the Lord, Because thou hast disobeyed the mouth of the Lord, I haue not kept the commandement which the Lord thy God commanded thee, 22 But camest backe againe, and hast eaten bread, and drinke water, in the place concerning the which the Lord did say vnto thee, Thou shalt eat no bread, noz drinke no water: thy carcase shall not come vnto the sepulchre of thy fathers.

23 And when he had eaten bread, and drunke, hee saddled him the asse, to wit, to the prophet whom he had brought againe.

24 And when he was gone, <sup>b</sup> a lion met him by the way, and sewe him: and his carcase was cast in the way, and the asse stood thereby, and the lion stood by the corse also.

25 And men that passed by, sawe the carcase cast in the way, and the lion standing by the carcase: and they came and tolde it in the Towne where the old prophet dwelt.

26 And when the Prophet that brought him backe againe from the way, heard thereof, hee sayd, It is the man of God, he was disobedient vnto the word of the Lord, & therefore the Lord hath deliuered him vnto the lion, which hath rent him, and slaine him, according to the word of the Lord which he spake vnto him.

27 And he spake to his sonnes, saying, Saddle me an asse. And they saddled him.

28 And hee went, and found his body cast in the way, and the asse and the lion stood by the corse, and the lion had not eaten the carcase, noz hurt the asse.

29 And the Prophet tooke by the body of the man of God, and layd it vpon the asse, & brought it againe: and the olde prophet came to the city, to lament, and to bury him.

30 And he layed his body in his owne graue, and then lamented ouer him, saying, Alas my brother.

31 And when he had buried him, he spake to his sonnes, saying, When I am dead, see that ye bury mee in the sepulchre wherein the man of God is buried: lay my bones beside his bones.

32 For the saying which he cried at the word of the Lorde against the altar in Bethel, and against all the houses of high places which are in the cities of Samaria, shall come to passe.

33 Howbeit, for all that, Ieroboam conuerted not from his wicked way: but turned backe, and made of the lowest of the people Priests of the high places: * and whoso pleased him, hee filled his hand, and he became priest of the high places.

34 And this thing turned to sinne, vnto the house of Ieroboam, euen to destroy him, and to bring him to nought fro off the face of the earth.

The xiiij. Chapter.

2 Ieroboam sendeth his wife disguised to Ahia the Prophet, who declareth vnto him the destruction of his house.

AT that time Ahia the sonne of Ieroboam fell sicke.

2 And Ieroboam sayde to his wife, say, I pray thee, and disguise thy selfe, that thou be not knowen to be the wife of Ieroboam: and get thee to Silo: for there is Ahia the Prophet, * which tolde me that I should be king ouer this people.

3 And take with thee ten loaues, and cracknels, and a cruse of hony, and goe to him, that he may tell thee what shall become of the childe.

4 And Ieroboams wife did so, and arose, and went to Silo, and came to the house of Ahia: but Ahia could not see: for his eyes were waxen dim for age.

5 And the Lord sayd vnto Ahia, Behold, the wife of Ieroboam commeth to aske a thing of thee for her sonne: for hee is sicke: but thus and thus shalt thou say vnto her. And when she came in, she sained herselfe to be another woman.

6 But when Ahia heard the sound of her feet, as she came in at the dooze, he sayd, Come in thou wife of Ieroboam, why sainedst thou thy selfe to be another? I am sent to thee to shewe thee heauy things.

7 Goe tell Ieroboam, Thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, Forasmuch as I exalted thee from among the people, and made thee prince ouer my people Israel, found goodnesse toward the Lord God of Israel, in the house of Ieroboam.

14 Moreover, the Lord shall stirre him by a king ouer Israel, which shall destroy the house of Ieroboam in that day: but what is it now?

15 For the Lord shall smite Israel, like as a reed is shaken in the water, and he shall weed Israel out of this good land which he gaue to their fathers, and shall scatter them beyond the riuer, because they haue made them groues, and angered the Lord.

16 And he shall giue Israel by, because of the finnes of Ieroboam, which did sinne, and made Israel to sinne.

17 And Ieroboams wife arose, and departed, and came to Thirzah: and when she came to the threhold of the dooze, the child was dead.

18 And all Israel buried him, and lamented him, according to the word of the Lord, which he spake by the hand of his seruant Ahia the prophet.

19 And the rest of the wordes that concerne Ieroboam, how he warred, & how he reigned, behold, they are written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel.

20 And the dayes which Ieroboam reigned, were two and twenty yeres: and when he was layd asleepe with his fathers, Nadab his sonne reigned in his stead.

21 * Roboam the sonne of Solomon reigned in Iuda: and Roboam was forty and one yeres olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned seuentene yeres in Hierusalem the city which the Lord did chuse out of all the tribes of Israel, to put his name there: his mothers name was Naama, an Ammonite.

22 And Iuda wrought wickednesse in the sight of the Lord, and angered him in moe things then their fathers did in their finnes which they sinned.

23 For they also made them high places, images, and groues on euery high hill, and vnder euery thicke tree.

24 And there was a siewes of male children in the land, and they did according to all the abominations of the nations which the Lord cast out before the children of Israel.

25 And in the fift yere of king Roboam Silac king of Egypt, came by against Hierusalem:

26 And tooke away the treasures of the house of the Lord, & the treasures of the kings house, and spoiled all that was to be had: and he tooke away all the shields of golde which Solomon had made.

27 In whose stead king Roboam made brasen shields, and committed them vnto the hands of the keeping of the captains of the guard, which waited at the dooze of the kings house.

28 And when the king went into the house of the Lord, they of the guard bare them, & brought them againe into the guard chamber.

29 The rest of the wordes that concerne Roboam, and all that he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Iuda?

30 And there was warre betweene Roboam and Ieroboam all their liues.

31 And Roboam slept with his fathers, and was buried beside his fathers in the city of Dauid: his mothers name was Naama, an Ammonite. And Abiam his sonne reigned in his stead.

3 And hee walked in all the finnes of his father which he had done before him, and his heart was not perfect with the Lord his God, as the heart of Dauid his father.

4 Neuerthelesse, for Dauids sake did the Lord his God giue him a light in Hierusalem, that he set by his sonne after him, and established Hierusalem.

5 Because Dauid did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, and turned from nothing that hee commanded him all the dayes of his life, saue onely in the matter ofurias the Bethite.

6 And there was warre betweene Roboam and Ieroboam as long as he liued.

11 And Afa did right in the eyes of the Lord, as did Dauid his father.

12 And he tooke away the male siewes out of the land, and put away all the abominable idoles that his father had made.

13 * And he put downe Maacha his mother from bearing rule, because she had made an idole in a groue, and Afa destroyed her idole, & burnt it by the brooke Cedron.

14 But the high places were not put downe: neuerthelesse, Afa his heart was perfect with the Lord all his dayes.

15 Hee brought in the holy vessels of his father, and that hee had dedicate vnto the house of the Lord, gold, and siluer, and iewels.

16 And there was warre betweene Afa and Baafa king of Israel all their dayes.

17 And Baafa king of Israel went by against Iuda, & built Rama, so that he would let none go out or in to Afa king of Iuda.

18 Then Afa tooke all the siluer and golde that was left in the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the kings house, and deliuered them into the hands of his seruants, and king Afa sent them to Benhadad the sonne of Tabzion, the sonne of Bezion king of Syria, that dwelt at Damascus, saying,

19 There is a bond betweene me and thee, betweene my father and thy father: and behold, I haue sent vnto thee a present of siluer and golde, that thou come and breake the bonde that thou hast with Baafa king of Israel, that he may depart from me.

21 And when Baasa heard thereof, hee left building of Rama, and dwelt in Thirza.

22 Then king Asa made a proclamation throughout all Juda, that none should be excused: and to they tooke the stones of Rama, and the timber wherewith Baasa had builded, and king Asa built with them the hill of Benjamin and Hispah.

24 And Asa slept with his fathers, and was buried beside his fathers, in the citie of Dauid his father: and Josaphat his sonne reigned in his stead.

25 And Nadab the sonne of Jeroboam began to reigne vpon Israel, the second yeere of Asa king of Juda, and reigned vpon Israel two yeeres.

26 And hee did euill in the sight of the Lord walking in the way of his father, and in his sin wherewith he made Israel to sinne.

27 And Baasa the sonne of Ahia, which was of the house of Issachar, conspired against him, and Baasa smote him at Gibbethon, which is a citie of the Philistines, (so Nadab and all Israel layd siege to Gibbethon.)

28 Euen in the third yeere of Asa king of Juda, did Baasa slay him, and reigned in his stead.

6 And so Baasa slept with his fathers, and was buried in Thirza, and Ela his sonne reigned in his stead.

7 And by the hand of the prophet Jehu, the sonne of Hanani, came the worde of the Lord against Baasa, and against his house, and against all the wickednesse that hee did in the sight of the Lord, in angring him with the worke of his owne hands, that hee should be like the house of Jeroboam, and because hee killed him.

8 The twentieth and sixt yeere of Asa king of Juda, began Ela the sonne of Baasa to reigne ouer Israel in Thirza two yeeres.

9 And his seruant Zimri (which was captaine of halfe his charrets) conspired against him as hee was in Thirza drinking, and was drunken in the house of Arza, steward of his house in Thirza.

10 And Zimri came and smote him, and killed him, in the twenty and seventh yeere of Asa king of Juda, and reigned in his stead.

11 And when hee was king, and late on his seate, he slew all the house of Baasa, not leauing thereof one to pisse against a wall: yea, hee slew his kinsfolkes and friends also.

12 And thus did Zimri destroy all the house of Baasa, according to the word of the Lord, which he spake against Baasa by the hand of Jehu the Prophet, 13 For all the finnes of Baasa and finnes of Ela his sonne, which they sinned, and made Israel to sinne, and anger the Lord God of Israel with their vanities.

15 In the twenty and seventh yeere of Asa king of Juda, did Zimri reigne seven dayes in Thirza: and the people was then in the host besieging Gibbethon, a citie of the Philistines.

16 And the people in the host heard say, Zimri hath conspired, and slaine the king: wherefore all they of Israel made Amri the captaine of the host, king ouer Israel that same day, euen in the hoste.

17 And Amri departed by from Gibbethon, and all Israel with him, and they besieged Thirza.

18 And when Zimri sawe that the citie must needs be taken, hee went into the palace of the Kings house, and burnt himselfe & the Kings house with fire, and so died, 21 Then were the people of Israel divided into two parts: for haile the people followed Thibni the sonne of Ginath, making him king: and the other halfe followed Amri.

22 But the people that followed Amri prevailed against the people that followed Thibni the sonne of Ginath: and so Thibni dyed, and Amri reigned.

23 In the thirty and one yere of Asa king of Iuda, began Amri to reigne ouer Israel twelue yeres: Sire yeres reigned he in Thirza.

24 Hee bought the hill of Samaria of one Semar, for two talents of siluer, and built in the hill, and called the name of the cite which he built, after the name of Semar, which had bene owner of the hill of Samaria.

25 But Amri wrought that which is euill in the sight of the Lord, and did worse then all that were before him.

26 For he walked in all the way of Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, and in his sinnes wherwith he made Israel to sinne, to anger the Lord God of Israel with their vanities.

28 And so Amri slept with his fathers, and was buried in Samaria, and Achab his sonne reigned in his stead.

29 In the thirty and eight yere of Asa king of Iuda, began Achab the sonne of Amri to reigne ouer Israel, and the same Achab the sonne of Amri reigned ouer Israel in Samaria twentie and two yeres.

30 And Achab the sonne of Amri did euill in the sight of the Lord, aboue all that were before him.

31 For it seemed vnto him but a light thing, to walke in the sinnes of Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat: Hee tooke Jezabel also the daughter of Ethbaal king of the Sidonites to wife, & went and serued Baal, and worshipped him.

32 And he reared vp an altar for Baal, in the temple of Baal, which hee had builded in Samaria:

33 And Achab made a groue, and proceeded further in angring the Lord God of Israel, then all the Kings of Israel that were before him.

2 And the word of the Lord came vnto him, saying,

3 Get thee hence, and turne thee Eastward, and hide thy selfe in the brooke Cherith, that is before Iordane.

4 Thou shalt drinke of the riuer, and I haue commanded the Rauens to feed thee there.

5 And so he went and did according vnto the word of the Lord: for he went and dwelt by the brooke Cherith, that is before Iordane.

6 And the Rauens brought him bread and flesh in the morning, and like wise bread and flesh in the euening: and he dranke of the brooke.

7 And after a while the brooke dried vp, because there fell no raine vpon the earth.

8 And the word of the Lord came vnto him, saying,

9 Arise, and get thee to Sareptha, which is in Sidon, and dwell there: behold, I haue commanded a widow there to sustaine thee.

10 So he arose, and went to Sareptha: and when he came to the gate of the cite, behold, the widow was there gathering of stiches: and hee called to her, and sayd, fetch mee, I pray thee, a little water in a vessel, that I may drinke.

11 And as she was going to fetch it, hee cryed after her, and sayd, Bring me, I pray thee, a morsell of bread also in thine hand.

12 She sayd, As the Lord thy God liueth, I haue no bread ready, but even an handfull of meale in a barrell, and a little oyle in a cruse: and behold, I am gathering two stiches for to goe in, and dresse it for mee and my sonne, that wee may eate it, and die.

13 And Elias sayd vnto her, feare not, goe, and do as thou hast sayd: but make me thereof a little cake first of all, and bring it vnto mee, and afterward make for thee and thy sonne.

14 For thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, The meale in the barrell shall not be wasted, neither shall the oyle in the cruse be diminished, vntill the Lord haue sent raine vpon the earth.

15 And she went, and did as Elias sayd: and she and he, and her house did eate a good space.

16 And the meale wasted not out of the barrell, neither was the oyle spent out of the cruse, according to the worde of the Lord which hee spake by the hand of Elias.

17 And after these things, the sonne of the wife of the house fell sicke, and his sickenesse was so sore, that there was no breath left in him.

18 And shee sayd vnto Elias, what haue I to doe with thee, O thou man of God? Art thou come vnto me to call my sinne againe to remembrance, and to slay my sonne?

19 He sayd vnto her, Giue me thy sonne. And he tooke him out of her lap, and caried him by in to a loft where hee abode, and layd him vpon his owne bed:

20 And called vnto the Lord, and sayd, O Lord my God, hast thou punished also this widow, with whom I dwell as a stranger, and hast slaine her sonne?

21 And he stretched himselfe vpon the childe three times, and called vnto the Lord, and sayd, O Lord my God, I pray thee, let this childes soule come into him againe.

The xviiij. Chapter.

1 Elias is sent to Achab. 13 Obadia hideth an hundred prophets. 40 Elias killeth all Baals prophets.

After procelle of many dayes the word of the Lord came to Elias in the third yeere, saying, Goe shewe thy selfe vnto Achab, and I will send raine vpon the earth.

2 And Elias went to shewe himselfe vnto Achab, and there was a great famine in Samaria.

3 And Achab called Obadia, which was the gouernour of his house: (and Obadia feared God greatly.

4 For when Jezabel destroyed the Prophets of the Lord, Obadia tooke an hundred Prophets, and hid them by fittie in a caue, and prouided bread and water for them.)

5 And Achab sayd vnto Obadia, Goe vnto the land, vnto all fountaines of water, and vnto all brookes, if so that we may find grasse to saue the hoxses and mules aliue, that all the beasts perish not.

6 And so they diuided the land betwene them, to walke thozowout it: Achab went one way by himselfe, and Obadia went another way by himselfe.

7 And as Obadia was in the way, beholde, Elias met him: and hee knewe him, and fell on his face, and sayd, Art not thou my Lord Elias?

8 And hee answered him, I am he: goe and tell thy lord, Behold, Elias is here.

9 Hee sayd, What haue I sinned, that thou wouldest deliuer thy seruant into the hand of Achab, to slay me?

10 As the Lord thy God liueth, there is no nation, or kingdom, whither my lord hath not sent to seeke thee: and when they sayd, Hee is not there, he tooke an othe of the kingdom and nation, when he found thee not.

11 And now thou sayest, Goe and tell thy lord that Elias is here.

12 And as soone as I am gone from thee, the spirit of the Lord shall carie thee into some place that I doe not knowe, and so when I come and tell Achab, and he cannot find thee, hee shall slay me: but I thy seruant feare the Lord from my yowth by.

13 Was it not told my lord, what I did when Jezabel slew the Prophets of the Lord? how I hid an hundred men of the Lords Prophets, fittie men in one caue, and fittie in another, and prouided them of bread and water?

14 And thou sayest, Goe thou now and shewe thy lord, Beholde, Elias is here: that hee may slay me.

15 And Elias said, As the Lord of hosts liueth, before whom I stand, I will shewe my selfe vnto him this day.

16 So Obadia went to meet Achab, and told hit: and Achab went to meete Elias.

17 And when Achab saw Elias, he sayd vnto him, Art thou hee that troubleth Israel?

18 He answered, It is not I that haue troubled Israel, but thou and thy fathers house, in that yee haue forsaken the commandements of the Lord, and thou hast followed Baal.

19 Now therefore send, and gather to mee all Israel vnto mount Carmel, and the prophets of Baal, foure hundred and fittie, and the prophets of the groues, foure hundred, which cate at Jezabels table.

20 So Achab sent vnto all the children of Israel, and gathered the prophets together vnto mount Carmel.

21 And Elias came vnto all the people, and sayd, Howe long halt yee betwene two opinions? If the Lord bee God, follow him: but if Baal be hee, then goe after him. And the people answered him not one word.

22 Then sayde Elias vnto the people againe, I onely remaine a Prophet of the Lord: but Baals prophets are foure hundred and fittie.

23 Let them therefore giue vs two oren, and let them chuse the one, and cut him in pieces, and lay him on wood, and put no fire vnder: and I will dresse the other ore, and lay him on wood, and put no fire vnder.

24 And call ye on the name of your gods, and I will call on the name of the Lord: and then the God that answereth by fire, let him bee God. And all the people answered, and sayd, It is well spoken.

25 And Elias said vnto the prophets of Baal, Chuse you an ore, and dresse him first, for yee are many: and call on the name of your gods, but put no fire vnder.

26 And they tooke the one ore that hee did giue them, and they dresled it, and called on the name of Baal from morning vntill noone, saying, O Baal heare vs. But there was no voice, nor one to answer: And they leapt vpon the altar that they had made.

27 And at noone, Elias mocked them, and said, Crie loud, for he is a god, peradventure he is talking, or occupied in following vpon his enemies, or in his iourney, or it may bee hee sleepe, and must be awaked with your crie.

28 And they cried loud, and cut themselves, as their maner was, with knives and launfers, till the blood followed on them.

29 And when midday was passed, they prophesied vntill the time of the euening sacrifice, but there was neither voice, nor one to answer, nor any that regarded them.

30 And Elias sayd vnto all the folke, Come to mee. And all the people came to him: and hee repaired the altar of the Lord that was broken.

31 And Elias tooke twelue stones, according to the number of the twelue tribes of the sonnes of Jacob, vnto whome the word of the Lord came, saying, * Israel shall be thy name.

32 And with the stones hee made an altar in the name of the Lord: and he made a ditch about the altar, as great as would containe two measures of seede.

33 And he put the wood in order, and he wed the ore in pieces, and laid him on the wood, and sayd, fill foure barrels with water, and powre it on the whole burnt sacrifice, and on the wood.

34 And hee sayd, Doe so againe. And they did so the second time. And hee sayd againe, Doe it the thirde time. And they did it the thirde time.

35 And the water ran round about the altar, and he filled the pit with water also.

36 And when they should offer the euening sacrifice, Elias the Prophet came, and saide, Lord God of Abraham, Isaac, and of Israel, it shall bee knowne this day that thou art the God in Israel, and that I am thy seruant, and that I haue done all these things at thy commandement, 37 Heare mee, O Lord, heare mee, that this people may knowe that thou art the Lord God, and that thou hast turned their heart againe now at the last.

38 And the fire of the Lord fell, and consumed the whole burnt sacrifice, and the wood, and the stones, and the dust, and licked by the water that was in the pit.

39 And when all the people saw it, they fel on their faces, and saide, The Lord hee is God, the Lord he is God.

40 And Elias saide vnto them, Take the prophets of Baal, and let not one of them escape. And they tooke them, and Elias brought them vnto the brooke Kison, and slew them there.

41 And Elias saide vnto Achab, Get thee vp, eat, and drinke, for there is a founde of much raine.

42 And so Achab went vp to eat and to drinke: and Elias went vp to the top of Carmel, and hee layed himselfe flat vpon the earth, and put his face betweene his knees, 43 And said to his seruant, Go vp, I pray thee, and looke toward the way of the Sea. And hee went vp, and looked, and saide, There is nothing. And againe hee sayde, Goe againe seuen times.

44 And at the seuenth time, he said, Beholde, there ariseth a little cloude out of the Sea, like a mans hand. Hee saide, Goe and say vnto Achab, Prepare thy charet and get thee downe, that the raine stop thee not.

45 And in the meane while the heauen was blache with cloudes and winde, and there was a great raine: and Achab gate vp, and came to Jezrahel.

46 And the hande of the Lord was on Elias, and he girded vp his loynes, and ranne before Achab, till he came to Jezrahel.

And Achab tolde Iezabel all that Elias had done, and how he had slaine all the prophets with the sword.

2 Then Iezabel sent a messenger vnto Elias, saying, So and so let the gods doe to mee, if I make not thy soule like one of theirs, by to morrow this time.

3 When he saw that, hee arose, and went for his life, and came to Beerseba in Iuda, and left his seruant there.

4 But he himselfe went a dayes iourney into the wilderness, and came and late downe vnder a Juniper tree, and hee desired for his soule that he might die, and saide, It is now ynough, O Lord, take my soule: for I am not better then my fathers.

5 And as he lay and slept vnder the Juniper tree, beholde, an Angel touched him, and saide, vp, and eat.

6 And when hee looked about him, beholde, there was a cake baken on the coales, and a vessel of water at his head: and hee did eat and drinke, and layde him downe againe to sleepe.

7 And the Angel of the Lord came againe the second time, and touched him, and saide, vp, and eat, for thou hast yet a great iourney.

8 And he arose, and did eat and drinke, and walked in the strength of that meate fourtie dayes and fourtie nights, euen vnto Horeb, the mount of God.

9 When hee came thither vnto a caue, hee lodged therein all night, and beholde, the word of the Lord came to him, a saide vnto him, what doest thou here, Elias?

10 And he answered, * I haue bene ielous for the Lord God of hostes sake: for the children of Israel haue forsaken thy Couenant, broken downe thine Altars, and slaine thy Prophets with the sword: and I onely am left, and they seeke my life, to take it away.

11 And he said, Come out, and stand vpon the mount before the Lord. And beholde, the Lord went by, and a mightie strong winde that rent the mountaines, and brake the rockes before the Lord, but the Lord was not in the winde: and after the winde came an earthquake, but the Lord was not in the earthquake:

12 And after the earthquake, came fire, but the Lord was not in the fire: and after the fire came a small still voyce.

13 And when Elias heard, hee covered his face with his mantell, and went out, and stood in the entring in of the caue: and beholde, there came a voyce vnto him, and saide, What doest thou here, Elias?

14 And hee answered, I haue bene ielous for the Lord God of hostes sake, because the children of Israel haue forsaken thy Couenant, cast downe thine Altars, and slaine thy Prophets with the sword, and I onely am left, and they seeke my life, to take it away.

15 And the Lord said vnto him, Go, and turne thy way to the wilderness, vnto Damascus: and when thou comest there, anoynt Hazael king ouer Syria:

17 And who so escapeth the sword of Hazael, him shall Jehu slay: and if any man scape the sword of Jehu, him shall Elizeus put to death.

18 * And I haue left mee seuen thousande in Israel, of which neuer man bowed his knees vnto Baal, nor killed him with his mouth.

19 So hee departed thence, and found Elizeus the sonne of Saphat plowing, and hauing twelue yoke of oren before him, and he with the twelue: and Elias went by him, and cast his mantle vpon him.

20 And he left the oren, and ranne after Elias, and said, Let me, I pray thee, kill my father and my mother, and then I will follow thee. He saide vnto him, Goe backe againe, for what is it that I haue done to thee?

The xx. Chapter.

1 Samaria is besieged. 13 The Lord promifeth the victorie to Achab by a Prophet.

AND Benhadad the king of Syria gathered all his hoste together, hauing thirtie and two kings with him, and horses, and charets, and went by, and besieged Samaria, and warred against it.

2 And he sent messengers to Achab King of Israel, into the citie, and saide vnto him, Thus saith Benhadad,

3 Thy siluer and thy golde is mine, and the sauer of thy wiues, and of thy children be mine.

4 And the King of Israel answered, & saide, My lord King, according to thy saying, I am thine, and all that I haue.

5 And when the messengers came againe, they saide, Thus saith Benhadad, for as much as I haue sent vnto thee, saying, Thou shalt deliuer me thy siluer, and thy gold, and thy wiues, and thy children:

6 I will therefore sende my seruants vnto thee to morrow this time, and they shall search thine house, and the houses of thy seruants, and whatsoeuer is pleasant in thine eyes, they shall take it in their hands, and bring it away.

7 Then the king of Israel sent for all the Elders of the land, and said, Take heed, I pray you, and see how this fellowe goeth about mischief: for hee sent vnto mee for my wiues, for my children, for my siluer, and for my gold, and I denied him not.

8 And all the Elders, and all the people said, Hearken not vnto him, nor consent.

9 Wherefore he said vnto the messengers of Benhadad, Tell my lord the king, All that thou didest sende for to thy servant at the first time, that I will doe: but this thing I may not doe. And the messengers departed, and brought answer againe.

10 And Benhadad sent vnto him againe, and said, Thus and thus do the gods vnto mee, if the dust of Samaria bee enough for all the people that followe me, to take euery man an handfull.

11 And the king of Israel answered, and said, Tell him, Let not him that putteth on his harness, boast himselfe, as he that putteth it off.

12 And when Benhadad heard that tydings (as hee was with the kings drinking within the pavilions) hee said vnto his seruants, Put your selues in order. And they set themselves in aray against the citie.

13 And behold, there came a Prophet vnto Achab King of Israel, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Hast thou seene all this great multitude? behold, I wil deliuer it into thine hand this day, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

14 And Achab said, By whom? He said, Thus saith the Lord, Euen by the seruants of the gouernours of the shires. He said againe, Who shall order the battell? And he answered, Thou.

15 Then hee numbrized the seruants of the gouernours of the shires, and they were two him-dred and thirtie and two: and after them also he numbrized all the people of the children of Israel, euen seuen thousand.

16 And they went out at noone: But Benhadad did drinke till he was drunken in the pavilions, both hee and the kings, euen thirtie and two kings that holpe him.

17 And the seruants of the gouernours of the shires went out first, & Benhadad sent out, and they shewed him, saying, There are men come out of Samaria.

18 Hee saide, whether they be come out for peace, take them aliu: or whether they be come out to fight, take them yet aliu.

19 And so those yong men of the gouernours of the shires, came out of the citie, and the hoste after them:

20 And they slewe euery one his enemye that came in his way: and the Syrians fled, and they of Israel followed after them: and Benhadad the King of Syria scaped on a horse, with his horsemen.

21 And the King of Israel went out, & smote the horses and charets, and with a great slaughter slewe he the Syrians.

22 (And there came a Prophet to the King of Israel, and saide vnto him, See foorth, and play the man, be wise and take heed what thou doest: for when the yeere is gone about, the King of Syria will come by against thee.)

23 And the seruants of the King of Syria saide vnto him, The gods of the hills are their gods, and therefore they had the better of vs: but let vs fight against them in the plaine, and for what ye will we shall haue the better of them.

24 And this doe, Take the kings away, euery man out of his place, and put dukes in their roumes:

25 And number sixe an hoste, like the hoste that thou hast lost, such hostes, and such charets, and we wil fight against them in the plaine, and thou shalt see vs get the better of them. And hee hearkened vnto their voyce, and did euen so.

26 And after the yeere was gone about, Benhadad numbrized the Syrians, and went by to Aphec, to fight against Israel.

27 And the children of Israel were numbrized, and with their whole number went they against them, and the children of Israel pitched before them, like two little flocks of kids: but the Syrians filled the countrey.

28 And there came a man of God, and said vnto the King of Israel, Thus saith the Lord, Because the Syrians haue saide, The Lord is but God of the hills, and not God of the valleys: therefore wil I deliuer all this great multitude into thine hande, and see shall know that I am the Lord.

29 And they pitched one ouer against the other seuen daies, and in the seuen day the battell was ioyned: and the children of Israel slew of the Syrians an hundred thousand footemen in one day.

30 But the rest fled to Aphec, vnto the citie, and there fell a wall vpon twentie and seuen thousand of the men that were left: and Benhadad fled, and came into the citie, from chamber to chamber.

31 And his seruants said vnto him, Beholde, we haue heard say that the kings of the house of Israel are mercifull kings: wee will therefore

1 ut sackcloth about our loines, and ropes about our heads, and goe out to the king of Israel, it may be he will saue thy life.

32 And so they garded sackcloth about their loynes, and put ropes about their heads, and came to the king of Israel, and said, Thy seruant Benhadad saith, I pray thee, let mee liue. Hee said, Is he yet aliuē? he is my brother.

33 And the men tooke that worde for good luck, and hastily caught it out of his mouth, and said, Yea, thy brother Benhadad. He said, Goe, bring him hither. And Benhadad came out vnto him, & he caused him to come by into the charer.

34 And hee saide vnto him, The cities which my father tooke from thy father, I wil restore againe, & thou shalt make streets for thee in Damascus, as my father did in Samaria: and I wil make an appointment with thee, and sende thee away. And so hee made an appointment with him, and sent him away.

35 And there was a certaine man of the children of the Prophets, which said vnto his neighbour in the word of the Lord, Smite me, I pray thee. And the man would not smite him.

36 Then said he vnto him, Because thou hast not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lord, beholde, as soone as thou art departed from mee, a Lion shall slay thee. And alsoone as he was departed from him, a Lion found him, and slew him.

37 Then hee found another man, and saide, Smite me, I pray thee. And the man smote him, so that in smiting he wounded him.

38 So the Prophet went forth, and waited for the king by the way, and put himselfe out of knowledge, with ashes which he layed vpon his face.

39 And when the king came by, he cried vnto the king, and said, Thy seruant went out in the middes of the battell, and beholde, there went away a man, whom another man brought vnto me, and said, Keepe this man: and if he be killed, or lost, thy life shall goe for his, or els thou shalt pay a talent of siluer.

40 And as thy seruant had here and there to doe, he was gone. And the king of Israel said vnto him, Euen so shall thy iudgement be, as thou hast giuen sentence.

41 And hee halted, and tooke the ashes away from his face, and the king of Israel saue him that he was of the Prophets:

42 And hee saide vnto him, * Thus saith the Lord, Because thou hast let go out of thy hand a man whom I appointed to die, thy life shall goe for his life, and thy people for his people.

43 And the king of Israel went to his house, heauie, & in displeasure, and came to Samaria.

The xxj. Chapter.

8 Iezabel commandeth to kill Naboth for the vineyard that hee refused to sell to Achab. 19 Elias reprooueth Achab, and he repenteth.

After these things, Naboth the Jezrahelite had a vineyard in Jezrahel, hard by the palace of Achab, king of Samaria.

2 And Achab spake vnto Naboth, saying, Giue me thy vineyard, that I may make me a garden of herbes therof, because it lyeth to nigh my house, and I will giue thee for it a better vineyard then it is: or rather if it please thee, I will giue thee the worth of it in money.

3 And Naboth said to Achab, The Lord forbid that from mee, that I should giue the inheritance of my fathers vnto thee.

4 And Achab came into the house, heauie, and euil apayed, because of the word which Naboth the Jezrahelite had spoken to him: for hee had saide, I will not giue thee the inheritance of my fathers: and hee layed him downe vpon his bed, and turned away his face, and would eate no bread.

5 But Jezabel his wife came to him, and said vnto him, Why is thy spirit so sad, that thou eatest no bread?

6 And he said vnto her, For I spake vnto Naboth the Jezrahelite, and saide vnto him, Giue mee thy vineyard for money, or else if it please thee, I wil giue thee another vineyard for it. And he answered, I wil not giue thee my vineyard.

7 And Jezabel his wife saide vnto him, Dost thou now governe the kingdome of Israel? bp. and eate bread, and set thine heart at rest: I wil giue thee the vineyard of Naboth the Jezrahelite.

8 And so she wrote a letter in Achabs name, and sealed it with his seale, and sent the letter vnto the Elders, and to the nobles that were in his citie dwelling with Naboth.

9 And hee wrote in the letter, saying, Proclaime a<sup>b</sup> fast, and set Naboth on high among the people:

10 And let two vnchristes before him, to beare witness against him, saying, Thou diddest blaspheme God and the king: and then carry him out and stone him to death.

11 And the men of his citie, euen the Elders and gouernours which dwell in his citie, did as Jezabel had sent vnto them, and as it was writen in the letter which he had sent vnto them.

12 They proclaimed a fast, and set Naboth among the chiefe of the people.

13 And there came in two men, the children of Belial, and late before him: and the two vnchristie persons witnessed against Naboth, in the presence of the people, saying, Naboth did blaspheme God and the king. And they carried him out of the citie, and stoned him with stones, that he died.

14 And then they sent to Jezabel, saying, Naboth is stoned to death.

15 And when Jezabel heard that Naboth was stoned to death, shee saide to Achab, vp, and take possession of the vineyard of Naboth the Jezrahelite, which hee denied to giue thee for money: for Naboth is not aliuē but dead.

16 And when Achab heard that Naboth was dead, hee goode bp. to goe downe to the vineyard of Naboth the Jezrahelite, to take possession of it.

17 And the worde of the Lord came to Elias the Thetbite, saying,

18 vp, and goe downe to meete Achab king of Israel, which is in Samaria: beholde, hee is in the vineyard of Naboth, whither he is gone to possesse it.

19 And therefore shalt thou say vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, hast thou killed, and also gotten possession? And thou shalt speake vnto him, saying, Thus saith the Lord, In the place where dogges licked the blood of Naboth, shall dogges like euen thy blood also.

20 And Achab said to Elias, Hast thou found a As though the fast, then knowest not what it is to religio, command, and treat me.

b For then they did require of men faith, for men could fast easily, that were not crying sinners.

me, O thou mine enemy? He answered, I have found thee: for thou hast sold thy selfe to worke wickednesse in the sight of the Lord.

21 Behold, * I will bring euil vpon thee, and will make cleane riddance of thy posteritie, and will destroy from Achab, euen him that maketh water against the wall, and him that is shut vp, and left behinde in Israel, 22 And will make thine *house like the house of Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, and like the house of Baasa the sonne of Ahia, for the prouocation wherewith thou hast prouoked, and made Israel to sinne.

23 And of Jezabel spake the Lord, saying, * The dogges shall eate Jezabel by the wall of Jezabel, 24 And hee that dieth of Achab in the towne, him shall dogges eate: and hee that dieth in the field, him shall the foules of the aire eate.

25 But there was none like Achab, which did sell himselfe to worke wickednesse in the sight of the Lord, and that because Jezabel his wife pricked him forward.

26 He did exceeding abominably in following foule idoles, according to all things as did the Amozites, whom the Lord cast out before the children of Israel.

27 And when Achab heard those wordes, hee rent his clothes, and put sackcloth about his flesh, and fasted, and lay in sackcloth, and went bare foote.

28 And the worde of the Lord came to Elias the Thelbite, saying,

29 * Seest thou howe Achab humbleth himselfe before mee? because hee so submitteth himselfe before me, I will not bring that euill in his dayes: but in his somes dayes will I bring euil vpon his house.

The xxij. Chapter.

2 Iosaphat and Achab fight against the King of Syria. 15 Michea sheweth the King what shalbe the successe of their enterprise. 24 Sedechia the false prophet smiteth him. 34 Achab is slaine. 40 Ahazias his sonne succeedeth. 41 The reigne of Iosaphat. 51 And Ioram his sonne.

AND they * continued three yeeres without warre betweene Syria and Israel.

2 And the thirde yeere, did Iosaphat the King of Iuda come downe to the king of Israel.

3 (And the king of Israel saide vnto his seruants, Know ye not that Ramoth in Gilead is ours, and wee sit still, and take it not out of the hand of the king of Syria?)

4 And hee saide vnto Iosaphat, wilt thou come with mee to battell against Ramoth in Gilead? And Iosaphat said vnto the king of Israel, I am as thou art, my people as thy people, and my horses as thy horses.

5 And Iosaphat saide vnto the king of Israel, At the counsell, I pray thee, at the word of the Lord, to day.

6 And then the king of Israel gathered the prophets together vpon a soure hundred men, and saide vnto them, Shall I goe against Ramoth in Gilead to battell, or shall I let it alone? And they said, Go vp, for the Lord shall deliuer it into the hands of the king.

7 And Iosaphat said, Is there here neuer a Prophet of the Lord more, that wee might enquire of him?

8 And the king of Israel saide vnto Iosaphat, There is yet one man (Michea the sonne of Jimla) by whom we may aske counsell of the Lord, but I hate him, for he doeth not prophetic good vnto me, but euill. And Iosaphat said, Let not the King say so.

9 Then the king of Israel called a * chamberlaine, and saide, Fetch Michea the sonne of Jimla hither at once.

10 And the king of Israel, and Iosaphat the King of Iuda, sate either in his seate, and their apparell on them, in a boyde place beside the entering in of the gate of Samaria, and all the prophets prophced before them.

11 And Sedechia the sonne of Chanaana made hornes of iron, and saide, Thus saith the Lord, with these hornes shalt thou smite the Syrians, untill thou haue made an end of them.

12 And all the prophets prophced euen so, saying, Go vp to Ramoth in Gilead, and prosper: for the Lord shall deliuer it into the kings hand.

13 And the messenger that was gone to call Michea, spake vnto him, saying, Beholde, the wordes of the prophets speake good vnto the king with one mouth: Let thy word therefore, I pray thee, bee like the worde of euery one of them, to speake that which is good.

14 And Michea saide, As the Lord liueth, whatsoeuer the Lord saith vnto mee, <sup>b</sup> that will I speake.

15 And so hee came to the king, and the king said vnto him, Michea, ought we to goe against Ramoth in Gilead to battell, or to be still? He answered him, Goe, and prosper: the Lord shall deliuer it into the hand of the king.

16 And the king said vnto him, So and so many times doe I charge thee, that thou tel me nothing but that which is true, in the Name of the Lord.

17 He said, I saw al Israel scattered vpon the hilles, as sheepe that haue not a shepheard. And the Lord saide, These haue no master, let euery man returne to his house in peace.

18 And the king of Israel said vnto Iosaphat, Did I not tell thee that hee would prophetic no good vnto me, but euill?

19 And he saide againe, Heare thou therefore the word of the Lord: I sawe the Lord sit on his seat, and all the hoste of heauen stood about him, on his right hand, and on his left.

20 And the Lord saide, who shall || persuade Achab that he may go, and fall at Ramoth in Gilead? And one saide on this maner, and another on that.

21 And there came forth a certaine spirit, and stood before the Lord, and saide, I will persuade him.

22 And the Lord said vnto him, Where with? And he saide, I will goe out, and be a false spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. He saide, Thou shalt persuade him, and preuaile: Goe forth thou, and bee euen so.

23 Now therefore behold, the Lord hath put a lying spirit in the mouth of all these thy prophets, and the Lord hath spoken euil to you and thee.

24 But Sedechia the sonne of Chanaana went to, and smote Michea on the cheek, and saide, when went the spirit of the Lord from mee to speake vnto thee?

25 And Micha saide, Beholde, thou shalt see in that day, when thou shalt goe from chamber to chamber to hide thee.

26 And the king of Israel said, Take Micha, and carry him vnto Amnon the gouernour of the citie, and to Joas the Kings sonne.

27 And say, Thus saith the King, Put this fellowe in the prison house, and feede him with bread of affliction, and with water of trouble, vntill I returne in peace.

28 And Micha saide, If thou returne in peace, the Lord hath not spoken by mee. And hee said, Hearken ye people, euery one of you.

29 And so the King of Israel, and Iosaphat the King of Iuda, went vp to Ramoth in Gilead.

30 And the King of Israel saide vnto Iosaphat, I will change my apparell, and will enter into the battell, but put thou on thine apparell. And the King of Israel changed himselfe, and went to battell.

31 But the King of Syria commanded the thirtie and two captaines that had rule ouer his charrets, saying, Fight neither with small nor great, saue onely against the king of Israel.

32 And when the captaines of the charrets sawe Iosaphat, they saide, Surely it is the king of Israel. And they turned to fight against him: And Iosaphat cried.

33 And when the captaines of the charrets saw that he was not the king of Israel, they turned backe from him.

34 And a certaine man drew a bow ignorantly, and smote the King of Israel betweene the ribbes and his harness: wherefore he said vnto the driuer of his charrets, Turne thine hand, and carry me out of the holse, for I am hurt.

35 And the battell encreased that day: and the king stood still in his charret against the Syrians, and died at Euen: And the blood ranne out of the wound, into the muddes of the charret.

36 And there went a proclamation thorow out the holse, about the going downe of the Sunne, saying, Euery man to his citie, and to his owne countrey.

37 So the king died, & was brought to Samaria, and they buried the king in Samaria.

38 And one washed the charret in the pool of Samaria, and the dogges licked by his blood, and they washed his armour, * according vnto the word of the Lord which he spake.

39 The rest of the wordes that concerne Achab, and all that hee did, and the house which hee made, and all the cities that hee builded, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel?

40 And so Achab slept with his fathers, and Ahazia his sonne reigned in his stead.

41 Iosaphat the sonne of Asa began to reigne vpon Iuda, in the fourth yeere of Achab king of Israel.

42 And Iosaphat was thirtie and five yeeres old when he began to raigine, and raigned twentie and five yeeres in Hierusalem: His mothers name was Aliba, the daughter of Silhi.

43 And he walked in all the wayes of Asa his father, and bowed not therefrom, but did that which was right in the eyes of the Lord: Neuerthelesse, the high places were not taken away: for the people offered and burnt incense yet in the high places.

44 And Iosaphat made peace with the king of Israel.

45 The rest of the wordes that concerne Iosaphat, and the might that hee had, and howe hee warred, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Iuda?

46 And the remnant of the actes of the males which remained in the daies of his father Asa, he put cleane out of the land.

47 There was then no king in Edom, the deputie was king.

48 And Iosaphat made shippes in the Sea, to come through Charlis to Dphir for golde, but they went not, for the shippes brake at Euen Gaber.

49 Then said Ahazia the sonne of Achab vnto Iosaphat, Let my seruants goe with thy seruants in the shipp. But Iosaphat would not.

50 And Iosaphat did sleepe with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the citie of Dauid his father: and Jehoazam his sonne reigned in his stead.

51 Ahazia the sonne of Achab began to reigne ouer Israel in Samaria the seuenteenth yeere of Iosaphat king of Iuda, & reigned two yeeres ouer Israel.

52 But hee did euill in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the way of his father, and in the way of his mother, and in the way of Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, which made Israel to sinne.

53 For hee serued Baal, and worshipped him, and prouoked the Lord God of Israel vnto wrath, according vnto all that his father had done.

The second or fourth Booke of the Kings.

The first Chapter.

Ahazia by a fall falleth sicke, and consulteth with Beelzebub.

When Hoab rebelled against Israel, after the death of Achab.

2 And Ahazia fell throow a lattelle window of his upper chamber that hee had in Samaria, and while he was yet in his sicknesse, hee sent messengers, and said vnto them, Go and enquire of Beelzebub the god of Ecron, whether I shall recouer of this my disease.

3 But the Angel of the Lord spake to Elias the Thelbite, Arise, and goe by against the messengers of the king of Samaria, and say vnto them, Is there not a God in Israel that yee goe to aske counsell at Beelzebub the god of Ecron?

4 Wherefoze, thus sayeth the Lorde, Thou shalt not come downe from the bedde on which thou art gone by, but shalt die the death. And Elias departed.

5 And when the messengers turned backe againe vnto him, he said vnto them, Why are yee now come againe?

6 They answered him, There came a man by against vs, and said vnto vs, Goe and turne againe vnto the king that sent you, and say vnto him, Thus sayth the Lorde, Is there not a God in Israel, that thou sendest to enquire of Beelzebub the god of Ecron? therefore thou shalt not come downe from the bedde on which thou art gone by, but shalt die the death.

7 And hee said vnto them, What manner of man was that which came by, and met you, and told you these words?

8 And they answered him, It was an hairy man, and girt with a girdle of leather about his loynes. And he said, It is Elias the Thelbite.

9 Then the king sent vnto him a captaine ouer fiftie, with his fiftie men: which came to him, and behold, he sate on the top of an hill, and he spake vnto him, Thou man of God, the king hath said, Come downe.

10 Elias answered and saide to the captaine ouer fiftie, If I bee a man of God, let fire come downe from heauen, and consume thee and thy fiftie. And there came fire from heauen, and consumed him and his fiftie.

11 Againe also he sent vnto him another captaine ouer fiftie, with his fiftie: And hee spake, and said vnto him, O man of God, thus hath the king sayd, Make haste, and come downe.

12 Elias answered, and sayde vnto them, If I bee a man of God, let fire come downe from heauen, and consume thee and thy fiftie. And there came fire of God from heauen, and consumed him and his fiftie.

13 And the king yet againe sent the third captaine ouer fiftie, with his fiftie men: and the third captaine ouer fiftie went by, and came and fel on his knees befoze Elias, and besought him, and said vnto him, O man of God, I pray thee, let my life, and the life of the fiftie thy seruants be precious in thy sight.

14 Behold, there came fire downe from heauen, and burnt by the two fore captaines ouer fiftie, with their fifties: therefore let my life now be precious in thy sight.

15 And the Angel of the Lorde saide vnto Elias, Goe downe with him, and be not afraid of him. And hee arose, and went downe with him vnto the king.

16 And hee sayde vnto him, Thus sayeth the Lorde, For as much as thou hast sent messengers to aske counsell at Beelzebub the god of Ecron (as though there had bene no God in Israel, whose word thou mightest seeke after) therefore thou shalt not come downe off the bed on which thou art gone by, but shalt die the death.

17 And so hee died, according to the worde of the Lorde which Elias had spoken: and Jozam his brother began to reigne in his stead, in the second yeere of Jozam the sonne of Josaphat king of Iuda, because he had no sonne.

18 The rest of the words that concerne Ahazia, what things hee did, are they not writteu in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel?

And when the Lord would take by Elias into heaven by a whirlewinde, Elias went with Elifeus from Gilgal.

2 And Elias sayde vnto Elifeus, Carrie here, I pray thee: for the Lord hath sent me to Bethel. Elifeus sayd vnto him, As the Lorde liueth, and as thy soule liueth, I will not leaue thee. And they came downe to Bethel.

3 And the children of the Prophets that were at Bethel, came out to Elifeus, and said vnto him, Knowest thou not how that the Lord will take away thy master from thy head this day? He said, I know it also, hold ye your peace.

4 And Elias sayde vnto him, Elifeus, tarie here, I pray thee: for the Lorde hath sent me to Jericho. He sayd, As the Lord liueth, and as thy soule liueth, I will not leaue thee. And so they came to Jericho.

5 And the children of the prophets that were at Jericho came to Elifeus, and saide vnto him, Knowest thou not that the Lord will take away thy master from thy head this day? Hee answered, I know it also, hold ye your peace.

Gen. 5. 14. Ioua. 5. 7. Or, Elifeus.

the children of the Prophets, that is, the disciples of the Prophets.

6 And Elias sayde vnto him, Cary, I pray thee, here: for the Lord hath sent me to Jordan. He sayd, As thy Lord liueth, and as thy soule liueth, I will not leaue thee. And so they two went together.

7 And sittie men of the sommes of the Prophets came, and stood on the other side asarre off: and they two stood by Jordane.

8 And Elias tooke his mantell, and wrapt it together, & smote the waters, and they were diuided part the one way, and part the other: so that they two went ouer thow the drie land.

9 And as soone as they were ouer, Elias sayd vnto Eliseus, Aske what I shall do for thee ycr I bee taken away from thee. And Eliseus sayd, I pray thee, let thy spirite be doubled vpon mee.

10 And hee sayde, Thou hast asked an hard thing: neuerthelesse, if thou see me when I am taken away from thee, thou shalt haue it so: If thou doe not, it shall not be.

11 And as they went walking and talking, beholde, there appeared a charet of fire, and horses of fire, and parted them both asunder, and Elias went by through the whirlewinde into heauen.

12 And Eliseus saw, and cryed, O my father, O my father, the charet of Israel, and the horsemen thereof. And hee saw him no more: and hee tooke his owne cloathes, and rent them in two pieces.

13 He tooke by also the mantell of Elias that fell from him, and went backe againe, and stood by Jordanes side, 14 And tooke the mantell of Elias that fell from him, and smote the waters, and hee saide, where is the Lord God of Elias, and hee himselfe? And when hee had smitten the waters, they parted this way and that way: and Eliseus went ouer.

15 And when the children of the Prophets, which were at Jericho, sawe him from asarre, they sayd, The spirite of Elias doth rest on Eliseus: And they came to meet him, and fell to the ground before him.

16 And sayde vnto him, See, now there bee with thy seruants sittie strong men, let them go, wee pray thee, and seeke thy matter: if so be the Spirit of the Lorde hath taken him by, and call him vpon some mountaine, or into some balley. And he sayd, Ye shall send none.

17 And when they lay vpon him, till he was ashamed, he sayd, Send. They sent therefore sittie men, which sought him thre dayes, but found him not.

18 And when they came againe to him (which taried at Jericho) he said vnto them, Did I not say vnto you, that ye should not goe?

19 And the men of the city sayd vnto Eliseus, Behold sir, the dwelling of this cite is pleasant, as thou thy selfe seest: but the water is naught, and the ground barren.

20 He sayd, Bring me a new cruse, and put salt therein. And they brought it to him.

21 And he went vnto the spring of the waters, and cast the salt in thither, and sayd, Thus sayeth the Lord, I haue healed these waters, there shall not come henceforth either death or barrennesse.

22 So the waters were healed vnto this day, according to the saying of Eliseus, which he spake.

23 And he went by from thence vnto Bethel: and as he was going by the way, there came little children out of the cite, and mocked him, and sayd vnto him, Goe by thou balde head, goe by thou bald head.

24 And he turned backe, and looked on them, and cursed them in the name of the Lorde: and there came two shee Beares out of the woode, and tare fortye and two children of them.

25 And hee went from thence to mount Carmel, and from thence hee turned againe to Samaria.

The iij. Chapter.

1 The reigne of Ioram. 6 Hee and Iosaphat goe to warre against Moab, which rebelled. 24 The Moabites are ouercome.

Now Ioram the sonne of Achab began to rigne vpon Israel in Samaria the eighteenth yeere of Iosaphat king of Iuda, and reigned twelue yeeres.

2 And hee wrought euill in the sight of the Lorde, but not like his father and like his mother: for hee put away the images of Baal that his father had made.

3 Neuerthelesse, he cleaued vnto the sinnes of Ieroboam the sonne of Nabat, which made Israel to sinne, and departed not therefrom.

4 And Mesa king of Moab was a lorde of sheepe, and rendred vnto the king of Israel an hundred thousand lambs, and an hundred thousand rammes, with the wooll.

5 But when Achab was dead, the king of Moab rebelled against the king of Israel.

6 And king Ioram went out of Samaria the same season, and numbred all Israel:

7 And went, and sent to Iosaphat the king of Iuda, saying, The king of Moab hath rebelled against mee, wilt thou come with mee against Moab in battell? He answered, I will come by: for as I am, so art thou: and as my people be, so are thy people: and my horses, as thy horses.

8 And he sayd, What way shall wee goe by? And he answered, The way through the wilderness of Edom.

9 And so the king of Israel tooke his iourney, and the king of Iuda, & the king of Edom: and when they had compassed the way seuen dayes, they had no water for the horse, and for the cattell that followed them.

10 And the king of Israel said, Alas, the Lord hath called these thre kings together, to deliuer them ouer into the hand of Moab.

11 But Iosaphat sayde, Is there not here, a Prophet of the Lord, that we may enquire of the Lorde by him? And one of the king of Israels seruants answered, and said, Here is Eliseus the sonne of Saphat, which powred water on the hands of Elias.

12 And Iosaphat sayd, The word of the Lord is with him. And so the king of Israel, and Iosaphat, and the king of Edom went downe to him.

13 And Eliseus sayd vnto the king of Israel, what haue I to doe with thee? Get thee to the Prophets of thy father, and to the Prophets of thy mother. And the king of Israel sayde vnto him, Oh nay: for the Lord hath called these thre kings together, to deliuer them into the hand of Moab.

of Iuda, I would not looke toward thee, nor 15 But now to bring me a minstrell. And when the minstrell played, the hand of the Lord came vpon him :

16 And he sayd, Thus sayth the Lord, Make this balley full of ditches :

17 For thus sayth the Lord, Ye shall see neiwith water, that ye may drinke, both ye, & your 18 And this is yet but a small thing in the 20 And in the morning when the meate offering was offered, behold, there came water by with water.

21 And when all the Moabites heard that 22 And they were vp early in the morning,

Moabites sawe the water as farre off as redde as blood.

23 And they said, This is the blood of slaughter: the kings are slaine, and one haue smitten another: Now therefore, Moab, get thee to the people.

24 And when they came to the holse of Israel, the Israelites stood by and smote the Moalowed vpon them, and smote Moab,

25 And they ouerthre w the cities, and on cue-and filled it, and they sopp all the welles of water, and felled all the good trees, onely in Kirha-went about it with slings, and smote it.

26 And when the king of Moab saw that the battell was too soze for him, hee tooke with him seuen hundred men that drew the sword, to haue gone through euen vnto the king of Edom: but they could not.

27 And then hee tooke his eldest sonne that should haue reigned in his stead, and offered him for a whole burnt offering vpon the wall: And there was great indignation against Israel, and they departed from him, and returned to their owne land.

The iiii. Chapter.

4 God encreaseth the oyle to the poore widowe by Elifeus. 12 Hee obtaineth to: the Sunamite a sonne at Gods hand. 38 Who dyed and was raised vp againe.

And there cryed a certaine woman of the viues of the sonnes of the Prophets vnto Elifeus, saying,
Thy seruant my husband is dead, and thou knowest that thy seruant did feare the Lord: and the creditour is come to fet my two sonnes to be his bondmen.

2 Elifeus sayde vnto her, Tell mee what I shall do for thee: what hast thou in thine house?
Shhee sayde, Thine handmaide hath nothing at all in the house, saue a pichcher with oyle.

3 He sayd vnto her, Goe, and bozow bessels for thee without, of all thy neighbours emptye bessels, and that not a few:

4 And when thou art come in, thou shalt shut the dooze after thee, and after thy sonnes, and poure out into all those bessels: and set aside that which is full.

5 And so he went from him, and shutte the dooze after her, and after her sonnes: and they brought to her, and she poured out.

6 And when the bessels were full, shee sayd vnto her sonne, Bring me yet a bessell. And hee sayd, I haue no moe. And the oyle ceased.

7 Then she came, and told the man of God:
and he sayd, Goe, and sell the oyle, and pay them that thou art in debt vnto: but saue thou & thy children of the rest.

8 And it fell on a day that Elifeus came to Sunem, where was a great woman, that took him in for to cate bread: And so it came to passe, that from that time forth (as oft as he came that way) he turned in thither to eat bread.

9 And she sayd vnto her husband, Behold, I perceiue that this is an holy man of God, which passeth by vs continually.

10 Let vs make him a little chamber, I pray thee, with walles, and let vs set him there a bed, and a table, and a scoole, and a candlestick:
that he may turne in thither when he commeth to vs.

11 And on a day he came thither, and turned into the chamber, and lay therein.

12 And sayd to Behezi his seruant, Call this Sunamite. And when he called her, shee presented her selfe before him.

13 And againe he said vnto him, Tell her, behold, thou hast bene carefull for vs with all this care, what shall we now doe for thee? Woul-dest thou be spoken for to the king, or to the ca-ptaine of the holse? Shhee answered, I dwell among mine owne people.

14 And he said againe, What is to be done for her? Behezi answered, Merely she hath no child, and her husband is old.

15 And he sayde, Call her. And when hee had called her, she stood in the dooze.

16 And he sayd, At this time appointed, according to the time of life, thou shalt embrace a sonne. And she sayd, Wh nay my lord thou man of God, doe not lie vnto thine handmaid.

17 And the wife conceived, and bare a sonne that same season that Elifeus had said vnto her, according to the time of life.

18 And when the childe was growen, it fell on a day that he went out to his father, and to the reapers.

19 And he said vnto his father, My head, my head. And hee sayd to a ladde, Carie him to his mother.

20 And when he had taken him, and brought him to his mother, he sate on her knees til noon, and then dyed.

21 And she went by, and layde him on the bed of the man of God, and shut the doore vpon him, and went out.

22 And called vnto her husband, and sayde,

28 Then he sayd, Did I desire a sonne of my Lord? did I not require thee that thou shouldst not deceiue me?

Luke 10, 4.

29 Then hee sayde to Gehezi, * Sirde by thy loynes, and take my staffe in thine hand, and goe thy way: if thou meete any man, salute him not: and if any salute thee, answer him not againe: and laye my staffe vpon the face of the childe.

30 And the mother of the childe sayd, As the Lord liueth, and as thy soule liueth, I will not leaue thee. And he arose, and followed her.

31 Gehezi went befoze them, and layde the staffe vpon the face of the childe, but there was neither voyce, nor any feeling: wherefoze hee went againe to meete him, and told him, saying, The childe is not awaked.

32 And when Euseus was come into the house, behold, the childe was dead, and layd vpon his bed.

33 Hee went in therefore, and shut the doore vpon them twaine, and prayed vnto the Lord,

34 And went by, and lay vpon the ladde, and put his mouth vpon his mouth, and his eyes vpon his eyes, and his hands vpon his handes, and when hee so lay vpon the childe, the flesh of the childe wared warme.

35 And he went againe, and walked once by and downe in the house, and then went by, and laid himselfe vpon him againe: & then the childe gasped seven times, and opened his eyes.

36 And he called Gehezi, and sayde, Call for this Sunamite. So he called her: which when shee was come in vnto him, hee sayde vnto her, Take thy sonne.

37 Therefore hee went in, and fell at his feet, and bowed her selfe to the ground, and tooke by her sonne, and went out.

38 Euseus came againe to Galgal, and there was a bearch in the land, and the children of the Prophets dwelt with him: and he sayd vnto his seruant, Set a great pot on the fire and make pottage for the children of the Prophets.

39 And one went out into the field to gather herbs: and found a wilde vine, and gathered thereof wilde gourdes his lappe full, and came and thred them into the pot of pottage: for they knew it not.

40 So they potized out for the men to eat: and when they had tasted of the pottage, they cryed out, and sayde, O thou man of God, there is death in the pott. And they could not eat thereof.

41 But he sayd, Bring meale. And hee cast it into the pot: and he sayd, fill for the people, that they may eat. And there was no more harme in the pot.

42 There came a man from Baal Salka, and brought the man of God bread of the first frutes, euen twentie loaves of barley, and full eares of cozne in the bushe: and he sayde, Giue vnto the people, that they may eat.

43 And he answered, why shall I set this befoze an hundred men? Hee sayd againe, Giue it vnto the people, that they may eat: for thus sayth the Lord, * They shall eat, and there shall be left ouer.

John. 6.

44 And so hee set it befoze them, and they did eat, and left ouer, according to the worde of the Lord.

The v. Chapter.

1 Naaman the Syrian is healed of his leprosie. 16 Euseus refuseth his gifts.

NAAMAN, captaine of the host of the king of Syria, was a great man, and honourable in the sight of his master, because that by him the Lord had giuen health vnto Syria: hee was also a mightie man, and expert in warre, but he was a leper.

2 And the Syrians had gone out by companies, and had brought out of the countrey of Israel a little mayde, and she was with Naamans wife.

3 And shee sayde vnto her lady, I would to God my lord were with the Prophet that is in Samaria, for hee would deliuer him of his leprosie.

4 And he went in, and told his lord, saying, Thus and thus sayd the maid that is of the land of Israel.

5 And the king of Syria sayd, Goe thy way thither, and I will send a letter vnto the king of Israel. And he departed, and tooke with him ten talents of siluer, & fixe thousand pieces of golde, and ten changes of rayments:

6 And brought the letter to the king of Israel, containing this tenour, Now when this letter is come vnto thee, beholde, I haue therewith sent Naaman my seruant to thee, that thou mayest rid him of his leprosie.

7 And when the king of Israel had read the letter, he rent his clothes, and sayde, Am I God, that I should slay, and make aliuie? for hee doth send vnto me, that I should deliuer a man from his leprosie: wherefoze consider, I pray you, and see how he seeketh a quarell against me.

8 which when Euseus the man of God had heard, how that the king of Israel had rent his clothes, hee sent to the king, saying, wherefoze hast thou rent thy clothes? Let him come now to me, and he shall know that there is a Prophet in Israel.

9 And so Naaman came with his horses, and with his charets, and stood at the doore of the house of Euseus.

10 And Euseus sent a messenger vnto him, saying, Goe and wash thee in Iordane seven times, and by flesh that come againe to thee, and thou shalt be cleansed.

11 But Naaman was wroth, and went away, and sayd, Behold, I thought with my selfe, hee would surely come out, and stand, and call on the name of the Lord his God, and put his hand on the place, that hee may heale the leprosie.

12 Are not Abana and Pharphar rivers of Damascus, better then all the waters of Israel? If I wash me also in them, shall I not bee cleansed? And so he turned, and departed with displeasure.

13 And his seruants came, and communed with him, and sayd, ffather, If the prophet had bid thee doe some great thing, oughtest thou not to haue done it? Howe much rather then when he saith to thee, Wash and be cleane?

14 Then went he downe, and washed himselfe seven times in Iordane, according to the saying of the man of God, and his flesh came againe, like vnto the flesh of a little childe, and hee was cleansed.

15 And he turned againe to the man of God, hee and all his company, and stood before him, and sayd, Behold, I know now that there is no God in all the world, but in Israel: now therefore, I pray thee, take a blessing of thy seruant.

16 But hee sayd, As the Lord liueth, before whom I stand, I will receiue none: And when the other would haue constrained him to receiue it, he would not.

17 And Naaman sayd, Shall there not be giuen to thy seruant as much of this earth as two mules may beare? for thy seruant will henceforth offer neither whole burnt sacrifice, nor offering vnto any other god, saue vnto the Lord.

18 But herein the Lord bee mercifull to thy seruant, that when my master goeth into the house of Rimmon for worship there, and leaneth on my hand, & I bow my selfe in the house of Rimmon: when I doe bow downe, I say, in the house of Rimmon, the Lord be mercifull vnto thy seruant because of this thing.

19 Vnto whom hee sayd, Goe in peace. And when hee was departed from him, as it were a furlong of ground, 20 Gehezi the seruant of Eliseus the man of God sayd, Beholde, my master hath spared Naaman this Syrian, that hee would not receiue at his handes those things that hee offered: as the Lord liueth, I will run after him, and take somewhat of him.

21 And so Gehezi followed Naaman: and when Naaman saw him running after him, he light downe from the charet to meeete him, and sayd, Is all well?

22 He answered, All is well: behold, my master hath sent me, saying, See, there bee come to me euen now from mount Ephraim two yong men, of the children of the prophets: Giue them, I pray thee, one talent of siluer, and two change of garments.

23 And Naaman sayd, With a good wil, take two talents. And he constrained him, and bound two talents of siluer in two bagges, with two change of garments, and layd them vpon two of his seruants, to beare them before him.

24 And when he came to the lower place, he tooke them from their hand, and bestowed them in the house, and he let the men goe, and they departed.

25 But he went in, and stood before his master: and Eliseus said vnto him, Whence comest thou Gehezi? He said, Thy seruant went no whither.

26 But hee sayd vnto him, Went not mine heart with thee when the man turned againe from his charet to meeete thee? Is it now a time to receiue money, to receiue garments, Oliue trees, vineyards, sheepe and oxen, men seruants, and maid seruants?

27 The leprosie therefore of Naaman shall cleaue vnto thee, and vnto thy seed for euer. And he went out from his presence a leper as white as snowe.

The vj. Chapter.

6 Eliseus maketh iron to swimme about the water. 8 He discloseth the king of Syrias counsell to the king of Israel.

The children of the Prophets sayd vnto Eliseus, Beholde, wee pray thee, the place where wee dwell with thee, is too little for vs:

2 Let vs go, wee pray thee, vnto Iordane, and take thence euery man a beame, and build vs a place to dwell in. And he answered, Goe.

3 And one said, Be content, I pray thee, and come with thy seruants. And hee answered, I will come.

4 And so he went with them: and when they came to Iordane, they cut downe wood.

5 But as one was selling downe of a tree, the axe head fell into the water: and hee cried, and sayd, Alas master, it was lent me.

6 And the man of God sayd, Where fell it? and shewed him the place: And he cut downe a sicke, and call it in thither, and immediatly the yron did swimme.

7 Therefore sayd he, Take it vp. And he stretched out his hand, and tooke it vp.

8 Then the king of Syria warred against Israel, and tooke counsell with his seruants, and sayd, In such and such a place shall be my campe.

9 And the man of God sent vnto the king of Israel, saying, Beware that thou go not ouer to such a place, for there the Syrians are lurking.

10 Therefore the king of Israel sent to the place which the man of God tolde him, and warned him of, and saued himself from it, not once, nor twice.

11 And the heart of the king of Syria was troubled for this thing, and hee called for his seruants, and sayd vnto them, Will yee not shewe me which of our men betrayeth mee to the king of Israel?

12 And one of his seruants sayd, None my lord the King: but Eliseus the prophet, that is in Israel, telleth the king of Israel, yea, the words that thou speakest in thy priue chamber.

13 He said, Goe and spie where hee is, that I may send and fetch him. And one told him, saying, Behold, he is in Dothan.

14 Therefore sent he thither horses, and charrets, and a mighty host: and they came by night, and compassed the citie about.

15 And when the seruant of the man of God rose vp early to goe out, beholde, there was an host round about the towne, with horses and charets: his seruants said vnto him, Alas ma- ster, what shall we doe?

16 He answered, feare not: for they that bee with vs, are more then they that be with them.

17 And Elifeus prayed, and sayd, Lord, I beseech thee open his eyes, that he may see. And the Lord opened the eyes of the yong man, and hee looked: and beholde, the mountaine was full of hostes, and charets of fire round about Elifeus.

18 And when they came downe to him, Elifeus prayed vnto the Lord, and said, Smite this people, I pray thee, with blindness. And he smote them with blindness, according to the worde of Elifeus.

19 And Elifeus sayd vnto them, This is not the way, neither is this the towne: follo we me, and I will bring you to the man whom ye seeke. But he led them to Samaria.

20 But when they were come to Samaria, Elifeus sayd, Lorde, open their eyes, that they may see. And the Lord opened their eyes, and they saw, and behold, they were in the middes of Samaria.

21 And the king of Israel said vnto Elifeus when he sawe them, My father, shall I smite them, shall I smite them?

22 And hee answered, Thou shalt not smite them: but smite those that thou hast taken with thine owne sword, and with thine owne bowe: but rather set bread and water before them, that they may cate and drinke, and go to their master.

23 And he prepared a great refection for them, and when they had eaten and drunke, hee sent them away, and they went to their master: and so the souldiers of Syria came no more into the land of Israel.

24 After this, Benhadad king of Syria gathered all his hoste, and went by, and besieged Samaria.

25 But there was a great dearth in Samaria: and behold, they belieged it, vntill an asses head was sold for fourescore silver pence, and the fourth part of a cab of doves doung for siue pieces of silver.

26 And as the king of Israel was going vpon the wall, there cried a woman vnto him, saying, Helpe me my lord, O king.

27 He sayd, If the Lord doe not succour thee, where with can I helpe thee? with the barne, or with the winepresse?

28 And the king sayd vnto her, what wilt thou? She answered, Vnder woman said vnto me, Bring thy sonne, that wee may cate him to day, and we will eate mine to morrow.

29 And so we dressed my sonne, and did eate him: and I said vnto her the other day, Bring thy sonne, that we may eate him: and she hath hid her sonne.

30 And when the king heard the words of the woman, he rent his clothes, and went vpon the wall, and the people looked, and behold, he had a sackcloth vnder vpon his flesh.

31 Then he said, God doe so, and more also to me, if the head of Elifeus the sonne of Saphat, shall stand on him this day.

32 But Elifeus late in his house (and the elders late by him) and the king sent a man before him: but yer the messenger came to him, he said to the elders, Haue ye not seene how that the sonne of this murderer hath sent to take away mine head? Be circumspect when the messenger commeth, and shut the dooze, and hold him at the dooze: Is not the sound of his masters feete behinde him?

33 While he yet talked with them, behold the messenger came downe vnto him, and sayd, Behold, this euill is of the Lord, and what more shall I looke for of the Lord?

The vij. Chapter.

Elifeus prophesieth plenty of victuall and other things in Samaria.

When Elifeus sayd, Heare ye the word of the Lord, Thus sayth the Lord, So moze in this time shall a measure of fine floure be sold for a sicle, and two measures of barley for a sicle in the gate of Samaria.

2 When a certaine lord (on whose hand the king leaned) answered the man of God, and sayd, Behold, if the Lord would make windowes in heauen, might this come to passe? Hee sayd, Beholde, thou shalt see it with thine eyes, but shalt not eate thereof.

3 And there were foure leperous men at the entering in of the gate: and they sayd one to another, Why sit we here vntill we die?

4 If we say, We will enter into the citie: behold, the dearth is in the citie, and wee shall die therein: and if we sit still here, wee die also. Now therefore come, and let vs flee vnto the holse of the Syrians: if they saue our liues we shall liue: if they kill vs, then are wee dead.

5 And they rose vp in the twilight, to goe to the holse of the Syrians: and when they were come to the vtternost part of the holse of Syria, behold, there was no man there.

6 For the Lord had made the holse of the Syrians to heare a noise of charets, and a noise of hostes, and the noise of a great hoste: insomuch that they said one to another, Loe, the king of Israel hath hired against vs the kings of the Hethites, and the kings of the Egyptians, to come vpon vs.

7 Wherefore they arose, and fled in the twilight, and left their tents, and their hostes, and their asses, and the felde which they had pitched, euen as it was, and fled for their liues.

8 And when these lepers came to the edge of the holse, they went into a tent, and did eate and drinke, and caried thence silver, and gold, and raiment, and went and hid it, and came againe, and entred into another tent, and caried thence also, and went and hid it.

9 Then sayd one to another, We do not weel: this day is a day to bring good tidings, and wee hold our peace. If we tarie till the day light, some mischief will come vpon vs: now therefore come, that we may goe, and tell the kings household.

10 And so they came, and called vnto the porter of the city, and told him, saying, Wee came to the campe of the Syrians, and see, there was no man there, neither voice of man, but hostes and asses tied, and the tents were as they were wont to be.

11 And the porters cried, and declared it to the kings house within.

12 And the king arose in the night, and sayd vnto his seruants, I will shew you now what the Syrians haue done vnto vs: They know that we be hungry, & therefore are they gone out of the campe, to hide themselves in the field, saying, when they come out of the citie, wee shall catch them alive, and get into the citie.

13 And one of his seruants answered, and said, Let men take, I pray you, five of the horses that remaine and are left in the multitude: (behold, they are as all the multitude of Israel that are left in the citie: behold, I say they are euen as all the multitude of the Israelites that are consumed) and we will send, and see.

14 They tooke therefore the horses of two charets, and the king sent after the hoste of the Syrians, saying, Goe, and see.

15 And they went after them euen vnto Jordan, and loe, all the way was full of clothes, and vessels, which the Syrians had cast from them in their haste: and the messengers returned, and tolde the king.

16 And the people went out, and spoiled the tents of the Syrians: and so it came to passe, that a measure of fine floure was sold for a sicle, and two measures of barley for a sicle, according to the word of the Lord.

17 And the king appointed that lord (on whose hand he leaned) to be at the gate: and the people trode vpon him in the gate, and he died according to the word of the man of God, which hee said when the king came downe to him.

18 And so came the thing to passe that the man of God had spoken to the king, saying, Two measures of barley for a sicle, and a measure of fine floure for another, shall be to morowe this time in the gate of Samaria.

19 Wherunto that lord answered the man of God, and said, Yea, and if the Lord made windows in heauen, might it come to passe? And he said, Behold, thou shalt see it with thine eyes, and shalt not eate thereof.

20 And euen so it came vnto him: for the people trode vpon him in the gate, and he died.

The viij. Chapter.

1 Elifeus prophecied vnto the Sunamite the dearth of seuen yeeres.

Then spake Elifeus vnto the woman (whose sonne he had restored to life againe) saying, * Wap, and go thou and thine house, and sojourn wheresoeuer thou canst: for the Lord hath called for a dearth, and the same shall come vpon the land seuen yeeres.

2 And the woman arose, and did after the saying of the man of God: and went both she and her household, and sojourned in the land of the Philistines seuen yeeres.

3 And at the seuen yeeres ende, the woman came againe out of the land of the Philistines, and went out to call vpon the king for her house and for her land.

4 And the king talked with Gehezi the seruant of the man of God, saying, Tell me, I pray thee, all the great deeds that Elifeus hath done.

5 He tolde the king how hee had restored a dead body to life againe: but in the meane time the woman, whose son he had raised by againe, cryed to the king for her house and for her lande: And Gehezi said, My lord, O king, this is the woman, and this is her sonne, whom Elifeus raised by againe.

6 And when the king asked the woman, she tolde him: And so the king deliuered her a cham-berlaine, saying, Restore thou vnto her all that are hers, and all the fruits of the field, since the day that she left the land, vnto this time.

7 And Elifeus came to Damascus, and Benhadad the king of Syria was sicke, and one told him, saying, The man of God is come hither.

8 And the king said vnto Hazael, Take a present in thine hand, & goe meete the man of God, that thou mayest enquire of the Lord by him, saying, Shall I recover of this disease?

9 And so Hazael went to meete him, & tooke the present with him, and of euery good thing of Damascus, euen as much as fourtie camels could beare: and came and presented himselfe before him, and said, Thy sonne Benhadad king of Syria hath sent me to thee, saying, Shall I recover of this disease?

10 And Elifeus said vnto him, Goe, and say vnto him, Thou shalt recover: Howbeit, the Lord hath shewed me that he shall surely die.

11 He looked vpon him steadfastly, vntill hee was ashamed: and the man of God wept.

12 And Hazael said, Why weepst my lord? He answered, For I know the euill things that thou shalt doe vnto the children of Israel: for their strong cities shalt thou set on fire, and their young men shalt thou lay with the sword, and shalt dash out the braines of their sucking children, and all to teare their women with child.

13 But Hazael sayd, What, is thy seruant a dogge, that I should doe this great thing? And Elifeus answered, The Lord hath shewed mee that thou shalt be king of Syria.

14 And so he departed from Elifeus, and came to his master, which said to him, What said Elifeus to thee? He answered, He told me that thou shouldst recover.

15 And on the morow, hee tooke a thicke cloth, and dypt it in water, and spread it on his face: and he died, and Hazael reigned in his stead.

16 * The fifth yeere of Joram the sonne of Achab king of Israel, Josaphat being also king of Iuda, Joram the sonne of Josaphat king of Iuda began to reigne.

17 Thirtie and two yeeres old was he when he began to reigne, and he reigned eight yeeres in Hierusalem.

18 And he walked in the wayes of the kings of Israel, as they that were of the house of Achab: for the daughter of Achab was his wife, and he did euill in the sight of the Lord.

19 And the Lord would not destroy Iuda, because of Dauid his seruants sake, * as he promised to giue him alway a light among his children.

20 In those daies Edom rebelled against Iuda, and made them a king of their owne.

21 So Joram went to Zair, he, and all his charrets with him, and he rose by night, & smote the Edomites, which compassed him in with the captaines of his charets, and the people fled into their tents.

22 But Edom rebelled, so that he would not be vnder the hand of Iuda vnto this day: then Libnah rebelled that same time.

David: "And Ahazias his son reigned in his stead. 25 In the twelfth yeere of Ioram the sonne of Achab, king of Israel, did Ahazias, the sonne of Ioram king of Iuda, begin to reigne.

26 Two and twentie yeeres old was Ahazias when he began to reigne, & he reigned one yeere in Hierusalem, and his mothers name was Athalia, the daughter of Omri, king of Israel.

27 But he walked in the way of the house of Achab, and did euill in the sight of the Lorde, as did the house of Achab: for he was the sonne in law of the house of Achab.

28 And he went with Ioram the sonne of Achab, to warre against Hazael king of Syria in Ramoth Gilead, and the Syrians wounded Ioram.

29 And king Ioram went backe againe to be healed in Iezrahel, of the woundes which the Syrians had giuen him at Ramoth, when hee fought against Hazael king of Syria: and Ahazias the sonne of Ioram king of Iuda went downe to see Ioram the sonne of Achab in Iezrahel, because he was sicke there.

The ix. Chapter.

6 Iehu is made king of Israel, 24 And killeth Ioram the king thereof.

And Elizeus the Prophet called one of the children of the Prophets, and sayd vnto him, *Girde by thy loynes, and take this hore of oyle in thine hand, and get thee to Ramoth in Gilead.

2 And when thou comest thither, looke where is Iehu the sonne of Iosaphat, the sonne of Nimsi, and goe to him, and make him arise by from among his brethren, and carie him to a secret chamber.

3 Then take the hore of oyle, and powre it on his head, & say, Thus sayth the Lord, I haue anoynted thee to be king ouer Israel: and then open the doore, and flee without any taryng.

4 And so the seruant of the Prophet gate him to Ramoth Gilead:

5 And when he came in, behold, the captains of the hoste were sitting together, and he said, I haue an errand to thee, O capitaine.

6 And Iehu said, vnto which of all bs? He said, To thee, O capitaine. And he arose, & went into the house, and hee powred the oyle on his head, and said vnto him, Thus sayeth the Lorde God of Israel, I haue anoynted thee to be king ouer the people of the Lorde, euen ouer Israel.

7 Thou shalt smite the house of Achab thy master, that I may auenge the blood of my seruants of the Prophets, and the blood of all the seruants of the Lorde, * of the hand of Iezabel:

8 For the whole house of Achab shall be destroyed, and I will destroy from Achab, him that maketh water against the wall, and him that is prisoned and forsaken in Israel:

9 And I will make the house of Achab, like the house of Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, and like the house of Baasa, the sonne of Abia.

10 And as for Iezabel, the dogs shall eate her in the field of Iezrahel, and there shall be none to burie her. And he opened the doore, and fled.

11 Then Iehu came out to the seruants of his lorde, and one saide vnto him, Is all well? wherfore came this mad fellow to thee? And he said vnto them, See knowe what manner of man it is, and what his communication is.

12 They sayd vnto him againe, It is not so, tell vs. He sayd, Thus and thus spake he to me, saying, Thus sayth the Lord, I haue anoynted thee to be king ouer Israel.

13 Then they hasted, and tooke every man his garment, and put it vnder him on the top of the staires, and blew with trumpets, saying, Iehu is king.

14 And so Iehu the sonne of Iosaphat, the sonne of Nimsi, conspired against Ioram: (Ioram kept Ramoth Gilead, he, and all Israel, because of Hazael king of Syria.

15 And king Ioram returned to be healed in Iezrahel, of the woundes which the Syrians had giuen him, when hee fought with Hazael king of Syria.) And Iehu sayde, If it bee your minds, then let no man depart, and escape out of the citie, to goe and tell in Iezrahel.

16 So Iehu gate by into a charet, and went to Iezrahel, where Ioram lay: and Ahazias king of Iuda was come downe thither to see Ioram.

17 And the watchmans that stood on the towre in Iezrahel, spyed the companie of Iehu as hee came, and sayde, I see a companie. And Ioram sayd, Take an horseman, and send to meet them, that he may aske whether it be peace.

18 And so there went one on horsebacke to meet him, and sayd, Thus sayth the king, Is it peace? And Iehu sayde, What hast thou to doe with peace? || turne thee behinde mee. And the watchman told, saying, The messenger came to them, but he commeth not againe.

19 Then hee sent out another on horsebacke, which came to them, and sayd, Thus sayth the king, Is it peace? Iehu answered, What hast thou to doe with peace? turne thee behind me.

20 And the watchman told, saying, Hee came to them also, and commeth not againe: and the drining is like the drining of Iehu the sonne of Nimsi, for hee driueth the charet as he were mad.

21 And Ioram sayde, Make readie. And the charet was made readie, and Ioram king of Israel, and Ahazias king of Iuda, went out either of them in his charet, against Iehu, and met him in the field of Naboth the Iezrahelite.

22 And when Ioram saw Iehu, hee said, Is it peace, Iehu? He answered, What peace should there be, so long as the whooredomes of thy mother Iezabel, and her witchcrafts are so great?

23 And Ioram turned his hand, and fled, and said to Ahazias, There is treason, O Ahazias.

24 And Iehu tooke a bowe in his hand, and smote Ioram betweene the armes, and the arrow went through his heart, and he fell downe flat in his charet.

25 Then sayde Iehu to Bidkar a capitaine, Take him, and cast him in the plat of the ground of Naboth the Iezrahelite: for I remember, that when I & thou rode together after Achab his father, the Lorde || layde this heauie burden vpon him:

26 * I haue seene yester day the blood of Naboth, and the blood of his sonnes, said the Lorde, and I will quite it thee in this ground, saith the Lorde. So therefore take & cast him in the plat of ground according to the word of the Lorde.

27 But when Ahazias the king of Iuda sawe this, hee fledde by the way of the garden house: and Iehu followed after him, and sayd, Smite him also in the charet, at the going vp to Gur, by Jehoram. And he fled to Megiddo, and there died.

28 And his servants caried him in a charret to Hierusalem, and buried him there in his sepulchre with his fathers, in the cite of Paula.

29 And in the eleventh yere of Joiam the sonne of Achab, beganne Ahazia to reigne ouer Juda.

30 And when Iehu was come to Jezrahel, Jezabel heard of it, and painted her face, and tyed her head, and looked out at a window.

31 And as Iehu entred at the gate, she saide, Had <sup>b</sup>Simri peace * which slew his master?

32 And he lift up his eyes to the window, and said, Who is on my side, who? And there looked out to him two or three chamberlaynes.

33 And he said, Throw her downe. So they threwe her downe, and her blood dashed toward the wall, and toward the houses: and hee trode her vnder foote.

34 And when he was come in, he did eate and drinke, and said, Goe and visite, I pray you, vnder curfed creature, and burie her, for shee is a kings daughter.

35 And so when they came to burie her, they found no more of her then the skull, and the feete, and the pannes of her hands.

36 Wherefore they came againe, and told him, and he said, This is the word of the Lord, * which he spake by the hande of his seruant Elias the Chelbite, saying, In the field of Jezrahel shall dogges eate the flesh of Jezabel.

37 And so the carkeise of Jezabel was euen as doung vpon the earth in the field of Jezrahel, so that no man might say, This is Jezabel.

The x. Chapter.

6 Iehu causeth the seuentie sonnes of Achab to bee slaine. 25 He killeth also all the priests of Baal.

Achab had threescore and ten sons in Samaria: and Iehu wrote letters, and sent to Samaria vnto the rulers of Jezrahel, to the elders, and to them that brought by Achabs children, saying,

2 Nowe when this letter cometh to you (ye that haue with you your masters sonnes, ye haue with you both charrets and horses, a strong citie haue ye also, and harnesse.)

3 Looke which of your masters sons is best and most meeke, and set him on his fathers seat, and fight for your lords house.

4 But they were exceedingly afraine, and said, See, two kings were not able to stand before him: how shall we then be able to stand?

5 And hee that was gouernour of Achabs house, and hee that ruled the citie, the Elders also, and the tutors, sent to Iehu, saying, we are thy seruants, and will doe all that thou shalt bid vs, we will make no man king: therefore do thou what seemeth good in thine eyes.

6 Then he wrote another letter to them, saying, If ye be mine, and will hearken vnto my voyce, then take the heads of the men that are your masters sonnes, and come to me to Jezrahel by to morrow this time: (and the kings sons were threescore and ten persons, and they were with the great men of the citie, which brought them vp.)

7 And when the letter came to them, they tooke the kings children, and slew them, euen threescore and ten persons, and laid their heads in baskets, and sent them to Iehu.

8 And there came a messenger, and told him, saying, They haue brought the heads of the kings sonnes. And he said, Let them lay them on two heapes in the entring in of the gate, vntill the morning.

9 And when it was day, he went out, and stood, and said to all the folke, Be righteous: behold, I conspired against my master, and slew him: But who slew all these?

10 Learne here, that there shall fall vnto the earth nothing of the word of the Lord, * which he spake concerning the house of Achab: for the Lord hath brought to passe the things that hee spake by the hand of his seruant Elias.

11 And so Iehu slew all that remained of the house of Achab, in Jezrahel, and all that were great with him, and his kin holms, & his priests, so that he let nothing of him remaine.

12 And he arose, and departed, and came to Samaria: and when Iehu was in the way of the house where the shepheards did sheare their sheepe, 13 He met with the brethren of Ahazia king of Juda, and said, What are ye? They answered, The brethren of Ahazia are wee, and goe downe to salute the children of the king and of the queene.

14 And he saide, Take them aliuie, whom when they had taken aliuie, they slew them at the well which was beside the house where the sheepe are shorne, euen two and forty men, neither left he any of them.

15 And when he was departed thence, he met with Ionadab the sonne of Rechab, comming against him, and he blessed him, and said to him, Is thine heart right, as mine heart is true with thine? And Ionadab answered, Yea that it is. Then giue mee thine hand. And when hee had giuen him his hand, he tooke him by to him into the charret, 16 And said, Come with me, and see my zeale that I haue for the Lord. And so they made him ride in his charret.

17 And when he came to Samaria, he slew all that remained vnto Achab in Samaria, till he had destroyed him, according to the saying of the Lord which he spake to Elias.

18 * And Iehu gathered all the people together, and said vnto them, Achab serued Baal a litle, but Iehu shall serue him more.

19 Now therefore, call vnto mee all the prophets of Baal, all such as serue him, and all his priests, and let none be lacking, for I haue a great sacrifice to doe to Baal, and therefore whosoever is milled, he shall not lue. But Iehu did it for a subtiltie, to the intent that he might destroy the seruants of Baal.

20 And Iehu said, Proclaime a holy conuocation for Baal. And they proclaimed it.

21 And Iehu sent vnto all Israel, and all the seruants of Baal came, that there was not a man left behinde that came not: and they came into the house of Baal, and the house of Baal was full from the one end to another.

22 And he said vnto him that was the keeper of the bellie, Bring forth garments for all the seruants of Baal. And hee brought them out garments.

23 And when Iehu went with Ionadab the sonne of Bechab into the house of Baal, he said vnto the seruants of Baal, Search, and looke that there be here with you none of the seruants of the Lord, but the seruants of Baal onely.

24 And when they went in to offer sacrifice and whole burnt offering, Jehu appointed fourscore men without, and saide to them, If any of the men whom I haue brought vnder your hands escape, he that letteth him goe, shall die for him.

25 And as soone as he had made an ende of offering the whole burnt sacrifice, Jehu said to the men of warre, & to the captaines, Go in, and slay them, let none come out. And they smote them with the edge of the sword, and the men of warre, and the captaines, call them out, and went to the cite of the temple of Baal.

26 And set the images out of the temple of Baal, and burnt them.

27 And they brake the image of Baal, and brake the house of Baal, and made a draught hoile of it, vnto this day.

28 And so Jehu destroyed Baal out of Israel.

29 But from the sins of Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, which made Israel to sinne, Jehu departed not from them, neither from the golden calves that were in Bethel and in Dan.

30 And the Lorde sayd vnto Jehu, Because thou hast done right well in bringing to passe the thing that is right in mine eyes, and hast done vnto the house of Achab according to all things that are in mine heart, * therefore shall thy children, vnto the fourth generation, sit on the seate of Israel.

31 But Jehu cared not for this, to walke in the law of the Lord God of Israel, with all his heart: for he departed not from the sinnes of Jeroboam, which made Israel to sinne.

32 In those dayes the Lord began to cut Israel short, and Hazael smote them in all the coasts of Israel.

33 From Jordan Eastward, euen all the land of Gilead, the Gadites, the Rubenites, and them that were of Manasses, from Aroer (which is by the riuer Arnon) euen Gilead and Basan.

34 The rest of the words that concerne Jehu, and all that he did, and all his power, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel?

35 And Jehu slept with his fathers, and they buried him in Samaria, and Joachas his son reigned in his stead.

36 And the time that Jehu reigned vpon Israel in Samaria, is twentie and eight yeeres.

The xj. Chapter.

1 Athalia perreth to death all the kings sonnes, except Iosab the sonne of Ochozias. 15 Jehoia da causeth Athalia to be slaine. 18 Baal and his priests are destroyed.

Ad * Athalia the mother of Ahazias, when she sawe that her sonne was dead, she arose, and destroyed all the kings seede.

2 But Iosaba the daughter of king Iozab and sister of Ahazias, tooke Iosab the sonne of Ahazias, and stalle him from among the kings sons that were slaine, and hid him in the bed chamber, and hid him from Athalia, that he was not slaine.

3 And he was with her hid in the house of the Lord six yeeres: and Athalia did reigne ouer the land.

4 * And the seuenth yeere Jehoiada sent and set the rulers ouer hundreds, with the captaines, and them of the gard, and tooke them to him into the house of the Lord, and made a bonde with them, and tooke an othe of them in the house of the Lord, and shewed them the kings sonne.

5 And he commanded them, saying, This is it that ye must doe. One third part of you, whose duetie is to come in on the Sabbath day, shall keepe the watch of the kings hoile.

6 And another thirde part shall keepe the gate of Sur, and another thirde part shall keepe the gate which is behinde them of the garde: and so shall yee keepe the watch of the house of Ihesab.

7 And two parts of you, that is, all that goe out on the Sabbath day, shall keepe the watch of the house of the Lord about the king.

8 And ye shall compass the king round about, and euery man shall haue his weapon in his hand: and whosoever cometh within the ranges, let him be slaine: and see that ye be with the king, as he goeth out and in.

9 And the captaines ouer the hundreds did according to all things that Jehoiada the priest commanded: and they tooke euery man his men that were to come in on the Sabbath day, with them that should goe out on the Sabbath, and came to Jehoiada the priest.

10 And to the captaines ouer hundreds, did the priest giue king Dauids speares and shields, that were in the temple.

11 And they of the gard stood, and euery man had his weapon in his hande, round about the king, from the right corner of the temple to the left, along by the altar and the temple.

12 And he brought out the kings sonne, and put the crowne vpon him, and deliuered him the witness, and made him king, and anointed him, and they clapt their hands, and saide, God saue the king.

13 And when Athalia heard the noyse of the running of the people, she came to the people into the temple of the Lord.

14 <sup>b</sup> And when she looked, beholde, the king stood by a pillar, as the maner was, and the singers, and the trumpeters by the king, and all the people of the land reioiced, and blew with trumpets: and Athalia rent her clothes, & cried, Treason, treason.

15 But Jehoiada the priest commanded the captaines of the hundreds, that had the rule of the holle, and said vnto them, Haue her forth of the ranges, and if any foile to her, kill him with the sword, for the priest had said, She may not be slaine in the house of the Lord.

16 And they layd hands on her, till she came into the way by the which the horses went into the kings palace, and there was she slaine.

17 And Jehoiada made a bond betweene the Lord, and the king, and the people, that they should be the Lordes people, and also betweene the king and the people.

18 And all the people of the land went into the house of Baal, and destroyed it, his altars also, and his images brake they downe lustily, & Ierobachan the priest of Baal, before the altars: and the priest set watch ouer the house of the Lord,

20 And all the people of the land reioyced, and the cite was in quiet, and they setwe Athalia with the sword, beside the kings palace.

21 Seuen yeeres old was Joas when he began to reigne.

The xij. Chapter.

6 Ioas maketh provision for the repairing of the temple, 20 Ioas is killed by two of his seruants.

IOAS beganne to reigne in the seuenth yeere of Jehu, fourtie yeeres reigned he in Hierusalem, and his mothers name was Zebiah, of Beersheba.

2 And he did that which was good in the sight of the Lorde, as long as Jehoiada the Priest enscourmed him.

3 But the high places were not taken away: for the people offered, and burnt incense yett vpon the high places.

4 And Joas saide to the Priests, All the siluer of the dedicate things that be brought to the house of the Lorde, that is, the money of them that were numbred, the money that euery man is set at, and all the money that euery man with a willing heart giueth, and bringeth into the house of the Lord:

5 Let the Priests take it to them, euery man of his acquaintance, to repaire the broken places of the house, wheresoever any decay is found.

6 And so it came to passe, that vnto the thre and twentieth yeere of king Joas, the Priests had mended nothing that was decayed in the Temple.

7 Then king Joas called for Jehoiada the Priest, and the other Priests, and said vnto them, Why repaire ye not the broken places of the temple: now therefore see that ye receiue no more money of your acquaintance, except ye deliuer it to repaire the temple withall.

8 And the Priests consented to receiue no moze money of the people, except to repaire the decayed places of the temple.

9 But Jehoiada the Priest tooke a chest, and bozed a hole in the lid of it, and set it beside the altar, on the right side, as euery man cometh into the temple of the Lord, and the Priests that kept the vessels, put therein all the money that was brought into the house of the Lord.

10 And when they sawe there was much money in the chest, the kings scribe and the high Priest came by, and tolde the money that was found in the house of the Lord, and put it into a bagge.

11 And they gaue the money sealed into the hands of them that executed the worke, and that had the ouersight of the house of the Lord: a they brought it out to the Carpenters and buidlers that wrought vpon the house of the Lord,

12 And to Masons and hewers of stone: and they brought timber and free stone to repaire the decay in the house of the Lord, and to all that went out to mend the temple,

13 Howbeit, there was not made for the house of the Lord, bowles of siluer, instrumentes of musick, basons, trumpets, or any vessels of gold, or vessels of siluer, of money that was brought into the house of the Lord.

14 But they gaue that to the workemen, and repaired therewith the house of the Lord.

15 Moreover, they reckoned not with the men, into whose hands they deliuered that money to be bestowed on workemen: for they did their business vpon trust.

16 Howbeit, trespass money, and sinne money was not brought into the house of the Lord, for it was the priests.

17 Then came Hazael king of Syria by, and fought against Beth, and took it: and Hazael set his face to goe by Hierusalem.

18 And Joas king of Iuda tooke all the hallowed things that Josaphat, Joram, and Ahazia his fathers, kings of Iuda had dedicate, and that he himselfe had dedicated, and all the golde that was found in the treasures of the house of the Lord, and in the kings house, and sent it to Hazael king of Syria, and so he departed from Hierusalem.

19 The remnant of the words that concerne Joas, and all that hee did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Iuda.

20 And his owne seruants arose, and conspired, and setwe Joas in the house of Hillo, in the way going downe to Silla:

21 Jozabab the sonne of Somer, his seruants smote him, and he died: and they buried him with his fathers in the cite of David, and Amazia his sonne reigned in his stead.

The xij. Chapter.

3 Ioachaz the sonne of Iehu is deliuered into the hands of the Syrians. 5 Hee prayeth vnto God, and is deliuered.

IN the thre and twentieth yere of Joas the sonne of Ahazia king of Iuda, Joachaz the sonne of Iehu began to reign ouer Israel in Samaria, seuentene yeeres.

2 And he wrought that which was euill in the sight of the Lord, and followed the finnes of Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, which made Israel to sinne, and departed not therefrom.

3 And the Lord was angry with Israel, and deliuered them into the hand of Hazael king of Syria, and into the hand of Benhadad the son of Hazael, all their dayes.

4 And Joachaz delought the Lord, and the Lord heard him: so he considered the trouble of Israel, wherewith the king of Syria troubled them.

5 (And the Lord gaue Israel a deliuerer, so that they went out from vnder the subiection of the Syrians: and the children of Israel dwell in their tents as before time.)

6 Neuerthelesse, they departed not from the finnes of the house of Jeroboam, which made Israel sinne, but walked in them: and there remained a groue still also in Samaria.)

7 Neither did he leaue of the people to Joachaz, but sixtie horsemen, ten charets, and ten thousand footmen: for the king of Syria destroyed them, and made them like threshed eull.

9 And Joachaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in Samaria, and Joas his son reigned in his stead.

10 In the thirtie and seuenth yeere of Joas king of Iuda, began Jehoas the son of Joachaz to reigne ouer Israel in Samaria, threene yeeres.

11 And did that which is euill in the sight of the Lord, and departed not from all the sinnes of Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, that made Israel sinne: for he walked therein.

12 The remnant of the wordes that concerne Joas, and all that he did, and his power, wherewith he fought against Amazia king of Iuda, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel?

13 And Joas slept with his fathers, and Jeroboam late vpon his seate: and Joas was buried in Samaria, among the kings of Israel.

14 When Eliseus was fallen sicke, of his sickness whereof he died, Joas the king of Israel came downe vnto him, and wept before him, and said, O my father, my father, the charet of Israel, and the horsemen of the same.

15 Eliseus saide vnto him, Take bowe and arrowes. And hee tooke vnto him bow and arrowes.

16 And he saide to the king of Israel, Put thine hand vpon the bow. And he put his hand vpon it: and Eliseus put his handes vpon the kings hands.

17 And said, Open a window Eastward. And when he had opened it, Eliseus saide, Shooote. And he shot. And he said, The arrowe of health of the Lord, and the arrowe of health against Syria: for thou shalt smite Syria in Aphce, till thou haue made an end of them.

18 And he saide, Take the arrowes. And he tooke them. And he said vnto the king of Israel, Smite the ground. And he smote thise, and ceased.

19 And the man of God was angry with him, and said, Thou shouldest haue smitten sine or six times, and then thou haddest smitten Syria till thou haddest made an end of them: where now thou shalt smite Syria but thise.

20 And so Eliseus died, and they buried him: and the souldiers of the Moabites came into the land the same yeere.

21 And as they were burying a man, a spyed the souldiers, they cast the man into the sepulchre of Eliseus: and when the man was rolled downe, and touched the bones of Eliseus, hee reuiued, and stood vpon his feete.

22 But Hazael king of Syria, bered Israel all the dayes of Joachaz.

23 And the Lord had mercy on them, and pitied them, and had respect vnto them, because of his couenant made with Abraham, Isahac, and Jacob, and would not destroy them, neither cast he them from him as yet.

24 So Hazael the king of Syria died, and Benhadad his sonne reigned in his stead.

25 And Joas the sonne of Joachaz went againe, and tooke out of the hand of Benhadad the sonne of Hazael, the cities which he had taken away out of the hand of Joachaz his father in warre: for thre times did Joas beate him, and restored the cities vnto Israel againe.

1 Amazia the king of Iuda putteth to death them that slew his father, 7 And after smiteth Edom.

2 He was twenty and five yeeres old when he began to reigne, and reigned twentie and nine yeeres in Hierusalem: and his mothers name was Ioadan of Hierusalem.

3 And hee did that which was good in the sight of the Lorde, yet not like Dauid his father: but did according to all things as Joas his father did.

4 Neither were the high places taken away: for as yet the people did sacrifice, and burnt incense on the high places.

5 And as soone as the kingdome was settled in his hand, he slew his seruants which had killed the king his father.

6 But the children of those murderers hee slew not, according vnto that is written in the booke of the lawe of Moses, wherein the Lord commanded, saying, * Let not the fathers die for the children, nor let the children be slaine for the fathers: but let euery man bee put to death for his owne sinne.

7 He slew of Edom in the salt balley, tenne thousand, and tooke the castle on the rocke in the same battell, and called the name of it Boctheel vnto this day.

8 Then Amazia sent messengers to Joas the sonne of Joachaz sonne of Jehu king of Israel, saying, Come, let vs see each other.

9 And Joas the king of Israel sent to Amazia king of Iuda, saying, Did not a thistle that is in Libanon, lend to a Cedar tree that is in Libanon, saying, Giue thy daughter to my sonne to wife? And the wilde beast that was in Libanon, went and trode downe the thistle.

10 Thou hast smitten Edom, thine heart hath made thee proude: enioy this glozy, and tarry at home: why doest thou prouoke to mischief, that thou shouldest be ouerthrowen, and Iuda with thee?

11 But Amazia would not heare: and Joas king of Israel went by, and he, and Amazia king of Iuda, saw either other at Bethsames, which is in Iuda.

12 And Iuda was put to the worse before Israel, and they fled euery man to their tents.

13 And Joas king of Israel tooke Amazia king of Iuda, the sonne of Joas, the sonne of Ahaz, at Bethsames, and came to Hierusalem, and brake downe the wall of Hierusalem, from the gate of Ephraim, to the corner gate, foure hundred cubites.

26 For the Lord saw how that the affliction of Israel was exceeding bitter, in so much that the prisoned and the forsaken were at an ende, and there was none to helpe Israel.

27 And the Lord said not, that he would put out the name of Israel from vnder heauen: but he helped them by the hande of Jeroboam the sonne of Joas.

2 Twentie yeres old was he when he was made king, and reigned sirteene yeres in Hierusalem, and did not that which was right in the eyes of the Lord his God, like Dauid his father:

3 But walked in the way of the kings of Israel, yea and made his sonne to goe thorow the fire, after the abominations of the heathen, whom the Lorde cast out before the children of Israel.

4 And hee offered and burnt incense in the high places, and on the hills, and vnder euery thicke tree.

5 Then Rezin king of Syria, and Pecah sonne of Romelia king of Israel, came by to Hierusalem to fight: and they fought against Achaz, but could not ouercome him.

6 At the same time Rezin king of Syria, brought Elath again to Syria, & rid the Jewes thence: and the Syrians came to Elath, and dwelt therein vnto this day.

7 So Achaz sent messengers to Cheglah Phalasar king of Assyria, saying, I am thy seruant, and thy sonne, come by, and deliuer me out of the hand of the king of Syria, and out of the hand of the king of Israel, which rise by against me.

8 And Achaz tooke the siluer and gold that was found in the house of the Lord, and in the treasures of the kings house, and sent a reward to the king of Assyria.

9 And the king of Assyria consented vnto him: for the king of Assyria went by against Damascus, and when he had taken it, he caried the people away to Cir, and slew Rezin.

10 And king Achaz went to Damascus, to meete Cheglah Phalasar king of Assyria, and when king Achaz saw an altar that was at Damascus, he sent to Azia the Priest the paterne of the altar, and the fashion of it, and all the workmanship thereof.

The xvij. Chapter.

5 Hosea king of Israel is taken.

In the twelfth yeere of Achaz king of Iuda, began Hosea the sonne of Elah to reigne in Samaria vpon Israel nine yeeres:

2 And did that which was euill in the sight of the Lord, but not as the kings of Israel that were before him.

3 And Salmanasar king of Assyria came by against him, and Hosea became his seruant, and gaue him presents.

4 And the king of Assyria found treason in Hosea: for he had sent messengers to So king of Egypt, and brought no present vnto the king of Assyria from yeere to yeere: and therefore the king of Assyria shut him by, and bound him in the prison house.

5 And then the king of Assyria came by thoroughout all the land, and gate by against Samaria, and beleaged it thre yeeres.

6 *In the ninth yeere of Hosea, the king of Assyria tooke Samaria, and caried Israel away vnto Assyria, and put them in Hala and in Habor by the riuer of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes.

7 For it came to passe, that the children of Israel sinned against the Lord their God, which had brought them out of the land of Egypt, from vnder the hand of Pharao king of Egypt, and feared other gods.

8 And they walked in the ceremonies of the heathen, whom the Lord cast out before the children of Israel, and in the ceremonies which the kings of Israel had made.

9 And the children of Israel went about to hide those things that were not well, from the Lord their God: and they built them high places in all their cities, both in the towres where they kept watch, and also in the strong townes:

10 And they made them images & groves in euery high hill, and vnder euery thicke tree:

11 And there they burnt incense in al the high places, as did the heathen whom the Lord caried away before them, and wrought wicked things to anger the Lord withall:

12 For they serued idoles, whereof the Lord had said vnto them, Ye shall doe no such thing.

13 And the Lord testified in Israel, and in Iuda, by all the prophets, and by all the seers, saying, *Turne from your wicked wayes, and keepe my commandmentes, and my statutes, according to al the law which I commanded your fathers, and which I sent to you by my seruants the prophets.

14 Not withstanding, they would not heare, but rather hardened their necks, like to the stubbornesse of their fathers, that did not beleue in the Lord their God.

15 For they refused his statutes, and his covenant that hee made with their fathers, and the witnesses wherewith he witnessed vnto them, and they followed vanitie, and became baite, and went after the heathen that were round about them, concerning whom the Lord had charged them, that they should not doe like them.

16 But they left all the commandements of the Lord their God, and made them images of mettall, euen two calves, and made groves, and worshipped all the hoste of heauen, and serued Baal.

17 And they sacrificed their sonnes and their daughters in fire, and used witchcraftes and enchantmentes, euen selling themselves to worke wickednesse in the sight of the Lord, and to anger him.

18 And the Lord was exceeding wroth with Israel, and put them out of his sight, that there was left but the tribe of Iuda onely.

19 Feuerthelesse, Iuda also kept not the commandements of the Lord their God, but walked in the ceremonies of Israel which they made.

20 And the Lord cast off all the seede of Israel, and bered them, and deliuered them into the hands of spoylers, vntill he had cast them out of his sight:

21 *For he cut off Israel from the house of Dauid, and made them a king, euen Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, and Jeroboam drew Israel away, that they should not follow the Lord, and made them sinne a great sinne.

22 For the children of Israel walked in al the sinnes of Jeroboam which he did, and departed not therefrom, 23 Vntill the Lord put Israel away out of his sight, * as he had saide by all his seruants the prophets: and so was Israel caried away out of their owne land to Assyria, euen vnto this day.

24 And the king of Assyria brought men from Babylon, from Cutha, from Ana, from Hamath, and from Sepharuaim, and put them in the cities of Samaria, in stead of the children of Israel, and they possessed Samaria, & dwelt in the cities thereof.

25 And at the beginning of their dwelling there, they feared not the Lord, and the Lord sent Lions among them, which slew them.

26 Wherefore they spake to the king of Assyria, saying, The nations which thou hast transfused and put in the cities of Samaria, knowe not the law of the God of the land: therefore he hath sent Lions vpon them, and behold, they slay them, because they know not the maner of worshipping the God of the land.

27 Then the king of Assyria commanded, saying, Carrie thither one of the priests whom wee brought thence, and let him goe and dwell there, and teach them the fashion how to serue the God of the countrey.

28 And then one of the priests, whom they had caried from Samaria, came and dwelt in Bethel, and taught them how they should feare the Lord.

29 Howbeit, euery nation made them gods of their owne, and put them in the houses of the high places which the Samaritanes had made, euery nation in their cities wheremin they dwelt.

30 The men of Babylon made Socoth Benoth, and the men of Cuth made Nergal, and the men of Hamath made Sima.

31 The Auites made Dibbaz and Charthac: and the Sepharuites burnt their children in fire to Adramelech, and Ananielech, the gods of Sepharuaim.

32 And so they feared the Lord, and made them priests of the basell of them, which sacrificed for them in the houses of the high places.

33 And so they feared the Lord, and serued their owne gods, after the maner of the people whom they caried thence.

34 And vnto this day they doe after the olde manner: and neither feare God, neither doe after their ordinances and customes, no: doe after the law and commandement which the Lord commanded the children of Jacob, whom he called Israel.

35 And the Lord made a couenant with them, & charged them, saying, feare none other gods, no: bow your selues to them, no: serue them, no: sacrifice to them:

36 But feare the Lord, which brought you out of the land of Egypt, with great power, and stretched out arme, him feare, and to him bow, and to him do sacrifice.

37 The statutes, ordinances, law, and commandement which he wrote for you, see that ye be diligent to do for euermore, and feare not any other gods.

38 And the couenant that I haue made with you, see ye forget not, and feare none other gods:

39 But the Lord your God ye shall feare, and he shall deliuer you out of the hands of all your enemies.

40 Howbeit, they did not hearken, but did after their old custome.

41 And so these nations feared the Lord, and serued their images also, like as did their children, and their childrens children: euen as did their fathers, so do they vnto this day.

The xvij. Chapter.

4 Hezecia king of Iuda putteth downe the brafen serpent, and destroyeth the idoles, 7 and prospereth.

In the third yeere of *Hosea sonne of Ela king of Israel, it came to passe that Hezecia the sonne of Achaz king of Iuda did reigne.

2 Twentie and siue yeeres old was he when he began to reigne, and reigned twentie and nne yeeres in Hierusalem: his mothers name also was Abi, the daughter of Zacharia.

3 And he did that which is right in the sight of the Lord, according to all as did Dauid his father.

4 He put away the high places, and brake the images, and cut downe the groues, and all to brake the brafen serpent that Hosea had made: for vnto those dayes the children of Israel did burne sacrifice to it: and he called it Nehushtan.

5 He trusted in the Lord God of Israel, so that after him was none like him among all the kings of Iuda, neither were there any such before him.

6 For he claue to the Lord, and departed not from him: but kept his commandements, which the Lord commanded Hosea.

7 And the Lorde was with him, so that he prospered in all things which he tooke in hand: and he rebelled against the king of Assyria, and serued him not.

8 He smote the Philistines, euen vnto Gaza, and the coasts thereof, both castles where they kept watches, and strong cities.

9 And in the fourth yeere of king Hezecia,

(which was the seventh yeere of Hosea, sonne of Ela king of Israel) Salmanazar king of Assyria, came by against Samaria, and besieged it.

10 And after three yeeres they tooke it: euen in the first yeere of Hezecia (that is to say, the ninth yeere of Hosea king of Israel) Samaria was worne.

11 And the king of Assyria did carie a way Israel vnto Assyria, and put them in Halah and in Habor by the riuer of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes:

12 Because they would not hearken vnto the voice of the Lord their God, but transgressed his couenant, and all that Hosea the seruant of the Lord commanded, and would not heare them, no: do them.

13 Therefore in the fourteenth yeere of king Hezecia, did Sennacherib king of Assyria come by against all the strong cities of Iuda, and tooke them.

14 And Hezecia king of Iuda, sent to the king of Assyria to Lachis, saying, I haue offended, depart from me: and all that thou puttest on me, that will I beare. And the king of Assyria appointed vnto Hezecia king of Iuda three hundred talents of siluer, and thirtie talents of gold.

15 And Hezecia gaue him all the siluer that was found in the house of the Lord, and in the treasures of the kings house.

16 At the same season did Hezecia rent off the doores of the temple of the Lord, and the pillars which the said Hezecia king of Iuda had covered ouer, and gaue them to the king of Assyria.

17 And the king of Assyria sent Charthan and Rablaris, and Rabfach, from Lachis, to king Hezecia, with a great hoste against Hierusalem: and they went by, and came to Hierusalem, and gatte them by, and stood by the conduite of the byper poole, which is in the way of the fullers field.

18 And when they had called to the king, there came out to them Eliacim the sonne of Ela, which was steward of the household, and Sobna the scribe, and Ioah the sonne of Asaph the recorder.

19 And Rabfach said vnto them, Tell ye Hezecia, I pray you, Thus saith the great king, euen the king of Assyria, what confidence is this that thou hast?

20 Thou thinkest, Surely I haue eloquence, but counsell and strength are for the warre: on whom then doest thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

21 Doest thou trust to the sake of this broken reede Egypt, on which if a man leane, it will goe into his hande, and pearce it: euen so is Pharao king of Egypt vnto all that trust on him.

22 If ye say vnto mee, we trust in the Lord our God: is not that he whole high places, and whole altars Hezecia hath put down, and hath said to Iuda and Hierusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar here in Hierusalem?

23 Now therefore, I pray thee, giue hostages to my lord the king of Assyria, and I will deliuer thee two thousand horses, if thou be able to set riders vpon them.

24 Why thinkest thou scoorne at the presence of one of the least Dukes of my masters seruants, and trustest to Egypt for charrets and horsemen?

bidding of the Lord to this place, to destroy it? The Lord sayd to me, Go vp to this land, and destroy it.

26 And Eliacim the sonne of Helcia, and Sobna, and Joah, saide vnto Rabfaceh, Speake, I pray thee, to thy seruants in the Syrrians language (for we vnderstand it) and talke not with vs in the Jewes tongue, in the eares of this people that are on the wall.

27 And Rabfaceh sayd vnto them, Hath my master sent mee to thy master and thee, to speake these words? Hath he not sent me because of the men which sit on the wall, that they may cate their owne bough, and drinke their owne pisse with you?

28 And so Rabfaceh stood, and cried with a loud voice in the Jewes language, and spake, saying, Heare the words of the great king, euen of the king of Assyria.

29 Thus saith the king, Let not Hezecia beguile you, for hee shall not be able to deliuer you out of mine hand:

30 Neither let Hezecia make you to trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord shall surely deliuer vs, and this citie shall not be giuen ouer into the hand of the king of Assyria.

31 Hearken not vnto Hezecia: for thus saith the king of Assyria, Deale kindly with mee, and come out to mee, and then cate euery man of his owne vine, and of his owne figtree, and drinke euery man of the water of his owne well, 32 Will I come and set you to as good a land as yours is, a land of corne and wine, a land of bread and vineyards, a land of oile of oliue trees, and of home, that ye may liue, and not die: and hearken not vnto Hezecia, for he beguileth you, saying, The Lord shall deliuer vs.

33 Hath euery one of the gods of the nations deliuered his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria?

43 Where is the god of Hamath & of Arphad? and where is the god of Sepharuaim, Hena, and Jua? Did they deliuer Samaria out of mine hand?

35 And what god is among all the gods of the nations, that hath deliuered his land out of mine hand? Shall the Lord deliuer Hierusalem out of mine hand?

36 But the people held their peace, and answered not him a word: for the king had commanded, saying, Answer him not.

37 Then Eliacim the sonne of Helcia, which was the steward of the household, and Sobna the Scribe, and Joah the sonne of Asaph the Recorder, came to Hezecia with their clothes rent, and told him the words of Rabfaceh.

The xix. Chapter.

6 God promiseti Esai victorie to Hezecia.

So it came to passe, * that when king Hezecia heard it, he rent his clothes, and put on sacke cloth, and came into the house of the Lord.

2 And sent Eliacim, which was the steward of the household, and Sobna the Scribe, and the elders of the priests, clothed in sacke, to Esai the prophet the sonne of Amos.

3 And they sayd vnto him, Thus saith Hezecia, This day is a day of tribulation, & of rebuke and blasphemie: for the children are come to the birch, and there is no strength to be deliuered.

4 Peradventure the Lord thy God wil heare all the words of Rabfaceh, whom the king of Assyria his master hath sent to raile on the liuing God, and to rebuke him with words which the Lord thy God hath heard: and lift thou by thy prayer for the remnant that are left.

5 So the seruants of king Hezecia came to Esai.

6 And Esai said vnto them, So shall yee say to your master, Thus saith the Lord, Bee not afraid of the words which thou hast heard, with which the yong men of the king of Assyria haue railed on me.

7 Behold, * I wil send a blast vpon him, and he shall heare tidings, and so returne to his owne land, and I will bring to passe that hee shall fall vpon the sword, euen in his owne land.

8 And Rabfaceh went backe againe, and found the king of Assyria, fighting against Libna: for he had heard how that he was departed from Lachis.

9 And when he heard men say of Thirbacah king of Ethiopia, Behold, he is come out to fight against thee: hee departed, and sent messengers vnto Hezecia, saying,

10 Thus speake to Hezecia king of Iuda, saying, Let not thy God deceiue thee, in whom thou trustest, saying, Hierusalem shall not be deliuered into the hand of the king of Assyria.

11 Behold, thou hast heard what the kings of Assyria haue done to all lands, how they haue vterly destroyed them: and shalt thou escape?

12 Haue the gods of the heathen deliuered them which mine ancestors haue destroyed? As Cozan, and Haran, and Rezep, and the children of Eden, which were in Chelassar?

13 Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arphad, the king of the citie of Sepharuaim, and of Hena and Jua?

14 And Hezecia receiued the letter of the hand of the messengers, and read it: and Hezecia went vp into the house of the Lord, and layd it abroad before the Lord.

15 And Hezecia prayed before the Lord, and said, O Lord God of Israel, which dwellest between the Cherubims, thou art God alone ouer all the kingdomes of the earth, thou hast made heaven and earth.

16 Lord, bow downe thine eare, and heare: open Lord thine eyes, I beseech thee, and see: and heare the wordes of Senacherib which hath sent this man to raile on the liuing God.

17 Of a trueth, Lord, the kings of Assyria haue destroyed nations and their lands, 18 And haue set fire on their gods: for they were no gods, but the worke of the handes of man, euen of wood and stone: and they destroyed them.

19 Nowe therefore, O Lord our God, I beseech thee, saue thou vs out of his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that thou onely art the Lord God.

20 And Esai the sonne of Amos sent to Hezecia, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, That which thou hast prayed mee concerning Senacherib king of Assyria, I haue heard it.

21 This is therefore the word that the Lord hath sayd of him, The Virgin, euen the daughter of Sion hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorne, O thou king of Assyria, the daughter of Hierusalem hath shaken her head at thee.

b Hierusalem is called Ciuitas, because it is built on a rocke, by the countie.

22 Whom hast thou raised on: and whom hast thou blasphemed: Against whom hast thou eralted thy voice, and lift vp thine eyes so high: euen against the holy one of Israel.

23 By the hand of thy messengers thou hast raised on the Lord, and said, with the multitude of my charrets, I am come vp to the tops of the mountaines, along by the sides of Libanon, and I will cut downe the high Cedar trees, and the lustie firre trees thereof: and I will goe into the lodging of his borders, and into the wood of his Carmel.

24 I haue digged and drunke strange waters, and with the slep of my going will I die all the water pooles that are besieged.

25 Hast thou not heard how I haue obtained such a thing a great while agoe, and haue prepared it from the beginning? And shall I not now bring it forth, that it may destroy and bring strong cities into waste heapes of stones?

26 And the inhabitants of them shalbe of little power, and faint hearted, and confounded, & shalbe like the grasse of the field, or green herbe, or as the hay on the tops of the houses, or as the corne that is unripe, and smitten with blasting.

27 I knowe thy dwelling, thy coming out, and thy going in, and thy furie against me.

28 And because thou ragest against mee, and thy tumult is come by to mine eares, I will put my hooke in thy nostrils, and my bit in thy lips, and I wil bring thee backe againe the same way thou camest.

29 And this shalbe a signe vnto thee, O Hezecia, Ye shal eat this yere of such things as grow of themselves, and the next yere such as come by of those that did growe of their owne accord, and the third yere some yee and reape, plant vineyards, and eat the fruits thereof.

30 And it that is escaped a left of the daughter of Juda, shall yet againe take rooting downward, and beare fruit vpward.

31 For out of Hierusalem shal goe a remnant and a number that shall escape out of mount Sion: the zeale of the Lord of hostes shal bring this thing to passe.

32 Wherefore thus saith the Lord concerning the king of Assyria, He shal not come to this citie, nor shooote an arrow into it, nor come before it with shield, nor cast a banke against it:

33 But shall goe backe againe the way hee came, and shall not come into this citie, saith the Lord.

34 For I will defend this citie, & saue it, for mine owne sake, & for Dauid my seruants sake.

35 And the selfe same night the angel of the Lord went out, and smote in the hoste of the Assyrians an hundred fourescore & siue thousand: and when the remnant were by early in the morning, behold they were all dead carcases.

36 And so Sennacherib king of Assyria annoyed, and departed, and went againe and dwelt at Ninue.

37 And as hee was in a temple worshipping Nisroch his god, Adramelech, and Sareier his owne sonnes, smote him with the sword: and they escaped into the land of Armenia, and Asarhaddon his sonne reigned in his stead.

The xx. Chapter.

1 Hezecia being sicke, 7 receiueth the signe of his health.

About that time was Hezecia sicke vnto death: and the Prophet Esai the sonne of Amos came to him, and said vnto him, Thus sayth the Lord, Let thine household in an order, for thou shalt die, and not liue.

2 And Hezecia turned his face to the wall, and prayed vnto the Lord, saying,

3 I beseech thee, O Lord, remember now how I haue walked before thee in trueth, and with a perfect heart, and haue done that which is good in thy sight: And Hezecia wept sore.

4 And afore Esai was gone out into the middle of the court, the word of the Lord came to him, saying,

5 Turne againe, and tell Hezecia the captaine of my people, Thus sayth the Lord God of Dauid thy father, I haue heard thy prayer, and seene thy teares, and behold, I will heale thee, so that on the third day thou shalt goe vp into the house of the Lord:

6 And I will adde vnto thy dayes yet fifteen yeeres, and I will deliuer thee and this citie out of the hand of the king of Assyria, and wil defend this citie for mine owne sake, and for Dauid my seruants sake.

7 And Esai said, Take a lump of dried figs, And they tooke and layd it on the sope, and he recouered.

8 And Hezecia said vnto Esai, What shall bee the signe that the Lord will heale mee, and that I shall goe vp into the house of the Lord the third day?

9 Esai answered, This signe shalt thou haue of the Lord, that the Lord will doe that hee hath spoken: shall the shadow goe forward tenne degrees? or goe backe againe ten degrees?

10 Hezecia answered, It is a light thing for the shadowe to goe downe ten degrees, I desire not that: but let the shadowe goe backward ten degrees.

11 And Esai the Prophet called vnto the Lord, and hee brought the shadowe tenne degrees backward, by which it had gone downe in the diall of Achaz.

12 The same season Berodach Baladan, the sonne of Baladan king of Babylon, sent letters and a present vnto Hezecia: for he had heard how that Hezecia was sicke.

13 And Hezecia was glad of them, & shewed them all his treasure house, silver, gold, odours, precious ointment, all the house of his armour, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, and in all his realme, that Hezecia shewed them not.

14 And Esai the Prophet came vnto king Hezecia, and sayd vnto him, What sayd these men? and from whence came they vnto thee? And Hezecia said, They be come from a faire countrey, euen from Babylon.

15 And he said againe, What haue they scene in thine house? Hezecia answered, All the things that are in mine house haue they scene: there is nothing among my treasures, that I haue not shewed them.

16 And Esai saide vnto Hezecia, Heare the word of the Lord.

17 Behold, the dayes come, that all that is in thine house, and whatsoever thy fathers haue layd vp in thize vnto this day, shall be caried into Babylon: & nothing shalbe left, saith the Lord.

The xxj. Chapter.

3 King Manasse restoreth idolatrie, 16 and vlieth great crueltie.

Manasse was * twelve yeeres olde when he began to reigne, and reigned sicke and sine yeeres in Hierusalem: his mothers name also was Hephziba.

2 And he did euill in the sight of the Lord, euen after the abominations of the heathen, whom the Lord cast out before the children of Israel.

3 For he went and built by the high places, which Hezecia his father had destroyed, and hee reared up altars for Baal, and made grooues, as did Achab king of Israel, and worshipped all the hoste of heauen, and serued them.

4 * And he built altars in the house of the Lord, of which the Lord said, In Hierusalem will I put my name.

5 * And he built altars for all the host of heauen, euen in two courts of the house of the Lord.

6 And he offered his owne sonne in fire, and gaue heede vnto witchcraft and sozcery, & maintained workers with spirits, and tellers of soztures, and wrought much wickednesse in the sight of the Lord, to anger him.

7 * And hee put an image of a groue that he had made, in the Temple, of which the Lord sayd to Dauid and Solomon his sonne. In this house, and in Hierusalem, which I haue chosen out of all tribes of Israel, wil I put my name for euer.

8 Neither will I make the feete of Israel moouie any more out of the land which I gaue their fathers: so that they will obserue and doe all that I haue commanded them, and according to all the lawe, that my seruant Moses commanded them.

6 But they hearkened not: and Manasse led them out of the way, to doe more wickedly then did the heathen people, whom the Lord destroyed before the children of Israel.

10 And the Lord spake by his seruants the Prophets, saying,

11 * Because Manasse king of Juda hath done such abominations, & hath wrought more wickedly then all the Amorites which were before him did, and hath made Juda sin also with his idoles:

12 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Behold, I will bring such euill vpon Hierusalem and Juda, that who so heareth of it, both his eares shall tingle.

13 And I will stretch ouer Hierusalem the squaring line of Samaria, and the plummet of the house of Achab: and I will wipe out Hierusalem, as a man wipeth a dish, and when he hath wiped it, turneth it upside downe.

14 And I will leaue the remnant of mine inheritance, and deliuer them into the hand of their enemies, and they shall be robbed and spoiled of all their aduertaries:

15 Because they haue done euill in my sight, and haue angered me since the time their fathers came out of Egypt, vnto this day.

16 And Manasse shed innocent blood exceedingly much, till hee replenished Hierusalem from corner to corner, beside his sinne where with he made Juda to sinne, and to doe euill in the sight of the Lord.

17 The rest of the wordes that concerne Manasse, and all that hee did, and his sinne that hee sinned, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Juda?

18 And Manasse slept with his fathers, and was buried in the garden of his owne house, euen in the garden of Oza, and Amon his sonne reigned in his stead.

19 Amon was twentie and two yeeres olde when he began to reigne, and hee reigned two yeeres in Hierusalem: his mothers name also was Hefullmeth, the daughter of Haris of Iotbah.

20 And he did euill in the sight of the Lord, as his father Manasse did:

21 And walked in all the way that his father walked in, and serued the idoles that his father serued, and worshipped them:

22 And hee forsooke the Lorde God of his fathers, and walked not in the way of the Lord.

23 And the seruants of Amon conspired against him, and slew the king in his owne house.

24 And the people of the land slew all them that had conspired against king Amon, and the people made Josia his sonne king in his stead.

25 The rest of the words that concern Amon, what things hee did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Juda?

26 And they buried him in his sepulchre, in the garden of Oza, and Josia his sonne reigned in his stead.

7 Howbeit, let no reckoning bee made with them, of the money that is deliuered into their hand, but let them doe it vpon trust.

8 And Helcia the high Priest sayd vnto Saphan the Scribe, I haue found the booke of the Lawe in the house of the Lorde. And Helcia gaue the booke to Saphan, and he read it.

9 And Saphan the Scribe came to the king, and brought him word againe, and sayde, Thy seruants haue gathered the money that was found in the temple, and haue deliuered it vnto them that do the worke, and that have the oversight of the house of the Lord.

10 And Saphan the Scribe shewed the king, saying, Helcia the Priest hath deliuered me a booke: and Saphan read it before the king.

11 And when the king had heard the wordes of the booke of the Law, he rent his clothes.

12 And the king commaunded Helcia the Priest, and Ahicam the sonne of Saphan, and Achboz the sonne of Michaiia, and Saphan the Scribe, & Ahasia a seruant of the kings, saying, 14 So Helcia the high Priest, and Ahicam, Achboz, and Saphan, and Ahasia, went vnto Huda the Prophetesse, the wife of Shallum the sonne of Chicia, the sonne of Barhas, keeper of the warpryde: (which prophetesse dwelt in Hierusalem in the house of the doctrine) and they communed with her.

15 And she answered them, Thus sayeth the Lord God of Israel, Tell the man that sent you to me,

16 Thus sayth the Lord, Behold, I wil bring euill vpon this place, & on the inhabitants thereof, euen all the wordes of the booke which the king of Iuda hath read:

17 Because they haue forsaken me, and haue burnt incense vnto other gods, to anger mee with all the workes of their hands: my wraich also shall be kindled against this place, and shall not be quenched.

18 But to the king of Iuda, which sent you to aske counsell of the Lord, so shall ye say, Thus sayth the Lorde God of Israel, as touching the wordes which ye haue heard:

19 Because thine heart did melt, and because thou hast humbled thy selfe before the Lord, when thou heardest what I spake against this place, & against the inhabitants of the same, how that they should be destroyed and accursed: and hast rent thy clothes, and wept before me, I also haue heard it, sayeth the Lord.

20 Behold therefore, I will reuice thee vnto thy fathers, and thou shalt be put into thy graue in peace, and thine eyes shall not see all the euill which I will bring vpon this place. And they brought the king word againe.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

2 Iosias readeth the Lawe before the people. 3 Hee maketh a couenant with the Lorde. 4 Hee putteth downe the idoles after he had killed their priestes. 22 Hee keepeth the Passouer. 24 Hee destroyeth the Coniurers. 29 Hee was killed in Megiddo. 30 And his sonne Ioachas reigned in his stead. 33 After hee was taken, his sonne Ioacim was made king.

And then the king sent, and there gathered vnto him all the Elders of Iuda and of Hierusalem.

2 And the king went by into the house of the Lord, with all the men of Iuda, and all the inhabitants of Hierusalem, with the Priestes and Prophets, and all the people both small and great: and he read in the eares of them all, the wordes of the booke of the couenant which was found in the house of the Lord.

3 And the king stood by a pillar, and made a couenant before the Lorde, that they shoulde walke after the Lord, and keepe his commandements, his witnesses, and his statutes, with all their heart, and all their soule, and make good the wordes of the sayd couenant, that were written in the forsayd booke: and all the people consented to the couenant.

4 And the king commanded Helcia the high Priest, and the inferiour priestes, and the keepers of the ornaments, to bring out of the temple of the Lord all the beffels that were made for Baal, for the groues, and for all the hoste of heauen: and hee burnt them without Hierusalem in the feldes of Cedron, and caried the ashes of them into Bethel.

5 And he put downe the priestes of Baal whom the kings of Iuda had founded to burne incense in the high places and cities of Iuda that were round about Hierusalem, and also them that burnt incense vnto Baal, to the Sunne, to the Moone, to the Planets, and to all the hoste of heauen.

6 And hee brought out the groue from the temple of the Lorde, without Hierusalem, vnto the brooke Cedron, and burnt it there at the brooke Cedron, and stampit it to powder, and cast the dust ther cof vpon the graues of the children of the people.

7 And he brake downe the celles of the male sters that were by the house of the Lord, where the women woue hangings for the groue.

8 And hee brought all the pyckes out of the cities of Iuda, and defiled the high places where the pyckes had burnt incense, euen from Geba to Beerseba, and destroyed the high places of the gates that were in the entering in of the gate of Iosias the gouernour of the citie, which were on the left hand as a man goeth in to the gate of the citie.

9 Nevertheless the priestes of the high places came not vp to the altar of the Lorde in Hierusalem, saue onely they did eate of the sweet bread among their brethren.

10 And he defiled Chopheth, which is in the balley of the children of Binnom, because no man should offer his sonne or his daughter in fire to Moloch.

11 He put downe the hostes that the kings of Iuda had giue to the sunne, at the entering in of the horne of the Lorde, by the chamber of Nathannelech the chamberlaine, which was ruler of the suburbs, & burnt the charcoles of the sunne with fire.

12 And the altars that were on the top of the parlour of Achaz, which the kings of Iuda had made, and the altars which Manasse had made in the two courts of the house of the Lorde, did the king breake downe, and ran thence, and cast the dust of them into the brooke Cedron.

13 And the high places that were before Hierusalem, on the right hand of the mount Olivet, which Solomon the king of Israel had builded for Astoreth, the abomination of the Sidons, and for Chamoz, the abomination of the Moabites, and for Dilchom, the abomination of the children of Ammon, those the king defiled:

14 And brake the images, and cut downe the groues, and filled their places with the bones of men.

15 Moreover, the altar that was at Bethel, the high places made by Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, which made Israel sinne, both the altar and also the high place he brake downe, & burnt the high place, & stamp it to powder, and burnt the groue.

16 And as Iosias turned himselfe, hee spied the graues that were in the mount, and sent and set the bones out of the graues, and burnt them upon the altar, to pollute it, according to the word of the Lorde that the man of God proclaimed, which told the same words.

17 Then hee sayde, what title is that that I see? and the men of the citie told him, It is the sepulchre of the man of God, which came from Iuda, and tolde the selfsame things that thou hast done to the altar of Bethel.

18 And he sayde, Let him alone: see that no man mooue his bones. And so his bones were saued, with the bones of a prophet that came out of Samaria.

19 And all the houses of the high places in the cities of Samaria, which the king of Israel had made to anger the Lorde withall, those Iosias put out of the way, and did to them according to all the actes that he had done in Bethel:

20 And hee sacrificed all the priests of the high places that were there, upon the altars, & burnt mens bones upon them, and returned to Hierusalem.

21 And the king commaunded all the people, saying, Keepe the feast of Passouer unto the Lord your God, as it is written in the booke of this couenant.

22 There was no Passouer holden like that, from the dayes of the Judges that iudged Israel, and in all the dayes of the kings of Israel, and of the kings of Iuda.

23 In the eighteenth yeere of king Iosias, was this Passouer holden to the Lorde in Hierusalem.

24 And moreover, workers with spirits, and soothsayers, images, idoles, and all the abominations that were spied in the land of Iuda, and in Hierusalem, those did Iosias put out of the way, to performe the words of the lawe, which were written in the booke that Helchia the priest found in the house of the Lord.

25 Like unto him was there no king before him, that turned to the Lord with all his heart, with all his soule, and all his might, according to all the lawe of Moses, neither after him arose there any such as he.

26 Notwithstanding, the Lorde turned not from the fiercenelle of his great wrath, where-with he was angrie against Iuda, because of all the prouocations that Manasse had prouoked him withall.

27 And the Lorde sayd, I will put Iuda also out of my sight, as I haue done away Israel, and will cast off this citie Hierusalem, which I haue chosen, and the house of which I sayd, My name shall be there.

28 The rest of the wordes that concerne Iosias, and all that hee did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Iuda?

29 In his dayes Pharao Necho king of Egypt, went by against the king of Assyria to the riuier of Euphrates: and king Iosias went against him, and was slaine of him at Megiddo, when he had seene him.

30 And his seruants caried him deade from Megiddo, and brought him to Hierusalem, and buried him in his owne sepulchre: and the people of the land took Iochas the sonne of Iosias, and anoynted him, and made him king in his fathers stead.

31 Iochas was twentie and thre yeeres old when he began to reigne, and reigned thre moneths in Hierusalem: his mothers name also was Hamital, the daughter of Jeremia, of Libna.

32 And hee did euill in the sight of the Lorde, according to all things as his fathers had done.

33 And Pharao Necho put him in bonds at Ribla in the land of Hamath, while hee reigned in Hierusalem, and put the lande to a tribute of an hundred talents of siluer, & a talent of golde.

34 And Pharao Necho made Eliacin the sonne of Iosias king, in the roome of Iosias his father, and turned his name to Ioacim, & tooke Iochas away: which when he came to Egypt, died there.

35 And Ioacim gaue the siluer and the golde to Pharao, and tarcd the lande, to giue the money, according to the commandement of Pharao: requiring of euerie man according to their ability, siluer and gold, euen of the people of the land, to giue vnto Pharao Necho.

36 Ioacim was twentie and fve yeeres olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned eleuen yeeres in Hierusalem: his mothers name also was Zebuda, the daughter of Bedaia of Runna.

37 And hee did that which was euill in the sight of the Lorde, according to all things as his fathers had done.

3 Onely at the bidding of the Lord came this vpon Iuda, to put them out of his sight for the finnes of Manasse, according to all that he did.

4 And for the innocent blood that he shedde, and filled Hierusalem with innocent blood: and the Lord would not be reconciled.

5 The rest of the wordes that concerne Joacim, and all that hee did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iuda?

6 And so Joacim slept with his fathers: and Joachin his sonne reigned in his stead.

7 And the king of Egypt came no more out of his land: for the king of Babylon had taken from the riuer of Egypt, vnto the riuer of Euphrates, all that perteyned to the king of Egypt.

8 Joachin was eigheteene yeere old when hee began to reigne, and reigned in Hierusalem thre moneths: his mothers name also was Neusta, the daughter of Elnathan, of Hierusalem.

9 And hee did that which was euill in the sight of the Lord, according to all as his father had done.

10 *In that time came the seruants of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon by, against Hierusalem, and the cite was besieged.

11 And Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon came against the cite, and his seruants did besiege it.

12 And Joachin the king of Iuda came out to the king of Babylon, he and his mother, his seruants, his lordes, and his chamberlaines: and the king of Babylon tooke him in the eight yeere of his reigne.

13 And he caried out thence all the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasure of the kings house, and brake all the vessels of golde which Solomon king of Israel had made in the temple of the Lord, as the Lord had said.

14 And he caried away all Hierusalem, and all the lordes, and all the strong men of warre, euen tenne thousand into captiuitie, and all the craftesmen, and keepers, none remaining, saue the poore common people of the land.

15 *And hee caried away Joachin to Babylon, and the kings mother, and the kings wiues, his chamberlaines, and them that were mighty in the land, those caried he away into captiuitie, from Hierusalem, to Babylon.

16 And all the actiue men of warre, euen seuen thousand, and craftesmen, and porters, a thousand, al that were strong and apt for warre, did the king of Babylon bring to Babylon captiue.

17 *And the king of Babylon made Mathania his fathers brother king in his steade, and changed his name to Zedecia.

18 Zedecia was twentie and one yeeres olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned eleuen yeeres in Hierusalem: his mothers name also was Hamital, daughter of Jeremia, of Libna.

19 And hee did euill in the sight of the Lord, according to all as Joachin had done.

20 For the wrath of the Lord was moued against Hierusalem and Iuda, untill hee cast them out of his sight: and Zedecia rebelled against the king of Babylon.

The xxv. Chapter.

1 Hierusalem is besieged of Nabuchodonosor, and taken. 7 The finnes of Zedecia are slaine before his eyes, and after, his owne eyes put out.

And in the ninth yeere of his reign, the tenth day of the tenth moneth, Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon came, hee, and all his holte, against Hierusalem, and pitched against it, and made engins against it, on euery side.

2 And the cite was besieged vnto the eleuenth yeere of king Zedecia.

3 And the ninth day of the moneth, there was so great an hunger in the cite, that there was no bread for the people of the land.

4 And the cite was broken by, and all the men of armes fled by night, by a way through a gate which is betweene two walles by the kings garden (the Chaldees lying about the cite) and the king went the way toward the plaine.

5 And the souldiers of the Chaldees followed after the king, and tooke him in the plaine of Tericho: and all his armie were scattered away from him.

6 So they tooke the king, and brought him to Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, to Ribla, where they gaue iudgement vpon him.

7 And they blew the finnes of Zedecia before his eyes, and he put out the eyes of Zedecia, and fettered him with chains, and caried him to Babylon.

8 And the seuenth day of the fifth moneth (which is the nineteenth yeere of king Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon) came Nabuzaradan, a seruant of the king of Babylon, and chiefe captaine of the men of warre, vnto Hierusalem:

9 And burnt the house of the Lord and the kings house, and all the houses of Hierusalem, and all great houses burnt he with fire.

10 And all the souldiers of the Chaldees that were with the chiefe captaine of the men of war, brake downe the walles of Hierusalem round about.

11 But the rest of the people that were left in the cite, and them that were fled to the king of Babylon, with the remnant of the common people, did Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine of the men of warre, carrie away.

12 But the captaine of the souldiers left of the poore of the land to dress the vines, and to till the ground.

13 And the pillars of brasse that were in the house of the Lord, and the sockets, and the brasen latatory that was in the house of the Lord, did the Chaldees breake, and caried all the brasse of them to Babylon.

14 And the pots, shouels, instruments of musique, spoones, and all the vessels of brasse that they ministred in, tooke they away.

15 And the fire-pannes, and basons, and such things as were of gold and of siluer, them tooke the chiefe captaine away:

16 Euen two pillars, one latatorie, and the sockets which Solomon had made for the house of the Lord: the brasse of all these vessels was without weight.

17 *The height of the one pillar was eigheteene cubites, & the pommel thereof was brasse:

and the height of the pommel was with wreathen worke three cubits, and pomegranates vpon the pommel round about, all of brasse: and of the same fashion was the second pillar with a wreathen worke:

18 And the chiefe captaine of the men of warre, tooke Saraiā the chiefe priest, and Zephoniah the high priest saue one, and the three keepers of the holy things:

19 And out of the citie hee tooke a chamberlain, that had the ouersight of the men of warre, a fūe men of them that were euer in the kings presence, which were found in the citie, and him that was Scribe to the captaine of the hoste, which brought out the people of the lande to warre, and threescore men of the people of the land that were found in the citie.

20 And Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine of the men of warre tooke these, and brought them to the king of Babylon, to Ribla.

21 And the king of Babylon smote them, and slew them at Ribla in the land of Hamath: and so Iuda was carried away out of their land.

22 * Howbeit there remained people in the land of Iuda, whome Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon left, and made Gedalia the sonne of Ahicam, the sonne of Saphan, ruler over them.

23 And al the captains of the souldiers, they, and theirs, heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedalia gouernor, and there came to Gedalia to Mizpah, Ithnael the sonne of Nathania, Iohanān the sonne of Carea, Saraia the sonne of Chanhumeth the Netophathite, and Jaazania the sonne of Maachati: they, and their men.

24 And Gedalia swaue to them, and to the men whome they had with them, and sayd vnto them, ¶ feare not yee to be the seruants of the Chaldees: dwell in the land, and serue the king of Babylon, and ye shall be well.

25 But in the seuenth moneth, Ithmael the sonne of Nathania, the sonne of Elisama, of the kings blood, came, a ten men with him, & smote Gedalia, that he died: & so did he the Jewes and the Chaldees that were with him at Mizpah.

26 And all the people both small and great, and the captaines of warre arose, and came to Egypt: for they were afraid of the Chaldees.

27 Notwithstanding, yet in the seuen & thirtietie yere after Iochin king of Iuda was carried away, the seuen & twentieth day of the twelfth moneth, Cuilmerodach king of Babylon, the same yere that he began to reigne, did lift vp the head of Iochin king of Iuda out of prison,

28 And spake kindly to him, and let his seate about the seat of the kings that were with him in Babylon, 29 And changed his prison garments, and he did euer eate bread befoze him all the daies of his life.

30 His portion was a continual portion that was assigned him of the king, euery day a certaine, as long as he liued.

5 And when his harness-bearer sawe that Saul was dead, he fell on a sword also, and died.

6 And thus Saul and his three sonnes, and all they of his house died together.

7 And when all the men of Israel that were in the valley, sawe how they fled, and that Saul and his sonnes were dead, they forooke their cities, and ranne away: and the Philistines came and dwelt in them.

5 The Iebusites rebell against Dauid, from whom he taketh the tower of Sion.

2.Reg.5.1.

When all * Israel gathered themselues to Dauid vnto Hebron, saying,

2 Behold, we be thy bones, and thy flesh: and mozeouer in time past euen when Saul was king, thou leddest Israel out and in: and the Lord thy God said vnto thee, Thou shalt feed my people Israel, and thou shalt be captaine ouer my people Israel.

3 Therefore came all the Elders of Israel to the king to Hebron, and Dauid made a couenant with them in Hebron before the Lord: and they anointed Dauid king ouer Israel, according to the word of the Lord, by the hand of Samuel.

4 And Dauid and all Israel went to Hieru-salem (which is Jebus, where as were the Jebusites, the inhabitors of the land.)

5 And the inhabitors of Jebus said to Da-uid, Thou comest not in here. Neuerthelesse, Dauid wan the castle of Sion, which is called the city of Dauid.

6 And Dauid sayd, whosoener smiteth the Jebusites first, shall be the principall captaine, and a lord. So Joab the sonne of Saruis went first bp, and was made the chiefe captaine.

7 And Dauid dwelt in the castle of Sion, and therefore they called it the city of Dauid.

8 And hee built the citie on euery side, euen from Hillo, round about: and Joab repaired the rest of the city.

9 And Dauid prospered, and wared great,
and the Lord of hosts was with him.

10 * These are the principall men of power whom Dauid had, and that claue to him in his kingdome, with all Israel, to make him king, according to the word of the Lord, ouer Israel.

11 And this is the number of the mightie men whom Dauid had: Isobam the sonne of Bachmoni, the chiefe among thirty: hee list bp his speare against thre hundred, and wounded them at one time.

12 After him was Eleazar his vnckles sonne, an Ahothite, which was one of the thre mightieft.

13 He was with Dauid at Pasdammim, and there the Philistines were gathered together to battell: and there was there a parcell of ground full of barley, and the people fled before the Philistines.

2.Reg.23.
13.

14 And they slept sooth into the midd of the field, and lauced it, and slew the Philistines, * the Lord gaue a great victorie.

15 And the thre of the thirty chiefe captaines went to a rocke, to Dauid, into the caue Abui-laim: and the host of the Philistines abode in the balley of Bepthaim.

16 And when Dauid was in the holde, the Philistines watch was at Bethlehem that same time.

17 And Dauid longed, and sayd, Oh that one would giue mee drinke of the water of the well that is at the gate at Bethlehem.

18 And the thre brake throo the host of the Philistines, and dre w water out of the well that was by the gate at Bethlehem, and cooke it, and brought it to Dauid: Neuerthelesse, Dauid would not drinke of it, but rather offered it to the Lord,

19 And sayd, My God forbidde it me that I should do this thing: Shall I drinke the blood of these men, that haue put their liues in ieopadie? for with the ieopardie of their liues they brought it: therefore hee would not drinke it.
And this did these thre mightiest.

20 And Abisai the brother of Joab hee also was captaine among thre: for hee list bp his and had a name among the thre:

21 Pea, among thre, he was moze honouof a very strong man, which had done many actes, of Cabzeel, hee slew two strong lions of Moab, and went downe, and slew a lion in a pit in time of snow.

23 And he slew an Egyptian, whose stature was siue cubits long, & in the Egyptians hand was a speare like a weavers beame: and the other went downe to him with a wafter, and plucked the speare out of the Egyptians hand, and slew him with his owne speare.

24 Such things did Banaia the sonne of Jehoiada, and had the name among the thre mightiest.

25 And was honourable among thirty, but attained not to the first thre: and Dauid made

Hese are they that came to David to Ziclag, while hee yet kept himselfe close because of Saul the son of Cis: and they were very strong helpers in battell.

2 They were weaponed with bowes, and could hurle stones with the right hand, & with the left, and shoot arrowes out of a bowe, and were of Sauls brethren, cuen of Benjamin.

3 The chiefest were Abiezer and Joas the sonnes of Samaa a Gibeonite, and Jeziel and Zelet the sonnes of Almauech, and Beracah, and Jehu the Anachothite.

7 Joela and Zebadiah the sonnes of Jeroam of Gedoz.

8 And of the Gadites there separated themselves, some vnto David into the holde of the wildernesse, men of might, and men apt for the warre, and that could handle shield and speare, whose faces were like the faces of lions, & they were as swift as the roes in the mountaines.

15 These are they that went ouer Jordan in the first moneth, when he had filled ouer all his banks, and they put to flight all them of the balley, both toward the East and west.

16 And there came of the children of Benjamin and Juda, to the hold vnto David.

17 And David went out to meet them, and answered, and sayd vnto them, If yee be come peaccably vnto me, to helpe me, mine heart shall be knit vnto you: but if ye come to betray me to mine aduersaries, seeing there is no wickednesse in mine handes, the God of our fathers looke thereon, and rebuke it.

18 And the spirit came vpon Amasai, which was the chiefe among thirty, and sayde, Thine are we, Dauid, and on thy side, thou sonne of Isai: Peace, peace be vnto thee, and peace be to thy helpers, for thy God is thy helpe. Then David receiued them, and made them heads of companies of the men of warre.

19 And there fell some of Manasse to David, when hee came with the Philistines against Saul to battell, but they helped them not: for the lordes of the Philistines tooke aduiselement, and sent him away againe, saying, * He will fall to his master Saul, to the ieopardy of our heads.

20 As hee went to Ziclag, there fell to him of Manasse, Adna, Jozabad, Jediel, Michael, Jozabad, Elibu, & Zilthai, heads of the thousands that were of Manasse.

21 And they holpe David against the rovers: for they were all mightie men of warre, and captaines in the host.

22 For at that time there came one or other to David, day by day to helpe him, vntill it was a great host, like the host of God.

23 And this is the number of the chiefe captaines that were prepared to battell, and came to David to Hebron, to turne the kingdome of Saul to him, according to the word of the Lord.

24 The children of Juda that bare shield and speare, were sixe thousand and eight hundred, ready prepared to the warre.

25 Of the children of Simeon, men of might to warre, seuen thousand and one hundred.

26 Of the children of Levi, foure thousand and sixe hundred.

34 And of Naphtali a thousand captaines, and with them, with shield and speare, thirty and seuen thousand.

35 And of Dan, expert in battell, twenty and eight thousand and sixe hundred.

36 And of Aser, that went out to the warre, and kept the forefront of the battell, forty thousand.

38 All these were men of warre, keeping the forefront of the battell, and with perfect heart came to Hebron to make Dauid king ouer all Israel: and all the rest of Israel was of one accord to make Dauid king.

39 And there they were with Dauid three dayes eating and drinking: for their brethren had prepared for them.

40 Moreover, they that were nigh them, euen vnto Isachar, Zabulon, and Nephthali, brought bread on asses, camels, mules, and oren, and meat, flowre, figs, raisins, wine, and oile, oren, and sheepe abundantly: for there was ioy in Israel.

The xiiij. Chapter.

7 The Arke is broughte againe from Ciriath-iarim to Hierusalem. 9 Oza dieth, because he toucheth it.

And Dauid counsell'd with the captaynes of thousands and hundreds, and with all the lords,

2 And sayd vnto all the congregation of Israel, If it seeme good to you, and that it be of the Lord our God, wee will send abroad vnto our brethren that are left in all the land of Israel, and with them also to the priests and Leuites which are in their suburbs, to gather them together vnto vs:

3 And we wil bring againe the arke of our God to vs: for we regarded it not in the dayes of Saul.

4 And all the Congregation was content that he should do so: for the thing seemed good in the eyes of all the people.

5 So Dauid gathered all Israel together, from b<sup>2</sup> Zihor in Egypt, vnto the entering of Hemath, to bring the Arke of the Lord from Ciriath-iarim.

6 And Dauid went by, and all Israel, to an high place toward Ciriath-iarim, that was in Iuda, to fetch thence the Arke of the Lord God that dwelleth betwene the Cherubims, where his name is called on.

7 And they caried the Arke of God in a new cart out of the house of Abinadab: and Oza and his brother guided the cart.

8 And Dauid and all Israel played before the Arke of God with all their might, with singing, and harps, psalteries, & tymbrels, and cymbals and trumpets.

9 And when they came vnto the threshing floore of Chidon, Oza put forth his hand to hold the Arke, for the oren stumbled.

10 And the Lord was wroth with Oza, and smote him, because he put his hand to the arke: and there he died before God.

11 And Dauid was out of quiet, because the Lord had rent a rent in Oza: and hee called the name of that place, The renting of Oza, vnto this day.

12 And Dauid was afrayed of God that day, saying, How shall I bring the arke of God home to me?

13 And so Dauid brought not the Arke home to him to the city of Dauid: but caried it into the house of Obed Edom, a Gethite.

14 And the arke of God remained with Obed

Edom, euen in his house, three moneths: and the Lord blessed the house of Obed Edom, and all that he had.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 Hiram sendeth wood and workemen to Dauid. 8. 14 By the counsell of God, hee goeth against the Philistines, and ouercommeth them.

Hiram the king of Tyze sent messengers to Dauid, and timber of Cedar trees, with masons & carpenters to build him an house.

2 And Dauid perceiued that the Lord had confirmed him king vpon Israel, and that his kingdome was lift vp on high, because of his people Israel:

3 And Dauid tooke yet moe wiues at Hierusalem, and begate moe sonnes and daughters.

4 These are the names of his children which were bozne vnto him at Hierusalem, Samua, Sobab, Nathan, and Solomon,

5 Ithar, Elisua, and Clippelet,

6 Noga, Nepheg, and Iaphia,

7 Elisama, Beeliada, and Cliphalet.

8 And when the Philistines heard that Dauid was anointed king vpon all Israel, all the Philistines went by to seeke Dauid: and Dauid heard of it, and went out against them.

9 And the Philistines came in, and spread themselves thoro' the valley of Rephaim.

10 And Dauid asked counsell at God, saying, Shall I goe against the Philistines: and wilt thou deliuer them into mine hand?

11 And the Lord sayd vnto him, Go by: for I will deliuer them into thine hand. And so they came by to Baal Perazim, & Dauid smote them there, and Dauid sayd, God hath diuided mine enemies with mine hande, as a man would diuide water: and therefore they called the name of that place Baal Perazim.

12 And when they had left their gods there, Dauid gaue a commandement, and they were burnt with fire.

13 And the Philistines came together againe, and rushed into the halley.

14 And Dauid asked againe at God, and God sayd vnto him, Go not by after them, but turne a way from them, that thou mayest come vpon them ouer against the mulberry trees.

15 And when thou hearest a sound goe in the tops of the mulberry trees, then go out to battell: for God is gone forth before thee, to smite the host of the Philistines.

16 Dauid therefore did as God commanded him, and they smote the host of the Philistines, from Gibeon to Gazer.

17 And the fame of Dauid went out into all lands, and the Lord made all nations feare him.

The xv. Chapter.

25 Dauid bringeth the Arke with ioy. 29 And dancing before it, is despised of his wife Michol.

And Dauid made him houses in the city of Dauid, and prepared a place for the arke of God, and pitched for it a tent.

2 Then Dauid sayd, The Arke of God ought not to be caried but of the Leuites: for them hath the Lord chosen to beare the arke of the Lord, and to minister vnto him for euer.

So the inhail had these three hundred thentie & two thousand, two hundred thentie and two.

Num. 4. 3

3 And David gathered all Israel together to Hierusalem, to fetch the Arke of the Lord into his place which he had ordeined for it.

4 And David brought together the children of Aaron and the Leuites.

5 Of the sonnes of Gaath, was Uzziel the chiefe, and of his brethren, there were an hundred and twenty.

6 Of the children of Merari, Asaia, the chiefe, and of his brethren, two hundred and twenty.

7 Of the sonnes of Gerson, Joel the chiefe, and of his brethren, an hundred and thirty.

8 Of the children of Elizaphan, Semai the chiefe, and of his brethren, two hundred.

9 Of the sonnes of Hebzon, Eliel the chiefe, and of his brethren, fourescore.

10 Of the sonnes of Dziel, Aminadab the chiefe, and of his brethren, an hundred & twelue.

11 And David called Zadoc, and Abiathar the priests, and the Leuites, Uzziel, Asaia, Joel, Semai, Eliel, and Aminadab, 12 And sayd vnto them, Ye that are the principall fathers of the Leuites, see that ye be holy with your brethren, that ye may bring the Arke of the Lord God of Israel, vnto the place that I haue prepared for it.

13 For because ye were not there at the first, the Lord our God made vent among vs, for that we sought him not in the fashion ought to be.

14 So the priests and the leuites sanctified themselves to fetch the Arke of the Lord God of Israel.

15 And the children of the leuites bare the Arke of God vpon their shoulde, with staues thereon, as Moses commaunde according to the word of the Lord.

16 And David spake to the chiefe heads of the Leuites, that they should appoint certaine of their brethren to sing, with instruments of musicke, psalteries, harps, and cybals, that they might make a sound, and to play on high with ioyfullnesse.

17 And the Leuites appointed Han the sonne of Joel, & of his brethren, Asaph, sonne of Berechia, and of the sonnes of Merari, and of their brethren, Ethan the sonne of Cui.

18 And with them their brethren of the second degree, Zacharia, Ben Jaziel, Semiramoth, Jehiel, Ganni, Eliab, Benaia, Mathathia, Euphale, Mienia, Obed, and Jehiel, porters.

19 So Hanan, Asaph, and Ethan, the elders, made a sound with cybals of brass.

20 And Zacharia, Aziel, Semiramoth, hiel, Ganni, Eliab, Maasia, and Benaia, played with psalteries to sing with.

21 Mathathia, Euphale, Mienia, Obed & dom, Jehiel, & Azia, played with harps of eight strings, to prouoke them to sing.

22 And Chenania the chiefe of the Leuites was master of the song: for hee taught other to sing, because he was a man of vnderstanding.

23 Berechia and Ekana kept the doore of the arke.

24 And Sebania, Josaphat, Nathanael, Amasai, Zacharia, Benaia, and Eliezer the priests did blow with trumpets before the arke of God: and Obed Edom, and Jehia were keepers of the doore of the arke.

25 And David, and the Elders of Israel, and the captains ouer thousands, went to fetch the Arke of the covenant of the Lord out of the house of Obed Edom with gladnesse.

26 And when God helped the Leuites that bare the arke of the covenant of the Lord, they offered seven open, and seven tammes.

27 And David had on him a linnen garment, like as had also all the Leuites that bare the arke, and so had the singers, and Chenania, the ruler of the song, with the singers: and David had vpon him an Ephod of linnen.

28 And all they of Israel brought the Arke of the Lords covenant, with shouting and blowing of the shaulme & trumpets, making a noise with cybals, psalteries and harps.

29 And as the Arke of the covenant of the Lord came into the city of David, Michol the daughter of Saul looking out at a window, saw king David dancing and playing, and shee despised him in her heart.

The xvj. Chapter.

1 The arke being placed, they offer sacrifices, 8 David appointeth a notable Psalme to be sung in the praise of the Lord.

When they brought in the arke of God, and set it in the middle of the tent that David pitched for it: and they offered whole burnt sacrifices, and peace offerings before God.

2 And when David had made an end of offering the whole burnt offerings, and peace offerings, he blessed the people in the name of the Lord.

3 And he dealt to all Israel, both man and woman, a cake of bread, and a peece of flesh, and a flagon of wine.

4 And he appointed certaine of the Leuites to minister before the Arke of the Lord, and to shew forth, and to thanke and praise the Lord God of Israel.

5 And Asaph was the chiefe, and next to him Zacharia, Jehiel, Semiramoth, Jehiel, Mathathia, Eliab, Benaia, Obed Edom, and Jehiel, with instruments, psalteries, and harps: but Asaph made a sound with cybals.

6 Banaia and Jahaziel, priests, blew with trumpets continually before the Arke of the covenant of God.

7 And that same time David did appoint chiefly to thanke the Lord by Asaph and his brethren.

8 Confesse you it vnto God, call vpon his name: cause the people to vnderstand his deuites.

9 Sing vnto him, sing Psalmes vnto him: talke you of all his wondrous works.

10 Gloze ye in his holy name: let the heart of them reioyce that do seeke God.

11 Seeke God and his strength: seeke his reuerenore.

12 Remember the marvellous works that he hath done: his woonders, and the iudgements of his mouth.

Ye seed of Abraham his seruant, ye his children of Jacob, hee is God our Lord: his iudgements are in all the earth.

He hath bene mindfull alwayes of his covenant: for hee promised a word to a thousand generations: euen of his covenant that hee made with Abraham, & of his oath vnto Isaac.

a That is, have them brought to receive their office.

b Before the eye and the face of the Lord which David offered as a burnt offering.

c It is called a covenant, because it is the signe of sacrament whereby they were put in remembrance of the Lords covenant which made with them.
